MINUTES
OF THE
SIXTEENTH ANNUAL CONVENTION
OF THE
United Daughters of the Confederacy
HELD IN Houston, Texas, October 19-22, 1909

FIRST DAY—MORNING MEETING.

Tuesday, October 19, 1909.

The Sixteenth Annual Convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy was called to order by Mrs. Mary E. Bryan, President of the hostess chapter, the "Robert E. Lee," at 10 o'clock, Tuesday morning, October 19th, 1909, at Beach Auditorium, who introduced the Rev. Peter Gray Sears, Rector of Christ Episcopal Church, who pronounced the invocation.

Mrs. Bryan then presented to the Convention, the Confederate Choir, trained by Mrs. Willie Hutcheson, of Houston, and the song, "Our Southland," by Miss Adelia A. Dunovant, of Houston, and "Dixie," were rendered with a spirit and beauty, in which the audience took part, with enthusiasm.

The Mayor of Houston, the Honorable H. B. Rice, was introduced, and opened wide the gates of the city, in cordial welcome to the delegates.

Mrs. Bryan introduced the Honorable L. T. Dashiell, the representative of Governor Campbell, of Texas, who extended welcome, in behalf of the State.

Madam President and United Daughters of the Confederacy:

We all join in the expression of regret at the unavoidable absence of the Chief Executive of the State upon this occasion.

He bids me, with your gracious permission, represent him in extending to you a cordial welcome to Texas—a State whose traditions are romantic; whose history is inspiring; whose accomplishments, in all avenues of human endeavor are amazing, and whose future is teeming with magnificent possibilities.

It would be folly for me, with my faltering tongue, to attempt to dilate upon the patriotic purposes of your organization.

You would in future, as in past, perpetuate in memory the heroic deeds of Southern soldiery.

You would transmit to posterity, untarnished by passion, prejudice or falsehood a true record of the greatest struggle in the world's history for the maintenance of constitutional rights.

You would enshrine in enduring admiration the virtue, bravery and self sacrifice of Southern womanhood during the time that tried men's souls. The heroic deeds of Southern soldiers at Manassas, Shiloh and Gettysburg would have been impossible had they not been inspired by the prayers, fortitude and sacrifices of Southern mothers, wives and sweethearts, who patiently and bravely bore the burdens at home. Nor should it be forgotten that the regeneration of the South is due more largely to Southern women than to any other influence or influences.

We bid you Godspeed in your patriotic endeavor. We again welcome you to Texas and beg that you proportionally measure the sincerity of this general greeting by the hospitality extended to you personally by the splendid citizenship of Houston.

Colonel Phillip H. Fall, Commander of Dick Dowling Camp, United Confederate Veterans, gave the royal welcome of the Soldiers of the Confederacy of Houston.

Ladies of our Southland:

Being notified only a day since, that our comrade was called away on an important matter and could not represent Dick Dowling Camp, the duty devolves upon me to greet you, on behalf of our Camp. Such short time leaves me illy prepared to do the occasion justice, but I know our good women will accept the will for the deed. The veterans of Houston welcome you, one and all, and we shall prove your humble and loving servants during your stay with us. Command us whenever necessary. As the years pass by we feel more and more the benefits accruing from your loving and valiant struggle in our behalf. Had you not thrown down the gauntlet and assumed the offensive for the old soldiers of the Confederacy, their names would have gone down in a partisan Northern history as rebels and traitors; who tried to disrupt what they call the greatest and best government on earth, when in fact, they in arbitrary, puritanical spirit, brought about the disruption, causing a war such as the world has never known, hiring nearly a million Hessians and nearly two hundred thousand Africans, to slaughter their brethren of the South. Nothing but a civil war could have ever satisfied the John Brown stripe of abolitionists, especially after their leader John Brown was hung.

The war was not the worst feature of the sixties. The myriads of carpet-baggers that flocked like buzzards, all eager to filch from the already impoverished and heartbroken whites, as well as from the poor deluded ex-slaves, what little was left, proved to be a carnival of misery, which can never be blotted from the memory of any who experienced the miserable rule of those Northern birds.

But this is all passed, thank God, the ex-Confederate soldiers who survived, see their Southland regenerated, the fairest land on earth, and as independent and glorious as before the sixties; with the grandest women of the world, who appreciate what the old soldiers suffered for their beloved Southland. Women, who after nearly a half century has elapsed, are standing shoulder to shoulder in solid phalanx, fighting the grandest fight of the ages; women who have stepped into the breach and declared in thunder tones, Hold, enough of this perversion of the truth, you have slandered our brave men too long. Let's tell the truth, and in honor and justice, be impartial, and acknowledge that the thin line of gray, for four years, held at bay the combined world, and when they surrendered at Appomattox, General Grant, the noblest Roman of the North, was rejoiced that peace had come, and that the carnival of blood had ceased.

This is a statement of facts, which cannot be controverted. What few of the Southern veterans that yet live, glory in the fact that their noble women are now their protectors, as were they of the women in the long, long, ago. No soldier in the past or present ever received the homage of their women, as do those of Dixie Land. There were no hired Hessians or negroes in the Southern army. All fought for a principle they knew to be right and thousands upon thousands gave up their lives in defense of truth.

God bless the Daughters of the Confederacy, we living with the comforting consciousness that our children will know the truth. We know that the Daughters will demand from those in authority, that they shall not permit the untruthful histories of the North to prevail in Southern systems of education. We know that the truth will eventually prevail, and that is all we desire, and as little as the North should accord. This is the first time and no doubt the last one that the members of the Dick Dowling Camp will ever witness a general convention of our defenders, and we feel honored indeed to be the servitors of such a grand and noble body.

“Were it the last drop in the well,
And I gasped upon the brink,
E'er my fainting spirits fell
'Tis to thee that I would drink.”

Miss Kate Daffan, President of the Texas Division, U. D. C., was received with applause, on being introduced by Mrs. Bryan, and responded in an eloquent address, in behalf of the division.

Madam President:

It is a privilege and a pleasure to the Texas Division, United Daughters of the Confederacy, to welcome to our state this distinguished body of women, which is representative of the truest, the purest and the noblest citizenship in the world.

From every chapter, every auxiliary, every individual, there comes a ringing note of love and appreciation and infinite pleasure that you are here with us, that this great convention is held upon Texas soil.

And we, the Texas Division, are glad that the honor of entertaining you is accorded to the city of Houston—a city which thoroughly bespeaks the spirit of Texas and however metropolitan she may become or how great may become her increase, she will remain loyal in her devotion to the history and principles of the old South. We are always glad when our friends from other states visit Texas, that they make their first stop in Houston.

The Daughters of the Confederacy of this city have long been an actual, substantial part of our state work, giving intelligent interpretation to its sacred messages.

There is one thing about Houston and about Texas—we all mean everything we say, and the gracious eloquence of the distinguished son of the Confederacy representing the governor, his honor the mayor, the splendid representative of Dick Dowling Camp, and the talented president of the City Federation of Women's Clubs may be accepted literally, for each promise will be observed to the letter; and among the best friends of the United Daughters of the Confederacy is the press of the city, which upon all occasions, in their much read columns, favor us in our patriotic efforts.

The Daughters of the Confederacy of Texas feel especial pride in the fact that when this distinguished body comes to Texas it is our own Daughter, leader and guide who is your presiding officer, for Texans seek the opportunity to express their appreciation of our President-General, Mrs. Cornelia Branch Stone. Texas feels indebted to each of our general officers for uniform courtesies.

The inspiration which has been held out to our chapters throughout the year has been your coming. We have learned the full joy of anticipation, and when our state convention meets, the last of this year, we will be able to say that the good year 1909 is a year marked, set apart, distinct and favored; for of all years, that is the year that Texas has been honored—not with strangers within her gates, but our own best beloved friends, the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

Words, written or spoken, were never intended to express the language of the soul or the heart, but if you could listen to our heartbeats you could hear clearly: "We love you, we love you; our own have come to us."

In the name of the work which we have endeavored to accomplish hand in hand with you; in the name of our state, chapter and individual effort, I bid you welcome, hearty welcome to our state, our chapters and our hearts. You have brought to us a blessing which we will keep and if we could we would keep you here.

At the conclusion of Miss Kate Daffan's address, she was presented with a beautiful bouquet of white chrysanthemums, by the O. M. Roberts Chapter, and the E. B. Bates Auxiliary, Children of the Confederacy.

At this point, all thought of the regular program was abandoned, and the President-General was presented by Mrs. M. Wheeler, Treasurer of the Texas Division, with a jeweled badge, the insignia of the United Confederate Veterans. Mrs. Wheeler said:

Madam President, Daughters of the Confederacy—Ladies and Gentlemen:

When this beautiful world was created to delight and gratify the sense of man, implanted in the human heart was the gracious and divine spirit of giving—of reaching out and touching the wellsprings of joy in the soul by tender acts of honored thought and remembrance. The world hath ever been pleased to acknowledge true greatness and deserving merit with some outward expression or visible form of appreciation. Scintillating the ages with the radiance of their "pure rays serene" have these special marks of honor in due recognition of exalted service received the thoughts of sovereignty and the nations of the earth. Individual efficiency warrants its own crown of success, and the pages of history verify the time honored custom of giving "honor to whom honor is due" in fitting testimonials of esteem. In olden days kingly lines ever delighted to recognize superior achievements and to place upon true knighthood—the flower of chivalry—their royal seal of favor, the priceless medals of honor. We are told of an Egyptian queen, when in her approach to the Roman country did not deem her visit complete without the costly gifts in token of her esteem she would place at the feet of the courtly Marc Anthony. Sheba's queen traveling afar in a distant country, that she might behold the unsurpassed splendor of a kingdom of which so much had been told, carried with her rare souvenirs of her own land that she might thus bespeak her exalted regard for the wide Monarch upon his throne Judean hills echoing with the triumph songs of the shepherds of old hath given to gift bestowals a sacred glow, and passing down the centuries this beautiful sentiment still lives, exalting the hearts and lives of the people of today.

On this auspicious occasion in the midst of this brilliant assemblage of womanhood, representatives of the old South, for whose principles the brave men who wore the grey, fought, bled and died, it is my honored privilege, dear Madam President, to appear before you and in the name of the Texas Division U. D. C. to beg your acceptance of this little souvenir—a souvenir enwrapped with the sacred memories of a heroic past, telling of a "Southland dear," the story of its glory.

"No nation ever rose so white and fair, None ever fell so pure of crime."

This gift bears with it the heart throbs of a loyal, loving people, a people appreciative of the honor and proud of the fact that the Chief Executive of this honorable body here assembled, is a true daughter of Texas—one in whose veins flows the patriotic blood of an ancestry over whom moved the noble banner of the Republic of Texas.

We pray, dear Madam President, that this memento may be to you in all coming years a precious Rosemary for sweet remembrance. May the sparkling gems embedded in the true colors of the Confederacy herein displayed, be but a reflex of the brightness with which you may continue to illumine the beloved cause you have served so long and faithfully. May the crowning jewels whose brilliant lettering defining the initials of one whose very name is a synonym of patriotism, be significant of the rich blessings and many joys to ever erradiate and gladden the life pathway of our own beloved Cornelia Branch Stone.

She lives her best,
She has done her best,
She deserves the best to come.

To this presentation, the President-General, feelingly responded in beautiful, well chosen, and appropriate language.

Then followed a profusion of flowers; a beautiful bouquet of white roses from the Daughters of the Republic of Texas, presented by Mrs. M. Urwitz, Chairman Executive Committee.

Madam President and United Daughters of the Confederacy:

It is my high privilege and my duty to present to you this little toy flag and these white roses as tokens of love to you, and by way of welcome, to your convention from San Jacinto Chapter "Daughters of the Republic of Texas." In so doing we honor ourselves, for while Cornelia Branch Stone is your president now, she is forever and a day our beloved Daughter of the Republic. This is her native state. Her father and our fathers hewed from the wilderness this empire, wresting it from the savage and the tyrant.

As you all know, Houston lies but a few miles from the scene of that onslaught which decided forever the monotonous question, "shall the Teuton or the Latin rule in Texas?" The spirit of 1836 coming from Goliad, the Alamo and San Jacinto, breathed upon those who went forth from Texas in 1861 under General Scurry and General Greene, with Hood's brigade, with Waul's legion and the Terry Rangers, inspiring them to write high on the scroll of fame "Texas Soldiers."

This spirit is abroad in the land, for Texas is today spending perhaps more money in the cause of her historic past than any other State in the Union. This year inspired by the pleadings of the Daughters of the Republic and sanctioned by the Governor, whose representative sits upon this platform, the legislature of Texas appropriated $5,000 for the marking of the spot at Gonzales, where was fired the first shot for Texan independence; $10,000 for the purchase of the Lamar Papers, a mine of uncomputed historic interest; $10,000 for the erection of a monument at the grave of General Houston and $23,000 for the beautifying and care of San Jacinto battlefield. Is not this worth living and working for?

Daughters of the Confederacy, continue to cherish fondly your old heroes—ours all gone, only two remaining who heard the guns at San Jacinto. Go on, in your high aims until every historic spot in our dear Southland shall have its tablet, its monument, or its memorial park, and your work shall be praised and blessed until—

“The stars are old, and the sun is cold,
And the leaves of the judgement book unfold.”

Welcome, thrice welcome, ye worshippers of the Blue and the Grey.

Roses from Lady Washington Chapter of the American Revolution, were presented to the President-General by Mrs. E. A. Holland, Secretary of Lady Washington Chapter.

Mrs. R. W. Knox, representing the Colonial Dames of Houston, presented to the President, golden chysanthemums, tied with blue ribbons.

Mrs. E. J. Brewster, presented flowers saying:

Madam President-General:

As First Vice-President of the R. E. Lee Chapter, I have been requested to present to you, with love from the chapter, this beautiful cluster of roses.

The red rose is emblematic of love, and every red drop of our hearts abounds to you. May the fragrance of the bouquet of love and sympathy encircle you and go with you throughout your life!

Judge Norman G. Kittrell, presented to the President-General, a floral piece representing the Cross of Honor, in white carnations.

To complete list of floral tributes of love and honor, boquets were presented from the E. B. Bates Auxiliary, by Hazel Dean, and Hood's Texas Brigade, Jr., Children of the Confederacy, by Gladys Patterson.

Mrs. Ed. Reichardt, of the Oran M. Roberts Chapter, U. D. C., gave the address of welcome for the assistant hostess chapter, by delivering an original poem from the pen of Mrs. Wharton Bates.

Madam President, Veterans and Daughters:

To this, our annual meeting,
We give you loving greeting,
And open wide the doors of our homes and hearts to you.
May your stay with us be gladdened
And not a moment saddened,
While we “do the work that our hands find to do.”

Our sisters come from the North, South, East and West,
You are welcome—thrice welcome
To Houston's very best,
The dear lost cause that binds us
With sorrows past behind us;
No matter where we are—we follow up the quest.

Our song birds are singing,
Their music is ringing,
The flowers are blooming in welcome today,
Sweet southwinds are blowing,
All nature is glowing
To greet you, our guest,
From your homes far away.

We hope the cup of pleasure
Will hold its full measure
Of joy and love and happiness for you.
Our Southern hearts are beating
At this our general meeting,
With wishes that all good things may come to you.

Patriotic fires are burning,
And our thoughts are ever turning
To the noble deeds of valor of our soldiers of the grey.
Sweet memories linger with us,
And ne'er can be forgotten,
Though many of our heroes have long since passed away.

Their names are shrined in glory
And we love to hear the story
Of the chivalry and valor
Of the men who wore the grey.
We will cherish them forever and hold their memories dear,
Till we too from earth have passed away.

And when our work is over
And your footsteps are turned
To your loved ones at home far away,
May your thoughts of us be pleasant,
Hold us in your hearts forever
And wish to meet with us again some day.

Then Mrs. E. W. Hutchinson sang, "Old Folks at Home," concluding with "Dixie." The rendition of these old songs, was one of the most delightful features of the morning program, bringing forth applause from all who heard them.

Master John Austin Saunders, great-grandson of Colonel Wm. P. Rogers, who was killed on the field of battle at Corinth, was introduced by the President-General, Mrs. Stone, as the Mascot of the Texas Division, and spoke as follows:

Madam President, United Daughters of the Confederacy, United Confederate Veterans, and the citizens of Houston:

In the name of my great grand sire, Wm. P. Rogers, who gave his life for the cause you represent, who sleeps now on the battlefield of Corinth, Mississippi, buried by the enemy, who thus honored his bravery, leaving his sword as my inheritance—I welcome you to Texas and to the City of Houston, the strategic point in Texas, held by the army of Texas as its headquarters in 1861-1865—a city always loyal and true to the Confederacy.

In the name of the Children's auxiliaries, whom I represent, I bow before you as the dearest mothers, aunts, sisters, cousins and sweethearts that ever met in any land

You come from North, South, East and West to counsel together for the glory of our Southland, and to honor our loved and lost; to make the pathway of the children you love lead to honor and usefulness.

Texas! our beloved Lone Star State, shines with a new light for you; her very air is the life of heroes; she kindles the fire of patriotism in every heart by her example.

Do you not hear the sigh from the immortal Alamo? Do you not feel the breeze wafted to you from San Jacinto's battlefield? Behold the incense arising from the little mud fort at Sabine Pass, where Dick Dowling and his heroic 42 stood a wall for the protection of our homes and saved Texas from invasion and the horrors of a Sherman. Do you not see grand old Texas in that great review of battle array, with flying colors, pass before the judges and take her stand for constitutional liberty?

Yes, from the Sabine to the Rio Grande the tocsin of war was sounded and her sons marched away to battle. Texas soldiers sleep upon every battlefield of the Confederacy, and in their name I echo their love and faith in the womanhood of the South! In their name I scatter the rose of sweetness, the purity of the lily, the humble beauty of the violet, emblem of truth, upon your pathway.

As the little mascot of the Texas Division of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, I bid you be happy; I bid you rejoice in your noble heritage; I bid you live forever in our hearts and drink at the pure fountain of our love, as it flows bright as a crystal from everlasting truth.

Our mothers teach us peace, obedience to the laws of our land—history points to sacred truths to be maintained.

We shall remember at all times the sacrifices of our mothers, and the sublime defense our fathers made to preserve our homes and their liberty under the Constitution—made holy by the first struggle for freedom.

Never, Never, No Never! will we forget that they were right!

Mrs. Henry B. Fall, as President of the City Federation of Women's Clubs, assured the visitors of their welcome to the city of Houston.

Madam President and Members of the United Daughters of the Confederacy—Ladies and Gentlemen:

It was the great Plato who thanked the Gods for eight gifts, and the first was that he was not a woman. If I were given the same privilege I would thank the Gods that I am a woman, and chosen to give a word of welcome to this body of splendid womanhood, on behalf of the City Federation of Clubs.

Nearly three hundred years since, when the Pilgrims were founding the tiny colony which was destined to be the nucleus of the State of Massachusetts, a solitary Indian in his birch bark canoe shot out from the inland waters and greeted them with the only word of English which he knew, the word, Welcome. This word from the lonely Indian is the word we wish to impress upon you today, the word which we have carried in our hearts for a year, ever since we have known of your coming. Your presence means much to us. You are drawn here by the cords of love, and the feeling of patriotism, here to keep forever green the memory of our Lee and Jackson, to weave your immortelles for our Hood and Johnson. This bond of united sisterhood is keeping the fires of patriotism kindled by these reunions for the spirit of Southern fraternity is as much alive today as it was the day Lee spoke to the thin line in ragged grey, and made the solemn compact at Appomattox.

Most fitting is the city of Houston for this convention, in the very center of our fight for liberty, only thirty miles from the San Jacinto battle ground, where Houston captured the Napoleon of the West, and gave us the liberty of our Lone Star whose brilliancy has never been dimmed by the clouds of another war.

The City Federation of Clubs representing 300 women wish to spread the treasures of our city before you, inviting you to visit among other places the splendid Carnegie Library, schools, the churches, the club rooms and all the places of interest representing women's work, these splendid bodies of organized effort that are doing so much to better conditions. Recently I heard a story of a species of flower that grew on a mountain top, very rare because hard to obtain, accessible only to the bravest mountain climbers. It was noticed at first that these flowers all presented different colors, but from time to time they changed their coloring, and all took on the same hue. This puzzled the observer at first, but it was soon discovered that the tiny insects in their search for sweets, had deposited a little pollen there, and each had grown to be the same hue. So we, in our various lines of work, disseminate our interests and grow into one united sisterhood, and to this sisterhood of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, from the Federated Clubs of the city we bid you welcome.

If the city of Houston and the members of these two chapters have not made you feel welcome, it is no fault of theirs.

They remind me of the story I heard once, of a young Southern bride, who went out for the morning, leaving her black mammy in charge of the house. Returning, she asked if she had seen anything of her little chameleon; the old darkey replied, "What you mean, dat little old lizzard? Yes, I seen him, he run fust on de grass, and he turned green, den he run on de house and he turn yellow, den he run up on my plaid sleeve and des busted open trying to make good.

They have tried to make good.

I thank you.

Three classic numbers were delightfully rendered on the violin and piano, by Mrs. L. W. Worsham, of Houston, and Mrs. B. U. Hirsh, of Philadelphia.

Mrs. Mary E. Bryan was introduced by Mrs. Cornelia Branch Stone, and delivered the welcome of the Robert E. Lee, the hostess chapter, as follows:

In the language of the great Henry W. Grady, "the New South stands today upright, full-statured and equal among the people of the earth, understanding that through the inscrutable wisdom of God her honest purpose was crossed and her bravest armies were beaten. She has nothing for which to apologize, believing as she does that the late struggle between the States, was war and not rebellion; revolution and not conspiracy, and she fully recognizes the fact that her children must reverence and do honor to those who sacrificed their lives in the defense of their country and of their homes in the simple faith that they were right," and for that purpose we are assembled here today.

As President of the Robert E. Lee Chapter, I welcome you.

The happiness in having you with us is largely due to our Mayor, a typical Houstonian, patriotic, hospitable, progressive and never gives up in pursuit of a noble object.

As you know, his first invitation, with ours, was declined at Norfolk but in bestowing upon a Texas daughter the highest honor in your power to give, was balm to our disappointment and made bearable the time until we would have you meet here and with the President-General on her native heath. But with all united effort previously given it remained for Miss West, of Waco, to win success when she spoke for us at Atlanta, and bade you come, in behalf of Texas and Houston as hostess city.

To her, we are deeply grateful and the joy of having you with us at last.

The promises our representative made for this city shall be fulfilled and I think she told you, if you would come to Texas, "Houston would give you the earth."

Again for the Robert E. Lee Chapter, I bid you welcome.

Mrs. Daisy McLaurin Stevens, selected to respond to the addresses of welcome, being unavoidably absent, her address was read as follows, and after which the President-General, in well-chosen words, expressed appreciation of the convention for the royal welcome accorded.

Madam President, Daughters of the Confederacy, Veterans, Ladies and Gentlemen:

It seems to me that all the cordiality, hospitality and welcome of the great sovereignty of Texas has been gathered into one immensity of loving greeting, and extended to this general convention of Daughters of the Confederacy sitting in the city of Houston. His excellency, the Governor, has sent his representative to voice the State's welcome; the Mayor has surrendered the "keys of the city," and the Texas Division and chapters of Houston of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, have all extended us a greeting with a ring sincere and true. Your whole city has stretched forth her arms and received us. Yea, you have given us the key to your very hearts; unlocking and peeping in we have seen written there our welcome. Even the very spirit of your gladness in having us with you, lives in the atmosphere, and we breathe into our being, your cordial welcome, and quaff from your overflowing cup of good cheer, an intoxicating draft of joy at being your guests today. In this happy symphony of fulsome welcome, it seems to me I hear not alone the harmonious chorus of your hearts, but I hear wafted to us on the seraphic voices of an angelic choir, a faint chant of peace, peace, peace; nearer, nearer, nearer I hear it coming, and louder, louder it grows until the whole Lone Star State, taking up the welcome note that bursts upon us like a thundering peal of nature's great pipe organ, join in to bring us glad tidings of your hospitality. A welcome such as yours, then bestirs so deep a feeling of joy and happiness, I cannot find within me a capability adequate to its expression. We are glad, glad, glad, to be here in the Paradise of Texas, a land girth from January to December with a roseate belt of flowers, waked each morn by the sun's most golden rays, drinking away night's caresses left in pearly dewdrops, with the bluest of canopies above and the greenest of verdure beneath.

Says the South's poet priest, "A land without ruins is a land without memories; a land without memories is a land without history." To be in Houston fills us with wonderful memories and in fancy we live again in the time of the great American, Sam Houston, the Liberator of Texas, who achieved, in one of the shortest and most brilliant campaigns of history, a people's independence from the domination of an unjust and vacillating government, won an empire, greater in extent than the thirteen original States, and merited the warmest sympathies of the friends of human liberty, throughout the world. As with Houston's dying breath, he did not forget Texas, murmuring all the while, "Texas, Texas," so Texas does not forget Houston, for standing in your hall of fame, you have proudly placed life sized statues of Austin and Houston, its Father and its Liberator, done by a Texas artist, Miss Ney, who has been the glory of the most cultured art center of Europe. So sacred to you is the memory of the struggle beside the St. Hyacinth river, that you have made San Jacinto Day, a day of celebration in your State, when all pay tribute to Mirabeau Lamar, the "Hero of San Jacinto,," as on the fourth of July, the States do honor to Washington.

Santa Anna, the Napoleon of the West, reckoned wrong when he measured a Texan's love of liberty, by his tyrancial ambition to crush it. Here at the Alamo—a name hallowed by its baptism of blood—Colonel Travis, Bowie and David Crockett shed a lustre and glory on a courageous struggle, whose effulgence shall blaze a streaming trail through this empire's history, as long as Americans love liberty. In all the world's history, there is nothing to surpass the heroic defense of the Alamo. Well may your beautiful monument, in your capitol grounds in Austin, teach in letters of stone, that, "Thermopylae had its messenger of defeat—the Alamo had none." Lovingly the Daughters of the Republic have cared for so sacred a memory.

When we look back over the history of Texas, we see much greatness, of which a Texan should be proud. Her men and women, knights and queens of chivalry and beauty, have ever proven themselves noble sons and daughters or noblest ancestors. It was Texas that gave to the Confederate States of America, Joseph E. Johnston, and it was she again, that gave to this organization of United Daughters of the Confederacy, two presidents, one of whom, the beloved Cornelia Branch Stone, you have the pleasure of greeting today.

All her various springs of wealth and industry, have been touched and developed. Her public education, shows the height to which she has attained in a mighty civilization. All the world has watched in admiration, the brave struggle made by Galveston, since her great storm in 1901, and congratulates the city upon rising from her desolation of water to a magnificent metropolis and deep water harbor. How great is Texas.

Mine is the honor, to express to you for each, for every Daughter of this convention, great happiness for an opportunity of enjoying your hospitality and knowing you better. I thank you deeply, heartily, for your welcome.

Mrs. Bryan then presented the gavel to Mrs. Cornelia Branch Stone, who declared the Sixteenth Annual Convention opened, awaiting the report of the Credential Committee.

On motion a telegram was ordered to be sent to Mrs. Martin S. Willard, of Wilmington, N. C., First Vice-President of the association, also one to Mrs. John P. Poe, Baltimore, Maryland, Second Vice-President, who was detained by the death of her husband.

Mrs. L. H. Raines, Custodian of Cross of Honor, moved, that, inasmuch as one of the State Recorders was in a hospital at Baltimore, a telegram of love and hope for a speedy recovery be sent from the convention. The motion prevailed.

Mrs. Mollie R. Macgill Rosenberg moved, that instead of telegrams, that letters be sent to the parties mentioned. Carried.

A motion was made by Mrs. Latham, that a letter be sent from this convention, to Mrs. Worcester, President of Ohio Convention. Carried.

Miss West, of Texas, moved, that a letter of sympathy be sent to Mrs. Daisy McLaurin Stevens, of Mississippi, who was absent on account of the death of a relative. Carried.

Mrs. Cooley, of Florida, moved, that a letter of condolence be sent to Mrs. Stonewall Jackson, on account of the loss of her great-grandson, and to Mrs. Burton Smith, the daughter of Gen. John B. Gordon, who has recently lost a son. Carried.

A message was sent to General W. L. Cabell, Commander Trans-Mississippi Department, U. C. V., expressing regret for his absence. Also a message of regret to Mrs. Katie Cabell Muse, ex-President of the U. D. C.

Mrs. John H. Reagan, was invited to a seat on the platform, and Miss Daffan was appointed escort. Mrs. Reagan was introduced by the President-General, as the widow of John H. Reagan, Postmaster-General, in the Cabinet of President Jefferson Davis.

Mrs. Joseph B. Dibrell, of Texas, President of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, was invited to a seat on the platform. She declined, saying, she already had an exalted seat with the Confederate Veterans, which was received with applause.

Mrs. D. A. Nunn, of Texas, Past President of the Texas Division, was invited to the platform amid great applause.

Mrs. Mollie R. Macgill Rosenberg, of Texas, was invited to a seat on the platform, but declined, saying, she preferred to remain with her delegation.

Miss Decca Lamar West, of Texas, was also invited to a seat on the platform, she having successfully given the invitation, which brought the Convention to Houston.

Mrs. Rosenberg rose to a question of personal privilege, to extend an invitation from the Veuve Jefferson Davis Chapter, of Galveston, to visit the Island City, Saturday, October 23, when a boat excursion on the bay, and a luncheon on the sea-wall will be provided, and the following invitation was made:

"The Veuve Jefferson Davis Chapter, No. 17, of Galveston, Texas, would esteem it a great privilege to entertain this august body of women and extends to them a cordial invitation to spend October twenty-third as guests of this chapter in the Seawall City.

A hearty welcome awaits you all!

Cordially yours,

MOLLIE R. MACGILL ROSENBERG,
President.

MRS. GEO. B. KETCHUM,
Secretary.

MRS. VALERY EDWARD AUSTIN,
Executive Chairman Entertainment Committee.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Baldwin Rice, invited the delegates to a reception at their home on Thursday evening.

An invitation for Tuesday evening, was extended the delegates and visitors, by the Thalian Club. All these invitations were accepted with thanks.

The roll-call of General Officers showed all present, except the First and Second Vice-Presidents. This was followed by the roll-call of States, when Mrs. Frank Anthony Walke, of Virginia, Custodian of Flags and Penants, came forward and received, from each State division, the flag of their respective States; after this beautiful ceremony, which was originated and inaugurated by Mrs. Walke, she presented these flags to Mrs. Mary E. Bryan, President of the hostess chapter.

The Chair announced the following additional Convention Committees:

On Recommendations of the President-General:—Mrs. Roy McKinney, of Kentucky, Mrs. Odenheimer, of Maryland, Mrs. McSherry, of West Virginia.

On Rules of Order:—Mrs. W. L. Kline, of Missouri, Sister Esther Carlotta, of Florida, Miss Alice Baxter of Georgia.

On Resolutions of Thanks:—Miss Katie Tyler Childress, of Louisiana, Mrs. T. J. Latham, of Tennessee, Mrs. Lillie F. Worthington, of Mississippi.

On motion the convention adjourned, to meet at 2:30 P. M.

FIRST DAY—AFTERNOON MEETING.

Tuesday, October 19, 1909.

The convention was called to order at 2:30 P. M., by Mrs. Cornelia Branch Stone, President-General, who led the reading of the ritual.

Report of Credentials Committee was made by Mrs. William Christian, of Houston, Chairman. Mrs. Christian, by permission, made a few observations and criticisms upon the manner of filling out the credential blanks.

Florida was complimented for the splendid record made by her chapters in sending in their credentials, and the President of the Florida Division, for her arrangement of these credentials.

On motion of Miss Baxter, of Georgia, duly seconded, the report of the Credentials Committee was approved, and a vote of thanks was extended to the Committee for their faithful work. Carried.

Motion was made and carried, that a letter be sent to Mrs. P. G. Robert, of St. Louis, who for many years had worked so faithfully in the organization of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, and who has been confined to her bed for months.

The Chair announced a meeting of the officers and directors of the Arlington Monument Association, at 8:30 P. M. at the Rice Hotel.

The convention then adjourned, the hour having arrived to attend the unveiling ceremonies of the boulder, in memory of Terry's Texas Rangers, placed in Sam Houston Park, by the E. B. Bates Chapter, Children of the Confederacy.

On motion the convention adjourned to meet Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock.

SECOND DAY—MORNING MEETING.

Wednesday, October 20, 1909.

The convention was called to order by the President-General, at 9:45 A. M. Invocation by Rev. J. E. Wray, Pastor, First Methodist Church.

Reading of telegrams of greetings from various States, and also telegram to the President-General, notifying the convention of the death of Mrs. M. B. Pilcher of Nashville, ex-President, Tennessee Division, following which the delegates were requested to rise in recognition of this great calamity.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved as corrected.

Mrs. Chappel Cory, being recognized by the Chair, asking permission to correct the Minutes of 1908, said, that "Miss Sallie Jones was too distinguished an Alabamian, and too closely and sacredly connected with the United Daughters of the Confederacy, to permit her name to have merely passing mention;" she then paid a glowing tribute to the memory of Miss Jones, and asked that her remarks be spread upon the minutes, and it was so ordered.

Mrs. Watson, of Texas: "I want to call attention to the fact, that the first Vice-President of the Texas Division, Mrs. Mary Hunt Afflect, is on the program, and she is sick, and cannot be here; and I therefore move that a letter, or telegram be sent her, that some idea be given, that we miss her." Carried.

The report of the Committee on Rules of Order, was read by Mrs. W. L. Kline, of Missouri, Chairman, as follows:

Rule 1.—A delegate shall rise, address the chair, giving her name and State, and wait for recognition.

Rule 2.—No delegate shall speak a second time on the same question until all who wish to speak on that subject, have had an opportunity to do so. She shall not in any case speak more than twice on the same question.

Rule 3.—Debate shall be limited to four minutes for each speaker, and no question can be debated longer than twenty-five minutes.

Rule 4.—No extension of time shall be granted, except by two-thirds vote.

Rule 5.—Reports or committees shall be limited to seven minutes, the time limit of division reports. See Article V, Section 1 of By-Laws.

Rule 6.—All main motions and resolutions, shall be written and sent to the Recording-Secretary.

Rule 7.—Where there is more than one nomination for an office, the chairman of each delegation, shall cast the vote for her delegation, in written ballot. Where there is but one nomination, the Recording Secretary of the Convention, may be instructed to cast the ballot of the convention for that nominee.

Rule 8.—A majority of all votes cast, shall be necessary to elect.

Rule 9.—Thesè rules and regulations shall be strictly enforced.

MRS. W. L. KLINE,
SISTER ESTHER CARLOTTA, S. R.
MISS ALICE BAXTER.

The Chair: "You have heard the rules of order. How will you consider them, as a whole or separately?"

Mrs. Haliburton, of Arkansas, moved to consider them as a whole, which was duly seconded.

Mrs. Henderson, of Mississippi, said the rules were excellent, except the one making the convention vote by ballot; she was opposed to balloting for officers, and said, "We have had the most dignified and open way of conducting our elections heretofore." After some further discussion, Rule VII was amended to read as follows:

Rule 7.—Election of officers shall be held by viva-voce vote, upon roll-call of States, as heretofore.

Upon motion, made by Mrs. McKinney, and as amended by Mrs. Henderson, duly seconded, the Rules of Order were adopted.

The annual report of the President-General, was read for the year 1909.

A rising vote of thanks was extended to the President on her able report.

The President-General responded, by thanking the convention for this evidence of their satisfaction, and stating at the same time, she had done nothing more than her simple duty.

Mrs. Ross, of Alabama, was recognized, and presented the following resolution :

That the United Daughters of the Confederacy in Convention assembled, extend a vote of thanks to Mrs. Cornelia Branch Stone, President-General, for her very efficient aid in securing the restoration of the name of Jefferson Davis to Cabin John Bridge, by a personal interview with President Roosevelt and General Luke Wright, Secretary of War.

Motion carried by rising vote.

Motion was made to accept the recommendations offered in the President's address.

The Chair stated that the recommendations in her report would be submitted to the Committee on Recommendations.

Mrs. Christian, of Texas, rose to a question of personal privilege, and said: "In looking over the Credentials Committee report, I find an error has been inadvertently permitted in the Illinois vote; they are entitled to three instead of two votes, and this makes the total vote of the convention 1304. The correction was ordered.

Mrs. Odenheimer, of Maryland, moved that Governor Harmon, and the Ohio State Legislature, be thanked for the expression of fraternal feeling, in the return of the Alabama flag captured during the war between the States.

Mrs. B. B. Ross, President of the Alabama Division, rose, secured the floor, and claimed the right to present this resolution, which courtesy was accorded her.

Miss Baxter moved, that Mrs. Ross, of Alabama, and Mrs. Odenheimer, of Maryland, be appointed a committee to perfect and present this resolution of thanks, to the Governor and State Legislature of Ohio, and, that the committee be empowered to act. Carried.

Upon motion, Miss Adelia Dunovant was invited to the platform, and escorted there by Miss Daffan, of Texas, and introduced to the Convention as a former President of the Texas Division, and author of the beautiful song, "Our Southland," rendered as a part of the opening exercises.

Mrs. L. H. Raines, of Georgia, Custodian of the Cross of Honor, and an ex-President-General, and Mrs. Lizzie George Henderson, of Mississippi, an ex-President-General, were presented to the Convention, and made brief addresses in acknowledgement of the applause that greeted them.

Previous notice was given by the Recording Secretary of the following proposed amendments to the By-Laws.

The proposed changes in the By-Laws, are as follows:

A substitute for Section 6, Article 1, By-Laws, defining duties of Registrar-General:

The Registrar-General shall be a resident of Richmond, Virginia, and the register containing the records shall be permanently kept in the Confederate Museum at that place. Upon her application, State registrars and chapter registrars, where no State division exists, shall be required to furnish copies of data from all individual membership blanks which, under the supervision of the Registrar-General, shall be transcribed into a book, which shall be a complete register of the United Daughters of the Confederacy. At such times as she deems necessary, she may employ a copyist to assist in her work, for which a reasonable compensation shall be allowed.

She shall make an annual report at each Convention.

MRS. JAMES BRITTON GANTT,

Registrar-General, U. D. C.

Jefferson City, Mo., September 9, 1909.

The Committee appointed by the State President of the Louisiana Division, United Daughters of the Confederacy, to formulate amendments, to be offered at the Convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, to be held in Houston, Texas, October 19-21, 1909, beg to submit the following:

Amendment No. 1.—Amend Section 3, paragraph 3, by inserting after the word, "membership," the words, "through presidents of divisions, and presidents of chapters where there is no division."

Amendment No. 2.—Amend Section 4, paragraph 3, by inserting after the word, "issue" the words, "to Presidents of Divisions, for distribution to the chapters."

Amendment No. 3.—Amend Section 5, paragraph 7, by inserting after the word, "annually," "to presidents of divisions and chapters where there is no division."

Also amend, by adding after the word, "her," "by State Treasurer."

Further amend seventh paragraph, by striking out the word, "secretary," and insert the word, "president."

Amend Article 8—Credential Blanks—Amend by striking out the whole section and substituting as follows:

First Paragraph:—For each chapter in a division, three credential blanks shall be issued to the State presidents. When properly filled out in triplicate, these shall be returned to the State president, to be endorsed and forwarded, one to the Recording Secretary-General, one to the Chairman of the Credential Committee, and one to be returned to the chapter, to be taken to the Convention by a delegate or proxy of chapters.

Second Paragraph:—Chapters, where there is no division, shall deal directly with general officers.

Reasons:—As the By-Laws now read, the general officers deal directly with chapters, overlooking State officers, thereby causing the State President to be unable to verify the vote, or condition of her State.

A charter can be granted to a chapter, and the State President not be aware of the fact until after organization. Chapters can be delinquent, and the State officers are unaware of this condition.

General officers should deal directly with the State officers, and in turn, State officers with chapter officers, and be responsible for their chapters.

States rights was the primeval cause of the War between the States, therefore, the same privilege should be granted divisions of the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

The above amendments were considered and carried at a meeting held by the committee in New Orleans, La., June, 18, 1909.

MRS. C. L. CHILDRESS, Chairman,
Stonewall Jackson Chapter, No. 1135, New Orleans.

MRS. D. A. S. VAUGHT,
New Orleans Chapter, No. 72, New Orleans,

MRS. R. L. RANDOLPH,
Thomas Overton Moore Chapter, No 640, Alexandria,

Mrs. Lizzie George Henderson:

Amend Article 8, by adding so the Credentials Blank shall contain this:

If no delegate from this chapter is present, the Chairman of Division is hereby given the right to act for us.

On motion made by Mrs. Faison, of North Carolina, and duly seconded, the proposed amendments were ordered furnished the daily papers, that each delegate may have a copy.

The report of the Recording Secretary-General was read and adopted, and upon motion, a rising vote of thanks was extended the Recording Secretary, Mrs. Andrew L. Dowdell, for her efficient and faithful service.

Mrs. Joseph B. Dibrell, of Texas, asked the members of the convention to stand with bowed heads, while she read a telegram, announcing the death of Mrs. Basil W. Duke, of Louisville, Ky.

Upon motion of Mrs. J. P. Friedrichs, of Louisiana, and seconded by Mrs. Haliburton, of Arkansas, the Corresponding Secretary was instructed to send a telegram at once, to General Basil W. Duke, expressing the sympathy of the convention in his great bereavement.

On motion, a telegram of sympathy was ordered sent to the family of Mrs. M. B. Pilcher, Nashville, Tenn.

Mrs. Mary E. Bryan, on a question of privilege, gave notice to the convention, that if there were any present, who had memorial trees to plant, that arrangements had been made with Mayor Rice, that they may be planted this afternoon at 5:30, in Sam Houston Park, and stated that Mrs. A. H. Voorhies, of California, was the promoter of this feature of work and was present to conduct the exercises.

On motion of Miss West, the Corresponding Secretary was instructed to send a letter of sympathy to Mrs. Cone Johnson, of Texas, in her recent bereavement, in the death of her sister, Mrs. Z. T. Fulmore, of Austin, Texas, who was ever a loyal and ardent Daughter of the Confederacy.

The reports of the Corresponding Secretary-General, and of the Treasurer-General, were not read at this time, on account of the indisposition of these officers.

Mrs. James B. Gantt, of Missouri, Registrar-General, made report of her work, a new office created at the Atlanta Convention.

On motion of Mrs. Cooley, and duly seconded, the report was accepted by a rising vote of the convention.

Mrs. Gantt showed a suitable loose-leaf ledger, which she had secured to file away the papers and records of the various divisions.

Alabama, Tennessee, Mississippi, Missouri and Washington Divisions, and the Margaret Howell Davis Hayes Chapter, of Denver, the Philadelphia Chapter and the Robert E. Lee Chapter, of Bisbee, Arizona, had sent papers for registration.

The total number of members transcribed, is 9609, and the total number of ancestors transcribed into the register, making a total number of, 19,218.

A motion to adjourn was made and carried, and the convention stood adjourned until 2 P. M.

SECOND DAY—AFTERNOON MEETING.

Wednesday, October 20, 1909.

Mrs. L. H. Raines, Custodian of Cross of Honor, read the report of her office, showing that not only had her regular duties been performed, but she had compiled back data, for the years previous to her incumbency.

Mrs. L. C. Hall, of Arkansas, moved a rising vote of thanks to Mrs. Raines on the splendid work she had accomplished. In Mrs. Raines' report, the question was asked if the convention desired the continuance of the compiling of back data. On motion it was so ordered.

Mrs. Henderson moved that one hundred dollars be appropriated by the convention, to meet this expense during the current year; payments to be made quarterly, of twenty-five dollars each.

Mrs. J. Enders Robinson, of Virginia, Historian-General, read her report in part only, saying that the report had been printed and distributed to the delegates.

Upon a motion to adopt, the Chair ruled, that a report could not be adopted until read; whereupon the Historian-General read another portion of her report.

Miss Decca Lamar West moved that the convention extend a vote of thanks to the Historian-General for her labors, and that her recommendations be considered at a later meeting. Motion carried.

The hour having arrived for the memorial services to our Confederate dead, Rev. T. J. Windham, of Clemens Memorial Chapel, was introduced and opened these services with prayer.

Music—Vocal, "Abide With Me," by Mrs. Turner Williamson, of Houston.

A tribute to Mrs. Margaret Howell Davis Hayes was read, Mrs. Roy McKinney, Chairman. The convention was requested to rise, and receive the tribute in silence.

Madam President:

Your committee feels deeply honored to have been chosen to express for the United Daughters of the Confederacy, their grief over the passing from among us of the eldest and last surviving child of Jefferson Davis, beloved President of the Southern Confederacy, Mrs. Margaret Howell Jefferson Davis Hayes. Compelled by the necessity of her husband's health to live in the far west among those who were her father's and his people's one time enemies, she held still, with tenacity, to her Southern principles and clung with loyalty to the traditions of her Southern lineage. Living thus among those who might easily have been made into enemies, she won them by the graciousness of her manners and beauty of her character, as friends who today mourn with us over the loss of her.

The upright Christian character of her life made those who were her father's enemies, because of their ignorance of his life and character, see him and his life in a clearer and kindlier light. Christian woman and Southern lady, she carried herself as we, her father's admirers and followers, would have had her do, showing to the world the Southern ideal of a loving wife and wise mother.

Courting no applause save that of her father's people as she strove to have her life such as the life of his daughter should be, and no approval save that of her conscience and her God, she received of both unstinted measure from North and South, with that simple dignity which characterized her deportment on all occasions. An open hand ever held out to her father's followers, with appreciative and loving smile; her warm hand-clasp carried many an old soldier back to his prime in the days when Jefferson Davis "gripped" the souls of men to him "with hooks of steel."

The simple beauty of her life will still possess an influence, though its earthly career is ended. And for the blessing of such lives, we thank thee, oh! God.

We, therefore, Madam President, submit the following resolutions for adoption:

Resolved, that we, the United Daughters of the Confederacy in convention assembled, give expression to the sorrow we feel at the death of this distinguished Daughter of the South and extend to her family this token of our sympathy, love and appreciation, recalling her rare endowments, her tender nature and splendid courage.

Be it further resolved that a copy of these resolutions upon the death of Margaret Howell Jefferson Davis Hayes be spread upon the records of this Convention, and a copy be sent to each member of her immediate family.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. ROY W. MCKINNEY, of Kentucky,
 MRS. LIZZIE GEORGE HENDERSON, of Mississippi,
 MRS. C. B. TATE, of Virginia,
 Committee.

It is fitting, that the Chair shall speak here of the death of Mrs. Frank L. Burnette, Secretary of the Robert E. Lee Chapter, of Minneapolis, who had completed under my administration, this organization, which was begun by my predecessor. Her interest, zeal and devotion in her work, is a sweet and tender memory.

Mrs. A. R. Howard, of Texas, paid tribute to Mrs. D. J. Price, Chairman of the Transportation Committee, U. D. C., whose recent death, has robbed the Texas Division of a valuable member:

Whereas; In October the death angel claimed our beloved member, Mrs. D. J. Price, one whose whole life typified all that is best and purest in noble womanhood; one whose every relation in life as wife, mother, sister, neighbor and friend, proved an example worthy of emulation, one whose faithful efforts for good whether through church or other organization to which she belonged, will long be remembered; one whose loss will be deeply deplored by all with whom she came in contact;

Therefore be it resolved:

That in the death of Mrs. Price, her family has been deprived of one who ever held the welfare and happiness of those nearest and dearest through life; this organization has lost a devoted and faithful member; the social world a leader of influence and a power for good.

That the United Daughters of the Confederacy and especially the Transportation Committee has sustained a loss which is irreparable since to its advancement she was ever ready to give her time and loving labor;

That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the sorrowing husband and children, as a testimonial of the high esteem in which their dear one was held by those who knew her best;

That a copy be spread upon the records of the U. D. C. as a lasting tribute to one whose life and associations with our order so beautifully exemplified these words:

"Who does the best his circumstances allows,
Does well, acts nobly, angels could do no more."

Mrs. J. M. Bronson, of Texas, offered the following memorial:

One of the avowed objects of our Association, is to embalm in grateful memory those who, by virtue of noble living, and by their gifts of poesy, have made the world brighter and better.

Some twenty months ago, there passed away in Ithaca, New York, one of ripe years, whom in honoring, we preserve our own traditions, and whose name we should be proud to place upon our "Roll of Immortals."

A graduate of Yale, he stood pre-eminent, as a poet, patriot, scholar, jurist and counselor.

He was an honorary member of the Army of the Potomac after the composing of a tender melody; the cadence and pathos of which have thrilled hearts of all throughout the Southland, waking the sweet spirit of conciliation.

I refer to the Honorable Judge Francis Miles Finch, the author of, "The Blue and the Grey."

He, also, is

"Under the sod and the dew,
Waiting the Judgement Day,
Under the one the Blue,
Under the other the Grey.

Under the sod and the dew,
Waiting the Judgement Day,
Love and tears for the Blue,
Tears and love for the Grey."

Music—Vocal, "Lead Kindly Light," by the Ladies' Confederate Choir.

A number of names of deceased members in the various divisions were presented, with appropriate words, expressing the loss felt in their chapters, after which, with a benediction, the memorial services closed, and the regular order of business was resumed.

Report of Custodian of Flags and Pennants was made by Mrs. Frank Anthony Walke, of Virginia, and upon motion of Mrs. Wm. Christian, of Texas, this report was adopted.

Mrs. L. R. Schuyler, of New York, rose to a question of privilege, and narrated the following pleasant incident:

I would like to state, that while in Richmond last summer, Bishop Randolph, of Virginia, told me that there was an English gentleman living near London, who raised over his home every morning, a Confederate flag.

The reports of State divisions were called, beginning with Alabama.

When the report of Illinois was reached, the reports of the three chapters of that State were given, and the Chair announced that Illinois had just formed a division with Mrs. John A. Lee, Oak Park, as President.

The reports of the divisions of Kentucky and North Carolina, by request, were passed to be read at a later meeting.

When the report of the New York Chapter was made, Mrs. Parker asked to offer a recommendation as follows:

After my report was completed at a meeting of the chapter October 13, I was requested to add the following motion—unanimously carried, made by Mrs. Schuyler, as a recommendation: "I move that the President in her report at the Convention of the U. D. C. present the suggestion of Mrs. LeRoy Brown, Registrar, New York Chapter, that the United Daughters of the Confederacy shall send a resolution to the United Confederate Veterans, requesting that they build a home for old ladies, rather than erect a monument to the Women of the Confederacy."

This recommendation was received with enthusiasm, and upon motion to adopt, was carried.

The Chair announced, that the program for historical and literary evening would be given at the convention hall, at 8:30 P. M.

Mrs. Stevens, of Georgia, moved that the meeting adjourn, until 9 A. M. Thursday.

THIRD DAY—MORNING MEETING.

Thursday, October 21, 1909.

The President-General called the meeting to order, and presented Rev. J. L. Gross, Pastor First Baptist Church, who offered the invocation.

The minutes of the morning meeting of October 20th were then read by the Recording Secretary, and upon motion of Mrs. Haliburton, of Arkansas, were adopted.

The minutes of the afternoon meeting of October 20, were then read by the Secretary. A motion was made and seconded, to adopt the minutes. Carried.

On motion, a letter of sympathy was sent to Sister Esther Carlotta, on the death of her foster-sister and cousin, Clare Eugenie Devonport-Roby, Comtesse de Lorraine—a woman of rare gifts and personal charm. Carried.

The Corresponding Secretary being unable, physically, to be present, the Chair appointed Miss Kate Tyler Childress, of Louisiana, Corresponding Secretary pro tem.

Mrs. Roy McKinney, of Kentucky, rose to a question of personal privilege, and stated that Mrs. Richard H. Sansom, President of the Tennessee Division, was the daughter of General Felix Zollicoffer. Mrs. McKinney then moved that Mrs. Sansom be asked to the platform, and presented to the convention. Carried.

The Chair appointed Mrs. McKinney to escort Mrs. Sansom to the rostrum.

The President said, in presenting Mrs. Sansom to the convention:

“It is a great pleasure to recognize the daughters of those men who made their names prominent from 1861-1865, and it is still more gratifying to know that, that daughter is doing something to honor her father's name."

Mrs. Sansom thanked her sister State of Kentucky for this recognition of her father and remarked that her father was only one, of many, in this grand volunteer State, who gave his life for the cause.

Various greetings were read to the convention by the Secretary.

A motion was made by Mrs. David S. Killough, of Texas, seconded by Mrs. Mollie R. Macgill Rosenberg, that a telegram of sympathy be sent to Mrs. Valery Edward Austin, ex-President Texas Division, on the death of her mother. The telegram was ordered sent.

Mrs. Rachael McKay, of Arizona, rose to a question of privilege and said: Mrs. A. T. Hoy, President of the Albert Sidney Johnson Chapter, of Bisbee, Arizona has recently lost her husband, by assassination. As she was the President of our chapter, who has done all the correspondence with the general officers, and as her husband was the only man in Bisbee who was our friend, I move that a letter of condolence, expressing sisterly love be sent her by the Corresponding Secretary. The letter to Mrs. Hoy was ordered sent.

Sister Esther Carlotta rose to a question of privilege, and said:

"I wish to announce the fact of a re-union of the Florida Division, U. C. V., this morning, at 11 o'clock, at Live Oak, Florida, and I ask that a message be sent by this convention, to General Magill." The motion carried and the telegram was sent.

The reading of State reports was then resumed, beginning with Tennessee.

At the conclusion of the report of West Virginia, the reports of Kentucky, Minnesota, and North Carolina were read, not having reported the day before. On motion, the State reports were adopted as a whole.

The report of the Treasurer-General was then made by Mrs. L. Eustace Williams, who prefaced her report with these remarks:

I owe you an apology, Madam President, for my absence this morning, and hope that the Convention did not think that their Treasurer had either absconded with their funds or was suffering from stage fright

I was just plain sick and must confess to the humiliating fact, that I am afraid I indulged too freely yesterday, in Houston hospitality.

Upon motion of Mrs. Gantt, of Missouri, the Treasurer's report was adopted with a rising vote of thanks. Carried.

The Committee on Rules for Bestowal of Cross of Honor, of which Mrs. Virginia F. McSherry, of West Virginia, is Chairman, was read, and created discussion.

Mrs. White moved that the report of the chairman on Rules for Bestowal of Cross of Honor, be accepted, with the recommendation for extending the limit of time to 1912. Motion was seconded by Mrs. Reynolds, of Kentucky.

Chair: The recommendation of the chairman of the Committee on Rules for Bestowal of Cross of Honor, is before you for consideration, and the motion has been made and seconded, that this recommendation be adopted. The recommendation is:

That the action of the Atlanta Convention be rescinded. A motion is now in order to rescind the Atlanta Convention, providing time limit for bestowal of Crosses.

Mrs. White moved, that the action of the Atlanta Convention, making the time limit for the bestowal of Crosses of Honor be rescinded. The motion to rescind was carried.

Chair: Mrs. White's original motion is now before you for action, is there any discussion? Motion carried.

Miss Baxter, of Georgia, moved to further amend the Rules for Bestowal of the Crosses of Honor, by providing, that the father, mother, brother or sister of a Confederate soldier, who died unmarried, may claim the Cross in honor of that soldier's memory. Seconded by Mrs. Reynolds, of Kentucky, and Mrs. Wright, of South Carolina. The motion was lost.

Miss Early, of Virginia, moved an amendment of the rules making nephews and nieces of the first degree, eligible to receive the Cross.

Motion seconded, and discussion being in order, Mrs. Halliburton said:

"I want to say, that the idea of the Cross of Honor, was to honor the living, and my impression is, that if you give the Cross to fathers and mothers, nephews and nieces, that the veterans will not care for the Cross."

Mrs. Nunn, of Texas, speaking to the motion, said: "I think we have very good rules on the Bestowal of the Cross of Honor, and I oppose the extension to collateral lines.

Mrs. Raines, of Georgia, Custodian, said: "We went through the same thing in Atlanta; we extended a point, and let down the bars. I have had letters from veterans all over the country, asking: "What do you mean by granting sons of veterans that Cross, if it was for us? Give it to us alone. It will be but a very few years we will enjoy it on earth, let us enjoy that."

Mrs. Parker, of New York, said: "I only want to echo the sentiments of Mrs. Halliburton, of Arkansas. This Cross was given to our living veterans, and I believe, if the majority of them could speak, they would limit that to themselves. The veterans hold it a sacred emblem, and I am strongly in favor of limiting it."

Mrs. Tench, of Florida: Madam President, as a member of the Committee for Bestowal of the Cross of Honor. I wish to say that we build monuments to the dead, and instituted the Cross of Honor for the living veterans. Florida opposes the giving of the Cross to collateral lines.

Mrs. McKinney, of Kentucky: I desire to enter protest against the conferring of the Cross on collateral lines.

The previous question was called and carried, and the vote taken on Miss Early's motion, which was lost.

On motion, the convention adjourned to meet at 2 P. M.

THIRD DAY—AFTERNOON MEETING.

Thursday, October 21, 1909.

The convention was called to order at 2 P. M., the President in the chair.

The Chairman of the Committee on History, being absent, the report was passed to be taken up later.

Mrs. Livingston Rowe Schuyler, of New York, made the report on the award of prize in Teacher's College, Columbia University.

Miss Decca Lamar West, of Texas, moved that the report of the Committee on Award of Prize in Teacher's College, Columbia University, be adopted with its recommendations. Seconded by Louisiana and other States.

Miss A. A. Dunovant, of Texas, was accorded the courtesy of the floor for ten minutes, and discussed the award of prize, at Teacher's College, Columbia University.

Mrs. Schuyler asked for time, in which to answer Miss Dunovant, and was granted the time. Mrs. Schuyler then spoke in support of the provision of one hundred dollars to be given for award of the prize in Teacher's College.

Miss West, of Texas, moved to continue the award of one hundred dollars on competitive essays in Teacher's College, and spoke in behalf of her motion.

The President read a letter from Miss Timberlake, of Mississippi, the beneficiary of the scholarship given to the U. D. C. by the Teacher's College, Columbia University, showing the cordial reception accorded her in that institution by teachers and students, and expressing her perfect satisfaction with her surroundings.

The previous question being called, Miss West's motion was put to the house, and carried.

Mrs. D. A. Nunn, of Texas, presented resolutions on the Boyson essay.

Mrs. Schuyler moved that the resolutions be adopted.

Miss Baxter amended by moving that the resolutions be referred to a committee.

Mrs. Schuyler accepted the amendment. She moved that these resolutions presented by Mrs. Nunn, be submitted to a committee, which will consider the resolutions, and later present them to the convention for action thereon. Motion carried, and the chair appointed Miss Alice Baxter, of Georgia, Mrs. B. B. Ross, of Alabama, Mrs. Roy McKinney, of Kentucky.

The report of the Committee on Education was called.

Miss Mary B. Poppenheim, of South Carolina, Chairman, being absent, sent her full and complete report, which was read by Mrs. B. B. Ross, of Alabama, Vice-Chairman of the Committee on Education.

Mrs. Schuyler moved the adoption of the committee's report, provided the recommendations contained therein, are not in conflict with the By-Laws of this association. Carried.

Mrs. Henderson moved that the report of the Committee on Education be accepted with thanks for their arduous work, and that a letter of appreciation be sent to Miss Poppenheim, and that the recommendations made therein, be considered later, under the head of new business. Carried.

Mrs. Schuyler moved a special vote of thanks to Mrs. Ross for her valuable assistance on this committee, and for making the report. Carried.

The report of the Committee on Historical Souvenirs and Emblems, was called, and statement made, that the chairman, Mrs. Mary Cecil Cantrill, was too ill to send report.

A letter from Mrs. Cantrill was read, which had been sent, with a souvenir plate, to Mrs. Rosenberg.

Motion was made and carried, that an acting chairman be appointed to serve Mrs. Cantrill, until her health is restored.

Miss West moved, that a letter of sympathy be sent to Mrs. Cantrill. Carried.

Mrs. J. Enders Robinson, Historian-General, read the report of Miss Nannie Byrd, Washington, of the District of Columbia. Chairman of Committee on History, and she recommended that this report be typewritten, before turning it over to the Secretary for publication in the minutes.

Motion made by Mrs. Dibrell, of Texas, that this report be adopted, with Mrs. Robinson's recommendations. Carried.

Mrs. A. B. White, Chairman, made the report of the Finance Committee, which on motion of Mrs. Halliburton, was adopted, after which the chair called for a motion, to finally adopt the reports of the Treasurer-General, the Recording Secretary-General and Custodian of the Cross of Honor.

On motion of Mrs. Parker, of New York, the reports of the Treasurer-General, the Recording Secretary-General and the Custodian of the Cross of Honor, were adopted.

The report of the Committee on Stationery, was made by the chairman, Mrs. L. Eustace Williams, which on motion, duly seconded, was adopted.

Mrs. Livingston Rowe Schuyler, Chairman, made the report of the Committee on Scholarship, Teacher's College, Columbia University.

Mrs. White instructed that all funds for Shiloh Monument, be sent to the State Director of each State, where funds are pledged, and the State Directors will forward the same to Mrs. Roy McKinney, Paducah, Kentucky, Treasurer, Shiloh Monument Fund.

Mrs. White moved that fifteen hundred dollars be appropriated from the General Treasury, U. D. C., to be equally divided between Shiloh and Arlington Monument funds.

Mrs. Dowdell, the Recording Secretary-General, amended Mrs. White's motion, providing that two thousand dollars be appropriated by the convention, one thousand dollars for Arlington, and one thousand dollars for Shiloh. Motion was seconded by many States.

The chair asked the Treasurer, if this amount could be safely taken from the treasury, and being answered, that it could be done, the motion of Mrs. Dowdell was put, and carried.

On motion, the convention adjourned until 9 A. M. Friday.

FOURTH DAY—MORNING MEETING.

Friday Morning, October 22, 1909.

Meeting was called to order by the President, at 9 A. M., and the Rev. Doctor Ryland, of St. Paul's Methodist Church, offered the invocation. Minutes of the morning and afternoon meetings of October 21 were read and approved, as corrected. .

Mrs. P. J. Friedrichs, President of Louisiana Division, rose to a question of privilege, and moved, that a telegram of appreciation be sent by the United Daughters of the Confederacy, in Convention assembled at Houston, to Mayor Martin Behrman, and the School Board of New Orleans, for the magnificent educational monument, in the form of Beauregard School, named in honor of our celebrated Confederate General, Pierre Youtant Beauregard. The dedicatory ceremonies will take place at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Carried.

Mrs. Moore-Murdock, of Texas, rose to a question of privilege, and presented on behalf of the Confederate States Army Chapter, of Dallas, Texas, a beautiful silver tablet, suitably engraved, in recognition of their appreciation of the services of the President-General, who is a Texas woman.

Mrs. Kate Gerald Weaver, of Texas, asked the privilege of the floor, to read a telegram from William H. Taft, President of the United States, in response to an invitation from herself to attend the convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

Mrs. Lizzie George Henderson, of Mississippi, moved that Mrs. Weaver be thanked for her thoughtfulness in sending the invitation to the chief executive of this country, to attend this session of our convention. Carried.

Mrs. Henderson called for the regular order of business—the election of officers. The chair then announced that nominations were in order for the office of President-General.

Mrs. Henderson secured the floor, and nominated Mrs. T. W. Faison, of North Carolina, seconded by Mrs. Chappel Cory, of Alabama, Mrs. Moore-Murdock, of Texas, by Arkansas and Tennessee.

Mrs. C. B. Tate, of Virginia, placed in nomination for the office of President-General, the name of Mrs. Virginia Faulkner McSherry, of West Virginia, seconded by Maryland, Florida, District of Columbia, Texas, Mrs. McKinney, of Kentucky, and Mrs. Schuyler, of New York, Mrs. Ross, of Alabama, and many other States.

Mrs. McKinney moved that nominations be closed. Carried.

The vote was taken by roll-call of States, the general officers and the chairmen of standing committees, which resulted in 446 votes for Mrs. I. W. Faison, of North Carolina, and 854 votes for Mrs. Virginia Faulkner McSherry, of West Virginia.

Mrs. I. W. Faison moved that the election of Mrs. McSherry be made unanimous. Carried.

The chair then declared the election of Mrs. Virginia Faulkner McSherry to the office of President-General.

Mrs. Lizzie George Henderson moved, that the office of Honorary President-General, be declared vacant for the coming year, through respect to the memory of Mrs. Jefferson Davis. Carried.

On motion, the convention adjourned until 2 P. M.

FOURTH DAY—AFTERNOON MEETING.

Friday, October 22, 1909.

Convention was called to order at 2 P. M., by the President.

Mrs. B. B. Ross, President of the Alabama Division, read a poetic greeting to the convention from Miss Cozart, the editor of the U. D. C. Department of the "Montgomery Advertiser."

Miss Ruth Early, of Virginia, Chairman, made the report of the Jurisprudence Committee:

Madam President:—Your Committee on Jurisprudence respectfully beg to submit the following decisions rendered by the President-General during the past year.

These decisions, being characterized by the usual discretion of our honored President, have been duly considered by each member of your Committee and stand here approved.

1. That there is no provision in the General Constitution, U. D. C., prohibiting the chapters of this association, from having associate members.

Your committee fully sustains this ruling.

2. That such associate members cannot vote, and cannot be counted in the ratio of representation of any chapter in which they are associated, in any Convention of the State Division, or General Association, U. D. C.

We approve this decision, believing that U. D. C. rights must be guarded.

3. That there is no conflict with the General Constitution U. D. C., in which the provision of the Tennessee Division Constitution, which in Article III, Section 7, provides, "That any chapter may select as associate members those who, not entitled to membership in any organization, are in sympathy, and desire to aid in in the work."

The conformity of this decision to the spirit of the U. D. C. Constitution, causes your committee to approve it.

4. That "Honorary Associate Members," as provided for in Article IV, Section I, and II, of the General By-Laws, refers only to the conferring of such title by the General Association U. D. C., and does not provide for such honorary title to be conferred by State divisions or chapters. This discrimination being just, is sustained by us.

5. The president, or in her absence the vice-president, in office, presides over the business proceedings of the conventions, from the opening to the close, and the duties of the president-elect, do not begin until after the close of the convention, at which she is elected.

The significance of this decision is apparant, and causes your committee to recommend the observance of due deference to retiring officers.

RUTH H. EARLY, Chairman,
MRS. JOSEPH DIBRELL,
MRS. JOHN THREADGILL,
MRS. M. K. CARTER,
MISS DECCA LAMAR WEST.

Mrs. L. R. Schuyler, of New York, seconded by Mrs. B. B. Ross, moved the adoption of the report.

Miss Decca Lamar West, of Texas, called the attention of the delegates, that the decision of the President during the year upon which the committee is now reporting, may be found on page 10, of the President's printed report.

The committee having approved unanimously, the President's interpretation of the Constitution, Mrs. Schuyler's motion to adopt, was put, and carried.

The Committee on Jurisprudence, through its chairman, Miss Early, recommended the amendment of Article IV of the By-Laws by adding Section III, providing that only the General Association of the United Daughters of the Confederacy can confer the title of "Honorary Associate Member."

Mrs. Lizzie George Henderson asked if this By-Law could be amended, on this the last day of the convention, without previous notice. The Chair ruled that it could not, and is simply a recommendation to amend.

Report of the Transportation Committee was called.

Mrs. A. R. Howard, of Texas, Acting Chairman of the Transportation Committee, made a full and complete report for Mrs. J. D. Price, of Texas, Chairman, whose prolonged illness and subsequent death, made the appointment of Mrs. Howard necessary.

The arduous duties of this position, she had actively taken up, together with Mr. J. D. Price, and the unusually favorable railroad rates secured, were the results of their efforts.

Mrs. Lizzie George Henderson moved that each recommendation be acted on separately, seconded by Mrs. L. E. Williams, of Kentucky, and carried.

Mrs. Henderson, of Mississippi, moved that recommendation No. 1 be adopted. Seconded and carried.

Mrs. Haliburton, of Arkansas, moved, and seconded by Mrs. Reynolds, of Kentucky, that recommendation No. 2 be adopted. Carried.

Upon motion, recommendation No. 4 was adopted, with the committee's change of date.

Mrs. Henderson moved that the committee's report as a whole, as amended, be adopted. Seconded by Mrs. Cooley, of Florida, and carried.

A question of privilege was asked by Mrs. Henderson, of Mississippi, who took the floor, and presented Mrs. I. W. Faison, of North Carolina, with some beautiful flowers, which were presented to her by her North Carolina friends, residing in Texas, as a token of esteem.

Mrs. Faison accepted the flowers, saying, "I thank you from the bottom of my heart, for this beautiful token of appreciation, and as I am a woman of few words, let me say I thank you."

Upon a question of privilege, Mrs. James B. Gantt, of Missouri, was granted permission to present the Recording-Secretary with a beautiful token of flowers from the Missouri Division, for her efficient, satisfactory and faithful services.

The Recording-Secretary thanked Mrs. Gantt and the Missouri Division for this beautiful expression of appreciation.

Mrs. Halliburton, of Arkansas, moved that the report be accepted with thanks. Carried.

Mrs. James B. Gantt, of Missouri, rose to a question of privilege, and presented Mrs. L. E. Williams, the retiring Treasurer-General, with a beautiful token of flowers for her efficient services.

Mrs. Reynolds, of Kentucky, desired to express Kentucky's thanks for this testimonial to Mrs. Williams' worth and service.

Mrs. L. H. Raines made a verbal report as a committee of one, appointed to investigate charges of improper sale of badges. She reported that a thorough investigation disclosed the lack of substantiation of the charge, and expressed confidence in Mr. Theus, who has charge of the sale of badges.

Mrs. William Christian, of Houston, moved that the report of committee be adopted, and committee discharged. Carried.

The report of Committee on Recommendations of President-General was called, and Mrs. Roy W. McKinney, of Kentucky made the report:

1. That the Corresponding Secretary shall be elected from the same town in which the President-General resides, that she may be of more efficient service to that officer.

The committee recommends that the first recommendation shall not become a law.

Reasons: Our organization embraces too many States, all of which deserve recognition. The long distance telephone, telegraph and mail service, make distances very short.

2. That all printed matter issued from the office of the Recording Secretary-General shall be mailed by herself, and not sent to the Corresponding Secretary, as the By-Laws now provide, that extra expense and delay of delivery may be avoided, and to fix the responsibility on the one officer.

The committee recommends that Article I, Section IV, of the By-Laws be changed to read as recommended in the President-General's report.

3. That the recommendations of Mrs. James B. Gantt, Registrar-General, U. D. C., in regard to the better conducting of that office, may be adopted.

4. That all chapters, U. D. C., will hold their annual election of officers early in November, that the General Minutes may publish the correct names of officers in service for the current year, and that as soon as the election of officers in the State divisions or chapters is had, a full list of officers, with their addresses, shall be sent to the President-General and to the Recording Secretary-General.

The committee approves recommendation No. IV, with the exceptions of the word, "early in November," and suggests "December 15," as a substitute.

Reasons: We find that many State divisions would have to change their By-Laws.

Number 5 was withdrawn by request of the President-General.

MRS. ROY MCKINNEY, Chairman,
MRS. ODENHEIMER, Maryland,
MRS. VIRGINIA McSHERRY, West Va.
Committee.

The Chair announced that the hour of 3 P. M., having arrived, when all that is earthly of Mrs. Basil W. Duke, of Kentucky, is being laid to rest in Louisville, in response to a request of the Kentucky delegation voiced through Mrs. Reynolds of that State, the resolutions of respect to the memory of Mrs. Basil Duke, will be read. The delegates will receive these resolutions standing, in silence, with bowed heads.

The resolutions were read by Mrs. Broadus, of Kentucky, and adopted in silence, the convention standing,

In the supreme sorrow that has come with startling suddenness to this organization, in the death of Mrs. Basil W. Duke, of Kentucky, we feel more inclined to silence than to words.

This organization knew her well, and knew how dear to her heart was its work. Her latest earthly thoughts were of it, and in the last week of her life, she attended the convention of the Kentucky Division in Hopkinsville. Being unable to attend this convention, she was with the delegates from her chapter, up to the very time of their leaving, with words of love and encouragement for them, and sending affectionate greetings to this convention. But almost simultaneously with the arrival of the last belated delegate, on the morning of Wednesday, October 20, came the message that she had ceased from her labors and entered upon her reward.

Mrs. Duke's grace and charm of manner were irresistible, but above all she possessed in an eminent degree, that charity that suffereth long and is kind—"the greatest thing in the world."

Her sympathy for all kinds of suffering and sorrow was boundless, and distress in all walks of life seemed to find its way to her, and find from her all the relief possible for human power to give. But no words can tell the beauty and grandeur of her character, as well might we attempt to paint the lily or gild refined gold.

To her heroic husband, she was ever a tower of strength, sharing with him the vicissitudes of war, softening his defeats and glorifying his successes. To her lovely family she was everything. To them our hearts go out in deepest sympathy, sharing in their feeling of loss and bereavement.

But she—our dearly loved—has answered the one clear call that came to her, put out to sea and has met her pilot face to face, beyond all words of human praise and love or need of them.

Resolved that the foregoing be spread upon the minutes and a copy be sent to General Basil W. Duke and family in Louisville.

MRS. ANDREW BROADDUS, Chairman,
MRS. MOLLIE MACGILL ROSENBERG,
MRS. MATTIE BRUCE REYNOLDS,
Committee.

The President called the Vice-President, Mrs. L. C. Hall, of Arkansas, to the Chair, while she read the report of the Executive Committee of Arlington Confederate Monument Association, in the absence of Colonel Hiliary A. Herbert, the Chairman, and the Secretaries.

Upon motion of Mrs. Ross, of Alabama, the reports of Colonel Herbert, Chairman, and the Corresponding and Recording Secretaries of the Executive Committee, A. C. M. A., were adopted.

The report of Mrs. Cornelia Branch Stone, Ex-officio President of the Arlington Confederate Monument Association, was made, and names of Committee on Design, were presented for ratification, and asking for the name of a chairman by the convention: Mrs. Marion Butler, Mr. Wallace Streater, Judge Seth Shepard, Rev. Dr. Randolph McKim, Mrs. Thomas W. Keitt, Mrs. Virginia Faulkner McSherry.

Mrs. Cory, of Alabama, offered to amend the Committee on Design, by adding the name of Colonel Hiliary A. Herbert, making the number of the committee eight persons.

The President ruled that a committee must be composed of an odd number of members.

Mrs. Cory, of Alabama, asked to further amend her motion and make the committee consist of nine members. Seconded by Mrs. Voorhies, of California. Discussion ensued.

Mrs. John W. Tench, of Florida, moved that Mrs. Cory's motion be tabled. Seconded and carried.

Upon motion duly seconded, the report of the President Ex-officio of Arlington Monument Association was adopted with its recommendations.

Mrs. James B. Gantt, of Missouri, moved the following resolution be adopted:

In view of the fact that the Executive Board has recommended the President-General, Mrs. Cornelia Branch Stone for chairman, seventh member of the committee on Design for Arlington monument, I move that this convention ratify the action of the Executive Board, and elect her to that position.

Mrs. Gantt's resolution was seconded and adopted, and Mrs. Cornelia Branch Stone was made Chairman and member of this committee.

Mrs. Cornelia Branch Stone: "I thank you for the high honor conferred upon me, and we will endeavor to furnish you with a design for the Arlington Monument, which will be artistic and satisfactory to all."

The Chair then read the Treasurer's report of the Arlington Confederate Monument Association. This report was adopted with thanks to Mr. Wallace Streater, Treasurer.

Mrs. Ross, of Alabama, rose to a question of personal privilege, and stated that Mr. John Moulton, of Mobile, Division Commander of Alabama Sons of Confederate Veterans, had been here during the week, and asked that he be introduced to the convention.

The President-General introduced the distinguished gentleman, in fitting words, and she gracefully handed him the gavel.

Mr. Moulton expressed his loyalty to this organization, and invited all present to attend the big re-union at Mobile, Alabama, April 26, 27, 28, 1910, and he returned the gavel to the President-General, with thanks.

The report of the Corresponding Secretary-General, Mrs. R. C. Cooley, of Florida, was then read, this having been postponed from the regular order, on account of illness.

Mrs. Henderson moved and was seconded by several States, that Mrs. R. C. Cooley be thanked for her satisfactory and efficient services during the past year. Adopted by a rising vote.

Sister Esther Carlotta asked as a question of privilege, she be allowed to present on behalf of the Florida Division, some flowers to Mrs. Cooley. Sister Esther Carlotta said: "In behalf of Florida, may I present to you these flowers, with love and pride, for our Corresponding Secretary-General."

Mrs. William Robert Vawter, of Virginia made the following partial report for the Confederate Museum of Richmond, Virginia.

MRS. VAN WYCK, Regent.

Upon the suspension of the Rules of Order, Mrs. S. H. Watson, of Texas, was given five minutes time in which to present the following resolutions:

Madam President:

I thank you for this privilege and opportunity. And you, Daughters of the Confederacy, I thank you in advance for your patient hearing. Authorized by our State President, Miss Daffan,

I have been collecting during the past two years, old songs of merit, for the purpose of having them published in book form, for the convenience of the U. D. C., and with the view of rescuing them from the dust of the past, and preserving them as song gems of rare value.

This beautiful idea, emanated from the active brain of our president, and she entrusted it to me, knowing full well that I would make my best effort to advance any plans of hers.

I wish briefly to tell you about it, and bespeak your interest in the work. I have now in manuscript with the Oliver Ditson Publishing Company, of Boston, eighty-six songs, that I have selected for beauty, pathos and sentiment. We design having a book, eight by ten inches, durably bound in cloth.

In it, there will be quartettes, duets and solos, with words, music and accompaniments complete. You will find something in it for every occasion. If you wish music for anniversary days, what is more appropriate than "Stonewall Jackson's Prayer," "The Sword of Robert E. Lee," or "Stonewall's Requiem?"

If you are conveying a dear veteran to his last resting place, then, "A Tear for the Comrade That's Gone," or "Rest, Comrade, Rest," would be timely and pathetic. If you desire a sweet old Scotch ballad, you will find "Mary of Argyle," "Bonnie Doon," "Annie Laurie," "Flow Gently, Sweet Afton," and others; or if you desire something sweetly sentimental, "A Place in Thy Memory, Dearest," and the lovely duet of, "Come Where My Love Lies Dreaming," await your selection; or if you should wish something cheerful, rollicking, you will find, "A Wet Sheet and Flowing Sea," or "Listen to the Mocking Bird."

Then, because you are Americans, as well as Daughters of the Confederacy, I have included for your convenience on patriotic occasions, "The Star Spangled Banner," "Hail Columbia," "America" and "The Red, White and Blue."

As stated before, the manuscript for this folio of old songs to be dedicated to the U. D. C., is now in readiness, awaiting the endorsement of the State Convention, in December next.

For chapter meetings, you will find the "Bonnie Blue Flag," or "Our Southland." The last written by our talented, Miss Adelia A. Dunovant.

I have availed myself of the hotel registers, in obtaining the addresses of several out-of-State guests, and when the book is issued from the press, I will take pleasure in giving you timely notice.

It was moved and seconded by many States, that Mrs. Watson be thanked for her efforts to collect and preserve these old songs.

Mrs. L. H. Raines, of Georgia, made the following corrections to the minutes of the first and second annual meetings of the U. D. C., which have been recently printed and distributed, to complete the records of the Association, these minutes having been previously preserved only in manuscript form.

Correction No. 1. "Mrs. J. C. Meyers, of Dallas, Texas, First Vice-President, instead of Mrs. Kate Cabell Currie."

Correction No. II. "That after the words, "Certificate of Membership," on page——, the remainder of that sentence be erased."

Sister Esther Carlotta obtained the floor, and moved that "the correction of the minutes of the first two conventions be made."

Mrs. William Christian, of Texas, moved to amend by adding, "And that these corrections be made, and spread upon the minutes of the 1909 convention." Carried.

Miss Baxter, of Georgia, chairman of the committee to which had been referred the resolutions of Mrs. D. A. Nunn, of Texas, reported the following substitute resolutions, concurred in, and signed by Mrs. D. A. Nunn, author of the original resolutions:

Whereas, the essay entitled, "A Present Estimate of Robert E. Lee," written by Miss Cristine Boyson, of Minnesota, was awarded the prize of $100.00, offered by the United Daughters of the Confederacy, to students of Teachers' College, Columbia University, and,

Whereas, this essay contains statements that do not convey the truth of history, and,

Whereas, it is the purpose of this organization, through the prize offered to stimulate research regarding the War Between the States, its cause and its leaders, and,

Whereas, Robert Edward Lee, was a noble exponent of the Confederacy, be it

Resolved, that we regret the awarding of this U. D. C. prize to an essay which, while expressing admiration for its subject, fails in true conception of the principles for which General Lee and his soldiers fought; betrays lack of information as to conditions in the South, prior to the War Between the States, and fails in comprehension of the absolute devotion of Lee's Army to its Commander.

Be it further resolved, that we express ourselves in no spirit of unkindness, but simply declare for truth.

MRS. D. A. NUNN, Chairman,
MISS ALICE BAXTER,
MRS. B. B. ROSS,
MRS. ROY McKINNEY.

Upon motion, duly seconded, these resolutions were adopted.

Mrs. Moore Murdock, of Texas, offered the following resolution, which had no second, and was not put to a vote.

“That the vote passed to continue a prize essay contest for the best paper on the War Between the States, be rescinded in accordance with the very strong resolutions offered by Mrs. D. A. Nunn.”

Mrs. C. B. Tate, of Virginia, offered the following resolutions, to be spread on the minutes without action and without discussion:

Whereas, this convention has again endorsed Columbia Teachers' College by accepting a scholarship from that institution, Virginia enters her earnest protest against such action, and asks that this resolution be spread upon the minutes of this convention, without discussion.

Sister Esther Carlotta rose to a question of privilege, and said, as the representative of Florida, she felt it her duty to withdraw the pledges of her division, chapters and delegates to the Columbia Scholarship, until she could present the matter to the next annual convention of the Florida Division for consideration.

Mrs. Rosenberg, of Texas, withdrew her individual, and the pledges of the Texas Division, to this scholarship.

Mrs. Raines, of Georgia, withdrew her contribution.

Much discussion and confusion here ensued, and Mrs. Odenheimer, of Maryland, moved that this discussion be closed, and the parties wishing to withdraw their pledges, should do so quietly.

Miss Decca Lamar West, of Texas, secured recognition, and introduced the following resolution:

Whereas, the day has arrived that for the last time we have the sad privilege of paying special tribute to the family of the South's greatest leader, President Jefferson Davis, on account of the death of his last surviving child, Mrs. Margaret Howell Davis Hayes, and,

Whereas, (though we have honored her memory by suitable resolutions and other courtesies), we feel that it is fitting there should be some lasting memories to perpetuate her name, therefore be it

Resolved, that we, the United Daughters of the Confederacy, place a memorial to Mrs. Margaret Howell Davis Hayes, in the "Church of the Redeemer," at Biloxi., Miss., our "Westminster of the South."

Be it further resolved that the President be requested to immediately appoint a committee who may retire, and formulate a plan to be submitted later to this convention.

Mrs. Henderson, of Mississippi, moved the adoption of Miss West's resolution, seconded by Mrs. Odenheimer, of Maryland. Carried.

The Chair appointed the following committee on Miss West's resolution:

Mrs. Lizzie George Henderson, of Mississippi, Mrs. Frank Wassell, of Arkansas, Miss West, of Texas.

Miss Daffan, of Texas, obtained the floor on a question of privilege, and asked to present flowers to Mrs. T. J. Latham, in appreciation of her nomination of Mrs. Mary E. Bryan, of Houston, to Second Vice-President of this Association, by the R. E. Lee Chapter, Houston, of which Mrs. Bryan is President.

On motion, the convention adjourned to meet at 8 P. M.

FOURTH DAY—EVENING MEETING.

Friday, October 22, 1909.

Upon the reconvening of the convention at 8 o'clock, telegrams of greeting were read.

Master John Austin Saunders then entertained the audience with a violin selection, "Fantasia on Confederate Airs," and responded to an encore with "Dixie."

The minutes of the morning and afternoon meetings were read by the Secretary.

Mrs. Moulton, of Alabama, moved the adoption of the morning minutes as corrected, and the motion being carried, Mrs. Halliburton moved that the minutes of the afternoon meeting be accepted, subject to revising and condensing by the Committee on Revision. Motion carried.

Motion was made to thank the Business League, of Houston, for the buttons sent to be worn by the delegates, on the occasion of President Taft's visit to that city. Carried.

The report of the Committee on Resolutions on the death of Mrs. M. B. Pilcher, ex-President of the Tennessee Division, was called for and read by the Chairman, Mrs. Lizzie George Henderson.

Madam President:

Like all large associations, we must as the years go by, be more and more called upon for such services as this for those who were among us and of us. The message of death must follow us to the places of our meeting to remind us that time is flying and taking with him loved ones who had their places in our ranks. Since this session began, a message has come announcing to us the death of one who was ever ready to do her part in the work so dear to the hearts of us all. One who, obeying the promptings of her kind heart, made for herself a place in our work, which will be hard to fill; one whose cheery greeting as we meet together year after year will be missed by us all; whose wise leadership in her division, and willing help in the general work, together with her enthusiasm for all things pertaining to the Confederacy, made her life, as a Daughter of the Confederacy, a joy to those who worked with her. Mrs. Judith Winston Pilcher has passed from among us to hear the "well done" of her Lord, to rest from her labors. With hands calmly folded over the silent heart which once responded so gladly to each appeal for help coming to her from her comrades in the work, she lies, hid away by loving hands, awaiting the glorius morning of the full fruition of our hopes. The following resolutions are offered, with the hope that they will be adopted by this assembly:

Resolved, that while deploring the death of an upright Christian gentlewoman, a faithful laborer in the cause for which we are banded together, a devoted mother and a sincere follower of her Lord, Mrs. Judith Winston Pilcher, we yet bow to this decree of a loving Father, knowing that "he doeth all things well."

Resolved, that we extend to her children and grandchildren, our sympathy in their grief, assuring them that if they will place their hands in that of sorrow, she will lead them to heights from which they may see all of life as a loving Father means it for his children.

Resolved, that these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this convention, and that a copy be sent to her family and to the Presidents of her Chapter and Division.

Respectfully submitted,
LIZZIE GEORGE HENDERSON,
MRS. T. J. LATHAM,
MRS. A. B. WHITE,
W. G. TALLIAFERRO.

The resolutions were received by a silent, rising vote, standing with bowed heads in recognition of the great loss to the Association.

Mrs. Annie Hunter Voorhies, of California, seconded by Mrs. Ross, of Alabama, moved that a telegram of sympathy and sorrow be sent Judge Seth Shepard, Chief-Justice of the Court of Appeals, of the District of Columbia, upon the death of his wife. Carried.

The selection of a place of meeting for the convention of 1910, was next in order.

Mrs. C. B. Tate, of Virginia, in behalf of the Richmond Chapter, extended a cordial invitation to the delegates to hold their next convention in that city.

She remarked: "We do not feel that we are asking too much, although the convention met in Virginia only two years ago. Richmond has a claim, not only as being the capital of the Confederate States, but of the 30,000 dead that are buried within her walls."

Sister Esther Carlotta, said that Florida withdraws her invitation in favor of Richmond, notwithstanding the desire of that division to entertain the "Daughters."

Richmond, Va., October 12, 1909.

Madam President and United Daughters of the Confederacy:

The Richmond Chapter, Virginia Division, U. D. C. brings greetings and extends an invitation to have your next convention to meet in the city of Richmond. In extending this invitation we do not feel that we are asking too much, although the convention met in Virginia only two years ago. Richmond has a claim that no other city can have, not as Richmond, Virginia, but as the chosen capital of the Confederate States of America. Your dead claim you—thirty thousand are buried within her city walls. Come and do honor to your dead. Your monuments claim you, the work of your hands. You have contributed generously to these monuments, come and see if they are not an honor to you and the Cause they represent. We have no words as eloquent as these mute appeals.

We invite you, we want you. At our earnest request Florida and Memphis have withdrawn in our favor. Our hearts, our homes, our hands are open to bid you welcome. Will you come?

Most sincerely,

JANET H. RANDOLPH.

President Richmond Chapter, Virginia Division U. D. C.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 20, 1909.

Mrs. Cornelia Branch Stone,
Houston, Texas.

The Veterans of Richmond bid you come to their city.

H. J. WHITE, Commander of Lee Camp.

Mrs. Cornelia Branch Stone,

Richmond, Va., Oct. 20, 1909.

Houston, Texas.

The gates of the City stand open to welcome the Daughters of the Confederacy.

D. C. RICHARDSON, Mayor.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 18, 1909.

Mrs. Cornelia B. Stone,

President United Daughters of the Confederacy, Houston.

As honorary member of Richmond Chapter I extend the Daughters an invitation to meet in Richmond next year.

E. D. TAYLOR.

Invitations from Little Rock, Arkansas, were presented by Mrs. S. S. Wassell and Mrs. Orlando Halliburton, President Arkansas Division.

Mrs. Wassell said:

"We never have asked for one dollar. We had sixty-five bloody battles on our ground, and our soil is red with blood, blood of Confederate soldiers. I have a letter here stating, "We want Richmond to stand aside once and give us the opportunity to entertain the convention, and we present to you invitations from the following organizations, and from the Mayor of our city."

Helena, Ark., Oct. 22, 1909.

Mrs. S. S. Wassell,
Houston, Texas;

Press reports say fight is between Richmond and Little Rock, with feeling for Richmond. Little Rock is the place from a geographical standpoint; from a railroad standpoint, plenty of auditoriums and has never had a convention before. Won't Richmond stand aside once and give a sister state a show? Arkansas does when matters are equal.

S. S. WASSELL.

The Co-operative Woman's Club of Little Rock at their regular October meeting, requested the Secretary to extend an invitation to the U. D. C. in convention assembled in Houston, Texas, to hold their next convention, in 1910, in the city of Little Rock, Arkansas.

MRS. ARTHUR JONES, Secretary.

Little Rock, Arkansas, October 15, 1909.

My dear Mrs. Wassell:

The Arkansas Daughters of the American Revolution most cordially join you in the invitation of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, to hold their 1910 convention in Little Rock. The D. A. R. will take pleasure in extending every courtesy to the U. D. C. convention should it honor Little Rock in 1910.

Very sincerely yours,

KATHERINE BRADDOCK BARROW,
State Regent of Arkansas, N. S. D. A. R.

Little Rock, Arkansas, October 16, 1909.

My dear Mrs. Wassell:

The Arkansas Society of the United States Daughters of 1812, would like to join in the invitation which you are going to extend to the United Daughters of the Confederacy to hold their annual meeting in 1910 at Little Rock. The Daughters of 1812 will be most happy to aid in every way possible to make the convention of the Daughters of the Confederacy a delightful occasion, should it accept Little Rock's invitation for 1910.

Very sincerely yours,

KATHERIN BRADDOCK BARROW,
State President for Arkansas, U. S. D. 1812.

Little Rock, Ark., October 11, 1909.

Mrs. S. S. Wassell,
City.

I have just been informed that you are a delegate to the National Convention of the U. D. C. who hold their annual convention at Houston, Texas, this month. At a meeting of the Lodge last Thursday, I was instructed to tender to the convention, through you as delegate from this city, a hearty invitation to hold their next convention in this city. I can readily assure you that the members and their families of this Lodge will do everything in their power to give them a hearty welcome, should Little Rock be favored with the next convention.

Hoping that you will be successful in securing the next meeting, wish you success and good luck, with kind personal regards, I beg to remain,

Yours very truly,
V. SUGARMAN,
Secretary L. R. Lodge of Elks, No. 29.

Little Rock, Ark., September 23, 1909.

To the United Daughters of the Confederacy:

The Concordia Association of the City of Little Rock, Ark., acting through its regular constituted authorities, respectfully, earnestly and sincerely join in the cordial expressions inviting your organization to hold its next regular convocation in our city.

It will be our sincere desire to participate in such action with reference to your entertainment, as will make your stay a pleasant one and we trust that you can see your way clear to select our city as your next meeting place.

Respectfully,
LEO PFEIFER,
President Concordia Association

September 23, 1909.

Mrs. S. S. Wassell,
City.

Dear Madam:

We understand that you expect to attend the National Convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy to be held in Houston, Texas, October 19, and on behalf of the retail merchants of this city represented by this association, we will greatly appreciate it if you will extend to the delegates present at this convention a most hearty invitation from the citizens of Little Rock to hold their 1910 convention here.

You may guarantee to the delegates at this convention that everything possible will be done by our people to make their visit to Little Rock a memorable one, and all the commercial organizations of the city will co-operate to make their convention successful.

We hope that you will be successful in securing this meeting for Little Rock, and with kindest regards and best wishes, beg to remain,

Yours very truly,

RETAIL MERCHANTS ASSOCIATION,
Frank B. Gregg, President,
Frank T. Longley, Secretary.

Little Rock, Ark., September 17, 1909.

Mrs. S. S. Wassell,
Dear Mrs. Wassell:

We understand that you will attend the National Convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, to be held at Houston, October 19. We wish to ask you on behalf of our organization, to extend to the Daughters and invitation to hold the nineteen hundred and ten Convention in Little Rock, and to assure them that if they honor us with their presence in nineteen hundred and ten, we will leave nothing undone that will conduce to their comfort and pleasure.

Very truly,

W. M. KAVANAUGH,
President.

Little Rock, Ark., October 21, 1909.

Mrs. S. S. Wassell,
Houston, Texas.

Resolution unanimously adopted resolved that Arkansas Division U. C. V. earnestly request the U. D. C. to hold next National convention in Little Rock.

J. M. STEWART, Adjutant General.

Little Rock, Ark., September 17, 1909.

Mrs. S. S. Wassell,
Dear Madam:

You are earnestly requested on the part of the Board of Trade, representing upwards of five hundred business men of this city, to present an urgent invitation to the National Convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, at the Houston meeting, to hold their next convention in the city of Little Rock. You may rest assured that this city and state will give the Daughters a genuine Southern welcome, a welcome in all that the term implies. Please present our formal invitation supplemental with your own spontaneous, womanly, heartfelt, enthusiasm. We want you to secure the convention for Little Rock.

Yours truly,
LITTLE ROCK BOARD OF TRADE,
H. L. REMMEL, President.

Geo. R. Brown, Secretary.

Little Rock, Ark., Oct. 19, 1909

Mrs. Sam S. Wassell,

Omer R. Weaver Camp extends greetings to the National convention U. D. C. and a cordial invitation to hold its meeting in Little Rock next year.

JAMES COLLINS, Commander,
J. KELLOGG, Actg. Adjt.

Little Rock, Ark., Oct. 22, 1909.

Daughters of the Confederacy Convention,
Houston, Texas.

Board of Trade unites with the Confederate Veterans Reunion in session in this city urging acceptance of Little Rock's invitation to the convention.

H. L. REMMELL, President.

GEO. R. BROWN, Secretary.

Much pleasant discussion ensued, as various chairmen of State delegations urged the claims of each city.

Roll-call of States resulted in the following vote: 730 for Little Rock, Arkansas; 548 for Richmond, Virginia.

The chairman of special committee appointed to report on memorial to be placed in the "Church of the Redeemer," at Biloxi, Miss., to Mrs. Margaret Howell Davis Hayes, reported.

Madam President:

Your committee recommends that the memorial to Mrs. Margaret Howell Jefferson Davis Hayes, take the form of a communion table or reredos, the cost of which shall not exceed $500, and that a committee be appointed for this purpose; such committee to have the power to complete this work.

Respectfully submitted,
LIZZIE GEORGE HENDERSON,
DECCA LAMAR WEST,
MRS. S. S. WASSELL.

On motion this report was accepted and its recommendation carried.

Miss West, of Texas, offered the following resolution:

Resolved, that we recommend each State President to request the chapters of her division to collect and preserve files of the "Confederate Veteran," to be placed in the State University of each division, and in public libraries.

Carried.

Mrs. J. Enders Robinson moved that the Confederate Memorial Hall of New Orleans, containing the annex, be put on the mailing list for a copy of the minutes of the annual conventions. The Recording Secretary said: "That Confederate Memorial Hall was now included in the mailing list, Article VII, Section 5 of By-Laws, and a copy had been sent each year." Mrs. Robinson said she was asked to make this motion because no copy had been received this year. The Secretary replied that she would send a second copy on her return home.

Mrs. W. A. Norris, of New York, asked for recognition on a question of personal privilege. She stated she was the daughter of General A. G. Dickenson, who was chief of staff to General Bankhead Magruder.

She then paid a glowing tribute to her father's loyalty and services as a Confederate soldier.

Miss Blake, delegate from El Paso, Texas, moved, that we honor the office of President-General and First Vice-President-General, by electing only the women of the sixties—those who participated in the War Between the States.

Mrs. Cooley moved that this resolution be received and spread upon the minutes. Carried.

Report of the Committee on Education was read by Mrs. B. B. Ross, Acting Chairman, and upon motion was received.

Mrs. Henderson, of Mississippi, moved that the recommendations be taken up seriatim. Carried.

Mrs. Schuyler moved, seconded by Mrs. Chappell Cory, that Recommendation No. 1 be adopted. Carried.

Mrs. Halliburton moved the adoption of Recommendation No. II, which motion was seconded and carried.

Moved by Mrs. Schuyler, seconded by Mrs. Friederichs to table Recommendation No. III.

Mrs. Cooley moved a substitute to the motion to table Recommendation No. III, which substitute was accepted by Mrs. Schuyler, who withdrew her motion to table.

Mrs. Cooley's substitute moved, that Recommendation No.

III, be referred back to the Committee on Education for further investigation and information. Motion was seconded by Mrs. Friedrichs.

Discussion followed. Mrs. Cory called for the previous question which carried. Vote was then taken on Mrs. Cooley's motion. Carried.

Mrs. Chappell Cory, seconded by Mrs. Gantt, moved that the report of the Committee on Education be adopted as amended.

Mrs. Frank Anthony Walke, of Virginia, offered a resolution providing for the education of a stenographer for future U. D. C. conventions, which was duly seconded.

Discussion followed, and the previous question was called and carried. Vote was then taken on the original motion, which was lost.

Mrs. R. H. Sansom, of Tennessee, moved the following resolution:

Resolved: That the United Daughters of the Confederacy assist the survivors of "The Immortal 600," in erecting a monument to perpetuate the heroism of these brave men.

Mrs. Odenheimer moved that Mrs. Sansom be given five minutes in which to receive subscriptions for a monument to "The Immortal 600." Carried Mrs. Schuyler, of New York, moved that the General Association give $100.00. Carried.

Total	$ 185.00

Time having expired for these subscriptions, Mrs. Cooley moved that the proposed amendments to the Constitution and By-Laws be considered.

Mrs. Chappell Cory rose to a question of privilege, and asked that Mr. Cunningham be allowed to make a statement.

Mr. Cunningham was asked to the platform, which he ascended amid applause.

The Chair: "Mr. Cunningham needs no introduction to this body. His long and efficient service to the Confederate cause has endeared him to every loyal "Daughter."

Mr. Cunningham stated that Mr. Al. Field had sent a check of $25.00 for the Dan Emmett fund. Mr. Cunningham asked that a committee of one from each division be appointed to take up the matter of this Dan Emmett fund. Carried.

Mrs. Wassell, of Arkansas, obtained the floor, and presented the cause of David Dodd, the boy martyr, and asked that this organization recognize his memory by appropriating a small sum for a memorial. On motion, $50.00 was appropriated by the General Association.

Mrs. Gantt moved that the rules be suspended to permit five minutes in which to call for subscriptions to the Arlington Confederate Monument fund. Seconded and carried.

Mrs. Cooley called for the consideration of the proposed amendments.

Miss Baxter, of Georgia, moved that only one of the amendments, that which related to the ratio of representation, be considered.

Mrs. Schuyler moved that the amendments be considered seriatim, which motion, being duly seconded, carried.

Amendment No. 1

Amend Art. V, Section 1, by striking out on the third line, the words, "third Tuesday of October," and inserting the words "second Wednesday of November," in their place.

The reason for this amendment is that so many members are still away from their homes in October, that it is extremely difficult to get delegates to conventions at that time.

Upon motion, duly seconded, Amendment No. I was carried.

Amendment No. 2.

To Amend Article III, Section 1.—Northern women having no male relative who served the Confederate States of America in the war between the States, 1861-1865, and having themselves performed no special service to same, but having married a Confederate soldier since 1865, and through this means becoming a member of the United Daughters of the Confederacy shall have the words "by adoption" placed upon their certificates of membership, and upon the registrar's books, and in all rosters shall be designated as members "by adoption." Said member being entitled to all the honors and privileges of this Association except that of transmitting this honor to members of her family, only her children of a Confederate father; the honor dies with her if she has no children.

Mrs. Henderson moved to adopt this amendment without discussion. Duly seconded and carried.

Amendment No. 3.

Amendment to Art. V, Sec. 2, of Constitution of U. D. C. Each chapter which numbers twenty-five members or fraction thereof, not less than seven, shall be entitled to one vote, in all conventions of the General Association; and for each additional twenty-five members or fraction thereof not less than seven, shall be entitled to another vote; provided it has paid the per capita tax for the number of members on which the vote is estimated; and it shall be the duty of the Committee on Credentials to compare its report with that of the Treasurer-General, and to see that this rule is strictly enforced.

Mrs. White moved to adopt this amendment. Discussion followed.

The previous question was ordered. Vote on amendment then put, and carried.

Amendment No. 4.

Amend Art. III, Sec. 1, to read: Those women entitled to membership in the U. D. C. are the mothers, wives or widows of veterans who were their husband's helpmates during the whole or part of the period of the war between the States, sisters and nieces of the first degree, and the lineal descendants of such men as honorably served in army, navy or civil service; or of those men who unfit for active duty, loyally gave aid to the cause; also women and their descendants, who shall give before a committee of five appointed by the president of each State division satisfactory proof of conspicuous personal service and loyal aid to the Southern cause during the war.

Reason: Because the time has come when restrictions are necessary in order to preserve the spirit of the Confederacy; and to do so, this organization must, as far as possible be composed of the lineal descendants of those who gave their lives or their services to the Confederacy.

Mrs. R. D. Wright, of South Carolina, moved the adoption of this amendment.

Mrs. Christian, of Texas, moved to table this amendment, seconded by Miss Baxter, of Georgia, and carried.

Amendment No. 5.

Amendment to Article VI. Amended shall be read, President, Treasurer and Recording-Secretary to serve three years. Other officers to serve two years.

For Amendment No. 5, Mrs. White offered the following substitute:

The officers shall be elected for two years and shall be ineligible for immediate re-election or election to any other office. Half the officers shall be elected each year.

After discussion, Miss Baxter moved to table this amendment, with all its pending amendments, which being duly seconded, was carried.

Mrs. Gantt offered the following substitute to Art. I, Sec. 6, of By-Laws:

The Registrar-General shall be a resident of Richmond, Virginia and the register containing the records shall be permanently kept in the Confederate Museum at that place. Upon her application, State registrars and chapter registrars, where no State division exists, shall be required to furnish copies of data from all individual membership blanks which under the supervision of the Registrar-General, shall be transcribed into a book, which shall be a complete register of the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

At such times as she deems necessary, she may employ a copyist to assist in her work, for which a reasonable compensation shall be allowed. She shall make an annual report at each convention.

MRS. JAMES BRITTON GANTT,
Registrar-General, U. D. C.

Mrs. Schuyler moved, seconded by Mrs. Roy McKinney, to table Mrs. Gantt's substitute for Art. I, Sec. 6. Carried.

The following amendments offered by a committee appointed by the State President of the Louisiana Division, were read by the Secretary.

Amendment No 1.

Amend Section 3, Paragraph 3, by inserting after the word "membership" the words "through presidents of divisions, and presidents of chapters when there is no division."

Amendment No. 2

Amend Section 4, Paragraph 3, by inserting after the word "issue," the words, "to presidents of divisions for distribution to the chapters."

Amendment No. 3.

Amend Section 5, Paragraph 7, by inserting after the word, "annually," "to presidents of divisions and chapters where there is no division."

Also amend by adding after the word "her," "by State Treasurer."

Further amend 7th paragraph by striking out the word "Secretary," and inserting the word "President."

Amendment No. 4.

Amend Article VIII—Credential Blanks—Amend by striking out the whole section and substituting as follows:

First Paragraph. For each chapter in a division, three credential blanks shall be issued to State Presidents. When properly filled out, in triplicate, they shall be returned to the state president, to be endorsed and forwarded, one to the Recording Secretary-General, one to the Chairman of the Credential Committee, and one to be returned to the chapter to be taken to the convention by a delegate, or proxy, of each chapter.

Second Paragraph. Chapters where there is no division, shall deal directly with the general officers.

Reasons: As the By-Laws now read, the general officers deal directly with chapters, overlooking State officers, thereby causing the State president to be unable to verify the vote or condition of her State.

A charter can be granted to a chapter, and the State President not be aware of the fact until after organization.

Chapters can be delinquent and the State officers unaware of this condition.

General officers should deal direct with State officers, and in turn, State officers with chapter officers, and be responsible for their chapters.

States rights was the primeval cause of the War Between the States, therefore the same privileges should be granted divisions of the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

The above amendments were considered and carried at a meeting held by the Committee in New Orleans, La., June 18, 1909.

MRS. C. S. CHILDRESS, Chairman,
Stonewall Jackson Chapter No. 1135, New Orleans,
MRS. D. A. S. VAUGHT,
New Orleans Chapter No. 72, New Orleans,
MRS. R. L. RANDOLPH,
Thomas Overton Moore Chapter No. 640, Alexandria.
Committee.

Mrs. J. W. Tench, of Florida, moved to adopt these amendments as a whole.

Motion being duly seconded, was put to a vote and lost.

Mrs. Lizzie George Henderson moved to amend Art. 8, by adding, "these credential blanks shall have on their face, immediately following the space for the names of delegates, the following: "If no delegate from this chapter is present, Mrs. or Miss....., or the chairman of the delegation is empowered to act for us."

Mrs. Cooley moved the following substitute: "In case the delegates and proxy given in this credential are not present, the State President or Chairman of the State delegation, is authorized to cast the full vote to which this chapter is entitled."

Mrs. Henderson accepted this substitute, which upon motion, duly seconded, was put and carried.

Mrs. Schuyler offered the following amendment, which could not be considered as it had not been filed with the Recording Secretary at the opening of the convention, as required by the Constitution:

I move the following amendment to the By-Laws: Article V, Sec. 1.

To strike out the word "seven," and substitute the word, "ten," so the Article shall read: No division, nor any chapter in a State or Territory having no division, shall be allowed more than ten minutes in making its report at the Annual Convention of the Association. This rule must be strictly enforced.

Mrs. David Killough, of Galveston, moved, "that in all future conventions, not more than one officer can be elected from the same State at a time. Motion made to table. seconded, and carried.

The following resolution, submitted by Mrs. B. B. Ross, of Alabama, and Mrs. Frank G. Odenheimer, of Maryland, committee appointed at a previous meeting, was here reported:

Whereas, the State of Ohio, upon recommendation of Governor Harmon, has returned two battleflags belonging to Confederate commands; one the flag of the Second Maryland Infantry, lost in the battle of Hatcher's Run, Virginia, to Maryland, on the request of General Clinton L. Riggs, former Adjutant General of Maryland and of the Confederate veterans of that State; the second, the flag of the Selma Rifle Scouts, captured in 1863, at Selma, Alabama, to Alabama, on the earnest solicitation of the President of the Alabama Division, United Daughters of the Confederacy, and of Governor B. B. Comer:

Therefore, be it resolved, that though the Confederate organizations of these respective States have given expression to their appreciation of this gracious act, on the part of the great State of Ohio, still the Daughters of the Confederacy, in general convention assembled at Houston, Texas, wish sincerely to thank Governor Harmon, for his kind offices in securing the return of these flags, and beg to express on the part of the organization its grateful appreciation of the generosity of this State in sending back with an escort, these treasured mementoes of the great conflict.

We consider this graceful and magnanimous act as but another evidence of the fact, that the barriers that formerly separated the two sections of our common country, have been swept away, and that sectional bitterness and enmity no longer exist.

Be it further resolved:

That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to Governor Harmon by the secretary.

MRS. B. B. ROSS, of Alabama,
MRS. F. G. ODENHEIMER, of Maryland.

Upon motion, this resolution was adopted.

Mrs. William Christian, of Texas, moved that all convention expenses be referred to the Treasurer-General, and ordered paid. Carried.

Committee on Resolutions of Thanks, reported through Miss Katie Tyler Chidress, of Louisiana, Chairman.

We, the United Daughters of the Confederacy, in convention assembled, desire to express our deep appreciation and heartfelt thanks, for the hearty welcome and generous hospitality accorded this body of women during their stay in Houston.

We tender our sincerest thanks for the impressive opening services with the invocation by Rev. Peter G. Sears; the words of cordial greeting by Mr. L. T. Dashiell, in behalf of Governor Campbell; and the warm welcome of the Honorable Baldwin Rice, Mayor of the city of Houston; of Col. Fall in the name of the United Confederate Veterans; of Miss Kate Daffan, of the Texas Division, Daughters of the Confederacy; of Mrs. Wharton Bates and Mrs. Ed. Reichardt, of O. M. Roberts Chapter; of Mrs. H. B. Fall, of the City Federation of Women's Clubs; to the Confederate Choir and Mesdames Worsham, R. U. Hirsh, E. W. Hutchinson; for delightful music; for the greeting from the mascot of the Texas Division, Master Austin Saunders, and lastly for the gracious welcome of Mrs. Mary E. Bryan, president of the hostess chapter.

To the Rev. Drs. J. L. Gross, J. W. Loving, Wm. S. Jacobs, J. E. Wray, A. F. Sanderson and T. J. Windham, we owe thanks for earnest prayers, for the welfare of our Association.

We are indebted to the citizens for a delightful automobile ride and the convention is deeply appreciative of the pleasure of being present at the unveiling of the Boulder in memory of Terry's Texas Rangers, in Sam Houston Park, by the E. B. Bates Chapter of the Children of the Confederacy; for the reception at the Thalian Club, for the bountiful lunches served daily, which will long be remembered because of the dainty menus and the artistic decorations, and for the delightful reception tendered by the hospitable mayor and his charming wife.

We are thankful for the gracious courtesies extended to the delegates, by the citizens of Houston; by the hostess chapter, (the Robt. E. Lee No. 186), and by the O. M. Roberts Chapter, U.

D. C., and Dick Dowling Camp, U. C. V., who assisted in our entertainment.

To the chairmen and co-workers of all local committees, who were untiring in their efforts in behalf of this convention, and to the pages, who so faithfully served during the four busy days, do we extend thanks; to Mrs. E. W. Hutchinson, for delightful music all during the convention.

We appreciate the efforts of the business league, and thank the railroads for their attentions, as also those who participated in the program on Historical evening, and the Press and its reporters, and last, but not least, to our dearly beloved President-General, Cornelia Branch Stone, for her patience, justice, kindness and consideration; to one and all, "we thank you."

KATIE TYLER CHILDRESS, Chairman,
MRS. T. J. LATHAM,
MRS. L. F. WORTHINGTON.

Upon motion, duly seconded, these resolutions were adopted with a rising vote.

Mrs. Schuyler secured recognition and moved the adoption of the following resolution: "I move that the Corresponding Secretary-General write a letter of thanks to the Mississippi Federation of Women's Clubs for their contribution for the maintenance of the beneficiary of the scholarship in Teachers College, Columbia University, and that the special committee in charge of this work be continued.

LEONORA ROGERS SCHUYLER,
Chairman Educational Committee, U. D. C.
MISS SUSIE POWELL,
Chairman Educational Committee,
Mississippi Division.

Duly seconded, this motion was put, and carried.

Mrs. Moore-Murdock introduced the following resolution:

Whereas, the C. S. A. Chapter No. 946, Dallas, Texas, U. D. C., is now engaged in collecting funds to build, what shall be known as the C. S. A. Memorial Hall and Institute of History, of Texas, that the work be endorsed by this convention. Mrs. Moore-Murdock, President, C. S. A. Chapter, Texas, U. D. C.

Mrs. Moore-Murdock's motion, being seconded by Mrs. Rosenberg and Mrs. Henderson, was put to vote, and carried.

Mrs. Schuyler, of New York, offered a motion to accept the minutes.

Mrs. Henderson, seconded by Mrs. Cooley, that the minutes be adopted subject to correction by the Committee on Revision. Carried.

The Chair asked that the officers elected for the ensuing year be escorted to the platform, and these were introduced to the convention.

To the President-General elect, in fitting words, Mrs. Stone presented the Gavel, the emblem of authority. Upon motion the Doxology was sung by the delegates, all standing, after which, the convention adjourned, to meet in the city of Little Rock, Arkansas, on the second Wednesday in November, 1910.

MRS. C. L. HAMIL,
MRS. W. M. CHRISTIAN,
MRS. W. P. LANE,

Recording Secretary-General, U. D. C.

REPORTS OF OFFICERS

REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT-GENERAL.

To the United Daughters of the Confederacy, My Comrades and Co-Workers:

It is a great pleasure to meet and greet you in this city, bearing the name of Sam Houston, the Commander-in-Chief of that dauntless little army of patriots, which, on San Jacinto's field won independence, out of which was born a new nation, the Republic of Texas. The second session of the Congress of that Republic met here, in the temporary capitol, which occupied the site of the Rice Hotel, now your headquarters.

The proud heritage is mine, that my father gave honorable service in the first two sessions of that Congress, and Gen. Houston, a native of Virginia, was the first President of the "Lone Star Republic."

In resisting the oppressions of the despotic government of Mexico, the American colonists in Texas combated and overcame all of the obstacles, of a lack of means and resources, and of great disparity of numbers, and when, on March the second, 1836, a declaration of independence was made, to secure and maintain it seemed hopeless. Yet in fifty days thereafter, with an army of only seven hundred volunteers, a far-reaching victory was won, and Santa Anna, the President of Mexico, and his army of five thousand trained officers and soldiers—who had come bearing the "black flag" of total annihilation—were prisoners of war, humbly pleading for life on any terms.

For nine years Texas took her place among the nations of the world, when by treaty of annexation, she entered the sisterhood of the United States; until, in 1861, she resumed her delegated rights, and formed one of the Confederate States of America. Her sons did valiant part in that struggle for constitutional government, and sent into the field ten thousand more soldiers than she had voters. So, now, with loyal hearts, we open wide the gates to you, the descendants and representatives of the soldiers of the Confederacy, that you may receive the warm welcome awaiting you. Since our last meeting my time and thoughts have been faithfully given to your service, with an eye single to the interests of the organization over which you had, again, called me to preside, and it is gratifying to report to you that along all lines of our activities there is satisfactory progress and patriotic zeal.

At the last General Convention, held in Atlanta, I told of a visit to President Roosevelt and Gen. Luke Wright, Secretary of War, in behalf of the restoration of the name of Jefferson Davis on Cabin John Bridge, from which it had been removed in 1862, by order of Caleb Smith, Secretary of the Interior, which department at that time, had supervision of the aqueduct system of the District of Columbia.

To secure this act of justice to Mr. Davis' memory, had been long discussed, and some action had been taken by individuals without result. At the Annual Meeting of the Confederate Southern Memorial Association in Richmond, Va., June, 1907, it was decided to take up this matter more actively, and, to this end, the aid of all Confederate organizations was requested. The service of Mr. W. P. Phillips and Representative Adolph Meyer was secured, and Mr. Taft, then Secretary of War, had this matter investigated. In August, 1907, Gen. Mackenzie, Chief of Engineers made an unfavorable report to Mr. Taft, saying, that "such a proposition was of doubtful utility." The full text of this report is too long to quote; suffice it to say, that it put a stop to further progress for the time, and at the next Annual Meeting of the Memorial Association, at Birmingham, Ala., report was made, that "patient waiting" must be had, until a more propitious time. While spending the following month of October in Washington, I learned that it was not necessary to have an Act of Congress to accomplish this purpose, as had been supposed, and it was suggested to me that Mr. Roosevelt had the authority to order the restoration, and having shown the courage of his convictions all throughout his administration, it was believed that he would recognize the justice of such a request and give it favorable consideration. It occurred to me to secure a personal interview as the most potent factor to obtain results, but I decided to wait until the election of Mr. Taft, that neither the President, nor Gen. Luke Wright, then Secretary of War, should be embarrassed by any action on such a proposition, which, before the election, might have been misconstrued. Ready response came from the Executive Office that Mr. Roosevelt would receive me, and with Mrs. Marion Butler, of Washington, D. C., on November the seventh, 1908, the interview was had in Mr. Roosevelt's office.

After greeting the President, my mission was briefly stated by saying that, while I was President of the organization of the Daughters of the Confederacy, and a Southern woman, it was not as either that my plea was presented, but as a patriotic American woman, asking in behalf of the truth and justice of our country's history, that the name of Jefferson Davis should be replaced on Cabin John Bridge, and that I had been informed that the President had full authority to order this done, and that his courage to do the right was well assured. He replied, "This is an extraordinary request, madam, and I am not sure of having such authority; but see Gen. Luke Wright, and tell him to take up the matter with me, and I will consider it." No time was lost in seeing Gen. Wright, and delivering the President's message. He received us with much courtesy, and promised to give prompt attention to the matter, and report to the President. He asked me if I had presented this petition in official form, and being answered in the negative, advised that this should be done, and before leaving Washington the next day, I put it into such form as seemed to meet the requirements. No indication of any action on this matter came to me until the publication of the order of President Roosevelt, on February 22d, 1909. I wrote to the President and Gen. Luke Wright, expressing my appreciation of their magnanimous action, with no expectation of response, but from the War Department came the following communication:

WAR DEPARTMENT, Washington,
March 2d, 1909.

My Dear Madam:—

I am just in receipt of your favor of the 27th ultimo.

I can quite understand your feelings of gratification, at the successful results of your efforts to have the name of Mr. Davis restored to the Cabin John Bridge. At the same time I beg to thank you for your kindly expressions with reference to the President and myself.

Sincerely yours,

LUKE E. WRIGHT.

Mrs. Cornelia Branch Stone,
1421 Avenue E., Galveston, Texas.

You will pardon the recital of the incident, but as it was in line with the purposes of our organization, and may have had some influence in securing this act of justice to our great Chieftain, it is given to you that you may know, that no opportunity has been lost to give service to our Cause.

In order to keep in touch with the divisions and chapters, the method inaugurated last year has been continued in this, and three circular letters have been printed and sent out, at my own expense, urging activity and interest in the objects to which we are pledged.

My correspondence has been continual, averaging about two hundred letters each month.

On my return from the General Convention, held in Atlanta,

I attended the Annual Meeting of the Texas Division, at Terrell, Texas, where the reports showed excellent progress under the efficient administration of Miss Daffan.

Early in May, the journey to St. Augustine was made, to meet with the Florida Division in Annual Session, where I was the guest of the Anna Dummatt Chapter, at beautiful "Resthaven," the home of Sister Esther Carlotta, then the State Historian, U. D. C., of Florida, whose valuable work in that department, particularly with the Children of the Confederacy, was a prominent feature of that convention, which was ably presided over by Mrs. L. P. Lawrence. The children had notable part on the program, which showed careful training and thought, and gave rich promise of the perpetuity of our organization, in that State.

The bright memory of this visit, where many of the delegates were entertained at sweet "Resthaven," was dimmed by a sorrow which came to Sister Esther Carlotta, the State President-elect, in the death of her foster sister, who was a woman of charming personality and rare gifts. An engagement to meet with the Alabama Convention on May the 12th prevented my presence at the unveiling of the Wirz monument, which occurred on the same date. Enroute to the Alabama meeting, two days were spent at the beautiful home of the Recording Secretary-General, at Opelika, where true Southern hospitality was enjoyed, together with a conference on the business of our Association, and in her work-shop, a full conception of the magnitude of the duties of her office was had. Together, we journeyed to Huntsville, Alabama, to meet with that State Division. It was my honor to be the guest of Mrs. Virginia Clay-Clopton, one of the most remarkable women of this country, at the old Colonial home of Mrs. Milton Humes. The convention was a great success, and again the Children of the Confederacy had prominent place and showed fine training.

But the most notable and far-reaching event of this meeting, was the ceremony of receiving a Confederate battle flag, returned by Governor Harmon, of Ohio, for which return the Legislature of that State had made provision and appropriated funds to pay the expense of an escort of two of the survivors of the Ohio regiment, which had captured the flag. At their own expense, others of the same regiment volunteered to accompany them, and Major Pitt was the chairman of the delegation. These old heroes of the Northern army bore messages of loving good will, and were received with great enthusiasm, while the generous action of the Ohio State government was applauded and appreciated, for it is by such fraternal expressions, the people of this country are brought into closer ties of union.

As President of the division, Mrs. Charles G. Brown, by her beautiful acceptance of the flag, gave added attraction to the occasion. Before the Alabama Convention adjourned, I hastened to Jackson, Tennessee, to give one day to the Annual Meeting of that State, as both conventions were held on the same dates. In this brief time, however, the splendid work of the year was shown, under the administration of Mrs. M. B. Pilcher, who so bravely stood at the helm of her State while crushed by a great sorrow, for a few short months before, her husband, Capt. Pilcher, a brave soldier, and exemplary citizen and Christian gentleman, had been summoned to answer the roll-call in the "Better Land."

Each of these conventions was marked in its proceedings by great interest and enthusiasm in the work, and a harmony and unity of action that was highly gratifying, and to myself brought an inspiration and strength that was full compensation for the long journeying, and made me regret that the conflict of dates of the conventions of Louisiana and Mississippi with those of Florida, made it impossible to accept their invitations. An absence of a little over two weeks was consumed by attendance of these conventions, and a brief stay in Galveston, brought the sacred duty and privilege of meeting with the dear "Old Guard" of the Confederacy in Annual Reunion in Memphis, Tennessee.

The people of that city left nothing undone to pay the highest honor, and contribute to the comfort of these heroes of many battles, who had counted no sacrifice too great in defense of home and principle. This meeting with old comrades and recalling the happy incidents of the past, from which the memory of the trial and privation had largely faded, was greatly enjoyed. Gen. Clement A. Evans, the Commander-in-Chief, is a man of broad culture and pure patriotic character, and is greatly beloved by the veterans. In remembering their deeds of valor, let us not lose sight of their present needs, but give to these our tender, loving care.

It was subject for congratulation to note that the Reunion of the Sons of Veterans, held at the same time and place, was more largely attended, and showed increased enthusiasm and a determination to build up their organization. Your President asks you to encourage and strengthen such effort by all means in your power. The presence of Gen. Frederick D. Grant in the reviewing stand during the parade, and his recognition by the Veterans was tender and touching in the extreme, and anew kindled that feeling of brotherly love which is so rapidly erasing from brave hearts all vestige of bitterness, and making us one people in more than name.

From Memphis, my office was transferred to Blue Ridge Springs, Virginia, where, in a cooler climate, your interests had daily care, with only two short interruptions; one, to attend the unveiling of a monument in Pearisburg, Va., and the other, to meet at Charlotte, in Annual Session, with the Veterans of North Carolina, on both of which occasions, your greetings and assurances of continued service were delivered, which had enthusiastic response from the soldiers of the "sixties," assuring me that they recognize in you, as a body, their best friend, standing on the watch-tower of life, to guard the truth of history wherever it touches their honor and service. The various reports will tell you of the year's accomplishments, but I cannot refrain from speaking of the progress of the Arlington Confederate Monument Fund, which in spite of many obstacles, has now in bank nearly twelve thousand dollars. It was hoped that larger results might be shown, but the Central or Executive Committee, is made up from members of Washington Chapters and Camps, which have had the counter struggle of raising twenty thousand dollars to meet payments on a home designed for the headquarters and place of meeting for the Confederate organizations of that city. For the past two years this committee and the State Directors for the Arlington Monument work, have been confronted by a financial depression affecting this entire country, rendering such collections the more difficult.

The question of a design for the Arlington Confederate Monument has had serious consideration, and before appointing a Committee on Design, I have endeavored to secure from sculptors, some suggestions as to how to best express the significance of this memorial in beautiful and artistic form.

Mrs. White, the able Chairman of the Shiloh Monument Committee, will tell you of the results of the past year's work for this great purpose. The importance of the erection of these two monuments is beyond question, and it is earnestly urged that the chapters and divisions will not relax their efforts until this work is completed.

The Department of History, under the direction of the Historian-General, an office created at the last convention, has been organized by Mrs. J. Enders Robinson, who will make full report.

Under the chairmanship of Miss Mary B. Poppenheim, of South Carolina, the Department of Education, provided for at the last General Convention, has been organized and put into operation.

The office of Registrar-General, also provided for by the Atlanta Convention, has presented some difficulties, but these have found a wise solution by the present incumbent, Mrs. James B. Gannett, which will be presented to you for action.

By the adoption of the last report of Mrs. Schuyler, Chairman of Committee on Prizes, offered in Teachers College, Columbia University, her recommendation was put in force, that an annual payment of five hundred dollars should be made by the General Association, U. D. C., until an endowment prize fund of $2,500.00 shall be created. This amount could not be spared from the Treasury, at that time, and when the payment of annual dues began on March the first, the criticism of Miss Boyson's essay was so widespread that no demand was made for such payment, and if there had been, your President would have taken the responsibility of withholding it, awaiting the decision of this convention as to the wisdom of establishing such an endowment fund. It is my opinion that the prize should be offered, making annual appropriation therefor, that these great questions of difference may be studied and out of such study, the truth be found, and when we know the truth has not been sounded, let us, in patient forbearance, go on encouraging further research.

In all education, mistakes are made by the student. Do we falter in the teaching because of these mistakes? No, for there would be little progress, and the best reasons have been shown of the necessity for more knowledge.

Greater activity in the organization of the Children of the Confederacy, cannot be too strongly urged upon the chapters and divisions. For upon the training of these—our boys and girls—our patriots and citizens of the future, depends the perpetuity of this organization. For of the honor and glory of the rich heritage of this country's history, which is theirs, many children in the South have little appreciation or value. It cannot be impressed upon you too forcibly that in entering this association, you assume an individual responsibility to meet all requirements, live up to this, my dear daughters, and there is nothing too great to accomplish.

Your continued attention is called to the importance of placing portraits of President Davis and Gen. Robt. E. Lee in the public and private schools of your State, as an object lesson in patriotism and an example of honorable citizenship. The Art Publishing Company, 85 Broad Street, Charleston, S.C., will furnish a fine portrait of Mr. Davis, which has the endorsement of his daughter, Mrs. Hayes, and the State Directors of Shiloh Monument offer an excellent portrait of Gen. Lee, fifty per cent. of the cost of which is returned to the Shiloh Monument Fund. Along educational lines, many books of historic value are being published by Southern writers, which are useful for training your children. "Heroes in Gray," by Samuel W. Sherrill, A. M., Paris, Tenn., published by Claude J. Bell, Nashville, is one of these, and Mr. T. C. DeLeon, the blind writer and poet of renown, of Mobile, Alabama, will soon publish a work on "Davis and Lee," which can be safely recommended to your patronage.

Again let me repeat that you need the "Confederate Veteran" in your work, and cannot afford to be without it, besides Mr. Cunningham has deservedly won your support by his long-continued efforts to bring out so much of the South's unwritten history.

It is gratifying to note the change of sentiment, which develops and grows with each passing year, and which made it possible to restore the name of Jefferson Davis on Cabin John Bridge, an order for which having been issued by ex-President Roosevelt on Washington's birthday, 1909; and the action of President Taft, who placed the veterans of the South on a parity with those of the North by permitting collections to be made in the several Departments of the Government for funds to be used in decorating the graves of Confederate soldiers in the National Cemetery, Washington; the contribution of $100 by the survivors of the 23d New Jersey Regiment to Arlington Monument Fund; the return of many captured battle flags; and the project of Mr. Charles H. McConnell, Color Sergeant of the 4th Michigan Regiment of the Iron Brigade, to erect a monument on the field of Gettysburg, which will cost $150,000, to commemorate not only the bravery of his own command, but jointly to honor the Confederate soldiers who fought and defeated him on that bloody field. The great Commander, Robert E. Lee, will stand by the side of Washington in the Hall of Fame, in our National Capital, as the two most honored sons of Virginia, and all who see them there will feel that these are Americans. Such evidences of restored unity and fraternal feeling awakens our patriotic pride, and points to still higher national achievement and development. During the past year, decisions have been made on Constitutional questions, which are here submitted:

1st. That there is no provision in the General Constitution, U. D. C., prohibiting chapters of this Association from having associate members.

2d. That such associate members cannot vote, and cannot be counted in the ratio of representation of the Chapter in which they are associated, in any State or General Convention, U. D. C.

3d. That there is no conflict with the General Constitution, U. D. C., in Article III, Section 7, of the Tennessee Division Constitution, which provides: "That any chapter may elect, as associate members, those who, not entitled to membership in any organization, are in sympathy with, and desire to aid in this work."

4th. That Article IV, Section 1 and 2, of the General By-Laws, refers only to the conferring of the title of "Honorary Associate Member," by the General Association, U. D. C., and does not provide for such honorary title to be conferred by divisions or chapters. It is limited to three persons at one time.

5th. That the President, or in her absence the Vice-President, conducts the business proceeding of conventions, from the opening to the close, and the duties of the President-elect do not begin until the adjournment of the convention at which she is elected.

There is a vacant place in our ranks that none can fill, for the fairest flower that grew and bloomed in the White House of the Confederacy is no more!

For when Margaret Howell Davis Hayes closed her soulful eyes, in dreamless sleep, to waken on the other side of the "beautiful river," the last of the children of President and Mrs. Jefferson Davis had passed away, and so, in life, she was set apart, as one of sacred mould, because of this tender tie, and because, too, of her own gracious and charming personality and rare gifts of mind and heart, which gave her foremost place in her home and social circle.

Her children, two daughters and two sons, are ours; one of the sons bears the exalted name of Jefferson Davis. Let us keep them in our hearts as the highest tribute that we can pay to her memory.

By telegram, flowers were sent to that desolate home, to bear our message of sympathy and sorrow.

In the performance of my duties, telegrams and short addresses of greeting have been sent to conventions of the Daughters of the Confederacy, and, when possible, these have been delivered in person, and such messages have been sent and also delivered to our dear Veterans, and to the Sons of Veterans, whenever the dates of meetings were known, in order that your President might be in close touch and sympathy with all Confederate organizations.

The dignity and majesty of the great office that you entrusted to me has had recognition, and all honor accorded. Beautiful receptions were given by the chapters of St. Augustine, Huntsville, Ala.; Memphis, New Orleans, Charlotte, N. C.; Roanoke, Va.; St. Louis, Springfield, Mo.; and Paris, Texas, and courtesies and attentions extended by other chapters. Many invitations were given which, for lack of time, had to be declined.

On my return home, the President of the Missouri Division, Mrs. W. L. Kline, invited me to be her guest, and accept a reception, tendered by the St. Louis chapters, at which royal entertainment was had. From St. Louis with Mrs. Kline, the Annual Convention of the Missouri Division was attended at Springfield, Mo., where a most successful and interesting session was enjoyed, and showed this division to be under excellent care.

For my "sins of omission and commission" your forbearance and charity is asked, on the plea, that it has been my aim to serve you faithfully.

There are some recommendations that to me seem wise and just, which it is my privilege to submit for your consideration:

1st. That the Corresponding Secretary shall be elected from the same town in which the President-General resides, that she may be of more efficient service to that officer.

2d. That all printed matter issued from the office of the Recording Secretary-General shall be mailed by herself, and not sent to the Corresponding Secretary, as the By-Laws now provide, that extra expense and delay of delivery may be avoided, and to fix the responsibility on one officer.

3d. That the recommendations of Mrs. James B. Gantt, Registrar-General, U. D. C., in regard to the better conducting of that office, may be adopted.

4th. That all chapters, U. D. C., will hold their annual election of officers early in November, that the General Minutes may publish the correct names of officers in service for the current year, and that as soon as the election of officers, in State divisions or chapters is had, a full list of officers, with their addresses, shall be sent to the President-General and to the Recording Secretary-General.

Now as the parting hour draws nearer, when my family of Daughters must be surrendered to the care of another, and you will no more be mine in that close and tender relation of the past two years, my heart is deeply stirred by the thought of your love and loyalty, which to me, through stress and storm, has been a strength and inspiration, and I can ask nothing higher for my successor, than that you will extend to her the same devotion and ready response to duty.

To my associate officers, my "staff," my loving gratitude goes out for all of their service, which has so largely contributed to whatever of success that may have come to my administration. May your watchword be, "Onward and Upward," and true to the cause for which we are united, that our annual offerings may be fruitful of great and glorious results.

With "Tiny Tim," let me say, "God bless everybody."

CORNELIA BRANCH STONE.

REPORT OF THE RECORDING SECRETARY-GENERAL.

Madam President and Daughters of the Confederacy:

A report of the work of your Recording Secretary during the past year is difficult to make, for a record of the daily routine in her office, would grow monotonous, and tiresome. Unlike the splendid report which you have just listened to from our beloved and honored President-General, who has brought to you an enumeration of splendid things accomplished as your representative, and which will mark her administration in the history of the U. D. C., your Secretary must tell you of facts and figures. It has been, however, a pleasant duty to sit at my desk and in routine carry forward as best I could the work of my office; with busy hands, time has sped rapidly on, until we can scarcely realize that eleven months have passed since we met in convention in Atlanta. So many pleasant letters from our dear President-General, other officers, division and chapter officers, combined with a deeply implanted love for the cause which we represent, brought sunshine of joy into my working den, and happiness to my heart. With but very few exceptions, each letter received throughout the year, has been kind, considerate, friendly and cordial, for which I thank you most heartily.

The new Constitution adopted in convention at Atlanta, did not provide for the advanced minutes of the business proceedings which had been published for two years previous, and I felt happy, that the doing away with this, would carry with it so much work, but the space was crowded in and I failed to miss that feature of my work.

After bids from seven publishers were submitted, and duly considered, the contract was again awarded to the Post Publishing Co., for printing 3000 copies of the Fifteenth Annual Convention. The copy for the Minutes was turned over to the printers on January the seventh, and the first copies of the book were mailed out, on February the sixth.

The change in the price of the certificates of membership caused many extra letters explaining, where the orders came in at the old price. The chapters continue to order many certificates, which proves that they are active and not asleep.

Perhaps it may be well in this report, to call the attention of division presidents, and chapter presidents to some things that will be of mutual benefit, save delays, and thus cause the clerical work of the organization to run smoother. Sometimes the applications for charters come to your Secretary, so illegibly written, that it is impossible to read correctly the names. After calling the aid of my assistant, and the whole household, and then when no one can read, possibly one name on the list, there is nothing left to be done, but to send the application back and ask for information—an unnecessary letter and an unnecessary delay.

Therefore your Secretary would urge the division presidents to require a typewritten list to accompany the charter application, or, to be written with a very legible hand writing.

Your Secretary would urge all chapters when sending the rosters for publication in the Minutes, to use the same care. Do not embody these officers in your letter, but write them on a separate sheet of paper, and do not send them to the Secretary on a postal card. I have here on my desk several rosters that were sent last winter, in plenty of time, but with no name, nor number of chapter given, nor the place, and the postmark was dim and impossible to read, and several of these found their way into the waste basket before it occurred to me that I should save them. And still more came in that way, but in other instances, the postmaster was kind enough to have his mark clear, and from this I could learn the place from which it came, and in this way could find the chapter. The list of officers is frequently sent on a postal card which is again hazardous, for though the names may be very plainly written, frequently a blurr in the stamping, or some other cause will make dim, and thus difficult to read several of the names.

You cannot know how your Secretary strives and wrangles over the difficulties in trying to have correct, the rosters.

These difficulties are related to you, with no idea of bringing forward or burdening you unnecessarily with the trials of the Secretary's office, but with the view of gaining mutual co-operation with the division and chapter officers. It is very important that these rosters should be correct, in order that the communications that are sent from the offices of your Recording and Corresponding Secretaries will reach you promptly. When you have a change of officers during the year, if you will at once send a list to the Secretary's office a record of the change will be made.

I have written during these eleven months, nearly 3000 letters and postal cards, and mailed out from my office 1300 circular communications. I have received and properly filed, 4000 letters and postal cards, and I must tell you, that with but a very few exceptions, each one received, though on business, has a friendly expression, greeting, or good wish that brings joy to the heart of your Secretary. Every letter written and every one received is duly recorded and filed, and answered as promptly as it is possible to do so.

The minutes of the first and second annual meetings and one called meeting, held in 1894 and '95, as presented in manuscript, in the bound volumes by the former Secretary-General, Mrs. Jno. P. Hickman, have been published according to the instructions of a vote taken in the Fifteenth Annual Convention of 1908. The volume of this manuscript being small, the three meetings were bound in one book. One copy of these was mailed recently to each of the general officers, and one to the President of each division.

The receipts and disbursements of my office for the past year, has been as follows:

By 2763 certificates of membership issued.....	$424.85
By 67 charters issued.....	201.00
By membership application blanks.....	24 79
Total	$650.64

I have turned over to the Auditing Committee my accounts with a receipt for each item of expenditures with receipts from the Treas. Gen'l for the cash amounts sent her.

The bills for printing have been sent to the President-General from time to time, for her endorsement, and the same have been remitted for by the Treasurer-General.

Chapters have been formed in two new States during the past year—one the Albert Sidney Johnston, at Bisbee, Arizona, and the Margaret Howell Davis Hayes Chapter, Denver Colorado.

And now in conclusion, as I am about to lay down the honors and obligation incident to the office of Secretary of the U. D. C., I beg that you will accept my sincere and heartfelt thanks for the many courtesies shown me; for all the love and confidence given me during my term of office, and that you will kindly overlook and leniently forgive my mistakes in trying to serve you in this office.

MRS. ANDREW L. DOWDELL.

REPORT OF CORRESPONDING SECRETARY-GENERAL.

Madam President, Ladies of the Executive Board, and Ladies of the Convention:

It is with pleasure that I again make my annual report to the General Association of United Daughters of the Confederacy, upon the close of this, my second year as a member of our Executive Board.

The rapid growth of our organization gives ample occupation to all the active officers, and no office is a sinecure, if the holder of that chair discharges all the duties pertaining thereto.

As each member of the Board reporting to you has done, so also I must emphasize the necessity of correct rosters, as without these half the effort put forth by your board is wasted effort. Each division president should revise the list of rosters of her division in the general year book, and see that local names are correctly spelled, and that typographical errors overlooked by those not familiar with local names, are corrected. A number of such errors have existed for several years, and are added to each year, by typographical errors, a noticeable example being, "Wasley," S. C., which should have been "Easley." This error has proven a prophesy, as "Easley" was, but is not now a chapter.

The early date of the convention this year, October, has given great trouble in the matter of the convention credentials. I began sending them out in August, and those August credentials are spread all over the United States, where they have followed chapter presidents, and some credentials went to Canada, and several to Europe.

It has been my opinion for some years, that we must come to the States Rights plan of sending out our notices, of finding that the State President or her representative is at home, and of sending to her the credentials for her division, and holding her responsible for her representation in General Convention. New Orleans has an amendment of that kind to present to this convention, and while it may not carry at this time it will come as a necessary outgrowth of our ever growing organization. The correct placing of our communications is the ground work of our usefulness.

I agree with the recommendation of the President-General, that convention notices be sent out by the Recording Secretary, as she has an allowance for clerical work, which is not necessary to the office of Corresponding Secretary. But this change will not prevent the chapters from returning to the Corresponding Secretary the credentials, several of which I have received since coming to Houston, and a number of which I returned from Jacksonville, although the circular letter enclosed with credentials gave Mrs. Dowdell's full address as Recording Secretary, to whom these papers should be returned.

I have also had many requests for minutes, for all kinds of blanks and in a number of instances have had to return money received for the same.

I have, during the past year written 450 letters, sent out 1132 postal cards, and 1175 convention notices, each containing four enclosures, making 4700 circulars folded and enclosed.

I point with pride to the fact that during the two years of my incumbency, as Corresponding Secretary-General, the duties of the office have been the greatest in the history of the organization, as during both years I have had considerable clerical work, and if the recommendation of the President-General is accepted, the office will again become merely a chair of polite correspondence.

As the Chairman of the Committee on Official Stationery, sent me more than I could possibly use for the year 1908, the treasury during the past year, has not been taxed for stationery for my office, and I still have some of that sent in 1908.

The expenses of my office have been only for legal envelopes for credentials, and for postage.

	Postage
1175 convention notices	$23.50
450 letters.....	9.00
1132 postal cards.....	11.32
Total	$43.82
Amount received.....	28.00
Balance due	$15.82

Since coming to Houston, I have sent out letters of condolence or sympathy, to Mrs P. G. Robert, of St. Louis, Mo., Mrs. Cove Johnson, of Tyler, Texas, Mrs. Mary Cecil Cautrill, of Kentucky, Robert E. Park, of Atlanta, Mrs. V. E. Austin, Galveston, Mrs. L. J. Storey, Austin, Sister Esther Carlotta, St. Augustine, Fla., Mr. S. A. Cunningham, Nashville, and telegrams to Mrs. E. P. Poe, Maryland, Mrs. Thomas Lee Craig, of North Carolina, at John Hopkins hospital, Mrs. Reau E. Folk, of Tennessee, Mrs. Burton Smith, of Atlanta, Mrs. J. J. Jackson, of Charlotte, N. C., Mrs. Daisy McLaurin Stevens, of Mississippi, Gen. W. L. Cabell, of Dallas, Mr. Addison Hayes, of Colorado, Mrs. Thomas M. Worcester, of Ohio, Mrs. M. C. Goodlett, of Nashville, Mrs. C. Helen Plane, of Atlanta, Mrs. S. E. Gabbett, of Atlanta. Telegrams of greeting to Florida Division and Arkansas Division, United Confederate Veterans in Convention.

Thanking the many ladies of the organization for great courtesies and for many expressions of appreciation,

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. ROSELLE C. COOLEY,

Corresponding Secretary-General.

REPORT OF THE REGISTRAR-GENERAL.

As you are well aware, the office of the Registrar-General is a new one, created at the Atlanta Convention. The present incumbent has not had the benefit of the experience of others to assist her. The duty of this office and how to perform it, has been a knotty problem both to your President and Registrar-General. They have used their best efforts to solve this problem, endeavoring to come to some clear and practical conclusion.

Your By-Laws, Article 1, Section 6, say:

"The Registrar-General shall receive from State Registrars copies of all individual membership blanks and shall keep them on file according to States."

All individual membership blanks, we interpret to be, all blanks from the beginning of this association, which means keeping on file sixty thousand. This is impractical and unsafe. In the first place, no private home has a suitable room for filing sixty thousand records. These papers are invaluable, from a historical standpoint. My home and your home, is liable to be burned, and sending the records to and fro all over the country, is a perilous thing, as many may be lost. In view of this, it was evident, that nothing could be done without a suitable book. Your Registrar-General has had made a substantial, loose leaf ledger, which locks and unlocks. This is practical because pages can be inserted. As a division increases in numbers, these pages can be put in their proper places. For instance, suppose all the names of the Alabama Division are transcribed to date, and in the course of time more names are added, the Registrar can unlock her book and insert page or pages, by the side of the names already recorded for Alabama Division. The book is a fine specimen of work in that line, and your Registrar takes just a little pride in the fact that it was made in the State of Missouri and in Jefferson City. She would be pleased if each member of this convention would, at some time during the session, examine the book, which will be left on the President's desk for that purpose.

Although your article defining duties of Registrar-General, did not require her to copy names in a book, she did so, with the approval of the President-General, knowing it was the only thing to do. She received from State Registrars, the records of the following States:

- Alabama Division 2,940 names,
- Florida Division.....names,
- Tennessee Division 4,965 names,
- Through the C's in Mississippi Division 210 names,
- One year's record of Missouri Division 168 names.
- The charter chapter of Denver, Colorado, 23 names,
- The chapters in Philadelphia, Pa., 132 names.
- The chapters in the State of Washington, 155 names,
- The charter chapter in the State of Arizona, 16 names.

All of these have been transcribed in the general register except Florida Division. This record came on October 1st, which did not give time to copy. It is to be regretted as the names were sent beautifully typewritten.

Total number of members transcribed	9,609
Total number of ancestors transcribed	9,609

Making a total of names transcribed.....19,218

A list of all registered members and names of ancestors from whom eligibility is derived, was no small request to make of State Registrars, especially in large divisions, having four and five thousand names (not including names of ancestors which double the record). The Registrar-General cannot blame State Registrars for not doing this immense amount of work sooner, but the lateness of records in arriving, necessitated her employing assistance, which she did with the approval of the President-General.

It would have been utterly impossible for one person, even though she employed every moment of her time to have done the work, in the time allotted, after the data was received. All beginners of a new project, have trials and troubles devising ways and means of securing the best results with the least expenditure of brain, time or money, so your Registrar has endeavored to mark out a line for this office, which, in her opinion, will be most practical and efficient. To that end, she recommends, the permanent home of the Registrar-General shall be in Richmond, Virginia, and the place of filing the records be the Confederate Museum of that place, which is fire proof.

You may elect a new Registrar-General whenever it pleases you, but let her be a resident of Richmond, Virginia, and let this place be forever the home of the Registrar-General, and the Confederate Museum, the domicile of the Registrar's book.

In my substitute for Article I, Section 6, the duties of the office are clearly defined. This will be submitted to you later for your approval. If you adopt this recommendation, it will make the office of Registrar-General worth while, it will be valuable and safe, practical and permanent and not too burdensome on the incumbent. May I ask that you consider this question seriously.

If the recommendation meets your approval, and you are pleased with the work of your present Registrar-General, she shall be abundantly compensated.

As an organization, when difficulties confront us, not only in the offices of State or General Registrars, but in any line, let us remember the words of Phillip Brooks' "Burden Bearer."

"The little sharp vexations,
And the briars that catch and fret;
Why not take all to the Helper,
Who has never failed us yet?
Tell him about the heart-aches,
Tell him the longings, too;
Tell him the baffled purpose
When we scarce know what to do;
Then leaving all our weakness
With the one divinely strong,
Forget we bore the burden,
And carry away the song."

Let us transcribe in our book of remembrance not only the name, but the fame, of our glorious heroes in gray.

Respectfully submitted,

MATILDA WEIDEMEYER GANTT,

Registrar-General, United Daughters of the Confederacy.

Jefferson City, Missouri.

REPORT OF CUSTODIAN OF CROSS OF HONOR.

Madam President, Daughters of the Confederacy:

One can scarcely realize that twelve months have passed since I had the honor to submit to you my last report, so smoothly and pleasantly has the work progressed. This, I feel sure, is due to the kindness of divisions in complying with my suggestion of last year, and retaining the same recorders.

Some little trouble has been caused by the recorders approving record sheets not alphabetically arranged, or written, thus—man served 2 years and 6 months; when written in this way the question arises as to which 2 years and 6 months does this refer—if the first part, why did he stop in the midst of the thickest of those four years, or if the last two years, where was he the first part. You will readily see that this is no record whatever.

I certainly wish I could for just one moment, cause you to realize the vital importance of these records. In every little village of our Southland, you will find a granite shaft erected by the individual chapters to the valor of Confederate soldiers. Last year saw the fruits of the labor of the entire organization when the Jefferson Davis Monument, at Richmond, was unveiled, and now again the entire organization is bending every energy for the completion of the shaft in beautiful Arlington. This is as it should be, but do you know and realize that these records when all completed and placed in the Confederate Museum in Richmond, will be a far grander monument to the Confederate soldiers than any you have ever undertaken. In years to come, when all within sound of my voice shall have passed away, some of our children's children may say, I have a little bronze cross that my great grandfather received for being a soldier. I wish I knew just why it was given and by whom, I know—I am told all these beautiful monuments were erected to the Southern soldiers and he was one, but, I would love to know what he did. What satisfaction it will be to those who represent this grand body of women, then to say—in the Museum in Richmond, you can find his name, regiment, when he served, by whom this cross was given, the time and place.

My friends, is it not worth while to take the trouble to have these records faultless?

I wish to tender my sincere thanks and appreciation to our gracious President, Mrs. Cornelia Branch Stone, for her many letters of encouragement during the past year, and to each and every recorder. My heart goes out in love for their hearty cooperation, cheerful acquiescence to every suggestion, and courtesy extended their Custodian.

REPORT OF CUSTODIAN OF FLAGS AND PENANTS.

Madam President-General and Daughters of the Confederacy:

I bring you greetings from the Old Dominion combined with the beautiful flags you have put in my care. I carried to Atlanta last year, three, while there, two were presented, one by Mrs. Helen Plane, one of our Honorary Presidents. This is a red banner with the beautiful cotton bloom painted on it with our star and its mottoes, the other, the lone star of Texas, a memorial to our President, Jefferson Davis, by Mrs. Mollie McGill Rosenberg, of Texas. I have taken the very best care of them. You will remember the States presented their flags to me at Atlanta, which were given to the Hostess Chapter. I inaugurated this and I hope that my successor will keep it up. It is not expensive and adds much to the opening of the convention and a courtesy to those who are doing much for our pleasure.

My expenses from November, 1908, to October, 1909:

REPORT OF HISTORIAN-GENERAL.

113 3rd St. South, Richmond, Virginia.
October, 1909.

To the President-General and Daughters of the Confederacy:
Some explanation is due for the unusual procedure of printing a report before it is submitted to a Convention. My reasons are: Because it is the report of the first year of the office of Historian-General and the delegates should know fully all I have done with this trust, because questions of serious import have confronted this office and without a precedent to follow I have been compelled to act on my own discretion, and you should know my attitude, because the report is too long to be read from the platform, and because after it is submitted it will pass into the hands of the committee to condense the minutes.

As this office is too new to have rules for its workings it became my first duty to create some general system that would be easily adaptable to all divisions and chapters not in divisions. The result was my offer of the U. D. C. Exchange Library System, explained in the following General Circular No. 1. This was printed and mailed to presidents of divisions, of chapters not in divisions, and to a few others, February 11th, 1909.

OFFICE OF HISTORIAN GENERAL,
MRS. J. ENDERS ROBINSON, 113 THIRD STREET SOUTH, RICHMOND, VIRGINIA.

February 11, 1909.

Issued to Presidents of Divisions, and of chapters where there are no divisions.

The office of Historian-General was created by the U. D. C.

General Convention, in Atlanta, Georgia, November, 1908, upon which occasion the writer was elected to the office.

As yet, no duties are assigned to this office; therefore the present incumbent seeks, with your aid, to create in this office, such a system for the preservation of Confederate History as will be creditable to our Great Cause and our body of splendid women.

With this end in view, I submit for your prompt attention a system that, I believe, will locate and preserve thousands of valuable papers on Confederate and Southern History.

As Historians are now turning to the South for true records, I urge that you adopt this system for your division, or chapter, where there is no division. It is well known that many invaluable papers are now passing rapidly to other sections by gift or sale.

Papers, books and documents of every kind, relating to Southern history, that are now in the South, should be kept there.

This grand work is crying for the aid of the U. D. C. There is not a day to lose. Presidents should appoint librarians at once, not awaiting for conventions; start the libraries and later ask such conventions to endorse their action.

The system I name,

THE U. D. C. EXCHANGE LIBRARIES.

You are urged to adopt this system, as set forth in the rules below, under U. D. C. Exchange Library rules.

With such a library in each division and chapter where there is no division, we will soon have a system unsurpassed for reference on Southern history.

You will have no trouble about safe buildings, as there are State Houses and Court Houses everywhere. The library should never be in a private residence, even for a day.

You are requested personally by the Historian-General not to give out to newspapers or magazines any of this system until after you have both adopted it and appointed your librarian. Your Historian-General advises you to conduct the work quietly, without sensational "write-ups" for the public press.

It is now our solemn duty, as Southern women, to put our historical house in order, that we may be ready for historians when they knock at our doors. And we should proclaim as our motto:—

Let every State preserve its own Confederate history.

BY-LAWS FOR THE U. D. C. EXCHANGE LIBRARIES.

ARTICLE I.

OBJECT.

Section 1. To locate, collect and preserve by gift, purchase or bequest, manuscripts, newspapers, letters, books, poems, music, maps, charts, drawings, text-books, money, stamps, State Rosters of Troops, and any miscellaneous matter connected with, or concerning the Confederate States of America, dating from 1850.

Sec. 2. Also the promotion of the study of Confederate history, through the medium of the U. D. C. Exchange Libraries.

Sec. 3. To classify and catalogue the Library by the Dewey Decimal System, now conceded the best, (as there should be a uniform system for the libraries) under civil, military, naval, diplomatic, fiction, historical novels, poetry, music, text-book, rosters, or other captions. Each paper to be stamped with date of receipt, with full name of donor, or of person from whom bought, and a receipt given to each person, or persons. Papers, etc., to be located and collected, dating from 1850, or further back.

ARTICLE II.

LOCATION AND PERSONNEL.

Section 1. The library shall be located in some city, easily accessible. The offices of librarian and assistant librarian, shall never be bestowed on either a division, or chapter historian, as these are elected from varying sections, while the librarians must live permanently in the library city.

Sec. 2. No one but a member of the U. D. C. shall serve as librarian or assistant librarian.

ARTICLE III.

Section 1. The president of each division, and of each chapter, where there is no division, is requested to appoint a librarian and assistant librarian, and to locate a library city, to be endorsed by the next State or Chapter Annual Meeting. (See Article II).

Sec. 2. The librarians shall take charge of the libraries, replying to all inquiries promptly, keeping on file all letters written and received, no matter how unimportant they may seem.

Sec. 3. At no time should any paper, book, etc., be loaned, either to an individual of no matter how high rank officially, or to an organization, although if chartered.

Sec. 4. Any person may be allowed to refer to any book, paper, etc., but only in the presence of the librarian, or her assistant.

ARTICLE IV.

Section 1. A schedule of fees shall be adopted, for use by the librarian, and her assistant, to cover cost of both copying, and certifying a copy of any paper for an applicant. Copying, according to schedule charges, should be encouraged by all U. D. C. libraries, in order to disseminate knowledge of facts. Fees received to be used for library demands.

Sec. 2. Every librarian shall be required to keep on hand stationery with plain letter head as follows: "United Daughters of the Confederacy." "Exchange Library— Division." Her envelope to bear her name and full address for return, if not delivered.

Sec. 3. The Librarian shall make an annual report to the Historian-General, by July 1st at latest, on such blanks as that Officer-General shall send her by June 1st of each year.

ARTICLE V.

When valuable papers shall become brittle and mutilated, they shall be kept securely locked in the dark, and certified copies made for use by— in the library.

ARTICLE VI.

The U. D. C. Exchange Libraries should be put in operation at once, under the above rules, with such others as may be needed by local conditions, so that our prize essays may contain valuable history, instead of matter for condemnation only. Rules should be rigidly enforced

ARTICLE VII.

Inspection.

The president of every division, and of chapters where there is no division, shall appoint a committee of three inspectors, whose duty it shall be to inspect all methods obtaining to their respective library, and make a full report of such methods to their annual meeting. Inspectors should be appointed for one year only, and should not be eligible for reappointment for the succeeding three years.

ARTICLE VIII.

The copying of papers should be encouraged, as an exchange between the libraries in order to build up collections. Outlying divisions or chapters of non-seceding States should set aside a fund annually to secure copies from the original sources. By such a system of reference libraries, the impetus to the study of Southern history would be remarkable.

Our President-General, Mrs. C. B. Stone, endorses the system of the U. D. C. Exchange Library:

"You have my hearty endorsement, if such plan will be strictly in line with our purposes, which are to preserve the true history of the War Between the States."

Signed,

MRS. J. ENDERS ROBINSON,
Historian-General, U. D. C.

Letters representing 14 of the 32 divisions were received; a remarkably large per cent. to express opinions at such an early date.

This general circular No. 1, is intended to fix the attention of the U. D. C. on the object for which we say we live, and toward which we profess to direct our deepest thought, our constant care—truthful Confederate history.

What system has the U. D. C. that will produce an organized effort to preserve Confederate history? I say, none. What is there in the library system I propose that will militate against the individuality of the divisions? None. On the contrary, individual effort will develop more fully through closer study. This plan has a few general rules that encourage the utmost freedom of independent growth in the historical departments of divisions. What chance has the division historian to bring her ideas to the U. D. C. conventions, except through that office? Do you realize that if these historians file an annual report in this office, each one becomes an example, her work an incentive, to every chapter historian in her division? Without a general system to encourage chapter historians we are casting aside the golden opportunity for searching out and preserving the papers, documents and music in small localities. It is the chapter historians who can do this work of search. This is the work which preserves history. Enough importance has not been attached to the office of chapter historian. If the division historians would keep in mind that they should always be examples of activity and accuracy they would win half the battle for the chapters, which would work the better to find the treasures in their localities. This office should be a bureau of information. Several weeks ago a gentleman of the West, wrote me for copies of the Ordinances of Secession of all the States. He said a division historian had directed him to me. He offered to pay for copying them. How do you suppose I felt, when I was forced to refer him to others who have no connection with the U. D. C.?

If the divisions adopt this system of libraries, a list of the contents of each should be kept in this office, making it a central bureau. This office would direct all inquiries to the libraries having the information wanted, and the library would furnish it direct to the inquirer at schedule prices.

Something should be done in the way of a system to check the destruction of many papers, and the sale of numbers to other sections. Adopt a general system and you will find your chapter historians giving invaluable permanent work, instead of writing ten minute papers of no value, and forgotten as soon as read. They would soon fall into the habit of seeking all information in their localities. With this knowledge you would have a firm foundation for much preservation of interesting historical facts.

Rules for the Office of Historian-General.

1. The Historian-General shall call together the historians attending the convention one hour before the morning business session of the second day to discuss the general interests of the several historical departments. This call shall apply equally to division and chapter historians.

2. The division historians shall form the committee of the Historian-General, to which may be added the historians of chapters where there are no divisions.

3. These historians shall be ex-officio members of this committee. That is, when a historian ceases to hold her office, either in a division or in a chapter she is retired from this committee, to be replaced by her successor in the division or chapter.

4. The committee shall be known as the Historical Committee.

NOTE—These rules, and other recommendations offered to the general convention, U. D. C., at Houston, Texas, were not acted upon by that body.

Rules for Historical Evening.

The Historian-General shall appoint and notify the persons whom she requests to accept places on the programme not later than March 1st. All persons who accept numbers on the programme shall notify the Historian-General of the titles of their papers not later than July 1st. The programme shall contain not more than fourteen numbers, including music. No paper shall consume more than ten minutes. There shall be no encores. Subjects should be selected from Confederate history.

The Historian-General shall preside and take charge of the entire programme.

A PLEA FOR OLD DIXIE.

Do not let the new words take the place of the old, but remember that the old words, sung around the camp fires from 1861 to 1865 brought a smile to many a sad face of our half starved soldiers, brought a loud laugh from the young boy with a heart bleeding for home scenes. Thousands of times the wag of the regiment has cheered the tired, lightened the heavy footsteps, when over and over again he jested of "Will de weaber" and "forty pounder." The empty canteen, the weary march was forgotten, when Dixie rang out from the camp fire through the night air. The old words come echoing down from the battlefields. Let us cling to these old words as a heritage from the camp fire, from the volley of musketry, from the roar of cannon, from the unfurled flag on to victory.

DIXIE

We give the original from which sprang the many versions of the song so indelibly connected with the Confederacy:

I wish I was in de land of cotton,
 Old times dar am not forgotten,
 Look away, look away, look away, Dixie land.
 In Dixie land whar I was born in,
 Early on one frosty mornin,—
 Look away, look away, look away, Dixie land.

CHORUS.

Den I wish I was in Dixie,
 Hooray, Hooray!
 In Dixie land I'll took my stand,
 To lib and die in Dixie;
 Aaway, aaway, away down South in Dixie;
 Away, away, away down South in Dixie.

Ole missus marry "Will de Weaber,"
 William was a gay deceiber,
 Look away, look away, look away, Dixie land.

But when he put his arm around 'er,
 He smiled as fierce as a forty pounder,
 Look away, look away, look away, Dixie land.

His face was sharp as a butcher's cleaver,
 But dat did not seem to greab 'er,
 Look away, look away, look away, Dixie land.
 Ole missus act de foolish part,
 And died for de man dat bruk her heart,
 Look away, look away, look away, Dixie land.

Now here's a health to de next old missus,
 And all de gals dat wants to kiss us,
 Look away, look away, look away, Dixie land.
 But if you want to drive away sorrow,
 Come and hear dis nig to-morrow,
 Look away, look away, look away, Dixie land.

Dar's buckwheat cakes and ingen batter,
 Makes you fat or little fatter,
 To Dixie's land I'se bound to trabble,
 Den hoe it down and scratch your grabble,
 To Dixie's land I'se bound to trabble,
 Look away, look away, look away, Dixie land.

Supplementary to My Printed Report.

When my report went to press I had received but one report from division historians, and that was from Louisiana, by the Historian, Mrs. J. S. Alison. This report I incorporated in my printed report.

Later I received the following reports from division historians, and all are very interesting:

- From Mississippi, by Mrs. S. E. F. Rose,
- From North Carolina, by Miss Rebecca Cameron,

From Tennessee, by Mrs. E. M. Gillespie,
From West Virginia, by Miss M. C. Stribling.

In the last week I have also received a report from the Historian of the New York Chapter, saying that it would not be feasible to establish a U. D. C. Exchange Library in that city.

It is with great regret that I report the enforced absence of the able chairman of the History Committee, Miss Nannie Byrd Washington, of Washington, D. C. (However she sends me her very fine report to present to the convention on her behalf.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. J. ENDERS ROBINSON,
Historian-General, U. D. C.

REPORT OF TREASURER-GENERAL.

Madam President and Daughters:

I am going to ask for a little indulgence at your hands this morning, but will promise not to tax your patience unnecessarily. Heretofore, in making my report, realizing how valuable our time was, I have confined myself to the dry facts and figures, which, ordinarily, should alone enter into the report of the member who is warden of the treasure house.

I have allowed all the bouquets to be thrown by the younger and handsomer members of our Executive Board. I have asked no favors and returned no thanks, but as this is the last time I shall appear before you in my present capacity, I would like to tell you of some of the trials as well as some of the pleasures, I have experienced in the discharge of my duties as your Treasurer.

I tell you of the difficulties from no spirit of fault-finding, but in the hope of improving some of the methods now in practice in the payment of our per capita tax, and making the work of my successor a little easier than present conditions permit.

When you honored me three years ago by electing me to the office of Treasurer-General of the U. D. C., I found that many of our chapters were in the habit of paying their general dues in advance, between four and five hundred dollars being credited on the Treasurer's books for the succeeding year.

The clause in our constitution relating to this matter, seems to me to be very explicit, Viz: Sec. 1, Art. VIII, "Each chapter shall on or before the first day of each succeeding——pay into the Treasury the sum of ten cents for each and every member, who may, at such date be in good standing," etc. Now that blank has been variously filled. First, we tried the month of February, then October, and last, in desperation, I moved at our last convention to make it March, hoping that I would then have a good long time to get in all dues, and to adjust the many misunderstandings that arise, before I made out my per capita report for the convention.

Taxation, as you know, is the basis of our representation, and how can we know what our chapter may number a year in advance, and how can our Executive Board form any idea of the amount of revenue to be depended upon to meet expenses, if a large portion of it has been expended in advance?

A very good illustration of the disadvantage of paying per capita in advance, came to my notice a few days ago. One of your best chapters, here in great big Texas, which had already paid its tax for 1909, in time to be reported at our 1908 convention, and which had also—as long ago as last June, sent me the per capita tax for 1910—sent me additional tax for thirty-five members—and evidently from the tone of her letter, the writer expected to reap the benefit of that large increase in membership at this convention. Now, if this tax had reached me before my report had been closed, it would have been a question for the Jurisprudence Committee to handle, and may be still. This advance payment also adds to the labors of your Treasurer, who must report the tax twice; the year she receives it, and then again the year for which it is intended, making several pages more of printing to be paid for, as well.

I have persistently discouraged the practice, since I have held the office, but some chapters just as persistently continue to pay in advance. It is a great pity that we cannot average things up with the chapters who always pay late, or not at all.

Then again some method should be devised of informing some of the chapter treasurers, that the State tax does not go to the Treasurer-General, and vice versa. This mistake is made much oftener than would be supposed and involves much extra work on the part of both officers, as well as useless expenditure of postage.

Sometimes the mistake is allowed to go uncorrected until the amount sent has been deposited in bank, and the Treasurer's balance reported, then the entry must be changed, the Treasurer's book defaced, and explanations recorded to show why the Treasurer's balance was not what was reported.

Strange, too, as it may seem, many chapters do not yet know the amount of per capita tax due the General Treasurer. I have received amounts, from a dollar down, as per capita dues. Once I received a letter from a chapter—that was a Texas chapter, too—containing two checks for $12 each—they always do things on a big scale down here—the writer said that since the tax had been raised to a dollar per capita, that her chapter, which had numbered in the neighborhood of sixty, had all gone to pieces, not more than a dozen of them affording to continue their membership, but she sent $12 for the current year and $12 for the following year. All of this required much writing on both sides, but the very pleasant correspondence ensuing compensated for the extra work in this instance.

I found on looking over the duties of the Treasurer in the By-laws, that I was instructed to send out annually, blanks for the chapter returns, but upon inquiry of our former Treasurer and Recording-Secretary, I learned that such blanks had never been sent out, that clause being practically a dead letter. Upon reflection, however, after many discouraging attempts to gather in the tax at the appointed time, it seemed to me that the plan would be worth trying, but having nothing to "pattern after" as it were, I got up a form which seemed to me to be very concise and lucid in its arrangement, including as it did, spaces for the name and number of the chapter, location and membership, also space for amount sent. These forms properly filled out would give at a glance, all necessary information about the chapter. They are of uniform size, easily filed and referred to, and I am sure their general use would very much simplify the work of the Treasurer. Not more than half of them were returned to me though.

Notwithstanding all the drawbacks, the receipts of the Treasurer's office have steadily increased each year. In 1906, including balance, they amounted to $5711.72; in 1907, $6115.67; in 1908, $7137.49, and in 1909, $7973.54.

Another very confusing feature of this per capita business, too, is the number of chapters bearing the same name. For instance, there are 19 bearing the name of R. E. Lee, four of them in Texas, eighteen of Stonewall Jackson, 8 of Jefferson Davis, 7 of Albert Sidney Johnson, 6 of Sterling Price, and 6 Dixie chapters, besides triplicates and quartettes innumerable, of lesser lights. Then again I find the most unwarranted promotions and degradations among those bearing military titles. A captain may be colonel one time, and maybe the next entry of per capita in his name, he is just as likely to be registered as General, Private Taylor Rucks, of Mississippi, and Private Robt. Taylor, of Kentucky, being the only military gentlemen who have been allowed permanently to remain at their honorable posts. But the new arrangement of the per capita list, alphabetical according to location, will remedy a great deal of that.

I do not want to trespass on the time of the convention, but I must, before closing these few prefatory remarks, tell you of the real joy my work has been to me. It has truly been a labor of love. I have been brought in close contact with many noble women, and the sweet associations formed in the discharge of my duties, will be a lasting memory with me. I have had many sweet and sympathetic letters from women whom I have never seen, and I want to thank you all now for your kindness and consideration at all times, and promise to my successor my heartiest assistance and co-operation until she shall have made the acquaintance of the numerously located R. E. Lees, Stonewall Jacksons, Jefferson Davises, and also learned that Tallassee and Tallahassee are two distinct places, that, even Parises are common in this country, and, as if to call another to the testimonial of true patriotism, Texas has a town named R. E. Lee. All honor to her for her splendid loyalty!

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CROSS OF HONOR.

Madam President-General and Members of the Sixteenth Annual Convention:

The chairman has received many letters, answering them as best she could.

The committee, after due consideration of all letters sent to them, especially those from the Western chapters pleading that the time for bestowal be extended, the committee recommends that the rule made at Atlanta be rescinded, and the time extended to November, 1912.

We have received letters like this. "According to the present rule, only lineal descendants of soldiers or veterans are entitled to the Cross of Honor. Many chapters desire the rule changed so that collateral relatives may also be entitled to crosses, after veterans and lineal descendants have been served. Many single men were killed or died during the war, and surviving brothers and sisters, nephews or nieces desire crosses on account of their service."

The committee remains unchanged as to their opinion that only lineal descendants are entitled to this honor so highly prized by the veterans, who won it by sacrifice and the hardships of the war between the States, and therefore make no recommendations upon this subject, leaving the decision and responsibility to this convention. The committee is of the opinion that the rules laid down are sufficiently broad, and if the doors are opened wider, it must be done by this body, and not by the recommendation of this committee.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. V. F. McSHERRY, Chairman,
MRS. J. W. TENCH,
MRS. L. H. RAINES,
MRS. J. N. THOMPSON,
MRS. S. E. GABBETT.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON HISTORY.

Madam President and Daughters of the Confederacy:

It is with a feeling of great regret that your chairman sends in such a poor report of the historical work of the U. D. C. But your committee is not without excuse. My appointment was not made until quite late in the year, and then, too, I must plead ignorance as to just where our Historian-General's work ended, and mine began. Not wishing to overstep the lines of my department I left the matter in the hands of our able President and Mrs. Robinson. As soon as I received directions from them, although very late, your committee, with energy and zeal, went to work and have done their very best. Through the courtesy and kindness of Gen. Marcus Wright, of the War Records Office, of Washington, D. C., your chairman has been enabled to finish and send in to this convention a complete list of the Confederate Legislators. Mrs. I. H. Watson sends a list of the Confederate war governors, which your chairman takes pleasure in adding to the list of the Confederate congressmen. Mrs. Gantt reports the collecting of all the minutes of the U. D. C. conventions held in Missouri, and having them bound in book form, thus preserving the records of the U. D. C. in Missouri. They also give a prize in the state for the best historical paper written on a given subject from a Confederate standpoint. In this way they encourage research in history from the standpoint of the South. Sincerely regretting my inability to be with you at the convention, but trusting the best results will follow your deliberations, with affectionate greetings to each Daughter, I respectfully submit this report.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON EDUCATION.

Madam President and Members of the Convention:

The Committee on Education presents this, its first report, to a U. D. C. Convention. Created at the Atlanta Convention November, 1908, the committee was in working order by January, 1909, and consisted of the following: Mrs. Goodlett, Tennessee; Mrs. Marburg, Pennsylvania; Mrs. London, North Carolina; Mrs. Ross, Alabama, and Miss Mary Mary Poppenheim, South Carolina, chairman. The chairman immediately organized the committee, with Mrs. Ross as vice-chairman, brought the members into consultation, and the committee have worked together harmoniously since.

This committee realized that a great deal of unclassified educational work had already been done by the U. D. C. in its divisions and chapters, and that the need at this inauguration of the General Committee on Education was to lay a broad foundation for future work, and to collect, classify and sum up in available form, the sum total of educational work done by the U. D. C.

as an organization. With this broad plan in view a circular was drafted and two copies sent out to the president of each State division, and to the president of each chapter in those States where no division existed, setting forth this plan, and asking for replies on or before July 1st. The circular was as follows:

"The Educational Committee of the United Daughters of the Confederacy was created at the Atlanta Convention November, 1908. Its object by our constitution is 'to foster the educational interests of the association' and it falls to the lot of this first Educational Committee, to formulate plans for carrying out this object.

"Our plans of work for this year will be merely to lay a foundation for future building along this line. Three points will be stressed, and if each division, and every chapter (in those States where there is no division), will answer this circular and cooperate in these three simple points, we, as a committee, will have a helpful report to make at Houston.

"Answers to this circular are most important, as much educational work has already been done by the U. D. C., and what we need most now, is to record and to tabulate in practical form this work, so that it may be presented to the world and credited as U. D. C. work.

"To president of divisions, and to presidents of chapters in those States where no division exists:

I. (a). Report to the Charman of the Educational Committee how many scholarships your division supports, either as a division or as individual chapters. That is, give total number supported by the division and by chapters.

"(b). State value in dollars of each scholarship.

"(c). State length of term for each scholarship.

"(d). Give total value of all scholarships bestowed.

"II. Each State division is requested to appoint an educational committee whose duty shall be to look after its own state work by advocating the establishment of scholarships, and to assist in promoting the cause of compulsory and industrial education in that State. This committee shall confer with the U. D. C. Educational Committee and make an annual report to its chairman on July 1st, each year.

"III. Each State division is requested to take steps to secure, if possible, a donation of one scholarship with free tuition in its State institutions. Failing in this, each State division is requested to establish and maintain scholarships in these State institutions, said scholarships to be open to sons and daughters of Confederate Veterans.

"Reports on No. I and III should be sent to the chairman, Miss Mary B. Poppentim, Charleston, S. C., by July 1st, 1909.

"Reports and enquiries for No. II should be sent to Mrs. B. B. Ross, Auburn, Ala.

"(Signed). MARY B. POPPENHEIM, Chairman."

Committee:

Mrs. B. B. Ross, Auburn, Ala., vice-chairman.

Mrs. M. C. Goodlet, Tennessee.

Mrs. Edgar Marburg, Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Henry London, North Carolina.

On March 1st, 1909, your chairman sent out these circulars to fifty-nine individuals in the U. D. C. and the return from this correspondence will constitute a part of this report.

Fourteen States answered this circular by some information, namely: Alabama, Florida, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, New York, Maryland, Ohio, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Texas, Virginia, Washington and North Carolina.

Of these four reported committees on education already in existence before the Atlanta meeting, that is ante-dating the creation of the U. D. C. committee namely: Missouri, Mississippi and South Carolina and North Carolina.

Eight States immediately appointed committees on education, namely: Alabama, Florida, Washington, Texas, New York, Philadelphia, Pa., Chapter, Stonewall Jackson Chapter, Cincinnati, O., and Virginia. Making eleven States with committees on Education.

Ten States reported scholarships supported. These were:

Alabama Division supports two scholarships each of $100. One by the division is given to a boy who can select either the State University or Alabama Polytechnic. One endorsed by the Children of the Confederacy who raised $1,250, the interest of which, $100, goes to a scholarship for a boy at the Alabama Polytechnic, Auburn. Each one good for one year or may be extended under special conditions. Alabama secured this year, a third scholarship of free tuition at the Troy Normal School for a boy or girl; board and matriculation fee to be paid by the Troy Chapter. Total, 2 scholarships, $200. One scholarship, value not given.

Mississippi Division supports 3 scholarships. One girl at Industrial Institute and College, amounting to $100. One boy at the State Baptist College, amounting to $125. One boy at Millsape College, equivalent to $125. Three chapters individually support one scholarship each in the Industrial Institute and College for Girls (value not given). In all cases tuition is given free by the institutions. Total, 6 scholarships, $325.

Missouri Division reports two chapters supporting $100 scholarships each. A third chapter gives $25, and another chapter $50, to a school in Rome, Ga. One chapter has established a scholarship this year. Total, 3 scholarships, $275.

South Carolina Division reports one division scholarship for a girl in State Normal and Industrial College, value $104 a year; tuition given free by the College; time value of scholarship, four years for each beneficiary. Total, 1 scholarship, $104.

North Carolina Division reports through its president, three division scholarships at the State Normal and Training School, Greensboro, for girls, each worth $125; one chapter, the Stonewall Jackson, Charlotte, supports a scholarship at the Presbyterian College for Women, worth $150. The president reports six new scholarships promised next year, valued from $50 to $75. Each chapter in the division is asked to give $10 to the educational committee of the division. Total, 10 scholarships, $525.

New York reported a committee on education formed in 1909. One scholarship in music, $50.

Florida reported committee on education formed 1909, at work but too short time for reasonable results.

Maryland reported through division president, no committee, but individuals in division were giving to scholarships in the far South. No division or chapter scholarships supported.

Washington reported committee appointed and at work, not able yet to support scholarship, but will offer prize for essay in schools.

Texas reported committee formed 1909. No further report, but your chairman saw in Waco Times a notice of a gift of a scholarship to the division from South Western University at Georgetown, and that the scholarship was awarded August 13th to a young man. 1 scholarship, value not given.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Stonewall chapter reports one scholarship in Miss Berry's School, Rome, Ga., no value given.

Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, reports $250, given to Rabun Gap Industrial School, Georgia. 1 scholarship, $250.

Virginia reports a committee formed in 1909, and three scholarships secured this year; one at Randolph-Macon College, Lynchburg, value not given; one at Chatham Training School, value, $50; one at Chatham Episcopal Institute, value $45. Total scholarships, $95.

Total number of scholarships with value:

Alabama	3	$ 250
Mississippi	6	325
Missouri	3	275
Ohio	1
Pennsylvania	1	250
South Carolina	1	104
Texas	1
General U. D. C.	1	350
North Carolina	10	525
New York	1	50
Virginia	3	95

To sum up this whole work we see that thirteen States are cooperating with the U. D. C. Committee on Education; and that twelve States, namely: Alabama, Florida, Mississippi, Missouri, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Texas, Virginia and Washington, and North Carolina have committees on education, that thirty-one scholarships are given by the U. D. C. as an organization, and that these scholarships are worth free tuition and $2,224 per year for in every case the rule seems to be that free tuition has been generously donated by the educational institutions where the scholarship is held.

The committee's work would show that as a result of their efforts seven States have in the past year appointed educational committees and ten new scholarships secured.

For the convenience of future work of Education Committee I append to this report the names of State Chairmen of Education, as sent to your present chairman this year, and recorded as workers in this line.

The vice-chairman, Mrs. Ross, had charge of the inquiries as to how to work for special educational measures in individual States. On July 1st she reported that five States: Nevada, Texas, Virginia, Washington and Alabama had appealed to her for advice and assistance which was immediately sent them by Mrs. Ross.

You will see from these statistics that there is a vital and earnest interest in education, and that a general U. D. C. committee is needed to coordinate and tabulate the results of so much individual chapter and division work, so that the U. D. C. as a whole may show what they are doing for this great all absorbing question of the day.

Having given an account of our work in the past year, let us now make some suggestions for the future work of this committee in connection with the U. D. C. as an organization.

We recommend: 1st. That all scholarships offered the U. D. C. or managed by them, be placed in the hands of this committee on education, and that the awarding of such scholarships be left to this committee in conference with the educational committee of the State from which the scholar will be sent. When this General U. D. C. Committee on Education was created it was done to find out the educational needs of the general organization. After a year's consideration of the matter, we now know better the work this committee can and should do, and it seems that under the wording of its creation in the constitution: "To foster the educational interests of the association," that this can best be done by unifying all the educational work under one head. We, the Committee on Education, therefore request that this Convention take action upon this recommendation.

We recommend: 2nd. That any scholarship of free tuition offered to the U. D. C. in any institution of learning be put on a par with the scholarship of free tuition now offered by Teachers College, Columbia University. That the scholarship fund raised each year be made a permanent work, or fund of $350. This fund to be available for use at any institution which shall have given the U. D. C. a scholarship of free tuition. The State entitled to the scholarship to select its own candidate, and that candidate to use his or her preference among the scholarships of free tuition. This will place our scholarship on the same plan as those offered by all great educational associations, and in the future open up larger educational opportunities to our beneficiaries. Let every State work to secure a good scholarship of free tuition to offer the general U. D. C. and our one scholar will then have many colleges and universities to pick from.

We also recommend: 3rd. That the $100 prize offered by the U. D. C. for an essay on some Confederate subject now being competed for only at Teacher's College, Columbia University, be opened for competition in five great educational institutions of the United States, Columbia University to be one of the five, and that the U. D. C. Committee on Education be empowered to open negotiations with other universities with the privilege of being allowed to select, with the advice of the President-General, the other four universities whose students shall be offered the privilege of competing for this prize.

Your chairman has not made a flowery report on the value and needs of education. She knows the personnel of the U. D. C. Convention too well to waste its time on such unnecessary words. You all know as well as we, your committee, the value and need for education in all communities, so I have only put out practical and tangible ways of arriving at the great ends for which we are all working.

We want more scholarships, more common school and industrial education, and we want to help the descendants of Confederate Veterans to hold their places in the great struggle of life. We want to preserve Confederate history, and honor the Confederate soldier, and we can find no better way than by training his children and grandchildren to be useful and honorable citizens of these United States.

Your chairman regrets that absence in Europe prevents her being present with you to give this report in person, and to explain, if necessary, any part of which might not seem clear to you. She makes up this report in London and sends it to be read by your vice chairman. Mrs. Röss, whom, she is sure will ably fill her place. Your chairman feels a personal loss in being detained abroad, and thus missing this meeting in the splendid State of Texas, and begs that the convention will give an earnest and thoughtful consideration of this report, as it represents one of the great future activities of our beloved association.

Respectfully submitted,

MARY B. POPPENHEIM,

Charleston, South Carolina.

Chairman, Committee on Education, U. D. C.

Committee: Mrs B. B. Ross, vice-chairman, Auburn, Ala; Mrs. M. C. Goodlett, Tennessee; Mrs. Edgar Marburg, Pennsylvania; Mrs. H. A. London, North Carolina.

ADDENDA.

The following reports were handed the committee at Houston, too late to be incorporated in the regular report, but the committee reports them here as they are most valuable additions to our educational outlook for the first year:

1. Georgia Division reports a home for 60 girls in the Winnie Davis Memorial at the State Normal School; the Division is supporting eighteen free scholarships in the State; $3095.00 toward the Francis Barton Memorial Dormitory.

2. Kentucky Division. The Albert Sidney Johnston chapter of Louisville, has $4000, a legacy, which they devote to educational work. Three (3) scholarships in the State.

3. Louisiana Division. One scholarship in the Louisiana State University.

4. Arkansas. One scholarship in the State University, $140 per annum.

5. Tennessee reports 12 scholarships in schools and colleges, and six half scholarships. Value of scholarships in Tennessee $6000.

6. Texas reports one scholarship in the University of Texas, value $300; one scholarship in Southwestern University. Total 2 scholarships, value $300.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON TEACHERS' COLLEGE PRIZE.

Madam President-General and United Daughters of the Confederacy:

The prize of one hundred dollars offered by the United Daughters of the Confederacy for the best essay written by a student in Teachers' College, Columbia University, on "The South's Part in the War Between the States," was awarded to Miss Jessie E. Guernsey, of New Britain, Connecticut, by a unanimous vote of the three judges, Dr. B. Lawton Wiggins, Vice-Chancellor of the University of the South, Sewanee, Tennessee, Dr. Edwin B. Craighead, President of Tulane University, New Orleans, Louisiana, and Professor Marshall S. Brown, Head of the Department of History, New York University, after receiving the approval of Mrs. Cornelia Branch Stone, President-General of the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

The subject of the essay was, "Jackson versus Calhoun," this topic being selected from a list prepared by Dr. S. C. Mitchell, President of Charleston College, at the request of your committee.

Miss Guernsey has studied at Yale and Chicago Universities, and received her B. S. degree from Columbia University after two year's work at Teachers' College. The essay of Miss Martha Mac Lear received second place and deserves mention because of the clear and logical manner in which she presented the subject, showing thought and research.

The prize essay has been printed in the October number of "The Veteran," and I take it for granted that it has been already read by every Daughter.

Our former judges were, Dr. Edwin A. Alderman, President of the University of Virginia, Dr. C. Alphonso Smith, Head of the Department of History, University of North Carolina, and Dr. John H. Finley, President of the College of the City of New York. In January, your committee received the resignation of Dr. Alderman, and some months later the other gentlemen wrote regretting their inability to serve on account of pressure of work. This made necessary to select an entirely new body of judges. Your chairman is glad to state that the committee was able to secure the services of three distinguished men, whose names I have just read to you. It is only proper to quote your chairman's letter to Dr. Wiggins, the letters to the other judges being similar: "My Dear Dr. Wiggins:

As chairman of a committee appointed by the United Daughters of the Confederacy, to select the judges who shall pass upon and choose the best essay on, "The South's Part in the War Between the States," submitted by the students of Teachers' College, Columbia University, which essay shall then receive a prize of one hundred dollars offered by the United Daughters of the Confederacy, it is my privilege to ask you to serve the association as one of three judges, whose duty it shall be to see that a correct record of the South's part in the War is given, and whose privilege it is to reject all of the essays should they be contrary to the truth of history.

Trusting that you will accept this office, believe me,

Yours sincerely,

LEONORA ROGERS SCHUYLER,
Chairman of Committee.

From the responses which these gentlemen made I select the following extracts:

Dr. Wiggins replied:

It gives me pleasure to serve as one of the judges for awarding the prize of one hundred dollars offered by the United Daughters of the Confederacy."

Dr. Craighead answered:

"I am pleased to know that your committee has asked me to serve as one of the judges to award the prize offered by the Daughters of the Confederacy for the best essay written by a student of Teacher's College on "The South's Part in the War Between the States." I shall be very happy to serve as one of the judges.

With appreciation of the honor which you have conferred upon me, I am, with best wishes,

Very truly yours,

EDWIN B. CRAIGHEAD.

Dr. Brown said in part:

"It will give me great pleasure to act as one of the three judges for the United Daughters of the Confederacy prize competition.

Thanking you for doing me the honor of requesting of me such a patriotic service,

Very sincerely yours,

MARSHALL S. BROWN.

It is a fact of melancholy interest that Dr. Wiggins' decision was received but two days before his death, almost the last work of his life being done in the service of the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

From Miss Guernsey the following letter was received—a most gratifying proof of the usefulness of this prize, which is to stimulate a study of the South's part in the war:

"My Dear Mrs. Schuyler:

I have the pleasure of acknowledging to the United Daughters the Confederacy the prize which has just been forwarded to by Dean Russell of Teachers' College. I am very much the or of the United Daughters of the Confederacy for the pleas-I have had in studying the subject of the essay, and especially a renewed and increased appreciation of John C. Calhoun.

Please accept my gratitude for this as well as for the prize.

Yours very sincerely,
JESSIE E. GUERNSEY."

our chairman would recommend that the United Daughters of Confederacy, continue the appropriation of one hundred dol-annually for the prize, which cannot help but advancing the rest in this subject, and which cannot fail to bring to those who y the subject, much enlightenment. From Teacher's College men women are each year being sent to all parts of this country teachers. It is the teacher who guides and directs the thought the coming generation, and with a wider vision, which comes fuller knowledge, soon the whole land will echo the words, we feel expresses so well our sentiments, "Lee and the South represented, constituted the real patriotic riches of the nation."

Respectfully submitted,
LEONORA ROGERS SCHUYLER,
Chairman of Committee.

REPORT OF EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

The Executive Board met Monday evening at 8:30 o'clock the apartments of the President-General at the Rice Hotel, ston. Those present were: Mrs. Cornelia Branch Stone, dent-General; Mrs. L. C. Hall, Third Vice-President-Gen-
; Mrs. R. C. Cooley, Corresponding Secretary-General;
L. Eustace Williams; Treasurer-General; Mrs. J. Enders
nson, Historian-General, and Mrs. L. H. Raines, Custodian s of Honor. The President declared a quorum and busiproceeded. Later Mrs. Andrew L. Dowdell, Recording Sec-ry-General, and Mrs. James B. Gantt, Registrar-General, e from the Credential Committee room where they had been ined.

the matter of recommending Honorary Presidents to the Con-tion for election was taken up, and the names of Mrs. John dolph Tucker, of Bedford City, Va., formerly Miss Hampton, r of General Wade Hampton, of South Carolina, and of Mrs.

John S. Richardson, of New Orleans, were recommended for the list of Honorary Presidents.

Communications were read from General Clement A. Evans, Order No. 22, to the United Confederate Veterans, and also from General Cabell embodying the same order, No. 22. Motion was made and carried that these communications be received as information.

A communication was read from General Irvine Walker regarding a picture of Jefferson Davis which he had had published, and a suggestion that he publish a set of pictures of five prominent Southern generals, the United Daughters of the Confederacy to guarantee $750.00 for publishing the same, and to receive in return therefor, 200 sets of the pictures to be sold by them. This communication was received as information, and the President-General was requested to report to General Walker, that the U. D. C. could not enter into any financial arrangement for publishing.

The President-General made report of the expenses of her office, and requested that the Executive Board allow her to receive $100.00 in full for the two conventions of 1908 and 1909, and that any further expense of the office remain in the treasury of the U. D. C. as a donation from her to the organization. The sum of $100.00 received will be donated by the President-General to the Arlington Monument fund. A motion was made by Mrs. Gantt that the Executive Board accede to the request of the President-General with thanks for her generosity to the U. D. C. and a rising vote of approval and acceptance was given.

The Executive Board sustained the President-General in giving clerical aid to the Registrar-General.

The meeting adjourned at 10 P. M.

FLORENCE M. COOLEY, Secy.

REPORT OF FINANCE COMMITTEE.

Madam President:

We, your Finance Committee, beg leave to report that we have carefully examined the books, vouchers, etc., of Mrs. Andrew L. Dowdell, Recording Secretary-General, comparing checks, express receipts and telegrams with her books, and we find them correct in every detail. We appreciate the system in which the books and papers were indexed and arranged, thus simplifying the work of this committee. We commend the fine work of this office as shown by the books, and note that by careful attention shown to small ripts, this office has become a source of revenue to the or-zation.

he books, checks and orders of Mrs. L. E. Williams, Treas-
-General, have been thoroughly examined and compared by

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE ON STATIONERY.

lam President:

hen accepting the chairmanship of this committee, I was un-the impression that a Louisville firm would be employed to ish the U. D. C. with official stationery, and hoped that by g on the spot I could expedite all orders and possibly increase demand for our official stationery.

ut a Chicago firm offering better rates than the Louisville ee, was finally decided upon. I am sorry to report, however, very few chapters or divisions have ordered it, notwithstandthat it is not expensive when considering the quality and uty of the work done by Mr. Freund. In the hope of introducit's use more generally, he got out 350 folders at a cost to his ee of $50.00, showing the prices for different qualities and es, and sent it to the different divisions, but he writes me that e has resulted from it, which is very much to be regretted.

profess to love the little flag, which we have adopted as our monial badge, and yet when a time to prove that sentiment es, we seem to be very well satisfied with a cheap and inferior representation of the beautiful little banner, which expresses so much to all who are enrolled under its folds. I believe the general use of our badge, appropriately and tastefully embossed on our stationery, would add both to the prestige and dignity of our organization, and the use of a common and cheap substitute should be persistently discouraged. Mr. Freund will provide the paper in all grades, with badge and appropriate lettering, and is very prompt and accommodating in filling orders, and I would urge upon the members of the U. D. C, the adoption of a uniform badge and style in their stationery, and this can only be done by patronizing the firm that has the official die of our organization.

When we reflect that ours is an order involving less expense to its membership than any one of the other women's societies, it would seem that we might afford this small indulgence.

MRS. L. EUSTACE WILLIAMS, Chairman.

REPORTS OF SPECIAL COMMITTEES

REPORT OF SHILOH MONUMENT COMMITTEE.

Madame President and Members of the Convention:
In making this report of the work of the Shiloh Monument Committee let me recapitulate briefly.

The need at Shiloh of a monument to all Confederate soldiers was presented to the U. D. C. convention at San Francisco, and was there decided by the Daughters of the Confederacy that they build such a monument at Shiloh. This action was re-indorsed at the Gulfport convention and the President General, then Mrs.izzie George Henderson, appointed a Shiloh Director for every State represented in the U. D. C. with myself as chairman. The Memphis convention made the personnel of this committee permanent, and all directors are to serve through the life of the committee,

The few vacancies that have occurred and the new appointments due to the growth of the U. D. C. have been filled by you, Madame President; these have been promptly communicated with me and everything done to stimulate their interest in the work.

The directors have shown much interest; to their zeal is due a great deal worthy of notice—the absence of committee expenses, each director bearing her own expenses, and this is no small item where the division is a large one.

The financial depression of the country has affected Shiloh, too, and the donations for the year closing with this convention amount to more than $2,000.00, as will be shown by the Treasurer's report. There were two notable personal donations, $100.00 from General Tillman, of Kentucky, and $50.00 from Major Clefield, of Texas; would we had others like these men.

At the committee meeting Monday all the directors pledged themselves to renewed efforts to increase this fund, furthermore, it was agreed that since this monument is being erected not by the State, but by the United Daughters of the Confederacy to all Confederate soldiers, it should be a handsome monument of which every Daughter will be proud to say, "we built it."

Daughters, this is your work we are doing and through the coming year do not forget it, but help with it, that the monument may be worthy of you and the cause it represents.

Since coming to this convention I have been asked where this monument will be placed, I reply, "In Shiloh National Military Park." And where is Shiloh? Surely all know it is near Pittsburg Landing, on the Tennessee River, in Tennessee, where was fought that most frightful battle so full of tremendous results to the whole country, a battle on which hung the very life of the Confederacy, a battle which brought tears and heartbreak to nearly every Southern home. It will be placed on that momentous battlefield where the great Albert Sidney Johnston, so loved and so mourned by all the South, led the long grey line of Confederates against Grant and Sherman with their thousands in blue—the battlefield where Albert Sidney Johnston gave his life for the South.

On Shiloh's field today sleep so many thousands of the South's dearest and best and they rest not in graves, but in trenches. In one trench alone lie 4,000 Confederate dead.

Do not think you will be placing this monument in an obscure place or that it will not be seen; month after month Northern States place at Shiloh magnificent monuments, and when each one is dedicated not only hundreds, but thousands of people from the North go to Shiloh and go all over that battlefield. And where are the Southern monuments to tell the part of the Confederates in that battle? Still to be erected.

Distinguished foreigners go to Shiloh to go over the battle's lines and study the strategy of that battle. Hundreds of private citizens of the North and of the South go to Shiloh every month, for this is one of the most beautiful military parks in America. They see hundreds of shafts proclaiming the valor of the North, but what of the South?

Don't you see why the South should raise at least one handsome shaft of her own?

This committee has now decided to take up and consider a design for this monument; we know you want it to be representative and symbolic of the South, so help us with this fund that the monument may be so impressive and beautiful that the many, many visitors to the battlefield will be attracted by it, will go to it and read the inscriptions upon it which will tell the wonderful story of our soldiers' valor, and in so telling shall antagonize none, but do justice where it is needed.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. ALEXANDER B. WHITE,
Director General Shiloh Monument Committee.

276 MINUTES OF SIXTEENTH ANNUAL CONVENTION,
REPORT OF CHAIRMAN OF EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE,
ARLINGTON CONFEDERATE MONUMENT
ASSOCIATION.

Washington, D. C., October 6, 1909.

Mrs. Cornelia Branch Stone,
President U. D. C.
Galveston, Texas.

Madame President:

The undersigned, as Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Arlington Confederate Monument Association, begs leave to submit his annual report, accompanying the same with the reports of Mrs. Mary G. Johnson, Corresponding Secretary, and Mrs. Drury Conway Ludlow, Recording Secretary.

By your direction, this committee, during the current year, put itself in communication with the several State Directors of the Association, endeavoring to aid and stimulate them in their work. The report of the Corresponding Secretary is that the committee mostly in this work, sent out during the year 3435 letters and appeals.

The report of the Recording Secretary shows the number of meetings held.

The report of the Treasurer, to follow this, will show specifically, all the items received by him as deposited, and the amount of money on hand in the American Security & Trust Company, together with the interest that has accrued up to the 15th of the present month. The figures, given me this day, are $12,420.54, but moneys in sight, and expected to be covered in before this 15th instant should run this sum up over $13,000.00

All the before mentioned officers have performed their duties faithfully, and in the case of the treasurer, the duties have been not only responsible, but arduous. The committee is grateful to all of them for their services.

Our meetings have been held in the rooms belonging to the Confederate societies here in the city, without any expense to the Association, and indeed the report will also show that our entire expenses during the year have been practically nil.

And in this connection, permit me to call attention to the fact, as will appear from the treasurer's report, that in the little District of Columbia, although it comprises only a few hundred ex-Confederate, we have raised and paid in more money during the year to this monument fund, than has any single State, the noble old State of Virginia possibly excepted. During the same the Confederate societies here have raised and expended very considerable sums for the relief of needy Confederate families and the burial of indigent veterans.

The progress that has been made during the last year in collections, while not as much as was hoped for, has been very gratifying. No one can look over the many contributions coming from chapters and persons scattered, not only all over the Confederacy, but throughout many Northern States, where they have planted chapters, without feeling deeply impressed with the wide breadth and depth of the sentiment, which is gradually and surely accumulating a fund, now sure to become before long sufficient to authorize the final planning of the noble monument for our dead, which the Monument Association has set out to erect at the home of Lee. The fact that most of the contributions are generous, and many of them indeed quite so, indicates how thoroughly representative our monument is to be.

As chairman of this committee, I have naturally been the recipient of many letters from artists throughout the country offering information about the monument, its proposed cost, etc., and offering or asking to submit designs. To these I invariably reply, that no design, either general or special has been fixed upon, and that no idea can now be given, even as to the amount of money the association ought to have on hand before it could be able to consider any designs whatever; and in some instances, making as I have always stated, for myself and myself alone, I am pressed for my opinion as to how much money we ought to have on hand before considering this question, I fixed the amount at $40,000.

When reporting this at our meeting last night, the committee, after some discussion, formulated the opinion, that the Association ought very well begin to consider the question of a plan when we could have as much as $35,000 in sight; and I was authorized to communicate this opinion of the committee to the Association in this report, for consideration at your annual meeting.

Of course, all this matter is now in the hands of the Arlington Confederate Monument Association, and the Daughters in their next annual convention. But on behalf of this committee, I beg, here to urge, with all the force of a very deep and abiding conviction, that I request that no single binding step in the direction of selecting a plan, or an artist, should be taken until we are in possession of a fund amply sufficient to enable us to demand and secure a memorial that will be artistic, durable, appropriate and as noble as any work of human art can be of that noble band of patriots, whose devotion and heroism it is to commemorate and to consecrate for all time.

Speaking for each and every member of the committee, which I have the honor to represent, I beg to say that not one of them has in mind any scheme, pet idea or artist.

We originated here in the District of Columbia, the idea of this memorial at Arlington. We raised a considerable sum of money before the Daughters turned their hands. We induced Congress to pass the bill under which the bodies of the Confederate dead in the District were gathered and placed together in that beautiful Confederate section at Arlington. We procured the consent of the Secretary of War to the erection of a monument, or memorial, in the place reserved for it. We have all thought long and seriously of the manner in which the work has to be done; and very naturally we earnestly hope that when the time comes for agreeing upon a design and artist, this committee will be fully represented and have a potential voice in making the selection. Naturally, we all desire that the work should be completed as soon as may be. For myself, my earnest wish is, that I may live to see it accomplished, although, full of years as I am, I may never have this pleasure. But I would much prefer to die with the assurance that my comrades and co-workers, will yet erect at Arlington, a memorial that will be "a thing of beauty, and a joy forever," rather than see one erected there during my lifetime which will be a make-shift.

Do not let this be an ordinary monument, telling at once of the good intentions and the poverty of its authors. Let it be, when it does rise, a work of genius, speaking with an inspiration, the unflinching love and admiration of the Southern people, for our dead soldiers, and the great leader at whose home it is to stand.

The voice of history is beginning already to be heard. Years ago, the name of Robert E. Lee, was placed by Northern men in their Hall of Fame. Two years ago, Charles Francis Adams, a descendant of two presidents, gallant soldier in the Federal army, scholar and historian, said of Lee, that he was an incomparable leader, and that had he been in Lee's place, he would have chosen, as Lee did the side of the South. And of the army Lee lead, he endorsed Lee's opinion, that it was the best that had ever been organized. All our armies were of the same material as the army of Northern Virginia.

Recently in the June number of the North Atlantic, Morris Schaff, a general in the Federal Army of the Potomac, and, who also had been an antagonist of General Lee, writing of him as a great soldier, and as an unspotted, serenely lofty character, rendered him a tribute as eloquent as ever was traced by the pen of a Southerner. And in the same article, that brave Northern soldier, now our countryman, thus voiced the final verdict of history. Writing of the Battle of the Wilderness, and speaking of Army of Northern Virginia, which he said was only about half the size of its antagonist, he said that three years had then passed during which its soldiers had considered the question of slavery that was involved in the war. Now, he said, and said truly, the Confederate soldiers admitted to themselves that there were wrongs connected with slavery, and reasoned thus with themselves. If there are wrongs, there are also rights. Mankind knows that we of today, are not responsible for slavery. It descended from our fathers, and through generations, it has knitted itself into our homes, our social and our political life. We cannot separate ourselves from it at once without chaos and possible universal massacre. But if our slaves are entitled to freedom, we are entitled to govern ourselves; for that is the first of heaven-born rights in the hands of freemen. In other words, we are asking only for our natural rights, incorporated in the rights of our States, which underlie the foundations of the Union, and stand in majesty before the Southern mind, the original sovereignty of the old colonies, with Washington and Adams at the head, to be brought into review.

No, whatever may have been our delirium at the beginning of the war, we are not fighting for the defense of property, in human beings, but for the ineradicable and unconquerable instinct of self-government as States; and for our homes.

In the ground of the right of self-government, we will stand, committing our souls to God, and our memories to those who will show us, let history record what it may, as to our justification in the years and the days to come.'

And thus having answered the question in the eyes of the future, resolutely but calmly, they fell upon their knees and asked God to bless them. There, reader, we have the spring of their fortitude, and there we touch the tender chords which keep the memory of the Confederacy dear."

When those of our countrymen, who were once their enemies, look thus of our dead, what abatement can there be in the vengeance for them to us, who are of the household?

Virginia, the proud mother of Washington and Lee, has recently placed the statues of both in the hall of our National Capitol.

Over against our capital city, and looking down upon it from Arlington, on the other side of the river, is to stand our monument. It is to be erected to the memory of the soldiers whose hearts were fired by the example of Washington, and who were led and inspired by the genius and character of Lee. Let it be ours to see that this monument shall be worthy to stand in that place and to commemorate those heroes.

All these things I am saying, would perhaps be out of place in an official report, were it not that I am attempting to voice the earnest wish of the Executive Committee here that no steps shall be taken towards the construction of the monument, or memorial, we have in view, until we are able to pay for one that will be a source of just pride to us and our posterity. We have now made substantial progress, and are in position to assure those to whom we shall appeal hereafter, that we mean to and will succeed, and it may be, and I believe will be, that in the immediate future, some of our many friends, whom providence has blessed with ample means, will make us liberal contributions. Even though we should be disappointed in this reasonable expectation of large individual contributions in the future, and are obliged to continue as we are going on, still, with the contributions of mites that come in from many sources, we will eventually secure all the money we need.

Respectfully submitted,

HILARY A. HERBERT,

Chairman Executive Committee, Arlington Confederate Monument Association.

REPORT OF RECORDING SECRETARY, A. C. M. A.

October, 1908, to October, 1909.

The Executive Committee has held a meeting every month except July, August and September, according to the By-Laws. The time of meeting, for good reasons, was changed from the first Saturday to the first Monday in each month. The meetings have been well attended especially by members of the Advisory Board. The personnel of the committee has changed somewhat during the year, but all the officers have remained as first elected. An appeal was sent out in the spring, to all chapters, U. D. C., throughout the South, asking them to make an effort about memorial day, to raise money for the monument, and awaken interest in this undertaking.

A lecture was given under the auspices of the Ex-committee, early in June, to raise funds.

Respectfully submitted,

DRURY CONWAY LUDLOW,

Recording Secretary.

REPORT OF PRESIDENT EX-OFFICIO. A. C. M. A.

At the United Daughters of the Confederacy, in Convention Assembled:

At the General Convention, held in Norfolk, Virginia, November 1, 1907, the United Daughters of the Confederacy accepted the trust of erecting a monument, in the Arlington National Cemetery, from the Confederate organizations of the District of Columbia, which, with the exception of one camp, were all joined in this work.

Mrs. Magnus S. Thompson, President of the Stonewall Jackson Chapter, U. D. C., of Washington, D. C., is credited with having been the "mother" of this movement, and has nobly sustained the cause, since its inauguration in her division and chapter.

The United Daughters of the Confederacy received $1460.25 from the organization that had this work in charge, five hundred dollars of which amount had been given to this fund, by the U. D. C. at the general convention, at Gulfport, Miss. The Norfolk Convention provided a skeleton plan, for the reorganization of the Arlington Confederate Monument Association, and immediately after my election to the office of President-General, U. D. C., at the convention in November, 1907, I went to Washington, D. C., to reorganize the Association, as the Executive Committee was to be located there.

A meeting was called at the Arlington Hotel, of the chapters, U. D. C., camps, U. C. V. and U. S. C. V., and instructions were given, how to proceed with the reorganization. December 12th, was named as the day of meeting for this purpose, and notices were sent out by myself, calling a meeting of three members to be selected from each of the five chapters of the District of Columbia, two members from each of the two camps, U. C. V., and three members of the camp, U. S. C., these to form an executive committee. All responded except the Broadway Rous Camp, U. C.

V., which declined to co-operate. Organization was not completed at this meeting, but on December 21st, 1907, another meeting was held, at which the Executive Committee was organized, with a membership of twenty-one, and an Advisory Board of nine members, with the following officers:

Col. Hilary A. Herbert, Chairman; Mrs. Marion Butler, Vice-Chairman; Mrs. Drury C. Ludlow, Recording Secretary; Mrs. Arthur E. Johnson, Corresponding Secretary, Mr. Wallace Streater, Treasurer.

In each State having organization of the Daughters of the Confederacy, a director was appointed, who was first recommended by the president of each division, and in States where no division had been formed, by the president of the charter chapter. These directors, with the Executive Committee, and the Advisory Board, with the President-General, U D. C., as ex-officio President, formed the Arlington Confederate Monument Association. Suitable By-Laws were formulated and adopted, and the treasurer bonded.

It was out of a somewhat discordant condition, that this was effected, but it is very gratifying to report, that from the beginning of the work, the new organization has shown a unity and harmony of action and purpose, with unselfish devotion and interest.

The second report of the treasurer, for the months ending February 28th, 1908, showed collection for that month of $2325.72 This amount included one thousand dollars from the Stonewall Jackson Chapter, and one thousand from the R. E. Lee Chapter, both of Washington, sums previously raised, and held, by these chapters, which together with the amount turned over by the former Arlington Monument Association, gave to the credit of this fund $3,785.92. The treasurer now reports a balance of nearly $14,000, realized in one year and eight months, since the U. D. C. had organized this association for the collection of funds. This result, too, in the midst of a great financial depression throughout our country, and the necessity that confronted the chapters and camps of Washington, from which the Executive Committee is formed, to raise the sum of $20,000 to meet payment on a Home for the Confederate organizations of that city, for which they had contracted.

During the year 1908, Senator Bob Taylor, of Tennessee, graciously contributed a lecture for this fund, which he delivered in the Capitol City, netting nearly five hundred dollars; and during the year 1909, the Executive Committee inaugurated a "white ribbon day"—and sent out circulars to the U. D. C. chapters, ask-observance as a means of raising funds. This was not fully observed, but realized something for the cause. Twenty-State directors have sent written reports in response to those sent out to them, through the Corresponding Secretary, and all have shown great energy and interest in making suggestions; the Virginia director deserving special mention for her zeal in this work, the amount raised being double that of any other director, amounting in the two years to $1,409.89. It is gratifying to find that the sentiment in favor of this work, has been strengthened and increased, and that larger collections will be made in the next year. Conceiving, that the interest in this work might be stimulated and broadened, I decided to appoint a committee on Design, for the Arlington Confederate Monument, composed of seven members, with full power to invite the submission of designs for the monument, and to select the one deemed the most appropriate, and to report such selection with the name of the artist to the Executive Committee, which shall thereupon make the contract for the completed monument in strict accordance with the selected design. On this committee on design, I appointed two members of the Executive Committee, Mrs. Marion C. and Mr. Wallace Streater; two members of the Advisory Board, Judge Seth Shepard and Rev. Dr. Randolph McCall and Mrs. Thos. W. Keitt from the Board of Directors, and Mrs. Virginia Faulkner McSherry, from the United Daughters of the Confederacy at large; thus leaving the selection of a seventh member and chairman, to be nominated by this body and ratified at the general convention, now in session.

The appointment of this committee was decided as being the best method of ascertaining, or approximating the cost of such a monument, as would worthily commemorate the Confederate dead, and be placed in the Arlington National Cemetery, and to express the noble significance of this monument, which will be so placed before the public mind, it should in some artistic form, typify the spirit of the Confederacy—it should also show, that it stands on the soil of the home of Robert E. Lee, and it should be a memorial to those who, with matchless courage and fortitude, followed this great leader; it should reflect, too, the culture and refinement of the South, which it will represent.

I cannot urge upon you, too strongly, the necessity for earnest and effective co-operation in securing, as speedily as possible, a sufficient sum—not less than thirty-five or forty thousand dollars—to accomplish this great work.

CORNELIA BRANCH STONE,

President U. D. C., and officio President, Arlington Confederate Monument Association.

REPORT OF THE TREASURER, A. C. M. A., FOR THE YEAR ENDING OCTOBER 31, 1909.

Mrs. Cornelia Branch Stone, President-General, U. D. C.,

Madam:—I have the honor to submit the following report of the amounts received by me as Treasurer of the Arlington Confederate Monument Association since its formation, and the amounts disbursed for expenses.

The relatively large amount received during the first year was in some measure to the fact that the sum of $1,457.25 came from the old Association of the same name, and about $2,000 was received in by chapters in the District of Columbia from funds which have been accumulating for several years. With this understanding it will be seen that the receipts during the current year have not only exceeded those of the year 1908, thus showing the awakened interest in the work.

Treasurer, Arlington Confederate Monument Association.

REPORT OF TRANSPORTATION COMMITTEE.

President and Daughters of the Confederacy: I am, the Transportation Committee, of the U. D. C. General Association, appointed to secure rates for the annual convention held in Houston, Texas, in October, 1909, beg leave to submit the following report:

Due to the serious illness of Mrs. D. J. Price, chairman of the committee, the President-General wrote me in the latter part of the year, requesting me to act as chairman. Always ready to respond to the call of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, I consented, not being aware of the magnitude of the work.

I wrote immediately to all members of the committee, asking for their co-operation, and received early responses assuring me of their hearty support.

We discovered that securing rates from the numerous railway lines, was as serious a matter as Congress found confronting it in trying to settle the tariff question, however through the kindness of Mr. D. J. Price, General Passenger and Ticket Agent of the International and Great Northern Railroad Company, and after voluminous correspondence with different passenger associations and bureaus, we at last succeeded in obtaining very favorable rates; a circular was formulated and sent to all members of the Transportation Committee, each of whom acted as chairman for her State, and she was requested to have the information given to each chapter in her jurisdiction.

This circular was also sent to each State president, also requesting them to notify their chapters, and to have the circular published in the newspapers, the same information was given to officers of the General Association, also State officers and press reporters.

Although the time was limited, we were able to have rates well advertised, and we secured good rates; if the work of the committee is unsatisfactory to any one, let them ask for the honor of serving on this committee for the next general convention, and learn of the hardships that hamper the really active worker in this line, and I am confident you will be willing to spread the mantle of charity over what may seem to be short-comings.

Wishing you one and all a pleasant time while in the Lone Star State, we assure you that we did our best to get you here.

MRS. A. R. HOWARD,

Acting Chairman. Transportation Committee, General Association, U. D. C.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON SCHOLARSHIP AT TEACHERS' COLLEGE.

dam President-General and United Daughters of the Confederacy.

As Chairman of the committee in charge of the scholarship given by Dr. James Earle Russell, Dean of Teachers' College, Columbia University, to the United Daughters of the Confederacy, the descendant of a Confederate veteran, it is gratifying to report that Miss Armida Moses, who was the successful candidate from South Carolina for the year 1908-1909, completed the work necessary to receive her Master of Arts degree from Columbia University last June. Miss Moses was a young woman of great aptness and strength of character, and her record at Teachers' College stands as a credit to the association she represented.

Mississippi, being the State next in the line of secession, received the scholarship for the year 1909-1910. Mississippi's chairman of the Committee on Education, Mrs. Dunbar Rowland, has selected as their representative, Miss Elise Timberlake, Clinton, Mississippi. Miss Timberlake has entered Teachers' College and expects to receive her degree next June. She is thoroughly in earnest, and her gratitude at being able to have the opportunity to study at Teachers' College, is most sincere. At the convention in Atlanta 1908, through voluntary contributions, the sum of $142.50 was pledged toward the necessary $150.00 for the living expenses of the Student at Teachers' College. Your chairman was deeply touched by a letter from the Federation of Women's Clubs of the State of Mississippi, offering to give the sum necessary to complete this amount for the coming year, with the condition that the scholarship stand in the name jointly of the United Daughters of the Confederacy and the Federation of Women's Clubs.

Your chairman wrote that as deeply as she regretted to decline their generous offer under the conditions they had laid down, it would be impossible to accept, as the scholarship was a gift from Dean Russell, of Teachers' College, to the United Daughters of the Confederacy for the descendant of a Confederate veteran, and was a recognition of a Confederate veteran's place in the pages of history, and that the living expenses were voluntary contributions, in no way affecting the status of the scholarship, and that we should be most happy to have the Federation join with us in contributing to the living expenses, but could only recognize their gift as a contribution. The response to this letter was truly gratifying:

286b MINUTES OF SIXTEENTH ANNUAL CONVENTION,

My Dear Mrs. Schuyler:

Your letter of September 28th, was referred to our Committee on Education, which met yesterday. We made the award to Miss Timberlake and have written to her and to Mrs. Stone, and will publish the award as soon as we hear from them. Please let me know the exact amount we shall give, when and to whom it shall be sent.

Thanking you for your kind letter, and expressing our appreciation of the privilege of aiding the beneficiary of your United Daughters of the Confederacy Scholarship.

Sincerely yours.

(MISS) SUSIE V. POWELL,
Chairman Educational Committee.

Mississippi Federation of Women's Clubs.

This offer was at once accepted by your chairman with thanks.

Again I bring to the United Daughters of the Confederacy, a renewal of this gift from Dean Russell, and with the hope that every member present will show her appreciation of this great opportunity offered to Southern Students by being generous towards the living expenses of the next holder of the scholarship.

Respectfully submitted,

LEONORA ROGERS SCHUYLER,
Chairman of Committee.

DIVISION REPORTS

ALABAMA DIVISION

Alabama President and Members of the Convention:

According to the last census report, there were in Texas more Alabama citizens than representatives from any other State. One of your distinguished senators is a native of the county adjoining my own, and recently I was told by an Alabama legislator, who had lived in Texas, that a few years ago the entire Supreme Court of the Lone Star State was composed of former Alabamians. Such being the case, I hardly feel that I am coming among you as a stranger, particularly as I spent one of the pleasantest years of my life in one of your North Texas cities, where the special kindness and warmhearted hospitality of your people made me feel as if I were a native Texan. In view of this personal experience, I believe with Garrison, that "the grain of mustard seed sown in the far West has grown to a stately tree, in which many of the best ideas and impulses of the whole outer world have found a home to nest." Pardon this digression.

To you, Daughters of Texas and of the Southland, I bring the good wishes of a progressive, wide awake division, which is ever ready to give the best that is in her to the work of the U. D. C. We feel that we have a larger interest in, and a clearer idea of the work of this organization since our distinguished president-elect, Mrs. Cornelia Branch Stone, honored Alabama by attending the last convention which was held in Huntsville in May. Her presence meant much to our Daughters, for she was so conversant with every phase of the U. D. C. work that her counsel was of great value. This convention was most fortunate in having also as a guest with Mrs. Stone, Mrs. Helen Plane, of Georgia, one of our Honorary Presidents, and as one of its charming hostesses, the revered and greatly honored, Mrs. Virginia Clopton, the South's Confederate queen. This convention was still further notable in that nine veterans of the Fourth Ohio Cavalry, as guests of the city of Huntsville, came to us bringing with them a worn, tattered Confederate flag, captured at Selma, Alabama, in 1863, which they presented to the State through Mrs. Charles G. Brown, my able predecessor, through whose earnest efforts the flag was located and returned. The occasion was unique and one never to be forgotten by those so fortunate as to be present.

As State President of Alabama, I ask that a resolution of appreciation from the general U. D. C. be sent Gov. Harmon for this courtesy.

In June, on Alumni Day of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute, at Auburn, the Alumni Association unveiled a splendid memorial tablet in remembrance of the students who fought under the Stars and Bars of the Confederacy. The presentation was made by Dr. Howard M. Hamill, of Nashville, Tenn., himself a soldier student of the college, who conceived the beautiful idea of a memorial to his fellow-students, who were his comrades in arms. My family being closely connected with the Confederate history of the college and also as President of the Alabama Division, I was invited to unveil the tablet. As the sweet familiar strains of Auld Lang Syne resounded through the hall, the splendid silken banner of the Alabama Division was slowly drawn aside, revealing the memorial. General Clement A. Evans, Commander of the U. C. V., expressed his sincere appreciation of this formal college commemoration of the services of its dead and living soldier students, as a precedent that should be widely followed. The Admiral Semmes Chapter at Auburn contributed to this memorial.

Immediately after receiving the sad news of Mrs. Hayes' death a telegram of sympathy was sent to the family and a committee was appointed, with Mrs. Clay-Clopton, the life-long friend of the Davis family, as chairman, to draft suitable resolutions.

The entire amount necessary to place the Alabama window in Old Blandford church, Petersburg, Va., was in hand in May and the chairman of this committee was assured that the window would be in position for unveiling in June. Very recently the chairman wrote me that on account of other windows, which the manufacturers wished to place at the same time with ours, the work must be postponed until the spring of 1910.

It is the proud boast of Alabama that she has twenty-five active children's chapters, with a capable, enthusiastic director, Mrs. Mary G. Pickens, as is evidenced by the work accomplished: namely, the founding in September at the Alabama Polytechnic Institute at Auburn, after three years of work, the Lee Memorial scholarship of $1250, which yields in interest $100 annually, to assist in the education of the son of a veteran. The presentation ceremony was made a great occasion. Mrs. Pickens, in the presence of the trustees, the faculty and the student body, consisting of seven hundred and twenty-five men, formally presented the gift, and the president, Dr. Thach, and a representative from the trustees, accepted the fund, guaranteeing $100 annually to the Division for the above purpose. It was a joy to know of and to see the enthusiasm of the Alabama children over their splendid work. The director has already announced that the Alabama children will encourage the children and to create an interest, the president gives a silk Confederate banner to the auxiliary sending in at the convention the best report of work done. She also offers the auxiliaries a handsome gold medal for the most correct answers to questions sent to each director six weeks before the annual meeting.

Educationally we are awakening. There are besides the scholarship just referred to, one of $100 at Auburn supported by the State, one in Troy Normal College, in which tuition is free, and the balance is paid by the local chapter, and a number of small local scholarships. Alabama has had for more than two years a very efficient scholarship committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. J. M. Thompson, which has accomplished much along educational lines.

The Educational Committee itself was not appointed until 1898 and since then, every school, whether denominational, private or State, is being given the opportunity to assist in the educational work.

During the summer six beautiful Confederate monuments have been unveiled, namely: at Athens, Ozark, Livingston, Clayton, and Huntsville, and five are in process of erection.

Our chapters are placing headstones to mark the soldiers' graves. At Gadsden, Ala., recently all our soldiers' graves were marked with the iron Maltese cross, while the Federal soldiers' graves were marked with white marble headstones with red lettering by the Daughters of the Gadsden Chapter.

Every year in the State has an Arlington Day, in which the usual plans are carried out for raising funds for this great cause in which we are all intensely interested. I am confident our division will have a good report to offer this year.

The special monument work of the division, is to raise funds to erect a handsome monument on the field of Gettysburg. The Daughters expect to receive State aid for this great undertaking.

Having so recently erected a monument at Shiloh, our division has thus far done but little for the contemplated U. D. C. monument, but I will urge the claims of this important work and, I pray, that Alabama will do her part.

Our division conferred only 274 Crosses of Honor this year as the large number for September 27 could not be filled.

The Historian, Mrs. Alberta Taylor, of Huntsville, and her committee, which has the sympathetic co-operation of the Veterans and the Sons of Veterans are successfully searching for historic places in our State. These places are written up carefully in the organ and the chapters nearest to them are asked to mark them suitably. The Cradle of the Confederacy Chapter, Montgomery, has marked the site of the old Exchange Hotel, where Mr. Davis made his first appearance as President of the Confederacy. The historian assists chapters in arranging programs and she publishes weekly in the organ, articles on historic subjects.

Four years ago, Mrs. J. N. Thompson, as president, appointed a strong committee for the Soldiers' hospital at the Home, of which the division had charge. Observing the careful and efficient work of these women, the State Board of Control of the Soldiers' Home has formally requested that this Committee of which Mrs. J. H. Kirkpatrick, of Montgomery, is chairman, be auxiliary to the State committee and that it take general supervision of affairs at the Home. Despite the fact that Alabama has provided most liberally for the old soldiers, every chapter insists on having a part in this loyal, true work, so you may rest assured that the Faulkner Home is well kept.

We are more systematically organized than ever before as a result of more careful registration. The Registrar-General will bear me out in saying we have done nobly in this line considering that the State Registrar's book was burned less than a year ago.

Realizing that Admiral Raphael Semmes, the great Sea Captain of the Confederacy, who lived and died in Mobile, Ala., was worthy of all the honor and homage our Confederate organizations could bestow, the centenary of his birth, which fell on September 27, was most fittingly and elaborately observed throughout the State by members of our organization, by the Memorial Associations, and by the Camps of Veterans and Sons of Veterans.

As there is a time limit for reports, I must bring mine to a close, pledging my State's co-operation in every endeavor of this great organization.

Respectfully submitted.

LATITIA DOWDELL ROSS.

President Alabama Division, U. D. C.

BISBEE, ARIZONA.

Madam President and Daughters of the Confederacy:

The Albert Sidney Johnston Chapter of the United Daughters of Confederacy, Bisbee, Arizona, sends loving greetings and best wishes to the members of the convention, assembled in Houston.

This chapter was organized May 6, 1909, with seventeen charter members, representatives of nine states.

As several members have been away for the summer we have accomplished much as a chapter, but are expecting better things for the coming year. The chapter celebrated the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Jefferson Davis, at the home of Mrs. Clara Minor Lynn. An excellent program was rendered and a social evening was enjoyed. There is only one Confederate veteran in Bisbee. By invitation he took part in Memorial Day exercises with the G. A. R., May 30, 1909. In memory of the gallant man who wore the Grey, who stood for heroism and patriotism, we hope that the United Daughters of the Confederacy may grow longer from year to year.

Respectfully submitted,
SALOME TOWNSEND, Secretary.

ARKANSAS DIVISION

Madam President and Daughters of the Confederacy:
Again I have the honor of bringing you a message of love and loyalty from the Daughters of Arkansas. Since our happy meeting in Atlanta, another year has been recorded in the annals of time, a year that has left its mark upon each one of us, especially those of us who, having reached the noonday of life, are fast approaching the setting sun; a year that has been marked by many trials and disappointments, likewise by much of success and many blessings.

Our work has been both profitable and pleasant, for the Daughters of the Confederacy of Arkansas are a busy band of earnest workers whose efforts are being crowned with success. Three years ago, plans were formed to collect funds for the building of a monument at Shiloh, to the memory of the soldiers from Arkansas who died upon that bloody field, where not one wreath of laurel waves from Arkansas. We are now ready to give the contact and we feel that in the completion of this labor of love, we have canceled one more obligation to the heroes of our beloved Southland.

"A land of tombs, but let her bear
This blazon to the end of time;
No nation rose so white and fair,
Or fell so free of crime."

The fund for the memorial window to David O. Dodd, in the Arkansas room of the Richmond Museum, is not being forgotten. Though negligent in the past, the future shall vindicate our loyalty to the memory of this boy hero of Arkansas.

"Who when close by his college door,
He stood a mighty crowd before;

He knew his lessons, all were done,
 Yet, was beneath that Southern sun
 A lesson taught to many a one.

He did not urge his youth's fair claim,
 Nor tell a single comrades name,
 He would not take a length of days
 That lead through such dishonored ways."

In our love for the dead, we have not forgotten the needs of the living—a most worthy young man is now enjoying the benefits of the scholarship maintained in our State University by the Daughters of Arkansas. The old soldiers in the Home are remembered on many occasions, but especially at Christmas, the feast of love; fruits, nuts, candies, etc., with that which they enjoy most of all, a little pocket money, is given each one. Last Christmas many an old man had the companion of his life beside him, for the Woman's Annex is now occupied and these dear old ladies were also remembered with gifts that gladdened their hearts.

The library work, recommended by our Historian General, has received but little attention, not from lack of interest or the want of material, but from the need of proper quarters. This trouble we hope to overcome in the near future. The historical department has not been neglected, many valuable papers are being collected, and a number of pictures of Confederate heroes have been placed in the schools throughout the State, which to my mind, is one of the most practical ways of teaching history to our children. Nearly all chapters of the Arkansas Division held memorial services in honor of Mrs. Margaret Davis Hayes, the beloved daughter of President Davis.

The Semmes Centennial and all memorial days have been duly observed.

The work of organizing chapters of children of the Confederacy has not met with the success we had hoped for, but we have made a beginning six chapters having been organized.

Only two new chapters have been added to our State roll, Harris Flanagin, of Achadelphia and James F. Fagan, of Benton, but our membership over the State has steadily increased. Our annual convention will convene in Fayetteville, the home of our State university, on October 27, and I extend each member of this convention a cordial invitation to be with us on that occasion.

Texas is very near Arkansas, so near in fact, that we feel that you are almost within our gates, and in 1910 we hope you will be our guests in the fair City of Roses.

MRS. O. HALLIBURTON,
 President Arkansas Division, U. D. C.

CALIFORNIA DIVISION.

our President and United Daughters of the Confederacy: California is holding the Portola Festival in honor of its first Governor, Don Gaspar de Portola and sends you greeting, cordially wishing that you were all with us to join in our festivities.

Our division is increasing in numbers, and at our last State Convention, held in San Francisco at the St. Francis Hotel, demonstrated how wide-spread the interest in our work has become. We had many men of note address the meetings, and the business was transacted with harmony and dispatch. We were very proud of our very interesting and well conducted meetings and the social affairs on the program were well attended, and the reception held at the St. Francis Hotel, in the Colonial Ballroom, was most enjoyable.

The street-car ride and automobile trip around the city was very interesting, showing to the visiting delegates how our city of San Francisco has been almost entirely rebuilt and with many newer buildings.

The picnic given in the University of California grounds under the beautiful oak trees by the Berkeley Chapter was well attended and carefully arranged for the enjoyment of the guests.

We have a number twenty-two chapters in our division, with a membership of fourteen hundred and thirteen.

The Executive Committee on organization of new chapters is quite energetic and there are several towns, where we are working to form new chapters. Sacramento's chapter, George D. Brookes Chapter, is growing, and ambitiously hoping for the next State Convention. Our division has sent $5.00 to the Beauregard Monument fund, and $5.00 to the support of the scholarship at Columbia University.

The Shiloh Monument fund has been increased by $141, and the Arlington Monument fund by $183 during the past year, under the management of their able directors.

There is the greatest interest in our charity work, and all the chapters are doing their share, and being assisted sometimes by the State fund for the Relief of Southern Veterans and Aged Southern Women—which is under the care of Mrs. Wm. B. Prichard as chairman. At our last State Convention, it was recommended that a per capita tax of ten cents be given by the chapters for this State fund. The charity work is the greatest work of our division, and it gives me much pleasure to state that we have been able to help many who are in need—paying rents, and helping financially those temporarily requiring assistance in paying the railroad fare and sending in the most comfortable way, old veterans, back to their homes in the South, where they will be taken care of for the remainder of their lives.

All the chapters give entertainments in aid of their charity funds, and they are most interesting and very successful.

The Traveling Library was discussed at the last State convention, and it was suggested that a list of books contained therein be made, and that the books be donated to Schools for Boys.

The chapters all report observance of the two memorial days, in honor of Jefferson Davis and Robert E. Lee, with fitting ceremonies, and very instructive historical papers have been read by some of the members. The papers on an Education Committee and those on an Exchange Library were sent to me too late to send in reports in time, and nothing has been done towards them in our division. We cannot do any work in the public schools in California, as they are managed by School Boards, who would not allow us to make suggestions.

The chapters have very pleasant social meetings after the business meetings are held. Refreshments are served, and as the monthly gatherings are at the homes of different members, it is with increasing interest and pleasure that our work is discussed on these informal afternoons.

The Albert Sidney Johnston Chapter of San Francisco held a reception on August 8th, 1909, at Mrs. Selden S. Wright's home, who is the chapter's president, and President Emeritus on the Pacific coast, in honor of the 13th anniversary of the organization of the United Daughters of the Confederacy on this coast, and the first chapter organized outside of the Southern States. Papers were read descriptive of the first organizing by Mrs. Selden S. Wright, and Mrs. Wm. B. Prichard ably discussed our progress and wonderful growth and merited recognition; followed by a musical program. The officers of the four other near-by chapters were invited and attended, and Mrs. Wright was presented with a very handsome silver bowl and salad set, by her many warm friends in her chapter. Delicious refreshments were served to about one hundred and fifty guests.

Our next State Convention will be held at the beautiful Del Monte Hotel, and we hope to have a very interesting and profitable convention.

Respectfully submitted,

VIRGINIA ALDRICH BEEDE,

President California Division, U. D. C.

P. S.—The State Recorder of the Cross of Honor, reports that there were thirty-two applications for Crosses during the ensuing year, and urges the Chapter Presidents to send in accurate reports of the bestowal of the Crosses.

COLORADO.

the President and Daughters assembled at Houston, Texas, Oct. 19, 1909—Greeting:

Ye, the members of the first chapter organized in the State of Colorado and the first named in loving memory of the eldest of our and only President of the Southern Confederacy; named in recognition of the personal loveliness and high-toned patriotism whose name is enshrined in our hearts as worthy of a grand gifted family and an exemplar of Southern womanhood—with extend a cordial salutation to the noble sisterhood of this country, which has furnished to all countries the finest types of patriotism and devotion known to the world! As a chapter we are proud of our infancy, having after months of struggle against obstacles, organized September 25, 1909; hence we can truly say ours is the glory-Chapter of the organization which has thrown its golden rays of love from the ice-crowned peaks of the Rockies to the fertile groves of the Gulf; from the sighing breezes of the Atlantic to the golden glow of the Pacific.

Starting with twenty-five charter members, we have at least many more ready to join in the noble work of honoring our beloved cause. Many enthusiastic ladies, descendants of Confederates are located in Denver and scattered throughout Colorado, who hail this movement as a forerunner of other chapters, wherein we expect to find fellow-workers for the same sacred purpose. We do not expect to arouse bitterness or unkind feeling, but to do good, to love each other and to reflect honor upon the men and women of our eventful period, to do our share toward making history, and to be glad the declining years of the veterans, shall be our proud honor.

At the next convention we hope to make a report that will reflect credit upon the Southern women of Colorado.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. B. A. C. EMERSON,

President Margaret Howell Davis Hayes Chapter, Denver.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA DIVISION.

Our President-General and Daughters of the Confederacy in Convention Assembled:

This report comes with heartfelt and loving greetings from the District of Columbia Division, and with many regrets that the President is denied the pleasure of being with you upon this interesting and enjoyable occasion. The division, however, is fortunate in having so able a representative.

Although our division is most unique and peculiar in its construction, as the chapters are all within the limits of one city, and it lives as so many families in the same house, I am happy in reporting a prevailing harmony and perfect good will that is most gratifying. There is a spirit of healthy competition between the chapters, each to excel in the good work it has separately undertaken; but they are all ready and willing to work together when called upon.

This year has been marked by the usual and always interesting events: the commemoration of General Lee's birthday, the conferring of crosses of honor, and the beautifully impressive services over our Confederate dead in Arlington Cemetery.

The memorable event of the year was the celebration of the centenary of Admiral Raphael Semmes, of the Confederate Navy. The Hall in Confederate Memorial Home was most effectively decorated for the occasion with vines, palms and clusters of red and white flowers intermingled with the Navy Jack and other flags.

The Hon. Hannis Taylor, formerly Minister to Spain, was the orator of the evening. His address was followed by an enjoyable program of music rendered by the Confederate Choir, reading of "The Dream of the Alabama," and "Semmes' Sword." Mr. James Morris Morgan, who served as Master of the Confederate cruiser Georgia, which was with the Alabama in a number of her adventures, also spoke. He related many stories of the Confederate Navy, both humorous and pathetic, and finished by saying:

"You wouldn't think to look at us that we of the old Confederate Navy are rich men. But we have forty-five years of back pay coming to us, which will undoubtedly be paid when we come to our reward."

A number of relatives of Admiral Semmes were present, and ten Confederate Naval men residing in Baltimore and in this city. One of the distinguished men present was Lieutenant Arthur Sinclair, who fought with Admiral Semmes on the Alabama in her remarkable cruise.

The United Confederate Veterans and the Sons of Confederate Veterans joined with the Daughters of the Confederacy in this celebration.

This Division has given several entertainments during the year for the benefit of the Arlington monument and the Confederate Memorial Home, and will continue to add to these funds. The Presidents of the various chapters report great progress. Mrs. Magnus S. Thompson, President of the Stonewall Jackson Chapter, sends the following:

"We have continued to grow, many of the new members being ing and enthusiastic women, all of whom seem to be desirous helping carry on the work that the older members have already commenced, especially paying for the Home, and contributing to building of Arlington Monument. One notable event of our work was the presentation of the oil painting, portrait of Newell Jackson to the Home. To Mrs. J. Owen Dorsey, special credit is due for this gift. Our usual box sent to Pikeville at Easter was filled with tobacco, candy, etc., for the old members. We have held regular and well attended meetings. Especial credit is also due the young ladies of the chapter, who have been so energetic in giving card parties and dances to raise money for the Home."

Mrs. James E. Mulcare, President of the Robert E. Lee Chapter, writes:

The Robert E. Lee Chapter was the second formed in the District. It has a membership of one hundred and thirty-two. The chapter is a very enthusiastic and harmonious one, and the members work together in every way for its good. There is a great deal of work before it with the Arlington Monument, and the Home of the Confederate organizations have purchased in the District. The Robert E. Lee Chapter paid last year to the Home fund one thousand dollars ($1,000) and it also has the honor of being the first chapter to start the fund, and to give the first thousand dollars toward the Arlington Monument. It has a charity fund, which is very essential to every chapter. At two of our meetings last winter, we had the pleasure of having with us our President-General. The Robert E. Lee Chapter takes part, and does its share in all Confederate work in the District, and it is a work of credit."

Mrs. William Oscar Roome, President of the "Southern Cross" Chapter, sends the following:

The chapter has taken an active part in the regular work of the State division, and has always been prompt in paying its proportion of the per capita taxes and assessments. It has done unusually well in assuming its pro rata of the purchase money of the Confederate Memorial Hall, in view of the fact that it is a small chapter and has several invalid members on its roll. It has paid promptly the ten per cent. of its pro rata, as required to make the first payment; and will cheerfully join with the other chapters in work for that purpose and for the Arlington Monument, which is dear to it. It has gained two members, but has lost two; so it still numbers twenty."

The Albert Sidney Johnson Chapter, Miss Mary Desha, President, is in a prosperous condition, with its members enthusiastic:

and energetic in all Confederate work in the division. Its special undertaking is the education of the daughter of a Confederate veteran, which it is faithfully carrying on.

Report of the Beauregard Chapter, Mrs. William A. Wayne, President:

"Another and prosperous year has passed, though a great affliction has befallen our chapter, in the death of two of our most cherished and zealous supporters. The chapter has expended for various charitable purposes the sum of forty dollars ($40), besides donating fifty dollars ($50) for the Arlington Monument fund, and has been successful in securing for a member of our chapter, and the widow of a Confederate veteran, a place in the Epiphany Church Home. At each meeting some historical advancement is made, by which the young members of the chapter are benefitted, and as the thought of doing right is implanted deep in their hearts, they respond readily to every demand made upon them. The special object in establishing the chapter was to raise funds for the Arlington Confederate Monument. Every step taken by the chapter in this momentous work has been marked with prudent care and the humblest dependence on Almighty God."

This division is rapidly gaining prominence in the District of Columbia and invitations are received to all public celebrations.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. ARCHIBALD YOUNG,

President District of Columbia Division, U. D. C.

FLORIDA DIVISION.

Madam President-General and United Daughters of the Confederacy:

It is a valued privilege to bring to this Convention the affectionate good wishes of Florida, and a brief report of our year's work.

Financially our division is in most satisfactory condition, our amended Constitution working well to that end, despite the fact that no division has felt the hard financial years more keenly than our Florida, and upon no Floridians have they borne more heavily than upon those from whom our Daughters come.

We do not report so large an increase in numbers as we would like, yet, in a way we are as proud of our apparent losses, as of our real gains; for the former merely indicates the dropping of names which represented no strength; and show the time and effort which we have devoted to securing an accurate roster of our division. We have counted but once names which hitherto been on two or three chapter rolls, for lack of properly re-dimits; have ceased to count those who have removed to other divisions, some also who have crossed the bar of time, to walk the silver sea of Eternity; and, saddest of all, some who have ceased to be interested; few there were of these, tis true, but there been none!

We have added by certificate and by dimit from other divisions new members, and feel that the fifteen hundred and four whom we report are living, working Daughters of the Confederacy in the Florida division. One chapter long carried on our roster was lost only, we have sorrowfully dropped, (with a determination however to restore it during the coming year if it prove possible to revive the chapter life), but we number thirty chapters now. To replace this loss we have organized Daniel Tedder Chapter, No. 1231, of Live Oak, with thirty four earnest members, not quite five weeks old; it is the baby of our division, perfect of the General Association; loyal as the aged veteran for whom it is happily called, sturdy as the stately trees which give shade to its home, we are proud of its robust infancy; it sends the shade of a tree for the Confederate Grove in Houston; a Live Oak which will grow, may they both live and grow.

Every chapter in Florida, has paid its full State and local dues, and meets its chapter obligations regularly; each chapter is represented in this convention, and not one has failed to give a good account of its year, even where conditions are most unfavorable.

During the year we have contributed $133.70 to the Arlington National Monument, $29.56 to Shiloh, (and it is no fault of our zeal and the good will of the Shiloh Director that this sum is not larger), $35.00 to the Confederate Room of the Confederate Museum, $200.00 to our own Soldiers' Home Monument, and $600.00 to our Soldiers' Home, our parent organization, Martha Reid, having given about one half this last named sum.

We are working to put in place a memorial window to our first State President, Mrs. Edwin Gardner Weed, and have made substantial beginning toward it. Wives, widows and descendants of Confederate Veterans have been financially aided in many ways; the Jefferson Davis Home Association, Columbia University Scholarship, Sam Davis Monument, Morgan Monument, Stonewall Jackson Davis Monument Association of New Orleans, Stonewall Hospital of Lexington, Va., and a number of other causes, well known, have had contributions from Florida.

Each of twelve of our chapters award annually a gold medal for the best essay written by a member of the local schools on a selected person or event of Confederate history; the division gives annually a handsome gold medal to the student of any one of our State colleges who submits the best paper on the subject chosen by the Division Historical Committee; in May last this was awarded to a Sophomore of the University of Florida, Mr. Philip Stockton May, for an able essay on the Soldiers of Florida in the Confederate States Armies. Fourteen of our chapters, and two of our C. of C. Chapters have during the year since last November presented pictures of President Davis and General Lee to our schools and colleges; many chapters have placed in school and college libraries such standard works as The Rise and Fall of the Confederate Government, The War Between the States, The Prison Life of Jefferson Davis, Life of Robert E. Lee and similar books.

The graves of our dead throughout the state are being searched out, marked, beautified or kept in order as needed; Memorial Day is universally observed by our chapters, the birthdays of our great leaders fittingly kept, and the hearts of the living made glad by the gift of the sacred bronze cross. Memorial services for Mrs. Margaret Davis Hayes were also held.

We have a Committee on Education to work in co-operation with the General Committee, and one to promote the study of the lives of Davis and Lee in our public schools. Many schools have been named for our Generals through the efforts of the U. D. C. Kirby Smith Chapter maintains yearly a scholarship in our State University, and Martha Reid has secured this year five scholarships in as many of our Southern colleges, for deserving girls of Confederate descent.

A Confederate Memorial Hall Association has been formed by the Confederate organizations in Jacksonville, Martha Reid Chapter having taken the initiative in this movement to build there a handsome memorial hall for Confederate uses.

Elizabeth Harris Chapter unveiled a handsome monument in June, and Lakeland Chapter will unveil one within the next few months, while Annie Coleman, William Henry Milton and Anna Dummett Chapters are each accumulating a monument fund by faithful and patient work. One C. of C. chapter, General Loring, has nearly one hundred dollars toward a two hundred and fifty dollar monument for the new unmarked grave of their namesake General, whose grave lot they reclaimed from neglect and keep in order.

Our State Registrar has prepared and sent to the Registrar-General the copy of records of the Florida division from its organization to September first of this year.

Closest to the State President's heart is the historical work. At our State convention in May, when we had the pleasure and of entertaining our President-General, the State Historian reported twenty-six out of thirty chapters as engaged in collecting authentic history and arranging interesting and instructive historical meetings, more than eighty papers of historical value were then handed in for preservation in the Division Records; is there any abatement of interest in this work. A handsome banner is awarded annually to the chapter reporting the best historical work, having been won this year by J. J. Finley Chap-

We have a vigorous young organization of Children of the Confederacy, which is doing good work, and training valuable future Daughters of the Confederacy and Sons of Veterans.

We have amended our basis of representation in State conventions so as to strengthen our weaker chapters, and have eliminated proxies.

There is much more that might be said of what Florida is doing U. D. C. work, but she must not trespass on Georgia's time, and for another year the Orange Blossom Division, the bride of the Southern seas, gives you loving greeting and tender good-bye; asking you to remember that she is a small division and in some ways at a disadvantage, but that her Daughters' hearts are loyal and earnest, and their motto in our sacred work is in fact as in words: "Memoria in Aeterna!"

SISTER ESTHER CARLOTTA,
President Florida Division, U. D. C.

GEORGIA DIVISION

adam President and United Daughters of the Confederacy:
Allow me to embody in this report a brief mention of the pleasure and honor that came to the Georgia Division through our meeting with us in Atlanta last November as guests of the Atlanta chapter. The memory of that assembly is a delight and I counted it a notable event in our history.

We have been busy in Georgia since that time. The eleventh March found us in one day session, as guests of the Atlanta Chapter, bent upon thinking over the location of the Wirz monument. Sensational reports of a sensational meeting, preceded the convention. Our sensation was made by the dignity of our speaking, the brilliancy of our speeches, as to where the monument should go, and by the vivid interest of our male contingent whom we had standing room only.

Richmond Daughters and Veterans, with a loyal courtesy we highly appreciate, stood ready to receive our monument, but by a large majority it was, as you know, voted to Andersonville. We sent you invitations to its unveiling the 12th of May, and wish truly you could have been present as guests of the Americus chapter and of Andersonville. We had a thoroughly good and patriotic time, with splendid speeches, a splendid crowd, a splendid Georgia barbecue. The Confederate Flag was seen in Andersonville on that soft spring day for the first time since the sorrowful days when Capt. Wirz was keeper of Andersonville prison. The flag waved this year of 1909, in conjunction with that American flag for which our forbears fought in Revolutionary days.

Perhaps the feature of the occasion which would have most appealed to your woman heart, was the unveiling of the monument to Capt. Wirz, by his daughter and grand-daughter, Mrs. Perrin and her little girl Gladys. As the veil fell from the shaft, we knew indeed that we had made a good woman proudly happy, and had told the truth of history.

This has been a year of monuments in Georgia, two chapters unveiled monuments last winter, one in the early spring, six chose memorial day, two were ready for the third of June, one on July 4th, while the last was unveiled October 14th making thirteen in all. All this local work represents from twenty-five to thirty thousand dollars, and stands as evidence of the loyalty of Georgia Daughters to the memory of their Home Confederates. We have given to Arlington and Shiloh, as evidence of our loyalty to all Confederates and to our United work.

From the dawn of history man has built stone memorials of his time and people, in the effort to live in the thought of coming generations. This primitive impulse has survived through all ages, and all civilizations. Sometimes the stone memorial seems preeminently suitable, but whenever practicable, do we not take a forward step by seeking such memorials as will combine help for the living with honor for those who surrendered their lives for our country?

Among living memorials verily the South needs to work for such as will help in the education of her people. The importance of education, especially for our neglected rural population has been generally conceded. To quote from Edgar Gardner Murphy, that forceful writer on Southern problems, "Our need today in behalf of the unprivileged masses of the rural South, is not that we shall agree upon education, but we shall educate."

We, of Georgia, are turning our thoughts towards our Mountain Folk—a potentially strong and virile people. We have given our close attention to the "school at the Gap" as Mr. Andrew Ritchie, its founder, has called his industrial school in the Gap of our Blue Ridge Mountains at Rabun. We hope, through memorial to Francis Bartow, to help Mr. Ritchie with his arduous work.

We would be glad if Georgia's voice today could sound a ringing note in behalf of Education for the South's rural children. It is in Mr. Murphy who says: "Within the heart of the child lie the well springs of the future." Children are the vital and personal factors of our country, and our humanity. They are the ones with us of a deeper and more compelling patriotism. Back of the patriotism of arms, back of the patriotism of our political and civil life, there lies like a new and commanding social motive the patriotism of efficiency. It is the love of being useful and therefore, of helping others into usefulness. It is this patriotism which we invoke in behalf of every wounded, helpless, desolate element of society. It realizes that the good of one life comes out of the fullness of all life. To bring others into their life by hoping, believing, loving—this is religion, to share with others their power of acquiring, thriving and rejoicing—this is health, to open to others the liberties of thinking, and knowing and achieving—this is education, to enlarge for others the glory of life—this is life. To behold the great thronging mass of men and women radiant with those capacities and efficiencies that remove them from the waste silence of the world, this is indeed the supreme patriotism, and this, I believe, to be the supreme patriotism."

We have welcomed into our Division during the past year, six new chapters. We count them as evidence of growing power for our work, including besides the causes already mentioned, our historical work, our fraternal life, our fine museum at Richmond. We believe we may be strong to help you in our united work, and we long to see Georgia and the South run the road that frontward leads, driven by an onward ache.

ALICE BAXTER,

President of Georgia Division, U. D. C.

ILLINOIS DIVISION:

Madam President General and United Daughters of the Confederacy in Convention Assembled:

The Illinois State Division sends its first loving greetings to the General Assembly, at this, its sixteenth annual convention. The president regrets exceedingly her inability to present them in person. The State division was organized so recently that there has been no time for plans or to get a full report from the Illinois chapters. Therefore this must be only a partial report of their work.

In accordance with a request from our honored President-General, the charter chapter of Illinois (The Sam Davis Chapter of Alton), called a convention to be held in Alton on October 4th and 5th, 1909, to organize a State division, there now being in Illinois the required number of chapters.

Sam Davis Chapter, of Alton, being entitled to one delegate, was represented by its President, Mrs. G. J. Grommet.

Chicago Chapter, entitled to four votes, was represented by its President, Mrs. Kent, of Chicago, and Mrs. J. R. Binford, of Racine, Wis.

The Stonewall Chapter, of Chicago, being entitled to three votes, was represented by Mrs. John A. Lee, of Oak Park, Ill.

Mrs. G. J. Grommet was chosen chairman pro tem and Mrs. J. A. Lee secretary pro tem.

The convention then proceeded to organize a State Division, in the usual way.

The election of officers for the years 1909-1910 resulted as follows:

President, Mrs. John A. Lee, of Oak Park, Ill.; first Vice-President, Mrs. Bowling Arthur Johnson, Chicago, Ill.; second Vice-President, Mrs. Long, Alton, Ill.; Recording-Secretary, Mrs. Kent, Chicago, Ill.; Corresponding-Secretary, Mrs. Edward E. Smith, Chicago, Ill.; Treasurer, Mrs. Binford, Racine, Wis.; Historian and Custodian of Cross of Honor, Mrs. G. F. Grommet, Alton, Ill.; Registrar, Mrs. John W. Heatfield, of Chicago, Ill.

After being handsomely entertained by the Alton ladies, the convention adjourned to meet in Chicago in October, 1910.

Before leaving the subject of this convention in Alton, I would like to tell of a visit we made to the Confederate cemetery in North Alton, Ill., where more than sixteen hundred Confederate soldiers, who died in the old federal prison in Alton, lie buried on an island in the Mississippi river, opposite Alton are buried six hundred more Confederate soldiers, who died of small-pox, contracted in this prison, and who were removed to this island, making in all over twenty-two hundred Confederate soldiers who died of disease and privation in this prison.

This cemetery for nearly forty years has been used as a cow pasture and during the last few years this noble little band of Southern women, of the Sam Davis Chapter in Alton, fifteen in number, have been trying against great discouragements to reclaim this desecrated spot.

A few years ago the United States Congress made an appropriation to mark the graves of Southern soldiers, who died in Northern prisons. A monument has been erected by the Government on this spot and preparations are being made to inscribe the es on bronze tablets, but the ground is still in its rough state no fence worth mentioning is there.

ose in charge of the Government fund have promised to l a fence around the cemetery if we will build an arch or entrance. It will also be essential for us to build a road ng to the cemetery and improve the grounds.

l this means an outlay of several thousand dollars. Sam s Chapter has in bank $800 toward this work, but there g such a strong prejudice against the South in Alton, it will difficult task for them to raise the required amount.

most the whole South is represented in this cemetery by its
, and I feel that I am justified in making an appeal through General Assembly to Southern women not to forget their in the North, whose martyrdom and suffering was almost inevitable, and, who through the fortunes or misfortunes of war, e not permitted to gloriously die under the folds of the flag loved and upon the soil of their Southland, to be eulogized in and story and their resting places annually decorated by g hands, but were doomed to waste away with disease and ect, far from the land which loved them and to lie for these y years almost unwept, unhonored and unsung—being no less tyrs and heroes for the cause of the South than those who in the battle's front.

their graves are unmarked and still unprotected from van-hose of the women of the South, and there are thousands of n, whose dead are buried—they know not where—may have in field of graves, one peculiarly sacred to them and all should this newly organized and struggling State Division, few in bers and with but sparse material to organize from, to care he following reports from the chapters are as I have just reed them:

he Chicago Chapter has changed presidents during the year the present incumbent hesitates to report on work of predeor. The change occurred April 29, 1909. Since then the Chi-o Chapter attended ceremonies at the cemetery on Memorial , also accepted invitation from G. A. R. the next day to be ent when they decorated the Confederate monument. This mony was most impressive and interesting. The chapter ng whom was Mrs. Henderson.

he chapter gave $10 to some Confederate veterans. At the September meeting, Miss Bell Kinney brought her model of the monument to "Southern Womanhood" and spoke interestingly of the spirit of her work.

Chicago Chapter has gained a number of new members since April, but lost by death two of their most valued Daughters: Mrs. Frank Honore and Mrs. J. C. Roalto.

The president has plans for the winter whereby she hopes to arouse interest and meet all the demands upon the chapter.

The Stonewall Chapter reports a steady growth in members and interest. Last year it numbered thirty-eight members, it now has fifty-seven, all working in perfect harmony.

It holds regular meetings the first Friday in each month, at the Great Northern Hotel.

General Lee's birthday was celebrated as usual with the devotion and loyalty to his memory. Rev. A. H. Stephens delivered the oration, which was instructive and interesting. Southern music exclusively was furnished.

On June 3 the Stonewall Chapter celebrated the birth of President Jefferson Davis. Mrs. Allen Bryant White read a most interesting paper on his life and noble traits of character. Mrs. Jester, of Tyler, Texas, sang the dear old songs, "Silver Threads Among the Gold," "Old Kentucky Home" and "Dixie." Refreshments were served. The invitations to this entertainment were sent on post cards having a picture of President Davis on it. A Confederate flag was given each guest as a souvenir.

The Stonewall Chapter assisted two veterans to homes in Tennessee and Kentucky; assisted a needy couple in a small town in Illinois; contributed forty dollars to the Arlington fund (twenty-five of which was from the Stonewall Chapter and fifteen from the Southern Club of Chicago).

The Stonewall Chapter has also contributed twenty-five dollars ($25.00) to the Shiloh Monument fund.

During the summer this chapter had the pleasure of entertaining Mrs. Lizzie George Henderson, of Mississippi, Miss Conklin, of Omaha, Mrs. Hicks, of Mississippi, and Mrs. Jester, of Tyler, Texas.

The Sam Davis Chapter of Alton, Illinois, has fifteen members. They have paid $115, for rent and groceries for one Confederate veteran, have found work and given material assistance to another, gave $5.00 for a railroad ticket for a veteran, who was stranded in our town and wanted to go to his daughter, contributed $5.00 to Arlington Monument and have responded to several appeals of sister chapters.

In all they have expended $200 for charity during the past year. The Confederate monument erected by the Government is about ted. The Government will also fence the grounds, but yet remains a great deal for the chapter to do. There are nearly four acres in the cemetery and because of uneven surface, caused by the depressions of graves, the ground will have to be plowed, harrowed and rolled before the sowing of grass seed. Through the generosity of a number of our chapters, the Sam Davis Chapter has a fund on hand which will help them to build a memorial entrance to the grounds. It will require a much larger fund than they possess to make the cemetery a source of pride to the U. D. C., and they will look to the Chapters and individuals in the South for assistance. The Sam Davis Chapter is imbued with new life since the organization of a State division.

The Y. M. C. A. gave permission to the chapter to place a case of Southern books in their library. This is a great privilege as their library has but very few books by Southern authors. The president of the Y. M. C. A. is a Southern man but his term of office expires in a few months and this opportunity will never recur.

In submitting this, the first report from the State Division of Illinois, I wish to again remind you that it is an infant, only two years old, and although the report is hastily written, I am proud to submit it, as its first president. The first time I had the honor and pleasure of addressing this honorable body and submitting my report, I came to you at New Orleans, as both president of the St. Louis Chapter and also representing the Missouri State Division of Daughters of the Confederacy, bringing with me the healthy and loyal chapters in that State and uniting them with the United Daughters of the Confederacy. Now I bring you my report in arms, asking for your sisterly help and love. Assuring you of our intention to flourish and grow, notwithstanding we are planted far into the North, this report is most respectfully submitted,

VIRGINIA GATHRIGHT LEE,
 (Mrs. John A. Lee)
 President Illinois State Division.

KENTUCKY DIVISION.

Our President-General, Officers and Members of the Divisions of the United Daughters of the Confederacy assembled in their Sixteenth Annual Convention: and we joyfully entered into the duties of this convention, happy in the memory of the great work accomplished in our recent State Convention held in Hopkinsville, Kentucky, 13th and 14th of this month. Today our joy is turned to sorrow. We come before you burdened with the personal loss occasioned by the sudden death of our beloved co-worker, the mother and founder of the Kentucky Division, Mrs. Basil W. Duke, wife of General Basil W. Duke and sister of our brave and gallant General John Hunt Morgan. She at one time, also, was one of our first Vice-Presidents General, twice nominated for the highest office in the gift of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, the office of President-General, but she declined both times.

She was our State President, holding the office of Honorary President until her death; she was also President of the Albert Sidney Johnston Chapter of Louisville, Kentucky. Her place can never be filled in our hearts and in the work of the State division.

We had the pleasure of having as our guest at Hopkinsville, Mrs. M. C. Goodlett, who made a special request of me to nominate Mrs. Basil W. Duke for President-General at this convention.

I wish to submit a summary of the work done in Kentucky during the past year. We are endeavoring to add a facet to the blaze of glory that illuminates the heroism of our fathers and mothers. I wish it could be possible to mention the work of every chapter, but, of course that would be impossible in the short time I have to submit our report. One of the foremost features that struck me at the convention held at Hopkinsville was the great number of objects to which delegates were called upon to contribute. There were a number of monuments, cemeteries and other memorials for which money was needed to continue the work, and whenever the call was made, the response never failed to be generous; some of these projects were under the direction of the General Association, and some were the proteges of the State Division, while local chapters frequently reported erection of monuments on their own responsibility. This devotion to the sacred memories of those who fought and suffered, could not fail to be appreciated. In December last, a bazar was held in Louisville, Ky., for the Jno. H. Morgan Monument fund, netting to the fund over $1,000. The artist is now fashioning the monument to Morgan and his men, the clay model having already been accepted, and before many months it will be cast in bronze. We have endorsed the plan of the veterans, who bought the Jefferson Davis Home at Fairview, Kentucky, and a representative of the Jefferson Davis Home Association is now visiting the chapters in the interest of the fund. We have an active educational committee, who have been working along local lines in the past year, the State being divided into divisions, and the chapters reporting

Each individual division, as to improvement leagues, work on sanitation of school buildings, ushering in of individual drink-cups, contributions to scholarships, efforts made to have our History adopted in the schools, etc. It was decided at our recent convention to ask our colleges and academies to give scholarships similar to the scholarship given by the Columbia University. The Albert Sidney Johnston Chapter of 350 members of Louisville, Kentucky, has been left $4000 as a legacy, they will use it for educational purposes; they are now educating two girls at the Hindman school in Kentucky. The E. M. Bruce Chapter of Covington, Ky., has been given permission by the Park Commissioners to erect a memorial shelter house in the park, in memory of the Hon. E. M. Bruce and the women of the South. During the year the Paducah Chapter which numbers 150 members, has finished a splendid monument to the faithful soldiers of the Confederate States of America, who gave all to uphold constitutional liberty and States rights. This memorial free of debt, represents an approximate outlay of $30,000. Various chapters are erecting local monuments. Our dearly loved Mrs. J. W. Duke was chairman for the Kentucky arch to be erected as the gateway of Johnson's Island, in a Northern cemetery, for which liberal contributions have been made. We have also taken much interest as possible for the monuments of Arlington and Shiloh. I believe that we have given $110.90 for the Arlington monument, and the Treasurer of the Shiloh monument fund, Mrs. J. McKinney, of Paducah, is here in person to give a report of our contributions to that fund. Our interest in preserving for the South, the Confederate homes and memorials is such, that a resolution was carried at our Convention, that it be incorporated in the report of our Kentucky chairman to the General Convention for consideration the purchase of Robert E. Lee's home, Arlington. A motion was also carried at our recent convention to bring before the General Convention and endeavor especially to enlist the sympathy of Mississippi, Missouri and Arkansas, the necessity of a suitable monument at Camp Beauregard, where 500 of the boys in grey lie in unmarked, unkept graves. These buried heroes representing four Southern States, the three above named and Kentucky. Camp Beauregard at Water Valley is six miles from Paducah, Kentucky. Occasionally some of the veterans cut the grass and the Daughters have made some effort to improve the place, but have lacked the funds. Kentucky stands ready now to assist the three other States in improving this sadly neglected resting place of our brave Southern boys. A wooden fence now surrounds the graves. The majority of these graves, I understand, can be identified by living veterans.

Many of the members of our chapters in Kentucky do not feel that we have done what we could for our women, who are, many of them sadly in need of shelter, and we do think it is high time that they should have homes as the veterans do, also that we should see to it that husbands and wives should be placed together in homes, instead of separating them as it has seemed almost a necessity to be done in many of our States. I, myself, know of several destitute families, where the wives are in invalid chairs, and although the husbands have been offered homes with the veterans, but husbands refuse to leave their wives in their helpless condition, and so they struggle on in their poverty, and leading a most wretched existence. Therefore it was decided at our convention, to have a representative appear before the next legislature for the purpose of securing, if possible, a change in the charter for our Confederate Home for Veterans at Pewee Valley, Ky., to make some arrangement whereby the needy women of the South should be cared for as the old soldiers of the South are so comfortably cared for now. The chapters in Kentucky find more work to do every year for the cause they love so well, than can possibly be accomplished. The chapter reports show great progress along lines of Confederate work. Of course, all reported the beautiful way in which they honored the birthdays of Jefferson Davis, June 3 and Robert E. Lee, January 19. The routine work of all the chapters has been faithfully carried out. We have added 120 new names to our State roster during the year. The work among the children's chapters shows signs of improvement and there was more enthusiasm along this line of work, and many new chapters are forming in Kentucky. The Kentucky chairman was instructed as to the amendments to be brought up at this convention. Kentucky has every reason to feel proud of this last years work. I thank you for your attention.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. MATTIE BRUCE REYNOLDS.

Chairman for Kentucky Division.

Acting for Mrs. Wm. Talbot, Paris, Ky., retiring President.

LOUISIANA DIVISION.

Madam President and United Daughters of the Confederacy:

In presenting the report of the Louisiana Division, United Daughters of the Confederacy, we present the work of women loyal and true to a cause, dear to every Southern heart. It is not says the quantity of work done but the quality that counts while we may have seemingly but little to report, much has been accomplished.

The T. O. Moore Chapter has continued doing little deeds of love and charity that endear its members to the entire community among whom they dwell. Blue Cross Chapter has completed the furnishing of a home, for a Confederate veteran, assisted a young girl to attend school at Baton Rouge, assisted in keeping the public library in Amite and placed the portrait of Jefferson Davis in their school building. Praiseworthy effort along many lines of usefulness, to the credit of this chapter.

The M. Craig Chapter has continued to perform missions of benevolent work and answered all the calls for assistance, consistent with their financial ability.

The Joanna Waddill Chapter still maintains the public library at Baton Rouge, and that in itself is a great work, for the care of such an institution requires much time, but as loyal daughters they have not halted there, but lent their aid to every worthy cause, consistent with their line of work.

The R. J. Hancock Chapter, though small in size, is great in strength and they are working earnestly to complete their funds to erect a monument to the memory of the men of that parish who served long in the armies of the Confederacy.

The Clinton Chapter has completed her undertaking, and she will unveil a monument to the Confederate Soldiers of East Feliciana Parish, this month of October 1909. Congratulations are in order to the noble women of Clinton who persisted in accomplishing a self-imposed duty to the heroes of 1861-1865. Hubert Treille Chapter has continued to render assistance where needed and Memorial Day was observed in a most impressive manner by the faithful band of women interested in memorializing deeds of valor and heroism.

General Dick Taylor Chapter numbers but twelve, yet it is a mighty dozen. It has received a lot of ground from a generous donor and has undertaken to build thereon, its own chapter house.

The Jackson East Feliciana Chapter is assisting in the raising of funds to erect a monument in Jackson and thus their best energies are utilized along this prearranged line of work. Every one who has tried to raise funds for such a purpose realizes the vastness of such an undertaking. We hope their persistent efforts will achieve success.

The R. E. Lee Chapter is placing the pictures of President Jefferson Davis and General Lee in the several schools in their community and continues the care of needy veterans and their widows.

Still another monument, for Louisiana, is in sight for the Edward Sparrow Chapter, and is on the highroad to success. In Lake Providence there will soon arise a monument to commemorate the deeds of valor and heroism of the soldiers of the Confederacy.

The Kate Beard Chapter is still engaged in the great work of hastening the establishment of the Mansfield Battle Park, and in other loyal work.

Monroe Chapter has worked faithfully, caring for the Confederate Monument erected some few years ago, performing with love the calls for assistance and engaging in all the general purposes of our Order with fidelity and devotion.

Katie Cabell Currie Chapter has responded most liberally to all calls and cared for the needy, as is their custom.

The Fitzhugh Lee Chapter has established a Confederate Widows' fund, which it is administering with judicious generosity, and is still pressing toward the goal of a Confederate Corner in the New Orleans Public Library, by collecting historical records and books toward the formation of such an interesting corner.

New Orleans Chapter has almost completed her part of the fund to be raised for the Beauregard Monument, and now that the end is in sight she is striving to assist the division in all its undertakings. The Benevolent Fund Committee continues its good work and responds to all the varied and numerous calls so frequent in all large cities. The chapter raised $480.00 to entertain the Convention of the State Division last May. The membership is 463, one of the largest in the order.

The Stonewall Jackson Chapter continues to thrive and has doubled its membership since last convention, takes an active interest in seeing that Confederate history is correctly written.

Plaquemine Chapter is also working to build a monument to the Confederate dead, and long strides have been made since its last report. This is one of the large chapters of the State, one to be depended on, which does most excellent work for the Cause.

Ruston Chapter has added her portion to the good deeds done, and so has West Feliciana, both meeting all calls and refusing none to the needy.

Shreveport Chapter has a beautiful monument, and now they are raising funds to erect a shaft in each of the cemeteries to the Confederate dead.

Madison Infantry Chapter has worked faithfully along the lines of the U. D. C., and Camp Moore is now trying with its devoted little band to care for the Camp Moore Monument.

Wm. Walker Chapter is faithfully marking the graves of Veterans in their midst.

Every year when the world is rejoicing at Yule Tide and Christmas cheer abounds, the hearts of the U. D. C. of the Louisiana Division turn to the State's Soldiers' Home located in New Orleans. Under the direction of the State Custodian, a Christmas feast is given which means that a bountiful dinner of good things is provided and two Christmas trees are garlanded with gifts for each soldier in the Home. It is quite needless to say that all of this attention is greatly appreciated and enjoyed by the veterans and by the Board of Directors of the Home who are present and help the Daughters in distributing the gifts. Every chapter in the State contributes to this feast, and even the small chapters are wonderfully generous in laying aside any cherished plan until this Christmas feast is provided. The division also provides some ten or twelve magazines for the Home. At the convention held in May, a scholarship was established at the Louisiana State University, called the U. D. C. Scholarship. This is awarded to a boy who is a lineal descendant of a Confederate veteran and who is unable unaided to defray the expenses of his collegiate education. Charles Stone Reiley has become the first appointee. The State Division has a committee looking to the subject of the text books used in the schools, and will endeavor to see that the children of our beloved Southland are faithfully taught history.

Louisiana Division is doing still more, for she has appointed a committee which has taken up the subject of establishing a Louisiana Day in the public schools of the State, on which day a program is to be carried out, commemorative of the history of the State of Louisiana. At the next convention there will be taken up the establishment of the Widow's Benevolent Fund.

The establishment of the Mansfield Battle Park has the hearty sympathy of the U. D. C. The State desires to make this battlefield a military park. It is devoutly to be wished that all may unite to this end and that success may be immediate.

With all these many objects in view, the Louisiana Division has done all contributed as liberally as a slender purse would allow to all Confederate causes. All chapters celebrate the birthdays of General Lee and President Davis. The bestowal of Crosses of Honor continues, as always, a matter of pride and pleasure.

Permit me to close Louisiana's report by stating that two new chapters are in progress of formation in the Louisiana Division.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. P. J. FRIEDRICHS,

President Louisiana Division, U. D. C.

MARYLAND DIVISION.

Madam President and United Daughters of the Confederacy:

As I gather up the threads of the work of the Maryland Division during the past year to make my report to you, I exult in the faithfulness with which this work has been pursued. The chapters report steady progress and liberal dispensing of relief. Crosses of Honor were bestowed with fitting ceremony and indefatigable efforts made to establish correct histories. Prints of St. Gauden's equestrian statue of General Sherman were prevented being placed in the public schools in Baltimore by strenuous efforts of Maryland Daughters.

The Maryland Line Confederate Veterans Home at Pikesville and the Home for Confederate Women in Baltimore, were generously cared for, the birthdays of President Davis and General Lee celebrated, and the faithful Daughters went laden with flowers on Memorial Day to Loudoun Park Cemetery where solemn services were held under the auspices of the Society of the Army and Navy.

Mrs. Walter Preston, President of the Hartford Chapter in her report mentions the enthusiasm and interest of the younger members. Besides many good works, $10 was sent to the Arlington Monument fund and $60 raised towards the monument the chapter hopes to erect in Belair, its home town.

The Fitzhugh Lee Chapter, of Frederick, Mrs. C. S. Howard, President, has many home charities, lives up to all requirements and generously responds when called upon. Has contributed this year $25.00 to the Arlington Monument fund, $35.00 to the Maryland Line Confederate Veteran's Home, etc.

The Frank A. Bond Chapter, Mrs. R. Alexander Hammond, President, is particularly interested in the Home for Confederate Women and the Cecil Chapter, Mrs. Emma Willis, President, although a little band on the borderland of Pennsylvania, does remarkably good work.

The Baltimore Chapter, Mrs. John P. Poe, President, regrets being obliged to report that owing to resignations, transfers and many deaths the membership is reduced, but still has the honor of being the banner U. D. C. Chapter, and notwithstanding the decrease in number the work has not faltered and pledges made at last convention have been more than fulfilled—$200.00 for Arlington, $50.00 for Shiloh, etc. The beneficiary list has not diminished and the chapter considers it a pleasure and privilege to minister to the wants of those who sorely need aid. The Confederate Veteran's Home at Pikesville is lovingly cared for and bounteous dinners were served to the inmates Thanksgiving, General Lee's birthday, February 22, Easter and instead of July picnics, fruits and delicacies were served through the summer months. The care of the hospital at the Home is a special duty and each month a committee of Daughters go out to minister to the needs of those who are fast passing away. The religious services held at the Veteran's Home every Sunday afternoon are interesting and largely attended. Prominent clergymen and members of note gladly volunteer their services. On President Davis' and General Lee's birthday, Crosses of Honor were bestowed and the fete at Pikesville Home, June 3rd was a bright spot for the old men.

There were two interesting services this year at Annapolis. First when the portrait of James Ryder Randall was unveiled and hung in the old Senate Chamber and as the curtain was drawn by his granddaughter and the great niece of Mrs. Robert Bowie, at whose instance the portrait was painted, verses of Maryland, My Maryland, were sung softly as a requiem of Maryland's Confederate poet.

Next, in May, when the old flag of the 2nd Maryland was returned from Ohio, Rev. Randolph McKim spoke most beautifully and feelingly of the bravery and valor of his old comrades and he recounted the many battles in which the old regiment participated, the hearts of the listeners were filled with pride at the achievements and with grief that so few of them returned. It was a beautiful day and the ancient city looked its loveliest as the Daughters of the Confederacy stood on the porch of the old State House and watched the small remnant of the old regiment carrying the furled flag while the band played the old airs, "Maryland, My Maryland," "Dixie," etc.

The next occasion of interest was the funeral of Miss Emily Mason, when the Daughters gathered in the venerable Cathedral in Baltimore, to receive the remains of that noble woman who had desired to be buried in Maryland. Flowers were sent and many Daughters were there to do honor to her who was the first to establish a hospital for the Confederates and who ministered lovingly to them.

September 27 being the Centennial of Admiral Raphael Semmes, one of Maryland's bravest sons, though adopted by Alabama, appropriate services were held in his honor and so we keep the faith and go on with our work of love, caring for those who are with us and honoring those who have joined the mighty hosts of the South.

Respectfully submitted,
CORDELIA POWELL ODENHEIMER,
President Maryland Division, U. D. C.

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.

The Robert E. Lee Chapter, of Minneapolis, sends loving greetings to all Daughters of the Southland.

We have had this year, a sad blow in the loss of our secretary, Mrs. Frank Burnett. She was our inspiration, and indeed the one who has borne the burden of the work accomplished by our chapter. She left Kentucky when a very young girl, and had since lived in the north, but her loyalty to the South and her enthusiasm in her work for the cause, has been an inspiration to each and every one of us. Her sudden death was such a shock, that for a time it seemed to paralyze our efforts, but now we appreciate that such a life has not been lived in vain, and we have determined as a body, to take up the work loyally and conscientiously, which she has so loyally and enthusiastically commenced. She had anticipated with such pleasure the thought of representing us at this convention, and had talked so much of the joy of meeting so many loyal, genuine Southern women.

Several of our members have moved away from the State during the past year, so our present membership is no indication of our growth, which has been most encouraging.

We are full of hope for the future, and we are working in perfect harmony. Several applications are to be acted upon at our next meeting.

Since the renewal of our regular meetings, after an adjournment of two months during the summer, we have sent fifteen dollars to the Arlington Confederate Association and ten dollars to the Shiloh.

These objects were very dear to Mrs. Burnett's heart, and in raising this amount, we are doing what she had expressed a desire, should be done.

We have conferred the Cross of Honor upon a veteran living in our State and expect soon to confer another, which we had hoped to have accomplished before this.

We have recently decided to make some change in the program of our regular meetings. At each meeting the chair will appoint a committee of two, who will provide the program for the following meeting. In this way we hope to have many interesting papers, giving us the true history of the South, for this is what we very much need, the majority of us having been out of touch with everything Southern for many years.

The entertainments given by the chapter, celebrating the birthdays of President Davis and General Lee, were occasions of great interest and enthusiasm, and besides having been socially a very great success, they have done a great work in arousing renewed interest and loyalty among our members. We are to have a special social meeting this month, and will invite all of the thern women of our acquaintance in Minneapolis and St. Paul, we hope in this way to interest them in joining us. We have been very fortunate in having presented to us a very valuable manuscript, by a Mr. Scanlan, of St. Paul. He is an invalid partly paralyzed, and spends most of his time in collecting the history of the war and the South in general.

He was living in New Orleans at the beginning of the war, but in his great distress, was not quite old enough to enlist. He has been living in St. Paul for twenty years, but nowhere in the North could you find a man more loyal to the Southern cause. He has done great good in this Northern land, for he has written many of the papers, and has corrected many mistakes made in articles published in regard to the South. He has presented to us a number of papers, published in New Orleans at the time of the death of President Davis. These are invaluable to us, for here we have few reference books for the study of the history of the South. We regret very much that this year we cannot be with you, but we hope in future to have our State represented at each convention.

Respectfully submitted,
 WILHELMINA WADE VAN NESS,
 President.

MISSISSIPPI DIVISION.

Our former President and United Daughters of the Confederacy: Just one year ago a President of the Mississippi Division was speaking before you, brilliantly telling of the work of her division. She said that if she told you of all that the loyal Daughters of the Confederacy in Mississippi had done, the glad story would be so long, she could not consume more time in the telling than was hers. Another year has gone, much, very much has been accomplished, and, if in the twelve months past, our work is worthy of your approval, we should be most happy.

First, let me tell you, our pledges made to the General Organization have been redeemed, $20.00 for Mrs. Davis' picture; Arson, $100.00; Shiloh, $50.00; Beauregard, $25.00; Jefferson's Monumental Association, (La.) for calendar, 5.00; Museum, $50.00, beside the $10.00 paid per year, Columbia University student, $5.00. Of our division pledges, $335.00 was added to the Beauvoir Chapel fund. The chairman of that committee gladly reports the work of building this little church has advanced and before we come before you again, the veterans of Beauvoir may be seen still wearing the grey, wending their way with glad joy to the soldiers' chapel, with wide open doors it bias them enter, to be told that, "Before them, even as behind, God is, and all is well." Afterwards, as one by one, these close their eyes in the sleep which knows no wakening, their bodies will be reverently and tenderly borne to the little chapel, from thence to their last resting place, where some man of God will say that requiem of humanity, "Dust to dust, ashes to ashes," then those of Beauvoir, the Mount Vernon of the South, will sweetly sleep.

Now, $118.00 was pledged to our veterans as pocket money, while in Memphis at the last reunion. Through the J. Z. George Chapter, Greenwood, arrangements for the transportation to and from Memphis for as many as were physically able to go. These old soldiers of Mississippi were guests of the Mary Latham Chapter, Memphis.

The Division still maintains the seven scholarships reported to you last year.

The chairman of the Educational Committee reports $247.00 pledged for those division scholarships, one at the Mississippi college for a boy, one at Millsaps for a boy, one at the I. I. & C. for a girl, the other four are each maintained by a chapter. Effort is being made to secure scholarships at the University of Mississippi and the A. & M. colleges.

The chairman of the Committee of "Preservation of the Old Capitol and Governor's Mansion" is ever on the alert in the interest of the saving of these old historical landmarks. If she and her able co-workers fail to obtain from our next State legislature an appropriation toward this end, it will be the fault of Mississippi law-makers, not theirs.

Twelve new chapters have been added to our list, and I am the proud and happy mother of our three thousand loyal Daughters, who have pledged themselves to see to it, that the work of the Mississippi Division, U. D. C. shall go on, and that they shall stand ever on the firing line, demanding that only the truth of the Southern History shall be told. They are striving hard to be worthy to be called "The faithful custodians of the memories of the South."

Our Recorder of Crosses of Honor has examined over five hundred certificates for these little U. D. C. Crosses this year.

The editress of the Mississippi official organ, "Our Heritage," reports a fine condition of the paper, it is the pride of our division. We are able to report the continued prosperity of "The Soldiers' Home." Our good capable matron suffered unspeakable anxiety during the hours of the Gulf's recent storms, fearing for the safety of our dear old veterans. Our thanks are sent up to the Great White Throne of God, that He saw fit to carry them safely through.

able co-workers, the officers of this division, each bear nobly the burdens of their work. Mrs. Sarah Dabney Eggleston, one of the South's grandly loyal Daughters, our dearly loved Honorary President, is the idol of our division.

Mrs. S. E. F. Rose, our gifted Historian—how can I present her to make you see her as we do? A brilliant Southern woman, among the more than three thousand Daughters of our division, she sheds the fine white light of the truth of the South's cause, and its noble defenders. (Our capable and brilliant ex-President, Mrs. Mary McLaurin Stevens is still engaged in division work, chairwoman of a committee to collect minute books from Mississippi's first Convention, for the purpose of putting them into volumes, which will be a priceless possession of the division). Mrs. Lillie Washington, the very energetic, capable Director for Mississippi of the Arlington Monument, is busily engaged in this noble work.

At our last State Convention it was resolved that the Mississippi Division would withdraw from the Columbia (N. Y.) college essay contest.

Two more beautiful monuments to our Confederate soldiers have been unveiled, teaching this lesson of truth, "These died for the States."

Nearly all the public schools bear the names of the Southern heroes in the war; on the walls hang portraits of these gallant men in their suits of grey. On the shelves of school libraries we have placed well selected books by Southern prose writers and poets.

Our division still hopes to have histories by Southern writers introduced as text books in our schools.

In Vicksburg in June, a handsome bronze statue of our General Robert E. Lee was unveiled and accepted by the United States Government, and our division had the proud privilege of placing a handsome floral offering upon the statue.

The Mississippi Division has begun the work of placing in the church of the Redeemer, in the quaint old town of Biloxi, a memorial window to Mrs. Margaret Davis Hayes. On the wall of that church by the sea, have been placed a like window to Jefferson Davis, Mrs. Davis, Winnie, and to the children (sons) of our Southern Chieftain; now to the last one of his immediate family, a window will be placed, a heart offering to the memory of Margaret Davis Hayes, from the daughters of her illustrious father's State, Mississippi. This little church, within whose walls are sacred memories dwell, has so aptly been styled the "West-gate of the South."

The Mississippi Division is doing what it can to get the women of younger generations, even the little girls to form themselves into U. D. C. chapters.

Listening to the recitals of Honolulu, Hawaiian Islands, from Mississippi Congressman just returned from there, learning that in this Paradise of the Pacific, dwells many Southerners, I became inspired with the hope of establishing in that far off spot, a U. D. C. chapter. To this end I as President of the Mississippi Division, have written to Mrs. Judge Ballou, a loyal descendant of those who wore the grey, asking her to join us. In all the civilized world there are Southern people, let us appeal to them, let us carry the work to the farthestmost parts of the globe.

Though not Mississippi Division work, I would not fail to tell you, that this year Mississippi has been awarded the Scholarship by the General Order U. D. C. which provides for a term at Teachers College, Columbia University, N. Y. South Carolina had this scholarship last year, and it is peculiarly fitting, for once before,

"South Carolina first nobly took the stand,
Then came Mississippi and took her by the hand."

We are hoping much for our Southern girl in the advantages she will have at this college. We are hoping much for this college, in the advantages it will have in the presence of Miss Elise Timberlake, our young, loyal Southern girl, whose father wore the grey.

I have told you a little bit that the Mississippi Division, U. D. C. has accomplished, I have not yet told you what it did not. It did not come to possess the now famous tools with which the stone-cutter, Howe, himself a Mississippian, carved back the name of Jefferson Davis on Cabin John Bridge. The Louisiana Daughters did, and we heartily congratulate them upon their valuable possessions. I now come to the crowning work of the Mississippi Division in the last twelve months, as far as the success attending its efforts of getting full recognition of our cause—its leader and its heroic defenders, from what is now, our Government. As historian of this division in 1908, I asked the privilege of naming the man who was Mississippi's most illustrious, greatest and best beloved citizen, whose name and face were to adorn the beautiful silver service Mississippians were to present to the great U. S. battleship, Mississippi. Through the courtesy of the Battleship Commission, my request was granted. Of course, I named Jefferson Davis. He had received every gift in the power of our and his State to bestow. Mississippi made Jefferson Davis great, Jefferson Davis made Mississippi greater.

The picture I sent of him was near the period of life of our Government when Jefferson Davis was the brilliant Secretary of

, in the Cabinet of Mr. Pierce. For two reasons, I named erson Davis, first, because he was Mississippi's most illusus, greatest and best citizen; second, with the name and face efferson Davis on a silver service to be used on a U. S. bat-ip, would tell the glad story as no words from human lips d tell, that in very truth, there was now, "No North, no h, no East, no West, but one great nation, Heaven blest." it be ever thus.

Respectfully submitted,
 LUCY GREEN YERGER,
 President Mississippi Division, U. D. C.

MISSOURI DIVISION.

ouri brings greetings to the United Daughters of the Confederacy assembled in Houston:

he U. D. C. women of our Division feel they may fittingly at the motto long since adopted by St. Louis: "To Front," as the work of our chapters reported at the conven-held in Springfield, September 28 to 30, show such rapid es in U. D. C. work.

we are happy to report thirty active chapters, and 1800 ac-women, one Auxiliary Chapter with 59 members, all young
 , a Childrens' Chapter formed in three weeks time with 33
 ter members, two other Childrens' Chapters under consideration more U. D. C. chapters in process of formation, one more hav-received its charter but not yet fully organized.

ur chapter reports are all glowing with enthusiasm, almost yone having celebrated the birthdays of General Lee and ident Davis, besides decorating graves and bestowing Crosses onor on the anniversaries of the battles of Wilson Creek and report.

ne several chapters have subscribed $211.00 to the Fairview d, for preserving the home of President Davis; $690.00 to the rent Monument Committees, including Arlington and Shiloh;
 .00 for educational purposes reported, some chapters failing report amount given for this work; three chapters contributed Miss Bery's School for Boys in Rome, Ga; four assisted girls maintain themselves while taking advantage of scholarships ded them, without which help they could not have availed selves of their opportunities.

irty-nine Crosses of Honor have been bestowed, one chapter reed since its organization it had bestowed just one hundred.
 graves of seven Confederate soldiers were marked at a cost of $52.00; one chapter found the grave of an unknown Confederate in the Potter's field, and marked it with a stone costing $8.00.

Kansas City has placed three portraits of General Robert E. Lee in her public schools, and report in that city a marked advance towards obliteration of prejudice, and for education in Southern history.

Independence has placed five portraits of General Lee, one in their high school, at a cost of $40.00 and four others costing $10.00 each, in public schools, thus placing the image of the highest, and the noblest and the best of the earth before every school child in their town.

One small chapter gave a $5.00 gold piece as a prize for the best essay on General Lee. Two prizes were given for the State Historical Contest, a U. D. C. pin set in diamonds, given by a loyal daughter, for the best essay on the "Status of Education in the South, prior to the War between the States." Another, a U. D. C. pin set in rubies, given by a chapter for the best essay on the subject of, "Missouri's Contribution to the Personnel of the two Armies of the Civil War," both subjects chosen by our State Historian, this contest proved popular, twelve papers being submitted. Another year we hope to double this number.

Chairman of Historical Committee presented to the division a bound volume containing the minutes of every U. D. C. convention held in Missouri, the first two of these never having been printed, were compiled from data in the possession of a faithful worker. Now Missouri has her U. D. C. history preserved for all time, and the book will eventually be kept in our U. D. C. Exchange Library, where we are able to place all our State papers. We already have many valuable relics, papers, books, etc., sent there, and promises of many more. The Library will occupy quarters in the home of the Missouri Historical Society, in St. Louis, and this Society gives us the use of all their Confederate collection, as long as our collection remains in their care. Our appointed Librarian is the secretary of this society. Missouri feels very proud to have been the first to respond to the expressed desire of our Historian-General, to form these libraries.

Our Reminiscence Committee, has collected sixty reminiscences of the Missouri Women of the Sixties, and next year we hope to report one published volume. One chapter has appointed a committee in each of the three counties composing their chapter, to gather reminiscences from the veterans themselves, and have succeeded in getting three. They propose in this way to gather Missouri History.

The social side of our work has not been neglected. Among reports of balls, receptions, Colonial teas, picnics, luncheons, etc., come reports of ways and means. One chapter taxes each mem-cent at each meeting to provide flowers for memorial day, or gave an amateur vaudeville and a Dixie Market, a variation of the usual Bazaar, another a Musical Comedy, which netted $12.50. A union station comedy netted in another place $10.00. Dollar luncheons proved profitable. One chapter has a bank brought to each meeting in which is dropped contributions towards a charity fund, the bank will be opened on the anniversary of the birth of their beloved President.

Amidst all this our dear old veterans are not forgotten, almost every chapter reported flowers, fruit, magazines, food, clothing and money to the needy ones; one chapter sent one hundred and fifty pounds of candy to the Confederate Home at Christmas time; one sent tobacco, many sent books, one chapter alone sending $90; some subscribe for magazines, others for the Confederate Veteran, reaching the Home in Higginsville, where they are well loved and cared for. The Confederate Home Chapter reported the death of J. L. Pace, who for years has been the Superintendent of the Home, saying: "The Home has lost a wise and capable Superintendent, his family a loving father and his friends a loyal and comrade." They report the Home in excellent condition, it blossomed like a rose under the careful and excellent management of Col. Pace.

Whether have our monuments been neglected, the Sterling Price monument fund is growing steadily. The St. Louis Confederate Monument Association is working incessantly and earnestly to fulfill their pledge of $35,000, and believe they will be in a position next year to make an excellent report.

Respectfully submitted,
 MRS. W. L. KLINE,
 President Missouri Division, U. D. C.

JOE WHEELER CHAPTER, ROSWELL, N. M.

Dear President and Daughters of the Confederacy:
 It is my great pleasure to extend to you loving greetings from the Joe Wheeler Chapter.
 I am glad to say that our interest is deepening and members are increasing. We hope to get on new plans of action and higher ideals of thought and look beyond all groveling things. Let peace, harmony and good will characterize all our efforts and make each coming year brighter and happier than the one before.
 Besides replying to several calls from outside chapters for aid we have contributed quite liberally to Arlington and Shiloh monuments.

On General Lee's birthday we united with the veterans and sons. A beautiful and appropriate program was rendered, a social hour was spent, the veterans telling stories of camp fire and charge. We were again reminded of how soon their last story will be told and their lips will be closed forever. The occasion was an inspiration, a new appeal to each Daughter to honor the dead and care for the living, and see that the last days of our veterans are peaceful and beautiful.

President Davis' birthday was observed June 3rd in a tender and patriotic manner.

Memorial day services were held in the Baptist church. An eloquent address was made by Rev. H. F. Vermillion, one of our most loyal sons, and prominent minister of the Baptist church.

Albert Sidney Johnston Chapter, Artesia, newly formed, report twenty-one members, interesting meetings, much enthusiasm and good work. The day is near at hand when New Mexico will have a division. We are nearing the time to reward the patient waiting of our veterans, with Crosses of Honor. Having this week distributed the certificates among them, we will be ready for bestowal January 19th.

We deeply regret that some who desired the Crosses so much have answered the last roll-call and have passed over the river.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. BETTIE MONTGOMERY.

President Joe Wheeler Chapter, Roswell, N. M.

NEW YORK CHAPTER.

Madam President General and United Daughters of the Confederacy in Convention assembled:

The President of the New York Chapter having been absent from the city the entire winter on a cruise to the Holy Land, presents her report upon this occasion as briefly as possible, confining herself to statistics furnished on her return by the Vice-President of the chapter.

The chapter numbers at present 525 members, and 180 associates, making a total of 705 members.

Three Crosses of honor have been procured for veterans, one for descendants, and one application is on record for a cross to be replaced, which was stolen from a veteran as he was recovering from an operation in a hospital, where he had taken this precious possession that it might not be separated from him.

The chapter has donated $100 to Arlington, $10 to the Solid South Room at Richmond, $25 for a home for Confederate organizations in Washington, D. C., and sent minor contributions to Camp Chase, halls, churches, etc., and $30 for educational purses. $338 was expended upon our distress cases, and while the splendid generous chapter, I have the honor to represent, was thus, with open hand and loving heart, extending substantial aid to those who applied to her, it was a most trying experience to receive a letter from an ex-president of a sister chapter, who stated that a member of her chapter had said the New York Chapter was practically supported by the Southern Society of New York. In asking me to make a public refutation of what she felt sure was an erroneous statement. I hereby assert that our chapter is, and always has been, entirely self-supporting, that she has always given, and never asked, assistance, and that a grave injustice has been done her in the utterance of a statement entirely without foundation.

Upon the receipt of the circular on education from Miss Poppenheim of South Carolina we at once appointed a committee with Mrs. Schuyler as chairman.

I will only touch upon two of our relief cases in this report. The first was that of an old veteran who was discovered by a Union soldier one freezing winter morning standing in the bread-line. The Blue took care of the Gray, and put our veteran in the almshouse, whence the case came to our notice. Through the earnest efforts of our Chairman of Aid, Mrs. Alfred W. Cochran, and the Aid for Virginia, Mrs. John S. Wise, this dear old pensioner, too proud to beg, was taken from the almshouse and established for life in a home for Veterans in Virginia. One of our Northern friends hearing of this case sent $5.00 to help us. The second case was as pathetic in a different way. A daughter of 72 years, in dire poverty, was trying to support an aged mother of 92, so old and childish and feeble, that each day on her daughter's departure to business she shed bitter tears of fright and loneliness. In this pitiful condition our aids came to their relief, and the old lady was removed to a home, thus leaving her daughter free to earn a living.

We are happy, prosperous, harmonious, and we believe in faith, hope and charity, but, like Saint Paul of the olden times we hold that the greatest of these is love.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. JAMES HENRY PARKER.
President.

OMAHA CHAPTER.

Madam President and Members of the Convention:

Owing to its situation, the chapter is necessarily small, maintaining a membership of only eighteen, but it has kept up its work along the usual U. D. C. lines.

Responses have been made to many calls for funds, for monuments, for buildings, and one Cross of Honor has been bestowed.

The chapter has been at a disadvantage the whole year by sickness among its members, but its heart has been true to its cause, and we hope to have better things to report next year.

MRS. GRAHAM L. BEADLEY,
President,

MRS. MINNIE O'SHAUGNESSY,
Secretary.

Omaha, Nebraska, October 6, 1909.

NORTH CAROLINA DIVISION.

Madam President and United Daughters of the Confederacy:

It has been said that "brevity is the soul of wit" and as that is one of my characteristics I shall make my report after that style. It is a pleasure as well as a duty to make a report of the work done by our division last year. This is the 13th year of our organization and it is with pride that some of our achievements are enumerated.

In accordance with the old superstition, that disaster and misfortune comes to everything associated with the number 13, has proved a great fallacy in regard to our division work, for instead of misfortune, it has brought success in everything we have undertaken. Our membership has increased until now we have nearly, if not quite, 4,000 members and eighty-nine (89) chapters; six having been organized since the last report and there are four more which can be organized very soon. Four hundred and one, (401) certificates of membership have been signed in the last year by the Division President. Our Children's Auxiliaries, of which we have many, are in a flourishing condition in most instances, and it is still being urged that every chapter must have an auxiliary, for on them depends the work for the future of the U. D. C. It was recommended that the State Division could do good work by urging the Sons of Veterans to organize camps and the work be taken up at once. The work of erecting monuments as memorials to our Confederate dead goes bravely on.

Twelve chapters have either erected, laid the cornerstone or are working faithfully for a monument. On the 10th of May last

The chapter at Salisbury unveiled a handsome $16,000 monument, which would be a credit to a much larger city. It will not long before every county in the State will have one. It is said that there are more monuments erected in this country to the memory of the Confederacy than to any other cause in the world.

The cornerstone was laid last week in Wilmington of the handsome monument soon to be erected in memory of the Hon. George Davis, who was a member of President Jefferson Davis' cabinet. The one to Henry L. Wyatt, of North Carolina, the first soldier killed in battle at Bethel, Va., in 1861, will soon be erected, the money has been collected and an appropriation given by the State Legislature.

The portrait of Captain Randolph Shotwell of Ku Klux fame was unveiled last week at our State Convention in Wilmington and was presented to the State Regent of the North Carolina room in Richmond.

Our division has given $9.00 to the Jefferson monument in New Orleans, has given or has on hand about $20.00 for the Jefferson Davis Home Association in Kentucky. $30.00 to Shiloh and expect next year to give much more. $5.00 to the Beauregard monument in New Orleans; $5.00 to monument in Arkansas and other amounts to different objects in other States, and $341.00 to Arlington monument. The State Director raised most of this by a penny collection in the State schools and colleges. We have now given $702.00 for Arlington, including last year.

The Educational Committee reports fine work being done. We have three scholarships at the Greensboro Normal College and several chapters educate a girl of Confederate ancestry.

We have endeavored to get as many scholarships as possible and wrote to every school and college in the State, asking for one or more. It was too late in the season for many to grant this request, so we only received seven, which carry with them $50.00 more, with promises from several that by another year they would be able to give us one that would carry everything with them from $100 on up. This will mean a great deal for the cause of education.

The centennial of the birth of Raphael Semmes, the only admiral of the Confederate Navy, was observed all over the State by the U. D. C. and Veterans in an appropriate manner. It is with pleasure that we can report having received $100.00 a year from the State Legislature for the North Carolina room in Richmond Museum.

Although our State Recorder of Crosses has been ill almost all year, her work has been faithfully carried on and quite a number of Crosses given. It has been a very successful year with us in raising money for all objects for which we work, both in the State and out of it. The Treasurer reports having secured and expended over $6,000.00. It was with regret and pain that we heard of the death of Margaret Howell Hayes of Colorado Springs on July 18th, just a few days after a visit there. She was beloved by all who knew her and will be sadly missed in her community. She was "the Daughter of the Confederacy."

Our State Legislature has increased its appropriation for the Soldiers Home at Raleigh so now the Daughters do not have to work for it. The death rate of our Veterans in the home is very large, many having died in the past year.

Our Historian is doing effective work and is endeavoring to get a tabulated list of all monuments in the State and a history of the same. It is the duty of all chapters to assist in this historical work. We often hear the term "New South" used, which we contend is not correct, as it is only the same old South taking on new life after so much destruction, and coming into its own again. But there is a "New North" disposed to justice and many are now willing to learn the truth about the South. Lately many things have taken place to prove this assertion.

The name of the only President of the Confederacy, Jefferson Davis, has been replaced on Cabin John Bridge, near Washington D. C.; thanks to members of the Southern Memorial Association and the U. D. C. The bust of Robert E. Lee and Commodore Maury are on the dishes of the silver service of the United States Battleship Virginia, and the bust of President Jefferson Davis is on the large pieces of silver recently presented to the United States Battleship Mississippi. The concession by the Government of part of Arlington Cemetery, the home of Gen. Robert E. Lee, for the Confederate dead, also illustrates this idea. We must put a monument there worthy of the cause, to show to the world there was a Confederacy and for what it stood.

The statue of President Jefferson Davis, presented by Mississippi, is to be placed in the Hall of Fame at an early date.

The progress of all the States has been such in the last 100 years that we are now the greatest nation upon the earth; one whose flag is honored in all parts of the world, and has even surpassed all other nations by planting two flags at the North Pole.

We have given to all work of the U. D. C., both in the State and to the general work.

It has been very instructive as well as a great pleasure, while acting President of the North Carolina Division, to be thrown with so many intelligent and attractive women; and though I am now out of my office I hope to continue to attend our yearly conventions.

I am delighted to be in Texas, the grand old State of not many years, though you would not suspect it, unless told, for the gress of its cities and people is phenomenal and could be an object lesson to the world. We can never forget one of the tragedies of American history, how 200 frontiersmen held off several days 6,000 Mexicans and sold their lives dearly. David Crockett, William Travis and James Howie were three of the noted heroes, within the walls of the ancient Mission Alamo, San Antonio, and their names have been written in song and story that will never die.

Seventy-three years ago this tragedy took place and it called for radical measures. Independence was declared by the State of Texas, and Gen. Sam Houston was re-elected Commander in Chief of the armies of Texas.

In August the city of Charlotte entertained the State Re-union of the Confederate Veterans, and I am proud to say we had the pleasure of entertaining our President General, Mrs. Cornelia French Stone, on that occasion. Her presence was an inspiration to the old soldiers and they all rejoiced that she had come among us to show her enthusiasm and love for the old heroes of our war. I can never forget the friendships that have been formed during the three consecutive years in which I have represented the North Carolina Division, by making her annual reports. I will now retire from the ranks and continue my work for the cause we love so well; it will always be with the same pride, love and ambition for that pertains to the Confederacy. My very best efforts will always be expended for the good of our much loved U. D. C.

Respectfully submitted,

SALLIE YATES FAISON.

OHIO DIVISION.

Madam President and Daughters of the Convention:

The Ohio Division of United Daughters of the Confederacy has had a very quiet year as our beloved President has been very ill during the entire year, but we are thankful to say that she is improving.

We observed General Lee's birthday with an appropriate program. In June we had appropriate services for the beloved dead Camp Chase, and Col. Polk Johnson gave us a very eloquent address.

The Robt. E. Lee chapter gave the sum of ten dollars for the Washington fund.

The Stonewall Jackson Chapter is pleased to report a prosperous year financially, notwithstanding the stringency in the money market.

In September, 1908, we started with only $19.10 in our treasury, but in November we held a rummage sale at the Hotel Gen-coe, by which we cleared $52. Late in December, we had a whist tournament at the St. Nicholas Hotel, but expenses were so heavy and it was so near Christmas, that we cleared only a very small sum.

In February, we made another effort to fill our treasury by holding a card carnival at the same hotel and were more successful, clearing $28. In May our second rummage sale was held, clearing $13.

At Miss Berry's school in Georgia, we paid $50 for the education of a son of a Confederate soldier. Five dollars was sent to help defray expenses for Memorial Services and flowers to decorate the graves at Camp Chase, besides what several members have done individually in attending to relief cases that came within our range. The chapter sent money to Mrs. Maguire, widow of an old Confederate soldier and also sums of money from chapter and individual members to Mr. Chimn, who was in the telegraph service of the Southern States and rendered invaluable service to the Cause.

On June 3rd, we joined with the Covington and Newport Chapters in a beautiful Memorial Service at Masonic Temple for Jefferson Davis and Mr. D. B. Bayliss, Commander of Sandy Pryor Camp of Confederate Veterans, whose memory is revered by all the Daughters of this section.

During her critical illness our beloved State President was remembered with flowers.

The year closed with our June meeting and a nice balance was left in our treasury.

The report of the Robt. E. Lee Chapter will be a brief one this year, as nothing of sufficient interest has transpired to consume the time of the chapter.

I have to report the same happy vote of harmony and good will to others as well as among ourselves for it is a matter of pride with us to respond to all appeals whenever it is possible to do so.

Our meetings have been held regularly and one special meeting January 19, 1909, to celebrate the birthday of Robt. E. Lee and Stonewall Jackson.

Two Confederate soldiers have been helped this year, one who marched with Stonewall Jackson brigade. He was trying to get back to Virginia to his home. $8.50 was given to another soldier to pay his rent and food. $5.00 was given to the widow of a Confederate soldier who is very worthy and who is too old to work. Other contributions to monuments and plans for our sick and dead have been given.

Money has also been donated R. E. Lee Chapter for the Arlington Cemetery to be erected in honor of our beloved chieftain, Robert E. Lee and for those who sleep near the shores of the Potomac and near the mansion of R. E. Lee.

The Robt. E. Lee Chapter has many plans for increasing its treasury this winter in order to carry on our work and hope to do better next year both in history and finances.

Respectfully submitted,

MARGARET A. CARROLL.

Vice-President, O. Division, U. D. C.

Columbus, O., October 16th, 1909.

OKLAHOMA DIVISION.

Madam President and United Daughters of the Confederacy:

I have made four reports for the Indian Territory Division, U. D. C. Last year I sent you my report as first President of Oklahoma Division, and now it gives me great pleasure to again bring you greetings and a condensed report from Oklahoma, where the chapters have worked with unity of purpose, a noble interest and genuine Southern loyalty, a combination which will accomplish much.

On August 25, our State convention met at Chickasha, Lee Jackson Chapter being our hostess. We were entertained with true Southern hospitality, celebrating the first birthday of Oklahoma Division with much enthusiasm, pleasure and profit.

The work and interest shown by the reports of work done by chapters and committees, stirred our hearts with pride of the year's loving service for our Confederacy, and much success is our reward.

The Daughters of Oklahoma have not been idle.

We now have thirty seven chapters in State Division with more than a thousand members. While only two new chapters have been organized this year, there are several in progress of forming and others have been revived and strengthened.

In a number of localities the spirit exists but no leaders are available, as in our cosmopolitan State so much club work is being done by our women, yet there is no more popular order than the U. D. C. wherever it is organized. Two old chapters have taken out new charters surrendering the old charters. The chapters have all observed the commemorative days, and are glad of these occasions to show their love and faith in men who so truly merit it.

Many of our chapters are placing pictures of our Southern heroes in the public schools of Oklahoma and it is not always an easy matter to accomplish. We have a State committee for this work, who stimulate the chapters along this line. In most of our chapters, after the business routine, the time is taken up with social hours, lessons from Southern history and other literary topics, roll call with historical events, Southern songs and reminiscences and much pleasure and information is gained. Our State Historian has made the literary hour very interesting to our chapters and much thought and time are given to scrap book sketches of Oklahoma Confederate history as well as Southern history at large.

Auxiliary Director, a new State office created at our recent Convention and a Constitution and By-Laws for Children's chapters was adopted authorizing a charter to be issued them that they may have the right and privilege of governing themselves, and noble work we expect from our children; for upon the children we must depend to perpetuate the order which stands for truth and honor. The work of the Auxiliary has not been well understood, and children's chapters have not taken a very strong hold on our division, but we see a very bright future for us now.

The various chapters have their own method of raising funds which enables them to help and cheer the poor and honor the "gallant dead."

While responding to calls for monument funds, no needy Confederate soldier within their gates is ever turned away empty handed; and many aged veterans and their families are cared for in their homes. Many of the chapters have identified themselves with local civic movements. One has named a city park, Stonewall Jackson Park and they take much pride in beautifying this park and have a chapter corner.

Four chapters have plots in the cemeteries for deceased veterans, which are well kept, and in which they expect to place monuments.

The Arlington and Shiloh Committees have kept their causes to the front with some good results. Five chapters have been raising funds for local monuments, but realizing the greatest monument that can be built, is a soldiers Home, and the greatest benevolence is helping the living, each chapter of the State of Oklahoma, are now directing their energies to the raising of funds to build a Confederate Soldiers Home, and will continue to do so till it is completed.

The Confederate veterans have taken the initiative and laid plans for securing funds and erecting a Confederate Home for Veterans, their wives and widows, and have asked the aid of the Sons and Daughters of the Confederacy which is heartily extended.

For the past three months much of my time has been given to this important work. I have traveled over the State soliciting funds and stimulating the chapters to the greatest activity in the accomplishment of this home.

The Oklahoma Division, U. C. V. appointed a locating committee of two veterans and myself to visit the towns of the State and at a location for this home. The city of Ardmore, with a perennial Southern population, secured this location. We now have on hand some eighteen thousand dollars, (the one to cost twenty-five thousand dollars) and the plans for the same have been selected and erection soon to begin, and at the next convention we will be able to report the completion of a home for Confederate soldiers, their wives and their widows, in the State of Oklahoma, in which the Daughters have had a large share. We want to care for the needy of the survivors of that great army, who fought so unflinchingly against overwhelming numbers.

The last old veterans will soon have passed beyond our loving care. If any generous Confederate woman will help us, we will cherish her the everlasting gratitude of Oklahoma. We feel that our division is in a more prosperous condition than ever before. We are proud of the noble heritage of the Confederacy and we pledge ourselves to the best that we can do, and most wonderful things can be done in our wonderful State of Oklahoma, where we expect the U. C. V's. to meet in 1911, and we cordially invite this great convention to meet with us in the near future, and we will show you Southern hospitality.

Respectfully submitted,
 MRS. W. T. CULBERTSON,
 President of Oklahoma Division, U. D. C.

REPORT OF PHILADELPHIA CHAPTER.

Dear President and Members of the Sixteenth Annual Convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy: For the first time since we were welcomed at Gulfport, the Philadelphia Chapter, must send you its cordial greeting, its hearty good wishes, and the report of its year's work by a proxy. The chapter highly appreciates the honor and distinction of being represented as it is, but it also deplors the loss of the personal touch—the telling ourselves of our efforts, and the receiving, at the same time, of suggestions, counsel, and new inspiration, for the coming year. It is a disappointment not to be in Houston to receive the kind of welcome, and enjoy the hospitality that Texas always gives in all things good—knows so well how to extend; and to miss the golden opportunity to be “at home” with our President-General. The chapter is denying itself this pleasure and edification and inspiration, that the many demands on its treasury, for charitable cases, may be more fully met.

The Philadelphia Chapter has a prosperous, full year to report—full in many ways of outlook and uplift. In point of numbers and attendance, the chapter has experienced a normal growth. From actual figures, this does not appear, for death and change of residence, have robbed us of almost as many members as have been added to our roll, and the many applications pending, cannot, of course, be counted among our members.

The chapter held seven regular meetings and eleven meetings of the Executive Board. On the fourteenth of February, the annual luncheon, the only entirely social meeting of the year, was given at the Bellevue-Stratford. Covers were laid for over three hundred, and the affair was in every way a charming success. The anniversaries of General Lee's and President Davis' birthdays, were suitably observed; as was also Memorial Day, when the graves of our Confederate dead, in Pittville National Cemetery, were decorated, and an impressive service held.

Acting upon the suggestion made at the last convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, the annual meeting of the Philadelphia Chapter, has been changed from January to May. According to this plan, the officers now reported, are those who will be in office during the entire season. This change necessitated a revision of the Constitution, which was most carefully considered.

Three card parties were given during the season, to raise money for chapter work and donations to monuments. Contributions were made through the Pennsylvania directors on the Arlington and Shiloh Committees, of fifty and twenty dollars respectively, to Arlington and Shiloh, to the Beauregard Monument, five dollars, Jefferson Davis Calendar, five dollars, and the same amount towards the support of a student at Columbia.

Two Crosses of Honor were conferred on veterans at the meeting in January. There are frequent tugs at our heart-strings, on account of our veterans. Some of them, soon after the war, wandered to the North, and though they are eligible for Crosses, know of no friends at their old homes, on whom they could call to sign their papers. To have outlived one's contemporaries, to be "the last leaf on the tree," is indeed sad. A very pathetic case of a veteran came to our notice through our President-General. He was crippled with rheumatism, caused by exposure, and suffered intensely, but his cheerfulness and patience were beautiful object lessons. He declared, with fire in his eyes, that if he had it all to go through with again, he would do exactly as he had done. This veteran has been a laborer, was of ordinary extraction, and of mediocre intelligence, but he had the look on his face, of a man who could march straight to the mouth of a cannon, and we alized, that of such are heroes made! Armed with this unflinching spirit, our veteran dauntlessly met his last enemy—death. To mitigate in some measure, the sufferings of a Southern family, in destitute circumstances and pitiful physical condition, the chapter, as a whole and individually, has labored during the past year. One of our members cleared one hundred dollars at a porch party, and this amount really carried the family through the winter season, and perhaps saved their lives.

From one of the old ladies, the chapter had placed in a home, the following was received: "One year ago I was a poor, old, hard-hearted woman, neglected by those who should have cared for me; today, through your loving christian charity, I have friends, loving care, happiness and every want provided for. That made it all still more worthy of heartfelt thanks and appreciation was the fact of my being a stranger to you. When you reached the 'Home over there,' may you receive your crowns from the Master, who said, 'I was a stranger, and ye took me in.'" And thus it is in such large ways, that our small deeds are rewarded.

Surely, the heritage of the Daughters of the Confederacy is a rich one, for devotion, loyalty and faithfulness we have from our fathers and our father's fathers, and the qualities intelligently and energetically directed, make life most gloriously worth living.

Respectfully submitted,

FANNIE MONCURE MARBURG.

REPORT OF SOUTH CAROLINA DIVISION.

Madam President and Members of the Sixteenth Annual Convention, U. D. C.

It gives me great pleasure to be the bearer of most cordial greetings from the Palmetto State. My allotted seven minutes went easily be taken up in this delightful task, but the Daughters of South Carolina, have also commissioned me to tell what has been accomplished by them during the past year.

Two new chapters have been organized; the Calvin Crozier, Newberry, with twelve (12) charter members, and the William James Gooding, at Brunson, with a charter membership of twenty-five (25). Applications for three other chapters are on file.

The president of the division has signed during the year, 250 certificates, nearly all from new members.

Last year we reported one Children's Chapter; this year we have four, live and enthusiastic. With the passage of proposed amendments and By-Laws at our December convention, South Carolina hopes to be second to none in the work for its children.

In just eighteen months after the division pledged itself for a memorial window in Blandford Church, the entire amount was in the bank at Petersburg, subject to the order of the committee there. That the window was not unveiled last spring, is due to failure on the part of Tiffany & Co., to finish the window. The Chairman of the South Carolina Committee, Miss S. A. Smythe, has been indefatigable in her efforts for the completion of this work. The date had been set, the Governor of South Carolina had accepted the invitation to be present and make the address, and a large party of South Carolinians had arranged to go to Petersburg, when there came the stop to the work.

The Recorder of Crosses has not been idle during the year, as her records show five-hundred and ninety-five crosses bestowed on veterans and descendants.

For three years the registrar of the division has been a busy woman, the result of her labors being, that in August past she was able to send to the Registrar-General, a typewritten list of all required data of over 2000 members of the South Carolina Division.

The Historical Committee has done even better work than last year. In February, a circular was issued by it to every chapter, suggesting lines of research for the year, giving the subjects to be used at the literary session of the coming convention, and also furnishing programs for chapters for each monthly meeting during the year. Besides this, the committee has collected all data in regard to South Carolina Confederate monuments, with photos of same. All this has been turned over to Mrs. E. J. Emerson, later to be filed with the historical records of this committee. The card system of cataloging all historical papers, is continued, to the great convenience of the committee and of chapters wishing the loan of papers.

The numbers of pictures of Confederate heroes presented by chapters to schools, increases each year, as does the number of gold medals offered.

The division is greatly disappointed that the endowment fund for the rooms in the Confederate Museum, has been raised from $1000 to $2000, since South Carolina has to its credit now $901.90, almost the expected goal. Nevertheless, we shall continue to labor to reach the increased amount. The Sons of Veterans have pledged $500, to be raised during the year, for a portrait of that matchless leader, Wade Hampton, to be placed in the South Carolina Room in Richmond.

While we have had unusual call upon us this year, Shiloh and ington have not been forgotten by their respective chairmen, reports showing that for Shiloh, $108 has been contributed, and the Arlington Director reports $297 for the year.

It is a matter of great gratification, that through the instrumentality of the South Carolina Division, and the generosity of the Sophie Bibb Chapter, of Montgomery, Ala., the flag formerly loaned to the Claremont Rifles, and the first flag raised over Sumter, has been returned to the survivors of this gallant company, and by them will be placed in the Relic Room at the State capitol in Columbia. The mention of this would not be complete, without the name of Mrs. Frank Elmore, the woman who labored day after day, in spite of the discouragement of her friends, until little by little she had put together, the tatters of a once beautiful silken banner and had it framed between two panes of glass.

The South Carolina Division has now a roster of 57 live active members, every one of which has paid its dues for the year. Of these none gives us greater pride than the energetic band of members at Winthrop Normal and Industrial College. Every year they go forth, to be a benefit to other chapters, for every Winthrop member is an enthusiastic Daughter. The four-year scholarship, ($104 a year) founded in this college, gives renewed promise of the honor it will be to the division.

Memorial Day, June 3, and Jan. 19, have been universally observed by the chapters this year. Very many were delighted to carry out the request from Tennessee and from Gen. Evans, to observe the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of the only Confederate Admiral.

The general custom of sending laurel wreaths to the caskets of veterans dying in the community, has been augmented by many chapters sending laurel wreaths to trains bearing the remains of the prominent Confederate veteran. This has been notably the case during the year, when the bodies of two of South Carolina's greatest sons were being borne to their last resting places—Gen. Mathew Calbraith Butler, the dashing cavalry leader, and Judge Joshua Hillary Hudson, soldier and jurist.

Many chapters have permanently marked, either with iron crosses or marble slabs, the graves of all veterans in their locality, and the others are busy with the task.

Two monuments have been completed and unveiled during the year, while several others are nearing the amount necessary for completion.

Communication between division officers and chapters, is made comparatively easy with the Keystone as a medium, since out of the 52 chapters, 52 are subscribers. The loyal editors, (the Misses Poppenheim) of this valuable magazine, are giving their time and talent to the furtherance of U. D. C. work and of club work in general.

Of all matters before the South Carolina Division during the year, the South Carolina Confederate Infirmary has taken the place of pre-eminence. Two years ago, an appropriation was made by the Legislature, sufficient to build a home to accomodate two infirm veterans from each county. One year ago the bill for an appropriation for maintenance and furnishings was introduced into the Legislature, and only by heroic efforts on the part of a committee of Daughters and by some staunch supporters of the bill, did even the amount for maintenance pass. So there was the beautiful Home, helpless veterans begging for admission, money to maintain it, but nothing with which to furnish it. The division convention had been assured by commissioners who thought they knew, that the chapters would not be called upon for funds for the Home. At this crisis, the only thing left, was a personal appeal on the part of the division president. This was sent as a circular letter, and although entirely unexpected by the chapters, most of them having gone to the limit of their treasuries, with pledges for various causes, nevertheless, within a few weeks, over $1000 came in, in response to the call. Any chapter sending as much as $75, was privileged to name its room. So now today, there stands in the city of Columbia, in the most beautiful location imaginable, this picturesque Home, its rooms bearing the name of some of South Carolina's noblest sons, and occupied by those who risked their all for the cause. Then let it be heralded abroad, that the stigma of providing no home for its veterans, has been removed from South Carolina, and give the Daughters of the State the credit they deserve. I would be remiss in any mention of the Soldier's Home, did I not thus publicly acknowledge the many administrations to its inmates by the Wade Hampton Chapter, of Columbia. Lectures illustrated by stereopticon views, barbecues, social evenings, with cake and ice cream in superabundance, a linen shower for the Home—these are only a few of the things done by the hand of the noble women.

All Daughters in this convention, will rejoice with us that the monument to the South Carolina Women of the Confederacy, is an assured fact, $20,000 being now in trust for same, while the contract for its erection has been awarded to the sculptor Ruckstull. Soon, on the beautiful grounds of the State capitol in Columbia, will stand this testimonial of Carolina's sons to the unselfish devotion and noble self-sacrifice of these glorious women.

My report would be incomplete, did I not deliver to the Texas Division, especially a message I bear them. In my home town of Newberry, in the beautiful City of the Dead, there lies all at was mortal, of one of the bravest boys who ever wore the Confederate Uniform, one of your boys, a native of Texas—Calvin Crozier. Above the mound stands a marble shaft, taller than any other in the cemetery, beautiful in its simplicity, bearing on the front, the one word, “Crozier.” Inscriptions on the sides and top, tell of how this 19 year old boy, when returning from four years of strife in Virginia, to his far distant home, showed his Southern chivalry, in protecting some ladies from the insults of negro soldiers stationed at Newberry. In the confusion that followed, when Crozier learned that a citizen of the town had been arrested, he boldly came forward and declared that he was the man. As a result he was shot without form of trial.

And now, after these forty years, 16 young women have banded themselves into a chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy, taking the name of this heroic boy, determined that as the years go by, the bravery of Calvin Crozier, shall never be unsung. From this chapter, I have the honor as its originator, to bear to Texas Daughters this special message:

Calvin Crozier! In words of gold,
A chapter new, we now unfold;
For thee, who gave the service of thy soul
To woman, vestal fires shall ever burn
In human hearts and blazoned urn;
And Daughters' children softly lisp—
“Earth hath no greater love than this.”
Angels gazed with shadowed brow
At Crime's malignant power,
And up beyond the dimmest star
Heaven opened wide the gates ajar.
Crozier, in memory thy valor thus we keep—
This chapter owns thy name. Sleep, hero, sleep!

ELOISE WELCH WRIGHT,
President South Carolina Division, U. D. C.

TENNESSEE DIVISION.

Madam President General and Members of the 16th Annual Convention of United Daughters of the Confederacy:

I come bearing greetings from nearly five thousand zealous Daughters in the grand old Volunteer State, and am happy in meeting you on the soil, of that of the Lone Star, whose thrilling history has been made under six flags on the generous scale that Texas does all things.

Our report this year does not fall behind those preceding. We have 79 chapters as against 68 last year, with a total of 4,900 members. Three new chapters were formed since the Atlanta Convention and before May 12th, and three more have organized since then.

The work which lies closest the hearts of all of us is, of course, our Soldiers' Home, as seen in the fine report of the chairman of the committee, in charge, showing how much has been accomplished through the liberal contributions from the chapters, they having made it possible for the committee to provide a matron, head nurse, house maid and cook, with extra help as needed, besides many other things. There was an increase in legislative appropriations per capita, last year, in addition to $1,500.00, for improvements, $2,100.00 for other obligations. $300.00 for supplying ministers for the chapel services, with a small sum stated for burial expenses for each old veteran.

In this connection will say that fourteen of them have been called home within the past year, leaving about one hundred and eighty-three in the Home now.

To the chairman of this committee credit is given largely for securing a wagonette to run between the Home and station, as is also the inauguration of "Tennessee Confederate Arbor Day," for the Home, on November 30th, which is the anniversary of the battle of Franklin.

Our State Historian, and her excellent committee, are conserving the South's history in most attractive ways, in programs for the Confederate Historical Evenings, which always feature our conventions—as well as in Mrs. Gillespie's Year Books, wherein interesting and profitable subjects are suggested for study. Our former State Historian, Mrs. Wm. Hume, has compiled a history of the Tennessee Division, U. D. C.

The educational branch has kept up its high standard and I cannot do better than quote from Mrs. Clift's report, in which she says: "At last the time has come when we can say the chapters have responded as never before with contributions not only for this year, but with promises for continued support for years to come. Nor is this all. We have scholarships to the value of more than $5,000.00" This was in May and she now reports scholarships to exceed $6,000.00.

The monumental work is a source of pride and interest in the division. The grand statue, in bronze, of our boy hero, Sam Davis, was unveiled on Capitol Hill in Nashville, on April 29th, and stands in its mute majesty, a beacon of fidelity to principle, to the youth of our land. Ms. E. H. Hatcher was the able chairman of the committee for this memorial from its beginning to successful finish, and merits the gratitude of Tennessee.

The chapter at Mulberry, of only thirty-six members, on Sep-

On the 25th, unveiled a beautiful monument in memory of the hundred brave men who went out from that little village to the Confederate Army. The State president had the pleasure of going with them upon the occasion, which was one of enthusiasm. Two thousand people assembled to witness it.

Within the year the Mary Latham Chapter of young women, had memorial lamp posts around the monument to Gen. N. B. Forrest, in Memphis, which were dedicated with impressive ceremonies during the Confederate Reunion.

Tennessee's interest in Shiloh and Arlington Monuments are meeting with success under the able management of the two officers, Mrs. White and Mrs. Clapp.

Miss Hume reports encouragingly for Blandford Church Memorial Window, while another window for the Tennessee Room Confederate Museum at Richmond was undertaken at the convention in May—this one to the immortal youth, Sam Davis. The design originated for it with the Nathan Bedford Forrest Chapter, Memphis. They are also engaged in erecting a memorial perianth and drinking fountain in their town to their Confederate heroes.

It was gratifying to our division to have the suggestion of celebrating the Centenary of our only Confederate Admiral, Raphael Semmes, so heartily participated in by the other States. This was from our gifted Poet Laureate, Mrs. Virginia Frazier and was warmly adopted by many of the State presidents, whom I received cordial endorsements of it.

Our Girls Confederate Home and Children's Auxiliaries are in the front ranks of those who are deeply interested, and we know they will carry them through to success.

At our convention in May, we were honored with the presence of our President-General for one day, which was a very great pleasure to us all.

The Tennessee State Fair in September, set aside a special day known as United Daughters of the Confederacy Day—that day John P. Hickman was chairman of, and which proved a grand success, with Secretary of War, Hon. J. M. Dickenson, as orator for the day.

Our State president was guest of the Nashville chapters upon a delightful occasion, and unstinted hospitality was shown all day to the Daughters.

Just here, Madam President-General, my report was finished but within the last few hours, the great Recorder of all our events, has added another full chapter to it and to our division's history, in the death of Mrs. M. B. Pilcher, who until the month of last May, was our State President. These sad tidings cast a deep shadow aslant the hearts of the Daughters of Tennessee, whom she served so willingly for the last two years of her life, and in their behalf, I will close this report with a sincere tribute of love to the honored name of Mrs. Judith Winston Pilcher.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. RICHARD H. SANSOM,
President Tennessee Division, U. D. C.

TEXAS DIVISION.

Madam President and Daughters of the Confederacy:

The Texas Division, United Daughters of the Confederacy, desires to express deep appreciation to our President-General, our Secretary-General, our Treasurer-General, and to all officers of the General Association, for prompt and ready assistance and many courtesies.

The leading work of the Texas Division, for the year 1909, as has been the leading work with us for six years, is for the Confederate Woman's Home at Austin.

This Home, opened June third, 1908, now cares for within its hospitable walls, a number of widows and wives of the Confederacy. Much of the success of this Home is due to the good work of Mrs. Howard, Chairman of the Board; Mrs. Roberdean, Treasurer; Mrs. Giles, Superintendent, and Mrs. Cilquitt, Chairman of Legislative Committee.

Our Legislative Committee succeeded in securing the passage of an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas, which makes it legal for the State to support the Confederate Woman's Home.

At the regular election held in 1910, this amendment will be submitted to the voters of Texas, at which time we will expect them to give it favorable consideration, thereby giving our Home over to the keeping of the State.

In the interpretation of the four objects of our Constitution, memorial, benevolent, historical and social, the Texas Division has been awake and in earnest.

Crosses of Honor have been bestowed upon many veterans. During this year a handsome monument has been erected over the grave of General Tom Green by the Daughters of the Confederacy of Texas and the Green's Brigade Association. In the erection of this monument to General Green, the assistance given by the Texas Division, is due to the diligence and excellent work of the Chairman of the General Tom Green Monument Committee, Mrs. Z. T. Fulmore, of Austin, who, it is my melancholy duty to state, sed away one month ago, and her loss is deeply felt by this sion.

Mrs. Joseph B. Dibrell, Director for Texas, of the Arlington Monument Association, and Mrs. J. D. Roberdean, Chairman of Arlington Monument Committee, have done much to interest chapters and to keep this beautiful memorial before them.

Miss Decca Lamar West, Chairman of the Chickamauga Monument Committee, for several years, has worked with our Texas chapters, and never discouraged, she will go on, and finally bring Texas to her full duty for Chickamauga.

Under the direction of a committee, Mrs. Cline, chairman, we are endeavoring to locate all 'Texas soldiers' graves upon battlefields.

The committee to erect a monument in honor of Colonel Wm.
Hood, who fell at Corinth, Mississippi, continues its good work, under Mrs. Bronson's leadership, as does the committee under the direction of Mrs. S. W. Sholans, to place a tablet to the memory of Hood's Texas Brigade upon the battle field of Gettysburg.
It is with pride that the Texas Division is able to report that during August and September of this year, when called upon by the Monument Committee of Hood's Texas Brigade, to raise one thousand dollars, which amount would complete their twenty thousand dollar ($20,000) fund, the chapters of this division, with only a few exceptions, went to work with full appreciation of the great cause and the thousand dollars was raised.
On August 30th, the anniversary of the battle of Second Manasses, a number of our chapters was observed as "Tag Day," others gave entertainments or gave directly from their treasuries.

We esteem it an honor that this Brigade thought that we could or could assist them in their work, for the very name of Hood's Texas Brigade is sacred and well beloved as the memory of those who shared its victories.

It was the pleasure of many of our chapters, in accord with the suggestion of our President-General, to observe with appropriate exercises, the centenary of the birth of Admiral Semmes, September the twenty-seventh.

Our memorial work, as represented in the Relic Room in our State Capitol, the Texas Confederate Museum, under the regency of Mrs. L. J. Story, Austin, is rapidly becoming a place of authentic reference and interest.

Texas deeply appreciates the beautiful service of Mrs. A. V.
Linkler, Regent for Texas, for the Confederate Museum in Richmond, Virginia, and we esteem her work a perfect interpretation of the memorial clause in our Constitution.

As a benevolent organization, each chapter has tried to remember all needy Confederate soldiers in their cities and towns, and through our State amply provides for those soldiers who are residents of the State Confederate Home, it is our privilege upon Thanksgiving Day and at other times, to send them delicacies, etc.—not that they need anything, it is just our great pleasure in remembering them.

In the interpretation of the historical clause in our constitution, Texas feels especial interest. We are the first State to observe Literary Evening during our State conventions, and our Historian, Mrs. M. L. Watson, sends excellent programs to chapters and auxiliaries which many of us study carefully with great profit. Our Text Book Committee, Miss Carlisle, Chairman, makes observant study of the text books used in our schools, bringing to our notice, those that are not up to our standard in accuracy and historic fact.

Our Library Committee, under the direction of Mrs. Crawford, endeavors to place proper story books, books of biography, history, etc., in school and town libraries. Our two scholarships, one in our State University, ours through the generosity of Major Littlefield, of Austin, an ardent Confederate veteran, and one in the Southwestern University, ours through the President of the university, Dr. Hyer, are each held by worthy young men.

Mrs. Valerie E. Austin, of Galveston, and Mrs. Beulah H. Dimmitt, are the inspection chairmen.

Mrs. Petus, Chairman of our Educational Committee was able to report to Miss Poppenheim, our General Chairman of Education, that the Educational work, according to her outline is begun in Texas.

Our Anniversary and Honor Days have been observed in accord with suggestions sent to the chapters, by Mrs. D. A. Nunn, Chairman Committee on Anniversaries, and the Department of Children's Auxiliaries, under the direction of Mrs. M. | R. Bolton, Chairman, has accomplished good work. Miss Griffin, Chairman Committee to place pictures of Southern heroes in the schools of Texas, has been vigilant in her efforts and many chapters have placed the pictures of our heroes in our public and private schools.

In the realization of our social clause, we appreciate our mutual dependence, and the great and manifold benefits to be derived from organized effort.

Our U. D. C. Departments in our several State papers are edited by members of our division, who are also experienced press women. The press of Texas is very generous with their columns, and have uniformly assisted our organization in this State.

A book of Confederate and other old songs, has been compiled by our Honorary Historian, Mrs. A. B. Watson, which we believe will be of great value to divisions and chapters.

The loyalty, strength of purpose, and ready energy of the officers the Texas Division, is beyond question. Each has served loyal- and unselfishly, and has performed with great accuracy, the du- of their respective offices.

We believe that each year will find us stronger and more ad- vanced in our sacred objects, that our organization is a part of excellence, the strength and the patriotism of this country. Individual duty is to see that our work is at all times pro- vided, presented, established and appreciated.

KATE DAFFAN,

President Texas Division, United Daughters of the Confederacy.

VIRGINIA DIVISION.

our President, and Daughters of the Confederacy: During the past year, Virginia Division has experienced the most disaster in its history; namely, the loss of nearly seven hundred dollars, through the failure of the bank in which the deposit was made. No blame can be attached to our treasurer, and we extend to her our sincere sympathy. In response to a letter sent out September 1st, informing our chapters of the serious condition of our finances, the delegates came to the last convention at Lexington, prepared to meet the obligations of the division.

In spite of this blow, the division is still in the forefront, enthused as never before, and seemingly stronger and more determined to succeed to none in our great organization.

We have added to our enrollment during the year just closed, many new members, making a total of about 6000. We have lost by death 44. Three monuments have been unveiled; one in Warrenton county, by a little chapter of 15 Daughters. Middleburg has just finished a handsome memorial hall. Turner Ashby, Winchester has added four stones to her number of monuments in memory of the soldiers who fell at Kernstown, Cedar Creek and Cool Springs. A grand old woman will unveil a monument on thanksgiving day.

Crosses of Honor have been presented with elaborate ceremonies. $14,744.93 has been collected by our chapters. Five new chapters have been organized, namely, Washington and Lee in Westmoreland, Diana Mills, Holston, Danville, Stuart and Warrenton.

The systematic, faithful work of our officers, has put the division in fine working plane. Our chapters are more law abiding, and we understand more clearly what is required of them. Every member of every active chapter in the division is enrolled in our State registrar's book.

Without going into the merits or demerits of the Boyesen Essay, it is sufficient to say that, that paper, with its baleful train of evils, is but the outcome of a policy, the wisdom of which was questioned when first suggested. A majority of the Virginia Division believes the remedy is: the declination of the Columbia College Scholarship and the abolition of the prize essay, or the limiting of the offer to Southern colleges.

Our educational Committee has done fine work. Four scholarships have been secured in leading institutions in the State, one of which, through the courtesy of Dr. W. W. Smith, is given by Randolph Macon Woman's College at Lynchburg.

Owing to bereavement in the family of our Shiloh director, the amount raised for this monument is not so large as we had hoped it would be.

Arlington director reports $912.00 raised, making a total of $1412 in two years.

Whatever of success has attended my administration as President of Virginia Division, is largely due to the loyal support given me, not only by the State officers, but by the entire division.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. C. B. TATE.

President Virginia Division, U. D. C.

WASHINGTON DIVISION.

Madam President:

In giving you my first report from the Washington Division I would not be true to the love I bear our cause did I not tell you how keenly I regret not bringing in person Washington's greetings and words of comradeship. Though few in numbers, we have the work heavy on our hearts.

One year ago our division was organized, and is not yet in good working order as we hope to have it in the near future. We have few veterans here, and they seem able to take care of themselves. Our contributions are sent to the homes for the Confederate Veterans and homes for the Confederate women. Each chapter has contributed to the calls of our order as far as able. The chapters are all interested in Confederate work.

Complying with the request of the General Committee on Education there has been such a committee appointed for Washington Division. And here, allow me to say, that you women of the South can have no idea of the dead wall which such a committee has to face in the West. But we think it well to have our forces alert in order to use any opportunity that might arise. By having a committee we at least show to those around us that we are concerned for the best interests of our State.

In order to establishing a reference library for the Washington Division, we could only appoint a librarian who shall, as opportunity offers, collect from other States, records of such matter and events which shall insure the searcher after truth a clear and distinct account of events. Not only must our records contain the events of the '50's and '60's but of the prominent part taken by the Southern Colonies in the Revolution.

It is not infrequently we are asked how we can be Daughters of the Revolution and Daughters of the Confederacy. So 'tis well that we study the history of the colonial struggle and the achievements of the noble men of whom the South should always feel proud.

The meetings of our chapters are rather social affairs. Chapters in the South can have no idea how delightful it is for these Southern women to meet, having the noble cause as well as the Southern love of home to unite them.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. J. F. HEDGER.

WEST VIRGINIA.

President, United Daughters of the Confederacy:

It is with pleasure that I submit the following report of the work accomplished by the West Virginia Division, and in this report I bring loyal, loving greetings.

The past year has been one of unusual activity for our Division. We are making a great effort to establish a scholarship at State University. At present the expense is greater than we can stand, but by another year we hope to accomplish it.

The monument to be erected to the great and noble Stonewall Jackson, is the all-absorbing thought. It will be placed in the old grounds at Charleston, our State Capital, and in the section of the country where the great soldier was born. The sculptor is Moses Ezent.

We have chartered four chapters this year, which encourages us very much, and much interest is shown in many other towns. As I have said before, we have no State Home for our Veterans, and each chapter takes care of their own, adding much to the comfort of the humble homes, surrounded as they are by dear ones of all the associations of the past years. Their gratitude touches our hearts and we feel we can never do enough for them. Several, who have no family ties, we have, through the kindness of our mother, gotten into the Home, at Richmond. Our women are wide-awake and anxious to do all in their power to perpetuate the history of the South, and where they can, to introduce Southern histories in the schools. They never let an opportunity pass, where they can add to the comfort of Southern men and women. As President of the division, I found it necessary, last winter to reimburse the State Treasury, the demands were many and had to be met. I wrote a personal letter to every chapter, proposing that each member give a penny for every letter in their name. It was an unique idea, I admit, but the appeal was responded to most kindly, and at the State Convention, our Treasurer's report was most encouraging. Our convention met September 19th at Morgantown, a beautiful town on the Monongahela river, nestling among the mountains, where coal, oil and natural gas is found in abundance. The town was jubilant over the U. D. C. We were received with open arms by the people. The gates of the city were open to us, and we had no use for pocket books, street cars, fine luncheons, everything was free. Here the University of West Virginia is situated, an institution we are all proud of. They have co-education and advantages in every department for both sexes.

We increased the State assessment to 25 cents per capita, and assigned special duties to the vice-presidents. All chapters showed good work, in giving to veterans and descendants, in the State, Crosses of Honor, appreciating the fact that the time is limited, and they must be busy. Since writing this report the recorder of crosses tells me she has orders for 89 Crosses, where Cross had never been given.

We are going through all cemeteries, marking every Confederate grave, and where they can be moved, placing them in our Confederate lots. Education is taking a firm hold on our people, it is very important, and we propose doing good work in that line.

Our State and Chapter Historians are faithful and efficient. The Registrars are compiling a fine record of the division. We have 24 good working chapters, with 1,000 members all paid up.

The natal days of Generals Lee and Jackson, and President Davis, and the centennial of Admiral Semmes were appropriately observed over the State. But few deaths were reported at memorial services. Madam President and Daughters of the Confederacy, the duty of making this report came to me upon the eve of my departure for Houston. We hoped that our newly elected President, Miss Price, could have headed our small delegation to this beautiful city of Houston, and I should have taken much pleasure in introducing her to my many friends, but sickness in her family prevented.

I will make no apology for not telling you more of the work in West Virginia, believing in brevity and leaving something to the imagination of our co-workers.

Respectfully submitted,

V. F. MCSHERRY.

HISTORICAL AND LITERARY EVENING

The first Historical and Literary evening inaugurated by the United Daughters of the Confederacy, was held on Wednesday evening at Beach Auditorium.

The program was in charge of Mrs. J. Enders Robinson, of Virginia, Historian-General.

The beginning of the program was when Colonel J. J. Hall, of Green's brigade, attired in full Confederate uniform, and carrying a huge Confederate flag, marched across the platform while the band played "Bonnie Blue Flag." Following Colonel Hall came thirteen beautiful young ladies attired in white robes and bearing golden shields on each of which was recorded the name of the Confederate State which she represented.

Mrs. M. E. Bryan, president of the hostess chapter, next introduced Mrs. J. Enders Robinson.

The literary program consisted of readings and papers on history in connection with the Confederacy and the war between the States. The first paper was read by Mrs. J. F. Burton, historian of the hostess chapter, who took as her subject "The Battle of Galveston" as follows:

Madam President General U. D. C., U. C. V., and Friends:

What unity of sentiment and feeling has brought us together? Why these many waving banners, brilliant lights and strains of patriotic music? And more this call for a Historical Program relating to the records of a people of whom it has been said:

No nation ever rose so fair
Or fell so free from crime!

These questions are fully answered, not only by the red and white badges, which bedecked the breasts of the noble women, both old and young; but by the Crosses of Honor adorning the gray coats of the Confederate Veterans.

As a resident of Houston, and as Historian of R. E. Lee Chapter U. D. C., I am justified in saying: We are standing tonight on historic ground; for no City of Texas is more entitled to a place on her historic honor roll than our own Magnolia City.

Christened in honor of the hero of San Jacinto, nurtured from infancy by a citizenship of the staunchest, bravest and most patriotic caste, she has ever lived true to her traditions and proved herself, at all times, a Gibraltar of strength and patriotism, whether over-cast by the clouds of war, or radiant with the sun-light of peace and prosperity.

Cognizant of all this, it was but natural that General John Bankhead Magruder, on assuming command of the District of Texas, New Mexico and Arizona should come direct to Houston and establish headquarters here, this being, by far, the most available strategic base for future operations.

Scanning the situation, he found all our harbors in possession of the enemy from Corpus Christi to the Rio Grande. Not only this, but Galveston, our beautiful island city, to which Houston was bound by the strongest and tenderest ties, already surrendered and the entrance to her bay blockaded and guarded by a mighty Federal fleet. Then it was that his proud heart burned within him, and he resolved to retake Galveston and open up the entrance to her harbor at all hazards.

With the meagre means and forces at command, the prospect of success would have been overwhelmingly discouraging to any commander endowed with less determination, prowess and military ability than was the intrepid and knightly Magruder.

The formulation of his plans was carried on so skillfully and quietly that, (although all were expecting some great movement in the near future) none knew just how, when and where he proposed to strike the first blow.

True, it had been whispered that General Magruder would surely attempt the re-capture of Galveston by making a simultaneous attack on the land and naval forces of the enemy; yet, the gigantic scheme was not regarded as a certainty until the little boats, Bayou City and Neptune were brought to Houston to be barricaded with cotton bales and troops began to arrive en route to Virginia Point.

Ah! then and there was hurrying to and fro.

Up to this time Texas, (though in mourning for the loss of many of her brave sons, who had fallen on the battle fields across the river) had known nothing of the real horrors of war; and being self-sustaining, had felt but little of the financial stress caused by the blockade.

Never until then had she felt that the torch was at her temp'e door. It were too long a story to tell (in a paper like this) of the zeal, energy and keen foresight which General Magruder exercised in devising ways and means for the collection of the "sinews of war," and the massing of troops sufficient to justify him in making the attack on which he had so resolutely determined.

For a full account of these interesting details, and the names of the vallant officers and men (without whose co-operation, unswerving fidelity and daring, General Magruder would have been powerless) you are referred to his Official Report, in the closing paragraph of which he says: "The alacrity with which officers and men—all unacquainted with this kind of warfare, volunteered for an enterprise so extraordinary and apparently desperate in its character, and the bold and dashing manner in which the plan was executed is deserving of the highest praise." The attack was made at midnight December 31st, 1862, and was led by General Magruder in person, who fired the signal gun. This was responded to by a simultaneous discharge all along the lines.

The moon had gone down, but by the light of friendly stars, the Federal ships could be seen in grand array, imposing, confident and defiant. Soon they opened with a tremendous discharge of shell, grape and canister. Never before had the majority of the untrained soldiers of Magruder's little army seen, heard or felt anything like the roar of cannon and whistle of deadly missiles which surrounded them; yet they stood bravely by their guns, which were few in number, and of comparatively small calibre. At this critical moment, Colonel Cooke advanced with his storming party; his men wading through the water, carrying scaling ladders with which to reach the end of the wharf where the land forces of the enemy were stationed. Imagine the situation when it was found that their ladders were too short to be of service. After a fierce contest our infantry sought shelter in the buildings near the wharf from which they continued to fire. The Federal ships, eager for the onslaught, were now only three hundred yards away. Daylight was approaching, which would expose the Confederate troops to a more galling fire—and the expected gunboats, Bayou City and Neptune (the only hope of succor in this hour of sore need) had not arrived.

The scene baffles description. But thanks to an over ruling Providence, when hope was almost gone, these peerless little crafts, arricuated only with cotton bales yet manned by as fearless a crew as ever put to sea, or faced a foe; came dashing down the harbor and engaged the Harriet Lane—even as the stripling David did the giant Goliath. They ran into her, one on each side, pouring on to her well appointed deck and thoroughly trained crew, a deadly fire with rifles, shot guns and pistols.

The captain of the Pride of the United States Navy fought his ship bravely. He succeeded in disabling the Neptune and attempted to run down the Bayou City. In this last, he failed; yet, as the vessels passed each other, the Bayou City lost one of her wheel-houses.

Still undaunted, though subjected to several broad sides from her adversary she dealt her a destructive fire of small arms; then turning, drove her iron prow into the wheel of the Harriet Lane. Thus, the two vessels became locked in fierce embrace, and the tide of battle was turned in favor of the Stars and Bars. Or in other words, an unparalled and complete victory was gained by the Confederate forces. Listen! and we can even now catch the echo of (the so-called) rebel yell, which rent the air ere yet the smoke of battle had cleared away. As soon as practicable, a flag of truce was sent to Commodore Renshaw by Commodore Smith, demanding the surrender of the Federal fleet, giving him three hours in which to consider. These terms were accepted and soon the formidable armament was brought to anchor, each ship flying a white flag. This great victory was gained on Jan. 1st, 1862, and is known as Gen. Magruder's New Year's Gift to Texas.

The fighting had been fast and furious and the hours of actual combat few, but the victory was one of the most complete and brilliant gained by the Confederate forces during the entire war and was really the first act in the mighty drama which may be fitly styled "Texas saved from Invasion." As General Magruder was proceeding to the wharf, where the wounded, dying and dead were being cared for, he was met by Major A. M. Lea, one of his most distinguished staff officers. Instead of the mutual congratulations natural on such an occasion, Major Lea informed General Magruder in troubled accents that he had found his son, who was second in command of the Harriet Lane, mortally wounded. What a sad, sad commentary this tragedy furnishes on fratricidal warfare.

Here I must pause to say that Lieut. Lea died soon after in Galveston and was given military burial. His remains now rest in the Episcopal cemetery, lot of G. W. Gray, marked by a headstone bearing his name. On Memorial Day the U. D. C. decorate it with flowers, as they do the graves of our own veterans. In addition a multiflora rose vine clammers about his pathetic headstone and in the spring time covers it with symbolic blooms; as if in sympathetic mourning for the fate of a son who fell bearing arms against his own father. In contrast to this sad incident, we might relate the story of a rustic soldier who chanced to be one of the men called upon to harness himself to a piece of artillery and put it into position on one of the principal streets of Galveston which was soon to be swept by the guns of the enemy; he had scarcely had time to unharness himself when a tremendous discharge of shell, grape and canister gave forth a deafening roar and sent missiles flying in every direction, whistling and sizzling and making the air blue as they passed. Dodging behind a brick wall just in time to save himself he was heard to exclaim "Gee whiz thunder and lightning that beats my time, I have seen buckshot, squirrel shot, duck shot and have fooled some with cartridges, but I will be blessed if I ever heard of loading guns with single trees, trace chains, flat irons and skillets before." This, of course, bordered on the humorous, for, strange as it may seem, there are few times so serious but they are now and then marked by appeals to wit and sense he ridiculous.

 leaving to others the presentation of the no less remarkable and iant victories which followed the one which I have but feeb-etched, I ask:

In honor of our dauntless men,
 The brave defenders of our state
 Who saved us from the oppressor's heel
 And quenched the torch, when at our gate;
 Leaving to us a heritage
 Of memories, richer far than gold
 The half of which has never yet
 Been faithfully and truly told
 That we now give with loud acclaim
 Their password to deathless fame
 "THE TEXAS REBEL YELL."

rs. S. H. Watson, former historian of the Texas division read original poem on the life of President Davis, entitled "Just Hundred Years Ago," giving an account in verse of his er and death, as follows:

(In Memory of Jefferson Davis)

Just one hundred years have past,
 Since on Kentucky's soil,
 A babe was born, whose future cast
 Was full of fame and mental toil;
 Our embryo chieftain of the South.

A few returns of golden June
 To bring his natal day;
 And then transplanted where sweet perfume
 Of jassamine blended with the bay,
 Our innocent chieftain of the South.

'Neath Mississippi's Southern skies,
 His boyhood days go on.
 And then ambitious hopes arise,
 And West Point calls him, "Son,"
 Our youthful chieftain of the South.

When West Point's training days were o'er,
 He westward took his way,

And with sword and gun, mid battle roar,
 He brought his Indian foe to bay,
 Our gallant chieftain of the South.

With victory perched upon his brow,
 And young love in his heart,
 He gave up war for the marriage vow
 And one whom fate had kept apart;
 Our wise young chieftain of the South.

But Death soon claimed his bonny bride,
 And he was left to mourn
 The loss of one who by his side
 Would never more return,
 Our sad young chieftain of the South.

Again it came he must obey
 His Country's call to arms,
 And charged the foe at Monterey ,
 And gained the right to make his terms,
 Our brave young chieftain of the South.

Soon after this, a second time,
 He took to himself a wife.
 She was his comfort in his prime,
 And through his declining life,
 Our loved chieftain of the South.

Of hchildren born to them, we know
 Was one the South can claim;
 Child of those grievous days of woe,
 "Daughter of the Confederacy" by name,
 Much loved by our chieftain of the South.

Did time allow I could relate
 Much that would interest,
 But lest you weary, I will state
 Only what is manifest,
 As our chieftain of the South.

The sad days of stormy '61
 Transfixed each heart with fear,
 But with one voice Mississippi's son
 Became our noble leader, dear,
 Our real chieftain of the South.

Four dreadful years pass swiftly on,
 Four years of cruel pain;
 Nor time nor hist'ry ne'er can sum
 The burden all those years became,
 To our faithful chieftain of the South.

But brave and true, he silent bore
 The evils of the day,
 Nor shirked a duty, tho' heart sore,
 However hard and sad the way.
 Our patient chieftain of the South.

And as the end he now must see,
 When tattered, torn and weak,
 Our noble army under Lee,
 In quick surrender life must seek;
 Our heartbroken chieftain of the South.

But when, alas! a prisoner he,
 To heavy irons chained,
 His noble spirit seemed to be Above his foe, and not defamed:
 Our suffering chieftain of the South.

With courage born of God he stood
 His trial; What a shame,
 The first mixed jury! Ah, if we could,
 Blot that from tragic deeds we blame!
 Our noble chieftain of the South.

But God in mercy gave him peace
 And quiet, at the last,
 Till called where troubles all shall cease,
 And earthly sorrows all are past;
 Our sainted chieftain of the South.

And we whose summons hence it late,
 Sing "ALL HAIL", on every side,
 And as his name we celebrate,
 Our grateful hearts throb fast with pride,
 For our dead chieftain of the South.

"A Peep into the Life of Alexander Stephens" was the subject of a delightful sketch of that statesman, written by Miss Nannie Byrd Washington, who was unable to be present, and read by Mrs. Saunders:

Madam President and Daughters of the Confederacy--The subject of my sketch, Alexander Hamilton Stephens, was born Feb. 11th 1812. The early part of his life was spent upon a farm, plowing and planting corn and a general errand boy. As a youth, he showed a desire for study. He prepared his Sunday lessons by the light of pine knots. At an early age he was left an orphan with a delicate constitution, which unfitted him for farm work; with a little patrimony and the kindness of a friend, he went first to an academy, then graduated from the State University, Athens. Some thought he would enter the Ministry, but after giving the subject careful consideration he decided he was better fitted for the practice of law. Teaching for a while enabled him to take up the study of Law and in three months he completed his preparatory course and was admitted to the bar at Crawfordsville.

His eloquence as a speaker soon brought him before the public and early in life he began climbing the political ladder. Going first to the State Legislature, and at the age of thirty-one going to the Federal Congress, there as everywhere, he won the respect of every one, irrespective of party feeling. Early in his Congressional career, seeing political war clouds gathering and casting their shadow upon our beloved South. The strong opposition of the North to slavery brought questions before Congress, which the wisest statesmen seemed unable to settle. In one of his fine speeches he said, "I am persuaded there will never be harmony again, between the two great sections of the Union." Taking a prominent part in these grave affairs, which were agitating the whole country, he was spoken of as a candidate for the Presidency for 1860, an honor he declined. Strong in his convictions of the sovereignty of the State and of States rights, he was elected to the Provisional Government at Montgomery. He was unanimously elected to the Vice Presidency, of the Confederate States of America. On the 11th of Feb., his birthday, he was inaugurated. In March 1861, he was asked to conduct the Peace Commission to Washington, but sure no good would be accomplished, he declined.

On the 19th of April Mr. Davis requested him to go to Richmond to confer with Gov. Fetcher, as to forming an alliance between Virginia and the Confederate Government. From the first he opposed with strenuous efforts, martial law, declaring all matters belonging to Congress that the military be kept subordinate to the authorities. Against his judgement the Cabinet sent him to confer with Mr. Lincoln, about exchanging prisoners. The first effort was a failure later on he was more successful. After General Sherman had taken Atlanta, and was about starting on his march saying, "He would make Georgia howl" desired an interview with Mr. Stephens and sent a verbal message by William King.

Stephens replied, "If he was really of the opinion that there was any prospect of agreeing upon terms of adjustment between the two governments and would make it known to him in some authoritative manner he would most cheerfully, with the consent of the authorities, enter upon the arduous task of restoring peace to the country upon principles of honor and justice to both parties." Mr. Lincoln did not reply to Mr. Stephens note but continued his march through Georgia. On Feb. 3rd, 1865, the Hampton Roads conference took place. Messrs. Stephens and Campbell and Hunter on the part of the Confederates, President Lincoln and Secretary Seward on the part of the United States. Very little good was accomplished except an exchange of prisoners.

Shortly after came the end, when the Confederacy was "cast down but not destroyed." On the 11th of May Mr. Stephens was arrested at his home, "Liberty Hall" and taken to Atlanta. From there he was sent to Fort Warren, where he arrived May 25th. At that his room was partly underground, dark and damp, which had a bad effect upon his frail, delicate constitution. Later he was given better quarters and treated with more kindness and courtesy, allowed the freedom of the grounds, and books and newspapers were given him, and much kindness shown him by the citizens of the town. On the 12th of October Mr. Stephens was released. On his return to Georgia Mr. Stephens was elected to the United States Senate, but was not allowed to take his seat, at that time, by those who objected to the Executive plan of restoration. Not being permitted to take part in political affairs, and with health too frail to resume the practice of law, he took up literary work and began the history of the war.

For a few years his life passed quietly at "Liberty Hall," reading and writing, and a large part of his time in the entertainment of guests. Hospitality and generosity were prominent qualities in him.

Let us for a few minutes take a peep at "Liberty Hall" not far from the town of Crawfordsville, on the edge of a forest of large oaks and hickories, about three acres in fine transplanted trees.

The house was large and furnished handsomely. His law library contained about fifteen hundred volumes, and his miscellaneous library about five thousand volumes, the whole costing over seven thousand dollars. But Mr. Stevens services were too valuable to the country to allow him to live quietly at "Liberty Hall." The people of Georgia knew it. Upon the death of Gen. Ambrose Wright, Mr. Stevens was elected to fill his vacant seat in the United States Senate, was re-elected and continued public life, although very frail and at times so weak he would be compelled to use a wheeled chair. He was punctual at roll-call, and his influence was so great, a Northern newspaper said of him, "Whatever he wants done, is done and whatever measure he advocates passes." Always serving his constituents and doing for them to the best of his ability. He continued in the path of duty, until in Atlanta on March 4th, 1883, the summons came, and his soul released from his suffering body, entered into the "Mansions not made with hands," taken from pain and sorrow to receive his reward.

"Servant of God well done,
Rest, from thy loved employ.
The battle fought, the victory won,
Enter thy Master's joy."

Madam Chairman, in the short time allotted me I have only been able to give briefly some of the important events of our Vice President's life. I have attempted no eulogy of him, hoping that will be done in a year or two, when, I presume, this Association will celebrate the hundredth anniversary of his birthday. What made our Vice President such a noble type of manhood, was his firm faith and belief in Almighty God, the strong spirit of justice in him towards his fellow beings, his fearlessness to do right, no matter what he endured, and a love of truth, and honesty. It is such men like these we Daughters of the Confederacy "delight to honor."

NANNIE BIRD WASHINGTON.

"Virginia's Second Secession" was an admirable composition of historical facts presented by Mrs. C. B. Tate, the distinguished president of the Virginia division.

I feel that in announcing the subject of this paper, Virginia's Second Secession, I am peculiarly fortunate in standing on Texas soil, because Texas, too, has had her Second Secession. She did not participate in the Philadelphia Convention, which issued that magnificent proclamation to the world on July 4th, 1776. but she had her own convention in the obscure little village of Washington and on March 2nd, 1836, she issued a proclamation less significant only because there were fewer persons concerned. She did not have her Yorktown, but she had her San Jacinto. She did not have her Washington, but she had her Houston. And she enjoys the unique distinction of being the only one of the United States to maintain a separate and individual government. From the time of her coalition with the United States, the history of Texas is insolubly linked with that of the South. I feel, then, that I am in sympathetic territory when I attempt to draw a few comparisons between the first secession of Virginia, and the second. Twice in her history has Virginia separated herself from an oppressive government. The first separation is called the glorious revolution. The second is frequently denominated as the base rebellion. By whatever names they may be denominated, the fact remains that there were two separations, the first from a mother country, separated it is true, by the broad Atlantic from her children, but possessing in an unusual degree, the loyalty and love of those children; the second from sister states of contiguous territory, and bound together by every tie of blood, history and tradition. Surely the motives impelling people to this decisive, and I might almost say unnatural, step, must have been powerful. Virginia may truthfully be said to have been the mother of the thirteen Original Colonies, for on her hospitable shores was made the first successful attempt to establish the white man's home in America. Encouraged by the success of the Jamestown settlement, there came others and they slowly peopled a narrow strip along the Atlantic Coast with a class of hardy, honest and fearless persons, who were destined by God's grace to hold aloft the torch of liberty to the world, and to lead all nations to a realization of the highest ideals in governmental policies.

As time passed, there came to be a serious difference in ideals between the colonies and their parent country. This feeling of estrangement was intensified with the lapse of years, until finally a bigoted king of foreign extraction came to sit upon the throne of England. Harassing and iniquitous burdens were placed upon the colonies. Public indignation grew apace. England demanded obedience to wrong. Virginia refused. Yielding to the exigencies of the moment, the English Parliament repealed the Stamp Act, but reserved the right to tax the colonies. Too much significance cannot be attached to that scene in the Virginia House of Burgesses in the spring of 1765, during which Patrick Henry secured the passage of his resolutions. General Gage said of this that Virginia gave the signal to the continent. Another has said that Virginia rang the alarm bell. Certainly it is true that this was the first crystallization of the sentiment of the colonies toward the parent country. Two years later another tax was levied. This met with strenuous protest from the colonies. When Parliament, in order to secure obedience to the act, ordered all persons guilty of treason to be transported to England for trial, Virginia took fire and the House of Burgesses passed ringing resolutions, bitterly complaining of the wrong done them. A paper was prepared by Mason and presented by Washington to the proper authorities. Once more England drew back and repealed the obnoxious law.

At this time Virginia recognized that the cause of the colonies was common, the opposition was organized by correspondence committees, and Virginia not only crystalized the thought of the day, but took the first step toward organized opposition to the oppressions of the mother country.

Then came the time of Virginia's temptation. The first blow fell against Boston, when the British troops occupied that city. Here was Virginia's opportunity to get what she wished by refusing aid to Massachusetts. Repeated efforts were made by the English statesmen to alienate the colonies one from the other, and the Boston Port Bill was aimed at Massachusetts and not at Virginia, with the purpose that Virginia might know that the enmity of the mother country was not directed toward her. The news of the passage of the Boston Port Bill reached Virginia when the Houses of Burgesses was in session. It was received in a burst of indignation, and the magnificent defiance was then hurled at the mother country, that a blow aimed at Massachusetts was a blow at Virginia.

It was Virginia also that issued the first call for a convention to be composed of delegates from all the colonies, to adopt policies leading to the redress of wrong. Important events followed each other rapidly. There were Lexington and Concord; Washington's appointment as commander of an army that did not exist except in the spirit that actuated these hardy devotees of the principle of freedom. The colonies hesitated to cast off their allegiance because they realized how almost hopeless would be the struggle against the most powerful nation on earth.

Again it was Virginia who took the lead by instructing her delegates to the Continental Congress to declare that "the colonies are, and of right ought to be, free and independent states." In its boldness, this declaration perhaps is the most significant that has ever been promulgated. In its consequences, it is certainly the most important of political utterances of modern times. Virginia not only instructed her delegates to so declare but she of her own initiative declared herself independent, and adopted her own constitution in June, 1776, less than a week before the Declaration of Independence was signed. In obedience to his instructions, Richard Henry Lee on the 7th of June, arose in the Continental Congress and introduced his famous resolution which met with empathy and approbation on the part of the delegates from other colonies assembled. Accordingly, a committee was appointed to draft a resolution embodying the sentiment of the Continental Congress. This resolution was written by Thomas Jefferson, and the world was given its most valuable political lesson in civil government.

Thus without boastfulness it may truthfully be said, that Virginia in that magnificent awakening of civic conscience was the leading spirit. It will be admitted that the American Revolution was the most important of modern times from a governmental point of view. The sentiment leading to this revolution was crystallized by the fervid oratory of Patrick Henry; the resolution embodying it introduced into the Continental Congress by Richard Henry Lee; given formal and magnificent expression by Thomas Jefferson; defended in the field by George Washington. I mention these things for the special purpose of showing that no state had cause to love the Union, it was Virginia.

Let us turn now to the picture of Virginia's second attempt to establish on firm basis the principle for which she had always contended. How different are the circumstances. We sometime regret Valley Forge in thinking of Yorktown. The first revolution was successful. Alas! we have no Yorktown in the second, though Valley Forge were not infrequent. It is not my purpose to speak of the magnificent heroes, of the sacrifices, of the bravery and of the splendid sentiment displayed by the people of the South. I shall speak briefly of the circumstances immediately preceding the second secession of Virginia from an oppressive government.

A sentiment of antagonism between the North and South had become apparent. This feeling was intensified by repeated legislative acts of the National Congress, by the constantly increasing diversity of interests, of customs and of institutions, and by a gradual change in the attitude of several states toward the Federal Constitution. The institution of slavery came to be the immediate cause which rendered the dissolution of the Union necessary from the standpoint of the South. Accordingly, when Abraham Lincoln had been elected President, the whole tier of gulf states, realizing that the constitution to which they had acceded had lost its original character, and that the powers delegated to the Federal Government were being used for their oppression, gave to desperation by the public utterances of the President and the leaders of the victorious party, quite peaceably resumed the powers delegated to the Federal Government and formed a new coalition known as the Confederate States of America. This action was taken deliberately and without intention of bringing on civil strife, in fact it was hoped by this means that war might be averted.

In 1833, South Carolina, impelled by the iniquity of legislation had nullified the laws of the general government, and the position taken by all the states was that South Carolina could not remain in the Union and refuse to obey the laws. When South Carolina was driven a second time to desperation, she took the only course open to her under the constitution. That the southern states had a perfect right to secede if they chose so to do, has never been successfully denied, though some of the greatest statesmen have attempted to deny it. Even the great Webster who in his early days devoted much of his time to proving his hypothesis that the Union was indissoluble, came to see his error in his more mature years, and admitted that if the Constitution should be broken habitually and deliberately by the South or by the North, the other states would not be bound by its provisions.

The right of secession was ancient and well understood. The Thirteen Colonies were declared to be thirteen separate and independent sovereignties. They ratified a compact separately and individually. Several of the states refused to ratify the proposed constitution unless they were assured that it would be so amended as to insure the preservation of the sovereign rights of the several states. The promise made to the reluctant states was redeemed shortly after the inauguration of the National Government in the passage of the 10th Article of Amendment which provided "that the powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the states, are reserved to the states respectively or to the people." The question of secession had never been a sectional one, for the people of the New England states had been quite as jealous as those of the Southern States of this right. The Federal Government had not long been in operation until certain laws had been passed by the National Congress which were thought to be in excess of its powers. Immediately Virginia and Kentucky passed ringing resolutions saying that all laws passed in excess of the authority granted to the National Government were null, void and of no effect, and that the right of interpretation of the powers of the Federal Government rested with the states. Virginia said on this subject, that she was warmly attached to the Union; that she was ready to defend and maintain it, but that she would not calmly submit to the usurpation of powers that she had not given to the Federal Government, and she invited all other states to join in the protest. So patent was the rectitude of this constitution, and so evident was Virginia's cause of complaint, that the National Legislature hastened to repeal the obnoxious laws, and quiet was again restored. In 1814, when the United States was engaged in what ap-appeared to many people to be a foolish and unnecessary war, several New England States met in secret convention, and threatened to secede from the Union if the war was not quickly brought to a successful termination. No one denied at that time the right of the New England states to do as they suggested. It is unnecessary to go into further details of the history of the early days of the National Government. If there is one principle that is evident, it is that until the middle of the Eighteenth Century no one ever thought of denying the right of a state to peaceably resume the powers she had delegated to the Federal Government.

Of the expediency of secession, the several states themselves were the sole judges. It was they who had delegated certain powers for the common weal. It was they who were to determine whether or not those powers were used for their oppression. Virginia in her ratification of the Constitution was very careful to depend to the official ratification, the sentiment: "That the powers granted under this Constitution derived from the people of the United States may be resumed by them whenever the same shall be perverted to their injury or oppression, and that every power not granted thereby remains with them and at their will." Who should say whether the powers delegated had been used for the injury and oppression of the South? Who was to be the judge to sit in determination of the question of sufficient cause? Is it not evident that those who had made the compact had the sole and exclusive right of interpreting its meaning? The Southern states entertained the honest and earnest belief that the preservation of their ancient liberties and their rights necessitated a separation from the remaining states of the Union. Surely all of the declinations of the southern states dictated that they remain a part of the Union which they had done so much to form.

The radical party which had won a recent victory at the polls electing the chief executive, conceived the fiction that states could not secede, although they had seceded. President Lincoln said that it was impossible for a state to secede from the Union, although ordinances of secession had been passed by the legislatures, and ratified in many cases by the people of the States. How utterly without foundation was this contention, even in the minds of those who were its strongest advocates, was made evident by subsequent history, for after the war was over, and the National Government had been victorious in the field, it was then proclaimed that the Southern States were out of the Union, and they could be admitted only under humiliating conditions, and this sentiment prevailed among the various parties that promulgated the fiction that states could not secede.

Virginia recognizing peril, and foreseeing the trouble, used every effort to bring about a reconciliation between the seceding

States and those States remaining in the Union. Though goaded by insult from the North, taunted as a laggard by the South; accused of infidelity by her sister Southern States, Virginia, actuated by her great love of the Union, refused absolutely to secede, though she believed in the right of secession.

To make this Union possible, Virginia had voluntarily ceded to the National Government her great Northwest territory, a domain that had been conquered by her own army, equipped and maintained at her individual expense. This domain would have given her overwhelming power in the Federal Government, but for the common weal, she voluntarily surrendered it. Virginia had issued the first call for the Constitutional Convention which prevented the earlier dissolution of the Union. Is it strange then that she should be reluctant at that time to sever her connection with the great government that she had so large a share in forming?

It seems to be entirely fitting that at this time Virginia should take the first and only steps taken by the states to prevent the dissolution of the government. The Legislature of Virginia voted upon secession and repudiated the measure by a vote of more than two to one. This body immediately sent peace commissioners to Washington and to the seat of the Confederate government, to see whether it would be possible to reach some common ground on which a reconcilliation could be effected. By special act, a resolution was passed, calling upon all the States of the Union to send delegates to a peace convention which should take up the question and settle the difficulty in an amicable manner. Contrast the action of Virginia here with that taken in '76, when she was the first to instruct her delegates to declare the independence of the several colonies from the mother country. The peace commissioners which she sent to Washington effected nothing. The peace convention which she called met and sent certain recommendations to the Federal Congress then in session. These recommendations were ignored, and the party then in power, rushed headlong to the conquest of the seceded states.

Trampling upon every principle of human liberty; violating every vested right on the sovereign States; deaf to the voices of the peacemakers, the Federal Congress, urged on by their fanatical leaders, made preparation to coerce the states who had found it impossible to remain longer in a Union which had become subversive to their rights. It was a war of subjection and of conquest that the National Government entered upon at this time.

In violation of the pledge given to the Confederate Government, a secret expedition was fitted out and sailed to South Carolina, to regarrison a Federal post in that state. The conflict that followed is known to all. President Lincoln determined to crush at one blow that he denominated as the insurrection of the South and issued call for 75,000 troops.

Pause to consider that at this time the attitude of the Old Dominion, the mother of the Union, the oldest of the colonies. She saw the Union that she had formed, for the establishment and preservation of which she had sacrificed men and money, torn in twain by the perversion of the delegated powers. The question then that presented itself to her was: should she turn her army against her southern sisters, or should she share with them their most certain doom? Again the hour of temptation came to Virginia, as it did in the ante-revolutionary days, when she might have made her peace with England by refusing to make common cause with Massachusetts. She believed in the right to secede. She knew the iniquities that had goaded the Southern States to separation. She was conscious of the fact that her sympathies and her duty lay in the South. She knew that perhaps her commercial interests lay in adhesion to the Federal Government.

What did she do? The same legislature that had but a few months before voted more than two to one against secession, now at the call to arms had come, did not hesitate, and by an even greater majority voted to secede and cast their lot with the South. Such was the second secession. Consider the two. They were both impelled by devotion to principle and were in defense of guaranteed rights; rights assured by royal charter in the first instance, and by explicit provision of the constitution in the second. In both cases the blow was struck at a sister state, at Massachusetts in the first instance, at South Carolina in the second. In both cases repeated efforts were made to secure peaceable solution of existing differences. In both cases were men and money furnished freely, and in both cases the great military leaders were furnished, the first the "Father of his Country," the second, the most perfect example of the Christian soldier of all ages. Both were secessions from powerful governments, and in each case common cause was made with weaker powers.

Thus far the parallellism is remarkable. There were, however, several points of differences. The first secession was from a government whose seat was thousands of miles away across the ocean; the second from a government of contiguous territory and familiar ideals, institutions and customs. The first was bold, defiant, and prompt; the second was reluctant, hesitant and tardy. The first was of Virginia's own seeking; the second was forced upon her. The first was successful; the second unsuccessful. The first was splendidly dramatic; the second unspeakably pathetic.

And thus it was that Virginia, weeping over the grave of the broken constitution, turned her eyes toward her struggling Southern sisters, and said with the devotion of Ruth: "Where thou goest, I will go; where thou liest, I will lie; where thou diest, I will die, and thy people shall be my people."

One feature of the program which must not fail to be prominently mentioned was the readings of Mrs. Mary Fairfax Childs, a member from New York city. Mrs. Childs rendered three selections two pathetic, and the other humorous, all bearing on Southern life.

The battles on Texas soil were recorded and read by Mrs. L. H. Watson, historian general of the Texas Division.

Madam President, Confederate Veterans, United Daughters of the Confederacy and Citizens of Houston:

History can not compromise; it is either true or false; like a mathematical problem when we find an error, we cease to go on, but begin anew, seeking to prove the result.

There must be a certainty in the mind of the student that these facts can be proven and have already passed through the fire of public opinion. The definition of history is, the acts of a person or a people or of actions in nature that have engaged the greatest number of minds for the longest time and have exerted an influence upon the people or the country that is perceptible after passing through the minds of the majority and having their approval.

That the human conscience can become perverted in recording facts seen by this same conscience through their eyes and ears grow on without contradiction, until the seething passion passes away and the cold truth becomes apparent, proven by the effect upon a new generation.

While the statements of a distorted mind is often rejected by the masses who read it does not die; but like all falsehoods causes endless confusion and strife. Such has been the fate of the Confederate States of America. Now, after 44 years, we have arrived at the point where the student searches histories from a Northern standpoint and a Southern standpoint.

The question is often asked the Historian of the Texas Division by those who never bear the burden of their country, but who prefer to bask in the effect of good brought about by our constant struggle for right—"Why do you always keep up the talk of battles—why not let this thing die out? We are a United Country."

Poor misguided mortals—A people who are ashamed to tell the story of their land, be it of joy or sorrow, are subjugated beyond recovery; for the mind becomes torpid or enslaved.

We are a united people as far as the defense from a foreign power, if our land should be menaced—We will be united when Northern President can openly do justice to Jefferson Davis and when a Southern man dare be nominated and elected President of the United States of America.

When we cease to fight battles, earth will be transformed.

Battles make the history of the world and battles will be as long as human beings exist—Life itself is a battle. Everything we accomplish that is worth doing is from a successful battle fought with our fellowman for supremacy in excellence, or against the forces of nature—and often in nature the world stands aghast at the spectacle;—thousands go down, yet we rise and fight again. At this time, we are fighting a powerful but silent battle, that of opinion; the struggle is gigantic, that of two opposed forces in the government of this nation—On one side a distrust of the people and an insidious advance towards a powerful centralized government; the other side, standing for the voice of the people and self government. The earth has been watered with the blood of both, yet it is not finished. The battle flag of Right, as we see it, is the principles our Southern men died for. We will never tell the story and if, in the great conflict, victory comes to our Southland—it will be from the teachings of our veterans and the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

The stories of Texas you will hear tonight, are not recognized by the histories of our Northern people; not until of recent years had the world had a chance to know that while Texas suffered little in the War between the States, her people left at home filled the breach and their very modesty has assisted in their obscurity. Texas people has had their eyes turned and ears attuned to know of the struggle around Richmond. They saw the line of defense grow thinner day by day—and saw not their own glory. Not until the Spanish-American War, did we begin to see the glory of Sabine Pass—When Admiral Dewey sunk the Spanish fleet in Manila Bay—and the world saw the wonder—some voice rose up for right and said, Dick Dowling did a deed at Sabine Pass greater than that, for he had no powerful nation behind him—and we began to tell the story until the histories will record his marvelous victory.

We have selected the year 1863 as the most eventful one in Texas Confederate history.

New Years day gave us back our lovely Galveston.

When Gen. J. Bankhead Magruder was put in command of Texas, New Mexico, and Arizona with headquarters at Houston, hope rose high in the hearts of our soldiers, who much against their desires were kept in the army of Texas, for it was the burning wish of every man to be at the front in the great battles, when astonishing the nations; Generals Lee, Jackson and Beauregard was the watch word to point to deeds of glory. Texas sons had already fought in every battle for the Confederacy.

General Magruder was the dashing, chivalrous leader to realize the great possibilities of success, and at once organized a vigorous campaign to drive the enemy out side the bars of Texas ports.

Our soldiers were ready for any daring action, longing to be among those to honor the name of Texas and the Confederacy.

No company of men felt this more keenly than the "Davis Guards"—who were named in honor of Jefferson Davis, and aspired to be his body guard, and all signed a petition to this effect.

Sorrow and real tears of disappointment met them, when he replied "that he had other work for them to do."

This was a company of Irishmen from the Captain down, who were devoted to, and loved the cause of the Southern Confederacy; Organized at Harrisburg Aug. 1861; Capt. Frank Odium; 1st Lieut. Richard W. Dowling.

Ireland has the reputation of producing Englands wit and humor, poets, soldiers, and statesmen for the whole world—no history of warfare is complete without the Irish record. 144,200 fought in the Northern Army against us, but it remains for us to record that 43 fought for us, and gained for themselves a love and honor that will ever adorn history's pages, whose achievements have been deemed without a paralel in ancient or modern warfare, while the 144,200 remain only as army statistics.

Had President Jefferson Davis accepted this body guard, history might have had a more pleasing story, than chains and imprisonment.

The old "Davy Guards"—how that name stirred our hearts in those days, stalwart, with flashing eyes and martial tread, they made those streets gay with the life and fire of their presence.

This company was heavy Artillery, and fought as land forces at the Battle of Galveston, and shortly after were ordered to Orange to enter another expedition fitted out, to drive the enemy out side of the bar, and in what is known as the Morning Light fight off Sabine Pass, were gunners of the "Josiah H. Bell," commanded by Captain Fowler of Galveston, and fired the telling shot that burst the gun on the enemy's ship, disabling her, and bringing about the surrender; Capturing two vessels, 30 miles to sea; a heroic and daring action, on the 21st of Jan. 1863.

These men were famous for never wasting powder, and were the finest shot in the world—many of them had seen service in other wars; their Captain, Frank Odium, was ordnance sergeant in Magruder's battery in the Mexican war.

Texas was at this time, growing to be a great commissary for Confederacy. Blockade running was continually going on, every boat that was captured was fitted up and sent out with cotton, bringing back arms and ammunition, or money for the Confederacy, besides this, caravans of wagons loaded with cotton, were ever on the road across the state to the Rio Grande, till the road was made conspicuous by the bones of oxen, horses and mules that died.

A stage was in operation across this great wide waste, carrying passengers and mail, every five days. An immense trade was established and protected by our soldiers of the plains, and the Maximilian Government; Texas flourished and produced such crops of cotton and grain as never before.

While our hopes were high, we were to feel the terrible truth that Gettysburg was lost, and our Glorious Lee was retreating, Vicksburg and Port Hudson in the hands of our enemies, and the war nearing our shores.

Texas then attracted the attention of the Northern hordes, our immense wealth in cotton, our use to the Confederacy, made the subjection of Texas to be desired.

General Banks ordered an expedition to be fitted out to move against Texas, occupy Houston, destroy all boats in the rivers, and so cripple the army of the Southwest, that it could not recover.

General Franklin was given 15,000 men, 21 transports, and our gun boats for this enterprise.

Sabine Pass was to become the first point of their assault, hence to Beaumont, then to Houston, controlling all supplies and transportation; the fort at Sabine Pass was manned by a detachment of the Davis guards, under Lieutenant Dick Dowling.

This expedition left New Orleans on the 4th of September, and arrived outside the bar on the morning of the 8th of September 1863, formed in battle line with all their colors flying, and began to move against the little fort manned by the 42 men, I now have Mr. J. B. Jaqua, Pres. Hood's Brigade Junior, to tell you the thrilling story of what was done that day.

MRS. MARGARET L. WATSON,
Historian Texas Division U. D. C.

The concluding speech was made by J. B. Jaqua, president of the General John B. Hood Juniors, who delivered an oration on the life and work of Dick Dowling. While young in years, the speaker exhibited a self-control and talent for public speaking which would have been worthy of a much older man.

These papers were interspersed with music and the program was concluded by the audience joining Mrs. Robinson in singing "Dixie."

COMMUNICATIONS TO THE CONVENTION

UNIVERSITY OF THE SOUTH.

Sewanee, Tenn., October 16, 1909.

To the Officers and Delegates, in Annual Convention U. D. C.
Houston, Texas:

Southern Sisters—Davis and Lee, the twin-type memories of Confederate effort, are still mere names to the oncoming generation. The names are revered, it is true, but more through habit than from any real knowledge of either man. This, despite your earnest effort to place pictures of these Gemini in most of the schools. But pictures are only symbols of something useless, until the seer learns what that something may be.

“’Tis true, ’tis pity and pity ’tis, ’tis true!”

Since the Lee centennial, in this year, I corresponded with Mrs. Stone, President-General, U. D. C., in regard to a popular life of Davis and Lee. Her letter appended to this as “Appendix A,” shows her warm endorsement to you of my plan. That, briefly stated, is to write, print and issue the ‘Davis-Lee School and Popular History,’ without costing the United Daughters one cent. On the contrary, I propose to make it pay to each chapter and camp (which will really work for mutual aid) a sum exactly equal to that made for the book, their half to be used for the Arlington monument fund.

My plan, as approved by Mrs. Stone, is simply this:

I shall print and issue to every camp, chapter or organization, which will work for their sale (and which will so pledge itself to do, in letter ordering) two cheap, but tasteful souvenirs of Davis and Lee. The former will be a handsome card, 11 by 14 inches, ready for framing: with 5 elegant half-tone pictures of the Davis family (approved portraits, furnished me by Mrs. Davis and her daughter) including the 4 Davis children after the war; Mr. Davis in the clothes he wore when captured; and the Davis plot and statue, at Hollywood. There will be one or two short poems on the card.

The Lee Leaflet is a 4-page one, with two perfect portraits of the General and his recumbent statue, at Lexington. This leaflet has been placed at 5c. per copy, the poem of “The Living Lee” having been very much in demand, North as well as South.

The Davis card souvenir will retail for 10 cents.

Your ex-President-General warmly endorses these souvenirs of the two representative men of the Confederate era. I will deliver them without any charge whatever, to every chapter or camp, ordering; provided the orders contain pledge that the chapter, or camp, so ordering will spare no effort to sell all possible, not only within its own membership, but among its outside friends and the public of its town.

For all copies of either, sold by any chapter, or camp, one-half the gross amount from all sales, shall be retained by the sellers for their monument fund (As Arlington Memorial, the Lee monument, or for any urgent demand of memory, or necessity.)

The other one-half shall be sent me by the sellers, for defraying the cost of the Davis-Lee School History.

I submit this proposition to your honored body, basing it upon the proviso that I make this (final) effort for a Southern-written life of Davis and Lee—only on condition that not less than 100 chapters and camps of the Daughters and Sons instruct their members to send them, at least 50 each of the 10 cent Davis Cards and 50 of the 5 cent Lee Leaflets. This is the day of little things that mount up.

I do not believe any 50 cent, or even 25 cent souvenir could be made to sell generally. I am confident that the 10 cent or 5 cent will sell and that very widely, if properly and persistently pushed.

I beg to ask your candid expression upon this plan; and, if approved, that you will make that endorsement official in your convention, as the Sons of Veterans have recently done (See resolution appended, "B"). If so endorsed by your convention, I will at once have printed and distributed to every chapter, 100 copies of this letter and its appendices and of the sample souvenirs and order blanks for their securing, this blank to have a clause, adding me to donate one-half of all cash sums received by the chapter, or camp, to its monument fund.

I have the honor to be, with high respect,

Fraternally yours,

T. C. DeLEON.

Appendix "A")

ENDORSEMENT OF PRESIDENT-GENERAL, CORNELIA BRANCH STONE.

To the Chapters of the United Daughters of the Confederacy:
During the centennial years of the birth of President Davis and of General Robert E. Lee, you placed portraits of these great chieftains in the public and private schools of your respective States, as object-lesson for future generations of students.
To make this work the more comprehensive and complete, Mr.

T. C. De Leon, the well known author, with patriotic and scholarly zeal, will publish an historical volume he has written on the lives and characters of Davis and Lee, for use in schools and by the people.

He asks your co-operation in a plan put before you. It will bring success with but little effort—and no cost—on your part.

The profits of this plan he proposes to share equally with your organizations, in all the States.

That there is great demand for truthful history by the people of the South, of the war between the States, there is no doubt, and we ask and desire nothing more, or less, than the truth. For the establishment and preservation of that the Daughters of the Confederacy stand pledged.

Your President heartily endorses this work of Mr. De Leon's and his generous offer to you, for his mind and heart have been given to this purpose for years with clear and prophetic vision of our need. He has prosecuted such ends with great energy and determination, while wrapped in pathetic darkness, yet with soul alight by love for his people and their history, he has toiled that he might offer you this opportunity to advance the object of our organization.

CORNELIA BRANCH STONE.

(Appendix "B")

The United Sons of Confederate Veterans in Convention at Birmingham, in June, 1903, endorse this book.

Resolved, That the United Sons of Confederate Veterans hail with much satisfaction the announcement of the preparation of a "Life of Jefferson Davis and of General Robert E. Lee," by Mr. T. C. De Leon, of Mobile, Alabama, and the hope is hereby expressed that the proposed work may proceed to early completion.

Resolved, further: That the Sons of Confederate Veterans everywhere, be earnestly urged to co-operate with the author in his praiseworthy task.

Copy from the Record.

(Signed).

N. B. FORREST,
Adjutant-General.

To the United Daughters of the Confederacy, in Session, Houston, Texas,

Dear Sisters:—A book I have been compiling on the Monuments and Memorials of the Confederacy, is not only a description of monuments; it contains many of the best poems and finest literary gems written in the South during and since the war. It might serve as a Compendium of War and Reconstruction Litature. It is full of eloquence and tender pathos, and of the rumors of war time. The Southern people need just such a book at this time.

It occupied my time for more than eighteen months. It includes every State wherein a monument has been erected in memory of the valor of Southern men; and is in itself a memorial to the devotion of Southern women to the cause for which their fathers and grandsires, their husbands and brothers fell; and commemorates the battles in which the Confederate flag waved over the dead and dying in defense of Southern rights.

I herewith offer to the Daughters of the Confederacy the result of my labors; I expected to publish it myself, but am unable to do so. If the organization will undertake the publication of it, I only ask a small royalty. The proceeds may be devoted by the Daughters to the cause which lies so near our hearts. I am sending with this a description of the book, which will give some idea of its scope and contents. I expect to continue to collect pictures and data of monuments and other material, which may form a second volume some day. With me it is a labor of love and I hope I shall continue to have the assistance of my sisters in this effort to preserve these records of our beautiful past for those who will succeed us in honoring the heroic men and women of the sixties.

MRS. B. A. CALHOUN EMERSON,

President of the Margaret Howell Davis Hayes Chapter of the U. D. C., Denver, Colorado.

Monuments, Memorials and Battlefields of the Confederacy.

I have a book in manuscript, ready for the press, on the Monuments of the Confederacy.

There are at least 450 monuments that have been erected in the Southern States (and a few in the Northern States) commemorating Confederate dead and illustrating Southern history. Some have been the work of memorial associations, some erected by the Daughters of the Confederacy, others by Confederate veterans; some by individuals, some by brigades, some by regiments, some by companies, by railroads, by States, by the United States.

The plan of the work is to devote one page to a picture of the monument, the inscriptions thereon, and a brief description. Then, in most cases, a page or two to the literary matter concerning those in honor of whom the monument was erected. I have taken pains to secure, if possible, an exact copy of the inscriptions, word for word, line by line, just as they read on the monuments. This will prove to be one of the most valuable features of the book; for many of these inscriptions have been written with remarkable ability, many are touching in their devotion to the memory of the dead; all express as nothing else can the feelings that lie deep in the hearts of the Southern people.

I have not been able to obtain pictures of all the monuments nor complete data of all; mention, however, is made in the book, of all that I have any knowledge of, and such facts given as I could secure.

About 300 monuments will be illustrated, more or less fully; of the others, some will be represented by picture merely, others, by data without picture; some by mere mention.

By permission of the editor of the Confederate Veteran, (Nashville), much of my literary material, such as battle scenes, poems, sketches, instances of heroism, etc., are compiled from the pages of that treasure house of history; another portion came from historical works, and from biographies; but much of the contents is new, obtained from correspondents in all parts of the Southern States. In the last 20 months I have written nearly one thousand letters and postal cards, in search of information.

Whenever I have learned of the existence of a monument in any place, I have not failed to write to a chapter of the U. D. C., or to a memorial association, or to a camp of veterans, for data concerning it.

The response has been so general that I have secured a fund of information about this wonderful array of monuments, that is new and unique. It is a wonderful array; General Bennett H. Young says: "Relatively there are more monuments to Confederate valor and Confederate renown than to any other cause human or divine, that ever has known struggle or conflict in the past of the world."

The monuments are arranged in the book according to States; Alabama, Arkansas etc.

A well known publishing company has estimated the cost of printing the first thousand copies of this book at about $2200.

REPORT OF JEFFERSON DAVIS MONUMENT ASSOCIATION.

New Orleans, October 15, 1909.

To the President-General and Officers and Members of the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

The Jefferson Davis Monument Association of New Orleans, desires to make known to your honorable body, that the sum of three hundred and seventy-five dollars (375.00), the surplus remaining after the completion of the Jefferson Davis Monument, in Richmond, Va., has been turned over to the president of this association, by the treasurer of the Jefferson Davis Monument Association.

The officers and members of the Jefferson Davis Monument Association, of New Orleans, take this method of thanking the United Daughters of the Confederacy for this generous gift.

Respectfully,

MRS. W. J. BEHAN.

President Jefferson Davis Monument Association.

The Calendar Committee takes this method of thanking the chapters and divisions that have contributed so generously and with such graciousness, to the calendar fund for the benefit of the Jefferson Davis Monument Association.

MRS. JOHN G. HARRISON, Chairman.

New Orleans, La., Oct. 18, 1909.

RESOLUTIONS DICK DOWLING CAMP, U. C. V.

Houston, Texas, November 9th, 1909.

Whereas, The U. D. C. at their annual convention invited this camp to attend and assigned them space in the hall, therefore, Be it Resolved, That Dick Dowling Camp No. 197, U. C. V. in regular meeting assembled this, the 7th day of November, 1909, do hereby acknowledge our high appreciation of the honor and assure the U. D. C. that their many acts and words of sweet approval of our efforts in our common cause was a great delight to each one of us.

Resolved, That their maintenance of the rules originally designed along the lines of recognition of our services meets with our hearty approval.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the Recording Secretary-General and if consistent she include them in her report of the convention.

PHIL H. FALL, Commander.

Attest:

A. F. AMMERMAN, Adjutant.

ings to to the officers and members of the United Daughters of the Confederacy in convention assembled at Houston, Texas, and prays that all their rulings may be guided by divine Providence.

MRS. W. J. BEHAN, President.

October 19, 1909.

To the United Daughters of the Confederacy, in Convention Assembled at Houston, Texas:

The Confederate Southern Memorial Association sends greet-ng, and wishes a successful convention for the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

With personal greeting, very sincerely,
MRS. J. ENDERS ROBINSON,
Corresponding Secretary, C. S. M. A.

Atlanta, Ga., October 15, 1909.

My Dear Mrs. Stone:

I have no words strong enough to express my disappointment at not being able to accept your beautiful invitation to the convention. Till almost the last moment, I had expected to come, but the long trip, the excitement attending the meeting and the danger of contracting fresh cold on sleepers, would aggravate the rushel of trouble from which I am suffering and perhaps endanger my life.

My heart is with the Daughters, and I extend my greetings to the convention.

As ever, your friend,
C. HELEN PLANE.

The Rectory, Biloxi, Miss., October 18, 1909.

My dear Mrs. Stone:

The United Daughters of the Confederacy, of which, you are the honored President-General, have my very best wishes for a very successful and profitable convention. The Church of the Redeemer, which I know is dear to them all, will always have a welcome for any one of them who may visit Biloxi. Please remember me very kindly to inquiring friends.

Very sincerely yours,
CHAS. B. CRAWFORD.

Love and best wishes to Mrs. Cornelia Branch Stone, President-General, who presides over the grandest convention of the U. D. C., the noblest and most lovable organization in the world, from Mrs. Cornelia Branch Stone Chapter, No. 1013, Texas Division, Port Lavaca Texas.

MRS. CARRIE JAYNE McFARLAND,
President.

Washington, D. C., October 14, 1909.

My Dear Mrs. Stone:

I thank you for remembering me so kindly. It would be a very great pleasure to me to attend the convention of the U. D. C., at Houston, and I am very sorry that it is impossible for me to be with you at that date. Unfortunately, I have professional engagements at that time which must be met.

382 MINUTES OF SIXTEENTH ANNUAL CONVENTION,

It is always a privilege to me to meet with those who hold ever in their hearts the memories that thrill my own. There are no remembrances more sacred than these and no purpose more nobler than the placing on permanent record of the courage, fidelity and patriotism of the old South in the olden days.

I am with you in heart and wishing you a most hopeful and pleasant reunion and regretting that it is impossible for me to be present with you in body as well. I have so many dear friends among the Daughters of the South that it would be a happiness to me to have opportunity of meeting with you in Houston.

With the kindest remembrance to you and the U. D. C., I am

Sincerely yours,

MRS. LaSALLE CORBETT PICKETT.

Huntsville, Ala., October 19, 1909.

Greetings and best wishes to our President-General and the Convention.

Southern Cross of Honor

The idea of the Southern Cross of Honor to be given by the United Daughters of the Confederacy to the veterans and descendants of deceased Confederate soldiers and sailors originated with Mrs. Mary Ann Cobb Erwin, Athens, Ga.

The design offered by Mrs. S. E. Gabbett, Atlanta, Ga., chairman of the committee appointed by Mrs. Katie Cabell Currie, President U. D. C., at Hot Springs, Ark., November 1898, to procure designs, was accepted at Richmond, Va., November 1899. The members of the committee were Mrs. S. E. Gabbett, chairman, Atlanta, Ga; Mrs. C. Helen Plane, Atlanta, Ga; Mrs. Mary Ann Cobb Erwin, Athens, Ga. Upon the resignation of Mrs. Erwin, Miss Mildred Lewis Rutherford, Athens, Ga., was appointed in her place.

The rules formulated by this committee were found insufficient to meet the many questions that arose regarding the bestowal of the Cross, so at the request of Mrs. Gabbett, who had been appointed Custodian of the Cross at Richmond, 1899, Mrs. Edwin G. Weed, President of U. D. C., enlarged the committee at Montgomery, Ala., November 1900.

The members of this committee are: Mrs. John W. Tench, Florida, Chairman; Mrs. J. N. Thompson, Alabama; Mrs. S. E. Gabbett, Georgia; Mrs. Frank G. Odenheimer, Maryland; Mrs. T. J. Latham, Tennessee.

RULES FOR BESTOWAL CROSS OF HONOR.

Rule I.

Section 1. Each State and Territorial division shall elect, or appoint a recorder of Cross of Honor, to whom chapters shall apply for blank certificates of eligibility to be filled out by the veterans, and blank forms for alphabetical lists, to be filled out with data from the certificates, by the President of the chapter ordering Crosses. When so filled out, these shall be sent to the recorder of said division for approval or correction, and forwarded by her to the Custodian of the Cross, who will forward the Crosses to the chapter, provided the rules have been complied with, and the decision of the Custodian shall be final.

The Recorders shall apply to the Custodian of Cross of Honor U. D. C., for the blank forms of certificates, and blank forms of alphabetical lists, supplying these, on demand, to the chapters, accompanied by an order to the Custodian, signed by the President-General and Recording Secretary-General, U. D. C.

Sec. 2. The Veterans and the oldest lineal descendants of veterans can receive the Cross of Honor on the same date of bestowal.

If there is no lineal descendant of a veteran, or, in case, that the oldest lineal descendant does not desire the Cross, the widow of a veteran may receive the Cross, by presenting with her application, written avowal of such descendant, that he or she waives the right to the Cross, provided said widow be a Confederate woman, who has endured the hardships and privations of the period from "Sixty-one to Sixty-five."

No descendant, or widow, can receive a second Cross, such privilege being granted to veterans alone, nor can such descendant or widow wear the Cross.

The Custodian will supply to the recorder of Cross of Honor of such States and Territorial divisions special blank forms of certificates for descendants and widows, which must be filled with data of eligibility, such blank forms in use should conform with the readings used in the Record Book of the Custodian.

Sec. 3. After waiting one month, chapters shall send to the division recorder and Custodian, names of veterans for whom Crosses have been received and not claimed, and these Crosses, if not engraved, may be used at the next bestowal, provided, other certificates in due form have been sent to the Custodian.

Rule II.

Section 1. No Crosses will be furnished by the Custodian unless the order is accompanied by certificates of eligibility, properly filled out, by the veterans, and certified to, by two, or more, members of a camp of United Confederate Veterans, and alphabetical list from chapter president.

Sec. 2. Presidents of chapters shall fill out blank alphabetical lists from the certificates with all data contained therein to forward with certificates to their State Recorder of Cross of Honor, with money order, for the number of Crosses desired.

The Custodian of the Cross of Honor shall keep a book or books, in which shall be kept, alphabetically arranged, the names and data of all veterans, descendants of veterans, and widows to whom Crosses have been issued.

Sec. 3. The certificates shall be returned by the Custodian to the presidents of chapters who have ordered Crosses, and the same be placed on file by the said chapter, that data may be furnished when needed for historical or other purposes.

Sec. 4. Each chapter shall keep a book, alphabetically arranged, in which is recorded the name and service of every veteran, and ancestor of descendant, and widow of a veteran, who receives a Cross. Each State or Territorial Recorder shall keep a similar record book of all Crosses issued.

Rule III.

Section 1. Crosses may be granted by the muster role of the nearest camp, U. C. V., and to Confederate veterans who are not members of a camp, who can give the required proof of eligibility, attested by two veterans who are members of a camp.

Sec. 2. The oldest living lineal descendant may secure the Cross, by giving the same proof of eligibility as that required of his veteran ancestor—and Confederate widows of veterans, applying for a Cross, must fill blank form of certificate, giving service of veteran, whose widow she is—such widows must have endured the hardships of the war period from 1861 to 1865.

Sec. 3. Upon the certificate of a reputable physician that a veteran is dying, if desired, he may receive the Cross immediately.

Rule IV.

The Crosses may be bestowed on Memorial Day, selected by each State or Territorial Division, U. D. C; the birthdays of President Jefferson Davis and General Robert E. Lee—June 3rd and January 19th; and one commemorative day, between July 1st and January 19th, to be selected by each State or Territorial Division, in convention assembled. The presentation shall be accompanied with such ceremonies as will give proper dignity to the occasion.

Rule V.

Section 1. A veteran, in good standing, having lost his Cross, may have it replaced once, only, by applying to the president of the chapter from which he received the Cross, and he must furnish copy of the certificate upon which the Cross was first bestowed. If a second Cross is lost, a certificate may be given, in testimony that such veteran has been awarded a Cross. No descendant or widow of a veteran can have a second Cross.

Sec. 2. Chapter presidents are urged to advise veterans to have their names engraved on the bar of Cross, for the purpose of identification if lost.

Sec. 3. A veteran having been awarded a Cross, and dying before it is received, the president of the chapter bestowing it may give it to the oldest lineal descendant, or widow, under provisions of Rule 1, Section 2. A veteran having received a Cross, may bequeath it to any lineal descendant that he may select.

Sec. 4. On and after November 1st, 1912, no more Crosses shall be issued.

Rule VI.

The Cross cannot be worn, in any case, or on any occasion, except by the veteran upon whom it was bestowed— no descendant or widow can wear it.

Rule VII.

Section 1. Where counties have no local organization of U. D. a veteran may receive the Cross through the president of the nearest local chapter, or the president of chapter in the county from which he entered the Confederate service, if so desired.

Sec. 2. Where chapters are not able to bear the expense of purchasing Crosses for other counties than their own, these may be furnished at the expense of the General Association, upon the authority of the President-General, U. D. C.

Rule VIII.

All orders for Crosses shall be filed in the Custodian's office three weeks before the day intended for bestowal.

Rule IX.

Any chapter departing from these rules will not be entitled to Crosses for presentation.

Preceding the presentation of the Crosses, Rules V., VI., VII., VIII., and IX., shall be read upon every occasion of the bestowal. The president of each chapter shall see that the camps of Confederate Veterans and Sons of Confederate Veterans in her county shall receive a copy of these rules for continual reference.

NOTE:—Cost of Crosses, 12 1-2 cents each, for an order of more than one. For an order of only one, the cost is 13 cents.

CONSTITUTION AND BY-LAWS
OF THE
United Daughters of the Confederacy

CONSTITUTION

ARTICLE I.

Name.

Section 1. The name or title of this Association shall be "The United Daughters of the Confederacy," and its business office shall be the place of residence of the Recording Secretary-General.

Sec. 2. Each State or Territorial organization shall be known as a division, and shall be designated by the name of the State or Territory in which it is located. Each local organization in any State or Territory shall be known as a chapter of such division, said chapters to be numbered consecutively, and to be designated by such names as they may select.

ARTICLE II.

Objects.

The objects of this Association are memorial, historical, benevolent, educational, and social; namely, to honor the memory of those who served and those who fell in the service of the Confederate States; to record the part taken by the Southern women in patient endurance of hardship and patriotic devotion during the struggle, as well as untiring effort after the war in the reconstruction of the South; to collect and preserve the material for a true history of the War Between the States; to protect and preserve historical places of the Confederacy; to fulfill the sacred duty of charity to the survivors of that war and those dependent upon them; to help educate the needy descendants of worthy Confederates; and to cherish the ties of friendship among the members of the Society.

ARTICLE III.

Organization of Chapters.

Section 1. Those women entitled to membership are the widows, wives, mothers, sisters, nieces, grand-nieces and their descendants, and lineal descendants of such men as served honorably in the Confederate Army, Navy or Civil Service; or of those men, unt for active duty, who loyally gave aid to the cause; also, those women, and their lineal descendants and nieces and their descendants, who can give proof of personal service and loyal aid to the Southern cause during the war. Northern women having no male relative who served the Confederate States of America in the war between the States, 1861-1865, and having themselves performed no special service to same, but having married a Confederate soldier since 1865, and through this means becoming a member of the United Daughters of the Confederacy shall have the words, "by adoption" placed upon their certificates of membership, and upon the Registrar's books, and in all rosters shall be designated as members "by adoption." Said member being entitled to all the honors and privileges of this Association except that of transmitting this honor to members of her family, only her children of a Confederate father; the honor dies with her if she has no children.

Sec. 2. Seven or more eligible women in any State or Territory, in which no division exists, may organize a chapter, and be chartered, on application to the Recording Secretary-General. No chapter shall be chartered in any city or town in which a chapter already exists, except by and with the consent of a majority of the officers, or the Advisory Council of that division.

Sec. 3. A fee of $3.00 shall be paid to the General Association for each charter; such fee to accompany the application therefor. Any application for a charter of a chapter must be accompanied by the properly filled out and signed applications of each one applying, and shall be sent to the president of the division of which the chapter will become a part, for her approval and endorsement; and no application for a charter shall be signed by the president of the division, unless accompanied by these applications for membership.

Sec. 4. Any chapter desiring to change its name may apply to the Recording Secretary-General for a new charter, paying the regular charter fee of $3.00; such charter to be issued under the original number of the chapter. If other changes are made in the original charter that will necessitate its being cancelled, and the chapter must then reorganize and be chartered in the regular order of numbers as a new chapter, provided that all applications for such changes be accompanied by official record, showing that there were not seven votes against such a change.

Sec. 5. No chapter may be organized in a State or Territory unless at least seven of the persons applying for a charter are residents thereof. Members of a chapter may reside in other States or territories, but its active officers must be residents of the same section as the chapter. No person shall be a voting member of more than one chapter at the same time.

Sec. 6. Auxiliary or junior chapters may be organized by any chapter, under such restrictions and limitations as may be prescribed by each division. The members of such junior chapters shall not be entitled to representation in, nor be required to pay any fees to the General Association. Each division shall embrace in its annual report a statement of the number of such junior chapters, with all necessary particulars concerning them. Chapters shall have the right, at discretion, to dissolve their auxiliary or junior chapters.

ARTICLE IV.

Organization of State Divisions.

Section 1. When three or more chapters shall be organized in any State or Territory, it shall be the duty of the first or charter chapter to call a convention for the purpose of organizing a State or Territorial Division. Such convention shall be held at a time and place to be designated by the charter chapter; and at such organizing convention each chapter shall be entitled to one vote for every fifteen members or fraction thereof, if such fraction be not less than seven. Each division may settle for itself what the ratio of representation shall be in its subsequent conventions. No State or Territory shall have more than one division.

Sec. 2. In case a charter chapter shall allow six months to elapse after the receipt of a request from two or more chapters of the same State or Territory to call a convention for the purpose of organizing a division, each succeeding chapter in order of organization shall be empowered to call such convention, until a division shall have been formed.

Sec. 3. A division shall be organized by the adoption of a Constitution and By-Laws, none of which shall be inconsistent with any of the provisions of the Constitution and By-Laws of the General Association, and by the election of a President and other proper officers. Any one or more representatives from any chapter in any convention may be authorized to cast the full vote to which such chapter is entitled.

Sec. 4. From and after the organization of a division, all chapters which may desire to be organized in that State or Territory must apply to the General Association through that division for their charters; and must pay to the division such additional fee as it may require. Each division must notify the President-General without delay of the withdrawal, suspension or extinction of any of its chapters. It shall be the duty of the President-General, upon receiving written notice from a division that any chapter has withdrawn therefrom, to have the charter of such chapter cancelled by the Recording Secretary-General. Notice of this cancellation shall be sent to the Recording Secretary of such chapter, to the Recording secretary of each division, to the members of the Executive Committee, to the Chairman of the Committee on Credentials, to the custodian of the Cross of Honor, and to the manufacturers of the insignia; and shall be included in the next annual report of the Recording Secretary-General.

Sec. 5. When a division shall have been formed by the required members of chapters, should a chapter thereafter withdraw, the division shall continue to exist, with the same rights and privileges as the other divisions of our Association. The chapter that has withdrawn shall not be recognized by this association until it comes back through the division from which it withdrew.

Sec. 6. Each division shall furnish to the chapters within its limits blank applications for membership, to be used throughout that division. These blanks may differ in form, but must not conflict with the qualifications for membership as prescribed by the Constitution and By-Laws of the United Daughters of the Confederacy. Each chapter must forward to the division in which it is located filled out applications of all its members, for record; and no one can be counted as a member unless her eligibility is shown by the proper evidence. The mode of electing and admitting members may vary in each division; provided, it is not in violation of the Constitution and By-Laws of this Association.

Sec. 7. Any division or chapter may become legally incorporated under the laws of the State or Territory in which it is located.

Sec. 8. Divisions and chapters of the United Daughters of the Confederacy are prohibited from federating with other organizations.

ARTICLE V.

Conventions of the U. D. C.

Section 1. Conventions of the General Association of the United Daughters of the Confederacy shall be held annually, on the second Wednesday of November, at the place designated by the preceding convention. The power is hereby vested in the President-General, at her discretion, to change the date or place of meeting, in case of unavoidable or unsurmountable obstacles.

Sec. 2. Each chapter which numbers twenty five members or fraction thereof not less than seven, shall be entitled to one vote, at all conventions of the General Association; and for each additional twenty five members or fraction thereof not less than seven, shall be entitled to another vote; provided it has paid the per capita tax for the number of members upon which the vote is estimated; and it shall be the duty of the Committee on Credentials to compare its report with that of the Treasurer General, and to see that this rule is strictly enforced.

Sec. 3. Any one or more representatives from any chapter shall be authorized to cast the full vote to which such chapter may be entitled. Any chapter may be represented by a proxy, provided such proxy be duly appointed in writing, and be a duly elected delegate or president of the division in which said chapter is located; except in case a State or Territory shall send no delegate or president, the proxy may be a duly elected delegate or president of another division. A proxy must vote according to the instructions of the chapter which she represents; but when she is uninstructed, she is at liberty to vote as she sees fit.

Sec. 4. The general active officers of this Association, the presidents of divisions and the chairmen of standing committees shall each be entitled to one vote in all conventions of the General Association, but none of these individual votes can be cast by proxy.

Sec. 5. No officer of the General Association shall be at the same time president of a division.

Sec. 6. No member of the Executive Committee shall act as proxy, except for her own State or Territory when it has no other representative present.

ARTICLE VI.

Officers.

Section 1. The officers of the General Association of the United Daughters of the Confederacy shall be:

- A President-General.
- A First Vice-President-General.
- A Second Vice-President-General.
- A Third Vice-President-General.
- A Recording Secretary-General.
- A Corresponding Secretary-General.
- A Treasurer-General.
- A Historian-General.
- A Registrar-General.
- A Custodian of Cross of Honor.

All these officers shall be elected to serve one year and until their successors shall be duly elected and qualified. The terms of all new officers shall begin with the closing of the convention at which they are elected. All nominations shall be made from the floor. A majority is required to elect.

Sec. 2. The number of Honorary Presidents of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, exclusive of the Honorary President-General, shall be limited to fourteen at any one time—all of whom shall be elected for life. No woman shall be eligible to this office of Honorary President, who is not the wife, widow, mother, sister or daughter of one distinguished in the military, naval or civil service of the Confederate States of America; or, a woman who has rendered especially noted service in the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

Sec. 3. No person holding office in this Association shall be paid salary for her services, but a sum of forty-five dollars shall be set aside monthly for the office of the Recording Secretary-General to be used as she deems necessary for clerical work. The President-General, Recording Secretary-General, Corresponding Secretary-General, Treasurer-General and Custodian of Cross of Honor may have their expenses to and from the convention paid from the treasury, as well as the expenses of their offices, upon presentation of proper vouchers. Necessary expenses of committees, also, must be paid by the General Association. The Treasurer-General shall be required to give bond.

ARTICLE VII.

Committees.

Section 1. The Executive Committee shall be composed of the President-General, (who shall be chairman of the Committee) the three Vice-Presidents-General, the Recording Secretary-General, the Corresponding Secretary-General, the Treasurer-General, the Registrar-General, the Historian-General and the Custodian of the Cross of Honor. It shall be vested with power to conduct the general affairs of the Association in the interim between the annual conventions, and to meet whenever business demands. It shall have supervision and control of all the property and affairs of the Association. Special meetings of the Committee, for the transaction of particular or urgent business, may be called by the President at any time she may think proper, and shall be called by her upon the written request of a majority of members. The Executive Committee shall make a yearly report at each Annual Convention.

Sec. 2. There shall be seven standing committees, as follows:

1. Rules for Bestowal of Cross of Honor.
2. History.
3. Awarding Prizes at Columbia University.
4. Education.
5. Emblems, Mottoes and Historical Souvenirs.
6. Stationery.
7. Finance.

There shall be four special convention committees, as follows:

1. Jurisprudence.
2. Transportation.
3. Credentials.
4. Committee on Condensing Minutes.

ARTICLE VIII.

Dues, Fees and Appropriations.

Section 1. Each chapter shall, on or before the first day of each succeeding March, pay into the treasury of the General Association the sum of ten cents for each and every member who may at that date be in good standing in such chapter. Each chapter fixes the amount of annual dues of its members; but it must pay all per capita taxes, charter fees, certificates and other necessary expenses imposed by the General Association.

Sec. 2. Any chapter which is in arrears for dues shall not be entitled to representation in the conventions of the General Association, and shall stand suspended. Any suspended chapter may be restored to good standing and be entitled to representation by the payment of all delinquent dues, not later than ten days before the assembling of the Annual Convention.

Sec. 3. No chapter shall be allowed representation in the conventions of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, if reported not in good standing by the division through which it was chartered.

Sec. 4. No debt or liability, except the ordinary current expenses of the General Association, shall be incurred, nor any project or undertaking requiring the expenditure of money, excepting it is specifically provided for in the Constitution and By-Laws, for which the General Association shall be responsible, shall be entered into except by a vote of two-thirds of the members voting in the Annual Convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

ARTICLE IX.

Certificates of Membership and Limits.

Section 1. Certificates of membership shall be furnished by each chapter to all its members in good standing. Such certificates shall be supplied with seal attached, by the Recording Secretary-General, at the cost of fifteen cents each. These certificates must be signed by the President and Secretary of the General Association, the president of the division in which the chapter is located, and the president and secretary of the chapter to which the member belongs.

Sec. 2. A member of any chapter who desires to change her membership shall be entitled, if she is in good standing, to receive from her chapter a dimit or transfer certifying to the fact. Such dimit or transfer, if presented within one year, shall make good her membership in any chapter to which she may be acceptable. A chapter cannot be required to give a dimit or transfer to any one who leaves it, unless she is in good standing and has paid all her dues.

ec. 3. A member of a disbanded or extinct chapter may obtain membership in another chapter by presenting her certificate of membership and proof that her original application had been filed on record with the Registrar or Secretary of the Division to which her former chapter had belonged; and by giving proof that she is in good standing up to the time that the first chapter ceased to hold its charter.

ARTICLE X.

Insignia, Badges, Seals.

ec. 1. The insignia or badge to be worn by the United Daughters of the Confederacy shall consist of a representation of the Confederate flag (stars and bars), in white, blue and scarlet color, surrounded by a laurel wreath, with the monogram "U. D." under the flag, and the dates "61-65" on the loops of the bow that ties the wreath. Divisions and chapters may use, in addition, a badge of their own.

ec. 2. The seal of the United Daughters of the Confederacy shall be a reproduction of the great seal of the Confederate States of America, with the addition of the inscription "United Daughters of the Confederacy" on the outer rim.

ec. 3. The seals of all divisions shall be of the same design, with the addition of the name of the State or Territory upon the inner rim; but any division which may so prefer shall have the right to use the seal of its own State or Territory, with the addition of the name of the division and society upon the outer rim.

ec. 4. All charters or other official documents issued by the General Association shall bear the impress of the great seal of the Association, and shall be signed by the President-General and the Recording Secretary-General.

ec. 5. The use of the name, seal or insignia of the United Daughters of the Confederacy for business purposes, other than the business of this Association, or upon hat pins or other ornaments is especially prohibited.

ec. 6. The insignia or badge, or the seal of the United Daughters of the Confederacy shall be printed only on such books and pamphlets as are for the use or intended to be sold for the benefit of this Association; and in all such cases, permission for such use must first be obtained from the Executive Committee.

ARTICLE XI.

Days of Observance.

The birthday of Jefferson Davis, President of the Confederate States, (June 3) and that of Robert E. Lee, Commander-in-chief of the Confederate Army, (January 19) shall have annual observance by all bodies of this Association.

ARTICLE XII.

Manual

Roberts' Rules of Order shall be the authority on parliamentary procedure of this Association in all its conventions and meetings, whether of the General Association or of State divisions and chapters.

ARTICLE XIII.

Amendments.

This Constitution may be amended by a two-thirds vote at any Annual Convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy: Provided, That notice of such intention to amend, together with a copy of the proposed amendment, shall be filed with the Recording Secretary-General at least forty-five days before the day fixed for the convention. As soon as possible after the receipt of said notice the Recording Secretary shall have printed all such amendments, and shall send a copy of the same to each general officer of the Association, to the President of each State or Territorial Division, and to the president and secretary of each regular chapter.

BY-LAWS

ARTICLE I.

Duties of Officers.

Section 1. The President General, or in her absence, the Vice-President-General in order, shall preside at all regular or called meetings of the General Association. The President shall be the chief executive officer of the Association, and shall have general charge of its affairs and supervision of all the other officers. She shall be the chairman of the executive committee, shall have the right to attend the meetings of all committees of the General Association, and shall discharge all such duties and exercise all such rights and privileges as usually pertain to the office of President-General.

Sec. 2. The Vice-Presidents-General shall assist the President in the discharge of her duties, and in her absence, the ranking Vice-president who is present shall assume all the duties and responsibilities appertaining to the office of President-General.

Sec. 3. The Recording Secretary-General shall be the custodian of the great seal and of all historical and official papers of the General Association. All matters for record shall be turned over to her and shall be kept by her in her office. It shall also be her duty to issue charters and certificates of membership and to have all official printing done; and she shall forward all printed matter pertaining to the Cross of Honor exclusively to the Custodian for distribution. She shall keep a minute book, in which shall be entered an accurate record of the proceedings of all meetings of the General Association, either regular or called. All votes of the Convention taken by her shall be by roll call of States. Under her supervision there shall be prepared and published in pamphlet form, the minutes of the Annual Convention, after the same shall have been examined and approved by a committee appointed for that purpose by the President-General. She shall secure correct lists of division and chapter officers for publication in the Annual Minutes; and shall publish in the official organ of the Association a list of the General Officers, U. D. C., in the first issue after they are elected; and also, lists of the newly elected officers of each division, as soon as possible after receiving them; and shall discharge all other duties that may pertain to her office.

Sec. 4. The Corresponding Secretary-General shall conduct all correspondence between the General Association and the divisions and chapters, as well as all other associations and persons. She shall notify all members of committees of their appointments, and forward the names of members of committees to the chairmen thereof. She shall conduct all correspondence under the direction of the President-General, and shall discharge such other duties as may pertain to her office.

Sec. 5. The Treasurer-General shall be the financial agent of the Association. She shall receive all moneys of the General Association, and receipt for the same. She shall keep (1) a cash book, and (2) a ledger, in which shall be entered all accounts of the General Association. Her books, papers, etc., shall be subject to the inspection of the Finance Committee and the General-Officers. She shall make a report of the condition of her department at each Annual Convention, or oftener, when called upon by the President, showing the receipts and expenditures, with the balance remaining on hand; and at the close of her term of office, shall furnish a full statement, together with all vouchers and papers relating thereto, to the Association. She shall deposit the money of the General Association, in the name of "The United Daughters of the Confederacy," in some National Bank, to be designated by the Executive Committee, per the Treasurer-General, to be paid only upon her check, when accounts have been endorsed by the President-General, or in the absence of the President, by the Vice-Presidents-General in their order. Such money shall be paid out as ordered by the General Association or by the Executive Committee. She shall send out annually the blank forms of returns to be made by the chapters, such returns to be forwarded to her. She shall, sixty days before the meeting of each General Convention, send notices to the Secretary of each division of the names and location of all delinquent chapters, to the effect that, if the dues of such chapter or chapters are not paid within ten days before the Annual Convention, those chapters will be debarred representation in the Convention. She shall send an alphabetical list, drawn up according to the official roster of all paid-up chapters, to the chairman of the Credentials Committee five days before the convention assemblies.

Sec. 6. The Registrar-General shall receive from State registrars copies of all individual membership blanks, and keep them on file according to States. She shall make a report at each convention of the number of names filed for each State. She shall communicate with chapters only through State registrars except in those States where no divisions exist, in which case the chapter registrars shall be the medium of communication until a division is formed.

Sec. 7. It shall be the duty of the Historian-General, with the assistance of the Committee on History, to have charge of an historical and literary evening at each Annual Convention, and to perform such other duties as appertain to her office.

Sec. 8. The duties of Custodian of Cross of Honor shall be arranged by the Committee on Rules for Bestowal of Cross of Honor.

ARTICLE II.

Duties of Committees.

Section 1. The Committee on Cross of Honor shall formulate all rules regulating the purchase and bestowal of Crosses of Honor, and define the duties of the Custodian of the Cross of Honor. To this committee shall be submitted any proposed amendments to said rules thirty days before the Annual Convention, to which this Committee must present all rules for final ratification.

Sec. 2. It shall be the duty of the Committee on History, of which the Historian-General shall be chairman, to correspond with the historians of the several divisions, and to do all in its power to forward the interests of accurate and impartial history. The historians of the several divisions will make annual report of the work accomplished in their respective divisions to the Historian-General.

Sec. 3. It shall be the duty of the Committee on Award of Prize at Columbia University to arrange all details for the awarding of this prize, and to report at the Annual Convention.

Sec. 4. It shall be the duty of the Committee on Education to foster the educational interests of this Association.

Sec. 5. It shall be the duty of the Committee on Emblems, Mottoes and Souvenirs to suggest to the organization for consideration such emblems and souvenirs as it may deem desirable.

Sec. 6. It shall be the duty of the Committee on Stationery, with due regard to necessary economy, to provide such writing paper as may be needed for the use of the working officers of this Association, and to supply, at reasonable prices, to those divisions, chapters, or members who may desire it, writing paper marked with the insignia of the Association.

Sec. 7. It shall be the duty of the Committee on Finance to audit annually the books of the Treasurer-General, Recording Secretary-General, and the Custodian of Cross of Honor, and at such other times as may be ordered by the President-General. To this Committee shall be referred all resolutions donating money from the general treasury.

Sec. 8. A Committee on Jurisprudence to be appointed by the President at the opening of each Annual Convention, to which shall be referred questions which have arisen during the past year, and such as may arise during such convention, as to the interpretation of the Constitution and By-Laws of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, this committee to report before the close of the convention at which it is appointed, and to be thereupon discharged.

Sec. 9. It shall be the duty of the Committee on Transportation to arrange rates of transportation to and from all General Conventions.

Sec. 10. It shall be the duty of the Committee on Credentials to meet two working days previous to the Annual Convention, to examine, approve and arrange the credentials of the delegates. It shall not recognize any proxy except one duly authorized in writing. It shall not recognize any credentials not received by it before 10 o'clock the night before the convention, or by the Recording Secretary-General five days before the convention.

Sec. 11 It shall be the duty of the Committee on Condensing the Minutes to meet immediately after the adjournment of the Annual Convention, and together with the presiding officer of that convention, and the Recording Secretary, to revise, condense, and correct the verbatim report of the minutes. Thus corrected, the minutes shall then be left in the hands of the Recording Secretary, who shall put them into shape, and at once send them to the presiding officer of the last convention, who shall sign them.

ARTICLE III.

Custodian of the Flags.

Each Annual Convention shall also elect Custodian of the Flags, whose duty it shall be to have charge of the flags and pennants, or send them to some responsible person at the place where such convention is to be held; the expense of such transportation to be charged to the General Association.

ARTICLE IV.

Honorary Associate Members.

Section 1. The title of "Honorary Associate Member" may be conferred on those who have rendered distinguished service in the preservation of the true history of the Confederate States, this honor to be conferred on such persons only as are not eligible to active membership in this Association.

Sec. 2. The number of "Honorary Associate Members" shall be limited to three at one time, who shall hold that position for life, or for so long a time as they may continue to be acceptable to the General Association. No nominations for these positions shall be made until after application has been made to the Executive Committee, and has received its approval.

ARTICLE V.

Reports of States and Committees.

Section 1. No division, nor any chapter in a State or Territory having no division, shall be allowed more than ten minutes in making its report at the Annual Convention of the Association. This rule must be strictly enforced.

Sec. 2. The State reports shall be called in reverse order alphabetically on alternate years.

Sec. 3. All committees must present typewritten reports in condensed form to the Annual Conventions of this Association.

ARTICLE VI.

Consideration of Questions.

Section 1. No subject other than those specified in the Constitution and By-Laws of this Association, may be considered in its annual Conventions, except by a two-thirds vote of those present and voting.

Sec. 2. No resolution offered at any convention of this Association may be considered or voted upon, unless it has been put in writing and immediately handed to the Recording Secretary.

ARTICLE VII.

Pamphlet Minutes.

Section 1. Bids for publication of the minutes must be submitted from at least six responsible printing houses, together with samples of the paper to be used in printing; and the most advantageous bid shall be selected by the President and Recording Secretary; the right, however, being reserved by them to reject any and all bids.

Sec. 2. The rosters of division chapters shall be printed alphabetically, according to division and town, with the U. D. C. charter number of each chapter. Reports of General officers, State divisions, Standing and Special Committees, shall be arranged by classification, alphabetically.

Sec. 3. Manuscript for the minutes must be delivered to the selected publisher on or before January 1, and such publisher must contract to complete the publication of said minutes within four weeks after the receipt of the manuscript.

Sec. 4. No reports from standing or select committees; no reports from General or State officers; no State or chapter rosters which are not in the hands of the Recording Secretary-General before December 20, shall appear in the published minutes of that year.

Sec. 5. One copy of the Annual Minutes of the General Convention, U. D. C., shall be sent free to each chapter president or

MINUTES
OF THE
SEVENTEENTH ANNUAL CONVENTION
OF THE
United Daughters of the Confederacy
HELD IN
Little Rock, Ark., November 8-12, 1910

OPENING—Evening Meeting.

Tuesday, November 8, 1910.

The opening exercises of the Seventeenth Annual Convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy was held in the Auditorium of the Marion Hotel Wednesday evening, November 8th, at 8 P. M.

Too much cannot be said in praise of the foresight and most generous effort on the part of the Little Rock people in making and maintaining arrangements best calculated for the comfort and convenience of the members during their visit to the "City of Roses."

Mrs. Orlando Halliburton, State President of the organization, presided over the exercises of the evening most gracefully, introducing each speaker in a happy manner.

Mrs. Halliburton introduced Rt. Rev. Bishop Jno. B. Morris, Bishop of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Little Rock and called upon him for benediction upon the exercises of the evening.

The Chairman introduced Gov. Geo. W. Donaghey, whom she said would extend "a real Arkansas welcome."

Col. Geo. W. Murphy, Arkansas' greatest criminal lawyer, was introduced and spoke on behalf of his Confederate Comrades of this State.

Gen. B. W. Green was next introduced, who spoke in behalf of Omer Weaver Camp of Little Rock.

The next speaker introduced was Mr. Rector, who had been chosen as a representative of the Sons of the Confederate Veterans, to extend a welcome in behalf of their organization.

The Chairman introduced one whom she spoke of as being a very enthusiastic worker of the U. D. C., and one whose father had laid down his life for the cause of the Confederacy, Mrs. J. T. Beal.

Mrs. Beal, in a few well chosen words in behalf of Memorial Chapter, presented a handsome bouquet of American Beauty roses to the President-General, at the same time welcoming the ladies to the "City of Roses." The President General, Mrs. McSherry, made a very happy response as she accepted the bouquet.

Mrs. S. S. Wassell, President of the J. M. Keller Chapter, was introduced as the one instrumental in securing this convention for Little Rock, having solicited the votes at Houston, and was a very enthusiastic worker for the success of the convention.

Mrs. Wassell extended the welcome of the Keller Chapter in the following gracious manner:

We are most happy to see you here tonight—so many distinguished representatives of our dearly loved association, the United Daughters of the Confederacy. Not only we of the United Daughters of Confederacy extend to you a most cordial welcome but the people of Arkansas have come forward to receive you with open hearts and homes. They are anxious to show you the countless resources of this Trans-Mississippi Department of the Confederate States, and we all say to you: "Ask and it shall be given you." The banner of the United Daughters of Confederacy waves proudly, not only in our Southland, but it has been unfurled in Mexico and the far away Hawaiian Islands, for where one of our daughters plants her "Vine and fig tree" there will be seen their patriotic emblem.

Nothing succeeds like success, and measured by this and measured by their standard there is no society upon the American Continent that outranks ours. We do not say this in a spirit of boastfulness or egotism, but in a spirit of patriotic pride. Today peace, prosperity and progress smile on the South, and scarcely an echo of the fierce strife of half a century in which our fathers, the bravest of the brave, fought, suffered and perhaps died, reaches us, and yet we have met here to do them honor, and not only to keep their memory green, but to fulfill the principles for which they fought the eternal mandate—liberty-truth unsmirched by creed or prejudice and justice alike to all.

Alexander Stephens, in a speech before Congress in 1850, said: "The South asks for no discrimination in her favor; it is the North asking discrimination against her and her people. The people of the South have as much right to occupy, enjoy and colonize these territories as the people of the North." The principles underlining this declaration still live, because they were based on truth, and cannot die, but we are not here to draw comparison or stir up old issues, happily sleeping, if not dead. Remember this glorious cause so dear to us all and the love which binds women together in this great work of ours must not be disturbed by trivial personalities.

Again permit me to say: "Welcome to Arkansas, the home of the Ozarks where the big red apples grow."

In the "used to be" our old black mammies taught us that when we had guests, especially welcome and beloved, we must induce them to drink of the Arkansas river water, as it insured a speedy return. So please, dear daughters, let me urge you one and all to drink great draughts of the old Arkansas muddy, and come to us again in May 1911. The Keller chapter bids you thrice welcome, and God speed you a safe return.

A musical programme was then made a part of the evening exercises. The quartette and double quartette was most interesting. A vocal solo by Mrs. De. E. Bradshaw was very much enjoyed by an appreciative audience.

The Chairman introduced Mrs. Jno. Fletcher, who beautifully welcomed the Convention in behalf of the Arkansas Federation of Women's Clubs, saying:

Madame President, Daughters of the Confederacy:

If the number and warmth of our greetings are not soon exhausted, you may feel somewhat like the farmer whose wife sent him to dig a few potatoes for dinner. He said, when he opened a hill, that 15 bushels ran out before he could possibly stop the hole. In spite of the bushels of eloquence poured out upon you, I beg your further indulgence.

It is my proud privilege to bring greetings from the A. F. W. C. to this great body of patriotic, progressive women. We are all glad to welcome you to Arkansas, and hope your visit will be as delightful and leave as bright a memory in your minds as our pride in your accepting our invitation, and our joy in preparing for your coming has been and ever will be to us.

Looking back over the history of our country from the voyage of Columbus over unknown seas to the present, we see how God has moved in mysterious ways, leading our pilgrim fathers and their successors till ours is the great land of promise. The best from every nation has contributed to its development. The oppressed of all countries look longingly to us. Our men are the bravest and truest. They make the best fathers, husbands sons and brothers in the world.

Our American women are, of all women, most fortunate. Our privileges and possibilities exceed those of the women of any other place. Our fathers, husbands and sons labor day and night, tilling the soil, delving in mines, plying streams, feeding furnaces, running factories, even flying through the air, turning every wheel of progress all for the pleasure of laying the wealth of the world at our feet. The fate of our land rests with its women. The hand that rocks the cradle does have much to do with the ruling of the world.

If we are vain and frivolous, self-indulgent and extravagant; if we neglect our children, our home duties and obligations, we pave the way to the certain overthrow of our Republic. On the other hand, if we are true and loyal to God, to our homes and our country, we will continue to lead the world. As to our clubs, our State and National Federations, the Chapters and Divisions, all should study the past in order to improve upon it. Let us live up to the Golden Rule; love God and humanity, teach our children to be more patriotic, better men and women than we have ever been. The women of the Arkansas Federation pledge themselves to join heartily in every endeavor towards such a glorious consummation. Thank you.

A vocal solo by little Miss Dorothy Neimeyer then followed, which was very much enjoyed.

Mrs. John Stayton, of Newport, Ark., then gave several recitations, which brought forth a storm of applause.

Mrs. Halliburton, in a brief address, introduced the President-General, Mrs. McSherry, presenting her with the gavel, which she was to use henceforth as presiding officer, during the Convention.

Miss Rutherford, of Georgia, responded to the addresses of welcome in a clever and witty manner.

A number of other prominent women were introduced to the Convention, among them being the ex-Presidents-General, Mrs. Cornelia Branch Stone, of Texas, Mrs. Lizzie George Henderson, of Mississippi, and Mrs. John H. Reagan, of Texas, Honorary President.

The President-General, Mrs. McSherry, in due form, closed the meeting, wishing all peaceful slumbers, happy dreams, and a prompt arrival in the convention hall at 9:30 A. M. the following morning, requesting all to be in their seats and ready for work at that time.

FIRST DAY—Morning Meeting.

Wednesday, November 9, 1910.

The meeting was called to order by the President-General, Mrs. McSherry, at 10 A. M.

Before proceeding with the regular order of business as outlined on the programme, the privileges of the floor were extended Mrs. Yerger, of Mississippi, who, in a few well chosen words, presented to the President of the Arkansas Division, a gavel made of cedar wood, grown at Beauvoir, the home of Jefferson Davis, and made by a Veteran, in the Confederate Home, in Mississippi. Mrs. Yerger, among other things, said she could not bring a more precious gift with her to present to the Arkansas Division than this little gavel.

Mrs. Orlando Halliburton, in behalf of the Arkansas Division, accepted the gavel, and after thanking Mrs. Yerger, handed it to the President-General, asking that she use it at this meeting in compliment to the Mississippi Division.

The President-General then requested the audience to rise, while the ritual was read.

The Secretary read the report of the opening exercises of the Convention held the night before. Several slight corrections were suggested by members of the Convention, and the report was accepted.

The Chair then appointed the following committees:

On Recommendations of President-General:

MRS. B. B. ROSS, Alabama,
MRS. L. R. SCHUYLER, New York.
MRS. W. R. CLEMENTS, Oklahoma.

On Rules and Regulations:

MRS. F. M. WILLIAMS, North Carolina,
MRS. N. D. ELLERS, Virginia,
MRS. C. D. MERWIN, Washington, D. C.

On Resolutions:

MISS ALICE BAXTER, Georgia,
MRS. FRANK ODENHEIMER, Maryland.
MRS. LUCY YERGER, Mississippi.

The President-General asked the privilege to appoint a Committee on Amendments, which she thought would facilitate and simplify the work. Mrs. Hickman, of Tennessee moved that such a committee be appointed, seconded by Mrs. Halliburton, of Arkansas.

Mrs. Henderson, of Mississippi, rose to a point of order, and asked the Chair if it was in order to take a vote until after the report of the Credential Committee had been made and adopted. The Chair sustained the point of order.

The Chair stated that the Secretary would call the roll and requested that the President of each Division would answer present, and that she or her representative come forward and hand Mrs. Walke, Custodian of Flags and Pennants, the flag of her State. Mrs. Walke, of Virginia, the Custodian, said: "Ladies, I thank you very much for these beautiful banners.

Those States whose flags have not arrived, will please present them later. I will ask Mrs. Beal, of Arkansas, to come forward."

The Custodian, in behalf of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, presented to Mrs. Beal these flags for our hostess chapters.

Mrs. Beal, President of the Memorial Chapter of Little Rock, with expressions of appreciation, said: "We thank you. It will be a pleasure for the Memorial Chapter to divide with the Keller Chapter."

Mrs. Mollie R. McGill Rosenberg, of Texas, said: "In order that each chapter may have something to represent the State of Maryland, I now present Mrs. Beal with a shield of our State."

The Chair, while awaiting the report of the Credential Committee, presented Mrs. S. E. F. Rose, Historian of the Mississippi Division, who presented a paper on the Ku Klux Klan.

Mrs. Eller, of Virginia, moved that a rising vote of thanks be given to Mrs. Rose for this valuable historical work; seconded by Mrs. Halliburton, of Arkansas. Carried.

Mr. Cunningham, of Tennessee, called attention to the fact that the great test was made to Sam Davis in Pulaski, Tenn., where the Ku Klux Klan was formed.

Mrs. Schuyler, of New York, moved that the paper read by the Historian of the Mississippi Division be printed in pamphlet form by the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

Mrs. Henderson, of Mississippi, arose and explained that it had been put in pamphlet form by the Mississippi Division, and was being sold by them for the benefit of a monument to the soldiers who have died at Beauvoir, Mississippi Soldiers' Home. Mrs. Schuyler, of New York, withdrew her motion.

Mrs. Daisy McLauren Stevens then presented a handsome bouquet to Mrs. Rose, in appreciation of the tender feeling of the Mississippi Division towards her for the splendid work she had done along historical lines.

The Chair called for the report of the Credentials Committee, and introduced Mrs. Gill, of Little Rock, the Chairman, who had done most efficient work on this committee.

Mrs. Culbertson, of Oklahoma, moved the adoption of the report, seconded by Miss Benning, of Georgia. Mrs. Gantt, of Missouri, moved to amend the motion by adding that we accept it with thanks. Mrs. Culbertson accepted this amendment. The motion carried. The Chair announced that she would now appoint the Committee on Amendments if the Convention so desired. Mrs. Randolph, of Virginia, moved that the President be empowered to appoint such a committee; seconded by Mrs. Halliburton, of Arkansas. The motion prevailed.

The Chair announced the Committee on Amendments as follows: Mrs. Raines, of Georgia; Mrs. Dibrell, of Texas, and Mrs. Stevens, of Mississippi.

Mrs. Raines, the Chairman, asked to be instructed as to the duties of the committee.

The Chair instructed Mrs. Raines that this committee should take the proposed amendments to be offered at this convention, go over them carefully, and make recommendations, which would simplify and expedite the work. Mrs. Raines moved that all constitutional amendments be made a special order of business to follow the reading of the Minutes at the morning meeting on Thursday. Seconded by Sister Esther Carlotta, of Florida.

The motion prevailed, and it was so ordered, that the amendments be considered immediately after the reading of the minutes on Thursday morning.

Mrs. McKinney, of Kentucky, moved that the recommendations of the Educational Committee be acted upon immediately after the reading of the committee's report.

Seconded by many Motion prevailed.

The Secretary asked before proceeding further, the privilege of reading Article VI. of the By-laws, as follows:

"No resolution offered at any convention of this association may be considered or voted upon, unless it has been put in writing and immediately handed to the Recording Secretary."

Mrs. Geo. Tichenor, delegate of the Stonewall Jackson Chapter of New Orleans, La., asked for the first ten minutes after the reading of the Minutes on Friday morning, as a special order, in which to present resolutions from her chapter regarding the monument to the Women of the Confederacy. Mrs. Randolph seconded this motion. Carried.

Mrs. Halliburton, of Arkansas, moved to proceed with the regular order of business. Seconded and carried.

Mrs. Schuyler, of New York, moved that the regular programme as prepared, be adopted for the order of business, except the motions providing for special orders of business already adopted by the convention. The motion was seconded by many, and prevailed.

The Secretary read the proposed amendments to the By-Laws that had been sent to the desk.

Mrs. Williams, of North Carolina, moved that these amendments be printed in one of the daily papers, so that the members of the Convention could read and understand them, before time for action. Duly seconded and carried.

The Chair asked the Secretary to call the roll of officers and chairmen of standing committees, which resulted in the announcement that every general officer was present, something unusual in the history of the Association.

The next order of business was the report of the President-General.

First Vice-President-General, Mrs. I. C. Hall, of Dardanelle, Ark., presided while the President-General delivered her address.

14 MINUTES OF SEVENTEENTH ANNUAL CONVENTION

Mrs. Henderson, of Mississippi, moved that the President-General be given a rising vote of thanks for the splendid report she had made, and that her recommendations be referred to the committee. The motion was seconded, and the vote of thanks extended.

The President-General then resumed the chair.

Mrs. Halliburton, of Arkansas, made several announcements regarding arrangements for the trip to Hot Springs for the ladies, also several announcements regarding social features, which she desired to make before the meeting adjourned its morning session.

Mrs. Schuyler, of New York, made a motion that a telegram of sympathy be sent to Mrs. Jas. Henry Parker, President of the New York Chapter, who was unable to attend this meeting, being detained on account of the recent death of her brother, and also suggested that a letter of sympathy be written to her mother, Mrs. Augustus Jones, who had not missed a meeting of the U. D. C. for eight years. It was so ordered.

Sister Esther Carlotta, seconded by Mrs. Denheimer, of Maryland, moved that a telegram of greeting be sent to Mrs. Jno. W. Tench, Honorary President, who had been detained for the first time since the organization of the Association, on account of ill health, also the illness of her son. The Convention voted this unanimously, expressing regret at the absence of Mrs. Tench.

Mrs. Hickman, of Tennessee, requested that a message also be sent to Mrs. M. C. Goodlett, of Nashville, founder of the Association.

The Corresponding Secretary-General was instructed to send these messages.

The report of the Recording Secretary-General was called.

Mrs. Cornelia Branch Stone, of Texas, moved that a rising vote of thanks be extended to the Recording Secretary-General. Motion seconded by many. Carried.

Mrs. J. M. Burt, of Opelika, came forward and presented on behalf of the Alabama Division, flowers to the Recording Secretary with expressions of their love and esteem.

Mrs. Dowdell expressed her appreciation of this token of esteem, particularly as it was presented by a representative from her home Chapter.

Sister Esther Carlotta, of Florida, rose to a question of privilege, and said: "I wish to say there were three chapters cancelled in Florida, whose names I did not hear as the Recording Secretary read her report. Sewanee River Chapter, White Springs, Emma Sanson Chapter, Graceville."

The Secretary officially stated that a proper record of this cancellation had been kept in her office and if it failed to be read, it was an oversight.

Sister Esther Carlotta asked that she be allowed to correct the Minutes of the Houston Convention. On page 40 of those minutes, there is an incorrect list of the pledges made by the Florida Division. I beg to submit to the Secretary a corrected list of same. On page 58, there is an incorrect statement of the reason of the Florida President for withdrawing those pledges, and I ask to be allowed to submit the correct reasons. All the ladies at the Houston meeting remember that discussion. I do not like to bring it up here, but I do ask the privilege of having the correct statement stand on the minutes of the convention. I make that as a motion. Seconded by Mrs. Dowdell. Carried.

CORRECTION OF HOUSTON MINUTES.

Pledges from Florida for Columbia Scholarship, made at Houston:

Florida Division	$25.00
State President of Florida	10.00
Jacksonville Chapter	10.00
Anna Dummett Chapter	10.00
J. J. Finley Chapter	5.00
Annie Purdue Sebring Chapter	5.00
General Loring Chapter, C. of C.	5.00

16 MINUTES OF SEVENTEENTH ANNUAL CONVENTION

Mildred Lee Chapter, C. of C.	3.00
Mrs. W. C. Powell	5.00
	$78.00

Sister Esther Carlotta rose to a question of privilege, and upon ascertaining positively that negroes were admitted into classes with whites in Columbia Teachers' College, she withdrew, on this ground only, the pledges made by Florida the preceding day for the scholarship in that college.

Upon being asked by the Chair if she refused the scholarship for Florida, Sister Esther Carlotta replied that she did not, as she felt she had no more right to refuse it than she had to pledge Florida to it; she would leave that to the Florida State Convention.

The report of the Corresponding Secretary-General was next called for.

Mrs. Hickman, of Tennessee, moved that the report be adopted with a rising vote of thanks.

Mrs. Gottschalk, State President of the Louisiana Division, asked Mrs. Hickman to permit her to make that motion, the Corresponding Secretary being a member of her division.

Mrs. Hickman very graciously permitted Mrs. Gottschalk to make the motion, and she to second it.

A rising vote of thanks was then extended the Corresponding Secretary-General for the able manner in which she had performed the duties of her office during the year.

Mrs. Gantt, of Missouri, moved that the reports of all officers be heard and a rising vote of thanks be given to all for services during the year. It was so ordered.

The Chair then called for the next order of business in the report of the Custodian of the Cross of Honor.

Miss Rutherford, of Georgia, moved that before action was taken on this report that, for the sake of history and for the sake of the work done by the faithful Custodian of the Cross of Honor, that every member of this convention do her the compliment of opening those books and see the magnificent record of her efforts, the enormous amount of labor, and the very beautiful way in which she has kept those books. She deserves more than one vote of thanks, rather TWO or THREE.

Mrs. Halliburton, of Arkansas, asked that Arkansas have the privilege of seconding this motion. Carried. Mrs. Halliburton moved that the Custodian of the Cross of Honor be allowed to take these books and place them in the Solid South room of the Museum at Richmond, after she completes her work, for the reasons she gave in her report. Mrs. Kline, of Missouri, seconded the motion. Carried.

The Chair announced that ten minutes will be given each morning directly after reading of the minutes, and ten minutes before adjournment of each meeting for all presentations, questions of personal privileges and announcements. And further stated that all mail would be placed on the desk of the Corresponding Secretary and she would see that it was distributed.

Mrs. Ross, of Alabama, was then extended the privilege of the floor, and spoke of the presence of Mr. S. A. Cunningham, editor of the "Confederate Veteran," of Nashville, Tenn. Mrs. Ross escorted Mr. Cunningham to the platform and the President-General introduced him to the Convention, saying as she did so: "What would we do, daughters, without the Veteran?"

Mr. Cunningham said: "Ladies, I have just one word, a serious matter. Death among the Veterans, I believe, within the past eight months, has been as great as in the two years preceding. This becomes very depressing to those of us who are most interested in history, and we are, therefore, looking to you more and more for assistance in this direction. I hope, my dear women, that I may live some years longer, and I will do all possible to help you. I love to help in this great work you are doing."

An invitation was received from the State National Bank to view the city from its roof garden.

Telegrams were read by the Corresponding Secretary-General.

Mrs. Cornelia Branch Stone moved that these telegrams of greeting be answered, particularly the one from Mrs. C. Helen Plane, one of the early and most valuable workers in the Confederate cause. Mrs. Stone said that Mrs. Plane was ill which prevented her presence, and she would like to request that the President-General send a message to Mrs. Plane as her wisdom dictated.

Mrs. Stone then placed her remarks in the form of a motion, which was seconded by Mrs. Hickman, of Tennessee. Carried.

Mrs. Raines, of Georgia, called attention to the telegram of greetings from the Robt. E. Lee Chapter, at Houston, Tex., saying that we should appreciate this message from the hostess chapter of the previous convention.

Mrs. Collier, of Memphis, moved that the State National Bank be thanked for this invitation. Seconded by Mrs. Brooks, of Memphis. Carried.

The Chair announced the fact that Gen. Geo. W. Gordon was a very sick man. She said as she passed through Memphis on her way to Little Rock, she read in a newspaper that he was very ill, and that she tried to communicate with him by telephone, but could not do so and suggested that a message of sympathy be sent to him.

Mrs. Clement, of Oklahoma, then made a motion that such a telegram be sent Gen. Gordon, extending our sympathies in his illness and wishing for him a speedy recovery.

Mrs. Henderson, of Mississippi, seconded the motion. Carried.

The Secretary then read the following communication: "Owing to some omission, probably due to the inaccuracy of the printers, the unveiling of the Kellar monument has been left off the programme. The J. M. Kellar Chapter most earnestly invites you to attend the unveiling ceremonies in the Old State House yard at 2 P. M., Respectfully, Mrs. S. S. Wassell, President."

The meeting then adjourned to meet at 2:30 P. M.

FIRST DAY—Afternoon Meeting.

Wednesday, November 9, 1910.

The meeting was called to order at 3 P. M., with the Vice President-General, Mrs. L. C. Hall, of Arkansas, in the chair.

The Chair stated that the hour for the opening of the afternoon meeting had passed. Many members had gone to the unveiling of the boulder erected in the Old State House yard, to the Confederate women of Arkansas. A quorum being present, the regular order of business was then taken up.

The Secretary announced that the stenographer needed further time to transcribe the minutes.

Mrs. Hickman, of Tennessee, moved to extend the time. Motion seconded by Mrs. Gottschalk, of Louisiana. Carried.

The report of the Registrar-General was then called. The Secretary moved that owing to the fact of so few members being in the Convention Hall, the report of the Registrar-General be deferred until a later hour. Seconded and motion lost.

The matter of proceeding with the regular business whether all were present or not, was then discussed, and upon motion of Mrs. Henderson, of Mississippi, it was decided to take up all reports in their regular order on the programme and if those to make the reports were not present, when their names were called, to pass the reading of same and include in the printed minutes of the convention. Mrs. Henderson's motion was seconded by several and carried.

The report of the Registrar-General was then called and presented by Mrs. Jas. B. Gantt, of Jefferson City, Mo.

The President General then arrived at the meeting hall, and resumed the chair.

The Chair called for the report of the Historian-General, Mrs. J. Enders Robinson, of Virginia.

20 MINUTES OF SEVENTEENTH ANNUAL CONVENTION

Mrs. Robinson had her report printed and distributed in pamphlet. She read the opening remarks of this report and asked that she be excused from reading it in its entirety, inasmuch as this distribution had been made.

Mrs. Robinson asked if it was the pleasure of the Convention to leave off the discussion of the rules which would come up under the head of unfinished business, saying: "If you will remember, my last year's report contained a set of rules and I asked for discussion at that time, but as I did not have enough practical basis to go on, I requested that a decision be deferred until this Convention.

Mrs. Halliburton, of Arkansas, moved that the matter be taken up under the head of unfinished business. Seconded by Mrs. Stevens, of Georgia. Carried.

Mrs. Randolph, of Virginia, requested that the ladies read these pamphlets that had been distributed so they could intelligently discuss it at the proper time.

The question then arose regarding the advisability of publishing historical papers in pamphlet form and distributing them. The matter was discussed, and Mrs. Odenheimer, of Maryland, moved that the two historical papers, one by Mrs. Margaret L. Watson, of Texas, the other by Dr. Samuel E. Lewis, Washington, D. C., now in the office of the Historian-General, be presented in pamphlet form during the coming year and distributed. Seconded by Mrs. Howard, of Texas. Carried.

The Chair called for the report of the Custodian of Flags and Pennants.

Mrs. Frank Anthony Walke, of Virginia, prefaced her report by saying: "Before making my report, I would like to ask you to be more careful in remembering to bring your flags in future and have them at these meetings. You now have a whole year before you in which to get your flags ready for the next meeting."

Mrs. Kline, of Missouri, in behalf of that State, then presented the Registrar-General, Mrs. Jas. B. Gantt, with a handsome bouquet, in appreciation of the beautiful work done by her in her official capacity. Mrs. Gantt responded, expressing her appreciation of such loving remembrance on the part of the ladies of her own State. The convention gave her a rising vote of thanks.

The Chair then called for the report of the Committee on Rules and Regulations. Mrs. Williams stated that the committee could not report until the following morning.

The reports of the State divisions and of chapters in States where no divisions exist, were taken up, beginning with West Virginia which was read by Miss Price, the Division President.

The reports of the following divisions and chapters were presented: Virginia Division by Mrs. Eller; Tennessee Division by Mrs. Sansom; Philadelphia Chapter by Mrs. Davis; Oklahoma Division by Mrs. Clement; New Mexico Division by Mrs. Culbertson of Oklahoma; Missouri Division by Mrs. Patee; R. E. Lee Chapter, Minneapolis, Minn., by Mrs. Van Ness, and the Maryland Division by Mrs. Odenheimer.

During the reading of these reports Mrs. Cornelia Branch Stone, of Texas, asked the privilege of the floor, which was extended her, and moved that a committee be sent to convey greetings to the Confederate Veterans of Arkansas in session in the hotel. Seconded by several and carried.

The Chair then appointed the following committee: Mrs. Cornelia Branch Stone, of Texas; Mrs. Norman V. Randolph, of Virginia, and Mrs. A. E. J. Emerson, of Colorado.

This committee later reported that they had extended greetings of the United Daughters of the Confederacy to the Confederate Veterans of Arkansas.

The Confederate Veterans in a body, entered the hall, and were received with enthusiasm. The President-General greeted them in a most gracious manner and handed the gavel to their Commander. Several of the Veterans made short addresses, and a number of the "Daughters," Mrs. Hall, of Arkansas; Mrs. Bryan, of Texas; Mrs. Gantt, of Missouri, and Mrs. Eller, of Virginia, proposed toasts and made short speeches. All joined in singing "Dixie."

The following resolution was then presented by the Commander of the U. C. V. of Arkansas:

BE IT RESOLVED, by the United Confederate Veterans' Association of Arkansas, in Convention assembled,

That we, the Veterans, being desirous of expressing our appreciation of the presence of that grand organization known as the United Daughters of the Confederacy, aiding and encouraging our body of Confederate soldiers, on the occasion of their annual meeting; that the State Commander appoint a committee from the Veterans to present to this organization a body of resolutions expressive of our profound regard and appreciation of their presence and enthusiasm, in keeping alive and fervently in heart the memory and the faith in the cause that the mothers, wives and daughters of '61 to '65 confided to their husbands, sons and sweethearts, believing that so long as our children are taught and led by such noble women, the cause we love can never be forgotten.

In behalf of the Daughters the President-General addressed the Veterans, thanking them for their kind words, which she assured them were very much appreciated.

Mrs. John Barrow, State Regent of the D. A. R. of Arkansas, was then introduced. She extended an invitation in behalf of the chapters of Little Rock to the Daughters of the American Revolution present to attend a reception to be given at the home of Mrs. H. H. Foster on Thursday afternoon.

Miss Poppenheim, of South Carolina, moved: "That State and chapter reports be taken up in their order. Immediately after the amendments Thursday morning, all reports called for and not presented at that time, to be printed in the minutes." Seconded by Mrs. Dibrell, of Texas. Carried.

On motion, the convention adjourned to meet at 9:30 A. M. Thursday.

SECOND DAY—Morning Meeting.

Thursday, November 10, 1910.

The meeting was called to order on Thursday morning at 10 o'clock by the President-General.

The Chair presented Mrs. M. M. Anderson, a representative of the J. M. Kellar Chapter, Little Rock.

Mrs. Anderson, in a few words, extended an invitation to the ladies of the convention to attend a reception to be given at the Confederate Home at 3 P. M. She asked that at least one representative of each State accept this invitation. Mrs. Anderson also said that the J. M. Kellar Chapter had succeeded in having a bill passed before the Arkansas Legislature providing for an annex to the present Confederate Home, where the Confederate women were cared for, and said further, that it was the desire of these old Veterans and their ladies to receive members of the convention.

The Chair thanked Mrs. Anderson for her invitation, in behalf of the "Daughters," and said if there was no business before the convention preventing those who desired to attend, and these ladies felt they could conscientiously leave the hall, the invitation would be accepted.

Mrs. Halliburton, of Arkansas, then made some announcements regarding the proposed trip to Hot Springs on Saturday morning. She also made other announcements regarding entertainments.

The Chair then presented Mrs. John B. Richardson, of Louisiana, one of the Honorary Presidents, and extended to her a seat on the rostrum.

Mrs. Black, of Ohio, asked that a telegram of greetings be sent to Gov. Harmon, of Ohio.

A number of representatives from different states requested that similar telegrams be sent to various Democrats, congratulating them upon their recent election to office.

After much discussion it was decided that the U. D. C. refrain from taking any interest in politics. Mrs. Black, of Ohio, then moved to make the case of Gov. Harmon an exception, inasmuch as the Ohio Legislature had returned to Alabama and Maryland the flags of their States.

Mrs. Dowdell, of, Alabama, moved that as a committee appointed by the convention at Houston, consisting of Mrs. Ross, President of the Alabama Division, and Mrs. Odenheimer, President of the Maryland Division, had sent resolutions of thanks to Gov. Harmon for the return of these flags, and these resolutions of appreciation appear in the minutes of 1000, that this telegram be not sent. Seconded by Mrs. Odenheimer, and carried.

The minutes of the previous day were then read, corrected and approved.

The report of the Committee on Rules and Regulations was presented by the Chairman, Mrs. Williams, of North Carolina.

The report was then open for discussion and action thereon.

The Chair asked if this report should be acted upon as a whole or seriatim. Mrs. Schuyler, of New York, moved that the report be considered seriatim. Mrs. Dibrell, of Texas seconded Mrs. Schuyler's motion. Carried.

Rule No. 1. A delegate shall rise, address the Chair, giving her name and State, and wait for recognition.

Mrs. White, of Tennessee, moved that this rule be accepted. Seconded by Mrs. Halliburton, of Arkansas. Carried.

Rule No. 2. No delegate shall speak a second time on the same question, until all who wish to speak on that subject have had an opportunity to do so. She shall not in any case speak more than twice on the same question.

Mrs. Halliburton, of Arkansas, moved the adoption. Seconded by Mrs. Stone, of Texas. Carried.

Rule No. 3. Debate shall be limited to four minutes for each speaker, and no question shall be debated longer than twenty-five minutes.

Mrs. Sloan, of Arkansas, moved the adoption. Seconded by Mrs. Stevens, of Georgia. Carried.

Rule No. 4. No extension of time shall be granted except by a two-thirds vote.

Mrs. White, of Tennessee, moved the adoption. Seconded by Mrs. Gantt, of Missouri. Carried.

Rule No. 5. Reports of committees shall be limited to seven minutes, the time limit of division reports. See Article V, Section 1, of By-Laws.

Mrs. Halliburton, of Arkansas, moved its adoption.

Mrs. Schuyler, of New York, arose and stated that she had served notice at the Houston convention asking that ten minutes be allowed, but that it had not carried.

Sister Esther Carlotta, of Florida, arose and said Mrs. Schuyler, of New York, served such a notice at the Houston convention, which was not carried, but inasmuch as the By-Law printed in minutes announced ten minutes for division reports she moved as an amendment to Mrs. Halliburton's motion that the ten minutes be granted throughout this convention. Seconded and carried.

Rule No. 6. All main motions and resolutions shall be written and sent to the Recording Secretary.

Mrs. Hall, of Arkansas, moved the adoption. Seconded by Miss Quin, of Mississippi. Carried.

Rule No. 7. Where there is more than one nomination for office, the Chairman of each delegation shall cast the vote of her division in written ballot. Where there is but one nomination the Recording Secretary may be instructed to cast the ballot of the convention for that nominee.

Mrs. Williams, of North Carolina, Chairman of the committee, moved to substitute for that rule an amendment made last year, that the election shall be held by roll call of States, as heretofore. Seconded by Mrs. Schnabel, of Louisiana.

Mrs. Randolph, of Virginia, asked that there should be no unanimous vote asked, for a majority, or two-thirds vote, always carried a convention.

Reason: It is wrong to ask a unanimous vote on any question, as it compels the members to vote for something to which they might be opposed, yet willing to abide by the majority. Mrs. Williams' substitute was seconded. Carried.

Rule No. 8. A majority of all votes cast shall be necessary to elect.

Mrs. Leech, of Tennessee, asked if a roll call of States would be necessary to secure a two-thirds vote.

Discussion ensued.

Miss Baxter, of Georgia, asked for a ruling on this question.

The Chair ruled that the election of officers shall be held by viva voce vote, on roll call of States, which does away with the unanimous vote.

Mrs. White, of Tennessee, moved the adoption of Rule 8. Seconded.

Mrs. Henderson, of Mississippi, moved to amend it by adding, by viva voce vote, and if there be any doubt as to the vote, the Chair shall call for roll of States.

Mrs. Halliburton, of Arkansas, moved the adoption of the rule as amended. Mrs. Clement, of Oklahoma, seconded the motion. Carried.

Rule No. 9. That from twelve to twelve-thirty o'clock each day be devoted to the presentation of new business.

Mrs. Williams, of North Carolina, amended to read the last half hour before adjournment.

Mrs. McKinney, of Kentucky, moved that this rule be adopted as amended. Seconded by Mrs. Watt, of North Carolina, and carried.

Rule No. 10. These rules and regulations shall be strictly enforced.

Mrs. Schuyler, of New York, moved the adoption of this rule. Seconded by Mrs. Raines, of Georgia. Carried.

Mrs. Henderson, of Mississippi, moved the adoption of the rules and regulations as amended as a whole.

Mrs. Killough, of Texas, seconded the motion. Carried.

The amendments to the Constitution, proposed by chapters and members, were then taken up in their regular order, as follows:

Offered by Mrs. James Henry Parker, President New York Chapter, U. D. C.

Amend Art. VI., Sec. 2, by inserting after the words "elected for life," the words "the office of Honorary President-General shall remain vacant as a memorial to Mrs. Jefferson Davis, wife of the only President of the Southern Confederacy." And striking out the word "this" before office of Honorary President, and writing in its place the word "the," making the Section as amended read thus:

Sec. 2. The number of Honorary Presidents, United Daughters of the Confederacy inclusive of the Honorary President-General, shall be limited to fourteen at any one time, all of whom shall be elected for life. The office of Honorary President-General shall remain vacant as a memorial to Mrs. Jefferson Davis, wife of the only President of the Southern Confederacy.

No woman shall be eligible to the office of Honorary President who is not the wife, widow, mother, sister or daughter of one distinguished in the Military, Naval, or Civil Service of the Confederate States of America; or a woman who has rendered especially noted service in the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

RECOMMENDATION OF THE COMMITTEE.

Amendment Art. VI. Sec. 2, approved with no suggestions. Mrs. Schuyler, of New York, moved the adoption of the committee's recommendation.

Sister Esther Carlotta moved that the amendment be corrected to read "exclusive" instead of "inclusive," as there are now fourteen Honorary Presidents on the roll. Mrs. Schuyler accepted the amendment, which was approved by the committee and carried.

Offered by the Berkeley County Chapter of West Virginia.

Article VI., Section 3, add, "Historian-General."

Reason: It is a very important office and expenses should be paid.

Art. VIII. Substitute "Fifty cents," instead of "ten cents" in the first sentence. When amended to read: "Each chapter shall on or before the first of each succeeding March pay into the treasury of the General Association the sum of fifty cents for each and every member who may be in good standing in such chapter."

Reason: We can do much more work of importance if there is a larger fund in the hands of the Treasurer-General and not have to call so often upon the chapters.

Art. III., Sec. 1. After the word "descendants" insert "not under sixteen years of age."

Reason: No girl under the age of sixteen is capable of knowing how to vote, and certainly cannot hold office. She pays her assessments and should have all privileges.

Mrs. Dibrel, of Texas, moved the adoption of the amendment to Art. VI., Sec. 3, which was duly seconded, that the Historian-General come under that amendment; also Treasurer-General.

Miss Poppenheim, of South Carolina, offered an amendment, adding the name of Registrar-General. Mrs. Faulkner, of the Berkeley County Chapter, accepted this amendment. Seconded and carried.

Article VIII., Amendment No. 2, withdrawn with consent.

RECOMMENDATION OF THE COMMITTEE.

Article III., Sec. 1. "Your committee would suggest that the question will be answered with the children of the Confederacy, but in places where there are no auxiliaries, permit to be members, with no voting power until sixteen.”

Mrs. Williams, of Kentucky, moved this article to the amendment be tabled. Seconded by Miss Benning, of Georgia. Carried.

Amend Art. VI., Sec. 1, of Constitution, by striking out the first sentence of second paragraph and substituting the following:

“All these officers shall be elected to serve two years and until their successors shall be duly elected and qualified, and they shall be ineligible for re-election, and for immediate election to any other office, except the Recording Secretary-General who may be elected for a second term. Half of the officers shall be elected each year.”

No officer can do her best work in one year, likewise she can do better work and plan it better when she knows exactly how long she will serve.

MRS. ALEXANDER B. WHITE,
Fifth Tennessee Regiment Chapter, U. D. C., Paris, Tennessee.

At the request of Mrs. White, Mrs. McKinney, of Kentucky, moved that consent be given to the withdrawal of this amendment. Seconded by Mrs. Gantt, of Missouri. Carried.

Amendments Offered by Richmond Chapter.

Amend Art. II., Sec. 11, of By-Laws.

It shall be the duty of the committee on condensing the minutes to meet, immediately after each meeting of the convention, and together with the Recording Secretary to revise, condense and correct the verbatim report of stenographer. After these minutes are approved by the convention they cannot be changed in any way, but must be signed by the presiding officer and left in the hands of the Recording Secretary to be published. The minutes of the last meeting may be printed and approved at next convention.

Reasons: Minutes are printed for the instruction of members not present at convention as well as for reference and should contain such record as will enable any intelligent person to understand fully the nature and doings of the meeting. In minutes of Houston there is nothing to show why Mrs. Tate, of Virginia, offered the resolution protesting against the endorsement by the convention of the scholarship at Columbia College or for the withdrawal of Florida's support on Mrs. Rosenberg's report—No reason given why "Much discussion and confusion ensued." The minutes lead you to believe it was on account of award for Boyson Essay when it was their protest against endorsement of "Mixed Schools."

Amend Art. VI., Sec. 3, by adding to list of officers whose expenses to convention shall be paid.—Historian-General.

Reason: This office is the most important in the organization and the woman most fitted for this distinction might be unable to afford expenses necessary to be present at convention.

MRS. N. V. RANDOLPH, President,

Richmond Chapter, Virginia Division U. D. C.

MRS. T. CRAWFORD REDD, Corresponding Secretary.
Richmond Chapter, Virginia Division U. D. C.

RECOMMENDATION OF THE COMMITTEE.

Amend Art. II., Sec. 2. We feel it would be an impossibility, and would recommend that the present mode of revising the minutes remain as it is at present.

After the reading of the recommendation of the committee, which was duly discussed, Mrs. Halliburton, of Arkansas, moved that the recommendation be adopted, and was seconded. The Richmond chapter withdrew the amendment when the discussion developed that the Revision Committee took no liberties with the notes of the stenographer; the only thing done was condensing these reports as much as possible without changing the substance of the proceedings; also to correct grammatical arrangement to improve the appearance when published in printed form.

On withdrawing the amendment Mrs. Randolph said: "This amendment should have come as an amendment to the constitution as well as the by-laws, and is withdrawn to be presented in proper form at the next convention." Mrs. Randolph further stated that she had consulted many authorities and not one allowed condensing of minutes after they had been accepted by a convention. The recommendation of the committee was adopted.

Offered by Mrs. Frank Anthony Walke, of Norfolk, Va.

Amend Art. VI., Sec. 1, in the Constitution, to read after the first clause, "no candidate for an office can solicit votes for her election."

The recommendation of the committee on the amendment to Art. VI., Sec. 1, sentiment approved, but we cannot regulate personal conduct. Mrs. Henderson, of Mississippi, moved to accept the recommendation of the committee. Seconded by Mrs. Bryan, of Texas. The motion prevailed and the amendment was lost.

Offered by Mrs. Orlando Halliburton, President Arkansas Division.

Amend Art. XI., to read, "The birthday of Jefferson Davis, President of the Confederate States, (June 3) shall be observed as Memorial Day; and that the birthday of Robert E. Lee, Commander-in-Chief of the Confederate Army (January 19), shall have annual observance by all bodies of this Association.

RECOMMENDATION OF THE COMMITTEE.

Art. XI. Disapproved because we cannot curtail State's rights. The last clause is already provided for in Article II. of Constitution. A motion was made and seconded to adopt the recommendation of the committee.

Mrs. Halliburton, of Arkansas, then spoke to her amendment, saying that if her amendment passed it would be a long stride towards having the birthday of Jefferson Davis made a national holiday.

Mrs. Stevens, of Mississippi, stated that Memorial Day was one for bestowing Crosses, and on account of the school children taking part, it was considered an educational feature, and if this date is changed these children could not take part in a body. Mrs. Stevens said she considered it more of an honor to Jefferson Davis to have a whole day given to the observance of his birthday.

The question was called, and the recommendation of the committee was adopted and the amendment lost.

At this point the Confederate Veterans of Arkansas entered the convention hall in a body, and presented handsome chrysanthemums to the President-General, the representative of the Daughters of the Confederacy. Flowers were then presented to Mrs. Flippin, of Little Rock, in appreciation of the splendid work being done by her with the children.

Speeches were made by several Veterans and by Mr. Hartzog, the son of a Veteran.

Mr. Chas. Martin then presented the following resolutions:

The Arkansas Division of the United Confederate Veterans recognizing now as in the days of 1861-65 the patriotic devotion of the women of the Confederacy to the cause of the South in all that pertains to the truth of history and to the courage of the soldiers, and to the unflinching interest in the perpetuation of the memory of those brave men who fought for right, beg to present the United Daughters of Confederacy in convention assembled the following resolutions:

1st. We thank them for their devotion to the memory of the Southern soldiers and for their recognition of the heroic lives of the women of the Confederacy. Those great and grand women who consecrated the lives of their husbands and sons on the altar of their country and blessed them for battle.

2nd. That we may bow our heads and hearts in acknowledgement of that unflinching and untiring energy of the United Daughters of Confederacy and the Ladies' Memorial Association which has resulted in building 500 monuments in honor of the men who fought for their homes and constitutional liberty.

3d. That we tender to the United Daughters of Confederacy now in session our profound gratitude for their inspiring presence at our Annual Reunion and assure them that they have added a new life and a brighter hope and a more firm resolution to keep our organization in unbroken faith and companionship until the last old Confederate has sadly passed away.

4th. That we pledge ourselves to aid in every good way in helping to build a monument to the women of the Confederacy in Arkansas and also another great and grand monument to the memory of the Mothers, Wives and Daughters of the Confederacy, whose faith grew stronger and whose hopes shone bright amidst the darkest and most desperate hour of that shadow "and the finding of a flag that floated for a nation, than which no other rose so pure and fair, or fell so free from crime."

JUNIUS JORDAN,
CHAS. F. MARTIN,
L. MINOR,
CHAS. COFFIN.

The Veterans withdrew and the regular order of business was resumed.

The Chair announced that the time for the presentation of new business had arrived.

Mrs. Hornbrook, of Missouri, spoke in regard to the proposed erection of a monument to the black mammies of the South. She had in her possession a model, which was displayed during the convention, and which had been made by Miss Trimble, daughter of Judge Trimble, of Tennessee.

Miss Rutherford, of Georgia, asked that a certain time be given her in which to read a communication and resolution which had been submitted by Mrs. C. Helen Plane, of Georgia, regarding the establishment of a U. D. C. Home for aged Confederate women.

Mrs. McKinney, of Kentucky, asked permission to present a matter regarding Camp Beauregard, at Water Valley, Ky.

Mrs. Josie Frazee Cappleman, of Little Rock, Ark., then gave notice of a resolution which she desired to present later concerning the preservation of the old Statehouse, of Arkansas.

Mrs. Schuyler, of New York, spoke regarding the portrait of Mrs. Jefferson Davis, the only one in existence, and stated that Mrs. Jennie Deloney Rice, the artist, was present in the convention hall.

Miss Benning, of Georgia, said that at the proper time she desired to present a resolution providing badges for the general officers.

Mrs. Kohn, of South Carolina, stated that at the proper time she would present a matter concerning the certificates.

The Secretary recognizing the importance of the communication and resolution of Mrs. Helen Plane, moved that Miss Rutherford be given on Friday, the first ten minutes of the time set aside for the presentation of new business. Seconded and carried.

Mrs. Willis, of Arkansas, moved that a telegram be sent to Mr. S. S. Semmes, of Osceola, Ark., the son of Admiral Raphael Semmes. Mrs. Gantt, of Missouri, seconded the motion. Mrs. Hall, of Arkansas, asked to amend this motion by adding that Mrs. Willis be allowed to write the telegram. This amendment was seconded by Mrs. Ross, of Alabama. Carried.

Mrs. Odenheimer, of Maryland, presented a copy of Randall's poems and spoke in glowing tribute of the author of "Maryland, My Maryland." Mrs. Robinson, of Virginia, called attention to the fact that another song entitled, "Maryland, My Maryland," had been written and introduced by a public school teacher in Maryland, and was being sung by the school children. Both Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. Odenheimer expressed the wish that the U. D. C. would make formal protest against any change in the song as originally written. Mrs. Emerson, of Denver, Colo., announced that she had in her possession the original "Maryland, My Maryland," not a copy of the original, but the original itself.

Miss Rutherford, of Georgia, spoke of the presence of Dr. Cloz at the Marion Hotel, saying that he had written "Heart Songs of Dixie." She spoke of Dr. Cloz having been reared in the North, had only heard the "Northern side of history," but since the doctor had been reading issues of the "Confederate Veteran," had become interested in Confederate matters, since which time he had almost become a Confederate himself.

Mrs. Randolph, of Virginia, called attention of the convention to a number of copies of "Treatment of Prisoners of War 1861-65," prepared by Dr. L. E. Lewis, which she had for sale at ten cents per copy, the funds to be used only for cost of printing this valuable information.

The Secretary read a communication from the Little Rock Board of Trade, as follows:

Little Rock, Ark., November 10, 1910.

To the Convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy in Convention Assembled, Little Rock, Ark.

Ladies:—The information has reached us that at the dinner yesterday to the State Presidents one of the fair daughters of our State, Mrs. Folsom, of Hope, in responding to the toast of "Arkansas," told you something of the natural resources and great advantages of Grand Old Arkansas, a State just now coming into her own.

We have no doubt but all who had the honor and pleasure of listening to the words of this loyal daughter of the State were highly edified, but it is our desire to spread abroad this true story of Arkansas' conditions; to circulate it as a Board of Trade "Bulletin" through the North and East, and we will appreciate it if your organization will take such steps as will secure for us a manuscript copy of the toast on "Arkansas" by Mrs. Folsom.

This Board of Trade, representing nearly six hundred business and professional men of Little Rock, extends its most polite and heartfelt greetings to you, and in these compliments places the organization subject to your orders.

Yours truly,

H. L. REMMEL, President.

Attest:—GEO. R. BROWN, Secretary.

The meeting adjourned to meet at 2 P. M.

SECOND DAY—Afternoon Meeting.

Thursday, November 10, 1910

The meeting opened at 2:30 P. M., the President-General presiding.

The minutes of the morning meeting not being ready, Mrs. Emerson, of Colorado, was extended the privilege of the floor. She spoke of her chief interest in life now being centered upon securing photographs and inscriptions on all Confederate monuments, wherever located, and urged the members of the United Daughters of the Confederacy to kindly send her a good photograph of every monument. She asked them to have these photographs made and sent to her, every word, line for line, word for word—a concise description: bas-reliefs, height, etc., and where located—in park, public school or cemetery, to Denver, Colo. She stated that she was having all of these reproduced and published in book form, and expressed the hope that the members would take an interest in her efforts in this endeavor, and assist her in securing a photograph of every monument of this nature.

The Chair called for minutes of the morning session. The Secretary announced that the stenographer needed further time. Mrs. Stevens, of Mississippi, made a motion that the time be granted. Seconded by Mrs. McKinney. Carried.

Miss Sarah Blanks then sang "Dixie Aglow," composed by Miss McMullen, of Greenville, Ala., which was very much enjoyed.

Mrs. Schuyler, of New York, asked the privilege of announcing the presence of Mrs. Walker, of Little Rock, a "Real Daughter of the Confederacy," the mother of Mrs. Orlando Halliburton, President of the Arkansas Division.

Mrs. Walker was escorted to the rostrum, and presented to the convention. Mrs. Halliburton, in behalf of her mother, thanked the convention for this recognition, telling them that her mother was 85 years of age, and said she appreciated the honor that had been shown her. Mrs. Walker was then given a seat on the rostrum, where she remained near the President-General during the greater part of the meeting.

The Chair announced that the memorial hour had arrived, and this service was opened with a prayer by Rev. Chas. R. Hyde, of the Second Presbyterian Church.

Tributes were paid to the departed members, and Sister Esthei Carlotta presented the names of Mrs. Maria C. Drysdale, charter member of the Martha Reid Chapter No. 19, Jacksonville, Fla., and Honorary President Florida Division U. D. C. Also Mrs. Susan Hartridge, Charter President of Martha Reid Chapter No. 19, of the Charter Chapter of Florida.

Mrs. Sansom, of Tennessee, presented the names of Mrs. Mark S. Cockrill, of Nashville, Tenn., and Mrs. Julia Peet Bate, widow of U. S. Senator, Wm. B. Bate, of Tennessee.

Mrs. Randolph, of Virginia, presented the names of Mrs. Joseph Bryan, President of the Confederate Memorial Literary Society of Richmond, and Mrs. Alfred Gray, Associate President of the same society.

Miss Baxter presented the names of Mrs. Robert Emery Park, of Atlanta, Ga., Regent of Georgia for the Confederate Museum, and Mrs. Sarah H. Hansom Melone, of Atlanta, the mother of Miss Melone, Secretary of the Georgia Division, paying beautiful tribute to their memory.

Mrs. Kline, of Missouri, presented the name of Mrs. Bettie Scott Robert, founder of the Missouri Division U. D. C., who died at her home in St. Louis, Mo.

Mrs. Ross, of Alabama, presented the names of Mrs. M. D. Bibb, of Montgomery, Ala., and Mrs. Sarah B. Bethea, of Montgomery.

Mrs. Clapp, of Tennessee, presented the name of Mrs. Medora A. Brooks, Sarah Law Chapter, Memphis, Tenn.

Mrs. Stone, of Texas, presented the name of Mrs. Emma C. Noble, a former treasurer of Veuve Jefferson Davis Chapter, Galveston, Texas.

A vocal solo was then rendered by Miss Steadman, followed by benediction by Rev. Mr. Hyde, which closed the memorial services.

Mrs. Raines, of Georgia, moved that the general officers who were detained from making their reports should present them at this time. Seconded and carried.

Mrs. C. B. Tate, of Virginia, the Treasurer-General, presented her report.

In closing her report Mrs. Tate said: "Ladies, I have in my possession $8.20. I do not know to whom it belongs. Since the 15th of October I have received in taxes over $1,000. The rush at the last was something tremendous.

There has been a great amount of 1911 tax rushed in within the past two weeks, and I suspect that $8.20 belongs to the credit of 1911 tax. However, we will hear from it later on. I simply felt that I must report it that I have it in the bank and do not know where it belongs. I insist that all Chapters send taxes in March as required, that they send the correct amount, not a cent more and that no Chapter send tax in advance, such method requires book-keeping, doubles the work of the Treasurer and largely increases her responsibility.

The Chair stated that this closed the reports of all officers.

Mrs. Eller, of Virginia, moved that the reports be accepted and that a vote of thanks be extended to the general officers. Seconded by Mrs. Stevens, of Georgia, and carried.

Miss Baxter, of Georgia, moved that a rising vote of thanks be extended the Treasurer-General. Seconded and carried.

The Chair then announced that the regular order of business would be continued. The amendment offered by the Tennessee Division, Mrs. Maria S. Ellis, Secretary, was read:

Amend Art. III., Sec. 1, by striking out that portion of this Article that reads: "Northern women having no male relative who served the Confederate States of America in the war between the States, 1861, 1865, and having themselves performed no special service to same, but having married a Confederate soldier since 1865, and through this means becoming a member of the United Daughters of the Confederacy shall have the words, 'by adoption' placed upon their certificates of membership, and upon the Registrar's books, and in all rosters shall be designated as members 'by adoption.' Said member being entitled to all the honors and privileges of this Association except that of transmitting this honor to members of her family, only her children of a Confederate father; the honor dies with her if she has no children."

RECOMMENDATION OF COMMITTEE.

Art. III., Sec. 1. Your committee disapproves this amendment, and recommends that the Constitution remain unchanged.

Discussion ensued.

Sister Esther Carlotta, of Florida, asked the committee to accept the following substitute for its recommendation:

"Said member being entitled to all the honors and privileges of this Association, except that of holding any office in the General Association, Divisions or Chapters, except that of transmitting this honor to members of her family, only her children of a Confederate father; the honor dies with her if she has no children."

A vote was then taken, and the amendment as amended was adopted.

Offered by Mrs. J. Enders Robinson, of Virginia.

Amend Art. VII, Sec 2, to read: "There shall be eight standing committees, as follows:" Committee number 8 to be "The Committee of Division Historians, and of Chapter Historians where no division exists."

Amend By-Laws, Art. II, by adding to this article, Sec. 12: It shall be the duty of each State Historian and of the chapter historian in a State where no division exists, to send a special report, not exceeding 400 words, to the Historian-General not later than September 1st. of each and every year. The Historian-General shall have said reports printed in pamphlet, and she shall distribute them to the next regular general convention, said printing to be at the expense of the U. D. C., and of the plainest, most economical form consistent with good size type.

Reason: In order to create a uniform annual correspondence between these historians and the office of the Historian-General.

RECOMMENDATION OF THE COMMITTEE.

Art. VII., Sec. 2. The committee approves .

The discussion of this recommendation of the committee developed that confusion would arise from forming a second History Committee.

Miss Poppenheim, of South Carolina, offered the following substitute to Art. VII., Sec. 2:

A committee of Division Historians and Chapter Historians, where no division exists, with Historian-General as chairman, to be known as the Committee on History.

The substitute was accepted by the committee and adopted.
Offered by Sister Esther Carlotta, S. R., President Florida Division U. D. C.

Amend Art. III, Sec. 1, as follows: "Those women entitled to membership are the women who are the widows, wives, mothers, sisters, nieces and lineal descendants of such men as served honorably in the Confederate army, navy, or civil service; or of those men, unfit for active duty, who loyally gave aid to the cause. Also Southern women who can give proof of personal service or loyal aid to the Southern cause during the war; and the lineal descendants or nieces of such women, wherever living.

(The remainder of Section unaltered.)

Reason: To make the United Daughters of the Confederacy strictly hereditary on lineal descent.

This does not debar any woman of Confederate lineage, for the lineage can be traced through a loyal mother, grandmother or great grandmother, as well as collaterally from a great uncle. If a niece of a Confederate soldier marry into a Confederate family, her children will have lineal descent from her maternal grand-parents as well as from her father's side.

To an extent we have lost sight of the fact that lineage from a Confederate woman is as valuable as from a Confederate soldier.

Amend Art. V., Sec. 1, as follows: "Conventions of the General Association shall meet annually on some Tuesday between October 15, and December 15; the exact date to be decided upon consultation with the hostess chapter after the place of meeting has been selected."

Reasons: 1st to avoid late Saturday night sessions.

2nd. The great range of climate through which the convention meets renders a fixed date undesirable.

Amend Art. V., Sec. 3, as follows: Eliminate all that follows the first sentence and substitute "The President of a Division or in her absence the Chairman of the State Delegation, may represent any chapter in her Division if duly chosen by said chapter, and when so chosen shall be considered a delegate and not a proxy from the chapter." In the beginning of the last sentence, substitute the word "delegate" for proxy, to read: "A delegate must vote according to the instructions, etc."

Reasons: Proxy voting is unparliamentary and undesirable, yet distances to General Conventions being so great, chapters must, in justice, be allowed some representation in that body other than one of their own members.

Amend Art. IX., Sec. 1, as follows: "Certificates of membership must be issued to all members of chapters immediately upon registration on State books, and no chapter may count a member in estimating the chapter vote, until she has her certificate. These certificates must be signed by the President and Recording Secretary of the General Association; the President of the Division in which the chapter is located, and the President and Recording Secretary of the chapter to which the member belongs. All of these officers to be those who are in office when the certificate is issued to the member.

Such certificates shall be supplied by the Recording Secretary-General to State Presidents at a cost of fifteen cents each. The State Presidents shall issue same to chapter presidents at the same cost, on order from State Registrar stating name and registration of applicant, and name and number of the chapter which she has entered.

Reasons: 1st. The tardiness on the part of members in taking out this certificate of membership.

2nd. To prevent the ordering of certificates of membership in larger quantities than necessary by chapters, and subsequent issuance of same by chapters, when General or State officers who signed same are no longer in office.

3rd. The issuing of certificates to members who have never been registered on State books.

SISTER ESTHER CARLOTTA, S. R.,
President Florida Division U. D. C.

RECOMMENDATION OF COMMITTEE.

Art. III., Sec. 1. The majority of your committee approves this amendment.

Art. V., Sec. 1. Disapproved, and we recommend this remain unchanged as in the Constitution.

Art. V., Sec. 3. Approved.

Art. IX., Sec. 1. Your committee offers as a substitute to this, changing the first clause to the following: "Chapter Presidents must issue certificates of membership to members at the time they are admitted to full membership."

Miss Poppenheim, of South Carolina, moved that the amendment to Art. III., Sec. 1, as offered by Florida, and endorsed by the majority of the committee, be adopted. Seconded by Mrs. Halliburton, of Arkansas. Carried.

Sister Esther Carlotta stated there was dissatisfaction regarding the action pertaining to this amendment, and suggested a roll call of States. Roll was called and resulted in 1072 votes in favor of and 503 against the amendment.

The convention approved the recommendations of the committee on amendment to Art. V., Sec. 3. Carried.

With reference to Art. V., Sec. 1, Mrs. Schuyler, of New York, moved that we accept the recommendation of the committee on this amendment without discussion. Seconded by several. Carried.

Offered by Mrs. L. H. Raines.

Amend Art. IX. of the By-Laws, to read: "The election of officers shall be the first order of business at the morning meeting of the fourth day of the convention, followed by all amendments to Constitution or By-Laws."

RECOMMENDATION OF COMMITTEE.

Amendment Art. IX. Unanimously approved by the committee.

Mrs. Stevens, of Mississippi, moved to adopt the recommendation of the committee, asking that it be adopted without discussion. Seconded by Mrs. Randolph, of Virginia. Carried.

Offered by Mrs. Andrew L. Dowdell.

Amend Art. III., Sec 4. First sentence, to read: Any chapter desiring to change its name, or to receive a duplicate charter may apply to the Recording Secretary-General for a new charter, paying the regular charter fee of $3.00; such charter to be issued under the original number of the chapter. (The remaining portion of Sec. 4 to be unchanged.)

Reason: To issue a duplicate charter requires search into the old records, to issue the new charter, and therefore, the fee should be required, as for a change of name.

Amend Art. IV., Sec. 4, beginning with the second sentence, to read: "Each division must notify the President-General without delay of the withdrawal, suspension or extinction of any of its chapters. It shall be the duty of the President-General, upon receiving written notice from a division that any chapter has withdrawn therefrom, to have the charter of such Chapter canceled by the Recording Secretary-General. Notice of this this cancellation shall be sent to the Custodian of the Cross of Honor, and shall be included in the next annual report of the Recording Secretary-General."

Reason: To avoid unnecessary work. This amendment providing for notices to those who have communications with the chapters.

RECOMMENDATION OF COMMITTEE.

Art. IV., Sec. 4. Approved.

Mrs. Eller, of Virginia, moved that the amendment as presented by Mrs. Dowdell, of Alabama, and approved by the committee, be accepted.

Mrs. Halliburton, of Arkansas, seconded Mrs. Eller's motion. Carried.

Amendment to Art. IV., Sec. 4, offered by Mrs. Dowdell, was approved by the Committee on Recommendations, and adopted by unanimous vote.

Offered by Mrs. Mattie Bruce Reynolds, Chaplain of the Kentucky Division, U. D. C.

Amend Art. VI., Sec. 2, by inserting "fifteen," instead of "fourteen," to read: The number of Honorary Presidents of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, exclusive of the Honorary President-General, shall be limited to fifteen at any one time, all of whom shall be elected for life.

Reason: I wish to nominate for this office Mrs. Cornelia Branch Stone, ex-President-General U. D. C., feeling that she richly deserves this honor, by her great zeal and earnest endeavor, ever since she has been a member of the organization.

RECOMMENDATION OF COMMITTEE.

Art. VI., Sec. 2. Your committee leaves this amendment in the hands of the convention.

Mrs. Cornelia Branch Stone, though appreciating the honor, opposed this amendment, saying, she objected to an enlargement of the list of Honorary Presidents, and asked the members to keep that list as small as possible, thereby making it a much greater honor upon whom conferred.

Mr. Schuyler, of New York, moved that the Association consider the wishes of Mrs. Stone, and also moved that the amendment be tabled. Seconded by Mrs. Collier of Tennessee. Carried.

Your committee recommends that the President-General appoint a Committee on Amendments at each convention; that the Recording Secretary-General shall forward all amendments as soon as received to the Chairman of the Committee, to arrange in due form for printing, to be returned to the Recording Secretary not less than sixty days prior to each convention. This committee shall be the acting committee on amendments at each convention.

MRS. L. H. RAINES,
MRS. JOS. B. DIBRELL,
MRS. DAISY McLAUREN STEVENS.

Mrs. Schuyler, of New York, expressed herself as considering this suggestion a most excellent one, and asked to amend it by making the committee a standing Committee on Amendments.

Mrs. Eustace Williams, of Kentucky, objected, saying there was entirely too much changing being done in the Constitution, taking for example the present time, when the entire day had nearly been consumed in amending, and stated that if such a committee was appointed there would be still more amending, and no other work ever would be accomplished.

Mrs. Robinson, of Virginia, made a motion that the appointment of this committee be left to the discretion of the President-General.

Mrs. Daisy McLauren Stevens, of Mississippi, stated that the matter could not be left to the President's discretion, owing to the fact that there was a certain time for these amendments to be prepared and sent out.

Mrs. Henderson, of Mississippi, moved that the amendment be indefinitely postponed. Seconded. Carried.

Mrs. Bryan, of Texas, moved that a vote of thanks be given the Committee on Amendments. Seconded and carried.

The Secretary said: "Last year at the Houston convention Miss Daffan arose and made a motion, asking that the Custodian of Flags and Pennants be placed on the Executive Board. Can we not now make an amendment to Article VI., Sec. 2, of the Constitution, adding one more officer, that notice having already been given?"

The matter was discussed, the Recording Secretary's remarks put in form of a motion, which was seconded, and carried, and the Custodian of Flags and Pennants declared a regular officer of the Association.

The following amendment to By-Laws, as offered by the President of the Florida Division, was acted upon:

Add to Art. I, Sec. 9, as follows:

The General Association shall deal with Divisions and Chapters in the divisions through the State President.

All communications and printed matter sent out from any department of the General Association, except that concerning the Cross of Honor, shall be sent to the State Presidents, who shall, as soon as possible after receipt of such letters or printed matter, communicate or transmit same to the Chapters of their respective Divisions.

REASONS.

1st. Application of the principle of States' Rights for which the United Daughters of the Confederacy stand.

2nd. The lessening of the burdensome work of some of the General officers, and the developing of a sense of greater responsibility in State officers.

3rd. To bring about a more correct and business-like method of administration of the affairs of the Association, throughout all of its branches.

In connection with the above amendment, to avoid unnecessary waste of time in detail legislation, is offered the following resolution, viz:

RESOLVED, That any previous clause or clauses of the By-Laws, which may conflict with the foregoing amendment, be, and are hereby repealed, and the President-General and Recording Secretary-General are hereby authorized to make the verbal changes necessary to bring the By-Laws as now printed into conformity to this amendment.

Mrs. Eller, of Virginia, moved the adoption of this amendment, saying that "it kept us in touch with the Presidents of the Divisions and individual Chapters."

Mrs. Howard, of Texas, said the chapters desire to keep in touch with the Association and State Presidents, but this amendment would mean extra work for the Division Presidents.

Mrs. Raines, of Georgia, said she would like to support the amendment.

Mrs. Williams, of North Carolina, seconded the motion of Mrs. Eller, and moved that the discussion be closed. Carried. The amendment was adopted.

Sister Esther Carlotta thanked the ladies for this action, and said her object in presenting the amendment was to keep the work of the States in better and more correct shape.

Mrs. Collier, of Memphis, Tenn., offered the following amendment to Art. VII., Sec. 5, of the By-Laws, by inserting after the words, "Congressional Library, Washington, D. C.," "Departments of Archives and History, of the Southern States and to the Sons of Veterans' Hall, Memphis, Tenn."

Mrs. Ross, of Alabama, moved the adoption of the amendment without discussion. The motion was seconded by Mrs. Randolph, of Virginia, and Mrs. Stevens, of Georgia. Carried.

Mrs. Collier stated that Dr. Thomas M. Owen, Director of Archives and History of Alabama, asked that the minutes of all past U. D. C. conventions, also the minutes of all future conventions of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, be sent to him, that they may be filed in the Alabama State Department of Archives and History.

After some announcements the convention adjourned to meet Friday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

THIRD DAY—Morning Meeting.

Friday, November 11, 1910.

The Convention was called to order at 9:30 A. M.

Invocation by Rev. Jno. F. Christian, D. D., of the Second Baptist Church.

The Chair then announced that according to the rules, the first ten minutes of the meeting would be consumed in the presentation of miscellaneous business.

Mrs. Wassel, of Arkansas, gave notice that at the proper time, under the head of new business, she wished to ask for an increase in the appropriation of the U. D. C. towards the David O. Dodd monument.

Mrs. Bryan, of Texas, called attention to an article appearing in the Arkansas Gazette, regarding the sale of valuable portraits of well known Southern heroes, reading same to the convention.

Mrs. Halliburton made some announcements as to the proposed trip to Hot Springs, and it was decided that a telegram of thanks be sent to the Chapter in Hot Springs, stating that the convention could not adjourn and go in a body, but those who could leave would accept their hospitality. Mrs. White, of Tennessee, moved that the Chapter of Hot Springs be immediately notified that the convention could not adjourn before Saturday and could not go to Hot Springs that day. Seconded and carried.

48 MINUTES OF SEVENTEENTH ANNUAL CONVENTION,

The minutes of the previous day were then read and approved as corrected.

The Chair then presented Mrs. S. E. Gabbett, of Georgia, the first Custodian of the Cross of Honor, now Honorary Custodian-General. Mrs. Gabbett made a most fitting response to the President-General's words of introduction, after which she was escorted to a seat on the platform with the General Officers.

Mrs. Yerger, of Mississippi, extended an invitation to the convention from the coast chapters of her State, to attend the dedication of a chapel at the Soldiers' Home, Beauvoir, Miss., when the visitors will be entertained at an al fresco tea, on November 17th.

Mrs. Hawkins, of Texas, spoke of the number of States who had not been able to make their reports, and moved that these reports be heard at this time. Seconded by Mrs. Odenheimer, of Maryland: Carried.

The first report was that of Mississippi, read by Mrs. Yerger, President of the Division.

Mrs. Tichenor, the delegate from Stonewall Jackson Chapter No. 1135, New Orleans, had asked that the resolution from her chapter regarding the monument to the Women of the Confederacy be made a special order of business for Friday morning, the first ten minutes after the reading of the minutes.

This time having arrived, Mrs. Tichenor presented these resolutions.

After considerable discussion on the subject, Mrs. Randolph, of Virginia, moved that "Appreciating the motives of the Confederate Veterans to honor the women of the Confederacy by placing bronze monuments in every State to their memory, she urged that instead of these monuments of bronze, they use their efforts towards the establishment of a home or fund to provide for the wants of the Confederate women now asking for relief at our homes."

Mrs. Williams, of Kentucky, then moved to postpone the whole matter.

Mrs. Cornelia Branch Stone, of Texas, moved "that the resolutions presented by the Stonewall Jackson Chapter of New Orleans, be tabled, because of the fact that this convention has no jurisdiction on this subject. Carried.

Mrs. Eller, of Virginia, moved to proceed with the regular order of business. Seconded by Mrs. Halliburton. Carried.

The Chair called for the division reports in the following order. Louisiana, Kentucky and Illinois.

The Chair then announced the hour had arrived for the presentation of new business.

Mrs. Willis, of Arkansas, announced that she would later present a set of resolutions, endorsing a series of histories of the United States by Mr. Lawton B. Evans, a son of Gen. Clement A. Evans, and added further that a representative of the house which was publishing these histories, was present. She said her division had passed a resolution endorsing the entire series, and that it had been recommended by the chapters for use in the various schools. She asked that the representative of the firm publishing these books be allowed to speak during the meeting.

Miss Rutherford, of Georgia, asked that Miss Baxter be allowed to make the report of Georgia before the special order assigned to her. Seconded by Mrs. Ross, of Alabama, and others. Carried.

Miss Baxter presented the report.

Mrs. Ross, of Alabama, moved that the General Association donate $50.00 to assist in erecting the monument to Gen. Jos. E. Johnson, this appropriation being subject to the consideration of the Finance Committee. Seconded by Mrs. Henderson, of Mississippi, and Mrs. Gantt, of Missouri.

Mrs. Tate, of Virginia, moved to amend the motion of Mrs. Ross by making the amount $100.00 instead of $50.00. Amendment carried. The motion was adopted as amended.

Miss Rutherford, of Georgia, then presented a communication from Mrs. C. Helen Plane, of Atlanta, Ga., Honorary President, as follows:

Madam President and Daughters.

I believe I am right in stating that the U. D. C. has accomplished more real good than any other women's organization in the world, because we attempt nothing which is not for the uplifting of humanity, and nothing for self-glory. Amongst many other things, we have built and maintained Soldiers' Homes; provided for their families; are educating their children, as well as the children in the mountain districts; have built dormitories to accommodate daughters of Confederates in our Normal Schools; have secured hundreds of gift scholarships; have erected marble shafts broadcast all over the Southland, which, if removed today would leave us a people without a history and without self-respect. And our good work goes bravely on.

But, dear Daughters, we have long neglected a sacred duty which should engage our time and attention without farther delay. It is said the women of the Confederacy made the Confederate soldier what he was, and we all know they were the last to surrender. While we have gloried in the record of the Confederate soldier, and have assisted in placing him upon the highest pinnacle of fame, what have we done in recognition of the courage, self-sacrifice, patient endurance, and undaunted patriotism of the women of the Confederacy whose deeds will go down the ages in song and in story? There were more of them living at the end of the surrender than there were soldiers left. Think you that in all the trying years of relentless so-called Reconstruction, of their beloved Southland, that they were not workers and sufferers? Do you not know that your very own grandmothers and mothers stood side by side with their husbands in reclaiming this God-given country, which they have left as your inheritance? Are none of these peerless women living and in need of help from us? Many of them have passed away in the midst of want, and are now beyond our sympathy. But, there are living still hundreds of the little girls who carded and spun, and knitted to help clothe the soldiers, who are now far advanced in years; and there are scores of the young women who stood by the wayside to satisfy the hunger and quench the thirst of the soldiers on their long and weary marches; and there are still living women, who, with tireless energy, ministered night and day to the sick and wounded in hospitals, in their homes, and on bloody battle fields; who gave priceless jewels to aid the government; imparted spiritual comfort to the dying, often burying with their own hands the dead; and who after four years of hard toil, weary waiting and silent weeping, forced back their tears and stood at the threshold of desolate homes to welcome with smiles and loving caresses the return of their uncrowned heroes, and through the years of poverty which followed, saved from despair the men by whose heroic efforts the South has recovered its proud name, and is rushing on to a great future.

I have long been astonished at our callous attitude towards the aged women amongst us, some of whom I know to be homeless and almost friendless. The Atlanta Chapter pensions one of the typical ladies of the ante-bellum South and they have never done a more gracious act. A dear old lady who had lost home, husband, and all her children, was taken ill and hoped the time had come for her to be reunited to her loved ones in a Heavenly home. When she found that she was getting well, in pathetic tones she asked: "Why can't old women die?"

God does not intend that the world should be without old people. He has a wise and gracious purpose in keeping them here, and those who make the closing years of their earthly sojourn serene and happy, help them to fulfill this purpose. When the prophet foretold the future blessing to His chosen people, He gave as one token, "There shall yet old men and old women dwell in the streets of Jerusalem, and every man his staff in his hand for very age."

A leading religious paper giving the aggregate amount of special gifts to philanthropic and educational purpose, leaving out of the account the sum of less than $1,000, and the ordinary gifts to charity in general sense, and the collection for church and religious work, places for the total of the year 1907, at $149,902,130, then follows a list of the causes among which this sum is distributed, and it is not stated that one dollar of it was given for the comfort of aged women; their needs have been overlooked by both church people and philanthropists. A late Bishop of the M. E. Church considered a "Home for Aged Women of the South of sacred importance." A friend writes me: "I know of a number of elderly, worthy, cultured women, though very sad and lonely ones, who would be happy to enter such a home." The daughter of the Rev. Dr. Golding, author of "The Young Marooners," herself the little heroine of the story, after learning of my plea for a U. D. C. home for Confederate women and their descendants, wrote to me asking to have her name entered first on the roll of applicants for admission, and referring to the prospective monument to be erected to the memory of the Women of the Confederacy, asked: "When we are crying for bread, why will they give us a stone?" She has since gone to a home in a better land. In the City of Atlanta I know personally four aged women of refinement who need our help, and who would gladly enter a U. D. C. home. Because such women have fought bravely the infirmities of age and enforced poverty, silently toiling with feeble hands for a bare subsistence, homeless or "lingering superfluous" in homes of others; are we Daughters to close our eyes and stop our ears to their appeals? No; no; but let us make amends for the past, and join hand in hand and heart to heart, to build a home which shall be worthy of them and an honor to us. Let it be in memory of the Spartan Women of the Confederacy and known as "The U. D. C. Memorial Home." If the whole organization should join in building a home, it should be for the accommodation of not less than fifty and should be located in a large city where the dear old people could look out on varied scenes, and their minds diverted from dwelling too much in the past, and where ministers of all denominations could serve them. The building should be of Southern architecture and planned to meet the infirmities of the aged, and surrounded by a garden of Southern trees and flowers, provided with easy seats for tired bodies, and smooth walks for feeble steps.

There are homes in almost every city, provided for old women without regard to social position or education, denying admission to none except disreputable characters, but totally unfit for women of refinement, who never enter them. The only place for the latter class, and most beautiful charity in the world is the "Louise Home" at Washington built and endowed by that grand man, Corcoran, in memory of his wife and daughter; after which home we should model ours. This Louise Home has been in successful operation 39 years, and there are never less than sixty on the waiting list for admission, showing the necessity for such homes. It has been a sweet refuge for many noble Southern women of the old regime.

Do not, dear Daughters, postpone this important duty to our aged ones, the women of the Confederacy who may be here to receive its benefits, and the lineal descendants of all Confederate women who may need our charity. NOW is the accepted time to begin. We should be able in the next twelve months to raise the necessary funds for the monuments at Arlington and Shiloh, especially if we accept the invitation to meet in Washington in 1911. When this work is done what duty is more imperative than that of providing for our needy ones?

Some of our ablest and best Daughters have expressed grave fears of our inability to raise an endowment fund for a home. I have studied this matter in all its bearings, and to my own mind there are many feasible plans to raise such a fund, to say nothing of the ability of our already large and rapidly growing order to raise enough annually to maintain the institution; such an undertaking would go far to perpetuate the interest in our beloved U. D. C. An appropriation of the modest sum of $2,000 from each Southern State would go far towards its support. Last, but not least, is there not a Corcoran amongst the millionaires of the South who would honor a Southern mother by endowing such a home? I think we can trust now and forever the fealty of Southern men to Southern women.

Our founder, Mrs. Goodlett, commends me for my work in behalf of our aged ones, but thinks a home in each State would be preferable to one built and maintained by the General Order U. D. C. If all the States or a large majority do not unite on a home, Georgia is pledged to build for the State, and proposes that it shall not be for the shiftless and improvident, but for those who are worn and weary fighting bravely the battle of life and deserve environments of refinement and congenial associations in their declining years.

Oh, that women of riches might realize that money cannot stay in them the ravages of time, neither exempt them from misfortune and even poverty, might find it in their hearts to provide homes for desolate old women in which soul and body could be at peace, eased from the ceaseless struggle for bread.

The young live for pleasure; the old only ask for rest.

I leave this matter with the Daughters in Convention at Little Rock, in the belief that they will come speedily to the rescue of these needy ones.

C. HELEN PLANE.

The matter pertaining to the home proposed by Mrs. C. Helen Plane was then discussed. The following resolution was presented by Miss Rutherford:

RESOLVED: That the Home for Aged Confederate Women be the next work of the United Daughters of the Confederacy. That each chapter be empowered and urged to organize at once, within itself, a "Home Circle," the purpose of which shall be to aid in erecting and maintaining this U. D. C. Memorial Home, to honor the memory of Confederate women and their lineal descendants. That each "Home Circle" send a representative to the next General Convention to form a committee for the purpose of selecting a location for the home and for devising ways and means for its erection and maintenance.

Mrs. Wilson, of Georgia, moved that this body endorse this resolution, saying, among other things, that we owe it to the last days of these living heroines to do something for them.

Owing to a misunderstanding of the nature of the home on the part of some members, objections were based on the grounds that it was the intention of its promoter to draw lines of social distinction; that none other than ladies of refinement could be admitted. Mrs. Cornelia Branch Stone, of Texas, made a strong plea in behalf of the poorer classes, and expressed herself as not being in favor of such an institution as the "Louise" Home, where such restrictions were enforced. That the wives and daughters of the humblest soldiers were as much entitled to such homes as the wives and daughters of officers of the army, and that any such proposed home with the endorsement or support of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, should be where all would be received on the same equality.

Mrs. Reynolds, of Kentucky, expressed herself as approving of the stand taken by Mrs. Stone, and added, that if Mrs. Stone would make the same in form of a motion, she would be glad to second it.

Miss Rutherford, of Georgia, in defense of the impression to the effect that this home was to be erected for only the educated and refined ladies of the families of Confederate soldiers, stated that the plans of Mrs. Plane had been misunderstood, and furthermore, they were not trying to get the home for the State of Georgia; all Mrs. Plane asked was to get the endorsement of this convention, for such a home as outlined in her paper.

Miss Rutherford stated it was a question that need not disturb the family of the humblest soldier, whose welfare would be as well provided for as that of an officer.

Mrs. Stone, of Texas, said it is not a question of whether it is the wife or sister of the humblest soldier, or an officer, it is a question of whether or not it was to be as Mrs. Plane had written, to be modeled on the plan of the "Louise" Home," saying this association cannot support a home that discriminates against any Confederate soldier's family. She said further:

"There is another objection. Every time a proposition is made to raise the per capita tax, there is strong opposition and a ruling against it, and we are advised that chapters cannot remain organized if the tax is raised. With our present per capita tax, we could not establish a home like that and maintain it. It means maintaining year after year. Many of the States now have their own homes, where the States are providing for these people—the dear old women of the Confederacy. I will say for the people of the South, there is no community in this broad land that would allow any woman, old, aged, and needy, who had served in the Confederate period '61-'65, to suffer if her case is properly presented. Our people have too much honor for old age to permit suffering, and they are not going to permit it, if these cases are brought to their attention."

Mrs. Randolph of Virginia, said: "We cannot draw any line, and we must provide for these women now. Here is all this discussion going on while the needy suffer. Let us take care of these old women now while they live and enjoy it. These women will not be with us much longer, and let us make them as comfortable and as happy as we can while they are here. So I will offer as a substitute to Mrs. Wilson's motion that "The United Daughters of the Confederacy shall have a committee to be called a "Relief Committee" of the U. D. C., whose duty shall be to formulate at once, plans for the relief of Confederate women entitled to such relief. An amount shall be at once appropriated, according to the amount in the treasury, for the immediate use of this committee."

Miss Rutherford, of Georgia, said: "I cannot accept any substitute except that of one providing for a memorial home, as that is what Mrs. Plane is working for. It may be that this convention is not quite ready for it, but I believe it will come."

Mrs. Sansom, of Tennessee, spoke to Mrs. Randolph's substitute, saying, "While these homes are grand institutions I feel that more immediate relief for our Confederate women is what is needed now, and not to keep these dear old women standing in the bread line waiting until a home can be built, and if we can establish this fund to be used while these women can be kept from suffering, it certainly would be a grand thing."

Mrs. Henderson, of Mississippi, said, "This resolution offerred by Miss Rutherford does not say one word against any Confederate woman or her descendents coming in."

The question was called.

Sister Esther Carlotta asked to make an explanation, saying: "Some ladies back here think that the question cannot be discussed after it is called. I would like for the Chair to state that if they wish to discuss it, they can vote down the previous question by voting "no" and continuing the question." Mrs. Schuyler, of New York, rose to a point of order, calling attention to the fact that the previous question must be put.

The question was then put before the house, and carried.

Miss Rutherford, of Georgia, asked to leave these resolutions with the convention to think about, and bring the matter up at our next convention.

Mrs. Odenheimer, of Maryland, asked, "What will become of the old ladies in the meantime?"

Mrs. Latham, of Tennessee, said, "It seems to me we should be practical in this matter. As the daughter here has just said, time is going on; some of these old ladies are uncomfortable right now. We certainly can take this matter up in our own States and put something in their homes to make these women comfortable. I believe that in six months every State can have its own home, and its own people can make it comfortable for them.

Mrs. Stone moved that Miss Rutherford be allowed to withdraw all resolutions for action: "She has asked not to have action taken, and I move that her request be granted."

Mrs. Eller, of Virginia, seconded Mrs. Stone's motion.

Mrs. Bryan, of Texas, moved the adoption of the substitute offered by Mrs. Randolph. Seconded and carried.

Just before adjournment for lunch, all the State Presidents retired to the rear of the convention hall, and later returned to the platform in a body, and the President-General, in behalf of the Presidents of the divisions, presented Mrs.

Halliburton, President of the Arkansas Division, with a handsome bouquet of chrysanthemums; also a beautiful palm, Mrs. Eller, of Virginia, carrying the palm, and Mrs. Kohn, of South Carolina the chrysanthemums.

In accepting these tokens of remembrance from the presidents of the State divisions, Mrs. Halliburton said she could not have accomplished what had been done had it not been for Memorial Chapter standing like a wall on which she could lean, and said the chapter deserved the praises for her success, and also said that in their name, and in the name of the Arkansas Division, she thanked the ladies.

Mrs. Sloan, the newly elected President of the Arkansas Division, was introduced to the convention. She said she was glad the U. D. C. had come to Arkansas, and hoped they would come back to the "City of Roses," telling them to "Come in the evening; come in the morning; come when expected, or come without warning," and thousands of welcomes would always be found. Mrs. Sloan graciously presented Mrs. Orlando Halliburton, the retiring President of the Arkansas Division, with a handsome silver fruit bowl, as a token of their esteem and appreciation of her valuable services to the Confederate cause in this State.

After the presentation of this gift Mrs. Halliburton acknowledged that words were inadequate to express her feeling, as she was overcome. She said she had simply done her duty, her "Daughters" had helped her to do what had been done, and to them belonged these rewards.

On motion, the convention adjourned to meet at 2:30 P. M.

THIRD DAY—Afternoon Meeting.

Friday, November 11, 1910.

The meeting was called to order at 2:30 o'clock by the President-General.

The minutes of the two previous meetings were called for, and the Secretary explained that owing to the little time in the interim between the meetings that the stenographer had not finished transcribing her notes, and only a part of the minutes were now ready to be read to the convention. Mrs. Wassell, of Arkansas, moved that the minutes be read and acted upon, as far as they were prepared. Seconded by Mrs. Randolph, of Virginia, and carried. After some corrections the minutes were approved.

Mrs. S. S. Wassell called attention to the presence of an Honorary President, of the Arkansas Division, Mrs. T. J. Churchill, the widow of General Churchill, and asked that she be given a seat on the platform. The Chair requested Mrs. Wassell to bring Mrs. Churchill to the platform. Upon the suggestion of Mrs. Wassell that a member of Mrs. Churchill's chapter should have that honor, Mrs. Pemberton, of Arkansas, and Mrs. Worthington, of Mississippi, led her forward and Mrs. Churchill was gracefully presented to the convention by the President-General.

The following resolution was presented.—Resolved, That a relief committee, whose duty it shall be to investigate and relieve as far as possible, the present pressing needs of Confederate women, this committee to be appointed at each convention by the President, beginning with this one, and be given by the convention a stated sum. This committee to exist until the U. D. C. home is built.

Respectfully submitted.

MRS. RANDOLPH, of Virginia.

MRS. MATTIE BRUCE REYNOLDS, of Kentucky.

MRS. MERWIN, of Washington, D. C.

MRS. WORTHINGTON, of Mississippi.

MRS. BLACK, of Ohio.

Mrs. Randolph, in speaking to the resolution, said: "This Relief Committee is to help these women now, and not to wait until a home is made for them. I want it understood that I am not asking this for Virginia, because Virginia is prepared to take care of her own, but I am asking, when these appeals come from outstanding chapters where there are women begging at the doors, we want to be prepared to help them.

Mrs. McKinney, of Kentucky, said: "This seems to be the most expeditious manner of handling this matter, and giving relief where it is most needed. It is not good business policy to turn over a specified amount without providing some manner of judicious management. Personally, I would be glad to have the convention appropriate as much as possible, but from a business standpoint, it is certainly not good policy to leave the amount open."

Mrs. Kline, of Missouri, asked the question if any State would have a right to ask aid at any time from this committee.

The question was answered in the affirmative.

Miss Rutherford, of Georgia, said as she had refused to accept Mrs. Randolph's substitute at the morning session, she would like to have the privilege of seconding Mrs. Randolph's resolution since the matter had been put in its present form.

Mrs. Schuyler, of New York, called for the previous question. Carried.

The resolutions were voted upon and adopted.

Mrs. Henderson, of Mississippi, moved that the Finance Committee recommend to this association a sum to be used by the Relief Committee the ensuing year.

Seconded by Mrs. Merwin, of Washington, D. C. Carried

Mrs. Eller, of Virginia, moved that invitations from cities soliciting the next place of meeting be received at 3:30 o'clock, for the reason that a great many ladies would leave the city that evening, and desired to vote on the next place of meeting before leaving.

Seconded by several. Carried.

Miss Gautreaux, of Louisiana, moved that the rules of order adopted by this convention be strictly enforced, particularly Rule No. 2 and No. 3, which the Secretary would please read.

Duly seconded and carried.

Sister Esther Carlotta presented the report of the Florida

Division. After which she was granted the privilege of giving Florida's greetings to Arkansas.

Mrs. Halliburton, of Arkansas, responded to Florida's greetings, and said the people of this State were only too glad to welcome them, and hoped they would all come again.

The President-General, in behalf of the Presidents of the State Divisions, presented a handsome bouquet to Mrs. S. S. Wassell, of Arkansas, saying: "In the name of the Division Presidents, I take great pleasure in presenting these flowers as a token of their great appreciation of what you have done, and what you did towards bringing us here."

Mrs. Wassell, who was completely taken by surprise, said she could not find words to express her appreciation. She said she had tried hard to get them to come to Arkansas, and now that they were here, she hoped they would continue to take large draughts of the "Arkansas Muddy," and come back again in May 1911. She then thanked them for the beautiful flowers.

The Chair then announced the hour of 3:30 had arrived, and invitations for the 1911 meeting were now in order.

Mrs. Walke, of Virginia, moved that the District of Columbia be permitted to make its report before invitations were extended.

Seconded by Mrs. Randolph, of Virginia. Carried.

Mrs. Merwin, of Washington, D. C., then made the report of her division and followed by extending an invitation to the convention to hold its next annual meeting in the City of Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Merwin pleaded for Washington on the very forceful ground that in the vicinity of the National Capital is the famous Arlington cemetery, where sleep hundreds of Confederate dead with never a shaft to mark their resting place. She contended that if the next convention were held there, it would arouse such enthusiasm and create such a feeling of responsibility that it would result in the early completion of the Arlington monument.

She said: "Aside from the duty we owe to our Confederate dead to fittingly remember them by raising this monument to their memory. Nowhere could we find a place that would more appropriately indicate to the world our devotion to the fallen heroes of the South, for all the world visits Washington." Her plea was also made on the grounds that New York, Minnesota, Indiana, Ohio and other Northern States had sent large delegations to the national convention here, and in deference to that large section of the Union, it was time to carry the general convention there, as it has always been held in the South.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 7, 1910.

Secretary United Daughters of the Confederacy,

Little Rock, Ark.

Supplementing Mrs. Merwin's efforts the Washington Chamber of Commerce extends to the United Daughters of the Confederacy a most cordial and hearty invitation to hold 1911 meeting in the City Beautiful. We promise to leave no stone unturned to make your stay with us a most enjoyable one.

G. M. HUNT,

Chairman Convention Committee.

Washington, D. C. Nov. 4, 1910.

Madam President-General and Daughters of the Confederacy.

The District of Columbia Division, U. D. C. and kindred Southern societies of Washington, D. C., unite with the Chamber of Commerce in asking you to hold your General Convention of 1911 in our city. We feel that the attractions of Washington will bring a large number of Daughters and friends, and the laying of the cornerstone of the Arlington Monument will make another mark in the history of our united country. The thousands that will attend and see our beautiful plot at Arlington, on the sacred soil of Virginia, the former home of our great chief, Robert E. Lee, will contribute largely towards the completion of the monument so dear to our hearts.

No North—no South—no East—no West. On to Washington—our Washington, the Capital of the greatest nation in the world, where the children of the South call for their mothers and the speedy completion of the Arlington monument.

Respectfully,

MARY THOMPSON MERWIN,

President D. C. Division, U. D. C.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 3, 1910.

To the General U. D. C. in Convention Assembled.

Greeting:—We, the Confederate Choir of the Northwest, do most heartily endorse the suggestion to have the convention meet in Washington, D. C., in 1911, for the purpose of laying the cornerstone of Arlington monument.

62 MINUTES OF SEVENTEENTH ANNUAL CONVENTION,

Success to this and all other meetings.

Sincerely,

MRS. WILLIAM CLEVELAND AIKEN, Captain.

MISS MINON G. ADAIR, Adjutant.

Mrs. Norman V. Randolph, of Virginia, presented the invitation from the famous Confederate Capitol. She raised the point in her defense of Richmond, that it was the holiest spot in Southern territory, for there was established the seat of government that directed the fate of the Confederacy through four long eventful years, and said it was the place where the visitor could gratify the most insatiable desire for communion with things sacred in Southern history, and as such, it took precedence over any other city.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 29, 1910.

Mrs. N. V. Randolph, President Richmond Chapter U. D. C.

Dear Mrs. Randolph:—I am directed by R. E. Lee Camp No. 1, C. V., to inform you that this camp heartily endorses the invitation from Richmond Chapter to United Daughters of the Confederacy to hold their annual meeting of 1911 in the city of Richmond, Va.

With respect, I am by order of W. S. ARCHER, Commander.

J. TAYLOR STRATTON, Adjutant.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 4, 1910.

Mrs. Virginia Faulkner McSherry, President General United Daughters of the Confederacy, Little Rock, Ark.

Dear Madam:—On behalf of this city and all of its people, I extend through you to the Daughters of the Confederacy a cordial invitation to hold your next annual meeting in Richmond.

There is no city in which the work of the Daughters of the Confederacy has left more enduring memorials of a just and righteous cause than may be found in Richmond, and no people appreciate more highly than we do their patriotic labors and their constancy and devotion to the great leaders and patriotic sons of the South who made the name of the Confederate soldier immortal.

We hope that this opportunity may be afforded the members of your association to visit our city and view the work of their hands, and that our people may have the privilege and pleasure of requiting in some manner the obligations we feel.

Yours very sincerely,

D. C. RICHARDSON, Mayor.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 3, 1910.

Convention United Daughters of the Confederacy, Little Rock, Ark.

Madam:—It is with much pleasure that we extend the United Daughters of the Confederacy an invitation to hold their 1911 convention in Richmond, Va.

With full appreciation of the noble service the members of your association have rendered the people of the South, and the great benefit that Richmond has received through your united efforts, we would feel greatly honored by the presence of such a worthy body.

Trusting it may be our good fortune to have the invitation favorably considered, we beg to remain,

Yours very truly,

RICHMOND CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

W. T. Dalney, Business Manager.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 5, 1910.

Mrs. Virginia Faulkner McSherry, President United Daughters of the Confederacy.

Dear Madam:—The Richmond Chapter Daughters of the Confederacy desire that the United Daughters of the Confederacy hold their meeting in Richmond next November. As Governor of Virginia I wish to unite with the Richmond Chapter in urging the acceptance of the invitation which will be extended to the United Daughters of the Confederacy to meet here next year. In addition to the gratification that it will afford the people of Richmond it will be regarded an honor to the State of Virginia should the invitation be accepted which will be very cordially extended to the United Daughters by Richmond Chapter.

I have the honor to be, very respectfully yours,

Wm. HODGES MANN,

Governor of Virginia.

The vote was taken, with the following result: Richmond, 1068; Washington, 619.

Mrs. Merwin, of Washington, then gracefully acknowledged the victory of the opposing force, and stated that she would be at Richmond again extending an invitation at that time to meet in 1912, at the "temporary residence of Wm. Howard Taft."

The regular order of business was resumed.

Mrs. Walke, of Virginia, made the report of the Colorado Division for Mrs. Emerson. Before making the report, Mrs.

Walke told the convention that Judge Benjamin Lindsey, of the Juvenile Courts of Colorado, had been a kind friend to the Daughters of the Confederacy, and she considered it in order to make mention of it at that time.

Mrs. Baggett, of California, was presented by the Chair, and gave the report of her State.

Mrs. Willis, of Arkansas, recommended to the convention that we especially observe the 27th day of September, the birthday of Admiral Semmes, the only Confederate Admiral. We feel this respect, but should show it.

The report for the Arkansas Division was made by Mrs. Orlando Halliburton.

The Chair stated she had heard several persons say the State of Arkansas already had a monument to unveil at Shiloh which she had not heard mentioned in the report of the State President

Mrs. Halliburton stated that she had reported this matter at the last convention, and the $3,000.00 to be raised for this monument had been received, and the monumet had been erected.

Mrs. Cappleman, of Arkansas, rose to a question of personal privilege and said: "Madam President, as our State President has omitted to mention the completion of the monument at Shiloh to the memory of Arkansas' soldiers, I ask that such statement be incorporated in her report; also the names of the Shiloh Monument Committee; or, that I, as Chairman of that committee, be allowed to make an additional report."

The reports of Alabama and Texas was the next order of business, and were presented respectively by the Presidents of these divisions, Mrs. B. B. Ross and Mrs. A. R. Howard.

Mrs. Willis presented resolutions regarding the histories to be used by the school children.

Little Rock, Ark., Nov. 11, 1910.

WHEREAS, The teaching of American History, in many of our public and private schools, is untrue to the ideals and principles of our Southern States; and

WHEREAS, We believe the time is past when history should be written or taught from sectional pride and prejudices, our country being too great and our traditions too noble for the youth to be reared with any notion except that of making them citizens of the whole country, proud of the deeds of their fathers, and forgetful of all past differences and bitterness; and

WHEREAS, We wish our children to be taught so as to honor the heroism and statesmanship of our Southern States; and

WHEREAS, We are extremely fortunate to have developed in the State of Georgia, an historian of national fame, who has portrayed dispassionately and loyally our Southern ideals, as well as those of the North. He is the son of Gen. Clement A. Evans, Lawton B. Evans, now Superintendent of Schools, Augusta, Ga. His work is pedagogically correct, treating of great men and great epochs. Therefore be it resolved:

FIRST. That we urge the Daughters of the Confederacy to teach in our schools, public and private, all that is just, dispassionate and loyal to our Southern ideals.

Second. That we strongly endorse and heartily recommend "First Lessons in American History" and "The Essential Facts of American History" by Lawson B. Evans, published in 1909-10 by Benjamin H. Sanborn & Co., 378 Wabash avenue, Chicago, Ill., as the best series of history now available, so far as has come within our observation.

THIRD. That we assist in urging school text-book boards of States, counties, special districts, and private schools to adopt the Evans' histories for use in the grades below the high school course.

The resolutions were seconded and adopted.

Mrs. Howard, of Texas, stated that the Chairman of the Texas Legislative Committee was present, and asked that she be extended the privileges of the floor, and tell of the Texas monument to the Women of the Confederacy.

Mrs. Hawkins, of Texas, spoke as follows: "I want to say that the Texas monument to the Women of the Confederacy is a home for Confederate women. This home has been established, and we now have eighteen ladies there, not one of them a native born Texan—we have gathered them from every State represented here. We have taken them into our hearts, and into the home, and we are going to provide for them.

Mrs. Henderson, of Mississippi, moved that the meeting adjourn until 8:30 P. M.

Seconded by Mrs. Schuyler, of New York. Carried.
The meeting was adjourned.

THIRD DAY—Evening Meeting.

Friday, November 11, 1910.

The meeting was called to order by the President-General at 8:30 P. M.

The Chair called attention to the fact that all division reports had been read, and asked what should be done with them.

Mrs. Raines, of Georgia, moved that they be received. Seconded by Mrs. Henderson, of Mississippi. Carried.

The reports of standing committees were then called.

A partial report of the Finance Committee was made by Mrs. McKinney, of Kentucky.

Mrs. Williams, of North Carolina, moved that the report be accepted with the recommendation of the committee that the officers be allowed to send in monthly accounts of postage without vouchers. Seconded by Mrs. White, of Tennessee. Carried.

Mrs. Heatfield, of Illinois, made report of the Committee on Stationery.

Mrs. Heatfield requested the Daughters, when ordering stationery, if it was not satisfactory to notify her; if it contained blemishes and was not as good as the samples submitted, she would try and make amends.

Mrs. Sansom, of Tennessee, moved the adoption of this report. The motion was seconded and carried.

Mrs. Schuyler, of New York, presented the report of the Committee on Award of Prizes, Columbia University.

Mrs. Hickman, of Tennessee, moved the adoption of the report. Seconded by Mrs. Halliburton, of Arkansas. Carried.

Mrs. Henderson, of Mississippi, moved that a special vote of thanks be tendered Mrs. Schuyler, saying:

"I am a member of that committee, and know that Mrs. Schuyler does all of the work."

The question was asked if there was any expense in connection with the work of this committee.

Mrs. Schuyler replied that there was a little expense, but there had been no expense account kept.

The report of the Committee on Historical Souvenirs was called for.

Mrs. Stone, of Texas, said for two years no report had been received from this committee, stating that she had written letters to the Chairman, and had received several answers, but had nothing to report to the convention.

Mrs. Rosenberg, of Texas, said that a report had been sent to the last convention, but that it had been held at the hotel during the entire three days and was not delivered to her.

Mrs. McKinney, of Kentucky, stated that at the recent State Convention in Kentucky, she had heard many inquiries about Mrs. Cantrill, the Chairman of this committee, and the impression was that she was still in ill health.

Sister Esther Carlotta said she had received a letter from Mrs. Cantrill two days before leaving Florida, but she did not mention anything in regard to her illness.

Mrs. Randolph, of Virginia, spoke of a beautiful design for a souvenir platter having been accepted nearly two years ago, and said she was frequently asked the question: "What had become of the Jefferson Davis platter?"

The President said the only suggestion the Chair could make was the appointment of a vice-chairman to act during the illness of the Chairman. Mrs. Halliburton, of Arkansas, moved that the Chair appoint a vice-chairman for this committee.

Mrs. Gottschalk, of Louisiana, seconded the motion. Carried.

The report of the Committee on History was then called.

Mrs. J. Enders Robinson, of Virginia, presented the report of the Historical Committee. On motion, duly seconded, this report was adopted.

The report of the Committee on "Cross of Honor" was made by a member of the committee, Mrs. Frank Odenheimer, of Maryland, in the absence of the Chairman, Mrs. J. W. Tench, of Florida.

Mrs. McKinney, of Kentucky, moved its adoption. Mrs. Gottschalk, of Louisiana, seconded the motion. Carried.

Report of the Committee on Education was presented by Miss Mary Poppenheim, of South Carolina.

Mrs. Clement, of Oklahoma, asked for information, stating that it was her understanding that these scholarships were given to the States in the order of their secession, and asked if the States that did not secede were to receive no benefits from these scholarships?

Mrs. Henderson, of Mississippi, called attention to a resolution that had been passed at the convention in Norfolk that the State receive those scholarships in the order of their secession, and after they had finished with the Confederate States, others would be taken in the order of their coming into the Union.

Mrs. Howard, of Texas, and Mrs. Williams, of Kentucky, expressed an opinion that many of the scholarships had not been reported. Mrs. Williams, of Kentucky, said there were two scholarships from her State which were not included in the report.

Mrs. Baggett, of California, asked why California was not incorporated in the report? Miss Poppenheim, the Chairman, answered, by saying she did not get a report from the California Division.

Miss Poppenheim asked if the convention would allow the committee to make an addenda to its report, and hand to the Secretary for publication in the minutes?

Miss Benning, of Georgia, and Mrs. Clement, of Oklahoma, offered the following motion: "That the Chairman of the Committee on Education be authorized to add all scholiarships, and all money for education reported since the reading of her report, as additional addenda."

Seconded by several. Carried.

Mrs. Williams, of Kentucky, made the following motion: "That hereafter, all money contributed to educational purposes, whether in chapter or division work, be reported to the Chairman of the Committee on Education.

Seconded by Mrs. Leech, of Tennessee. Carried.

Pledges were then taken for the living fund of the General U. D. C. scholarship, as follows:

The report of the Shiloh Monument Committee was presented by Mrs. White, of Tennessee, the Director-General.

Mrs. McKinney, of Kentucky, the Treasurer of the Shiloh Monument Committee, presented her report.

Mrs. White, of Tennessee, said that the City National Bank, of Paducah, Ky., was carrying the bond, and instead of charging for it, they were donating this $60.00 yearly to the fund, in carrying this bond without cost.

Mrs. Eller, of Virginia, moved that this donation be accepted with thanks, and that Mrs. McKinney be instructed to credit this amount to the Kentucky Division. Seconded by Mrs. Wassell, of Arkansas. Carried.

The question was asked if this committee had ever approached the Veterans at their reunions, or camps and solicited donations for this fund? The question was answered in the negative.

Mrs. Eller, of Virginia, moved that inasmuch as the Shiloh Monument Committee asked the privilege of having a special Shiloh badge, to be paid for by the directors, saying, "they simply ask the convention the privilege of having this badge made at their own expense." I wish to include this motion in my motion that the report be accepted, and that the committee be allowed to have the badge. Seconded and carried.

Mrs. Walke, of Virginia, moved that five minutes be given the committee in which to solicit subscriptions for Shiloh monument.

Amended by Mrs. Kline, of Missouri, by making the time given, ten minutes instead of five minutes. Motion as amended seconded by several. Carried.

The following amount in subscriptions was pledged.

Mrs. Raines, of Georgia, said that the Children of the Confederacy, of Savannah, had given $20.00,—$10.00 to Shiloh monument and $10.00 to Arlington at the Georgia State Convention; that they had only $5.00 left, which she would now divide, giving $2.50 to Shiloh and $2.50 to Arlington monuments.

The Secretary, Mrs. Dowdell, made a motion that the United Daughters of the Confederacy donate $500.00 to Shiloh and $500.00 to Arlington, subject to the action of the Finance Committee.

Arkansas, Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi seconded the motion. Carried.

Mr. Chas. McKee and Mr. Geo. R. Brown, representing the Board of Trade of Little Rock, Ark., were then presented by the Chair to the convention.

Mr. McKee, who addressed the convention, expressing the appreciation of the Little Rock people for the U. D. C. having held this meeting in Arkansas, asked them to remain as long as they would, and when they returned home, to come back as soon as they could. He also reminded them of the date of the Confederate Reunion, and invited them to return at that time.

Mrs. Williams, of Kentucky, moved that a rising vote of thanks be given the Little Rock gentlemen for the invitation. Seconded by Miss Rutherford, of Georgia. Carried.

Miss Baxter, of Georgia, said a set of resolutions had been prepared, thanking the people of Little Rock for their many courtesies, and asked that the report be submitted at this time.

Mrs. Stevens, of Mississippi, then read the resolutions, as follows:

Daughters of the Confederacy and Citizens of Little Rock.

We are many times glad that we accepted your invitation to Arkansas. Your State's history, her wonderful resources, the pluck and energy of her people inspire us with patriotic belief that she will help the South take her place in the building of our nation. We are most happy that you called us to Little Rock, and find your city an epitome of American history. Frontier life, the hardships of a young State—that State's educational development, literary life, magnificent Confederate history and struggle out of dark Reconstruction days—her splendid present and brilliant future unroll before us in the history of your Capital City, and stir Daughters of the South to just pride in the little town that pitched its tent beside the Little Rock on the Arkansas river in the autumn days of 1821. We believe the skies were as blue, the air as soft then as now—a promise of the NOW which Little Rock's pioneer citizen, Ashley Cooper, foresaw and helped to build. We marvel that the "Arkansas Gazette," established in those early days by William E. Woodruff, has, save for a short time during the Confederate War, steadily wielded the power of the press for Little Rock and Arkansas.

In place of crude travel along the wagon roads of that day we have been whirled in automobiles through your beautiful streets to catch glimpses of your homes and a view of your $10,000 Confederate monument.

For many reasons, then, our visit to Little Rock is a delight.

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED:

1st. That we thank you for the opportunity of knowing you, and most of all do we thank you for informing us about your Confederate history. The sad story of David Dodd, the brilliant record of Patrick Ronayne Cleburne, private in 1861, major general in 1862, killed in 1864; the work for your jurists and statesmen increases our pride in Little Rock, and in her two Chapters of the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

2nd. We thank you for the privilege of holding our historical meeting in the Albert Pike Memorial Hall, and for hearing one of your Daughters tell the story of this man, whose poems find a home in the hearts of all who know them. We can take away from Little Rock no higher thought than that given to us by your soldier poet:

"The true life draweth nigher,
 Every year,
 And the morning star climbs higher,
 Every year.
 Earth's hold on us grows slighter,
 And the heavy burdens lighter,
 And the dawn immortal brighter,
 Every year."

3rd. We thank the Arkansas Division and its able President, Mrs. Orlando Halliburton, whose executive ability has made this convention one of the most enjoyable ever attended by our organization. Mrs. Halliburton's charm of speech and manner on the opening night made us at once at home. We are glad of the rare privilege of meeting the incoming President, Mrs. Homer Sloan, as well as the retiring President of the Arkansas Division, at one convention.

4th. We thank Mrs. J. T. Beale, President of the Memorial Chapter for all that she has so charmingly done to give us pleasure.

5th. We thank Mrs. S. S. Wassell, President of the J. M. Kellar Chapter, for her part in bringing us to Little Rock.

6th. We thank his Excellency, the Governor, Geo. W. Donaghey, Col. Murphy, the Veterans, Adjutant General Greene, for their cordial greetings. We thank Mr. Henry Rector, representing the Sons of Veterans, for his brilliant tribute to Southern women.

7th. We are grateful to the Rt. Rev. John B. Morris, Bishop of Arkansas; Rev. T. E. Sharp, Rev. Chas. R. Hyde, Rev. John T. Christian, for their prayers and benedictions.

8th. Our hearts go out to the Arkansas Veterans for the beautiful flowers and touching resolutions presented by them to our organization.

9th. We extend thanks for the series of brilliant receptions and entertainments, including the function clothed in Southern hospitality given by Judge and Mrs. U. M. Rose; the elegant official reception at the home of Mrs. T. H. Bunch by the Memorial Chapter and its auxiliary, the Margaret Rose Chapter; the banquet of the J. M. Kellar Chapter, in honor of the General Officers and Division Presidents; the dinner given by the Arkansas Division to the Executive Board and Division Presidents, which was so gracefully presided over by its State President, Mrs. Orlando Halliburton; the Colonial Dames for the charming reception given at the home of Mrs. Ben Johnson; the Business Men's Association for the delicious lunches at the Hotel Marion, which were so thoroughly enjoyed, and for the lovely roses used in decorations; the Arkansas Division and Memorial Chapter for the beautiful and historical souvenirs given at these luncheons.

10th We thank the Committee on Entertainment for the delightful music and readings which from time to time have enlivened our meetings.

11th. We extend thanks to the Hall Committee for its artistic decorations and thoughtful consideration of the delegates, and most heartily appreciate the watchful attention and capable services of Mrs. Flippen and the pages during the meeting.

12th. We thank the management of the Confederate Veterans' home for the opportunity of visiting the home and the courtesy extended us there.

13th. We thank those who placed their automobiles at our disposal, thereby giving us the opportunity, among other pleasures, of seeing Little Rock.

14th. We express thanks to the Press Committee of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, and the press of the city, for their accurate daily reports of our visits and pleasures.

15th. We wish to give especial thanks to Miss Mary A. Fein, for her indefatigable, patient and competent work, through which the business of the convention has been greatly facilitated.

16th. Thanks are due the proprietor of the Marion Hotel, whose solicitude for our wants and comforts, merits our spirit or gratitude.

17th. Finally, we offer again our thanks and best wishes to Little Rock Daughters and your city.

Respectfully submitted.

MISS ALICE BAXTER,
MRS. DAISY McLAUREN STEPHENS,
MRS. F. G. ODENHEIMER.

Mrs. Tate spoke of the valuable services rendered by Mrs. Gill, of Little Rock, during the convention, which she said were very much appreciated by the Daughters of the Confederacy.

Mrs. Henderson, of Mississippi, said if there was any one who deserved to be remembered in these resolutions, the committee on revising the minutes could appreciate the splendid service being given by Miss Fein, of Little Rock, in making the stenographic reports of the convention.

Miss Baxter, of Georgia, said she was glad to be reminded of it, and sorry it had been left out, asking the convention, if not too late, to be permitted to include a vote of thanks to Miss Fein in those resolutions.

Mrs. Randolph, of Virginia, and representatives of other states asked that the committee be permitted to add this name to the resolutions, which was put in form of a motion, seconded and carried.

Mrs. Henderson, of Mississippi, moved that the committee adopt the report of the Committee on Resolutions as amended. Seconded by Mrs. Gottschalk, of Louisiana, and carried.

Miss Poppenheim, of South Carolina, gave the following notice to amend the Constitution at the next convention:

Amend Article VIII. by adding Sec. 5. "A General Scholarship living expense fund of $350.00 shall be paid each year to the Committee on Education, who shall use this fund in connection with any free tuition scholarship which they may hold for award in the name of the General U. D. C., subject to the endorsement of the President-General."

Miss Poppenheim, of South Carolina, moved that the Treasurer be authorized to pay to the committee on Education, in 1910-1911, the sum of $350.00 as the living fund of the General U. D. C. Scholarship, applying the balance of pledges towards making up this $350.00, this subject to the approval of the Finance Committee.

This motion was seconded and carried.

Mrs. Williams, of Kentucky, made the following motion:

"I move that $50.00 be added to the sum appropriated by the convention at Houston to the tablet in memory of David O. Dodd, which the Arkansas Daughters will place in the new State Capital. Seconded by Miss Gautreaux, of Louisiana. Carried.

Mrs. Wassell, of Arkansas, thanked the convention for this contribution, and stated it was not division work, but her own personal efforts, said she could have obtained subscriptions in Arkansas to have paid for this tablet, but felt it was something that deserved the contribution of the Daughters of the entire Southland towards erecting a memorial to the memory of this martyred man.

Mrs. Henderson, of Mississippi submitted the following notice of an amendment to the Constitution to be voted upon at the next convention.

"Amend Art. XIII. by substituting for it the following. "This Constitution may be amended at the annual convention every five years, after a notice of such amendment shall have been sent to the Recording Secretary-General thirty days before the convention. The Recording Secretary shall mail a copy of such amendment to each chapter two weeks before the convention."

Mrs. Cornelia Branch Stone rose to a question of privilege and said it was her impression that many of the delegates would leave on the following morning for Hot Springs, and she would like to present the report of the Arlington Monument Committee at this hour.

Mrs. Randolph, of Virginia, moved that the report of the Arlington Monument Committee be taken up. Seconded by several. Carried.

Mrs. Johnson, of Washington, D. C., presented the following resolution:

Offered by the Arlington Confederate Monument Association.

Resolved, That that portion of the action of the last Convention which places the selection of the design for the Arlington Monument, absolutely in the hands of the Committee on design, be rescinded and a new resolution passed, that the Committee shall submit its approved design to the Arlington Confederate Monument Association for its final acceptance.

Miss Rutherford, of Georgia, moved that the resolution be adopted. Seconded by Mrs. Culbertson, of Oklahoma. Carried.

Mrs. Cornelia Branch Stone then presented her report as Chairman of the Committee on Design of the Arlington monument. Mrs. Stone stated that she had entered into the contract with Sir Moses Ezekiel on the strength of the matter contained in Houston Proceedings, page 283, which she read. She also stated that this artist was in this country on a short visit, and it was an accident that she had an opportunity of seeing him while here.

Mrs. Stone asked for ten minutes during the morning session on Saturday in which to secure pledges for the Arlington monument, upon motion, which was duly seconded and carried, the time was granted.

The meeting then adjourned until Saturday morning at 9.30 o'clock.

FOURTH DAY—Morning Meeting.

Saturday, November 12, 1910.

The meeting was called to order at 9:30 o'clock. Rev. Mr. Chas. R. Hyde offered the morning invocation. The Chair then announced that ten minutes would be given for the presentation of new business.

The minutes of the previous meeting were called. The Secretary stated that the stenographer had not had time to transcribe her notes of the previous meeting, and asked that the reading of the minutes be deferred.

Mrs. Halliburton, of Arkansas, moved that the time be granted.

Seconded by Mrs. Stone, of Texas. Carried.

Mrs. Schuyler, of New York, said at the proper time she would like to make a motion that in the printing of the minutes of this convention, that the reports, etc., be published in the regular order in which they came, and not set off to themselves in the back of the Annual.

Mrs. Walke, of Virginia, said at the proper time she wished to ask for five minutes in which to ask the co-operation of the members in influencing as far as possible, their members of Congress, to name the Fort at Chesapeake Bay "Fort Maury," for Mathew Fountain Maury, the pathfinder of the sea.

Mrs. Gottschalk, of Louisiana, served notice that she would ask the endorsement of this convention for the Panama Exposition at New Orleans in 1915.

Mrs. Henderson, of Mississippi, said, as a next door neighbor of Louisiana, that she would like to endorse the request, and she thought all the Southern States were anxious that the Panama Exposition be held at New Orleans, and therefore, would like the endorsement of this convention.

Mrs. Raines, of Georgia, asked to second Mrs. Gottschalk's motion when presented.

Mrs. Walke, of Virginia, and Mrs. Halliburton, of Arkansas, asked the privilege of seconding the motion.

Mrs. Ross, of Alabama, moved that the vote on this question be taken now; seconded and carried. The vote was taken and resulted in a unanimous endorsement.

Mrs. Ross, of Alabama, spoke in regard to a cook book which was being prepared by a Daughter of her State, Mrs. L. M. Bashinsky, of Troy, Ala., and said she hoped to see the time when it would be in general use by the members of the U. D. C.

The Secretary, Mrs. Dowdell, said that Mrs. Bashinsky, who was getting up the book, was exceedingly anxious to get recipes from the members of the U. D. C., and especially the general officers, to become a part of the book. Mrs. Ross stated that circulars of information in regard to this cook book had been distributed over the convention hall, and as the proceeds from the sale of the book would go towards the scholarship fund of the Alabama Division, she would bespeak the interest of the general officers and members.

Mrs. Robinson, of Virginia, read a circular regarding the publication of the History of the Memorial Associations of the South.

Mrs. Hornbrook, of Missouri, said at the proper time, she would introduce a resolution to be presented before Congress, asking that mounds be placed over the graves of Confederate women who were killed in Kansas City, Mo., by the federals.

Mrs. Jennie Beauchamp, of Arkansas, said that it was not her understanding that at the memorial exercises, names of departed members of the U. D. C. were to be presented. She then paid tribute to the following ladies who had died in Little Rock, Ark., during the past year, and asked that they be placed in their proper place in the proceedings: The names submitted were Mrs. B. D. Williams, grand-daughter of Felix Grundy, of Tennessee, and Mrs. W. C. Ratcliffe, wife of a Veteran now living in Little Rock. Also Miss Caroline Peay, whose father went out as captain, and returned home as major.

Mrs. Henderson, of Mississippi called attention to the fact that an erroneous impression seemed to be afloat regarding the home for Confederate women, as outlined by Mrs. C. Helen plane, and said as she now understood the matter, it was not to be exclusively for women of refinement and culture.

Miss Baxter spoke of the intentions of Mrs. Plane as outlined at a previous meeting.

Mrs. Walke, of Virginia, said the Virginians were working for a home of their own, and felt it the duty of each State to look after their own Confederate women.

Mrs. McKinney, of Kentucky, said the Finance Committee was ready to continue its report.

Telegrams were read from Mrs. M. C. Goodlett, Nashville, Tenn., and Col. Phillip H. Fall, Houston, Tex. A telegram was read from Mrs. Hosea, of Ohio, asking if the U. D. C. would not take some action in regard to the proposed sheriff's sale of the pictures of noted Confederate generals, the same being held for storage. Mrs. Randolph, of Virginia, stated that if these pictures were the same that she had seen on exhibition at one of the Confederate reunions, she did not think that the pictures were worthy of preservation.

Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Broaddus, of Kentucky, agreed with Mrs. Randolph.

Mrs. Stevens, of Georgia, moved that Kentucky take care of the pictures; seconded by Mrs. Bryan, of Texas. Mrs. McKinney offered as a substitute to Mrs. Stevens' motion that the U. D. C. advise that they could take no action on this matter. Mrs. Stevens accepted the substitute. Seconded and carried.

Mrs. Randolph, of Virginia, asked the privilege of distributing blanks for the Roll of Honor, to be filled in by Veterans, regarding their Confederate service, and later to be bound and preserved in the Confederate Museum at Richmond.

Mrs. Randolph requested that those blanks be filled in and returned to the Museum.

Mrs. Baggett, of California, moved that the birthday of Admiral Raphael Semmes, the only Admiral of the Confederate Navy, Dec. 27, be annually observed.

Mrs. Stone, of Texas, stated that each State had a hero's day which day was observed as a memorial day. She said, of course, every soldier was a hero, the private as well as officer of high rank, but on these memorial days, as many as could be recalled, should be mentioned, their virtues emphasized and their achievements brought out at these meetings. She then amended Mrs. Baggett's request that each State observe this memorial day and include the name of Admiral Semmes on their list of such heroes.

Seconded by Mrs. Bryan, of Texas. Carried.

The hour having arrived for the election of officers, the Chair called for nominations for the office of President-General.

Mrs. Halliburton, of Arkansas, asked the privilege and honor of nominating Mrs. Virginia Faulkner McSherry, of West Virginia, as President-General, to succeed herself.

Seconded by Mrs. David S. Killough, of Texas, and by all the States.

Mrs. Stone, of Texas, moved that the nominations be closed and that the election be made unanimous by the convention, and that the Secretary cast the ballot; seconded by many, the Vice-President-General, Mrs. L. C. Hall, of Arkansas, put the motion before the convention, which carried.

The Secretary cast the ballot for the unanimous election of Mrs. Virginia Faulkner McSherry, as President-General.

Mrs. McSherry, after resuming the chair, said she was too full for utterance, and that she had only done her duty, and hoped to profit by her past experience and try to do more for the Daughters in the future.

The Chair stated the nominations were now in order for First Vice-President-General.

Mrs. White, of Tennessee, nominated Mrs. L. C. Hall, of Arkansas, for re-election.

Mrs. Schuyler, of New York, moved that the election of Mrs. Hall for First Vice-President-General be made unanimous. Seconded by many. Carried.

The Secretary cast the ballot and Mrs. Hall was declared elected First Vice-President-General.

Mrs. Hall thanked the convention and said she would promise to give just as efficient service in future as she had in the past.

The Chair announced nominations were in order for Second Vice-President-General.

Mrs. Latham, of Tennessee, nominated Mrs. Mary E.

Bryan, of Texas, for re-election. Seconded by Mrs. Wassell, of Arkansas.

Texas asked the privilege of seconding the nomination, as Mrs. Bryan was Mrs. Mary E. Bryan, of "Tennessee-Texas."

The nominations were closed, and in due form, Mrs. Bryan, of Houston, Texas, was declared elected, unanimously, after the Secretary cast the ballot.

The Chair announced nominations were in order for the election of Third Vice-President-General.

Miss Poppenheimm, of South Carolina, nominated Mrs. Thos. T. Stevens, of Georgia, for re-election to this office. Seconded by Mrs. Ross, of Alabama.

The nominations were closed, and in due form the Secretary cast the ballot and Mrs. Thomas T. Stevens, of Atlanta, Ga., was declared unanimously elected Third Vice-President-General.

The Chair announced the next office to be filled was that of Recording Secretary-General.

Mrs. Sloan, of Arkansas, nominated Mrs. Roy W. McKinney, of Kentucky.

This nomination was seconded by Mrs. Hickman, of Tennessee.

Mrs. Dowdell requested permission to second the nomination of Mrs. McKinney.

Mrs. Virginia Martin Gardner, of Tennessee, addressed the convention in behalf of Mrs. McKinney, saying she had known her since early childhood: had watched her grow into womanhood: knew her qualifications for giving efficient service to the U. D. C., also spoke of her loyalty to the organization, and said she was certain a better person could not have been selected as Recording Secretary of this body of grand women.

Mrs. White, of Tennessee, in the name of Shiloh Monument Committee, asked the special privilege of seconding the nomination of Mrs. McKinney. The Secretary cast the unanimous vote of the convention for Mrs. McKinney, Recording Secretary-General.

Mrs. Wassell, of Arkansas, moved that the convention give Mrs. Andrew L. Dowdell a rising vote of thanks in appreciation of her services during her incumbency in this office. Seconded by many. Carried.

Miss Rutherford, of Georgia, said that was why she was trying to gain recognition of the Chair, as she wanted to say the very words, and more, that had been spoken by Mrs. Wassell.

Mrs. Schuyler, of New York, said, as long as the U. D. C. had such workers as Mrs. McKinney, Mrs. Dowdell and Mrs. Hickman in the office of Secretary, the affairs of the association could not be in better hands.

Mrs. McKinney thanked the convention for the action taken in electing her to office, and assured them she would give the very best service of which she was capable, saying: "I am yours to command."

The Chair announced that nominations for the office of Corresponding Secretary-General were next in order.

Mrs. Henderson, of Mississippi, said she was determined to get up first and nominate Mrs. Katie Childress Schnabel, of Louisiana, for re-election. Mrs. Henderson said she spoke for every daughter in nominating Mrs. Schnabel. Seconded by Miss Gauteaux, of Louisiana.

The nominations were closed, and the Secretary cast the ballot of the association for the election of Mrs. Katie Childress Schnabel for Corresponding Secretary-General.

The Chair announced that nominations were in order for the election of Treasurer-General.

Mrs. Eller, of Virginia, nominated Mrs. C. B. Tate, of Virginia, for re-election. Seconded by Texas, Arkansas and Kentucky.

Mrs. Raines, of Georgia, said she took great pleasure in "endorsing her own work," as she had seconded the nomination of Mrs. Tate at the last convention.

The Secretary cast the ballot of the association for the election of Mrs. C. B. Tate, of Virginia, as Treasurer. Mrs. Tate thanked the convention for the honor, and promised to give them her very best efforts. A rising vote of thanks was given Mrs. Tate, in recognition of her splendid services during the past year.

The Chair announced that nominations were in order for the election of a Registrar-General.

Mrs. Stevens, of Georgia, nominated Mrs. Jas. B. Gantt, of Missouri. Seconded by Miss Rutherford, of Georgia, and Mrs. Kline of Missouri; also seconded by many others.

Mrs. Schuyler, of New York, moved that the nomination be made unanimous. Seconded and carried.

The Secretary cast the ballot of the association for the unanimous election of Mrs. Jas. B. Gantt, of Missouri, as Registrar-General.

As Mrs. Gantt had returned home before the election, Mrs. Stevans, of Georgia, moved that a telegram be sent Mrs. Gantt, advising her of her re-election as Registrar-General. Seconded by Mrs. Dowdell, of Alabama.

Mrs. Halliburton, of Arkansas, said for the benefit of the "Daughters" that Mrs. Gantt's records were kept on the order of the records kept by the Custodian of Crosses. She said the first volume had closed with 49,000 names of daughters registered in that book, and that it was ready to be turned over to the Museum at Richmond, or any place else the Daughters desired to place it.

The Chair announced nominations were in order for the election of Historian-General.

Miss Rutherford, of Georgia, stated that Georgia wanted to have the privilege of nominating Mrs. J. Enders Robinson. Seconded by District of Columbia, South Carolina and Oklahoma.

Mrs. Sanson, of Tennessee, nominated Mrs. S. E. F. Rose, of Mississippi, but Mrs. Rose asked to have her name withdrawn. Mrs. Sansom then asked the special privilege of seconding the nomination of Mrs. Robinson.

The nominations were closed, and the Secretary cast the ballot of the association for the election of Mrs. J. Enders Robinson, of Richmond, Va., who was declared to be the duly elected Historian-General.

Mrs. Robinson thanked the convention, and assured them of her continued interest in their behalf.

The Chair announced that nominations for the office of Custodian of Cross of Honor were in order.

Sister Esther Carlotta arose and said: "There is an absent Daughter of Florida, Mrs. J. W. Tench, who has always claimed it her privilege to nominate the Custodian of Cross of Honor, and in her absence, the Florida State President considers it an honor to be allowed to place in nomination for that office, Mrs. L. H. Raines, of Georgia.

Mrs. Ross, of Alabama, moved that the election of Mrs. Raines be made unanimous. Seconded by many. Carried.

Mrs. Halliburton, of Arkansas, moved that a rising vote of thanks be given Mrs. Raines in recognition of the splendid services rendered while Custodian of the Cross of Honor. Mrs. Raines was declared duly elected Custodian of Cross of Honor. Mrs. Raines arose and thanked the convention.

The Chair announced the next office to be filled was that of Custodian of Flags and Pennants.

Mrs. Stone, of Texas, nominated Mrs. Frank Anthony Walke, of Virginia, and also moved that nominations be closed. Seconded by Mrs. Hall, of Arkansas. Carried.

After the ballot was cast by the Secretary, Mrs. Walke was declared by the Chair to be duly elected to that office.

Mrs. Walke thanked the convention; assured them of her best efforts in the duties of her office, and said she hoped at the Richmond convention to be able to give them all the flags. Miss Rutherford, of Georgia, said, as she had not given a flag this year, she would have a flag for every member of the convention at Richmond.

Mrs. Henderson, of Mississippi, proposed a rising vote of thanks to be given all officers for their service during the past year. Seconded by all the States. Carried. The Chair then said: "It gives me great pleasure to declare these officers legally elected, according to the Constitution of this association."

Mrs. Stone, of Texas, was then given the privilege of the floor, and again spoke of the efforts of the Committee on the Arlington Monument, and announced that she would take subscriptions for the Arlington fund.

Mrs. Eller, of Virginia, moved that subscriptions for this fund be taken at this time.

Seconded by Mrs. Ross, of Alabama, and Mrs. Schuyler, of New York. Carried.

Mrs. Eller, of Virginia, made the following motion:

"Appreciating the work of the Committee on Design, and fully endorsing Sir Moses Ezekiel as the artist chosen, Virginia moves that the monument in Washington shall cost not less than fifty thousand dollars, with hopes of seventy-five thousand, and that a contract be made to this effect, and a working design be made in order that in case of the death of Sir Moses Ezekiel, his work can be carried to completion."

Amended by Mrs. J. Enders Robinson: "That a copy of this resolution be sent to the sculptor, Sir Moses Ezekiel, by the Corresponding Secretary-General." Accepted and carried.

Mrs. Johnson, of Washington, D. C., spoke to Mrs. Eller's motion, urging that we approve of the suggestion of Virginia for a working design, because any monument erected in Arlington had to be approved by the War Department, even to the inscription, and such designs should be submitted before our money was expended.

Mrs. Johnson was asked: "Who, in the War Department, would make this decision?"

To which she replied: "Probably the Depot Quartermaster's Office, as the reburial had been carried out under the direction of that department."

Ten minutes were given to subscriptions to Arlington fund and the following amount was subscribed :

The Chair announced that Mrs. Ross, of Alabama, had a matter to present in connection with Arlington monument, which was germane to the subject, and upon motion, which was seconded and carried, Mrs. Ross read a letter from Mrs. Edgar James, of Florence, Ala., explaining the plans of selling the Christmas stamps, which funds would go towards the Arlington monument fund.

Mrs. B. B. Ross, President of the Alabama Division, gave the following report on the Confederate Christmas seal:

I regret exceedingly that Mrs. Edgar James, the artistic designer of the beautiful Confederate Christmas Seal or stamp, to be sold for Arlington monument fund, is not with you today to present this important matter of the seals. Her personality is so pleasing and her heart is so much in this work that she would impress one and all with what has already been done, and each one would be convinced that great things may be, and will be, accomplished, first, for Arlington and then for Shiloh, in the immediate future. Mrs. James is a magnificent worker; she plans and carries out great things, but she is so retiring in her disposition that she cannot be prevailed on to speak in her own State convention.

After receiving the enthusiastic approval of the President-General and of the President of the Alabama Division the committee on seals wrote to the State Presidents,, to the Arlington directors and to the presidents of large city chapters, and in nearly every instance, received a cordial response. By April 26th, 1910, enough States and chapters had responded to enable the committee to order one million seals.

Col. Hilary Herbert, chairman of Arlington Monument Association; Judge Sheppard, Dr. Thos. M. Owen and many other prominent men commended and endorsed the Confederate seal.

The committee wishes to emphasize the fact that this seal does not in any way interfere with the Red Cross work. From the Red Cross Society the committee has received the greatest help and courtesy, and the hearty wish of "all success to you." Whenever possible the Daughters will encourage the sale of Red Cross seals. This Confederate seal may compete with others, but never with the Red Cross, for that does not sell for beauty, but for duty.

1st. A number of manufacturers were conferred with and specimens of their work examined before a decision was reached. If another year by taking a greater number we can make better terms, the States shall have the benefit.

2nd. All States agreeing to sell seals will receive an itemized statement of their expenditures.

3rd. This is a movement in which all stand on an equal footing. Florence, Ala., Chapter (and every other chapter) gets just what it buys and the amount raised for Arlington will be estimated by the energy and enthusiasm put into the sale of seals.

4th. Seals have to be ordered by the committee May 1st in order to get them in time for the following Christmas season.

5th. All seals are ordered by the Committee on Seals, Florence, Ala., and sent to the Arlington directors for each State unless otherwise instructed.

6th. All chapters must order from State directors for Arlington if their States have gone into this movement; if not, then order direct from Mrs. Edgar James, 517 Pine street, Florence, Ala.

7th. The seals have been copyrighted, but another year some improvements will be made, and it will again be copyrighted.

Let us work hard and finish Arlington in one year. Then take up our other great monument at Shiloh, and do something worthy for that, and afterwards the various States may decide how to use the proceeds.

Florence, Ala., Nov. 2, 1910.

To the President-General, U. D. C., in Convention Assembled.

Greetings from Florence Chapter and Committee on Seals.

We send you a report and a message. Eight months ago a plan was submitted to all the divisions in this organization by which we might make a sum of money for Arlington monument.

While it was yet an experiment the following Divisions and Chapters gave their approval and co-operation: New York Chapter, California, Arkansas, North Carolina, Maryland, South Carolina, Louisiana, Mississippi, District of Columbia, Tennessee, West Virginia, Washington State, Oregon, Philadelphia Chapter, Columbus, Ohio, Henderson, Texas, Alabama and Florence Chapter.

We feel sure we will have approximately ten thousand dollars to turn over to Arlington fund by January 1st.

This success has made us consider larger things. We have two great monuments slowly building; one at Arlington, one at Shiloh.

Arlington needs $30,000 more; Shiloh $20,000, I am told by those who know. We could provide the money for both these monuments if we put enough energy into it.

We have 55,000 members of this organization, and if each member disposed of two envelopes of seals ($1.00 worth), the result would be $55,000. But we can do better than that. If those in touch with the organization would use these seals to the exclusion of all others except the Red Cross stamps for a year, we could easily raise the money to finish both monuments.

Nearly every chapter gives to Arlington and Shiloh. Put your gifts into seals and see that they are sold next Christmas, and multiply your gift ten fold. This seal, which is copyrighted, will be changed some another year, and again copyrighted.

All loyal Southerners will buy them for the cause, and there are others who will buy them for the cotton boll.

Our committee wishes to pace itself on record as having no preferences when it comes to honoring the Confederate dead; and if Shiloh was located where Arlington stands, we would say Shiloh first; but as it is, we say Arlington first. It is our wish that the first $30,000 next year go to Arlington, and the next $20,000 to Shiloh.

The committee asks that you consider carefully if this is not the easiest way to finish the two monuments quickly, and that each Division President report to the Alabama Division President her attitude in this matter, good old State's rights fashion.

Respectfully submitted.

MRS EDGAR JAMES, Chairman.

MRS. REBECCA T. BAZLESS, Secretary.

MISS OLIVE G. ROGERS.

MRS. M. W. CAMPER, Pres. Florence Chapter, U. D. C.

Mrs. Schuyler, of New York, urged the convention to send in orders for the stamps as quickly as possible, saying it was possible the Government would change its order in permitting these seals, or stamps, to be used, as a great many foreigners were using these seals for postage stamps.

Mrs. Williams, of Kentucky, moved that a rising vote of thanks be given Mrs. James, of Florence, Ala., that a telegram be sent her and the action of the convention in giving her a rising vote of thanks be embodied in that telegram.

Seconded by Mrs. Kline, of Missouri. Carried.

Mrs. Clapp, of Tennessee, moved that this convention approve the design of the Christmas seal submitted by Mrs. James, so that it may be recognized as an official stamp, and also moved that this be incorporated in the telegram to be sent Mrs. James.

Seconded by Mrs. Clement, of Oklahoma. Carried.

A correction was then made regarding the word "seal," changing it to the word "stamp," owing to a probable misunderstanding that might arise in confusing this with the official seal of the U. D. C.

Mrs. Stevens, of Georgia, made the following motion: "To save time, possibly mistakes, and a great deal of confusion, I move that all collections taken from the floor of the convention be by roll call of States, and that all donations be written and handed to the Secretary, personal donations given last."

Seconded by Mrs. Howard, of Texas. Carried.

Mrs. Johnson, of Washington, D. C., moved that this convention create the office of Vice-Chairman of Arlington Confederate Monument Association under the Chairman the President-General U. D. C., and over all sub-committees, that at meetings of the A. C. M. A. when she is absent, we may be represented.

The President-General said to Mrs. Johnson: "We have a Vice-Chairman, Mrs. Marion Butler, who presides in Col. Herbert's absence." To which Mrs. Johnson replied: "You refer to the Executive Committee. I am speaking of the Arlington Confederate Monument Association."

Sister Esther Carlotta seconded Mrs. Johnson's motion. Carried.

The name of Dr. Lewis was proposed.

Discussion followed, many favoring the name of Dr. Lewis, others opposing it, on the grounds that the Vice-Chairman should be a member of the U. D. C.

Mrs. Eller, of Virginia, moved that in honor of the work done by Dr. Lewis for Arlington, that Virginia nominate him for the office of Vice-Chairman, as created by the convention.

Mrs. David Killough, of Texas, seconded the nomination.

Mrs. Clement, of Oklahoma, presented the following resolution: "Resolved, That the U. D. C., following the precedent of last year, in assisting the survivors of the 'Immortal 600,' in erecting a monument to perpetuate the heroism of those brave men. I move that Mrs. Davis L. Killough, of Galveston, Texas, whose husband was one of the '600,' be given ten minutes in which to receive subscriptions for same."

Seconded by Mrs. Odenheimer, of Maryland. Carried.

Mrs. Schuyler, of New York, moved "That the Arlington monument report be adopted as amended and corrected." Seconded by several. Carried.

Mrs. McKinney, of Kentucky, finished reading her report in behalf of the Finance Committee.

Mrs. Henderson, of Mississippi, moved that the additional donation of $50.00 to the David O. Dodd monument stand, saying that if the amount could not be paid from the treasury at this time, payment might stand over for another year.

Sister Esther Carlotta rose to a point of order, calling attention to the fact that this convention could not make appropriations for next convention. The Secretary announced that a motion had been passed the previous day, that these demands were subject to the action of the Finance Committee, and if the committee reported adversely, said that should settle the matter regarding action. Mrs. Henderson, of Mississippi, said she did not know that action had been taken; therefore, withdrew her motion.

Mrs. Merwin, of Washington, D. C., was presented with a handsome bouquet of flowers by Mrs. John Barrow State Regent, in behalf of the Daughters of the American Revolution, of Little Rock.

Mrs. Flippin was presented with handsome flowers, which were sent her in behalf of the Margaret Rose Chapter, Children of the Confederacy, of Little Rock. Mrs. Hall, of Arkansas, the First Vice-President-General, was also presented with handsome flowers in behalf of Margaret Rose Chapter by Miss Margaret Niemeyer, of Little Rock. Each of the ladies presented with bouquets expressed their appreciation of such beautiful remembrances.

Mrs. Gottschalk, of Louisiana, as a slight token of love towards one of the members of her division, and the Corresponding Secretary-General, presented Mrs. Kate Childress Schnabel with handsome flowers. Mrs. Schnabel made a graceful acknowledgement of the remembrance, and expressed her appreciation.

Mrs. Schuyler, of New York, was extended the privileges of the floor, and presented a matter relative to the purchase of the handsome portrait of Mrs. Jefferson Davis, painted by Mrs. Rice, of the New York Chapter, which she was trying to have purchased by the U. D. C. and sent to Richmond.

The Treasurer, Mrs. Tate, spoke of the condition of the treasury, and said she was anxious for the U. D. C. to have this handsome portrait but felt the association could not purchase it.

Mrs. Schuyler moved the previous question, which was carried.

The Chair appointed Mrs. Schuyler as a committee of one to take up collections and use the funds raised to purchase the portrait.

Mrs. Walke, of Virginia, asked the privilege of the floor. She said she was not there to solicit subscriptions, but to ask the endorsement of the U. D. C., also move that each division appoint a committee of two to use their influence with their Congressmen to have the Fort at Chesapeake Bay named "Fort Maury," after the great pathfinder of the sea (a man who had done more for the Navy than any man in the world). Mathew Fountain Maury, and asked that the names of the committees be sent to her.

Mrs. Clement, of Oklahoma, moved that this organization accede in Mrs. Walke's request in every particular. Seconded by many.

Mrs. Robinson, of Virginia, said a wrong impression seemed to be in the minds of many, and stated that the United States Government wanted an entrance at Chesapeake Bay, and said it was not that Mrs. Walke was asking the endorsement of the U. D. C. in building a fort, but simply asking that it be named, or called "Fort Maury."

Miss Rutherford, of Georgia, stated that if it had not been for Maury, Field would have never succeeded in laying the cable beneath the waters of the sea.

Mrs. Sansom, of Tennessee, said she was interested in the naming of this Fort, and pledged her personal co-operation.

Mrs. Walke said that was all she was asking, saying she knew President Taft had always been anxious that this spot be made a fort, and that it was the President's wish that it be made a fort during his administration. The motion was seconded and carried.

The meeting then adjourned to meet at 2:30 P. M.

FOURTH DAY—Afternoon Meeting.

Saturday, November 12, 1910.

The meeting was called to order by President-General, at 2:30 o'clock.

Sister Esther Carlotta, of Florida, rose to a question of personal privilege, to read a letter from Mrs. Anna Purdue Sebring, a daughter of Maryland, who married a son of Tennessee, and is at present an adopted daughter of Florida, an Honorary President of the Florida Division, who sends greetings to the convention.

The Chair announced that she had received a touching communication from Mrs. Cantrill, saying, "Don't let my committee die; I am feeling very much better." The Chair expressed pleasure in being able to report the appointment of a Vice-Chairman, who will take her work until she is able to do so.

Mrs. Schuyler, of New York, rose to a question of privilege, saying: "Last winter I received a question over the telephone from a gentleman asking if some one he knew might have a Cross of Honor. I will read you a letter from this gentleman."

"507 West End avenue.

"New York, 16th May, 1910.

"Dear Mrs. Schuyler:

"I have a friend named Whitehead, who was in the Confederate service for two years as a cadet in North Carolina State Military Academy at Hillsboro. The corps was on active war footing, being often drawn up in line hastily at night on reports of approach of Federal forces. Last week in West Virginia I was informed by old soldiers that Confederate State Cadets were eligible to membership in camps of Confederate Veterans, and I don't see why they are not entitled to Crosses of Honor. I enclose Mrs. Emanuel's letter, and am sure she is mistaken on this subject. The Cadets of the V. M. I. were in the battle of New Market, but the North Carolina Cadets would have been in battle if fighting had taken place in their vicinity, so their status should be identical. I am sorry Mr. Whitehead cannot get a cross.

"Sincerely,

"HENRY H. ANDREW."

I would state, Madam President, that this gentleman who signs himself Henry H. Andrew is a son of Governor Andrew, War Governor of Massachusetts. To have the son of the War Governor of Massachusetts interested in securing a Cross for a Confederate Veteran, seems to me to be a genuine compliment.

Mrs. Raines, of Georgia, the Custodian of Cross of Honor, said: "He is just as much entitled to a Cross of Honor as any one else. Tell him to send his properly endorsed application through your chapter, and I will take pleasure in sending him a Cross.

The Chair announced the following committee on Relief for Widows of Confederate Soldiers: Miss Mildred Rutherford, of Georgia; Mrs. O. Halliburton, of Arkansas, and Mrs. Clement, of Oklahoma, and asked that this committee confer with the Finance Committee.

Mrs. McKinney, of Kentucky, asked for five minutes to receive contributions for the monument to Joseph E. Johnston, to be built in Georgia. The roll call of States resulted in the following collection:

Alabama Division	$ 10.00
Mrs. L. C. Hall, Daranelle, Ark. (personal), paid	1.00

Mrs. R. W. McKinney, Paducah, Ky. (personal)	1.00

Mrs. Stone, of Texas, was recognized and said:

"Madam President, Daughters of the Confederacy: I am asked to present the matter of a monument to the 'Immortal 600,' and to tell who the Immortal 600 were. They were the officers of the Confederate Army, imprisoned at Fort Delaware, who were sent South and put in front of the guns at Fort Moultrie and Fort Sumpter, under fire of the Confederate batteries. By taking the oath to the United States Government at that time these men would have been released, but only 19 of the 600 took the oath of allegiance. Major Murray, one of the members of that Immortal 600, is still living, and Mrs. Killough, of Galveston, is the widow of one of this number of men who stood in front of those guns, and endured not only the fire of their own men, but all the cruelties that could be heaped upon them. They became, in a sense, every one martyrs to the sacred cause, and now you are asked to give something to erect a monument to the Immortal 600. Major Murray has been at work on this for some time; the Veterans are doing this, and they ask a little help from the Daughters of the Confederacy."

Mrs. Odenheimer, of Maryland, stated that this matter was brought up last year, at which time Maryland pledged $25.00, and sent $30.00.

Mrs. Clement, of Oklahoma, said that the Association of the Immortal 600 has as its President, Captain J. L. Hempstead, one of those martyrs. Mrs. Clement moved that a collection be taken for the monument to the Immortal 600 by a roll call of States. The motion was seconded and carried, and the collection resulted as follows:

Alabama Division	5.00
Laura Rutherford Chapter, Athens, Ga.	5.00
Louisiana Division	5.00
Stonewall Jackson Chapter, New Orleans, La.	2.00
Missouri Division	5.00
Mrs. W. L. Kline, St. Louis, Mo. (personal)	5.00
New York Chapter	5.00
Mrs. W. R. Clement, Oklahoma City, Okla. (personal)	5.00
South Carolina Division	5.00
Mrs. C. B. Stone, Galveston, Texas (personal), paid	5.00
Davie Griffin, Galveston, Texas,	5.00
Immortal 600 Chapter, Galveston, Texas,	5.00
Mrs. J. H. Reagan, Palestine, Texas (personal),	1.00
Mrs. T. T. Stevens, Atlanta, Ga. (personal), paid	1.00
Winnie Davis Chapter C. of C., Savannah, Ga.	2.50

Mrs. McKinney, of Kentucky, asked the privilege to announce $86.75 pledged for the Georgia monument to Joseph E. Johnston.

Mrs. Howard, of Texas, asked the privilege of presenting resolutions from the convention of the Texas Division at Brownwood, requesting that these should be spread upon the minutes of this convention, which motion was seconded by Sister Esther Carlotta, of Florida.

Mrs. L. Z. Duke, of New York, moved that the motion be tabled. Motion to table seconded by Mrs. Halliburton, of Arkansas. Motion to table prevailed.

Mrs. McKinney, Chairman of Finance Committee, requested her committee and the Committee on Relief of Confederate Women, to retire.

Miss Rutherford, of Georgia, asked to be relieved from this committee, and Miss Poppenheim, of South Carolina, was appointed to fill the vacancy.

Miss Rutherford, of Georgia, asked the privilege of thanking the convention for the contribution to the monument to Joseph E. Johnston.

Mrs. Dowdell, the Recording Secretary, presented the report of the Executive Committee. Upon motion of Mrs. Henderson, of Mississippi, duly seconded, the report of the Executive Committee was adopted.

Mrs. Chas. R. Hyde, of Little Rock, asked the privilege of the convention to present to Mrs. Randolph, of Virginia, a beautiful bouquet of flowers from Mr. Frederick Spott, an ex-Richmond boy, with many congratulations for Richmond, which was acknowledged by Mrs. Randolph, who thanked Mr. Spott, Mrs. Hyde and Arkansas.

Mrs. Schuyler, of New York, presented the report of the Committee on Scholarship, Columbia University. After making the report, Mrs. Schuyler said:

"Ladies, before I move that this be adopted, I would like to add a personal word. I received so many letters from the different State officers and chapter presidents, regretting that this was withdrawn, that I am not quite sure that I have answered them all, but I did my best to do so, and if I have not, I hope you will all appreciate that it was because I had so many that some were overlooked. I move the adoption of this report, and that the committee be dismissed."

Seconded by Mrs. Dowdell. Carried.

Miss Benning, of Georgia, moved to express thanks to Mrs. Schuyler and the gentleman with whom she had corresponded. Seconded by Mrs. McKinney. Carried.

Mrs. Schuyler said:

"I received a letter from the President-General asking me to submit a bill for this work, and I wrote to her and asked her if she would not release me from sending in a bill."

The President-General stated that she declined to do this.

Mrs. Schuyler continued, saying :

"Let me give my reasons. This committee and all of my committees have never asked anything for expenses, and I really could not let the 'Daughters' pay me for doing something for them, or pay the expenses of the first thing I have ever done for them, and I ask them to relieve me from taking the expenses for this work. The President-General has said that she does not wish this done, and I will ask you to let me donate that to the Arlington monument fund. I do not know the exact amount of my expenses; it was about $32.50, but you can call it $30.00 in round numbers, and send it to the Treasurer of the Arlington Monument Fund.

The Chair stated that although Mrs. Schuyler had her heart wrapped up in the scholarship, she has never stopped working in the general organization.

The report of the Committee on Memorial to Mrs. Margaret Howell Jefferson Davis Hayes was called.

Mrs. Henderson, of Mississippi, Chairman of this Committee on Memorial, in the Church of the Redeemer at Biloxi, Miss., presented her report. Mrs. Henderson added a parenthesis to her report, as follows :

"I received a bill about the 31st of October for the first payment, and forwarded it to Mrs. McSherry, and she tells me she has not received it, so it has not been paid, any of it."

Mrs. Kohn, of South Carolina, moved that the report be accepted with thanks, and the expenses incidental to the invitations be paid. Motion seconded and carried.

Mrs. Schuyler, of New York, stated that she had requested Mr. Upjohn, the architect, to be present at the ceremonies on the installation of the memorial, and he said: "I would be delighted to accept your invitation, but I fear I cannot; there was no margin on the work; I gave you the best I could, because I wanted the Daughters of the Confederacy to have something worthy of their church." There was nothing in it for him, and she hoped as many of the Daughters as could would be present on the 17th.

The report of the Committee on Jurisdiction was called.

Sister Esther Carlotta, of Florida, Chairman of the Committee on Jurisprudence, asked that the members of the committee come forward and stand on the platform while she read the report of the committee, because of the obligation she felt to them in helping prepare the report.

Report of Committee on Jurisprudence.

Madam President: After most careful consideration, your Committee on Jurisprudence, begs to submit to you the following report upon the decisions submitted to us by you:

First. That the word "federation" in Art. IV., Sec. 8 of the Constitution, means "united by agreement or compact, transacting business together as one body," and that the action of the Oregon Chapter in uniting with two other organizations in erecting a building containing separate halls for each, was simply a business transaction, and not a federation within the meaning of our Constitution.

Your committee fully concurs in this decision.

Second. That on June 23 last, Mrs. Nannie Duff Silva, of Oregon Chapter, Portland, Oregon, was duly and legally elected President of Oregon Chapter.

After exhaustive consideration of the evidence submitted from both sides, your committee unanimously sustains this ruling.

Third. When a chapter desires to change its name a new charter must be issued at regular charge.

We approve this decision.

Fourth. Corrected decision by President-General.

Under the term, "women" as used in the Constitution, children are evidently not included, and children who have been admitted to Chapters of the United Daughters of the Confederacy cannot be counted in estimating the chapter's vote in conventions.

We sustain the above decision.

Fifth. Any child adopted by law has every legal right of inheritance which the law can give, but the United Daughters of the Confederacy, like all other voluntary and self-governing associations, makes its own regulations of admission, and can admit or debar as it pleases, and she does not think that the legal point decides the question. The whole membership is based on Confederate blood, the one exception being a Northern woman who marries a Confederate Veteran. This exception is specifically provided for in the Constitution, and is based on the principle, "They twain shall be one flesh."

Your committee most fully concurs in this decision.

Your committee would also beg to endorse the sixth recommendation of the President-General to this convention, namely, that the decisions of the Presidents-General, from the first rendered, up to and including those of the latest convention, revised so as to exclude all which may have been annulled by action of conventions subsequent to the decisions, shall be printed annually, after the By-Laws in the minutes.

Decision No. 2 is a special arbitration for the one particular case under peculiar circumstances, and is not necessarily to be applicable in all cases. It is not to be included in the printed decisions of Presidents-General.

Respectfully submitted.

MRS. CORNELIA BRANCH STONE,
MRS. ALEX. B. WHITE,
MRS. DAISY McLAUREN STEVENS,
SISTER ESTHER CARLOTTA, S. R., Chm.

Mrs. Hall, of Arkansas, moved that the report be taken up seriatim. Seconded and carried.

Mrs. David Killough asked, with reference to chapters of children, whether children should have any vote at all, or have any vote in the home chapter, and the Chair stated that that was a matter left to the State Convention.

Miss Baxter, of Georgia, asked information with reference as to whether the decision of the Oregon Chapter Presidency would become a decision for the guidance of other chapters in like matters.

The Chair stated: "Where but one chapter exists in a State according to my interpretation of the Constitution and practice, that chapter has a right to appeal to the President-General, if their difficulties cannot be amicably settled in the chapter."

The report of the Committee on Recommendations of the President-General was called. Mrs. B. B. Ross, of Alabama, Chairman of the committee, read their report as follows:

The Committee on President-General's Recommendations begs leave to submit the following report:

Recommendation No. 1. That the per capita tax be increased.

This recommendation was withdrawn by request of the President-General.

No. 2. That women entitled to membership should not be admitted under sixteen years of age.

No. 3. That the expenses of the Historian-General should be paid to, from and at the convention.

As recommendations Nos. 2 and 3 had been acted on in the amendments to the Constitution they were not considered by your committee.

No. 4. That the Committee on Jurisprudence should be appointed immediately after the adjournment of the convention.

The committee thoroughly approves of this recommendation.

No. 5. That the badge of this association be placed in the hands of some other than Theus Bros.

The patent held by Theus Bros., Savannah, Ga., expired in 1905, and other firms are selling the U. D. C. badge, and as there has been great dissatisfaction with the present arrangement, therefore, your committee recommends that the President-General be empowered to appoint a committee to correspond with other firms and arrange for the purchase and sale of the badges, and that the President-General be further empowered to draw on the U. D. C. treasury for necessary funds.

No. 6. That the decisions of the Presidents-General be embodied in the year book of this association.

The committee recommends that a special department in the minutes be set apart for the President-General's decisions that are approved by the convention.

MRS. L. R. SCHUYLER,
MRS. W. R. CLEMENT,
MRS. B. B. ROSS, Chairman.

Upon motion, duly seconded, the convention decided to take the recommendations up seriatim.

Mrs. Ross: The first, second and third recommendations were not acted upon by this committee, because they had been recommended by the convention.

Recommendation No. 4 read. Adoption moved, seconded and carried.

Recommendation No. 5 read.

Mrs. Ross spoke to the recommendation, and was followed by Mrs. Raines, of Georgia; Mrs. Henderson, of Mississippi. Mrs. Randolph, of Virginia, explained the plan followed in her State for issuing badges and recording same, suggesting that the committee appointed communicate with Mrs. James Mercer Garnett, of Baltimore, for suggestions.

Mrs. Ross moved that the applications for badges, after being signed by the State President and Secretary of local chapters, shall be sent to the Registrar-General, who will issue permits to the manufacturer for badges.

Mrs. Dowdell moved that the plan with reference to the badges be left in the hands of a committee to be appointed by the President-General, with power to act.

After the motion was seconded, Miss Baxter, of Georgia, asked for information as to how badges would be obtained until further arrangements had been made.

The Chair stated by way of explanation: "I wrote to Mr. Theus, of Savannah, Ga., in September not to make any more badges, telling him to sell all he had in stock, and await the action of this convention.

Sister Esther Carlotta, speaking to the motion, said:

"Every Chapter President knows the correct roster of her chapter, and every State President knows the presidents of the chapters in her division. She knows whether they are presidents and whether they are actually living bona fide chapters, who have a right to order badges for their Daughters, and I think if all those requests are sent out personally by the Chapter Presidents and referred to the State President for counter signature, that there will be no need to incumber the Registrar-General or the State Registrar's office with the issuing of the badges. The State President is responsible for her division, and she is responsible for seeing that the division affairs are correctly and properly administered, and I would suggest, as a recommendation for the committee which Mrs. Dowdell has moved for, that they consider that point when they take up their committee work."

Miss Poppenheim moved the previous question. The motion was voted upon and carried.

Mrs. Ross moved that the committee on badges be published in the annual, so that the members will know to whom to write for badges. Motion seconded. Carried.

Recommendation No. 6 was read.

Mrs. Halliburton, of Arkansas, moved the adoption of the recommendation, which was seconded and carried.

Mrs. W. L. Kline, of Missouri, seconded by Mrs. Ross, moved that "this organization purchase from Theus & Company all badges in their possession, and that the President-General notify State Presidents from whom they must purchase badges, and that Mr. Theus be notified to make no more badges." Carried.

Sister Esther Carlotta moved that the Committee on the Insignia shall be empowered to ascertain if a copyright on the design now used can be secured with authority to take any steps necessary to this end. Further, that the President-General shall be Chairman of that committee, with a vice-chairman to relieve her whenever needed. Motion seconded and carried.

The Secretary stated that a request had come to the desk that the amount of the collection for Mrs. Davis' portrait be announced. The collection resulted in pledges to the amount of $174.00.

The Chair called for a report of the Transportation Committee.

The report of the Transportation Committee was read by Mrs. Samuel Preston Davis, of Little Rock, Chairman.

Mrs. Howard, as Chairman of the Transportation Committee in 1909, moved that the report of the committee be adopted. Motion seconded and carried.

Mrs. Halliburton, Chairman of the Committee for Relief of Widows of Confederate Soldiers, read the report, as follows:

Madam President:—It is the sense of this committee, after carefully investigating the situation, we find it impracticable for a general committee to handle a general relief fund, for the reason that many States already have homes and relief committees and the difficulty of fairly proportioning such relief would be almost insurmountable.

The committee recommends that each state have a relief committee for needy Confederate women. We further recommend that in consideration of the best interests of the U. D. C. that this committee be discontinued.

Respectfully submitted.

MISS MARY POPPENHEIM, South Carolina.

MRS. W. R. CLEMENT, Oklahoma.

MRS. ORLANDO HALLIBURTON, Arkansas.

Committee.

Mrs. Raines, of Georgia, moved the adoption of the report, which motion was seconded by Mrs. Stevens, of Georgia. Mrs. Randolph, of Virginia, opposed the motion because she thought the association should render assistance to the widows of Confederate soldiers, where they were in Okiahoma or some of the Western States, where there was no provision for them.

Mrs. Clement stated that Oklahoma had already made provision for the Confederate Veterans, their wives and widows, and that they expected to occupy this home provided in a few months.

Mrs. Van Ness, of Minnesota, told of a Confederate woman and a Confederate Veteran who were in need of aid in her city, that the Associated Charities had refused assistance, and referred the couple to the local Chapter of the Daughters of Confederacy, and that they had done the best they could, but had not been able to do very much, as their chapter was a poor one. She stated: "We have provided for the Confederate Veteran for a month before I left. I expect the General Association will hear from us. The man and woman were from Virginia."

Mrs. Walke, of Virginia, asked Mrs. Van Ness what the rent amounted to for one month, and pledged her chapter, the Hope-Maury, of Norfolk, for $12.00, necessary for that time.

Mrs. McKinney, Chairman of the Finance Committee, in explanation of the committee's action, stated that the committee was forced by lack of funds to make this recommendation. After due consideration the committee's report was adopted.

Mrs. Clement, of Oklahoma, moved the previous question. Seconded and carried.

The report of the committee with its recommendation, was voted upon and carried.

Mrs. McKinney, of Kentucky, then presented the unfinished part of the Finance Committee's report, as follows:

"After carefully considering the financial condition of the treasury, we, the committee, recommend the adoption of the report submitted by the Committee on the Relief Fund."

It was moved and seconded that the report be accepted. Carried.

Mrs. Robinson, of Virginia, the Historian-General, presented rules for the historical evening, which will appear in the report of the Historian-General.

Mrs. Schuyler, of New York, moved the adoption of the Historian-General's recommendations. Motion seconded and carried.

Miss Rutherford, of Georgia, as the Historian of the Georgia Division, urged that the chapters send their historians to the State conventions, and that the State conventions send their delegates to the general conventions.

Mrs. Tichenor moved that the resolution offered by the Stonewall Jackson Chapter No. 1135, of New Orleans, La., in regard to the Kinney design for the monument to the women of the Confederacy, be incorporated in the minutes.

Mrs. Johnson, of Washington, D. C., seconded the motion.

Mrs. Odenheimer, of Maryland, objected on the ground that this convention had no right to interfere with the Veterans.

Mrs. Halliburton, of Arkansas, said: "We are not trying to interfere, as I understand it, with the rights and privileges of the Veterans, with regard to this monument, but since the Daughters have been appealed to, they have a right to express their opinion, and put it in the minutes, with regard to their feelings toward this design. which has been accepted.

Mrs. Clement, of Oklahoma, asked for information: "Have we been asked to consider this matter; has it been referred to us in any fashion at all?"

Mrs. Henderson, of Mississippi, stated that we had been referred to on three separate occasions—in Richmond, New Orleans and Gulfport, for approval of a monument, not of any design but of the effort to erect a monument.

Miss Rutherford, of Georgia, moved as a substitute to Mrs. Tichenor's motion that a loving message be sent to the United Confederate Veterans, in appreciation of their desire to honor the memory of our mothers of the sixties; that while Miss Kinney may be an artist of great ability, we do not approve of the design she has submitted for this monument to be erected by the Veterans.

Mrs. Schuyler, of New York, moved the adoption of the substitute of Miss Rutherford.

Seconded by Mrs. Odenheimer and carried.

Mrs. Hyde, of Arkansas, told of Judge L. Torrance, of Minneapolis, being a friend to the Confederate Veterans, and of his action with reference to the removal of the statue of Robert E. Lee.

Mrs. Henderson, of Mississippi, moved that a committee be appointed to write resolutions of thanks to Judge Torrance, to be conveyed by Mrs. Van Ness when she goes back to Minneapolis. Motion seconded and carried.

Mrs. Schuyler, of New York, moved that the business of the convention in the future be printed in the minutes in the order of business as it occurred, and not as formerly—the reports in one part of the book and the proceedings in another. The motion was seconded by Sister Esther Carlotta, of Florida.

After discussion, in which Mesdames McKinney, of Kentucky; Ross, of Alabama; Henderson, of Mississippi; Poppenheim, of South Carolina, and Schuyler, of New York, indulged, the motion was put to a vote and defeated.

The Chair named the members of the committee on Mrs. Davis' portrait—Mrs. Schuyler, of New York; Mrs. Randolph.

of Richmond, and Mrs. Rose, of Mississippi.

Mrs. Randolph asked to be relieved from the committee and Mrs. Edgar Taylor, of Richmond, Va., was appointed to fill the vacancy.

Miss Benning and Miss Rutherford, of Georgia, presented the following resolutions:

Whereas, There is nothing by which the general officers of the United Daughters of the Confederacy can be distinguished, I move that this convention order that special badges be provided for them, bearing the name of the office which they hold.

Resolved, That these badges be of gold and that they shall be the property of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, to be worn by the general officers during their incumbency.

Resolved, That the President-General be, and she is hereby empowered, to appoint a Committee on Design, who shall report to the next convention.

Seconded by Mrs. Randolph and Mrs. Henderson, of Mississippi. Unanimously carried.

Mrs. Kohn, of South Carolina, moved that the next certificate of membership be printed so that it may bear the name of the person through whom the Daughter joined.

Seconded by Sister Esther Carlotta, of Florida. Carried.

Mrs. Johnson, of the District of Columbia, introduced the following resolution:

"Resolved: That the convention request of the Secretary of War a detailed report on the care of the graves of the Prison Dead in the North, in accordance with the provisions of the bill enacted into law by Congress, March 9, 1906."

Seconded and carried.

On motion, duly seconded, Mrs. Odenheimer, of Maryland, was granted the privileges of the floor to present a book.

Mrs. Odenheimer said: "I have here a copy of the poems of James Ryder Randall; this copy is presented to the United Daughters of the Confederacy, by the Randall Memorial Association. Of course, his poems are all beautiful—he is our poet—and lately there has been a movement through the North, and I am sorry to say, partly in Maryland, to change the words of 'Maryland, My Maryland'. I therefore move that since there has been written by James T. White a new version of our battle hymn, 'Maryland, My Maryland,' and an effort made to use the same in the public schools, and since the words of James Ryder Randall are an American Classic, that this convention go on record as earnestly protesting against the use of same, and that we, the United Daughters of the Confederacy, endorse and support Mr. Matthew Page Andrews in his efforts to protect the original, 'Maryland, My Maryland.'" Seconded and carried.

On a question of privilege, Mrs. Rose, of Mississippi, said: "I have here a valuable copy of the ordinances of secession of the various States, which I have compiled, so as to be very easy of access by the student of Southern history; I have given much time and expense to secure this information. I have written to various people and secured verbatim copies of these ordinances of secession, and I have given the names of the War Governors, when these ordinances of secession were passed, and the vote of the conventions. I did this in my work, and it occurred to me that I would bring them with me to the convention, and present them to the Daughters, if they would have them, and I hope they will publish them, either in the minutes, or in pamphlet form, so that the people may get them if they want them."

Mrs. McKinney, of Kentucky, was recognized to present, at this time, the claim of Camp Beauregard at Water Valley, Ky., where there are between twelve and fifteen hundred Confederate soldiers buried. These soldiers being from the States of Arkansas, Missouri, Mississippi, Louisiana and Tennessee. An earnest appeal for the United Daughters of the Confederacy to immediately give assistance in reclaiming this deserted spot resulted in the following contributions:

Paducah Chapter, Paducah, Ky.	$ 5.00
Miss Anna Benning, Columbus, Ga.	5.00
South Carolina Division	5.00

Beauregard Chapter, Washington, D. C.	5.00
Mississippi Division	5.00
Tennessee Division	5.00
New York Chapter	5.00
Miss Baxter, Atlanta, Ga.	5.00
Mrs. Mollie R. McGill Rosenberg, Galveston, Texas	5.00
Mrs. E. D. Hornbrook, Kansas City, Mo.....	15.00
Mrs. W. L. Kline, St. Louis, Mo.	5.00
Missouri Division	5.00
Lee-Custis Chapter, C. of C., Kansas City, Mo.	1.00

Mrs. McKinney then thanked the convention for these contributions, and said: "Madam President, in my effort to place this matter, of so much importance to Kentucky, before the house, I did not give any one time to thank Mrs. Rose for her copy of the Ordinances of Secession. I therefore, move that a vote of thanks be given Mrs. Rose." Seconded by Mrs. Schnabel and carried.

Mrs. Henderson, of Mississippi, stated that her chapter has had the ordinance of secession of Mississippi engrossed and hung upon the walls of the public school building.

Mrs. Randolph, of Virginia, stated that she has the Virginia ordinance of secession on white satin, and one of the pens that signed it.

Mrs. White, of Tennessee, moved to adjourn, which was duly seconded and carried.

The meeting adjourned to meet promptly at 8:30 P. M.

FOURTH DAY—Evening Meeting.

Saturday, November 12, 1910.

The convention was called to order at 8:30 o'clock, the President-General in the chair.

The minutes of the morning meeting were read, corrected and approved.

Mrs. White, of Tennessee, showed a copy of "Echoes of Dixie," by Mrs. Griff Edwards, of Norfolk, Va., Commander-in-Chief of the Confederate Choirs and asked the endorsement of the convention.

Miss Rutherford, of Georgia, said she wanted to impress upon the "Daughters," the teaching of the young people of our land to sing these national songs; that on one occasion, she was most astonished to find that not one in a party of girls knew the words of our national songs.

Mrs. White, of Tennessee, spoke of a similar instance.

Mrs. Rose, of Mississippi, moved that the U. D. C. endorse the book, "Echoes of Dixie." Mrs. Stone, of Texas, seconded the motion of Mrs. Rose.

It developed later that "Dixie," as written in this book, "Echoes of Dixie," was not the original "Dixie."

Mrs. Rose, of Mississippi, asked to withdraw her motion and Mrs. Stone, of Texas, withdrew her second. Mrs. Stone said she had always stood by the song of Dan Emmett, and if "Dixie," as written in the "Echoes of Dixie," was by another author, she did not care to endorse it.

Mrs. Schuyler, of New York, moved that Mrs. Rose, of Mississippi, and Mrs. Stone, of Texas, be permitted to withdraw the motion. Seconded and carried.

Mrs. Raines, of Georgia, moved that the convention receive the book, also letter from the Confederate Choir as information. Seconded by Sister Esther Carlotta, of Florida, and carried.

Miss Rutherford, of Georgia, said she did not want it to stand on record that she had endorsed "Echoes of Dixie," as she had not seen that book before it was handed to her by a stranger, but said she did want to go on record that she tried to impress upon the convention the necessity of teaching the young to learn their national songs.

Sister Esther Carlotta, of Florida, presented the following.

"Whereas, At the recent State Reunion of the U. C. V., of Florida, the Florida State President of the U. D. C. was requested by the Confederate Veterans to ask the aid of the U. D. C. in preserving the correct battle flag of the Confederate States Army. Therefore, Florida offers the following resolution, viz:

"Resolved, That this association urgently recommend to all divisions of the U. D. C., that they shall use the correctly proportioned battle flag only; that flag is a perfect square and the thirteen stars are of equal size, and that they shall refuse to buy the oblong battle flags, or those with a large star in the center of the cross, both of which are so generally sold.

"Further, That a copy of this preamble and resolution be sent to the Commander of the U. C. V. with the request that it be communicated to the various divisions and camps of the U. C. V."

Mrs. Henderson, of Mississippi, asked Sister Esther Carlotta if the Veterans themselves carried out this idea in their decorations at their reunions?

Sister Esther Carlotta answered, saying: "The Veterans themselves are often-time absolutely unable to obtain a correct flag, and always will be unable to get them so long as the 'Daughters' so universally accept the incorrectly made flag."

Mrs. Stone, of Texas, called attention to the presence of a correct flag in the convention hall, which had been presented to the United Daughters of the Confederacy by Mrs. Mollie R. McGill Rosenberg, of Texas.

It was suggested by many that S. H. Kress & Company be notified of the action taken at this meeting regarding the incorrect flag being so generally sent out by the manufacturers, and that they be urged in future to try and have the correct ones made.

The question was called for and carried.

It was moved and seconded that the resolution presented by Sister Esther Carlotta be received. Carried.

Sister Esther Carlotta, of Florida, then presented the following:

"Resolved, That Division or Chapter Presidents, or other members of the association, shall, as soon as possible, notify the firms from whom they are in the habit of ordering flags of this resolution concerning the shape of the correct battle flag and further notify them that they will not, in future, buy any confederate battle flags which are incorrect in shape or design."

Sister Esther Carlotta moved that the resolutions be adopted.

Mrs. Eller, of Virginia, seconded the motion. Carried.

Mrs. Odenheimer, of Maryland, asked the question, if it would not be fitting for the resolutions passed by this convention to be sent by our Custodian of Fags and Pennants to the different flag makers.

Mrs. Walke, of Virginia, Custodian of Flags and Pennants, said that she would be glad to write them, telling them of the action taken at this meeting.

Miss Baxter, of Georgia, moved that the Custodian of Flags and Pennants investigate the matter and secure a correct form, and have these firms make all future orders therefrom. Seconded by several. Carried.

Mrs. Cappleman, of Arkansas, presented the following:

"Resolved, That the United Daughters of the Confederacy, now in session assembled, protest against the destruction of the Old State House of Arkansas, in which the ordinance of secession was enacted, and around which clusters the history of Arkansas since 1836.

"Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to the Governor of the State, and to the General Assembly of Arkansas.

(Signed). "MRS. JOSIE FRAZEE CAPPLEMAN,"
"Chairman of Committee."

Mrs. Robinson, of Virginia, stated that this resolution had been gotten up at a meeting of the Historians, who had signed it, and as Historian-General, she would like to second this resolution.

Mrs. Hall, of Arkansas, moved the adoption of the resolution.

Miss Rutherford, of Georgia, spoke to the motion, saying:

"It was the duty of this convention to work for the preservation of historic sights, and that we, as Southerners, should make an effort to preserve the historic sites of our land.

Mrs. Robinson, of Virginia, said that the historic work of this nature did not belong simply to Arkansas, but to the whole of the United States, and therefore, this convention should use the word "protest".

Mrs. Dibrell, of Texas, amended Mrs. Cappleman's resolution, by striking out the word "protest" and inserting "endorse the action of the Arkansas Division" in their protest.

Mrs. Cappelman, of Arkansas, accepted Mrs. Dibrell's amendment.

Mrs. McKinney, of Kentucky, moved that we accept the resolutions as presented and amended, without further discussion.

Mrs. Odenheimer, of Maryland, seconded the motion. Carried.

Mrs. McKinney, of Kentucky, stated that a report of the "Confederate Literary Memorial Society" had been placed in her hands for publication in the minutes. A motion was made that this report be spread upon the minutes of the convention. Seconded and carried.

Sister Esther Carlotta, of Florida, moved that the bond of the Treasurer ARLINGTON MONUMENT ASSOCIATION be increased, on account of the increase in amount of money now in the treasury, and probable increase during the year, moving that the bond be increased to $25,000.00. Seconded by many.

Mrs. Dibrell, of Texas, moved to amend the motion of Sister Esther Carlotta, of Florida, that it be increased to $30,000.00, instead of $25,000.00. Seconded. Carried.

Mrs. Dibrell, of Texas, made the following motion: "That an evergreen wreath with a battle flag for the Veterans and the stars and bars for the Daughters, be placed upon their graves for decoration, upon all occasions, as an emblem of the Confederacy."

Mrs. Culbertson, of Oklahoma, seconded Mrs. Dibrell's motion. Carried.

Mrs. Yerger, of Mississippi, called attention to the letter of invitation to the dedication of the chapel at the Soldiers' Home at Beauvoir, Miss.

The following was offered by Mrs. Baggett, of California, as notice to amend the Constitution at the next convention: "Amend Article XI. by inserting the words, 'and that of Admiral Semmes, Rear Admiral of the Confederate States Navy (Dec. 27th),' so that it shall read: 'The birthday of Jefferson Davis, President of the Confederate States (June 3rd), and that of Robt. E. Lee, Commander in Chief of the Confederate Army (Jan. 19th), and that of Raphael Semmes, Rear Admiral of the Confederate States Navy (Dec. 27), shall have annual observance by all bodies of this association.'"

Mrs. Schuyler, of New York, moved that the President-General and outgoing and incoming Recording Secretary-General be empowered to make all corrections to the minutes which had not been submitted during the meeting.

Seconded by Mrs. Eller, of Virginia. Carried.

Miss Baxter, of Georgia, moved a rising vote of thanks to the President-General and officers who had served so faithfully during this convention.

Seconded by many. Carried.

The President-General then declared the Seventeenth Annual Convention of this association adjourned, the Eighteenth Annual Convention to meet the second Wednesday in November, 1911, at Richmond, Va.

After all singing the Doxology, the convention was adjourned.

REPORTS OF OFFICERS

REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT-GENERAL.

To the United Daughters of the Confederacy, Greeting:

The Seventeenth Annual Convention of our beloved association assembles today in this beautiful State, known far and wide. From the great lakes to the gulf, from the Atlantic to the Pacific Ocean, over all the hills and plains of our common country, who has not heard of "Arkansas" and its generous hospitality?

The word brings back to us all tender memories of long ago, when our then youthful feet tripped lightly to the merry strains of the "Arkansas Traveler"; and from all sections of our beloved Southland we have come, with anticipations of much pleasure, to a city and state which, through war and peace, has been ever true to her sister states of the South, sharing with them the trials and perils of war, and all the tender memories of that unhappy strife.

Daughters, my year's work has indeed been a labor of love.

In presenting my official and customary report, your President will state, as briefly as possible, all matters referred to her for decision or official action.

1. From the outset of my administration your President has endeavored to lay aside all personal feelings or preferences, and in ruling on all questions, as far as in her power, she has tried to decide for the good of the cause which we all represent, though many times pained by the decision and advice her conscientious judgment dictated.

2. The many letters of congratulation received, after reaching my home from Houston, from all over the country, touched my heart greatly, and my gratitude for your kindness in bestowing upon me the highest honor within your gift, prompted me to increased efforts to deserve it, by devotion to duty.

3. The first matter laid before me was the proposed withdrawal of the scholarship at Columbia College, New York. Having been at the Houston convention, and knowing the conditions, I felt it to be my duty to advise the withdrawal. And allow me to say, just here, that the Chairman of the Committee, while warmly advocating the continuance of the scholarship, so successfully promoted by her at Norfolk, yielded the point very gracefully, and has never ceased her faithful and earnest efforts to promote the good of our cause.

4. Owing to the increased amount in the Treasury, the Treasurer General and your President concluded the bond should be raised from $1,000 to $3,000, and the fund placed in the National Bank at Pulaski.

5. Having been very much annoyed by complaints of difficulty in securing Crosses for our Veterans, through the energy and tact of the custodian, it was found that the contract, held by Mr. Crankshaw, had expired March 6th, 1907. He was notified to discontinue the work, and the matter was placed in the hands of Whitehead & Hoag, Newark, N. J., with more satisfactory results, a detailed account of which will be presented to you later by the Custodian of Crosses.

6. On January 2nd your President received a telegram from the New York World, asking what action the U. D. C. would take in regard to the hostile action of the Grand Army Post of Chicago, in demanding the removal of General R. E. Lee's statue from the Capitol at Washington. In reply, she stated that as the Congress of the United States had requested each State of the Union to place two statues in the Hall of Fame, and as Virginia had chosen George Washington and Robert E. Lee, her two noblest and most distinguished sons, this organization did not feel called on to take any action in the matter. It is gratifying, in this connection, to note that the question seems to have been effectually settled, by the refusal of the Grand Army, at Atlantic City, to approve the action of the Chicago Post.

7. The same month information was received from the State of Ohio that the Confederate flags, captured and placed in the Capitol, were to be burned by order of the State Government. Your President immediately wrote to Mr. Edward Colston at Cincinnati, a one armed Confederate Veteran, prominent lawyer and personal friend. He communicated with Governor Harmon, who replied at once, "Those flags will never be disturbed."

Chapters of the U. D. C. reported "out of existence":
Georgia Division—N. B. Forrest, Rome, Sparks Chapter.

Ohio—Judah P. Benjamin Chapter, No. 612; John B. Gordon, No. 348, Springfield.

Missouri—Shelby Chapter, Waverly; R. E. Lee Chapter, Salem;

N. Jeff Thompson Chapter, St. Joseph.

Tennessee—The Carvel Winder McGarack Chapter.

Florida—Fannie Haralson Gordon Chapter, No. 774; De Funiak Spring Chapter, No. 399; Mary Anne Williams, Winnie Davis Chapter, Jasper, No. 359; Martha Julia Stockton Chapter No. 549; Quirsy Dunellon Chapter, No. 705; Suwannee River Chapter, White Spring, Emma Sansom Chapter, Graceville, cancelled.

North Carolina—Middieton, Mat. Ransom Chapter, Holly Spring, Clayton.

South Carolina—Abbeville, Clark Allen, J. D. Blackville, Idisto Island, No. 93.

Alabama—Hartford Daughters, Hartford; John B. Gordon, Enterprise; Archibald Grace, Brundridge.

During the year your President received many letters, numbering from one hundred to one hundred and fifty per month, keeping in touch with the Daughters and their work, asking at times for rulings on certain clauses of our constitution, and you will pardon her if she mentions one which seems to have caused confusion among some of our conscientious Daughters. It is Article IV, Section 8, as follows: "Divisions and Chapters of the U. D. C. are prohibited from federating with other organizations." Your President construes federation to mean "united by agreement and compact; transacting business together as one body," and that the fact that Oregon Chapter proposed to join two other organizations in erecting a building, containing separate halls for each, was simply a business transaction, and not a federation within the meaning of our constitution.

2nd. Your President decided, on June 23d, that Mrs. Silva, at Fortland, Oregon, was legally elected President of the Oregon Chapter. The evidence on which this decision was based will be in the hands of the Jurisprudence Committee.

3rd. Your President also rendered a decision—When a Chapter desires to change its name, a new charter must be issued at the regular charge.

4th. Your President decided that children belonging to Chapters, paying dues, filling up blanks regularly endorsed, were entitled to representation in State Divisions. She is satisfied that this ruling was an error, as term "woman" used in the constitution evidently was not intended to include children. She desires therefore to correct this decision. Your President decided:

Any child, adopted by law, has every legal right of inheritance which the law can give, but the U. D. C., like all other voluntary and self-governing associations, makes its own regulations of admission and can admit or debar as it pleases, and she does not think the legal point decides the question. The whole membership is based on Confederate blood, the one exception being a Northern woman who marries a Confederate Veteran. This exception is specifically provided for in the constitution, and is based on the principle

"And they twain shall be one flesh."

The Department of History, under the direction of the Historian-General, Mrs. J. Enders Robinson, surely will give a very satisfactory report of the year's work. Under the Chairmanship of Miss M. E. Poppenheim it will be found much has been accomplished by the Educational Committee.

Let your President impress upon the Convention the importance of having Junior Auxiliaries, for upon the training of these, our girls and boys, depends the perpetuity of our organization.

Too much cannot be said of the work of all the officers. They have performed their duties, and been most satisfactory to your President. Your President has signed 3,500 certificates of membership since she went into office.

On April 22d your President began her journey to Mobile, there to meet the noblest army of men in the world. Together with Washington friends, we travelled, meeting on our way many dear old Veterans, and enjoying their anticipations of reunion with their comrades of days of danger, and hearing their varied experience in those stormy times, sometimes with a smile, often with tears.

Your President was the guest of the Mobile Chapter, and you will be pleased, she is sure, to know that she was shown every consideration and courtesy by Veterans, Daughters and Sons.

After several days spent in this attractive and unique French city, we went to Columbus, Miss., to attend the State Convention, meeting there also a grand body of women—intellectual, beautiful and hospitable, showing heart and feeling for me when called from that post to one at home.

Blessed, indeed, are those who mourn with you.

Your President had intended to go also to Montgomery, but circumstances hurried her home. She has, through the year, sent letters to the Veteran and Keystone, in that way keeping in touch with the Daughters, as a gentle reminder to them that she was ready at all times to assist them.

Your President now begs leave to make the following recommendations.

1. That the per capita tax be increased.
2. That women entitled to membership should not be admitted under 16 years of age.
3. That the expenses of the Historian-General should be paid to, from and at the Convention.
4. That the Committee on Jurisprudence should be appointed immediately after the adjournment of th Convention.
5. That the badge of this Association be placed in the hands of some other than Theus.
6. That the decisions of the Presidents-General be embodied in the year book of this Association. They become laws by the vote of the Convention and are put away in the old year book, frequently forgotten or, if remembered, must be searched for.

Your President has been appealed to by the Chairman of the Executive Board of Monuments to the Women of the Confederacy to endorse a monument or rather "Tag Day." The Corresponding Secretary wrote to all the State Presidents, urging an opinion from them. After much thought and conference, your President decided not to endorse the matter as requested, because she felt that it was best not to place additional work on her Daughters until the arrangements are complete for Arlington and Shiloh.

Just across the river from the Nation's Capital, there is another city.

'Vast, yet voiceless,
Growing, ever growing—
Street on street—
Where friend with friend oft meeting
Never, never, greet."

It is a City of the Dead, and the home of Lee. The hand of the vandal was raised to desecrate and destroy; the hand of an Almighty God was raised to preserve and sanctify. On its sunny slopes thousands of brave men lie in silent graves. The broad Potomac, on its majestic journey to the sea, sweeps alike by the home of Washington and Lee. The rising sun, which rests on the simple but imposing shaft, the Nation's tribute to Washington, on one shore, at the same moment gilds the noble front of the home of Lee, on the other shore.

The pilgrim, who stands with uncovered head, at the tomb of Washington, does not forget the tomb of Lee. The hand of fate has so entwined Virginia's two most distinguished sons, that even in death they are not divided.

Here then it seems peculiarly fitting that we should raise one monument to the memory of all known or unknown who in following their leader with unflinching trust, unconsciously made their own fame.

AND SHILOH: Even, as centuries ago, Shiloh was the resting place of the Ark of the Covenant, between God and his Chosen People, so let us rest on this, our modern Shiloh, once stained red with the blood of our fathers, husbands and sons, the Ark of Our Covenant, to preserve for ages to come, to our children and their children, the story of a struggle for constitutional liberty, which commands, today the admiration of the world. When all is done, then "DEO VINDICE."

VIRGINIA FAULKNER McSHERRY.

REPORT OF THE RECORDING SECRETARY-GENERAL.

Madam President and Daughters of the Confederacy:

Once more I come to render an account of the trust committed to my care, and it is a gratifying privilege to greet this distinguished body of Southern women.

It is with pride and pleasure that I present to you my fourth annual report as your Recording-Secretary; pride over the growth and development of this splendid organization as is shown on the books of the Secretary; my pleasure is the distinguished privilege that has been mine to serve you in this office, on which hinges so much of importance in the running machinery of the Association. Again, I have found pleasure in fulfilling the duties and responsibilities of this office—greater still the privilege of enjoying the loving consideration which as dimissious chapters and individuals has been shown me as was manifested in letters, not only from warm personal friends, but from those far and near whom I have learned to love through correspondence, wherever the banner of the United Daughters of the Confederacy has been planted.

As I look into the faces of so many loyal sweet friends who have strewn my official pathway with flowers of roseate hue I am inclined to wish that my term of office was just now to begin, instead of this being the closing period, when I must resign all of your attentions, kind words and good wishes over to my successor. Immediately after the Convention at Houston I began the usual preparations for publishing the Minutes; secured bids from seven publishers and submitted these to the President-General, who, with your Secretary, again awarded the contract for publishing to the Post Publishing Company, of Opelika, who in our judgment submitted the best and most advantageous bid.

The usual and even added efforts were put forth by your Secretary to have the Minutes correct in every particular and especially the posters. Until the Convention literature was mailed, I had reveled in the thought that perhaps my efforts had been crowned with greater success along this line than ever before, but after mailing with greatest care and painstaking the credentials and circular of information for this convention, to the President of every Chapter, about two dozen were returned to me unclaimed at the postoffice, and a number of letters and telegrams were received, saying no credentials had been received in their chapter. Then I realized that old officers in the rosters was the cause, and these valuable papers falling into the hands of ex-officers for some reason found their way into some waste-basket. However, the credential blanks, with the circular letter, was mailed from my office to the President of each Chapter from the 12th to the 14th of September.

I have written about three thousand letters and postal cards during the past year and mailed out from my office twenty-five hundred circular communications,—the credentials, amendments, etc. The Chapters in every Division seem to have awakened to the importance of furnishing certificates to each one of its members. During the past year thirty-five hundred and seventy-five certificates have been issued, which is eight hundred and twelve in excess of last year. Sixty-eight new Chapters have been chartered during the year. Three duplicate Charters have been issued to replace the originals which had been lost.

The following Chapters have been cancelled, according to Art. IV Sec. 4, of Constitution: In the Florida Division—De Funiak Springs Chapter No. 399; Winnie Davis Chapter No. 359, Jasper; Dunnellen Chapter No. 703; Martha Julia Jackson Chapter No. 549, Quincy; Mary Ann Williams Chapter No. 133; Sanford. Alabama Division—Hartford Daughters Chapter, Hartford! John B. Gordon, Enterprise, Archibald Gracie, Brundidge. In Arkansas Division—Raphael Semms Chapter No. 209, Morrilton, cancelled to re-organize. In the Georgia Division—East Rome Chapter No. 589, and Sparks Chapter No. 968. In the Missouri Div--

124 MINUTES OF SEVENTEENTH ANNUAL CONVENTION,

sion—Bettie Shelby Chapter No. 624, Waverly; Kennett Chapter No. 702, M. Jeff Thomas Chapter No. 1113, St. Joseph, Ohio—Judah P. Benjamine Chapter No. 612; John B. Gordon Chapter No. 848, Springfield. Oklahoma Division—Winnie Davis Chapter No. 752, Checotah, cancelled to re-organize. North Carolina—Matt Ransom Chapter, No. 444, Middleton; Holly Springs Chapter, No. 456; Clayton Chapter No. 1057. South Carolina Division—Edisto Island Chapter No. 93; Jefferson Davis Chapter No. 735, Blackville; Clarke Allen Chapter No. 725, Abbeville, Tennessee Division—Carrie Windor McGavoc Chapter No. 1069, Franklin.

The Receipts and disbursements of my office for the past year have been as follows:

The bills for printing from the Post Publishing Company have been sent to the President-General for her endorsement, and the same have been remitted for by the Treasurer-General direct to the Post Publishing Company.

At some time during the year I have been in correspondence with many, if not all, Chapters of the Association. To me this has been a delightful privilege, and I hope that I have been helpful to them.

Now the time has come when the duties and pleasures of my office must be laid aside, and I confess to you that it is with deep regret that I must sever my relations with your official board, to each of whom I am indebted for consideration and kindness to me at all times. It has been my happy privilege to serve you under the leadership of three of your Presidents-General, and I am very grateful for the congenial, delightful association and companionship which I have enjoyed with each of them.

In this parting, my heart goes out to one and all in a deep sense of gratitude for the honor of serving you.

I rejoice in the possession of such a cause as the Southern Confederacy and feel that the noble heritage is ours to work to promote its interest. Searching in historical records I find no such Association as ours—the women of a conquered people united in one grand organization to defend the cause for which their husbands, fathers and brothers suffered and died. "Poor is that country that has no heroes, but beggared is that people that having them forgets"

ANNE WHITFIELD DOWDELL,

Recording-Secretary-General, United Daughters of the Confederacy.

REPORT OF THE CORRESPONDING SECRETARY-GENERAL.

Madam President and Daughters of the Confederacy.

As one of your officers, I report, with pleasure, the work that has been mine to perform; for there is a great deal of happiness experienced in discharging the duties of Corresponding Secretary-General.

As the sending of credentials, etc., has again been placed in the hands of the recording Secretary-General, the work of this office is light. I have therefore, only to report:

126 MINUTES OF SEVENTEENTH ANNUAL CONVENTION,

I wish to express my thanks to the Officers and Members, for their encouragement to, and consideration of, their little secretary service; and, to the President General, sincerest gratitude, for loving kindness to me. at all times.

Respectfully submitted,

KATIE CHILDRESS SCHNABEL,
Corresponding Secretary-General.

REPORT OF REGISTRAR-GENERAL.

Madam President, Daughters of the Confederacy in Convention Assembled:

Your Registrar-General brings greetings to you from the State which stood on the border and forefront of battle, and whose heroes in gray did valliant service for the cause you represent. Almcst a half century has passed since that unequal struggle between the States, yet in all this time the daughters of the Southland have proven themselves true and devoted followers of the principles inculcated by their fathers, endeavoring, to the best of their ability, to honor the memory of those who served and those who fell in the service of the Confederate States.

Every true daughter of the Confederacy hopes in her heart of hearts that our united country may never more be devastated by cruel warfare, but she is not willing that the names, or the fame, of her Confederate fathers shall be forgotten, nor shall the names of their mothers, wives, sisters and neices pass into oblivion. She intends that each and every one shall live on and on until time shall be no more. To this end, you have established a Register on which shall be written in black, on white, the names of every true daughter of the Southland.

Whether she be rich or poor, humble or of high degree, all that is necessary that her name may be recorded on this roll of honor, is to prove that she is real blood kin to any loyal soldier of the Confederacy, whether he was a drummer boy or a Major General. Whatever his rank or station, his service was honorable, and his descendants may have their names written beside his, on our Register of Honor to perpetuate his name and fame.

It gives me great pleasure to report to you that on this roll of honor there are now, in round numbers, about 43,000 names. Since I reported to you last, the complete list of names in Florida, Georgia and South Carolina have been entered with additional names from Alabama, Missouri, Colorado and Arizona, 12,601 names with an equal number of ancestors making a total of 25,202 names enrolled this year.

Your register now contains a complete list of Alabama, Georgia, Florida, Tennessee, South Carolina. The Charter Chapter in Denver, Colorado; Seattle, Tacoma and Spokane, the Chapters in State of Washington, the Philadelphia, Pa., Chapter and Arizona all complete. And an incomplete list of Mississippi and Missouri.

It gives me greatest pleasure to present to you the first volume of the complete Register U. D. C. containing 541 sheets, 1,082 pages, and in round numbers 43,000 names.

For all the courtesies extended to me as your Registrar-General, for all the sweet encouraging letters, all the pleasant associations, I thank you. I can only wish for my successor, that you will extend to her, the same hearty cooperation and ready response to duty. You can make even the task of copying names, a pleasure and an inspiration.

Respectfully submitted,

MATTIE W. GANTT,
(Mrs. James Britton)

Registrar-General, United Daughters of the Confederacy,
Jefferson City, Mo.

REPORT OF CUSTODIAN OF CROSS OF HONOR.

Madam President, Daughters of the Confederacy.

The past 12 months have been most eventful ones for the U. D. C. your President, and Custodian, as far as Crosses of Honor are concerned.

In the first place, before leaving for Houston, the Custodian placed an order for 5,000 crosses to be delivered on or about December 1st, feeling assured there would be no delay in further bestowing of Crosses; and with this assurance fresh in your minds, the chapters began sending orders. December 1st came, no crosses—December 25th quickly followed, no crosses—when January 1st came, and still no crosses, your Custodian grew perfectly desperate, and began blaming herself for blindly accepting statements without finding out the truth for herself, so she quickly got busy, wrote to the Recorder of Crosses of District of Columbia to send the address of the best lawyer in Washing, who understood the patent law of the United States. She then wrote this good man, stating exactly our trouble, and asking was there no help and were we compelled to go on to the end at the mercy of the manufacturer, that we had time and again offered to buy him out, but each time would be put off with the promise to leave his patent to us on his death.

Now, after reading the reply to my letter, you can better imagine my frame of mind, than I can describe it, when I found the patent had ceased to exist since 1907, and that the United Daughters of Confederacy had a perfect right to have the crosses made by any one they pleased. After sending all this correspondence to the President, Mrs. McSherry, with her permission, I got estimates from several makers, and finding Whitehead, Hoag & Co., offered the most favorable terms, they were selected and the Crosses sent out for April and June bestowals, were made by them. No doubt you noticed they were stronger and neater in appearance. This firm has promised all sorts of things, but the future will prove all this.

I notice several of the State Recorders are using perfectly good record sheets, given them by the general association, to roll their applications in. Now any ordinary piece of wrapping paper would do just as well and cost the association much less, I feel this is all that is necessary to say on this subject.

Again, I answer—Crosses are 13 cents each or two will be sent for 25 cents. Some have questioned my right to charge this. The price set by the Cross Committee will be found both in the Minutes and on last page of rules. These rules say record sheets must be made out alphabetically, some write me, "What do you mean by alphabetically?" I answer thus: If John Brown, Peter Jones and Theo. Campbell apply for Crosses, their names are entered thus, on your record sheet,—Brown, John,—Campbell, Theo.—Jones, Peter. All this may appear as unnecessary by those who understand, for those asking the question, I make this explanation. Again I would request those who for personal reasons are not on speaking terms with their State and Chapter officials, please don't write the Custodian, asking if she will not accept your papers without their signature, for you are wasting both her time as well as yours, for the answer will always be, no.

Chapter Presidents are requested to make out their own President order blanks, and give their respective addresses, house number and street. Many delays can be avoided by doing this.

During the year your Custodian receives many unique requests, one which I think would take First honor, is this. Two descendants sent in applications for a father and grandfathers cross, properly made out, with this explanation: the men were both alive, but being so very slow and indifferent about applying for their Crosses, and fearing the time limit for getting these Crosses would expire, they applied. I returned the application and advised that they have their respective ancestors taken out and shot at once, then send a death certificate with their application and I would take pleasure in sending the Crosses.

Now about the old data, I am pleased to bring for your consideration two volumes, 1903 and 1904, instead of only one as heretofore, this leaves me but three years, 1900, 1901 and 1902 to record to make your Cross of Honor work for 10 years complete and in book form

Now friends, bear with me when I tell you these volumes represent four years of very hard work to say nothing of the regular duties of the Custodian's office, and it is taking a very great risk to have these volumes kept in a private house.

As the final resting place of these records is the Solid South room in the Confederate Museum in Richmond, Va., I most earnestly request that this convention consider the invitation to meet in that beautiful city in 1911, and I be allowed to deposit these volumes, already completed, there; and as I finish the others they be sent there also. One year completes the work of bestowing of Crosses, and if life and strength holds out, I shall endeavor to have everything complete and in order ere that time.

I now beg to submit the following:

REPORT OF THE CUSTODIAN OF FLAGS.

Madam President-General, and Daughters of the Confederacy:

I bring you greetings from the Mother of States, Virginia. I have had no flags added since our meeting in Atlanta.

Of course, the flags are not as fresh, but that could not be expected, when they are used each year, and time will tell. I have kept them with great care, in my own home, during the year. I have written all Division Presidents, asking for their flags to be presented at this Convention, and then given to our hostess Chapter from the U. D. C.

I cannot close this report without saying that I feel proud in having made this a ceremony of beauty and dignity, adding much to the opening of the U. D. C. Conventions.

I have questions asked me from all over the United States, in regard to State Flags. I beg you will teach the youths of your States, your State Flag.

My Expenses, Expressage on Flags from Houston to Norfolk	$ 7.50
Stationery, Stamps and Locks for Box	7.00
Expressage to Little Rock	5.75

Total	$20.25

Respectfully submitted,

Yours fraternally,

MRS. FRANK ANTHONY WALKER,

Custodian of Flags and Pennants, United Daughters of the Confederacy.

REPORT OF HISTORIAN GENERAL.

The report of the Historian-General, U. D. C., in pamphlet form was distributed on the floor of the convention, and contained the following By-Laws, which were adopted:

By-Laws for Historical Evening.

The Historian-General shall appoint and notify all persons who are to fill the program of the evening not later than March 1. And all such persons shall be members of the Hostess Chapter, and Hostess Division. This is to develop local ability and interest in our conventions, thereby gaining breadth and strength for the organization. All persons accepting numbers on the program shall notify the Historian-General of titles of their papers, poems and songs by September 1. The program shall contain not more than twelve numbers. No paper, song or recitation shall consume more than twelve minutes. There shall be no encores. Subjects shall be selected from Confederate matter. Anything not Confederate shall not be accepted by the Historian-General. The program shall open with a song and close with the original words of Dixie, sung by the audience standing. The program should contain as much local coloring as possible of the State in which the convention meets.

The Historian-General shall appoint the chairman of the music for the program. She may allow this chairman to introduce, as an opening of the program, some special feature of ten minutes' duration, provided it is in harmony with the Confederate themes of the program proper. But this feature shall never be a number of the program proper. And at no time shall there be any other closing number of the evening than "Dixie." It shall not be followed by either song, speech or thanks.

On the evening the President-General shall call the audience to order and introduce the Hostess President, who shall in turn introduce the Historian-General in the fewest possible words, the latter replying in like manner. On such evenings speeches of all kinds should be avoided. The Historian-General shall then preside.

The program shall be printed in plain form, which is the suitable form for historical occasions, and without insignia, and shall be distributed in the seats. The program shall be printed in the historical pamphlet with the reports of the current year. The papers of the evening shall be printed in full text in the historical pamphlet of the next year following as a part of the report of the Historian-General.

MRS. J. ENDERS ROBINSON.
Historian-General United Daughters of Confederacy.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CROSS OF HONOR.

Madam President-General and Members of the Seventeenth Annual Convention:

The committee, after due consideration, recommends that as affairs are moving so smoothly and there being only two years more for distribution of the Crosses of Honor, that there be no change made in the present ruling.

Respectfully submitted.

Committee.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON EDUCATION.

Madam President and Members of the Conveation:

Your Committee on Education presents this, its second report, to a U. D. C. Convention.

The committee for 1909-1910 consists, with the exception of the North Carolina members, of the same personnel as last year, namely: Mrs. Goodlett, Tennessee; Mrs. Marbury, Pennsylvania; Mrs. Watt, North Carolina; Mrs. Ross, Alabama, Vice-Chairman, and Miss Mary Poppenheim, South Carolina, Chairman.

The plan of action for this year has been based on the foundations laid last year, and new lines developed as the needs arose.

As you will recall last year we took as our task the collecting and tabulating work for education being conducted under U. D. C. auspices through chapters and divisions, but never brought together as a whole, and reported in compact form as U. D. C. work. We urged and requested every division to appoint a committee on education to co-operate with the General Committee and to manage and develop local educational work, and finally we urged the management and support of scholarships in local and State institutions.

Last year's report at Houston showed as a result of this plan thirteen (13) States with Committees on Education; 31 scholarships of free tuition and $2,224 in money used for this educational work.

On March 21, 1910, your committee sent out its annual circular to Presidents of Divisions and to Presidents of each Chapter in those States where no division existed, setting forth the plans for 1910. This circular covered two parts, as follows:

Part I. General U. D. C. Scholarships.

By action of the Houston Convention all scholarships offered the U. D. C. or managed by them are in the hands of the Committee on Education and the awarding of such scholarships is left with this committee in conference with the Committee on Education of the State from which the student is sent.

This U. D. C. committee now requests that every Chapter and Division in the U. D. C. make some contribution annually through its State Chairman of Education toward a General U. D. C. Scholarship Fund. This fund to be available in connection with the choice of any scholarship secured by the General U. D. C. Committee on Education: The money for this year's student should be in the hands of the Treasurer-General, Mrs. C. B. Tate, Draper, Va., by July 1, 1910.

The scholarship at Teachers' College, Columbia University, New York, now being enjoyed by a student from Mississippi, will be withdrawn in June, 1910. All Chapters and Divisions have been notified of this fact in the early part of the year by a circular sent out to them by Mrs. L. R. Schuyler, New York, who has had charge of this scholarship for the past two years.

Your Committee on Education has replaced this scholarship by four scholarships, the choice of which is available for use Sept. 1, 1910.

These are:

1. A scholarship of free tuition at Vassar College, Poughkeepsie, N. Y., valued at $150 per annum.
2. A scholarship of free tuition at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, N. C., valued at $60 per annum.
3. A scholarship of free tuition at the Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Auburn, Ala., valued at $50 per annum.
4. A scholarship of free tuition at the University of Alabama, University, Ala., valued at $60 per annum.

Scholarships 2 and 3 are open to girls only in the Junior and Senior grades.

According to the ruling of the Norfolk convention these scholarships are open for competition in the State of Florida for the year 1910-11.

All applicants for the choice of these scholarships must be at least 17 years of age, must be able to pass the entrance examinations for the college for which she applies, must be the lineal descendant of a Confederate Veteran and must be endorsed by the President of the Division and the Chairman of Committee on Education of her State and must file her application with these endorsements and with her certificates or diplomas with the undersigned Chairman of the General U. D. C. Committee not later than May 10, 1910.

Part II. Educational Work in the State Divisions.

1. Has your Division a Committee on Education? If so, please name chairman.

2. Please give number of scholarships your Division supports, either as a division or as individual chapters. Please name these scholarships briefly on separate lines.

3. Please state value in dollars of each separate scholarship.

4. Each State Division is requested to take steps to secure, if possible, a donation of one scholarship of free tuition in its State institutions for its own State Division's use. Failing in this, each State Division should endeavor to establish and maintain scholarships in these State institutions, said scholarships to be open to lineal descendants of Confederate Veterans.

Inquiries as to the methods of establishing scholarships and promoting the causes of Compulsory and Industrial Education should be addressed to Mrs. B. B. Ross, Vice-Chairman, Auburn, Ala., member in charge of this department.

In order that your Division's work for education may be presented at the Little Rock convention in November, Miss Poppenheim requests every President to answer these questions to her before July 15, 1910, so that she may incorporate every Southern State's name in her report.

MARY B. POPPENHEIM, Chairman,

March 21, 1910.

31 Meeting Street, Charleston, S. C.

This circular was sent out to 59 individuals in the U. D. C. and from the correspondence resulting from these circulars the statistics in this report are compiled:

Part I. deserves our first attention:

As you all know by action of the Norfolk convention the one scholarship owned by the U. D. C., that at Teachers' College, Columbia University, was to be assigned to the States in their order of secession, and South Carolina and Mississippi had each sent a girl to occupy this scholarship.

When, in the course of events, this scholarship came under criticism and was withdrawn, the U. D. C. were left without a general scholarship and it was Florida's turn to benefit by such an educational advantage.

Through the general disorganization of the work at Houston no pledges were accepted or taken for a general educational scholarship fund, so there was no money in hand for the living expenses of any scholarship.

Your Chairman at once set to work to supply general scholarships; set each member of her committee a task and began to work for a living fund raised between conventions so as to prevent a break in the chain of scholarships and the general educational work.

Through her personal solicitations she secured from the Trustees of Vassar College (her own Alma Mater) in February, 1909, the gift of a scholarship of free tuition at Vassar, valued at $150 per annum and although the attendance at Vassar is limited to 1,000, and that number had been enrolled for September, 1910, and eighty applicants rejected at the time of the gift of this scholarship, through special arrangements with the college authorities, a place was held open for the U. D. C. scholar, which our committee might send in Sept., 1910.

Through the personal influence of Mrs. W. W. Watt, the North Carolina member of our committee, a scholarship of free tuition at the University of North Carolina, valued at $60, was given our committee.

Through the personal appeal of Mrs. B. B. Ross, of Alabama, our Vice-Chairman, a scholarship of free tuition at the Alabama Polytechnic, valued at $50, and one at the University of Alabama, valued at $60 per annum, were given our committee.

Through the personal appeal of your Treasurer-General, Mrs. C. B. Tate, of Virginia, Washington and Lee University, Lexington, Va., gave us a scholarship of free tuition, valued at $50.

Through the personal influence of Mrs. W. J. Behan, of Louisiana, Sophie Newcomb College gave us a scholarship of free tuition, valued at $100.

The Lucy Cobb Institute, Athens, Ga., through its principal, Miss Susan Gerdine, in June, 1910, gave us a scholarship valued at $190.

These seven scholarships have come at different times during the year and the filing of them has been one of the problems and duties of our committee.

To Florida was due the right to have the U. D. C. scholarship with its living fund attached.

On March 21st we had in hand the four scholarships printed in the circular, namely; Vassar, the University of North Carolina and the two in Alabama. These we offered to the Florida Division, through its State President, and they were all four accepted, and advertised for competition in that State. There were eighteen applicants for these four scholarships, endorsed by the Florida Division U. D. C. authorities, and sent to our committee. We conducted examinations at Jacksonville in June and took all possible precautions to make a fair and satisfactory award of these four scholarships.

There were six applicants for the Vassar scholarship. Miss Lola Raysor, of Ocala, Fla., was the successful candidate, and has entered Vassar a full Senior. I visited her at the college the second week in October, saw how well she was placed, and did what I could to make her way comfortable and happy with the college authorities. I am sure that Miss Raysor appreciates her great opportunity and will make an effort to reflect credit on the U. D. C. She is ambitious and direct and means to secure for herself the highest education in America. As this was the highest grade scholarship our committee owned, we decided to give the living fund of $350—with this scholarship. From Mrs. Tate, our Treasurer-General, I learn that $267 has been subscribed to this fund during the year, as follows:

Augusta, Ga., Chapter	$ 5.00
Albert Sidney Johnston Chapter, Louisville, Ky.	15.00
M. H. D. Hayes Chapter, Denver, Col.	5.00
Reginald Thompson Chapter, LaGrange, Ky.	3.00
South Carolina Division, U. D. C.	31.00
Mrs. W. T. Darby, for Mildred Lee Chapter, Spokane, Wasn...	20.00
R. E. Lee Chapter, Seattle, Wash.	5.00
Mr. W. H. Ellis, Montana, through Mrs. Darby	5.00
Mrs. W. W. Watt, member from N. C., on Committee on Edu- cation	50.00
Mrs. S. V. Worth, Kansas City, Mo.	5.00
Nevada, Mo., Chapter	3.00
Sonewall Jackson Chapter, New Orleans, La.	5.00
Louisiana Division	3.00
Pensacola, Fla., Chapter	10.00
Florida Division, U. D. C.	67.00
Lewisburg, W Va., Chapter	5.00
Virginia Division	30.00
	$267.00

This fund must be raised to $350 at this convention in order that we may fulfill our obligation to Florida and to Miss Raysor, our U. D. C., representative scholar.

There were five applicants for the University of North Carolina scholarship. This was awarded to Miss Olga Warriner, Jacksonville, Fla., who decided not to use it this year.

The Alabama Polytechnic had two applicants and it was awarded to Mr. Horne, of Jacksonville, Fla., who is now a student at Auburn.

There were no applicants for the University of Alabama scholarship.

This disposes of the four scholarships we had in hand and offered to Florida, in place of the one at Teachers' College, used last year by Mississippi and withdrawn this year.

The Washington and Lee, and Lucy Cobb scholarships came too late for us to map out a plan for assignment this year.

In the case of the Sophie Newcomb scholarship, it was classed with the Washington and Lee and Lucy Cobb, but the local U. D. C., in New Orleans had several New Orleans applicants for it and rather than leave it idle this year local candidates were considered and the local U. D. C., and the Tulane Board have assigned it to Miss Hilda Beauregard, grand-daughter of General Beauregard. They have awarded it for four years, and this removes it from the U. D. C. Education Committee plans, but through conference we hope to get the matter cleared up by September 1911, and a scholarship at Sophie Newcomb open to the General U. D. C.

Summing up Part I. we find seven general scholarships valued at $660; a living fund of $350, given with the highest grade scholarship, making.

Seven scholarships valued at $1020.—Dispensed as the work of the General U. D. C., Committee on Education.

Part II. treats of State Work.

Eighteen states answered the circular, namely, Alabama, Arkansas, District of Columbia, Kentucky, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Missouri, Maryland, North Carolina, Mississippi, New York, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia and Washington. All reported Educational Committees at work, except District of Columbia and Maryland.

The following is a summing up of these states reports:

Alabama Division.

Twelve annual scholarships valued at $952; three endorsed scholarships from a capital of $4,200 invested. Total scholarships, 15; total value, $1188. Alabama has asked each chapter to give $1 towards the General Educational Fund.

Arkansas Division.

Two scholarships valued at $200; given $5 towards General Educational Fund.

Florida Division.

Twelve scholarships; five owned by the Martha Reid Chapter, Jacksonville, valued at $300. Total value $597.60. Gave $77 to General Educational Fund.

Georgia Division.

Fifty-seven scholarships; Augusta Chapter alone owns 21 scholarships valued at $1,390; Macon, 4 at $500; Atlanta, 6, at $670; Savannah 5, at $495: Division by itself supports two valued at $90. Total, 57 scholarships, valued at $3,945.

Louisiana Division.

Two scholarships, one at State University, valued at $200; one at Sophie Newcomb, valued at $100. Total, two scholarships, valued at $300.

Missouri Division.

Four scholarships, no value given; $8 given Educational Fund.

New York Chapter.

Two scholarships at Margaret Hall, Versailles, Ky., value $100.

North Carolina Division.

Fourteen scholarships, valued at $1,115; $50 given the General Educational Fund.

South Carolina Division.

Two scholarships, one at State University and one at Girls' Industrial College, each $144. Total value, $288. Gave $31 to General Educational Fund.

Tennessee Division.

Six Kindergarten scholarships; 3 preparatory school scholarships; 6 high school and college scholarships. Total, 15 scholarships; no value given.

Texas Division.

Three scholarships, valued at $300.

Maryland Division.

Reports one chapter seeing to the education of two little grandsons of Veterans. Total, two scholarships. No value given.

District of Columbia Division.

Reports: "We have done nothing in this line."

Kentucky Division.

Reports six scholarships, valued at $300.

Mississippi Division.

Reports five division scholarships, valued at $675, and four chapter scholarships, value not given. Total, nine scholarships. Total value, $675.

Virginia Division.

Reports no division scholarships, but seven chapter scholarships; value not given. Gave $30 to the General Educational Fund.

Oklahoma Division.

Reports a committee on education just appointed and ready for work.

Washington.

Tried to unite Oregon and Montana with itself in educational work. Gave $30 to General Educational Fund, as follows: R. E. Lee Chapter, Seattle, $5; Mr. W. H. Ellis, Montana, once Brigadier-General Northwestern U. C. V., $5; Mildred Lee Chapter, Spokane, $20.

Summing up these reports, we find:

	Scholarships.	Value.
Alabama	15	$1,188.00
Arkansas	2	200.00
Florida	12	597.60
Georgia	51	3,945.00
Louisiana	2	200.00
xMissouri	4
New York	2	100.00
North Carolina	15	1,175.00
South Carolina	2	288.00
xTennessee	15
Texas	3	300.00
xMaryland	2
Kentucky	6	$300.00
Mississippi	9	675.00
xVirginia	7

xValue not given.

Total, 16 States; 146 scholarships, valued at $9,068.60.

To this add the seven General Scholarships, valued at $1,020, and we see 153 scholarships, valued at $10,088.

This is a record to be proud of and we could make it better if the value of every scholarship had been reported.

The list of State Chairmen of Committees on Education is appended to this report, as follows:

- Alabama—Mrs. C. C. THACK, Auburn.
- Arkansas—MRS. J. B. PILLOW, Helena.
- Florida—MISS CAROLINE BREVARD, Tallahassee.
- Georgia—Mrs. R. A. PEEPLES, Valdosta.
- Louisiana—MRS. P. J. FRIEDRICH, New Orleans.
- Missouri—Mrs. S. V. NORTH, Nevada.

New York—MRS L. R. SCHUYLER, New York City.
 North Carolina—MRS. Wm. OVERMAN, Salisbury.
 South Carolina—MISS MARY B. POPPENHEIM, Charleston.
 Tennessee—MRS. FLORENCE P. CLIFT, Clarksville.
 Texas—MRS. S. G. EDWARDS, Terrell.
 Washington—MRS. G. W. DARBY, Spokane.
 Virginia—MRS. JAS. F. HART, Chatham.
 Kentucky—MRS. G. G. SWAN, Murray.
 Mississippi—MRS. MARY B. AVEN, Clinton.
 Oklahoma—MRS. W. T. CULBERTSON, Now.

So much for the actual accomplishments of the past year, and now for the future development and usefulness of the educational work. Our committee recommends that the following recommendations be acted upon at this convention:

- 1st. That the Vassar scholarship be considered the one General U. D. C. Scholarship to be awarded to the States in their order of secession: Alabama being the next State to receive the award. That all other scholarships given the U. D. C. be open for competition to the U. D. C. in general. In States where a State Division exists, the Division Committee on Education be allowed to enter three candidates for any one of the scholarships offered. In States where no division exists, the chapters to consult and that State to enter one candidate. All names of candidates to be sent to the General U. D. C. Committee on Education. The awards to be made and examinations arranged for by the U. D. C. General Committee.

This plan is suggested, as now there are seven scholarships to be awarded instead of one, in our opinion too many to award in one State at one time.

- 2nd. That a Living Fund of $350 be given with the one General U. D. C. scholarship, which is now being awarded to the State in their order of secession, South Carolina and Mississippi having already enjoyed the privilege. That this fund be appropriated out of the General Treasury of the U. D. C. each year, as the educational work of the U. D. C., and this fund be not left to the chance of voluntary contributions from chapters from year to year. A deficit would cause an interruption in the work and such financial hazards handicap the real work of the Committee on Education.

- 3rd. That all money given by U. D. C. chapters or divisions to educational work be reported direct to the General U. D. C. Chairman of Committee on Education so as to be recorded as U. D. C. work. One chapter (Pa.) now gives to a school in the mountains $250 per year, and I know this amount is not recorded in our report this year, and thus we lose the chance to count what our members are really doing for education.

I ask your dispassionate and careful consideration of these recommendations.

Your Committee on Education is made up of women who have earnestly considered the educational interests of this association. Three of us have been Division Presidents, and we all five are working solely for the dignity and advancement of the cause of the U. D. C.

Our committee urges more prompt and detailed consideration of our annual circular. This is our best means of collecting data to show what you, as divisions and chapters, are doing for education.

Do not set the circular aside and forget it but consider it one of the chief duties in preparation for these annual conventions.

Your Chairman had to remind seven Division Presidents also that they had not answered our circular on November 1st, and would be left out of this report.

Your Chairman was invited to represent your educational work at the Appalachian Exposition at Knoxville in October and regretted her inability to accept.

Everywhere we, as a committee, have met with the warmest sympathy and greatest encouragement from heads of colleges and universities and our work is practically just beginning to reach the public who will help us achieve our aims.

From what I have shown you you will readily see the magnitude of the work.

We are not dreamers in this work, Daughters of the Confederacy; we have seen the vision and a vision is the foreshadowing of events which happen; with the spirit of prophecy we will bring it to pass; with a broad, practical plan suited to the needs of our people, we may hope to fulfill our destiny as Southern women.

No womanhood has ever been accorded greater homage and veneration from the men of their race, and no womanhood has ever responded to this spirit of sacrifice and service, with a greater ardor and devotion.

Southern children are our heritage and care; their education and uplift our highest duty. Let us see to it then that the spirit of the Confederacy in us flames out in their lives by giving them every chance to become honorable and useful citizens of this land we love so well.

Respectfully submitted,

MARY B. POPPENHEIM, Chairman.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON TEACHERS' COLLEGE PRIZE.

Madam President-General and United Daughters of the Confederacy:

The prize of one hundred dollars, offered by the United Daughters of the Confederacy for the best essay written by a student in Teachers' College, Columbia University, on "The South's Part in the War Between the States," was awarded to Mr. Harvey M. Morrow, of Plantersville, Ala., the judges being Edwin B. Craighead, LL.D., President of Tulane University, New Orleans, La.; Professor Marshall S. Brown, head of the Department of History, New York University, and Dunbar Rowland, LL.D., director of the Department of Archives and History for the State of Mississippi, after receiving the approval of Mrs. Virginia Faulkner McSherry, President-General of the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

The subject of the essay was "The History of Slavery in the State of Mississippi," this topic being selected from a list prepared by S. C. Mitchell, LL.D., President of the University of South Carolina, at the request of your committee.

Mr. Morrow attended the State Normal College at Troy, Ala., from 1899 to 1904, and took there the degree of Ph. B. He attended two sessions at Columbia University, 1905 and 1906, and was a student at Teachers' College during 1909 and 1910. He was principal of the public school in Letohatchee, Ala., and in Banks, Ala., and also of the High School in Troy, Ala.

The essay by Miss Ruth B. Hawes, of Virginia, deserves mention, having received one vote for the first place. This is the first time that there has ever been a division in the decision of the judges.

It was necessary for your committee to fill the place made vacant by the death of Vice-Chancellor Wiggins. Dr. Rowland was asked to become one of the judges, and replied as follows:

"My Dear Mrs. Schuyler:

"It gives me pleasure to acknowledge the receipt of your very courteous letter of May 13, in which you extend me an invitation to act as one of a committee of three to award a prize or one hundred dollars to be given by the Daughters of the Confederacy for the best monograph on 'The South's Part in the War Between the States.'

"I shall be delighted to serve as one of the committee, not only as an evidence of my wish to serve you and the organization you represent, but on account of my very great interest in the subject selected. Yours very sincerely,

"DUNBAR ROWLAND."

Your Chairman feels that this report would be most incomplete were she to omit to tell you of the great kindness of Dr. Rowland in furnishing a list of books to be used by the students as references in writing on this subject. He has also compiled a list of topics from which the subjects for the present year have been selected. Dr. Rowland's interest and aid have been most helpful and encouraging.

From Mr. Morrow the following letter was received:

"My Dear Mrs. Schuyler:

"I have just learned that you are Chairman of the U. D. C. Prize Committee at Teachers' College. I am indeed glad to have the opportunity of expressing to you and the great association you represent my sincere thanks and appreciation for the favor I have received at your hands. It is an honor of which I can justly feel proud. I shall always feel greatly indebted to the good ladies who compose the membership of the association of the United Daughters of the Confederacy that offers the prize for the best historical essay at Teachers' College. Very truly yours,

"H. M. MORROW."

Your committee would recommend that the United Daughters continue the appropriation of one hundred dollars annually for the prize. Respectfully submitted.

LEONORA ROGERS SCHUYLER, Chairman.
MRS. LIZZIE GEORGE HENDERSON.

REPORT OF EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

The Executive Board was called by the President-General to meet at the Marion Hotel Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock.

This meeting of the board was unusual, in that all members were present. Many questions pertaining to the work of the convention were informally discussed. Mrs. Raines reported that she had investigated the patent for the U. D. C. badge, which she found had been secured by Theus & Company, of Savannah, Ga., in 1898, for seven years. The patent having expired in 1905, that badge was found to be on sale in New York and other places. Mrs. Raines submitted to the board prices from Whitehead & Hoag, of Newark, N. J., in lots of 25 each, for the badge with and without the bar. The Executive Board recommends that the convention consider this question and appoint a custodian for the sale of these badges by the U. D. C. to its members. The President-General stated to the board that she had notified Theus & Company to order no more of the badges from manufacturers until the convention had taken action on this matter.

Mrs. Robinson, Historian-General, asked that the board recommend that the rules governing the office of Historian-General, as presented by her at Houston, and by request, left as unfinished business, be the first order when unfinished business was reached on the program. Carried.

Respectfully submitted.

SECRETARY Executive Committee.

REPORT OF FINANCE COMMITTEE.

Madam President:

We, the Finance Committee, beg leave to report that we have examined the books, vouchers, etc., of the Recorder of Crosses, Recording Secretary-General and the Treasurer-General and find them correct in every detail.

This committee recommends that the officers who so carefully and faithfully keep the accounts of the Association be not required to keep an itemized account of the postage used by them in connection with their work.

Recommendations.

1. We, the committee, recommend that we do not supplement the amount appropriated by the Houston Convention for the David O. Dodd tablet.
2. That the Educational Committee be given the sum of $350 for the "Living Expense Fund" for the U. D. C. scholarship.
3. That the President-General appoint a committee to confer with the Finance Committee, together with the Treasurer-General, before any appropriation is made to the General Relief Fund.
4. In view of the inadvisability of making appropriations to individual chapters, we recommend that no appropriation be granted the Dalton Chapter. (Report continued.)
5. After carefully considering the financial condition of the treasury, we; the committee, recommend the adoption of the report submitted by the Committee on Relief Fund.
6. That the sum of $250 be given each to Shiloh and Arlington monuments.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. ROY W. MCKINNEY, Chairman.
MRS. W. L. KLINE,
MRS. RICHARD H. SANSOM,
MRS. NATHAN D. ELLER,
Committee.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON STATIONERY.

Madam President:

As Chairman of the Stationery Committee, my report will be very brief.

As the Chicago firm of Wm. Fremd & Sons was decided upon to furnish the official stationery, my duties were simply to give the orders, reply to letters and send samples. I received orders from the General Officers, and some of the State Presidents and Chapter Presidents; answered a number of letters and sent samples, but I regret this firm is not patronized as we would wish, some complaining of the price. Mr. Fremd reports his orders have amounted to as much as the past year, and in order to have the prices meet the demands of each chapter, he has made up samples with prices, which I have brought to the convention for the ladies to inspect. But ladies, as chairman of this Committee, I do not advise or encourage the members of this association to use the cheaper stationery. We love this title emblem, and I recommended the paper appropriately embossed. It will add prestige and dignity to our organization. Mr. Fremd has been very courteous and obliging, and has given me great assistance in this work.

I do hope the next year every chapter will be using the official stationery of the best grade. I am at your service in answering letters for information or filling orders.

Respectfully submitted.

MRS. J. W. HEATFIELD,
Chairman, Stationery Committee.

REPORTS OF SPECIAL COMMITTEES

REPORT OF SHILOH MONUMENT COMMITTEE.

Madam President and Members of the Convention:

It is with a feeling of greater encouragement than I have ever had that I make this fourth report of the Shiloh Monument Committee.

That does not mean that we can set a date for the end of our work or that exceedingly large amounts have been collected, but I feel so encouraged because the reports made to me by the State Directors show that the work done during the year has aroused a greater interest in Shiloh, especially in those States where apathy had existed, and what adds to my good humor is that they have expectations of even better results next year.

One factor in this, I think, was the good impetus given the work by the gift of $1,000 by the General Organization at Houston, for which we again express sincere thanks. Most of the States have held their own in the amount of their collections, while others have shown a decided increase, though we would welcome much larger contributions from all. Tennessee still holds first place in contributions, but the honor State this year is Florida. Last year Florida, on account of some local complications, sent only $29; this year she has sent about $250, nearly ten times as much as last year. Arkansas has sent eight times as much as last year; Alabama has sent seven times as much; North Carolina sent three times as much, and Joe Wheeler Chapter of Roswell, N. M., sent three times last year's contributions. A new and welcome contributor is Colorado.

The greatest disappointment has come from Albert Sydney Johnston's own State. We had hoped and expected so much from the Empire of Texas, and yet, though the collections are small, still they are twice those of 1909, so we hope Texas will yet do a great deal for Shiloh.

A later letter from the Texas Director has offset some of this disappointment, as it tells of a pledge from Mr. J. W. Terry of $200 to be paid "whenever we contract for the construction of the monument." Mr. Terry's father was killed at Shiloh.

How many, many sons and daughters could for like reason make donations to Shiloh and honor their fathers, for not hundreds, but thousands of heroes fell at Shiloh on those two fateful days.

The committee would ask all the chapters of the United Daughters of the Confederacy to study the history of the Shiloh campaign and realize the importance of this battle and what heroism and fortitude they will commemorate in this monument.

We ask that at your April meeting you will have a Shiloh program. Georgia studied the history of this battle last spring in one of the finest and most comprehensive outlines I have ever seen; I wish every chapter in the organization could have this same program to follow.

The Director-General has written personally several times to every State Director, and last March she sent out a circular plea in behalf of the Shiloh fund which, as reports show, was productive of good results.

The vacancies on the committee for Indiana, Montana and Utah were not filled during the past year, hence no reports and no contributions from them. Two new Directors were added, Arizona and Colorado; but the Arizona Director has never replied to my several letters. My letters to Mexico this year, as last year, came back to me unclaimed. We ask that all these places be filled by some one else.

The little god Cupid played us some pranks this year. He spirited out of their States' boundaries the Louisiana and West Virginia Directors, and therefore by the rules of the committee at organization caused vacancies in the directorate which have been filled lately. He also caused the secretaryship of the committee to become vacant; to this position Mrs. Hall of Arkansas has been elected.

I would remind you that Shiloh is still selling the handsome engravings of General Lee. Give us your orders for schools, colleges and homes; one-half the price goes to the Shiloh fund.

The committee has decided, if this Convention approve such action, to have made a Shiloh Badge for Shiloh Directors only, the same to be paid for by the Director personally and not out of the Shiloh fund.

The Treasurer of the Shiloh Monument Committee has been bonded to the United Daughters of the Confederacy in the sum of $8,000, and the fund is in turn bonded to the Treasurer by the City National Bank of Paducah, Ky., in which bank the fund is deposited; the expense of these bonds is paid for by this bank. Thus you see the fund is bonded twice. We are determined not to lose our hard-earned money.

I have seen the suggestion that since Arlington and Shiloh have been before the organization for several years that chapters should decide exactly how much they will give these monuments and give it now and then give no more.

Daughters, you can put an end to our coming before you for money—if you are tired of these pleas you know the remedy—give bountifully for Shiloh! We will gladly have you give all you intend to give in one sum if you will only make the sum big enough. But don't, don't give us a pittance, but give in proportion to the importance of the battle of Shiloh, give in proportion to your love for the heroes of the South, your love for the cause. Southern men did not hesitate to give their lives for the right. Shall we hesitate to give our dollars to commemorate their devotion?

More than 10,000 Confederates gave their lives at Shiloh, and this monument will not only be for them, but for the 600,000 men of the Confederacy who offered themselves as sacrifices to the cause of right. They deserve the best; let us give them the best.

Respectfully submitted,

REPORT OF CHAIRMAN OF EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE,
ARLINGTON CONFEDERATE MONUMENT
ASSOCIATION.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 5, 1910.

To Mrs. Virginia Faulkner McSherry, President U. D. C.:

From the Executive Committee of the Arlington Confederate Monument Association the undersigned, as Chairman, begs leave to submit the following report, covering the period October 1, 1909, to October 1910:

Every member of your committee has exhibited throughout the past year a constantly increasing interest in the great work you have committed into our hands, and it was gratifying and inspiring to us all that you, Madam, the President of the U. D. C., should have personally attended our meeting in November, 1910.

With the sanction and at the request of the committee, the undersigned accepted the invitation of the efficient and enthusiastic head of the Alabama Daughters, Mrs. Cory, to deliver an address at Birmingham, Ala., on Arlington Monument Day, in October, 1909, and on the same trip he also spoke in behalf of the monument at Brewton, Ala.

At our December, 1909, meeting occurred the biennial election of officers of the committee. All the officers were re-elected except Mrs. Arthur E. Johnson, who declining to serve, Mrs. Lillian Pike Roame was elected as Corresponding Secretary.

Our meetings are all held in Confederate Memorial Hall, without any expense for rent or light, and we have been careful not to use, except for such immediate and necessary purposes as stationery, printing, postage, etc., any of the money contributed for the monument.

The committee most heartily indorsed what seemed to them the most excellent scheme of Mrs. Edgar James of Alabama for Christmas seals, and we sincerely hope that your body will take measures to push that enterprise and that the monument fund will be largely increased thereby. Mrs. James appealed to the committee to aid this enterprise out of the funds on hand and some of the members did, as did also Camp 171, U. C. V., of this city, aid, with individual subscriptions, but we felt that we had no power, as a committee, to contribute from the monument fund.

This fund is still in the American Security and Trust Co., believed to be one of the soundest financial institutions in the country, and the interest upon it is being periodically computed.

The increase in the fund from October 1, 1909, to October 1, 1910, was $5,280.02, of which $1,003.50 was from the Arlington Memorial Committee. The details of this fund and the sources from which received will be reported to you by our Treasurer, Mr. Streater, whose zeal and efficiency cannot be too highly commended.

The committee at its October, 1910, meeting indorsed the proposal of the Daughters here to invite the Convention at Little Rock to hold its next meeting here, and Mrs. Merwin, the zealous and able President of the district, goes to the Convention to extend the invitation, which we hope may be accepted.

Since the 1st of October last the fund on hand has so increased that it now approximates $20,000. Encouraged by this accumulation, your committee confidently believes that if the scheme of selling the beautiful Christmas stamps is pushed, and if the patriotic Daughters who are to gather at Little Rock, will there resolve to make altogether one united effort, we shall see our monument completed within the course of the next three years. Within eighteen months we ought to have at least $35,000. This will be sufficient compensation for a first-class artist, to whom we should look for, not only for the figure or figures, but for the contour and dimensions of the pedestal and of every stone from the foundation up. That will be a glorious day when we shall behold at Arlington a memorial to the South, her brave soldiers and devoted women, which shall be more beautiful, more artistic and more inspiring than any one of the many monuments to the Union dead now scattered over that cemetery. Please allow me to say for myself that I am now hopeful that I may, as I have long prayed, be able with my own eyes to see it.

With the highest respect, I am, yours fraternally,

HILARY A. HERBERT,
Chairman Executive Committee, A. M. A.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 1, 1910.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON DESIGN FOR THE ARLINGTON
CONFEDERATE MONUMENT.

The members of this committee are Judge Seth Shepard, Colonel Hilary A. Herbert, Dr. Randolph McKim, Mr. Wallace Streater and Mrs. Marion Butler, representing the Executive Committee of the Arlington Confederate Monument Association; Mrs. Thos. W. Keith, South Carolina State Director, A. C. M. A., and Mrs. Cornelia Branch Stone, Chairman, representing the U. D. C. at large, and elected to this position at the General Convention, U. D. C., held in Houston, Tex., in October, 1909.

The committee has held three meetings, the first on May 16, 1910, at the home of Col. Herbert, in Washington, D. C., at which a design suggested by Dr. McKim was adopted, with a belief that all of the Confederate organizations would approve. This was a recommendation that the monument to be erected in the Arlington National Cemetery to the Confederate dead who sleep there "shall represent General Robert E. Lee, at the battle of the Wilderness, when he placed himself at the head of his soldiers to recover a lost position, and was prevented from leading the charge by a private soldier, who sprang forward and seized his bridle, both figures to be represented." This design was not intended as a monument to General Lee, but to represent the highest type of the Confederate soldier and leader, and to show the relation between this great Confederate chieftain and the private in the rank.

No steps had been taken to execute this plan, and when the committee met on October 31, 1910, at the "Portland," in the apartments of Mrs. Marion Butler, Washington, D. C., Dr. McKim asked to withdraw his suggested design, in consideration of the protests against it, and recommended that a sculptor be selected as the first step in the committee's work, an artist of renown, in whom the utmost confidence could be placed as to ability and one who would be fully equipped to meet the desires of the organizations which are erecting the memorial.

Colonel Herbert suggested Sir Moses Ezekiel, if his service could be secured, and stated that he was then in Virginia, where he had been placing some of his work in the University of Virginia, and that it would be well for the committee to see him before he left for Rome, Italy. In view of the value of a personal interview with the sculptor, the Chairman asked Colonel Herbert to try to secure the presence of Sir Moses Ezekiel in Washington without delay.

On November 5 Colonel Herbert called upon the Chairman, with Sir Moses Ezekiel and Mr. Thomas Nelson Page. After full discussion it was decided to call a meeting of the Committee on Design at once, and Sir Moses Ezekiel was requested to present to the committee his proposed design, he having stated that he had been giving much thought to this subject since coming to America, and that it had been a long-cherished desire to model a great memorial to the Confederate soldier and the cause of the South.

He was one of the cadets at the Virginia Military Institute that fought the battle of Newmarket, and did valiant service in repelling the raid of General Hunter into Virginia. After the close of the war between the States he studied sculpture in Rome, Italy, and has been several times knighted for the excellence of his work, notably by the King of Italy, Emperor of Germany, and other European rulers; but all through his successful career abroad he has kept the faith to the service of the South and her people, and, at his own expense, has placed a memorial on the battlefield of Newmarket and filled an order for a statue to Stonewall Jackson, now placed in Charlestown, W. Va., also made a statue of Thomas Jefferson for the University of Virginia, and donated to that institution a fine work of art, representing the Greek poet, Homer.

Mr. Thomas Nelson Page, a man of high literary and artistic culture, and of wide travel, who has seen much of the work of Sir Moses Ezekiel, advised the committee that this commission could not be placed in better hands. The committee met at the residence of Colonel Herbert, with five members present, as follows:

Judge Seth Shepard, Colonel Hilary A. Herbert, Mr. Wallace Streater, Mrs. Marion Butler and Mrs. Cornelia Branch Stone, Chairman.

Dr. McKim was called out of the city on imperative duties, but before leaving had agreed, at the meeting on October 31, to the selection of Sir Moses Ezekiel to do this work; Mrs. Keith, the other absent member, had written the Chairman that it was impossible to be present.

After full discussion of the design presented, on motion of Mr. Wallace Streater, it was unanimously decided to give the commission to Sir Moses Ezekiel. The Chairman asked Colonel Herbert to call a meeting of the Executive Committee, Arlington Confederate Monument Association, to enter into terms and arrange the contract for the execution and placing of the monument.

The Committee on Design feel that the securing of such a sculptor is very fortunate, and full confidence is had that satisfactory results will be realized. The Chairman has endeavored to fulfill the duties conferred upon her, and in so doing spent a month in Washington, D. C., where a majority of the committee are located, both in the spring and fall, at her own expense, trying to secure a full meeting of the members of the committee, but could not secure more than five at each meeting, never less than that number.

Respectfully submitted,

CORNELIA BRANCH STONE, Chairman.
 JUDGE SETH SHEPARD,
 COLONEL HILARY A. HERBERT,
 DR. RANDOLPH MCKIM,
 MRS. MARION BUTLER,
 MRS. THOS. W. KEITH,

REPORT OF TRANSPORTATION COMMITTEE.

Madam President and Daughters of the Confederacy:

We, the Transportation Committee of the General Association of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, appointed to secure rates for the Annual Convention to be held in Little Rock, Ark., in November, 1910, beg leave to submit the following report:

Mrs. T. N. Doyle of this city, chairman of the Transportation Committee, having resigned to go abroad, at her request, the President-General appointed me Chairman. I have proved true the old saying that "Fools rush in where angels fear to tread." I accepted, not being aware of the magnitude of the undertaking, and I heaved a sigh of relief when the last circular was addressed and mailed. We have tried to secure the lowest rates possible over as many lines as possible with as much information concerning rates as we could get.

Wishing you a helpful and delightful sojourn in the "City of Roses," we assure you the matter of securing rates has been a labor of love, and we are glad that we have been instrumental in getting you here.

I attach herewith the amount of expense incurred by the Chairman.

Very respectfully yours,

MRS. SAMUEL PRESTON DAVIS,
Chairman Transportation Committee, U. D. C.

Nov. 9, 1910.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON SCHOLARSHIP AT TEACHERS' COLLEGE, COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY:

Madam President-General and United Daughters of the Confederacy:

At the convention of this body held at Houston last year, Florida, which was the next recipient of the scholarship at Teachers' College, Columbia University, declined to accept it, before laying the matter before the State Board, owing to the fact that Columbia University did not debar negroes.

Immediately after the convention your chairman notified the President of the Florida Division that on her return to New York she would ask Dean Russell to withdraw the scholarship, thus relieving the President of the Florida Division of the embarrassment of placing the matter before her division. Dr. Russell was absent during November, but as soon as he returned your chairman made the request, and the following circular was sent to all chapters and Division Presidents immediately on the receipt of the minutes containing the names and addresses of the officers of chapters.

To Presidents of Chapters:

The Committee on Scholarship in Teachers' College, Columbia University, requests that the following letter be read to your chapter, in order to prevent the sending to Mrs. C. B. Tate, Treasurer-General, of money in payment of pledges made at the convention or the United Daughters of the Confederacy held in Houston, Texas, on October 19-23, 1909, for the living expenses of the student to be selected by the United Daughters of the Confederacy as the holder of the scholarship at Teachers' College, Columbia University, New York City, for the year 1910-1911.

LEONORA ROGERS SCHUYLER, Chairman.

Teachers' College, Columbia University, Office of the Dean.

New York, December 8, 1909.

Mrs. Livingston Rowe Schuyler,

567 West 139th Street, New York City.

Dear Mrs. Schuyler:

I have heard of the objections raised in the recent meeting of the United Daughters of the Confederacy to the acceptance of assistance from Teachers' College by Southern students. Since we cannot undertake to discriminate against any section of the country, or refuse our aid to worthy students who may profitably use it, it may be best, for the sake of harmony, not to renew the scholarship offered to a student recommended by the United Daughters of the Confederacy. While there is less than ten per cent of Southern students in our student body, my own interest in the South has led me during the past ten years to approve the assignment to students coming from the Southern States of more than half of the amount devoted to the support of student scholarships. Naturally, I shall hope to continue this assistance so long as it can be well used and is welcomed by those who receive it.

I am, believe me, sincerely yours,

(Signed) JAS. E. RUSSELL, Dean.

Miss Elsie Timberlake, the scholar sent by Mississippi for the year 1908-1909, received her B. A. degree in June, 1909. In expressing her thanks, Miss Timberlake says:

"My Dear Mrs. Schuyler:

"Last fall I was so absorbed in the wonders of New York that the U. D. C. convention came and went before I had an opportunity to say a word of thanks for the scholarship. Then it was a source of keen regret to me, but now I am glad, for since the year is over I am in so much better position to realize the magnitude of the opportunity you have given me. Nowhere else in the world could I have had such training. Here I have done practical teaching in one of the best schools in the country. Here I have seen class work carried on by highly trained specialists, and here I have listened daily to scholars of international reputation.

"Every day, every hour, has given me added strength, and new inspiration for my work.

"When you consider these things you will readily realize how difficult it is to express my gratitude in the compass of a few small pages, but when the year is over and I return to the South, I will strive to make my years here tell for the betterment of our home schools and teachers. So may your work be perpetuated and generations yet unborn reap the benefit of the Columbia College scholarship.

"With sincere good wishes and heartfelt thanks, I am,

"Most sincerely yours,

"ELSIE TIMBERLAKE."

The work done by Miss Timberlake has been of such an excellent character that the U. D. C. may well be proud of her.

She has received from Dean Russell a scholarship remitting all tuition fees for the year 1910-1911, and the New York Chapter of U. D. C. has contributed two hundred ($200.00) dollars towards her living expenses, feeling that they could do no better educational work for the coming year.

The work of this special committee having ended with this report, it is requested that it be dismissed.

Respectfully submitted,

LEONORA ROGERS SCHUYLER,
Chairman of Committee.
MISS MILDRED RUTHERFORD.
MRS. JOSEPH B. DIBRELL.

REPORT OF THE HAYES MEMORIAL COMMITTEE.

Madam President and Ladies:

Your committee appointed to carry out your purpose to erect in the Church of the Redeemer in Biloxi a "Memorial Communion Table or Reredos" to honor the memory of Mrs. Margaret Howell Jefferson Davis Hayes, eldest daughter of President Jefferson Davis, after investigation, decided to erect an altar and reredos, since either would look incomplete without the other. Designs were submitted by Upjohn & Conable, Spaulding & Co. and Gorham & Co., and the committee unanimously decided to award the contract to Upjohn & Conable of New York. Accordingly a contract was made with this firm for the memorial to be in place by Nov. 1, 1910, at the cost of $500, half of which was to be paid when the altar and reredos were finished and the remainder on Dec. 1, 1910. Three members of the committee of five have seen the altar since its completion, and express themselves as satisfied, and the rector of the Church of the Redeemer, Rev. Chas. J. Crawford, wrote on Nov. 2: "The altar and reredos are up—you will like them. They are just beautiful, greatly admired by all—no improvement possible." It is made of fumed oak, and has three brass tablets on it, on which is the following:

"To the glory of God, and in memory of Margaret Howell Jefferson Davis Hayes, Daughter of Jefferson Davis, President of the Confederate States."

"O, come, let us sing unto the Lord:

Let us heartily rejoice in the strength of our salvation."

"Erected by the United Daughters of the Confederacy, MDCCCCX."

After consultation with the President-General, the Chairman concluded to send invitations to the presentation of the altar and reredos on Nov. 17 to the following list:

- All General Officers of the U. D. C.
- The General Commanding and the Adjutant of the U. C. V.
- The General Commanding and the Adjutant of the U. S. C. V.
- Division Presidents and their Divisions.
- Chapter Presidents and their Chapters (in States where there are no Divisions).
- Honorary Presidents of the U. D. C.
- Ex-Presidents-General of the U. D. C.
- President of the C. S. M. A.
- The rector of the Church of the Redeemer and his parish.
- The officials and residents of the Jefferson Davis Memorial Home at Beauvoir.
- Mr. J. Addison Hayes and his children.
- A list of Mrs. Hayes' friends and relatives, furnished by Mr. Hayes and his daughter.
- The members of the Hayes Memorial Committee.
- And to the architects.

The invitations were ordered from the U. D. C. stationer, Wm. Freund & Sons, at a cost of $12, with $2 additional for 100 2-cent stamps. These invitations were all sent on Nov. 1, except the ones for the U. S. C. V. The Chairman of the committee wrote to the General Commanding until the Mobile Reunion and asked for their names and addresses. but up to this date has received no reply to her letter. She has the invitations with her, and if any one can give her this information, she will send them, and it was found that there were none left for the members of your committee, so feeling sure that they would not want an extra hundred ordered, that they might receive them, the Chairman just left them off.

The chapters on the Mississippi coast and parish of the church and your committee are anxious for as many as can possibly do so to attend the presentation ceremonies on the 17th.

Respectfully submitted,

LIZZIE GEORGE HENDERSON,
Chairman.

REPORT OF THE CONFEDERATE MEMORIAL LITERARY SOCIETY.

To the General Convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy,
Little Rock, Ark., November, 1910:

The Confederate Memorial Literary Society sends cordial congratulations to the United Daughters of the Confederacy in convention assembled.

The Society takes great pleasure in presenting to you its Year-Book for 1910, completing twenty years of active service and effort to bring its work to a state of efficiency which will give to the world the truth concerning conditions in the South during her struggle for her rights, as well as to keep in eternal remembrance the courage and fidelity with which her sons fought for them.

This pleasure and pride is sorely marred by our deep sorrow and loss in the death of our honored and beloved President since the publication of this book.

Without her devotion to the cause, her active and energetic interest, always so keen and alert; her wise forethought, judgment and counsel, her strong personality, influencing all whom she approached in its behalf, her generous giving of herself, of all that she was and had, this work could never have been accomplished.

You Daughters can never know what is due to the unselfish and unfailing patience and labor of the women who represent you and your States—the Vice-Regents who labored with her through these twenty years. She could not have wrought out this successful issue without them, but it was she who made it possible and pressed it on to success. In her report to the Society, she quotes your motto, "Love Makes Memory Eternal," so may the love and gratitude we owe her make her "memory eternal," and wherever this work is spoken of, let her name be linked with it. Read her report carefully, and let us all strive to follow diligently her last words to us.

We send these words with the Year-Book to ask a thoughtful reading of all reports, that you may have an intimate knowledge of the interest and value that attaches to this building and its contents.

Of the thousands who come every year to this our shrine more than half are from the North and foreign countries, and many ask for information in a frank and friendly way, and are given facts and data which they could not obtain anywhere else.

It is a matter of congratulation that, after long continued effort, the portrait of the Hon. Judah P. Benjamin has been secured for the Museum through Mrs. W. J. Behan, Regent of Louisiana. This makes portraits of six members of Mr. Davis' Cabinet now upon our walls.

It is with joy and satisfaction that from year to year we see you making this work your own. Our ranks, like the "thin lines of gray," are growing thinner; we who can say "I remember this," "I saw that," we who washed the blood from the wounds, who fed the hungry when we ourselves lacked food, who soothed the dying and buried the dead, and for nearly half a century have cared for their graves, we cannot much longer be with you or carry on this work, and then it will pass into your keeping entirely. Knowing it as we do from the beginning, we can point out to you the greatest needs and we would ask you to bend your energy to accomplish three most important things—the work of the Southern Historical Manuscripts Commission, the Memorial Committee and the Endowment of the State Rooms.

You will see from the Year-Book that during the last year the dues of the annual members, the door fees and interest were not sufficient by almost one-half to meet expenses. These are the only means we have to rely on for the maintenance of the Museum. Amounts necessary to supplement this come from a balance on hand from bazaars and special efforts in the past. At present the expenses of the rooms, such as cleaning, attendance on visitors, heat, light and assistance from janitor, are met from the general fund. If each room had an endowment sufficient to bear a part of this expense, added to the endowment on hand and the door fees, an adequate support for all time would be assured.

To this end, the Regents and Vice-Regents are earnestly striving to secure an endowment of two thousand ($2,000) dollars for each room.

South Carolina, you will see, is far ahead at present, but North Carolina has promised to pay hers in full in two years' time. Texas is not far behind in her promises, and our outlying chapters under their Regent in California are making a special effort to complete their endowment.

And now we want to urge that you bring your Convention in 1911 to Richmond. We unite most heartily with the Virginia Division and the Richmond Chapter in their invitation to meet with us here. It has been a long time since we have had the pleasure of greeting you in your old capital, and we are looking forward to it and counting on it with a heart full of welcome.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. LIZZIE CARY DANIEL, Acting President.

MRS. W. N. HAMLET, Recording Secretary.

ORDINANCES OF SECESSION OF THE SOUTHERN STATES

COMPILED BY

MRS. S. E. F. ROSE, HISTORIAN MISSISSIPPI DIVISION
SOUTH CAROLINA.

December 20, 1860.

Vote of Convention—Unanimous.

GOVERNOR FRANCIS W. PICKENS.

An ordinance to dissolve the union between the State of South Carolina and other States united with her under the compact entitled the Constitution of the United States of America.

We, the people of the State of South Carolina, in convention assembled, do declare and ordain, and it is hereby declared and ordained, that the ordinance adopted by us in convention on the 23d day of May, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and eighty-eight, whereby the Constitution of the United States of America was ratified, and also all acts and parts of acts of the General Assembly of this State ratifying amendments of said Constitution, are hereby repealed, and that the union now subsisting between South Carolina and other States, under the name of the United States of America, is hereby dissolved.

Done at Charleston, the 20th day of December, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty.

MISSISSIPPI.

January 9, 1861.

Vote of convention, 84-15.

GOVERNOR JOHN J. PETTUS.

An ordinance to dissolve the union between the State of Mississippi and other States united with her, under the compact entitled the Constitution of the United States of America.

The people of the State of Mississippi, in convention assembled, do ordain and declare, and it is hereby ordained and declared, as follows, to-wit:

Section 1. That all the laws and ordinances by which the State of Mississippi became a member of the Federal Union of the United States of America, be and the same are hereby repealed, and that all obligations on the part of said State, or the people thereof, to observe the same be withdrawn, and that the said State doth hereby renounce all the rights, functions and powers by which any of said laws or ordinances were conveyed to the government of the said United States, and is absolved from all the obligations, restraints and duties incurred to the said Federal Union, and shall henceforth be a free, sovereign and independent State.

Sec. 2. That so much of the first section of the Seventh Article of the Constitution of this State as requires members of the Legislature and all officers, executive and judicial, to take an oath or affirmation to support the Constitution of the United States be and the same is hereby abrogated and annulled.

Sec. 3. That all rights acquired and vested under the Constitution of the United States or under any act of Congress, or treaty made in pursuance thereof, or under any law of this State, and not incompatible with this ordinance, shall remain in force and have the same effect as if this ordinance had not been passed.

Sec. 4. That the people of the State of Mississippi hereby consent to form a Federal Union with such of the States as may have seceded, or may secede, from the Union of the United States of America, upon the basis of the present Constitution of the said United States, except such parts thereof as embrace other portions than such seceding States.

Thus declared and ordained in convention, the 9th day of January, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one.

WILLIAM S. BARRY, President.

F. A. POPE, Secretary.

FLORIDA.

January 10, 1861.

Vote of Convention, 62-7.

GOVERNOR M. S. PERRY.

An ordinance to dissolve the union now existing between the State of Florida and other States united with her under the compact of government entitled the Constitution of the United States.

Whereas, All hope of preserving the Union upon terms consistent with the safety and honor of the slave-holding States has been finally dissipated by the recent indications of the strength of the anti-slavery sentiment of the free States; therefore

Be it resolved by the people of Florida, in convention assembled, That it is undoubtedly the right of the several States of the Union, at such time and for such cause as in the opinion of the people of such State, acting in their sovereign capacity, may be just and proper, and in the opinion of this Convention the existing causes are such as to compel Florida to proceed to exercise that right.

We, the people of Florida, in convention assembled, do solemnly ordain, publish and declare that the State of Florida hereby withdraws herself from the Confederacy of States, existing under the name of the United States of America, and from the existing government of the said States, and that all political connection between her and the government of said States ought to be and the same is hereby totally annulled, and said Union of States dissolved, and the State of Florida is hereby declared a sovereign and independent nation, and that all ordinances heretofore adopted insofar as they create or recognize said Union, are rescinded, and all laws or parts of laws in force in this State, insofar as they recognize or assent to said Union, be and they are hereby repealed.

ALABAMA.

January 11, 1861.

Vote of Convention, 61-39.

GOVERNOR ANDREW D. MOORE.

An ordinance to dissolve the union between the State of Alabama and other States united under the compact and style of the United States of America.

Whereas, The election of Abraham Lincoln and Hannibal Hamlin to the offices of President and Vice-President of the United States of America by a sectional party, avowedly hostile to the domestic institutions and the peace and security of the people of the State of Alabama, following upon the heels of many and dangerous infractions of the Constitution of the United States by many of the States and people of the northern section, is a political wrong of so insulting and menacing a character as to justify the people of the State of Alabama in the adoption of prompt and decided measures for their future peace and security.

Therefore, be it declared and ordained by the people of the State of Alabama, in convention assembled, That the State of Alabama now withdraws, and is hereby withdrawn, from the union known as "the United States of America," and henceforth ceases to be one of the said United States, and is and of right ought to be a sovereign and independent State.

Be it further resolved and ordained by the people of the State of Alabama, in convention assembled, That all the powers over the territory of said State and over the people thereof heretofore delegated to the government of the United States of America, be and they are hereby withdrawn from said government, and are hereby resumed and vested in the people of the State of Alabama.

Be it resolved by the people of Alabama, in convention assembled, That the people of the States of Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas, Tennessee, Kentucky and Missouri be and are hereby invited to meet the people of the State of Alabama by their delegates in convention on the 4th day of February, A. D. 1861, at the city of Montgomery, in the State of Alabama, for the purpose of consulting with each other as to the most effectual mode of securing concerted and harmonious action in whatever measures may be deemed most desirable for our common peace and security.

And be it further resolved, That the President of the Convention be and is hereby instructed to transmit forthwith a copy of foregoing preamble, ordinance and resolution to the Governors of the several States named in the resolutions.

Done by the people of the State of Alabama, in convention assembled, at Montgomery, on this the 11th day of January, A. D. 1861.

GEORGIA.

January 19, 1861.

Vote of Convention, 208-89.

GOVERNOR JOSEPH E. BROWN.

An ordinance to dissolve the union between the State of Georgia and other States united with her under a compact of government entitled the Constitution of the United States of America.

We the people of the State of Georgia, in convention assembled, do declare and ordain and it is hereby declared and ordained, that the ordinance adopted by the people of the State of Georgia, in convention, the 2d day of January, in the year of our Lord seventeen hundred and eighty-eight, whereby the Constitution of the United States of America was assented to, ratified and adopted, and also all acts and parts of acts of the General Assembly of this State ratifying and adopting amendments of the said Constitution, are hereby repealed, rescinded and abrogated.

We do further declare and ordain that the union now subsisting between the State of Georgia and States under the name of "the United States of America" is hereby dissolved and the State of Georgia is in full possession and exercise of all those rights of sovereignty which belong and appertain to a free and independent State.

LOUISIANA.

January 26, 1861.

Vote of Convention, 113-17.

GOVERNOR THOMAS OVERTON MOORE.

An ordinance to dissolve the union between the State of Louisiana and other States united with her under the compact entitled the Constitution of the United States of America.

We, the people of the State of Louisiana, in convention assembled, do declare and ordain, and it is hereby declared and ordained, That the ordinance passed by us in convention on the 22d of November, A. D. 1811, whereby the Constitution of the United States of America, and the amendments of said Constitution, were adopted, and all laws and ordinances by which the State of Louisiana became a member of the Federal Union, be and the same are hereby repealed and abrogated; and that the union now subsisting between Louisiana and other States under the name of the United States of America is hereby dissolved.

We do further declare and ordain, That the State of Louisiana hereby resumes all rights and powers heretofore delegated to the government of the United States of America; that the citizens are absolved from all allegiance to said government, and that she is in full possession and exercise of all those rights of sovereignty which appertain to an independent State.

We do further declare and ordain that all rights acquired and vested under the Constitution of the United States, or any act of Congress or treaty, or under any law of this State, and not incompatible with this ordinance, shall remain in force and have the same effect as if this ordinance had not been passed.

We, the people of Louisiana, recognize the right of free navigation of the Mississippi river and tributaries by all friendly States bordering thereon; we also recognize the right of the ingress and egress of the mouths of the Mississippi by all friendly States and powers, and hereby declare our willingness to enter into stipulations to guarantee the exercise of those rights.

TEXAS.

February 1, 1861.

Vote of Convention, 185-7.

GOVERNOR EDWARD CLARK.

An ordinance to dissolve the union between the State of Texas and the other States, entered into under the compact "The Constitution of the United States of America."

Section 1. Whereas, The Federal government has failed to accomplish the purpose of the compact of union between these States in giving protection either to the person of our people upon an exposed frontier or to the property of our citizens, and

Whereas, The action of the Northern States of the Union is violative of the compact between the States and the guarantees of the Constitution, and

Whereas, The recent developments in Federal affairs make it evident that the power of the Federal government is sought to be made a weapon with which to strike down the interests and prosperity of the people of Texas and her sister slave-holding States, instead of permitting it to be as was intended, our shield against outrage and aggression; therefore,

We, the people of the State of Texas, by delegates in convention assembled, do declare and ordain that the ordinance adopted by our convention of delegates on the fourth (4th) day of July, A. D. 1845, and afterwards ratified by us, under which the republic of Texas was admitted into the Union with other States, and became a party to the compact styled "The Constitution of the United States of America," be and is hereby repealed and annulled. That all the powers which by the said compact were delegated by Texas to the Federal government are revoked and resumed. That Texas is of right absolved from all restraints and obligations incurred by said compact, and is a separate sovereign State and her citizens and people are absolved from all allegiance to the United States or the government thereof.

Sec. 2. This ordinance shall be submitted to the people for their ratification or rejection by qualified voters, on the 23d day of February, 1861, and unless rejected by a majority of the votes cast shall take effect and be in force on and after the second (2d) day of March, A. D. 1861. Provided, that in the representative district of El Paso, said election may be held the 18th day of February, 1861.

Done by the people of the State of Texas, in convention assembled, at Austin, the first (1st) day of February, A. D. 1861. Ratified by the people Feb. 23—yeas 39,405; nays 13,841.

VIRGINIA.

April 17, 1861.

GOVERNOR JOHN LETCHER.

The people of Virginia, in ratification of the Constitution of the United States of America, adopted by them in convention on the 25th day of June, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and eighty-eight, having declared that the powers granted under said Constitution were derived from the people of the said United States, and might be resumed whensoever the same should be perverted to their injury and oppression, and the Federal government having perverted said powers not only to the injury of the people of Virginia, but to the oppression of the Southern slave-holding States; now, therefore,

We, the people of Virginia, do declare and ordain that the ordinance adopted by the people of this State, in convention, on the 25th day of June, one thousand seven hundred and eighty-eight, whereby the Constitution of the United States of America was ratified, and all acts of the General Assembly of the State ratifying or adopting amendments to said Constitution, are hereby repealed and abrogated; that the union between the State of Virginia and the other States under the Constitution aforesaid is hereby dissolved, and that the State of Virginia is in the full possession and exercise of all the rights of sovereignty which belong and appertain to a free and independent State; and they do further declare that the Constitution of the said United States of America is no longer binding on any of the citizens of this State. This ordinance shall take effect and be an act of this day when ratified by a majority of the votes of the people of this State, cast at a poll to be taken thereon on the fourth Thursday in May next, in pursuance of a schedule to be hereafter enacted.

Done in convention in the city of Richmond, on the 17th day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one, and in the eighty-fifth year of the Commonwealth of Virginia.

JOHN L. EUBANK,
Secretary of Convention.

ARKANSAS.

May 6, 1861.

Vote of Convention, 69-1.

GOVERNOR HENRY M. RECTOR.

An ordinance to dissolve the union now existing between the State of Arkansas and the other States united with her under the compact entitled the Constitution of the United States of America.

Whereas, In addition to the well founded cause of complaint set forth by this Convention in resolutions adopted on the 11th of March, A. D. 1861, against the sectional party now in power at Washington City, headed by Abraham Lincoln, he has, in the face of resolutions passed by this Convention, pledging the State of Arkansas to resist to the last extremity any attempt on the part of such power to coerce any State that seceded from the old union, proclaimed to the world that war should be waged against such States until they should be compelled to submit to their rule, and large forces to accomplish this have by the same power been called out and are now being marched to carry out this inhuman design, and longer to submit to such rule or remain in the old union of the United States would be disgraceful and ruinous to the State of Arkansas; therefore,

We, the people of the State of Arkansas, in convention assembled, do declare and ordain and it is hereby declared and ordained that "the ordinance and acceptance of compact," passed and approve by the General Assembly of the State of Arkansas on the 18th of October, A. D. 1836, whereby it was by said General Assembly ordained that by virtue of the authority vested in said General Assembly, by the provisions of the ordinance adopted by the convention of delegates assembled at Little Rock, for the purpose of forming a Constitution and system of government for said State, the proposition set forth in "an act supplementary to an act entitled an act for the admission of the State of Arkansas into the Union, and to provide for the due execution of the laws of the United States within the same, and for other purposes, were freely accepted, ratified and irrevocably confirmed articles of compact and union between the State of Arkansas and other States," and all other laws and every other law and ordinance whereby the State of Arkansas became a member of the Federal Union be and the same are hereby in all respects and for every purpose herewith consistent repealed, abrogated and fully set aside, and the union now subsisting between the State of Arkansas and the other States under the name of the United States of America is hereby forever dissolved.

And we do further declare and ordain that the State of Arkansas resumes to herself all rights and powers heretofore delegated to the government of the United States of America; that her citizens are absolved from all allegiance to said government of the United States, and that she is in full possession and exercise of all rights and sovereignty which appertain to a free and independent State.

We do further ordain and declare that all rights acquired and vested under the Constitution of the United States of America, or of any act or acts of Congress or treaty or under any law of this State and not incompatible with this ordinance, shall remain in full force and effect, in no wise altered or impaired, and have the same effect as if this ordinance had not been passed.

Adopted and passed in open convention on the 6th day of May, A. D. 1861.

ELIAS C. BANDINOT,
Secretary of the Arkansas State Convention.

NORTH CAROLINA.

May 20, 1861.
GOVERNOR JOHN W. ELLIS.

We, the people of the State of North Carolina, in convention assembled, do declare and ordain and it is hereby declared and ordained, That the ordinance adopted by the State of North Carolina, in the Convention of 1789, whereby the Constitution of the United States was ratified and adopted, and also all acts and parts of acts of the General Assembly ratifying and adopting amendments to the said Constitution, are hereby repealed, rescinded and abrogated.

We do further declare and ordain, That the union now subsisting between the State of North Carolina and the other States, under the title of the United States of America, is hereby dissolved, and that the State of North Carolina is in the full possession and exercise of all those rights of sovereignty which belong and appertain to a free and independent State.

Done at Raleigh, the 20th day of May, in the year of our Lord 1861.

We, the people of North Carolina, in convention assembled, do declare and ordain, and it is hereby declared and ordained, that the State of North Carolina does hereby assent to and ratify the "Constitution for the Provisional Government of the Confederate States of America," adopted at Montgomery, in the State of Alabama, on the 8th of February, 1861 by the convention of delegates from the States of South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana, and that North Carolina will enter into the Federal Association of States upon the terms therein proposed, when admitted by the Congress or any competent authority of the Confederate States.

Done at Raleigh on the 20th day of May, in the year of our Lord 1861.

TENNESSEE.

June 8, 1861.

PROCLAMATION

By Isham G. Harris, Governor of the State of Tennessee.

To All (to) Whom These Presents Shall Come. Greeting:

Whereas, By the act of the General Assembly of the State of Tennessee, passed May 6, 1861, an election was held on the 8th day of June, 1861, in the several counties of the State, in accordance therewith, upon the ordinance of "separation" and "representation," and also,

Whereas, It appears from the official returns of said election (thereto appended) that the people of the State of Tennessee have in their sovereign will and capacity, by an overwhelming majority, cast their votes for separation, dissolving all political connection with the late United States government, and adopted the Provisional Government of the Confederate States of America.

Now, therefore, I, Isham G. Harris, Governor as aforesaid, do "make it known and declare all connection by the State of Tennessee with the Federal Union dissolved, and that Tennessee is a free, independent government, free from all obligation to or connection with the Federal government of the United States of America."

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the great seal of the State to be affixed, at the Department in Nashville, on this the 24th day of June, A. D. 1861.

ISHAM G. HARRIS.

By the Governor:

J. E. R. RAY, Secretary of State.

MISSOURI.

October 21, 1861.

GOVERNOR CLAIBORNE F. JACKSON.

Act of secession passed by the Legislature on October 21, 1861, at Neosho, Newton County, Missouri.

KENTUCKY.

November 18, 1861.

GOVERNOR GEORGE W. JOHNSON.

Ordinance of secession passed at convention held at Russellville, Ky., on the 18th of November, 1861.

N. B.--The above named Governors were in office at the time ordinance of secession was passed.

These historic documents, each a Declaration of Independence of a sovereign State and so closely allied with the birth of the Confederacy, "That nation that rose so white and fair and fell so free of crime," should be preserved in compact form, so as to be easily and readily referred to by the student of Confederate history. With this object in view, the above compilation of the ordinances of secession of the Southern States in chronological order has been made by Mrs. S. E. F. Rose, Historian, Mississippi Division, U. D. C.

DIVISION REPORTS

ALABAMA DIVISION.

Madam President and Daughters of the Confederacy:

As I review the work of the Alabama Division I am deeply impressed with the faithfulness, self-sacrifice and intense interest of our women in all things Confederate, and also with the splendid results of their organized efforts.

I come bearing to you from these earnest women pledges of loyalty and expressions of genuine interest and regard. They will follow your deliberations with close attention and will stand by you in carrying out plans for the strengthening and enlarging of our great organization.

We have to report seven new chapters chartered, four hundred and sixty-three certificates signed, three thousand six hundred and ten applications for membership registered, three monuments unveiled, at Centerville, Russellville and Demopolis respectively; three others in process of erection, at Prattville, Opelika and Tuscumbia. The Vice-President, Mrs. Newson, has dilligently collected and published data concerning all Confederate monuments in the State. We have contributed to Arlington monument fund, $395, and to Shiloh monument, $67.50.

The Alabama window at Old Blandford Church was unveiled, with five others, June 3rd. As State President I have had a small brass plate placed on the window to indicate that this is a memorial to the soldiers from the U. D. C. of Alabama.

The division has placed fourteen scholarships. Of these three are endowed, valued at fourteen hundred dollars, each of which brings in one hundred and twelve dollars annually in interest. Two others are given to the General U. D. C. Quarterly reports of the holders of these scholarships are sent to the State President that the division may keep in touch with the work being done. There are also a number of local scholarships, some chapters furnishing books and clothing to children attending public schools. Opelika claims the honor of being the first chapter in the U. D. C. to establish a scholarship of this character.

We have twenty-nine chapters of the children and three others in process of formation. The children are enthusiastic and appear eager to work under the leadership of their director, Mrs. James Hicks, of Talladega. A large number of medals are offered in the local schools by chapters, while the President of the division gives a medal to the child answering most correctly certain historical questions which are sent out through the State Director. The President also gives a silk Confederate flag to the auxiliary that shows the greatest improvement along all lines. One of the most attractive features of our annual convention is the children's hour, which seems to be the mothers' hour as well. We have an auxiliary in Montgomery with one hundred and twenty members, and these children gave a unique entertainment to the Daughters at the State Convention. Our Children of the Confederacy are our pride, and we realize that the hope of our work in the years to come depends upon the children of today.

"I took a piece of plastic clay,
 And idly moulded it one day
 And as my fingers pressed it, still
 It moved and yielded to my will.
 I came again when days were past
 The bit of clay was hard at last;
 The form I gave it still it bore,
 But I could change its form no more.

I took a piece of living clay
 And gently formed it day by day,
 And molded with my power and art,
 A young child's soft and yielding heart.

I came again when years were gone;
 It was a man I looked upon;
 He still that early impress bore,
 But I could change him never more."

There is a wonderful revival of interest in everything pertaining to the Confederacy, its people, their former environments, customs, history, etc. In a number of the States departments of history are being organized. To quote the Alabama Historian: "What the organizing of the Confederate Veterans, the Daughters of the Confederacy and the Sons of Veterans has been to the present generation, the historical departments will be to the future. Where the former have established the dignity of the Confederate cause and emphasized the integrity of those who sought to maintain it, history must perpetuate the results of their work." Hence, the Alabama Historian is diligently collecting articles of historic interest, offering as an incentive a jewelled badge to the one sending in the best paper. Her plan is to submit these papers to a committee, and after the best of these are selected to compile them. She has issued an historical year book to assist chapters in arranging programs.

This year will be set apart in the midst of the years in our Confederate annals in that our State has again enjoyed the distinguished honor of having as its guests in the Gulf City, Mobile, the Veterans and Sons of Veterans. The Daughters of Mobile, on a special flag day, raised two thousand three hundred dollars with which they furnished two rest and refreshment rooms for the Veterans. A number of distinguished Daughters attended the reunion. It was apparent to all that while the lines are rapidly thinning, still the spirit of the Confederacy is as much alive in the year 1910 as it was on that day of fate when Lee bade his soldiers a sorrowful farewell. Many Alabama chapters made possible a trip to the reunion for a number of Veterans, notably, the William L. Yancey, of Birmingham, raised five hundred dollars and paid the expenses of seventy-one soldiers. The crippled and infirm of this number were furnished a tallyho that they might be a part of the great parade. The youngest chapter, the Pettus-Roden, also of Birmingham, chartered in October with over fifty members, "has inaugurated a great and much needed work for the benefit of a class of humanity too often forgotten or overlooked in the world's turmoils and struggles—a Home for aged Confederate women."

A chapter that starts out with such ideals must succeed. The Montgomery chapters, besides royally entertaining the division, are assisting the Sons to erect the Lomax Memorial arch.

A small chapter at Blocton is working for a memorial hall. Every chapter has a definite purpose and all are doing intelligent, helpful work. The Sons of Veterans of our State have given the contract to build an annex to the hospital at the Soldiers' Home and the Daughters have the funds in hand for furnishing the same. The State provides liberally for its soldiers, but they remain our first care and there is much we may do to lighten the way.

"The bird of time has but a little way to flutter, and the bird is on the wing."

It is with a feeling akin to pride that the division urges the Daughters to endorse the Confederate seal designed by our Mrs. Edgar James, of Florence, Ala., to be sold for the benefit of Arlington monument. This will make possible the early completion of this splendid memorial to our Confederate heroes.

While appreciating all departments of our work, for all are worthy, we, of Alabama, feel constrained to give special emphasis to the education of the sons and daughters of the soldiers. In an address before the Sons of Veterans at the reunion, I urged the sons to unite with the daughters in a great educational crusade, to raise a large fund and endow scholarships in our Southern institutions, and in the mountainous districts, and so lend helping hearts and hands in providing for the child of the Confederate soldier the opportunity the negro child has and is using, and by this help to lift the curse illiteracy from the Southern States.

Mrs. L. M. Bashinsky, Troy, Ala., will soon issue an attractively and carefully arranged cook book for the benefit of the Confederate educational fund. All recipes will be submitted to an expert caterer for approval. The book will contain only tried recipes; it will also have a number of special menus, many interesting contests and questions and valuable suggestions as to serving, decorating, etc. Recipes with your name signed officially are requested. Any Division President may confer with her and arrange to sell this cook book for her State.

The endowed scholarship named in honor of our most distinguished Daughter, Mrs. Virginia Clay-Clopton, was raised with little effort, the greater part of the amount having been contributed in less than twenty minutes at the last State convention, the presence of this elect woman, a grand dame of the sixties, being the chief inspiration of the giving. The Daughters individually and for their chapters vied with one another in bringing their gifts until, as President, I was impelled to say, "stay your hand." Mrs. L. M. Bashinsky, the indefatigable Chairman of the Scholarship Committee, decided that the Virginia Clay-Clopton scholarship should become immediately effective and so raised an additional hundred dollars without waiting for the interest to fall due, that the loved Daughter, whose name it bears, might enjoy the knowledge that a girl, even now, is a recipient of the advantages accruing from this fund. There is a great and increasing interest on the part of the State at large in the educational work of the Daughters and this has been stimulated and developed chiefly through the educational and scholarship committees.

Daughters, let us determine to educate the soldiers' children and in the words of Albert Pike, of Arkansas, in his "Dixie:"

"Shoulder pressing close to shoulder,
Let the odds make each heart bolder;
Declare upon your country's altar
Never to submit or falter.
Halt not till our Federation
Secures among earth's powers, its station!
Then at peace and crowned with glory
Hear your children tell the story.

BISBEE, ARIZONA.

To the President-General and Daughters of the U. D. C.:

The Albert Sidney Johnston Chapter No. 1199, of Bisbee, Arizona, sends greetings and wishes for each of you a pleasant and profitable convention in Little Rock.

This chapter, the only one in Arizona, has eighteen members, and has been in existence since May, 1909. We have sent $5.50 to the Arlington monument and $2.50 to the Shiloh monument fund. The birthdays of General R. E. Lee and President Jefferson Davis have been observed with suitable public exercises.

Bisbee, Arizona, November, 1910.

ARKANSAS.

Madam President and Daughters of the Confederacy:

Again, in the name of the Daughters of Little Rock and the Arkansas Division U. D. C., let me extend a most earnest and heartfelt welcome.

Apart from the pleasure of having you with us, am sure your coming will arouse greater interest in our work, and prove a benefit in many ways.

Our State convention, held two weeks ago, was in the nature of a home-coming, as we were the guests of Pat Cleburne Chapter, of Hope, the first chapter organized in Arkansas. The gracious hospitality extended the visitors made the occasion one long to be remembered.

Four monuments and one memorial fountain have been unveiled during the year. The memorial fountain was unveiled in April by the H. G. Bunn Chapter, of El Dorado. Monuments were unveiled by David O. Dodd Chapter of Pine Bluff, July 22nd, by T. C. Hindman Chapter, of Lonoke, October 20th, by Captain McConnel Chapter of Lake Village, October 28th. The granite boulder to the Confederate Women of Arkansas, by the J. M. Kellar Chapter, November 9th. Contracts have been given for five monuments to be completed in the near future. One by one are these mute sentinels being erected to the memory of the men who wore the grey, as a proof to future generations that "He wins the most who honor saves; success is not the test."

Three new chapters have been added to our roll. Robert H. Crockett, N. C. Denson and Robert A. Dowdle. An increase in the membership of many chapters is shown by the number of certificates sent out. The last payment on the Prairie Grove Memorial Park has been made, and it was dedicated last August, during the reunion of the Veterans of Northwest Arkansas. Contributions by many chapters have been given to Arlington, Shiloh and the Jefferson Davis Home Association; also the Arkansas Room in the Richmond Museum. Fifty-five dollars were given by twelve chapters to the Confederate seal fund. The annual Christmas tree to the Old Veterans was given at the Home. A worthy son of the Confederate Veteran is reaping the benefit of the Arkansas U. D. C. scholarship in the State University. A scholarship in Little Rock College, and three business college scholarships are now within the gift of the Arkansas Division. The growing interest in educational work is most gratifying. A number of pictures of Confederate heroes have been placed in our schools, and several school buildings named for noted men of Southern history. The State Registrar reported more than 2,500 names upon her roll. Our Historian's report is always up to the standard, but we would like to see among the chapters more interest manifested in collecting personal reminiscences and unwritten history, but the growing interest in the study of Confederate history is very satisfactory. Memorial day, the birthdays of President Davis, General Lee and David O. Dodd are specially commemorated. A flag was sent by the Arkansas Division to Richmond to be used for decorating the Arkansas column of the Jefferson Davis monument. The care of the cemeteries, and the marking of Confederate graves has been the special work of some of the chapters. Ten Children of the Confederacy chapters have been organized, one the Margaret Rose of Little Rock, having seventy-five members. The grim messenger has taken from us many of our most valued members, and it is with sad hearts and bitter regret we realize that "To the past go more dead faces every year. As the loved leave vacant places, every year."

Respectfully submitted.

MRS. ORLANDO HALLIBURTON.

CALIFORNIA DIVISION.

Madam President and Members of the Convention:

It is with much regret that I cannot personally present my report to you, but shall hope to be with you next year.

California Division is active and increasing in numbers, and at our last convention, held at Del Monte, we had a most enjoyable and enthusiastic meeting. We had five invitations from different parts of the State to convene, and decided to hold our convention at Venice, assisted by the Los Angeles Chapter. There is a promise of a chapter being formed at Venice.

I have also been working to form a chapter at Ukiah, in the northern part of the State, as there are a number of Southern ladies residing there.

We have been straightening out our chapter lists, and putting them on a more business-like basis, dropping members who have been lost sight of for several years, and have not been interested in coming to the meetings and paying their dues, and we have 1,284 members and twenty-two chapters.

The Shiloh and Arlington monument directors have been quite active, and gave good reports at the State convention, and great interest is being manifested in holding our next National Convention at Washington, D. C., where the cornerstone of the Arlington monument will be laid.

The Albert Sydney Johnston Chapter has endowed a scholarship in the University of California for $3,500, whereby the son or daughter of a member of the Albert Sydney Johnston Chapter can be assisted through their university course by using the interest of the endowment, to return it, if able, later.

We have assisted many Veterans and needy Southern women by our charity funds, and have always sent flowers and laurel wreaths to honor our dead.

The chapters all report observing the birthdays of Jefferson Davis and Robert E. Lee, and the Albert Sydney Johnston Chapter also observed the birthday of Admiral Semmes, September 27th, and I would suggest it would be very fitting to make this a general observance, as Admiral Semmes' record was a most marverous one, and as the only admiral in the Confederate service, should be nonored and revered.

Wishing every success to the Little Rock convention, I am much pleased that California has four delegates present.

Respectfully submitted.

VIRGINIA ALDRICH BEEDE.
President California Division U. D. C.

COLORADO.

Denver, Col., Sept. 25, 1910.

Madam President and Daughters of the Confederacy, Greeting:

Again I have the honor of addressing you a message from the Margaret Howell Davis Hayes Chapter No. 1, of Colorado. Last year our chapter in the convention at Houston was the baby chapter. Our first report was presented by our delegate, Miss S. T. Hearon, and was kindly received. During this first year, though not achieving all we hoped, we have done what we could in our inexperience for the glorious cause that we all love and revere. Allow me to mention the various objects to which we have contributed this year, viz: Five dollars each to the Shiloh monument, to the Arlington monument and to the educational fund. We have helped a needy old Confederate Veteran who had wandered afar, to return to his home in Georgia; gave sympathy, work and money to another who needed assistance; and provided for a very sick Veteran for a period of over two months in a sanitorium. Here I must give due meed of praise to Dr. J. M. DeWesse, of our city, who kindly donated his services as physician to our patient, and to his skill we attribute the recovery of this Veteran of 73 years from a serious illness.

Outside of the chapter, your director for Colorado, Mrs. B. A. C. Emerson, has secured by subscriptions two life memberships for the Davis Home at Fairview, Ky.; $7.50 (seven dollars and fifty cents) each for the Shiloh and the Arlington monument funds, and $5.00 for the Dan Emmett monument, author of Dixie.

On January 1 we gave a reception at the Albany Hotel for the purpose of bringing our Southern people together in a social meeting. This was quite a success.

Margaret H. D. Hayes Chapter of Denver, Col., has also given the altar cloth to her church at Beloxi.

On January 19, the birthday of Robert E. Lee, we entertained our friends at "The Savoy," which occasion was also pleasing and encouraging.

On June 3, birthday of President Davis, we honored the occasion by the bestowal of Crosses on Veterans. The program was varied and deeply interesting. Prayer by Dr. A. J. Emerson. Dixie by Mrs. Griffith. (The singer, Mrs. Potter, using the words written by Mrs. I. M. P. Ockenden.) Reminiscences of a visit to the Davis family at "Beauvoir," by Mrs. Robert Lee Cochrane. Miss Mary Luther brought tears to many eyes in reciting "The Garden of the Dead," by A. C. Gordon. Address on "Heroes," by Dr. Emerson, who was in Lee's army as a missionary, and shared the camp life of the brave boys at the front. Address by the President, Mrs. Emerson, giving the origin and purpose of the sacred memorial Crosses presented by the Custodian, Mrs. W. J. Carter, of Tampa, Fla., to six Veteran heroes, members of Camp Beauregard of Denver, and to three descendants of Veterans, heroes of the sixties, all three being descendants of distinguished Veterans. Response by Judge I. E. Stirman, in an eloquent strain. In behalf of the three Daughters receiving crosses, Mrs. F. I. Smith responded: "I am thankful to be the daughter of a man who sacrificed everything and laid down his life for a cause that seemed to him to be right." (Mrs. Smith's father, William Clay, of Missouri, was killed at Vicksburg.)

Dixie was called for and concluded the program, by Mrs. Potter.

The words used in the rendering of Dixie were those written in the sixties by Mrs. Ockenden, now our Chapter Historian, who is entitled to as much credit as any member for the success of our U. D. C. in Denver.

Again, on Founder's day, September 10, we met in the parlors of "The Savoy" to bestow crosses on seven Veterans who now belong to Colorado. This performance became more touching when crosses were passed to two descendants of Veterans, for the reason that one went to Judge Ben B. Lindsey, of national fame, as the founder of our Juvenile Court in Denver, which is proving a success in the reclamation of wayward boys and girls. We esteem it an honor to have placed the Southern Cross upon the breast of one so worthy of it because of what he has suffered and accomplished for the welfare of children throughout the civilized world. His father was a Tennessean, throughout the war on the staff of that "Wizard of the Saddle," General Forrest. The other was given to a little boy, William Albion Gesner, the great grandson of Dr. William Gesner, ordnance officer of the Confederate Army, and grandson of Mrs. I. M. P. Ockenden, Southern poet and historical writer. Introduced by Mrs. F. I. Smith, our new president, Judge Lindsey, to the delight of all present gave a charming address, in which he forgot not, to speak words of praise for his native Tennessee, nor did he fail to allude tenderly to the great devotion of his afflicted mother (who was present) to the Southern cause, for which she sacrificed in her young days.

Col. F. P. Berryman was happily presented by Mrs. F. I. Smith as one of the boys of Kentucky who came out 7,000 strong and followed the dauntless John H. Morgan throughout his adventurous career, even into the enemy's country, going further north than any other Confederate troops. In reply Col. Berryman, possessing the gift of humor, set his audience laughing with reminiscences full of soldiers' fun and reflecting the bright side of army life.

Then followed Southern songs and stories and a general hand-shaking, an informal mingling of guests for acquaintance sake. A fresh call for "Dixie," and the singing of the world's greatest war song, closed the exercises.

Our chapter now has a membership of 68. For myself and in behalf of the other officers of the M. H. D. Hayes Chapter, I extend thanks to the general officers of the U. D. C. for their uniform courtesy and for the ready aid given us in our work throughout the past year, and the assurance we feel that our successors will have the same happy experience.

Respectfully submitted.

MRS. B. A. C. EMERSON,

Retiring President of M. H. D. Hayes Chapter No. 1228, U. D. C.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

Madam President and United Daughters of the Confederacy.

It is with pleasure I bring my first report as Division President to you.

The District of Columbia Division is composed of six chapters:

The Stonewall Jackson Chapter.

The Robert E. Lee Chapter.

The Southern Cross Chapter.

The Albert Sydney Johnston Chapter.

The Beauregard Chapter.

The Dixie Chapter.

They all show a healthy increase.

The chapters united with the Confederate Veterans and the Sons of the Confederacy and held a bazaar last spring for the benefit of our Confederate Memorial Home. We realized $2,000, and thank all chapters throughout the country for their generous donations. We decorated the graves at Arlington on June 5th. We celebrated the birthday anniversaries of President Jefferson Davis and General Robert E. Lee, with appropriate ceremonies.

Contributing to the Arlington monument, the Confederate Memorial Home, the Pikesville Home; assisting several needy Southern families, educating the daughter of a Confederate Veteran and responding to appeals from chapters in other States constitutes some of the work done by our chapters during the year. We contributed toward the seals.

The Division and Camp 171, Confederate Veterans, had the honor of entertaining Mrs. Stonewall Jackson and Mrs. Henderson at a reception given at the Confederate Memorial Home. Hundreds attended from Washington, D. C., Baltimore, Md., and Alexandria, Va. Mrs. Henderson is the widow of Col. G. F. R. Henderson of the English army, and the historian who wrote the life of General Stonewall Jackson, which is now used as a text-book in European schools.

Cordially yours,

MARY THOMPSON MERWIN,
President District of Columbia Division U. D. C.

REPORT OF FLORIDA DIVISION.

Madam President-General and United Daughters of the Confederacy:

Once again it is my privilege to come before you, as the representative of Florida, and to bring to you a report of a year's work. The Florida Division is vigorous, alert and harmonious. There is not one delinquent chapter, as all our dues are paid and almost every chapter in Florida is represented in this convention. Chapters have continued to drop from their rosters those members who, having a name to live, are dead, thus lessening our numbers, but increasing our strength. By demit, removal and suspension, we have lost 97; by death, 20. A total of 117. By application we have received 163, by demit, 7. A total of 170. Since the Houston convention the State President has issued 327 certificates, the additional 157 being for members not heretofore certified. Our chapters number 30; our members, 1,557. One chapter has voluntarily surrendered its charter on account of its practical extinction by death and removal, the few remaining members joining a newer chapter near them. Seven charters held in the State by chapters, long years dead, or never even alive, have been cancelled as required by the Constitution. One new chapter of 45 enthusiastic charter members, has recently been organized and named for Florida's lamented Senator, the Will Bryan Chapter, at Kissimmee, chartered on Oct. 16, numbered, 1302. It is perhaps the infant of this convention, but it is lusty and growing, having sent in request for 50 additional application blanks. The complete roster of the division from its organization to Oct 15, 1910, has been sent to the Registrar-General.

The State Recorder reports a busy year, and we are glad to have the Custodian-General say that Florida has given her one of the very best of records. The Executive Board of the Division unanimously elected at the May convention, is a battlement of strength to the President, and her band of magnificent Chapter Presidents scarcely less so. On these brave hearts she leans. To them is due much of the work accomplished, and from them and the Daughters of the division, comes the pulse beat of love that strengthens and inspires the President to do her duty. No report of Florida would be to her complete, which omitted this mention. Days of observance are enthusiastically kept, and by request of the State President, her Executive Board, and Chapter Presidents, almost every public school in the State now has proper observance of Jan. 19 and Dec. 5, as Lee and Davis days. Our falling Veterans and graves of the dead are never forgotten or neglected. Our Soldiers' Home is our first care, and on Memorial day the Confederate graves of Florida blossom into red, white and red.

Historical work is strengthening each year. The Banner contest brings out a keen but friendly rivalry, and brings in many priceless papers of history to the division. In two years we have accumulated more than 200 such papers. Enthusiastic historical meetings are held regularly by many chapters, and the annual State Historical sessions are eagerly anticipated, not only by the Daughters of Florida, but by the citizens of the convention city.

Lakeland Chapter unveiled a handsome monument to Confederate dead on June 3. Tampa Chapter will do likewise in January next. William Henry Milton, Southern Cross, Annie Coleman and Anna Dummett Chapters are steadily increasing their monument funds.

The Children of the Confederacy chapters have much more than doubled in numbers within the year, having ten chartered chapters, and three with applications for charters sent in.

324 MINUTES OF SEVENTEENTH ANNUAL CONVENTION,

The division has in its gift six scholarships, with total tuition value of $248. Besides these Martha Reid Chapter has four scholarships and Kirby Smith Chapter, one, with tuition value of $350. Three of these have a living fund attached. Kirby Smith Chapter supports one at the University of Florida at $100. Florida Division one at State College for Women, at $120, and the Children of the Confederacy of Florida, one at the University, at $120 per annum. Florida has also contributed $77 to the support of Miss Lola Rasor, our Senior Class Florida student in the Vassar scholarship, and there was yet a pledge of $3 to this fund to be paid when the State Chairman made her last report to the President; so Florida's educational work at present is 12 scholarships, with a total tuition value of $598, a living fund of $340, and $77 contributed to the Vassar living fund. A recent letter from Miss Rasor to the state President gives most satisfactory accounts of her work, while of the other Florida applicants for this scholarship, one is leading her class at Randolph Maccn College, and three are teaching in the High Schools of our State with marked success.

Twenty-three of our thirty chapters give medals annually in the schools, and present pictures of great Confederates, and books of authentic Confederate history.

Our contributions to the Confederate work since the Houston convention have been as follows:

Arlington Monument	$ 200.00
$50.00 pledged to be paid this winter.
Shiloh	246.00
$10.00 pledged to be paid this winter.
Florida Room, Confederate Museum	50.00
Weed Memorial Window (Contributed this past year)	169.75
Weed Memorial Window (on hand 1909)	73.80
Dickson Fund	143.80
Cemetery work and flowers for Veterans' funerals, prison graves at the North, and Florida Monument at Winchester, Va.	315.16
Soldiers' Home	562.00
Scholarships	297.00
Chapter expense, which includes all benevolent work, books, pictures and medals presented to schools, Memorial day expense, etc	1,015.23
Children of the Confederacy contributions	348.26
U. D. C. Monuments in Division	3,400.00
	$6,821.00

Making a total of six thousand eight hundred and twenty-one dollars, which includes the amounts on hand in the various chapters for monuments and our Weed Memorial window. This is an average of something over $4.25 per capita.

Besides this, the division has given to the Jefferson Davis Memorial Association, Women's Memorial Home at Appomattox, Confederate Bazaar in Washington and other causes.

Every chapter of the Children of the Confederacy of Florida has contributed to Shiloh, Arlington, Soldiers' Home, Memorial and Cemetery Work, besides supporting a student at the University of Florida. This student is the young man who is the real founder of the C. of C. work in Florida, when he was fourteen years old, and bears the baptismal name of Robert Lee. Needless to say, he wears it with pride, and is also a credit to it.

The C. of C. general contributions have been $125.76; their scholarship fund, $120. General Loring Chapter has a monument fund of $102.50.

The Division motto is "Memoria in Aeterna," its flower, the orange blossom, its official song, Suwannee River. We strive to put into our work the "eternal remembrance" of our motto, the purity of purpose and fragrance of love symbolized by our flower, while the plaintive melody of our song and the musical ripple of the Suwannee speaks to us of the days of long ago, when Florida sent her stalwart manhood, her silvered age and stripling youth, together, to die for Dixie and Dixie's rights on every battlefield of the wide Southland.

Florida's President is proud of her Daughters, and she realizes as no one else can, the difficulties under which they work. No border State has a larger Northern element or more adverse conditions, but her 30 chapters are strong, thrice strong, because neither the colors nor the courage of the Florida Daughters are ever lowered. It is a pride to bring greetings of love from such women as the Daughters of the Orange Blossom Division! Love so strong and so true that it spreads in a net of shimmering silver from sun-kissed Escambia to blue Matanzas, from the hills of Leon and the Saint Mary's River to the Florida Keys, from the cradle of the white race in our western world at beautiful Saint Augustine, to the modern miracle of a sea-going railway; and sends its vibrant thrill along the golden wires of Southern loyalty, to voice tender greeting to you, our sisters, here, beyond the Great Father of Waters, in warmhearted Arkansas.

SISTER ESTHER CARLOTTA, S. R.

President of Florida Division U. D. C.

GEORGIA DIVISION REPORT.

Madam President and United Daughters of Confederacy:

In the early morning of a cool September day, I found a most attenuated thread stretched across my bedroom window, and later, saw another silvery line barring the dining room light. How active the spiders had been since the day previous in weaving webs everywhere!

The busy weavers of that September morning suggest to Georgia's U. D. C. President the chapters, chairmen and division officers as weavers of a web which, on Oct. 26th, had its center at Cartersville with threads that stretched all over the State. Our united work, Arlington, Shiloh, the Georgia Room at Richmond were shown close woven with Georgia's web of undertakings.

As a State, we are weaving a memorial to Francis Bartow, in place of the Dormitory at Rabun Gap, which was proposed in honor of this distinguished Georgian we have decided upon a ten thousand dollar educational fund, and have fifty-six hundred dollars in hand. The interest on this money helps to educate children of the mountains, gathered in the Rabun Gap Industrial School.

We scattered Georgia flags over the State Georgia day, for the benefit of this fund. The Georgia-Day Flag-Day thread was thrown out by our State Historian, Miss Rutherford. It was caught by many chapters with the result of a greater interest in Georgia day, and a goodly sale of flags. The Savannah Chapter made four hundred dollars on flags and some smaller chapters did as well in proportion.

Our educational web also takes in fifty-six scholarships with a money value of five thousand two hundred and fifty-three dollars.

We have drawn seven new chapters into our web, and present them to your greater web.

We have nine local monuments since the last convention, the work of as many chapters, and in all representing some seventeen thousand dollars.

The Augusta chapter is weaving a memorial to James R. Randall. The funds are intended, first, to help the family of the gifted poet, and finally to be used for a monument to his memory.

Our medal committee does splendid weaving about Georgia boys and girls who submit essays on a given subject in competition for a gold medal offered by the division.

Our Historical Program Committee sends out threads of interest to Georgia chapters through its valuable monthly programs of study.

We have hung pictures of General Lee and President Davis on the walls of some of our many school rooms.

Crosses of honor are woven through and through our Georgia web, and keep the State Recorder busy.

Our Soldiers' Home in Atlanta is cared for by the State, but Georgia Daughters weave the home into their web by every month sending boxes of good things to the old soldiers. The Atlanta chapter makes regular visits to the home, giving pleasure to its inmates by loving attention and gifts.

We weave for the future through our Children of the Confederacy. Their interest has been quickened by a prize banner, offered by Mrs. L. H. Raine, of Savannah, to the C. of C. chapter doing the best work during the year.

Our Treasurer, Registrar, both Secretaries, and our State Editor are energetic weavers for the division.

That all these workers might see how much they have helped to do and how much lies before us, the State President, at our recent State convention gave stereoptican views of our entire work, beginning with the Jefferson Davis monument, continuing with Arlington, Shiloh, the Georgia Room at Richmond, showing for the State, the Winnie Davis Memorial Dormitory at Athens, the Wirz monument and pictures of the mountain folks whom we seek to help.

Will you now, sister States, walk into my parlor, and find there a thread of interest for the entire South? The Bryan M. Thomas Chapter, of Dalton, is weaving a web for a monument to Joseph E. Johnston, to be erected at Dalton, headquarters at one time of General Johnston on that masterly retreat before a powerful invading army. The Georgia Legislature has voted twenty-five hundred dollars to this monument when the Dalton chapter shall have raised twenty-five hundred dollars. They lack seven hundred of the amount. Is it too much to ask fifty dollars from the General Treasury as a help to this noble little Georgia chapter whose weaving is worthy the support of United Daughters? Will you walk into my parlor?

Georgia spiders are great weavers. Mrs. Helen Plane holds a loving thread of hope that all States unprovided with a home for old and dependent U. D. C. shall unite in building a common home.

If you wish to endow a college, Georgia can throw you a thread for its location. The home of Alexander H. Stephens, Liberty Hall, may be yours when you can stretch your educational lines thus far.

Trusting Georgia's web of work may, for a while, hang in some corner of your memory, I am yours to command,

ALICE BAXTER,
President Georgia Division U. D. C.

REPORT OF ILLINOIS DIVISION.

Madam President-General and United Daughters of the Confederacy
in Convention Assembled:

I take great pleasure in again presenting to you the "Baby Division," now one year old, and, like all babies, we have had to cast about to find what food best agreed with its constitution.

Last year at Houston I presented to you an infant in arms only two weeks old. At this time, although it is passing the early infant stage, it is still a very dependent baby, but reaching out its arms for everything in sight, and all it can get its hands upon goes right into its mouth.

As soon as it became known to the sister divisions throughout the South, that there had been formed a division of the United Daughters of the Confederacy in Illinois, we were besieged with appeals for help to monuments and funds of all kinds, and to subscribe to or purchase all sorts of books, pictures, papers, etc.

I want to report to you in general that while this division is planted in the great and wealthy State of Illinois, with its headquarters in the city of Chicago, it by no means represents their strength except in determination and aggressiveness, and from Southern ancestors has inherited that quality which enables it to adopt the motto of the city of Chicago, "I Will!"

As its President I have realized the impossibility of responding to these calls for assistance, as not even the price of a postage stamp was in its treasury in its beginning, and not for months was there anything on the treasurer's books.

It is hard for you strong Southern divisions to realize what it means to build up a division in this Northern State, and for a greater part of the past year letter after letter was written without any reply.

I feel, in order to make this division ever worth while and of any help, it must first be placed upon its feet, as I for one, refuse to crawl. I want to be able to walk up to any one and hold up my head with pride and confidence. To this end all my energies have been devoted and only recently have I found that the seeds thrown out during the year are sprouting.

First the chapters were requested to apply to each of their members for the names and addresses of any acquaintances they had in any town in the State.

There were not many responses, but all sent in were communicated with to interest them in the cause. If an answer came at all it was to discourage the effort.

Next I caused advertisements to be inserted in the personal column of a number of the leading newspapers in as many different towns, requesting all Southern born women, or eligible to membership in the United Daughters of the Confederacy to communicate with me. Had only a few responses, these were looked up and applications sent them.

Sample copies of papers from all over the State have been sent to me and I have noted in the social columns every lady who was mentioned in any way to lead me to think she was from the South and I have written her. In these ways and others and assisted by my officers we are gathering a little fruit scattered over the State and hope each of these will drop seed to bear more fruit so that in a few years we will begin to form chapters in the different towns. Then we will be in a position to meet demands made upon us.

The three chapters in the State are in a healthy condition. Both the chapters in Chicago have had a number of additions during the year and have given numerous entertainments, both pleasant and profitable.

The birthdays of Jefferson Davis and Robert E. Lee have been observed during the year.

The Stonewall chapter added to the observance of Lee's birthday that of Stonewall Jackson's birth. The entertainment was a luncheon attended by one hundred and fifty ladies. Toasts to both heroes were given and addresses and music completed the program.

This chapter also held a bazaar in December; during the spring had a series of card parties; June 3 celebrated Jefferson Davis' birthday, contributed twenty-five dollars to each Shiloh and Arlington monument funds, gave ten dollars to a Veteran wishing to go to friends in Louisville, Ky., and united with the Veterans of Camp 8 on Memorial day in decorating the Confederate monument and graves in Oakwood cemetery.

The Chicago and Stonewall chapters united in giving an Easter breakfast for the benefit of the State division work. This was a most enjoyable and successful entertainment. Mrs. John A. Lee, the State President, presided as toastmistress and toasts were responded to by presidents of many of the prominent clubs of Chicago, both men and women. About three hundred were present on this occasion.

The Chicago chapter had been very active in good work; bought an electric battery for an old Veteran who was helpless; placed several Southern girls in better homes; gave a new banner to Camp 8 U. C. V. It also celebrated the birthdays of Jefferson Davis and Robert E. Lee; gave a number of entertainments with very fine programs; also many social functions, and has endeavored to enlarge the chapter and create interest by keeping it active and before the public.

The State convention was held in Chicago on October twelfth and thirteenth. At this time a reception was given to the entire State division by the State President, at her home, which proved of great benefit by uniting the different chapters together in pleasant social intercourse.

Only a few changes were made in the State officers.

We hope the second year will bear fruit of the first year's planting.

I feel that my individual effort has been all that circumstances would allow, having had, in my own immediate family since the convention at Houston, two weddings, both being daughters, meaning two trousseaus, a protracted illness of several months, and final death and a birth; these all being under my direct care.

I am denied the pleasure of meeting you at Little Rock this year, and presenting this report in person, being now in New York State to remain a month. During my absence from home will keep in close communication with everthing and hope to meet you at the next convention with at least one new chapter added to the Illinois Division.

May God bless, you my sisters, in your convention assembled, and enable you to act wisely and well.

With a heart full of love I most respectfully submit this report.

VIRGINIA GATHRIGHT LEE,
President Illinois Division U. D. C.

(Mrs. John A. Lee).

Madam President and Daughters of the Confederacy:

This being my initial venture along this line of work, I solicit your forbearance; also that you may (for the time being) become "disciples of Job," eliciting your patience; while you know the cause of his suffering, you will be compelled to suffer a greater affliction than he was called upon to endure, while listening to my report. The Chicago ladies who were delegates to the convention a year ago this fall, when the State Division was formed here, know from the "birdseye view" they received of Alton that it is a city full of hills and hollows. This fact is very emblematic of our work here—we've had many "ups and downs."

It affords me great pleasure to say that the government opened its heart and pocketbook at the same time, and as a consequence of this generosity we have a beautiful granite monument to mark the spot where our dead heroes lie. This sacred spot in former years furnished free pasturage for the neighbors' stock in its immediate vicinity. I enclose a postcard of this monument in lieu of a better view. An iron fence with a fine stone entrance and gateway have been placed around this cemetery, erected through the efforts of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, principally by this chapter. We are pleased and thankful that we have lived to see this accomplished, this being the work and object of this chapter. We have some fifteen members, but rarely have more than eight at a meeting. I send by today's mail a printed list of the names that are inscribed on the bronze tablets at the base of the monument; also some names that are not engraved on it. The cemetery will be covered with bluegrass; when the walks are completed, shrubs planted; in fact, when it is made beautiful, it will reflect credit to the dear brave soldiers who wore the grey fighting for the right.

Would to God they could have gained the day. The terrible things that after the war was over occurred all through the south, could not have been; 'twould have changed everything.

May the coming year bring many blessings to the U. D. C. throughout the country.

Respectfully submitted.

MRS. ELISE PINERO LINKOGLE,
 State Historian and Secretary of Sam Davis Chapter, Alton, Ill.
 Mrs. E. E. Linkogle.

KENTUCKY.

To the United Daughters of the Confederacy, in General Convention Assembled:

It is with profound regret that the President of the Kentucky Division sends greetings to the convention of 1910, instead of bringing them, but they are accompanied by hearty wishes for a successful meeting, and assurances of great interest in all the work to be presented to the assembly.

The recent convention at Louisville was an exceedingly pleasant one, and the brilliant entertainment offered by the Albert Sidney Johnston Chapter as host, will make an era in the history of the division.

No unusual features marked the proceedings of the convention except the alteration of Article VI, of By-laws, limiting the reading of the chapter reports to five minutes. In approval of this act, I shall try to be as concise as possible with this.

Mrs. McKinney carries her report of Shiloh fund, and must credit various chapters with donations. Miss Froman, directress of the Arlington fund, will be equally considerate.

The work in this division, depressed in the beginning of the year by the death of Mrs. Duke, has not been wholly without results.

Mrs. Swann, of Murray, Chairman of the Educational Committee, was most efficient in securing scholarships in seven universities and colleges for the use of lineal descendants of Confederate Veterans.

Nearly all the chapters report State and general dues paid; also the assessment for the Hindman School in the mountains of Kentucky, and the mite for the Kentucky Room at Richmond. All uniformly tell of observing the birthdays of General Lee and President Davis, with fitting ceremonies. Many fine dinners have been given to Veterans and their friends. Money bestowed on needy ones; the widows and children of some Confederates have, in various instances, been cared for; taxes paid, etc.; flowers have been sent to sick persons and to funerals; boxes of clothing, good things and tobacco have been sent to the Soldiers' Home at Peewee Valley.

Mrs. Bateman, Chairman of the Morgan monument fund, has been unremitting in her efforts, and they are now so nearly completed with success that only a small sum is needed to complete the $16,000 required. This bronze equestrian statue is to Morgan and his men. Not alone those who died, but all who followed his brilliant leadership, and it will stand in front of the court house in Lexington, the home of his people. It will be unveiled on October 11, 1911.

The Kate Morrison Breckenridge Chapter at Danville finished a beautiful monument, which was unveiled with interesting ceremonies on May 20th. Its cost was over $2,200, the amount being generously aided by contributions from Veterans.

The Henrietta Hunt Morgan Chapter at Newport has erected ten head stones at unmarked Confederate graves. This chapter has also furnished and will support a bed in the hospital at the Hindman School in memory of Mrs. Duke. A picture of Mrs. Duke, given by her husband, hangs in this room. This chapter has conferred five crosses and reports a delicate attention from the local post of G. A. R., which sent the red, white and blue flowers with the request that they be laid on the graves of brave Confederates.

The Richard Hawes Chapter, of Paris, has secured the names of the dead in the Confed rate lot and had them inscribed on the slab of the monument. This is built of Kentucky limestone, the only one in the State.

The Col. Joe Lewis Chapter, of Frankfort, supplied mattresses for the Soldiers' Home at Peewee Valley and has given $20 to the Davis Home.

The work of the Lucian McDowell Chapter at Flemingsburg is placing markers of granite at unmarked Confederate graves. The Jas. Q. Chenowith Chapter of Harrodsburg has as its chief work, placing markers on Confederate graves. As most of these were prisoners at the time of their death, it is thought that the U. S. Government will aid their efforts.

The Basil Duke Chapter of Henderson reports the removal of the body of one of Morgan's men, to a proper resting place in the Confederate lot, presented by the Hon. Montgomery Merritt.

Murray has given pictures of Pres. Davis, Gen. Lee and other Confederate leaders to the public schools, as has also the Lady Pope Chapter of Columbus.

The Private Robert Tyler Chapter of Hickman, reports clearing $231.00 in a single luncheon, $114.00 from a carnival, having $1,000.00 in bank, and $700.00 subscribed, but not collected.

The Shelbyville Tom Wallace Chapter, on each court day has a stand for coffee and sandwiches, which is helping reduce their obligations to various undertakings.

Lexington reports $34.00 expended in home charities.

The E. M. Bruce Chapter of Covington has secured a lot, the gift of Mrs. Sallie Bruce Morris, in Linden Grove Cemetery for burial of Confederates. Members of this chapter have obtained permission of the Park Commissioners of Covington to erect a shelter house in memory of the Hon. E. M. Bruce and the women of the South.

Mayfield has contributed $45.00 to the Davis Homestead Association, conferred two crosses, and has $119.00 toward a monument for Confederate soldiers.

The Christian County Chapter has not been as active as usual, and has added little to a fund of over $600.00, for a memorial to the Confederates of Christian County. Has conferred five crosses, and sent money to the Franklin Cemetery.

The Capt. Gus Dedman Chapter, Lawrenceburg, has had copies of The Veteran bound and placed in the public library; has refurnished the room at Pewee Valley Home, sent money to Camp Chase, and the cemetery at Franklin, Tenn.

The Tom Barrett Chapter at Ghent is working to erect a monument to the Fourth Kentucky Cavalry.

The Ed Crossland Chapter of Fulton, has given $18.00 to the Davis home, and made some money by offering prizes for best bread and cakes, all entries, but prize winners, being donated to the chapter.

Paducah has collected $785.00, and completed the work on Confederate Rest in Oak Grove Cemetery there. A shaft of Berri Granite, 25 feet high stands on the lot, which is handsomely curbed with stone. The entire cost was over $800.00, and it was unveiled on June 3rd, when 31 crosses were conferred, making 51 for the year. They also report a complete file of membership credentials in both state and chapter archives.

The Albert Sidney Johnston Chapter of Louisville is always foremost in good work. It is educating two young girls, caring for them in every way. They are daughters, on both sides of Confederate Sires. This chapter reports satisfactory work in a literary way at their monthly meetings, confining themselves, however, this year, to Kentucky authors, and their work. A little more than a year ago a legacy of $2,400.00 was bequeathed to this chapter to be used in assisting needy Confederates and their families. A considerable amount has already been dispensed, and $27 given regularly every month to needy families. Ten dollars has been given to the Kentucky room at Richmond. And a room in the Home for incurables has been endowed in memory of our late President, Mrs. Duke. Their best efforts have been in the interest of the convention, and they have reason to be entirely satisfied with the results.

Mrs. Jennie Catherwood Bean made a statement at the recent convention conclusively showing that Kentucky was the first to make an effort to restore the name of Mr. Davis to Cabin John Bridge. This effort was led by Mrs. Bean herself, endeavoring through the Kentucky Representatives in Congress to put the movement on foot, as far back as 1895. Mrs. McKinney said this should be reported to the General Convention that Kentucky get her dues.

The Kentucky Division desires to lay before this Assembly a work now being undertaken near Fulton, Kentucky. At Camp Beauregard, a place occupied by many troops in 61, over 2,000 Confederate soldiers died of measles. These troops were from Arkansas, Missouri, Tennessee, Mississippi and Kentucky. The graveyard is on an eminence and greatly neglected. It is the very earnest intention of the Kentucky Division, represented by the Committee, of which Mrs. Fuller, of Mayfield, is chairman, to mark all the graves of Kentuckians. They hope, with the aid from States which must be equally interested, to erect a shaft or huge monolith, that may be seen from the many passing trains. It is the earnest request that delegates from these states bear this matter in mind, and confer with their people on their return home.

I commend to your kind offices and sisterly consideration a new chapter at Clinton, Ky., quite young, but numbering about 25 members. For this work, I am pleased to be indebted to Mrs. McKinney's ardent activity.

With expressions of loyalty and love, this report is respectfully submitted.

MRS. L. McF. BLAKEMORE.
President Kentucky Division U. D. C.

ANNUAL REPORT OF LOUISIANA DIVISION, U. D. C.

Madam President and United Daughters of the Confederacy:

While Louisiana can not boast of a very considerable increase of membership, we have experienced a general awakening and lively interest, especially in historical and educational work along Confederate lines.

Our division has succeeded in having instituted in the public schools of the state an annual Louisiana Day, with a program furnished each school that is interwoven with Confederate history.

A handsome gold medal, from the son of our beloved State Historian is an annual offering, through the Division, for the best essay on "Louisiana in the War of '61-65." Many Chapters are offering medals for the same purpose, thus stimulating the study of that important epoch.

We are supporting at the State University the grand-son of a Confederate, Veteran, from whose education we expect excellent results.

We have donated to Confederate monuments and benevolent causes within and without the state, sent the annual cash contribution and souvenirs to the Louisiana Room at Richmond, and have contributed our state flag to the same city to be used in decorating the monument of Jefferson Davis on memorial occasions.

We have advanced $50 toward assisting in the work of circulating the seals for the Arlington Monument Fund, in our state, and have taken official action to present a bust of Father Ryan to be placed in the Art Museum at the City Park in New Orleans.

The State President has been honored by being appointed as State Director for the Monument to the Women of the South, which is a work of the future in which she sincerely hopes to produce substantial results.

It is a matter of much gratification that during the present administration of the Confederate Veterans and Sons of Veterans of Louisiana extended an invitation to the U. D. C. of the state to meet in Annual Convention at the same time and place as their organization and that the invitation has been officially accepted.

There is no work in which the Division takes more pleasure and pride than in its contributions toward the pleasures and comforts of the Veterans at Camp Nichols Soldiers Home, where, upon many occasions during each year it makes its contributions of entertainments, dainties, little remembrances that can not fail to add to the pleasure of those toward whom they are directed.

I have spoken of the work of Louisiana Division, but I want to emphasize the efforts in our labor of love that are being made by the individual Chapters at home, some having assumed tasks so large in proportion to their numbers that they have had to turn a deaf ear to outside appeals for the time being.

Beautiful Confederate monuments were, during the year, unveiled by the following chapters: Clinton, Richard Hancock, Edward Sparrow and Shreveport. Monuments have been planned and will be unveiled in the near future by T. O. Moore Chapter, Madison Infantry, Monroe, Lake Charles, Plaquemine and another by Shreveport.

Blue Cross and J. M. Craig Chapters, of Amite City, unite in good works, co-operating with the library at their home and securing sums toward the fund for marking the graves of our Confederate dead at Vicksburg.

Lake Charles has a beautifully furnished corner of the Public Library of its town, for their books and memorials.

Joanna Waddill continues the work of its own library, maintaining the same on its usual high standard.

Henry Watkins Allen, one of our new chapters, has fitted up beautiful and hospitable rest rooms and reading rooms for local and visiting veterans to the Capital City. This chapter is a leading spirit in entertainments of a high social character, extending gracious hospitality to all Confederate Associations and doing splendid benevolent work.

Monroe is doing special work with its bright little bands of Jessamines and Dixies, with open hands and hearts to other good causes

New Orleans Chapter, whose membership comprises one-fourth of the Division, will soon see the completion of a splendid monument to General Beauregard, a cause to which it has been pledged for years and has lent every effort. Added to this is its splendid benevolent work throughout New Orleans, to which many Confederate soldiers, resident and transient, and their families can testify.

Fitzhugh Lee Chapter is devoting itself strenuously to its special work of assisting the needy widows of Confederate veterans.

Stonewall Jackson Chapter is the happy possessor of two scholarships, and is lending aid to the Jefferson Davis Monument Fund.

Camp Moore Chapter, having realized its hopes in securing and causing the Camp Moore Confederate Cemetery to be improved and a fine monument to be erected, devotes itself to the care of this sacred spot and to general benevolent work.

General Dick Taylor Chapter has acquired a desirable piece of property and is building a Chapter House.

The President and members of Hubert Trelle entertained the last State Convention in the hospitable town of Donaldsonville.

The Chapters, almost without exception, bestow Crosses of Honor and observe Decoration and Memorial Days in the most impressive manner.

There are in the Division thirty-five Chapters, with a total membership of about seventeen hundred.

In closing this report the President can not refrain from expressing her high appreciation of the earnest and hearty co-operation accorded the Division by the various Chapters, and of the honor bestowed upon her by entrusting to her charge and keeping the highest office within the gift of the State Division.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. EDWARD GOTTSCHALK.

President Louisiana State Division.

REPORT OF MARYLAND DIVISION U. D. C.

Madam President-General and United Daughters of the Confederacy:

I bring greetings from Maryland and wish to tell you that while compared with many other states, our numbers are small, we know that we are not outranked in loving loyalty to our Organization and the Cause so dear to us all.

The Baltimore Chapter No. 8, Mrs. John P. Poe, president, while obliged to devote much of its time and resources to charitable work, has done its part towards various Monument funds, and during the past year has contributed $100.00 to Arlington Monument, $50.00 to Shiloh, $30.00 to The Immortal Six Hundred, $25.00 for Arlington Seals, and $100.00 for a Memorial Window in Old Blandford church at Petersburg, Va. The Chapter also gave $35.00 towards fitting up the infirmary of the Confederate Veterans Home at Pikesville, and pays $25.00 annually towards keeping up the Maryland Room in the Confederate Museum at Richmond. $30.00 a month is provided, for charitable work, to help in various ways cases dependent upon this assistance, and besides this regular fund many other cases are looked into and aided. In order to meet the many demands upon them the Daughters found it necessary to resort to some means of replenishing an exhausted treasury and last December Mrs. M. P. Carroll, of Georgia, gave a recital which brought in about $300.00. In the spring the Paint and Powder Club, of Baltimore, generously played for them with the result that an additional $1,200 was added to the Charitable Fund. The Chapter carefully looks into the needs of the Veterans and a delegation of ladies visit the Confederate Veterans Home weekly and provide many comforts for the old soldiers. During the past year the Chapter has lost many old and valued members who have been with it since its formation, but its ranks are constantly recruited from new applicants for membership so that it numbers 625 active members. Twenty-one Crosses of Honor were bestowed by the Chapter during the year; 12 at the annual celebration of the birthday of General Lee and nine at the annual fete in honor of the birthday of President Davis at the Pikesville Home.

The Hartford Chapter, No. 114, Mrs. Walter W. Preston, President, has met all of its requirements; contributed $10.00 for Arrlington Seals, and is endeavoring to erect a small monument in its home town, Belair, to its soldiers and sailors of the Confederacy.

The Fitzhugh Lee Chapter No. 279, Mrs. Oliver P. Bennett, President, has its own rooms where the Chapter meets monthly and holds most interesting sessions, always closing with an hour of reading pertaining to the Southland. These Daughters justly feel a pride in their work; caring for all needy cases within their means in some instances furnishing both physicians and nurses, sending an annual contribution of $25.00 to the Veterans Home at Pikesville, $5.00 each May for strawberries for the old men and sustaining the Robert E. Lee Room there. For numbers of years the members have decorated the graves of the Confederate dead in Mt. Olivet and the Catholic cemeteries at Frederick, the Chapter's home town. At Mt. Olivet time had almost obliterated the inscriptions on the stones. To preserve these, so that the names could be deciphered they collected among themselves $74.00 and had them perfectly renovated and a roster printed. This has been most valuable in locating graves of soldiers whose families did not know where they were buried. They hope soon to place a Cross over the mound in this line of dead that holds the dust of 400 soldiers brought from the battlefields of Monocacy, Antetam and South Mountain. These were buried in trenches along the battlefields, and some years after the war were removed to Mt. Olivet. It was only by counting the skulls that the number of bodies could be ascertained. At Monocacy, near Frederick was fought one of the fiercest battles of the war, with Gen. Lew Wallace on the Northern side and General Gordon on the Southern, and while it was a Confederate victory the North has already erected two handsome monuments there to its men who fell, and the little Fitzhugh Lee Chapter cannot reconcile itself to the thought that our Southern heroes, the pride of many a Southern home and the flower of the Sunny South should go unhonored, so it has accumulated a small sum through indefatigable efforts and is striving to raise more to enable it to unveil a Marker upon the field on the anniversary of the battle, July 9th, 1911.

The Frank A. Bond Chapter No. 370, owing to the moving away of many of its members, decided to disband.

The Cecil Chapter No. 470, Mrs. A. T. B. Egee, President, has met all of its requirements, gives Christmas and Thanksgiving dinners to families of needy veterans in its midst and sends remembrances to the inmates at the Home for Confederate Women, in Baltimore, at Christmas.

The Home for Confederate Women in Baltimore receives an annual appropriation of $1,000 from the State, the deficit for its maintenance being made up from entertainments and contributions by interested Daughters. $50.00 was contributed to purchase the Arlington Seals.

Our Veterans are ever dear to us and the Confederate Veterans Home at Pikesville, under the auspices of the Maryland Line has an average number of 100 inmates, death's ravages being quickly met by additions from every quarter of the South. The Maryland State Legislature last winter generously increased its annual appropriation of $12,000 to the Home to $15,000 for the years of 1910 and 1911 each. The hospital at the Home, under the immediate supervision of the Board of Lady Visitors, was also given an appropriation of $500.00 for the two years which will be used exclusively to furnish such comforts found necessary to the old heroes' happiness. Among the residents are three direct descendants of the author of The Star Spangled Banner and many others of distinguished lineage. This Home is numbered among one of the best in the whole country.

On June 6th, our Memorial Day, the Veterans are conveyed to Loudoun Park cemetery when, proudly bearing their furled flag, they march in line to the muffled drum to the plot where their comrades lie. The mounds being earlier strewn with flowers by the Daughters of the Confederacy. After an impressive ceremony, under the auspices of the Society of the Confederate Army and Navy, the old men march away, many tottering, only to return when brought to their final rest.

The men of Maryland are planning to erect a monument to cost not less than $20,000 to the Women of the Confederacy. The youngest of these are old women now and the vast majority have fallen asleep weary with their sorrows and burdens which they go valiently bore for their beloved Southland and it seems most fitting to us that those who are left and the descendants of those who have gone to rest should join hands with the Veterans in raising this sacred memorial. And so we gladly go on with our works of love and try to keep the faith once delivered to the fathers.

Respectfully submitted,

CORDELIA POWELL ODENHEIMER,
President Maryland Division U. D. C.

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.

Madam President-General and Daughters of the Confederacy:

It is with great pleasure that the president of the Robert E. Lee Chapter 1131 stands before you today, bearing loving greetings from the daughters of the Minnesota Division.

As she for the first time, has the honor of being present at this great convention of Southern women, most of them residents of the Southland; she wonders if anyone of you can possibly appreciate the position of a small Southern Chapter in a community where the sympathies and sentiments are decidedly Northern. Our adopted home has indeed been a bitter land towards the South, but each year makes many changes and brings, we hope, more of a feeling of Charity towards the Southern cause.

Our chief difficulty is the impossible conditions for making money. We can do small things among ourselves, but charity has not reached the point where the community will patronize anything given, for the benefit of a Southern cause.

There have been many very encouraging features about our years' work. One is that our meetings have been much better attended, and in consequence more interesting.

Our report does not indicate a large increase in numbers, but so far our membership has come from a moving population, many having lived only for a short time in the North Star State.

We have had twelve regular, and two special meetings to celebrate the natal days of General Lee and President Davis. The two last occasions proved of unusual interest.

We have sent several dozen books, fiction and standard works, to assist in establishing a library in a small Virginia town, where a library was much needed. The request for these books came from one of the G. A. R. posts of Minneapolis, a member of which had moved to Virginia and wrote soliciting this help. We, as a Chapter of the U. D. C., appreciated their spirit of friendliness in their desire to benefit our Southland, and very cheerfully joined with them in sending the books.

We have bestowed one Cross of Honor upon a Veteran who has lived in our state for many years. Of this we feel very proud, for it is a privilege which will seldom be ours in this Chapter located so far north.

We are now taking care of a veteran who is living in our midst. He has been self supporting, until recently, but has become too feeble to work. Our Chapter will not be able to support him entirely in the future, but we hope to have him admitted to a Veteran's Home in Virginia, that being his native state.

Respectfully submitted,

WILHELMINA WADE VAN NESS,
President of Robert E. Lee Chapter 1131, U. D. C.

MISSISSIPPI DIVISION

Madam President-General, United Daughters of the Confederacy and friends:

Mississippi, the home state of great men and great statesmen; the home state of the first and only President of the Confederacy, Jefferson Davis—that man who led the southern people in their movement for their constitutional rights; that man who believed, with them, when they said, when they wanted to make a choice: "We, the people of the South would prefer LIBERTY without Union, rather than UNION without Liberty." Mississippi, the home state of Jefferson Davis who led the South and her people to an immortality of fame—sends to you her most loving greetings. To Arkansas, our hostess state; to beautiful Little Rock, her special pride; to our hostess Chapters, Mississippi sends the best she has to give—her whole friendship. Fragments of friendship are ever precious, and are to be treasured. To Arkansas, the home state of Confederate generals—Pat Cleburne, Hindman, Berry of Genl, Tappan; Fagan of Cabell, and a host of others—the list is too long for me to have time to give—who "wearing the grey" themselves, led just as brave "wearers of the grey" to glory as they battled so long and so well for their "Southern Rights." Mississippi, claiming kindred in spirit with these, and begging to have that claim allowed, sends her whole friendship. I am proud to bear her message and present her gift of friendship.

The heart of the Mississippi Division U. D. C. is its educational work. That work receives nearly all of its care and labor. The Mississippi Division goes proudly on record that it subscribes to the lofty sentiment that "knowledge, alone, is real power". Whenever men or women meet to deliberate or act, the trained intellect will always master. We, the Daughters of the Mississippi Division, U. D. C., work to educate the children of our "men who wore the grey for us". We work to train these children's intellect; we work to give them a chance in the battle of Life. We want to give them an opportunity, and we believe that education is opportunity in its very highest sense. Our Division supports three scholarships—two for boys, one for a girl. Besides this, there are four chapters whose special work is towards the support of scholarships; each one of the four supporting a scholarship. Yes, education is the heart of the Mississippi Division U. D. C.

Mrs. Lizzie George Henderson is chairman of a committee which is at work now towards getting the other institutions of learning to give scholarships. Mississippi Division's special memorial to Margaret Davis Hayes is, "The Margaret Davis Hayes Memorial Scholarship Fund," whereby we hope to add largely to our educational work. Mrs. Monroe McClurg is chairman of this committee.

Monument building is along educational lines. In many counties in our state there proudly stands a Confederate monument—a mute but eloquent witness testifying to the blessed fact that the men and boys from here "wore the grey and wore it well" On the school house walls there hang the pictures of our great generals and of great battles, which tell of the "men behind the guns"—which tell of the superb courage of the private soldiers of the Southern Confederacy, whose valor and steadfastness to duty made it possible for these generals to win those battles which made the South immortal. And as the other chapters over the State see unveiled their monuments to the Confederate soldiers, it is the wish of their President that they will hearken unto the voice of our loved and honored "Founder," Mrs. Caroline Merrywether, Douglass Goodlett, when she says: "The grandest monument we could build in the South would be an educated motherhood," and it is well to add, and fatherhood.

Another educational work is being done by our Historian, Mrs. S. E. Rose. I may not linger with her work, except to tell you her prize essay subject is "Sam Davis, the Boy Hero of the Confederacy". When the people all know of this brave Tennessee boy—when they know of the grandeur of his moral character; of his superb physical courage in the face of awful death—away from all who loved him; with only those who did not love him; surrounded by pitiless enemies—how grand he stood under the shadow of the gallows—stood firm, determined, steady in his fixed purpose not to sell his honor for his life—"Dear Mother," he wrote, "your boy has to die to-morrow, but you will not be ashamed of your child. Tell the boys they will have to fight the battles without me." When all the people know him as we, the U. D. C. know him, they will want to take him away from the South and tell of him as "Sam Davis, the boy hero of the world".

Another educational gem is "Our Heritage", the official organ of the Division. Mrs. Lizzie Hunter Blewett, Yazoo City, is editress. We have said that knowledge is power; knowledge too is sovereign, and the PRESS is its royal seat, on which it sits a sceptered monarch. Many of our "Veterans" and "Daughters" write for this little paper, which scatters far and wide the sparks of genuine love and fidelity we feel for our country and its cause, and its noble defenders. "Our Heritage" scatters far and wide the brilliant sparks of the truth of southern history.

The minutes of the Mississippi Division, from its first convention, are being collected to be bound in volumes; hence an added strength will be given to our "heart." Mrs. Daisy McLaurin Stevens, Chairman.

Mrs. Mary Hunter Kimbrough, Chairman of Beauvoir Chapel Fund, writes that our little chapter is a precious reality. It is good for us to know how happy these old men who "wore the grey" and their wives, who were the South's soldiers who stayed and kept the home, will be in the chapel when some man of God tells them that "God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whomsoever believeth in Him shall not perish but have everlasting life". The communion service, altar and the pews are the same that were in use in the church at Biloxi when Jefferson Davis and his family worshipped there. An organ will be in its place when it is dedicated. Gov. E. F. Noel, of Mississippi, quickly granted our request to send guns and ammunition to Beauvoir to be used in the military funeral from now on, as the old soldier passes from this to the other and better life.

John A. Stinson and partner, Mr. Magahey, gave to Mississippi Division fifty marble markers to mark the graves of soldiers who have died at Beauvoir. These gentlemen of the Columbus Marble Works, Columbus, Miss., then made it possible for us to purchase all that we need now, and shall need. The material in these markers, like that used in their monuments, comes from the rock-ribbed sides of old Kennesaw Mountains, and was baptised, during our four years of dreadful war, with the best blood of the south.

Miss Inez Lum, Vicksburg Chapter U. D. C., Vicksburg, Miss., had the care of these markers. She was fortunate in getting free transportation over all the roads from Columbus to Beauvoir. Vicksburg Chapter has the distinction of getting, through its county's representative, the 19th day of January, the birthday of "that mightiest man in the tide of time"—Robert Edward Lee, a legal holiday in Mississippi. Of course, Jefferson Davis' birthday has been made a legal holiday in Mississippi for many years.

The preservation of our Old Capitol at Jackson is our earnest desire. Mrs. Dunbar Rowland is chairman of that committee. Within the doors of that old building "the great of old" of Mississippi made her history. It must not be destroyed.

A new office has been created in our Division—Director for Children's Chapters of the Daughters of the Confederacy. One of our youngest daughters, Miss Sallie James, Swan Lake Chapter, is our Director. Monument Fund Director for Mississippi is Mrs. Lillie F. Worthington, Washington county, Miss.; Director for Shiloh is Mrs. Jennie Henderson of Corinth, Miss.

To keep alive in the hearts of the Grecian people a true patriotism, it is said that for three hundred years after Thermopylae, every child in the schools of Greece was required to recite the names of the three hundred human martyrs who fell in the defence of the Pass.

It would be a crowning proof in southern education if every school child in the South could contemplate each day the lofty character of the southern people; the justness and purity of their cause; the loyalty and bravery of its defenders—"the men who wore the grey"—and utter the name of Jefferson Davis, because it is the name of that man who was the embodiment of everything pertaining to the political life of the South, and because we cannot call the name of every one of her brave defenders. And just as the name of George Washington and the nation are inseparable, as one is linked indissolubly with the other, as both are glorious, both triumphant, as Washington lived, and WILL live, because what he did was for the exaltation of man, the enthronement of conscience and the establishment of a government which recognized ALL the governed—so too the South and the name of Jefferson Davis shall be linked. They shall live victorious over all false statements of their history—shall live according to the immortal principles which George Washington taught—principles which Jefferson Davis and our Southern fathers of '61-'65 tried to maintain; for principles these our fathers DID MAINTAIN. The battle went against them—that was lost, though it was not fought in vain. Their cause was not lost! "No brave battle for truth and right was ever fought in vain." A noble Marylander, Dr. Randolph McKinn, says further that "the soldier of the truth and of the right may perish; yet his truth and right lives on: the soldier's death and defeat become the seeds of his country's future success." Then it may with truth be said: "Though dead, the soldier of the South yet speaketh."

All of this beautiful story of the South is what we, the Daughters of our state, are telling our children and our young people. Yes.

educational work is our pride; our hope is in our educational work which is the heart of the Mississippi Division U. D. C.

Respectfully submitted,

LUCY GREEN YERGER,

President Mississippi Division U. D. C.

(Little Rock Convention U. D. C., 1910.)

MISSOURI DIVISION

Madam President and Daughters, In Convention Assembled at Little Rock:

Missouri closed her thirteenth year at her Thirteenth Convention on the thirteenth day of the month, October 1910, and happily survived the combination.

Missouri's work the past year has been most thorough in regards to registration, and the making out of application papers by many who when the U. D. C. was organized were accepted in a body, without papers save those accepted by the D. O. C. When Mrs. Cornelia Branch Stone, then our President-General was with us at the State Convention held in Springfield, 1909, she made us clearly understand we were not bona fide members till our papers were made out and accepted under the rules of the U. D. C. We have faithfully complied with her ruling, 1,000 application papers being provided by the Corresponding Secretary and the State Registrar reported 1,566 names enrolled on her books.

Finances in flourishing condition, we still have a few hundred dollars to the good after paying all current expenses.

The Charters of two Chapters have been cancelled, three suspended and are practically dead Chapters. The new ones have been added. The Robert E. Lee No. 1245, of Kansas City, and Elijah Gates No. 1291, Smithville, with one more ready to ask for Charter.

Under the head of Scholarships Jefferson City reported $50.00 sent to Miss Berry's school; Clinton, $10.00 to same. St. Louis Auxiliary, a Chapter of young women, paid $50.00 for tuition of girl in the school of the Ozarks. Sam Davis Chapter of St. Joseph, kept their Confederate orphan at school for the year, besides clothing her, gave $25.00 to assist in educating the son of a Veteran at Rowen Gap school.

Prizes were offered through the State Historian for the three best papers on "The Effect of the Cavalier Upon Our Country". Prizes consisted of the U. D. C. Insignia, jeweled. The first with diamonds; second in rubies, and third diamonds rubies and sapphires. Fourteen papers were submitted, three given prizes, and seven nonorable mention. First prize awarded to Mrs. Louis Brooks of St. Louis; second to Mrs. F. S. Leach of Sedalia; third to Mrs. Harry McCullough of Fayette. Independence gave their annual prize called The Laura Mercer Prize, consisting of $15.00 in gold for the best paper on the life of "Stonewall Jackson", competition limited to the senior class in the high school. Sedalia contributed $50.00 to Jefferson Davis Memorial Home, $50.00 to the local Y. M. C. A., $50.00 to the Melita Day Nurser, $5.00 to an educational fund and $5.00 each to Shiloh and Arlington. Jefferson City sent $36.00 to needy Confederates, and $25.00 to the Sterling Price Monument at Keitsville. Fayette, $25.00 to the Price Monument, $9.00 to needy ones, and helped buy a graphophone for the Soldiers' Home. Confederate Dames of St. Louis spent $38.00 helping the needy. Plattsburg paid the expenses of a Veteran to the reunion at Mobile, and sent a Christmas box to the Soldiers' Home. Columbia spent many dollars in flowers and Confederate colors for the dear Veterans who passed away in their midst, gave $10.00 to Arlington, and are contemplating work to help build the Womans' Monument. Monroe City made a cleansing soap, selling it to replenish their treasury, paid rent for a Veteran amounting to $10.00; $12.00 for help in time of bereavement, and $25.00 to their Home Chautauqua. Cape Girardeau gave $10.00 to Shiloh, $50.00 to St. Louis Monument; pledged $12.50 annually towards maintainance of Missouri Room in Richmond Museum, and contemplate erecting a memorial gate to the Confederate dead in their old cemetery. They also place annually copies of "The Confederate Veteran" in their normal school.

Stonewall Jackson Chapter, Kansas City, gave $25.00 to the Jefferson Davis Memorial Home, Caruthersville gave $10.00 gold piece to a Veteran, responded to many calls and gave $20.00 to Shiloh. M. A. E. McClure of St. Louis, spent $50.00 aiding the needy, besides distributing clothing and food, gave $25.00 to Arlington, $75.00 to Shiloh, sent 79 books to the Soldiers' Home and made additional pledge of $1,000.00 to the St. Louis Monument. St. Louis Chapter had innumerable calls for help, aiding all in every way possible, gave $5.00 monthly to a veteran, $5.00 monthly to the wife of a Veteran, $4.00 monthly to another needy Confederate woman, distributed clothing and food, sent box at Christmas to Soldiers' Home, $25.00 given by Young Ladies Auxilliary to Y. W. C. A., made additional pledge of $1,000.00 to St. Louis Monument; have on hand $311.75 extra for that purpose, making in all her pledge to that monument $6,000.00, all of which has been collected. Marshall sent Christmas box, cigars and copies of "The Confederate Veteran" to the Soldiers' Home. Kansas City Chapter bought a fine phonograph for the Home. Camp 80 U. C. V., of Kansas City, contributed $10.00, responded to all calls, and proved their patriotism by being represented together with their Children's Chapter and the U. C. V. camp in the Fourth of July Patriotic Parade. Moberly sent help to rebuild the Confederate Monument at Franklin, Tenn., also donation to Richmond Museum. Sam Davis Chapter, St. Joseph, gave $25.00 to the Sterling Price Monument. Independence paid $35.00 and Clinton $25.00 to Arlington. The "Library of Southern Literature" was placed in the public library in Jefferson City by that Chapter. Picture of General Lee and the Lee Records hung in schools at Mt. Washington and Leeds by the Kansas City Chapter. Portrait of General Lee presented by Mrs. L. C. Reilly, President of St. Louis Chapter, framed by the R. E. Lee Children's Chapter No. 1., to the Missouri Southern Historical Society.

Marshall, Kansas City, Moberly and Springfield celebrated the anniversaries of the battles of West Port and Wilson Creek on Decoration Day. West Port battleground is close to Kansas City; that of Wilson Creek lies near Springfield. Twelve Chapters celebrated the birthdays of Gen. Lee and President Davis. Many have gotten out year books, and several reported having compiled scrap books, filling them with clippings of Confederate interest.

The crowning glory of the year's work is the organization of Children's Chapters. This was under the supervision of Mrs. Frank L. Bartlett, of St. Louis. Starting with one Chapter, the R. E. Lee No. 1, auxiliary to the St. Louis Chapter, formed last year. She has organized thirteen Children's Chapters, thus proving thirteen is the lucky number for old Missouri. We have fourteen strong, enthusiastic working Children's Chapters and more in formation. The following are the names, etc.:

No. 1—R. E. Lee, auxiliary to St. Louis Chapter: 50 members; study, Mrs. Stone's catechism; memorized names of Confederate Generals; celebrated anniversaries and did charitable work.

No. 2—R. E. Lee, auxiliary to Emmet MacDonald Chapter, Sedalia; these are little tots who balked at the catechism, saying they wanted to be entertained and not study. The Emmet MacDonald Chapter formed another auxiliary Chapter later, composed of older children, the Jefferson Davis Chapter No. 13. They wear Washington buttons and will aid in building the Washington Memorial Hall in Washington, D. C.

No. 3—Auxiliary to Carlton-Joplin Chapter, of Caruthersville; formed but not yet in working order.

No. 4—The Dixie Chapter, auxiliary to Monroe City Chapter.

No. 5—The Mary Hunter Giboney Chapter, with twenty members, auxiliary to the Cape Girardeau; study, Southern History, from the Confederate Veteran.

No. 6—Junior Chapter, with 32 members, auxiliary to the Independence Chapter.

No. 7—Caroline M. Goodlett, with forty-eight members, auxiliary to Stonewall Jackson Chapter, Kansas City, Mo.

No. 8—Auxiliary to Sam Davis Chapter, of St. Joseph; given number and literature, but not in working order.

No. 9—The Lee-Custis, twenty-three members, auxiliary to Kansas City Chapter; the first to aid monuments, giving $5 to Arlington.

No. 10—Auxiliary to West Plains Chapter.

No. 11—Jefferson Davis, thirty members, auxiliary to R. E. Lee Chapter, Kansas City.

No. 12—The Bettie S. Robert Memorial, fifteen members, auxiliary to M. A. E. McClure Chapter, St. Louis.

No. 13—The Anna E. Patee Chapter, auxiliary to Sterling Price Chapter, of St. Joseph, named for the newly-elected President of the Missouri Division.

We have during the year bestowed one hundred and twenty-six Crosses of Honor, thirty-six being ordered by one of our small Chapters.

Our U. D. C. Exchange Library is growing rapidly. We have added besides many relics two very valuable sets of books, "The South in the Building of the Nation," containing ten volumes, at a cost of $90, paid for by subscription, and the entire edition of The Confederate Veteran, from the first volume to the present year, comprising sixteen volumes. These were all contributed. This library is a part of the Missouri Southern Historical Society, and is cared for by Miss Idress Head, the Librarian and Curator of that Association.

Circumstances beyond control have caused the St. Louis Monument Association to change the anticipated location of the monument. They are now hoping to build it in a prominent place in Forest Park. They have been quietly at work during the year and steadily increasing their funds; have in sight twelve thousand dollars; have sent out over one thousand coin cards, one to every U. D. C. Chapter in the organization, thereby hoping to increase this sum. They are ready now to select a design and expect soon to begin to build its foundation.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. W. L. KLINE,

Retiring President Missouri Division, U. D. C.

MRS. ANNA E. PATEE, President Missouri Division.

MONTANA DIVISION.

Helena, Mont., October 22, 1910.

Madam President and United Daughters of the Confederacy:

It is with feelings of deep regret that I write of the death of the dear State President, Mrs. J. L. Patterson, of Bozeman, who passed away in August. It was through her efforts that the Chapters in Montana were organized. Her loyalty to the South and her enthusiasm in her work for our cause has been an inspiration to us all. We feel we have lost our best member, but will not give up the work.

The Chapters at Townsend and Missoula are small, and have been so far unable to accomplish very much. The Bozeman Chapter is in good condition, and while realizing the loss of Mrs. Patterson's influence, a sad blow (she has been such a great aid to the veterans there), they will continue to do good work. (See report of Helena Chapter.)

With best wishes for a splendid meeting and many regrets that I cannot be with you.

Respectfully submitted,

EVIE MORRIS,
State Secretary U. D. C., Montana Division, Helena, Mont.

Helena, Mont., October 22, 1910.

Madam President-General and United Daughters of the Confederacy:

The Winnie Davis Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy of Helena, Mont., send loving greetings and best wishes to the members of the Convention assembled in Little Rock.

Financially and numerically our Chapter is in excellent condition. Our chief work has been to look after the Confederate soldiers and any Southerner in need of aid.

Last Thanksgiving we sent a box of clothing and one of provisions to a Confederate soldier living in the country. At Christmas time we remembered the family of a Virginian who had died a few months before. In May we were granted the privilege of placing a picture of General Lee in the High School Assembly Room. The exercises were presided over by Mrs. George Booker, President, and the presentation speech made by Judge Robert E. Lee Word. There was an attempt made by the Grand Army Posts of Montana to have the picture removed, but this was unsuccessful. On June 3 we appropriately observed Jefferson Davis Day, and presented one Cross of Honor. In August one of the veterans belonging to the U. C. V. Camp here passed away, and it was our privilege to assist the family. Recently we have been able to place his son in the State School for Feeble Minded, and it is our intention to have him for a special charge.

At our last meeting we decided to ask the assistance of the local Associated Charities to give us names of any Southern families needing aid this winter.

We have presented Crosses of Honor to almost all the veterans in the State.

The meetings of our Chapter are social. Our members are from almost every Southern State, and Chapters in the South can have no idea how delightful it is for Southern women to meet, having such a noble cause as well as Southern love.

Very respectfully,

MARTHA E. BOOKER,
President Winnie Davis Chapter, U. D. C., Helena, Mont.

JOE WHEELER CHAPTER, ROSWELL, N. M.

Madam President and Daughters of the Confederacy:

I send loving greetings from Joe Wheeler Chapter and regret that I can not personally extend to you this greeting from New Mexico, but must delegate the duties to a friend from our sister State, Oklahoma.

We have not accomplished a great deal this year, having no Division and but few Chapters. We feel the need of concentration of efforts. We hope to have a Division before long. We are just now verging into Statehood, and a State Division for New Mexico is a pleasing anticipation to be accomplished in the near future. We also feel that it is not the quantity but the quality that counts. We can offer at this time the work of a few women that are loyal and true to a cause that is dear to every Southern heart.

We have responded to the call for Arlington and Shiloh and other monument funds; no needy Confederate soldier within our gates is ever turned away empty-handed.

We have observed with befitting ceremonies the natal day of President Davis and General Lee; also Memorial Day.

We have made glad the hearts of some of our old veterans by presenting them with the much-prized Cross of Honor.

The Portels and Albert Sidney Johnston Chapters are growing and enthusiastic Chapters and are doing good work.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. BETTIE MONTGOMERY,
President Joe Wheeler Chapter, Roswell, N. M.
Proxy, Mrs. W. T. Culbertson, Kiowa, Okla.

NEW YORK CHAPTER.

Madam President-General and United Daughters of the Confederacy, in Convention Assembled:

My love and best wishes to you all. It is a matter of deep regret to me not to be with you in my accustomed place, and being delayed abroad longer than I anticipated I am without notes for the annual report of my beloved Chapter. I can, therefore, only make the simple statement that her condition is entirely satisfactory; that her meetings have been regularly held; her donations generous and frequent, and her celebration of the birthday of Jefferson Davis befitting and impressive. Our educational work will be described to you by Mrs. Schuyler, our chairman on education.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. JAMES HENRY PARKER,
President New York Chapter, U. D. C.

London, October, 1910.

NORTH CAROLINA DIVISION.

Madam President and Daughters of the Confederacy:

It is with great pride that I bear to this Convention warmest greetings and good wishes from the 4,000 loyal Daughters of the Old North State.

Our Division is in a very flourishing condition, both as regards our work and members. Three new Chapters, at Raeford, Sanford and King's Mountain, have been added to our roll book, while the Children's Chapters have increased from 26 to 33. U. D. C. certificates are regularly supplied to all new members, this being made obligatory, and very many of the old ones have obtained them, in some instances entire Chapters having gotten them at one time.

The children of the State have received much attention, Chapters of them having come into existence with the first organization of our Division. They are under competent leaders, elected by the mother Chapters, and these leaders are aided and advised along all lines by the chairman of the Children's Chapter Committee. North Carolina has issued a beautiful certificate for her children, while one of her most gifted members, Mrs. J. P. Allison, has compiled a most instructive Confederate catechism for their use.

Our work along all lines has gone forward this year with almost giant strides. The greatest attention has been given to Chapter and State work, but our obligations to calls from general objects have not been neglected, neither have those from private sources.

Arlington Monument has been well supported, and $50 ordered paid toward the purchase of the Christmas seals to be sold for this fund. Many of these seals were taken at our State Convention last month, and our Chapters will do their part in disposing of the full number.

Shiloh Monument has been more liberally aided than heretofore, and now that the Chapters know better all for which this monument will stand, they will aid more freely in placing a proper mark of love and honor upon this noted battlefield.

Chapters have also contributed to the Jefferson Davis Home Association and the Division has given to the "Living Fund" for the student at Vassar.

Our State work stands pre-eminently first with our Division, and of it all there is nothing ahead of our educational objects. We have fifteen scholarships in our State colleges and private institutions, and these have all been reported to the chairman of the General Education Committee.

Our Soldiers' Home in Raleigh is one of the special sources of interest and care of the North Carolina Daughters. Many Chapters have Memorial rooms there, which are beautifully kept up, and all contribute in money and kind most liberally to the Home. Efforts are now being made to erect and equip on these same grounds a home for the wives and widows of veterans.

Monuments to North Carolina's soldiers are rapidly rising in every county. Today these marks of love number fifty-six, two of them being hospitals, one a memorial hall, and of these eight have been unveiled this year, these being at Monroe, Reidsville, Lenoir, Cornelius, Henderson, Rutherfordton, Morganton and Tarboro. Besides the monuments, the Johnston Pettigrew Chapter of Raleigh, on May 10, unveiled a beautiful granite gateway between the Confederate and public cemeteries in that city. This gateway is a memorial to the soldiers buried in the Confederate section. The Stonewall Jackson Chapter in Charlotte also, on this same day, marked with a bronze tablet the spot to which the navy yard supplies and ordnance were moved from Norfolk in 1862, and which spot is known as the Charlotte Navy Yard.

Among our many monuments is one erected in Fayetteville in December, 1867, and we would be glad to know how many, if any, in other States antedate this one.

The Washington Grays, Children's Chapter, 100 strong, in 1905 erected a beautiful monument, in their home town of Washington, to the seventeen young soldiers who were ruthlessly killed by the enemy in its streets in 1862. This we think is the first monument erected by the children alone. On October 18, 1910, the Dixie-Lee Children's Chapter in Tarboro unveiled a beautiful fountain, in their home town, erected to the memory of Henry L. Wyatt, who enlisted in the Edgecombe Guards from that county.

The Division is working on three handsome monuments, which they hope to have completed before another Convention rolls around. The first of these is a beautiful Memorial Arch to be placed at the entrance to the Confederate Cemetery in Raleigh, a spot where sleep the hero dead of a number of States besides our own. Another monument is to the boy soldiers of our State University—boys who threw aside their books at the call to arms and went forth to war. Of the entire freshmen class of '61 all enlisted with one exception, and he was in too delicate health. One thousand University students fought beneath the Stars and Bars.

But our crowning work, and the one in which we take most pride, is the fact that the money is all in hand for the bronze statue of Henry L. Wyatt the First, at Bethel, that will be unveiled in our Capital Square next June, on the fiftieth anniversary of his death, and which will be the work of Sir Moses Ezekial. In claiming the honor of this man we will gladly share it with our sister State, Virginia, for it was within her borders that Wyatt was born, and upon her sacred soil he poured out his life-blood. To the Virginia Division we now extend a most cordial invitation to attend the unveiling exercises of this monument.

The year's work is ended, but we pledge ourselves that in the future, as in the past, there will be no more loyal, true-hearted workers for the Confederate cause in all this fair land of ours than the Daughters of the North Carolina Division.

Respectfully submitted,

FANNIE RANSOM WILLIAMS,
President North Carolina Division.

OKLAHOMA DIVISION.

Madam President and United Daughters of the Confederacy:

It gives me untold pleasure to come before you as a duly accredited representative of "a beautiful land of sun and flowers," and summer the whole year long.

"I come from a land where the golden hours
Roll by to the mocking-bird's song;
Where the cotton blooms 'neath the Southern sun;
Where the vintage hangs thick on the vine;
A land whose story is just begun,
This wonderful land of mine."

Oklahoma, with a State area of 70,057 square miles, and a population of 1,750,000 people, whose capital city boasts 68,800 citizens acquired in its twenty-one years of existence, with an area of seventeen square miles, 186 miles of storm and sanitary sewers, 108 miles of asphalt-paved street, 85 miles of electric street railway; a public school system maintaining 21 ward schools and 300 teachers, and handsome, prosperous church buildings galore.

I say, it gives me great pleasure to bring you greetings from this wonderful land of ours, and let me hasten to assure you that we are not proudest of the aforementioned commercial conditions, but rather of that wonderful citizenship made possible by the blending of the North and the South, the East and the West, the product of which is "Oklahoma."

And here in this cosmopolitan land flourishes our own beloved organization, the United Daughters of the Confederacy, with over a thousand members, and thirty-nine Chapters, whose main thought and work is toward the completion of a "home" for the disabled Confederate veterans and their wives and widows in the State. To our past President, Mrs. W. T. Culbertson, is due much praise for her untiring efforts in this work. She gave much of her time during the past year to soliciting funds, with the financial agent of the home, Mr. W. F. Gilmer, who is also one of the authors of a bill passed by our last Legislature making available an appropriation of $20,000 for the maintenance of a Confederate Home; our part of the contract being the erection of a building to cost at least $20,000, and at least 20 acres of ground. The acreage was presented to us by one of our own "Daughters," Mrs. Lutie Halley Walcott, and the "home" is fast nearing completion, beautifully situated in the suburbs of Ardmore. During the two months of my office just past it has been my duty, privilege and pleasure to have visited 33 towns and traversed over 2,000 miles in an effort to comfortably house for the winter and all time the 54 of our own Confederate people who have made application for our care and protection in their declining days. From you older States, who can hardly remember the time you did not glory in your Confederate homes, let me bespeak a kindly, considerate thought for the new State that so early in its existence is giving its best efforts for the care of that brave army whom it is our delight to revere and honor.

I would have you know that Oklahoma Division, U. D. C., is by no means an idle organization. At the State Convention, held in Oklahoma City in July, 1910, many delegates reported many lines of work.

The Custodian of Crosses reported 69 Crosses having been bestowed during the last year. Our memorial days are very generally observed by fitting ceremonies. We have what we term an Auxillary Director, a State officer, whose duty it is to organize the children of the Confederacy. Our Historian prepares a monthly program for each Chapter, which in some cases is supplemented by a special historical course. Many chapters are placing pictures of Southern heroes in our public schools. This means more to the children of our Western State than you might imagine at first thought. When you know that we are not "typically Southern" you may better appreciate the fact that two of our newest and finest school buildings recently completed in Oklahoma City, through our efforts, bear the proud names of Robert E. Lee and Joe Wheeler, and handsome steel engravings of these heroes of ours hang therein.

Our donations to the several monument funds have been somewhat curtailed this year, owing to our urgent home needs. We are taking up a line of work new to us, through an educational committee. We hope to offer medals for best essays on Southern subjects, and a little later to maintain one or more scholarships.

Another work we have in mind is the establishment of a "Relic Room" in the Capitol Building, soon to be erected. We have been assured the co-operation of the Capitol Commissioners in this. Still another work in view is petitioning the Legislature to set aside a certain tract of land in the Southwestern part of the State, as a State Park—no less than four Confederate Generals having at times been quartered there, making it a spot of historical interest to us.

We are also asked to furnish a Confederate flag that saw real service during the sixties, for reproduction in the second edition of the Oklahoma history to be compiled soon. This flag must necessarily come from the old Indian Territory side of the State, as the Western portion is probably not in possession of such mementoes.

Pray pardon me for making report of future work, instead of that already accomplished; it is typical of the Western folk.

I feel that Oklahoma Division is in an active, prosperous condition, much of which is due its efficient corps of State officers. Would that I had time to tell you wherein each one excels; these with the rank and file stand ready to do what comes to hand for the good of the cause we espouse; for the glory of the heritage that's ours, believing that such devotion, loyalty and faithfulness are the things worth while.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. W. R. CLEMENT,
President Oklahoma Division.

OHIO DIVISION.

Madam President-General and United Daughters of the Confederacy, in Convention Assembled:

This report comes with loving greetings from the Ohio Division, and with many regrets that the President is denied the pleasure of being with you upon this enjoyable occasion.

The Division is fortunate in having so able a representative.

Although we have but two Chapters in the State of Ohio, we try to work in harmony with each other. This year has been marked by the usual and always interesting events—the commemoration of General Lee's birthday and the impressive services at Camp Chase. We have contributed to the Arlington Monument fund and many other worthy causes. Mrs. Black, President of Stonewall Jackson Chapter of Cincinnati, O., reports the following:

Notwithstanding we have been transplanted far in the North and are such a small body of women working for the cause of the U. D. C., we are in a flourishing condition and feel that we have done and are doing a good work. I do not think the charge can be brought against us that we have been idle, but even if our organization was void of proofs of material help to the cause, the value of the spreading interest and unifying aims and deepening loyalty and strengthening harmony has been of real and abiding benefit to us.

In October the State Convention met with us and the delegates were entertained by a theater party, a luncheon, a dinner and a reception. While we feel always pleasure in having the R. E. Lee Chapter with us and likewise enjoy accepting their hospitality, there is no other alternative but to be entertained by each other, for in the whole Ohio Division we are "only two."

In September our treasury contained $48.53, but the demands soon began to present themselves and we were glad to respond. First came a letter of distress from a poor Daughter in our city saying she was behind in her rent, and as she had no shoes she could not come to us. After immediate investigation we found her deserving and her indebtedness was paid and the shoes provided.

The work of love in which we were occupied for some time was the care of an old veteran, Mr. Thomas Chinn, a Virgilian, who drifted years ago to New Orleans and then back to us. After struggling along for many years his strength failed and he was forced to seek assistance and came to us. We found him very infirm, a cancer on his wrist made it impossible for him to work longer, so through one of our members we obtained most comfortable quarters for him in the City Hospital, where he received especial medical attention and care. Here he remained until we were able to arrange for his removal to Kentucky, for by establishing his residency there we could secure admittance for him into the Confederate Home at Pewee Valley, Ky., but after a few months' stay at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, where we placed him and where he received the tenderest care, death claimed him and in the cemetery in Covington a grave was donated by a Kentucky Daughter and we laid our veteran to rest.

Our usual annual donation to Miss Berry's school at Rome, Ga., while always given most cheerfully for this work, is so worth while and so abundant we could all keep busy just at this. This year we gave, oh, so willingly, and wished for more, more to give, for Miss Berry had come to us in person and told us of her work. Her wonderful personality and earnestness won for her many friends not only among the Daughters, but throughout the city. Our reception to her was only one of many arranged for her. We are glad of an opportunity to have our broad-minded, capable co-workers come to us here in Ohio and tell the people of our work.

The General Federation of Women's Clubs, as you know, met in our city during May and among them, of course, were many charming Southern women, those we Daughters welcomed at a large reception given by one of our members.

An Easter market and luncheon next busied us and from this we realized $21.80. Following close upon this a card party held at Hotel Glencoe was arranged by two of our members who live at the hotel and who were able to interest some new comers for the Southland to the extent of having them assist. This affair was quite a success and greatly enjoyed. The prizes, fourteen in number, were generously donated by our merchants and other friends. A second card party was given soon after this by a member at her home, and she, too, turned over to us quite a nice sum. The success of this affair was due to the almost unaided effort of the hostess.

We obtained a pass to Lexington and provided other necessary expenses for Mr. James D. Gleason. At Lexington he hoped to find relatives to care for him.

Mr. and Mrs. Foster appealed to us for help and $10 was loaned them. Mr. Foster had lost his position and his wife was trying to secure a position to teach in the Boone County (Ky.) School; $12.50 given Arlington fund.

During our recent Ohio Valley Exposition we served luncheon and dinner for twenty-four days. This was quite the most stupendous undertaking of the year's work, but the members worked faithfully and the sum added to the amount in our treasury is so large for us to have we hope to be able to lend a hand in many directions.

Encouraged by this success the members are busy arranging for a "rummage sale." At present, too, we are all astir over our two conventions, as both the State and National follow in close succession and we are arranging to be represented at both by our own delegates.

Robert E. Lee Chapter, of Columbus, reports as follows:

The Robert E. Lee Chapter No. 519, U. D. C., has a membership of thirty-five. During the year one new member has been added and one reinstated. The Chapter has been fortunate in no loss by death or suspension.

Meetings of the Chapter have been held regularly once a month with an average attendance of about ten members. A great deal of interest is taken by each member and all seem anxious for the success of the organization.

A Christmas bazaar was given and a neat sum was realized to replenish the treasury. On the 19th of January the Chapter, ably assisted by the veterans, celebrated R. E. Lee's birthday with an appropriate program. During the year the Chapter has, on several occasions, been called upon for donations to sister Chapters and various worthy causes. We have endeavored to respond promptly and to the extent of our ability to such requests. A package of sundry articles was forwarded to the Memorial Association at Washington, D. C., to be used at a bazaar held at that place. A contribution was sent to Franklin, Tenn., to help the needy and homeless caused by a violent cyclone.

As has been the custom for several years the Robert E. Lee Chapter paid fitting tribute to its honored dead at Camp Chase Cemetery on June 6. Col. E. Polk Johnson, of Louisville, Ky., as on the previous year, delivered an eloquent address. Remarks were made by Mr. A. G. Field, Col. Wm. H. Knauss and others. The members of sister Chapters and veterans of the South liberally donated flowers and money to be used in decorating the graves of the 2,250 brave soldiers that lie at Camp Chase.

The Robert E. Lee Chapter wishes to most heartily thank one and all that in any way contributed to the good of the cause.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

MARGARET A. CARROLL,
President of Ohio Division, United Daughters of Confederacy.

OREGON CHAPTER.

Madam President and Daughters of the Confederacy:

The Daughters of Oregon Chapter, from the golden slopes of the Pacific, send loving greetings to the United Daughters of the Confederacy, in convention assembled.

Though the rock-ribbed mountain chains divide us; though we abide far from our blessed sunny home land; though we have cast our lot with a people who, while not openly antagonistic, yet who view our cause with little sympathy, yet are we none the less true and loyal Daughters and upholders of the cause in which our fathers won undying glory.

While we are very few in numbers, we yet realize as one of our dear Confederate veterans expressed it in an address to us during the year, that "we are the only organization that will in the future be able to uphold the honor of our people; the veterans are fast joining that invisible host on the other side; the Sons of Veterans have no way of perpetuating their organization; but it remains to the Daughters to immortalize the deeds of the bravest body of men that ever shouldered arms in the history of the world."

The past year has been a good year with us. We have been able to raise money to contribute $10 each to the Shiloh and Arlington monument funds; we have undertaken to pay $50 this coming year for the education of one girl in the Rabun Gap School in Georgia, and have already raised part of the money. Let me just add, parenthetically here, that any movement on our part to raise money for educational purposes meets with a readier response from our Western people outside of the Southern ranks than for any other purpose embodied in the objects of our organization.

We observed the natal day of our beloved chieftain, General Robert E. Lee, in fitting public manner; also the birthday of our only President, Jefferson Davis; and on September 10, Founders' Day was celebrated with appropriate papers and talks on the life of the beloved founder of the U. D. C., Mrs. Caroline Douglas Merriwether Goodlett.

On the occasion of our Annual Rose Show in Portland during the first week in June the ladies of our Chapter made an official appearance as an organization in the beautiful floral auto parade, eliciting much applause for their beautiful machines, decorated in the Confederate colors.

During the past year we have co-operated with the Monday Musical Club in an effort to raise the nucleus for a building to be known as the Portland Auditorium, and which, when built, will fill a long-felt want in providing the city with a handsome auditorium for the production of high-class concerts and entertainments.

This project is still in an embryo state, and we realize, of course, that it is a big undertaking which may require years for its ultimate consummation.

In fact, it was with some trepidation that we undertook the stupendous task at all, for, indeed, there was some opposition, as some felt that to engage in a project of that sort would tend to weaken us along the more essential lines of work for which our organization stands. However, a fund has been created and is being added to by the proceeds from socials, musicales, etc. We gave our Annual Southern Ball in November, and later had two dramatic recitals and an American Beauty Show, which helped to swell the fund.

For the coming year, we are hoping to pursue a more definite line of study of Southern history and heroism, and our programs, under the able supervision of our gifted sister, Mrs. Emma Jones Stovall, promise to be most interesting.

Altogether we have had a most successful year, and, Dear Madam President, let us assure you, in conclusion, that we hereby pledge ourselves to greater efforts in the future in behalf of our dear sunny Southland.

May your deliberations at Little Rock be marked by that dignity and unanimity of purpose which invariably characterize all of our assemblages, and do not forget that Oregon Chapter will be with you in spirit during all the important sessions.

Respectfully submitted,

NANNIE DUFF SILVA, President.

SYLVIA W. McGUIRE, Corresponding Secretary.

PHILADELPHIA CHAPTER.

Madam President, Officers and Daughters of the Confederacy:

The Philadelphia Division sends to each and every member of this organization a hearty greeting.

It is with deep regret that the President of this Chapter cannot be with you on this occasion, but she will be so ably represented that her presence will not be missed.

The Philadelphia Chapter has met with all requirements of the United Daughters in every respect. We have labored hard and earnestly for the beloved cause, and our efforts have not been in vain. Our membership has increased and we are now a strong body of women, ready to aid others less fortunate than ourselves. Our charities have been far reaching and numerous.

A Mr. Redford, a veteran, was sent by our Chapter to the Confederate Home in Richmond, Va., where he died among his comrades in arms, and his widow was supported until she could resume her work.

A Southern family of four helpless women are being cared for by us; their rent paid monthly and aid given them in other directions.

An old veteran from Tennessee who met with a serious accident last winter was sent to one of our best hospitals, and every attention given him until restored to health.

There are several old ladies on our list who are regularly cared for and their declining days cheered by the Philadelphia Chapter.

In caring for these unfortunate wanderers from the South we are enabled to show that the hardships endured by them for the cause so dear to us are not forgotten by those of the younger generation determined to keep alive the traditions of our Southland.

Our meetings have been most delightful and the attendance large during the past year. Important and instructive papers were read each time, the most notable of which were a historical account of

Gen. Wirz and a most interesting paper on the Confederate Navy's only Admiral, Raphael Semmes.

On January 19, the birthday of Gen. Lee, a brilliant reception was given at the Bellevue-Stratford, which was attended by a most representative audience composed of Northern and Southern admirers of our great hero. An address by Hon. C. C. Corlin, of Virginia, eulogizing our beloved General, touched a responsive chord in the hearts of all presents, and an extensive musical programme made the occasion one long to be remembered.

Our third annual luncheon, also at the Bellevue-Stratford, was attended by two hundred guests. This, a typically Southern entertainment, is looked forward to annually as a unique feature of Philadelphia social life.

Mrs. Dawes, our Recording Secretary, entertained the Chapter at a reception on June 3, to celebrate the birthday of President Davis. On this occasion a cross of honor was awarded the late Capt. R. G. Fleming, of South Carolina. This cross was given to his daughter, Mrs. Wm. K. Beard.

The following contributions were made:

Through Mrs. T. A. Blythe, to Arlington Monument, $10.00; through Mrs. Louis Lewis, to Shiloh Monument fund, $10.00; to the Confederate Bazar, $5.00; to Davis Calendar, $5.00. And rose bushes were sent to the Confederate Veterans' Home in Atlanta, Ga.

Generous Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets were sent to Southern families.

The annual contribution of $5.00 was sent to Devon Post, G. A. R. These veterans who wore the Blue show their respect for a worthy foe by caring for the last resting place, in the National Cemetery, of two hundred and twenty-four of those who wore the Gray.

The annual pilgrimage to Pittville National Cemetery was made on Memorial Day. A most impressive service was conducted by Rev. J. Thompson Cole, chaplain of the Philadelphia Chapter, assisted by a choir of delightful voices. A wreath was placed by loving hands on the graves of these Southern heroes who died in Northern prisons.

In conclusion, permit me to say that we of the Philadelphia Chapter feel that we have every reason to be proud of our organization. We of the Northern Chapters are second only in number to our New York neighbors, and second to none in our benevolent work.

Respectfully submitted,

VIDA FLEMING BEARD, President.

SOUTH CAROLINA DIVISION.

Madam President and Daughters of the Confederacy:

It is my proud privilege to bear this year's message of loyalty from the old Palmetto State, and give to this Convention a dim outline of what has been accomplished in our Division.

Eight new chapters have joined the ranks; strong, helpful chapters, all of them. These are Wade Hampton, at Varnville; Fairfax Chapter, at Fairfax; Hartsville Chapter, at Hartsville; M. C. Butler (Shandon), at Columbia; Francis Marion Bamberg, at Bamberg; James W. Moore Chapter, at Hampton; Hampton-Lee Chapter, at Greer, and John T. Morrison Chapter, at Estill. In addition to these, there are two other chapters knocking loudly for admission and will be accepted at an early day.

The enthusiasm over Children's Chapters shows a decided increase in the State, and during the year seven additional chapters have been formed, making a total of eleven, with three more in course of formation. Our S. C. Chapter, in lieu of an auxiliary, admits children as Junior members.

I feel that South Carolina has reason to be proud of the increase in her membership. There has been a gain of over 500 members during the past year. This may be accounted for in part by the personal visits of the President to different sections of the State in the interest of the Division. Five hundred and thirty-seven certificates have been signed in 1910.

With the assistance of the Legislature the Division has completed and had unveiled the Memorial Window in Blandford Church, Va. Miss S. A. Smyth, Chairman of this committee, reports the exercises as having been most interesting. Gov. Ansel being unable to attend, appointed as his representative the Hon. Francis H. Weston; and South Carolina was well represented.

The Division feels it a privilege to do for her needy veterans, and it is with rejoicing that the Division reports that a much-needed building is in course of construction, adjoining the Soldiers' Home. This new Infirmary Building will bear the inscription, "Confederate Infirmary, erected by the South Carolina Division, U. D. C.," and here those whose infirmities call for extra care will find ease and succor. Subscriptions for the erection of this substantial building in connection with the Confederate Home were raised by liberal contributions from various chapters in the State.

It is also with pleasure that the South Carolina Daughters have attained another object, viz., a life size painting of Gen. Wade Hampton, Carolina's famous Confederate General and leader, has been completed. It is desired to place this painting in the South Carolina room in the Confederate Museum at Richmond, as a slight recognition from the Daughters of Carolina to a devoted statesman and soldier and a representative Carolinian.

The South Carolina Regent, Miss I. D. Martin, reports the room in very good condition. Several valuable relics and Confederate mementoes have been given during the past year and over $100 in money. It is gratifying to know that South Carolina is far in advance of the other States in the amount raised for the Endowment Fund.

Since the last Convention the Division has bestowed 394 Crosses of Honor, and all the back lists are on file.

The South Carolina Registrar's excellent work has received recognition from the Registrar General, who made valued comment upon the neat and orderly report made by Mrs. Graham.

The flag that formerly belonged to the Clarendon Rifles of Sumter, and the first flag to be raised over Fort Sumter, now rests in the Relic Room in the State Capitol, and an effort will be made to recover the South Carolina battle flag that was captured by the Federal troops and is now said to be in the possession of an Illinois family.

The Chairman of the U. D. C. Committee on Education is also the Chairman of the Scholarship Committee of the South Carolina Division, and it is needless to speak of her enthusiasm and splendid work. Two State scholarships, one at Winthrop and the other at the South Carolina University, show what has been achieved. This phase of the U. D. C. work cannot receive too much encouragement and assistance and it does more to keep alive the spirit of patriotism and veneration than do hundreds of tablets of bronze or marble.

Nearly all Chapters have cared for unmarked graves of Southern patriots in their midst, and it has been a work of love to put bronze, iron or marble markers on the graves of those who helped to make Southern history. The veterans who have recently passed away were not forgotten, for upon their graves rests always a floral tribute from Southern women who remember.

Before another year rolls its flight it is expected that upon the grounds of the State Capitol will rise the elaborate monument to the South Carolina women of the Confederacy, a loving tribute from Carolina's sons to those noble women whose unselfish devotion to a fight for principle has called forth the sublime inscription written by Capt. W. E. Gonzales to be used on the monument:

(South Side.)

In this Monument generations unborn shall hear the Voice of a grateful People testifying to the sublime Devotion of the Women of South Carolina in their Country's need.

Their unconquerable spirit strengthened the thin lines of gray.

Their tender care was solace to the stricken.

Reverence for God and unflinching Faith in a righteous Cause inspired Heroism that withstood the immolation of sons and Courage that bore the agony of suspense and the shock of disaster.
The tragedy of the Confederacy may be forgotten, but the fruits of the noble Service of the Daughters of the South are our perpetual heritage.

(North Side.)

When reverses followed victories, when want displaced plenty,
when mourning for the flower of Southern Manhood darkened countless homes;
when Government tottered and Chaos threatened, the Women were steadfast and unafraid.
They were unchanged in their Devotion, unshaken in their Patriotism,
unwearied in Ministrations, uncomplaining in Sacrifices.
Splendid in Fortitude, they strove while they wept.
In the Rebuilding after the Desolation their Virtues stood as the supreme Citadel, with strong towers of Faith and Hope around which Civilization rallied and triumphed.

Explanation of Inscriptions.

Following is the formal inscription prepared by the Commission:
To
The South Carolina Women of the Confederacy.
1861-65.

Reared
By the Men of their State.

The Legislature's part will be conveyed in a line, "Enacted by the General Assembly of the State of South Carolina," legible on a scroll being held up to the woman by a bronze Cupid.

The Division has not forgotten that pictures of Confederate heroes and medals offered to schools afford stimulation and a deep research into what all Southern youth should know.

The three great days, May 10, June 3 and January 19, are properly observed over the State.

Walhalla and Laurens have added to the number of South Carolina monuments during the past year, and other Chapters are devoting their energy to the same work.

The work and interest of South Carolina's younger members is a cause of pride and pleasure to all of her daughters. Of all of the sixty-six Chapters in the Division, none has done better or more thorough work than the Winthrop College Chapter. Now comes a sister college to take a stand by her side, and soon South Carolina can report two College Chapters with all the zeal and energy of youth.

The funds for Arlington and Shiloh monuments have been very near the hearts of the South Carolina Daughters, and have received attention at their hands. In addition to the $50.00 raised for the seals, there has been two hundred and thirty-three dollars and forty-six cents ($233.46) donated to Arlington by South Carolina. Shiloh has not been neglected by the South Carolina Chapters. Thirty-seven have contributed one hundred and seventy-seven dollars and six cents ($177.06) during the past year.

South Carolina has always shown an intense interest in historical work, and the Historical Committee is one of the most active in the Division. During the past year this committee has been of great assistance to the Chapters, and it reports that a number of Chapters have awarded medals and books to schools and colleges. It also reports an awakening interest among the Chapters and an added value for Confederate relics, and the great necessity for preserving all that pertains to the great struggle.

The Division has, at the suggestion of the Historian-General, established an exchange division library at the University of South Carolina, which it is hoped will aid greatly in the preservation of Confederate data.

In closing this incomplete summary of work accomplished, a touching little episode should be recorded, that of the beautiful work done by the Children's Chapter of Spartanburg. At the recent reunion held in that city in August, the children raised sufficient money to furnish a large room as a sleeping apartment for the veterans. There they attended in squads, furnishing all possible comforts and attention. Ice water, flowers, fans and stationery were their personal care. Such seed sown carefully and nurtured tenderly will blossom into a rich harvest.

By way of summary:

There is increased interest throughout the State in U. D. C. work.

There are sixty-six active Chapters in the State.

There were eight new Chapters formed during the year.

366 MINUTES OF SEVENTEENTH ANNUAL CONVENTION,

There has been a Confederate infirmary added to the Soldiers' Home by the Division.

There have been 537 certificates of membership signed during the year.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. AUGUST KOHN, President.

Columbia, S. C.

TENNESSEE DIVISION.

Madam President-General and Members of the Seventeenth Annual Convention of United Daughters of the Confederacy:

Again I have the pleasure and honor of bringing to you the greetings and good wishes of Tennessee Division.

In submitting this report I feel that I can proudly claim credit for our State and substantially demonstrate the fact that she has been vigilant and co-operative in the work which binds us together. The past year has been one of activity for us, with a working force whose reports gave us great satisfaction, when submitted at our State Convention at Clarksville in May last.

I regret to report the surrender of its charter by one Chapter since our last meeting, but have pleasure in reporting as an offset thereto that four splendid new chapters have been added during the year, coming in under auspicious circumstances, with large memberships, thus giving encouragement to the faith that we shall be greatly strengthened by their acquisition.

Many Crosses of Honor have been bestowed, and we are endeavoring to distinguish in this way each one of our old veterans who is entitled to this envious emblem of merit before the time limit has expired for receiving the Cross.

Certificates of membership are being constantly called for and supplied, until it would seem that most of our chapters must by this time have their members furnished with them. The placing of the pictures of General Robert E. Lee, General Stonewall Jackson and President Jefferson Davis in our public schools has also been successfully carried on.

Our work is in the hands of efficient, conscientious and forceful women as officers and committees. The monumental branch is making a good record. Shiloh, perhaps, takes first rank in our interest, for, in the ten years that have elapsed since, logically, it was first promulgated in the Chapter at Savannah, which is on the threshold of the historic place we wish to memorialize in this monument, this work has taken deep hold on our hearts, and since the General Association, five years ago, came to our help, in espousing as its own this grand undertaking, we have made good headway in it, under our able Director-General, Mrs. Alexander B. White. This fearful battle having been fought on Tennessee soil, I feel that, as a Division, we might with profit adopt the Tennessee campaign rallying cry of "Remember Shiloh" as a stimulus to our exertions until the monument is completed.

Arlington monument also has received our support, and we trust that the effort to materially increase the fund for it by the resourceful Chapter at Florence, Ala., in getting out the Confederate Christmas Seal will be supported by our entire membership in a most liberal way.

Aside from these two broader fields we have other results to be proud of. At Union City, Cleveland, Sewanee and Bolivar monuments have been erected. While the General A. P. Stuart Chapter of Chattanooga is interested in raising funds for a worthy memorial of the brave Lieutenant-General whose name it bears, this undertaking is one which all Tennesseans wish to have part in.

I am delighted to be able to report that Tennessee's window in old Blandford Church, at Petersburg, Va., has been placed, the amount necessary for its porch being raised by our Division, through the efforts of our able Chairman for this memorial, Mrs. Wm. Hume.

The State Regent for Tennessee Room in Confederate Museum, at Richmond, Va., as well as the Chairman of Sam Davis Memorial Window, to be placed in our room, report encouragingly.

The local work commanding interest and receiving first consideration is, of course, our Soldiers' Home. There are few exceptions where chapters have failed to contribute towards it. The report of our retiring Chairman in May shows collected $1,553 from the chapters during the year, besides having a very long list of contributions of boxes, special generous donations of clothing, groceries, etc.

She also has figures to show how rapidly death is removing from us this sacred obligation, and opportunity to minister to the enfeebled remnant of our Confederate Army, inasmuch as thirty-three old soldiers had died at the Home within the year.

The First Tennessee Regiment Chapter of Nashville deserves special commendation for its work in behalf of the Home, having built a morgue for it costing $200, this being something long and badly needed. In this connection I feel it but just to incorporate in this a synopsis of report of the personal work done in behalf of the old soldiers by Misses Martha, Grace and Annie Handly of the Kate Litton Hickman Chapter, which received the thanks of our State Convention, for the vast amount of good accomplished by their individual efforts. For, while not done as Division work, it supplemented and redounded to the benefit of it. They provided for many very essential things heretofore lacking, and deserve great credit and appreciation for their help.

We are now starting on another year's work, with a splendid Chairman and committees to look after our interests in the Home—a committee thoroughly organized, and working together harmoniously in behalf of the interests of both our Division and veterans.

Splendid progress has been accomplished by chapters in placing markers at the graves of Confederate soldiers. Several have undertaken the task of putting them at every grave in the counties in which the chapters are located.

The Confederate Girls' Home Committee is encouraged in its undertaking. The Franklin Chapter has charge of this, and also originated the measure for Tennessee Division to memorialize Congress to map and mark the battlefields of Franklin and Nashville, as well as to indorse the erection of a memorial to honor Commodore Mathew Fountaine Maury.

The educational feature of our Division is broadening and growing, while the general trend of all our plans for permanent memorials is leading on to one idea, and shaping into some form of benefit to the descendants of the Southern Confederacy. Our Chairman reports "three teachers as a result of our University scholarship, one music teacher, four stenographers, and a number of boys and girls with employment of various kinds, to whom we have supplied books or given scholarships. We have now one young lady in the Columbia (Tenn.) Institute, one at University of Chattanooga, three boys at McCallie Preparatory School, one at Central High School, to whom books are furnished; one at the Girls' Preparatory School, and one at High School, to whom we allow $12 a month. We have an unfilled scholarship at Baylor's Preparatory School for Boys, one at University of the South, and one at the State Business College." This report shows something definite has been accomplished.

Our new Historian, Mrs. Owen Walker, also of Franklin Chapter, has issued a fine prospectus for the ensuing two years, which will be largely followed by the chapters.

At our State Convention it was decided to emulate the precedent set by the U. D. C. and select a Founders' Badge for the venerable and beloved Tennessean, Mrs. Caroline Meriwether Goodlett, since, heretofore, her own State has failed to do this.

Our Division has suffered heavy loss in surrendering before the last great enemy, Death, many of our members this year, about forty-six having been reported up to last May. Among this number was our highly esteemed and much loved Honorary State President, Mrs. Julia Peet Bate, widow of General Wm. B. Bate, who died April 13, 1910, at the home of her sisters, in Nashville, and who was buried beside her distinguished husband.

The organization of United Daughters of the Confederacy was twice honored in Tennessee affairs within the past six months, when, both at the State Fair, held in Nashville, during September, and at the Appalachian Exposition, at Knoxville, in October, a special day was set aside for it. At the latter place a delightful program was carried out by some of our most distinguished Daughters from various States, who kindly consented to come from great distances to participate in the exercises on this occasion. We were, however, greatly disappointed at not having with us our President-General, Mrs. McSherry, to conduct the program.

A great honor was bestowed on our Division at Mobile in May last, when, during the Confederate Reunion, held there, one of our most gifted Daughters, Mrs. Virginia Frazer Boyle, of Memphis, was made Poet Laureate for life of the United Confederate Veterans.

And now, in closing, I stand ready to assure you of the loyalty, willingness and capability of the Daughters of my Division to be counted upon for good service whenever and wherever needed in the work of the organization.

Submitted in the spirit of fraternity, cordiality and co-operation always characteristic of our beloved organization.

MRS. RICHARD H. SANSOM,
President Tennessee Division, U. D. C.

TEXAS DIVISION.

Madam President and Daughters of the Confederacy:

I feel it a pleasure as well as a privilege to be the one selected to extend to you the greetings and loyal offerings of the many devoted Daughters of the great Empire State of the South and West.

When I tell you of the many deeds accomplished, of the broadening out of the Texas Division in this field of labor, of the loyal support to a cause we hold sacred, you will not wonder that I boast of this as the great Empire State.

I can tell you of the large increase in our ranks and of our endeavor to work out the many tasks set for us. We have thirteen standing committees and twenty-four special committees, and last, but not least, a splendid Editorial Staff, who publish in all the Sunday papers, in a very delightful way, news of the Division, bringing chapters in touch with each other, keeping alive interest and enthusiasm in the cause we love so well.

In so large an organization there is work for all to do. Each committee has a Chairman capable of leading in her line of work, who has the hearty co-operation of her committee members, all willing and loyal workers, realizing that nothing can succeed that is not supported by all as a whole.

Feeling that the State offers educational advantages inferior to none, that department is rapidly advancing. We have a scholarship in our State University, endowed through the generosity of Major Littlefield. The young man holding this scholarship at present has the highest mark to his credit and will graduate in his class as first honor man.

We also have scholarships in Georgetown University and Baylor College at Belton, Tex.

To show that true patriotism is still felt by the youth of our land, Baylor College has a U. D. C. Chapter, composed of the young girls of the school.

To encourage the children to read and study the true history of the South, many chapters in the State are offering prizes in the public schools and the State University for the best essay on a Confederate hero or a great battle.

The Texas Division heartily indorsed the resolution in regard to the Columbia College scholarship passed by the General Association in Houston last year. The Texas Division, in session at Brownwood, passed resolutions to this effect and made them very binding.

Many beautiful monuments have been unveiled in the past year by different chapters. The greatest monument that Texas has ever erected is the Home to our Mothers of the Confederacy.

If we fail to get the consent of the State to make this a State institution, it will be the fault of the men of Texas and not of the Daughters. The Legislative Committee has made every effort to consummate the end so devotedly wished for. When the State takes charge of this Home, the Texas Division has another great work to do; that is, the erection of a permanent place of meeting; a Memorial Hall, dedicated to the honor and glory of the men who wore the gray, as well as to the women who suffered and endured for Dixie, thus handing down to our children and our children's children a heritage to be kept by them as a sacred trust.

The old veterans of the Confederate Home have not been forgotten; they are still remembered by many loving deeds performed by their Daughters. Colonel Wynne, Superintendent of the Home, has recently finished a beautiful pavillion (he calls it a playhouse for the boys). Under the shade of this lovely resting place they enjoy and while away the time, playing games and telling war stories.

The Division has been asked to give a Confederate flag to crown this spot. These old men have the satisfaction of knowing that the banner they fought so loyally to honor now floats to honor them.

The Text-Book Committee with subcommittees from the chapters, has gone into the public schools and public libraries to inspect the books used by our children, and to see that no book is allowed containing passages derogatory to the South or her people.

Another work this great Division has taken up is the compiling of a "Book of Standard Old Songs." This book is to be a beautiful folio of seventy-five songs of long ago, songs full of pathos, tender sentiment and richest memories. We feel at the present time the triumph of our old Southern songs. Dixie has conquered the nation by these sweet old melodies.

They have given to the North a knowledge of the South and in time they will become as popular in Northern Vermont as they are dear in Southern Texas.

With the able assistance of this committee the Texas Division hopes in the near future to secure quite a nice income from this enterprise, as it has also been promoted from a financial standpoint as well as a sentimental one.

The program of the Annual Convention is full of interest and replete with knowledge.

Under the management of our able State Historians, past and present, the literary evenings have become an established fact and much information and pleasure has been derived by the Division from these entertainments. As directed by our Anniversary Committee, all anniversaries have been celebrated in a proper and fitting manner.

At our next State Convention, through the untiring efforts of a loyal Texas Daughter, we will have returned and presented to Texas Division a Confederate battle flag, captured by an Ohio regiment from a Texas regiment at the battle of Corinth, Miss. There are many such flags owned by the North today.

It will be well for the United Daughters of the Confederacy to make an effort to have these flags returned. The Texas Division has a new committee this year, known as a "Committee to Secure the Return of Captured Confederate Battle Flags to Texas."

Mrs. Winkler has ever been faithful to her trust, always looking to the welfare of the Texas Room in the Museum at Richmond. We are sure her efforts to raise the endowment funds will be crowned with success.

Under the management of our able State Director the Arlington monument fund is increasing.

Realizing that "the children of today are the mothers and fathers of tomorrow," our most excellent Chairman of Children Auxiliary Committee has made every effort to advance this department of our work. To say that she has been successful would be useless.

One Chapter that has been organized with about two hundred charter members is known as the "Immortal Six Hundred," a name out of six, chosen by the children themselves. This auxiliary was an offering from our Patron Saint Chapter, Mrs. Rosenberg, organized by a loyal Daughter, Mrs. Kiellough, of Galveston, Tex.

372 MINUTES OF SEVENTEENTH ANNUAL CONVENTION,

I have only touched on a few things that have been undertaken by the Texas Division. Had I the time, like Tennyson's brook, "I could go on forever," telling you of duties nobly met and work thoroughly done.

In closing I wish to express the deep appreciation and the honor we felt in having you as our guest last year. We feel that you have not only left with us pleasant memories of the past, but anticipations of future good, because there is a charm in your presence, a magic in your touch. Texas has felt it, and she is pleased.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. A. R. HOWARD,
President Texas Division, U. D. C.

VIRGINIA DIVISION.

Madam President-General and Members of the Seventeenth Annual Convention of United Daughters of the Confederacy:

The Fifteenth Annual Convention of the Virginia Division, held October 12 to 15, in the city of Suffolk, proved to us that much had been accomplished in the year just gone. I wish that I might tell you of the ninety-two reports read by the different chapters, telling of hard work, enthusiasm and plans for yet greater things, but time does not permit of this.

We are happy to report one hundred and ten (110) active chapters, with a total membership of over six thousand (6,000). One of our aims is to have at least one chapter in each county in the State, and we have reason to believe that the systematic method used and the many letters written by the Third Vice-President and her assistants during the year have created interest in localities where fruit will ere long be shown.

During the year five new chapters have been formed: The Greenville, at Emporia, with forty (40) charter members; Sussex, at Homeville, with twenty-one charter members; Lee and Jackson, at Fairfields, with fifty-one charter members; Winnie Davis, at Buena Vista, with thirty-two charter members; Craig, at New Castle, with twenty-four charter members. Total number of new members added to roster six hundred and seventy-eight, while fifty-eight have passed into the "Silent City."

The Recorder of Crosses has not been idle, as her records show one thousand four hundred and fifty-six Crosses bestowed upon veterans and descendants.

The Registrar of the Division is a busy woman, trying to collect a correct list of all required data of the six thousand members of the Division to be sent to the Registrar-General.

While the historical work has been faithfully pursued by many of the chapters, yet feeling that as a Division we should have a more systematic plan of study, the Convention instructed its Historian to prepare a uniform program to be sent to the chapters either in the form of a circular or published in the Keystone three months in advance. We have been fortunate in securing Mrs. J. Enders Robinson as Chairman of this committee, and, as she has served you so faithfully in this capacity, we are expecting much progress in this department of our work.

Memorial Day and the birthdays of President Davis and General Lee have been observed with suitable ceremonies in every town where a chapter of the Daughters exists; dinners have been served to the veterans on these occasions, where the crowds had to come from a distance, and the decoration of the local Confederate monument and graves has been an important exercise in which the school children are given a part, thereby teaching our boys and girls to love and to learn of those who wore the gray.

During the past year some memorials of unusual interest have been added, notably the windows in old Blandford Church of Petersburg. This has been especially the work of the Ladies' Memorial Association of that city. Truly has it been made a memorial chapel by the united efforts of all the States South, with tablets on the walls erected by the Daughters of the Confederacy, and the windows unveiled on June 3, given by Alabama, Arkansas, Mississippi, Tennessee, Maryland and South Carolina, making in all ten. Those of Virginia, Missouri, Louisiana and North Carolina were unveiled some time ago. We are so full of heart and earnest in devotion to all that crowns with honor our men of '61 to '65 that whatever has been accomplished by the memorial or any other association in this work is as sacred as our own.

Seven chapters have unveiled monuments in different parts of the State, varying in cost from $1,300 to $3,000, while contracts have been placed by two others to be unveiled in 1911.

Nearly one hundred markers have been placed in cemeteries and on battlefields.

From the people of the South, as well as Virginia, thanks are most justly due to Sir Moses Ezekiel for his gift of the Jefferson monument to Charlottesville, for it is a tribute to him who gave us the principles of liberty embodied in the doctrine of State's rights—a vindication of the attitude of the South in the struggle of '61 to '65.

The Educational Committee reports splendid work being done. Seventeen chapters in the Division are offering medals to high schools and grammar grades for essays on Southern subjects and the lives of Confederate leaders. Scholarships are held by the following chapters:

Hope-Maury	3
Rawley Martin	2
Manassas	1
Portsmouth	2

Many chapters are placing pictures of our Confederate Generals in public and high schools. Others are urging the naming of new school buildings after Southern heroes, while still others report efforts to obtain scholarships in academies and colleges.

Virginia has contributed this year $114.50 to Shiloh and $820 to Arlington, thus showing our unabated interest in these two monuments. We have contributed in all to Arlington $2,200. Can we not decide at this Convention on the time to unveil the Arlington monument and show to the thousands of visitors annually who visit historic Arlington our love and reverence for the Southern dead who lie sleeping there? Let us pay this great tribute, and show the surviving veterans how we honor them before their rapidly thinning ranks grow even thinner.

The total amount collected for all purposes by chapters during the year has been $19,740.92, against $14,744.93 collected last year, thus showing another evidence of our interest, love and determination in the accomplishment of the great objects so dear to our hearts.

The most important work before the Virginia Division is the immediate assistance to the aged Confederate women in their distress and helplessness. We feel this to be a privilege and a sacred duty. The individual chapters of the Division are caring for many of these in their homes, and have contributed in addition to this something over eleven hundred ($1,100) dollars to the Home for Needy Confederate Women in Richmond, although this Home does not belong to or is not controlled by the Division. The commonwealth provides for the men who fought for the Confederate cause, but, as yet, no provision has been made for the special care of these heroines of '61 to '65. Age and disease have robbed many of them of the power of self-support, and they turn now to those to whom fortune has been kinder. Their claim is strong and true, and, above all, just, and Virginia's Daughters, together with her Sons of Veterans, are going to care for and make comfortable these heroic Confederate women who still linger in our midst.

*This report would be incomplete if I did not tell of Virginia's great sorrow in the death of her gifted and lamented son, Major John Warwick Daniel. This sorrow is keenly shared by the country at large, for nationally he occupied a place in popular esteem none but a man exceptionally endowed with lovable qualities could attain. Editorially some of the leading papers of the country have the following to say of him:

"Major Daniel had distinguished himself in so many fields of activity, his solid ability and singular magnetism had achieved so much that it is difficult to put the finger upon particular facts in his life and say that therein lay his claim to the esteem in which he was held. As a youth of eighteen he entered the Civil War, and retired only when his fourth wound had rendered him incapable for further service.

"The topic which elicited the happiest efforts of this 'silver-tongued orator of the South' was the Confederate cause, to which his devotion was most sincere, and of which his crutch served as an ever-present reminder. More than one of his memorable addresses have long since taken rank as American classics. For the reason that Senator Daniel's voice was so often and so effectively raised in honor of the heroes of the Confederacy, not alone Virginia, but every commonwealth in Dixie. owes him a debt of gratitude, and throughout the bounds of each the memory of the 'Lame Lion' will long be fragrant."

While Virginia has the distinction of giving to the Southern cause Lee, the matchless leader, yet she joins heartily her sister States in honoring the soldier who followed him from Bull Run to Appomattox, be he a gallant officer or a private in the ranks, and for that reason she renews her pledge of active co-operation and loyal support, and will endeavor in every way possible to contribute her share to the glory and achievements of the U. D. C.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. NATHAN D. ELLER.

President Virginia Division, U. D. C.

WASHINGTON DIVISION.

Madam President and Daughters of the Confederacy:

It is with pleasure I bring to you Washington's loyal and loving greetings, for, although we are far from you, and the cause we represent is not a popular one in this great State, there are true and loyal souls who will ever honor the heroes of the South.

At this, the close of the second year as a Division, I wish to express thanks for a year of happy and prosperous work. The President has learned much of the real work, hard work, to be done if we are willing to give the best we have of time and talent to the cause which is dear to every loyal Daughter. Her work has been to her such a labor of love for the cause and good will towards the Daughters that the writing of many letters has not been a burden. She has signed thirty certificates of membership and answered numerous letters showing an active interest among the workers.

The delight of being in touch with women in women's work was in itself an inspiration, and though clouds lowered, they made no lasting impression. The three chapters of the State are zealous for all the objects for which the order stands—in the care of infirm and sick veterans wherever found, and of all who have any claim on them.

The Chairman of the Washington Educational Committee has done splendid work in trying to establish an educational system for the Northwest. As she asks to be relieved, it is hoped that her mantle may fall on as indefatigable a successor.

The R. E. Lee Chapter of Seattle (our senior Chapter) reports forty-five members, and are planning many things for the coming year, among which is the purchase of a plot in Seattle Cemetery for the interment of their Confederate Veterans and the erection of a monument thereon.

The Dixie Chapter of Tacoma reports fifteen members who have shown a great interest along all lines, and though few in number, have proven themselves a noble band of women.

The Mildred E. Lee Chapter of Spokane reports thirty-two bona-fide members, who show good work along all lines, and give evidence of having received the gift of the gods, Enthusiasm.

Along historical lines Washington has nothing of Southern history to give, and can only respond to the request of the Historian-General with the history she is now making through the order of the Daughters of the Confederacy.

The Director for the Arlington Confederate monument fund reports ten dollars from the R. E. Lee Chapter of Seattle, three dollars from Dixie Chapter of Tacoma, and five dollars from the Mildred E. Lee Chapter of Spokane, making eighteen dollars in all. The Director for the Shiloh monument fund reports ten dollars from the Mildred E. Lee Chapter of Spokane.

It has been proposed that the 3d of June be made the date for our Memorial Day. In this connection bear with a word from one on the outposts of the organization. Decoration Day, as all know, was inaugurated by the Daughters of the Confederacy and was appropriated by the North through General and Mrs. John A. Logan, and while they did not give credit where credit was due, we may take it as a compliment. The organizations in the Northern States are too few to attempt separate days. The country is thoroughly united, as every one knows. In Arlington sleep those who wore the gray; there also rest in that national cemetery soldiers from the South who valiantly died to uphold the flag in a foreign war. They are yours. Therefore, it seems best to me that we decide upon the national Decoration Day, the 30th of May.

To the Daughters in the far North the work has been a revelation—steadily finding its way through Northern and Western States. They must carry their colors in such an honorable way as not only to command respect, but to demand it.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. J. F. HEDGER,
State President.

WEST VIRGINIA DIVISION.

Madam President and United Daughters of the Confederacy:

West Virginia desires to acknowledge her appreciation of the honor shown her in the election of one of her daughters (who does credit to the State and sheds luster and dignity upon the office) of President-General of the United Daughters of the Confederacy. We have taken up no new lines of work, but have grown steadily along the lines already started, have cared for needy old soldiers, have bestowed Crosses of Honor, kept cemeteries in good condition, and are working especially hard to have impartial histories used in our schools, though in this work we have not progressed as we should, but have met with encouragement, and will keep at it until something is accomplished.

The birthdays of Generals Lee and Jackson were observed by nearly all of our chapters with special services, singing Confederate songs and having attractive speakers. President Davis' birthday we decorated the graves, in many instances having dinner for the old soldiers who were present. On these occasions we had children take part in order that they might learn the Southern songs and inquire the reason for the celebration and become interested. We have contributed something to all of the causes recommended by the General Society. The most important work finished this year was a handsome monument in Charleston, our capital city, which was unveiled in September, the city giving itself up to making it a memorable day. The base of the monument is of Italian marble, surmounted by the figure, in bronze, of General T. J. Jackson (the most illustrious soldier of our State), at the moment when Gen. Bee says, "There he stands like a stone wall." The sculptor, Sir Moses Ezekiel, formerly of Richmond, Va., now of Italy, was a pupil under General Jackson at the Virginia Military Institute, and a Confederate soldier, was present on the occasion. The parade was led by the "Stonewall Brigade Band," followed by a detachment of cadets from the V. M. I., under General Nickell, then the State troops. The most beautiful part of it was the children dressed in red, white and red, forming an immense flag. Several distinguished men made appropriate speeches, and there was some fine singing, led by Mrs. Edwards of Norfolk, Va. The largest crowd ever in the city was present.

I attended a meeting of our State Convention a few weeks ago in Martinsburg, the home of Mrs. McSherry. We were entertained with most lavish hospitality, and there were more delegates present than have been at any convention for years. Their interest and enthusiasm show our zeal does not diminish as the years go by. The special feature of the Convention was the reading of historical papers; all were good, but especially the one of our State Historian (and there is not a finer Historian in any Division) at this Convention, emphasizing the work done by our women in the hospitals during the war. One of them deserves to have a monument, Miss Emily Mason, of Charlestown, who died only a year or two ago at Georgetown at the ripe age of ninety-five, beginning her work at the White Sulphur Springs and going from place to place establishing hospitals, nursing the sick and soothing the dying. Her work didn't stop here. She adopted thirty orphans and educated and took care of them until they could help themselves. I heard her say that while she had been received as a friend at the most exclusive court of Europe, that of Austria, nothing gave her the pleasure she received from this, though it was hard work.

West Virginia hopes to report next year new chapters formed and a large accession to its membership.

Respectfully submitted,

JENNIE STUART PRICE,
President West Virginia Division, U. D. C.

COMMUNICATIONS TO THE CONVENTION

Headquarters United Confederate Choirs of America,
421 London Street, Portsmouth, Va.

Mrs. Virginia Faulkner McSherry, President-General of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, Little Rock, Ark.:

Dear Madam—The Confederate Choirs were organized for patriotic purposes on the same lines as the Daughters of the Confederacy, except we make a specialty of song, as indicated by our motto, "Song Forbids Glorious Deeds to Die."

We believe that the keeping alive of the old songs is a most worthy undertaking, and we now feel justified in saying that it has already grown to be a monumental work, so important that we are appealing to all Southern patriotic orders for help.

If the children of our white schools are allowed to learn the beautiful old songs, it will be the mightiest incentive ever devised for bringing out the true history of the War for Southern Independence.

The approval of our work by the United Daughters of the Confederacy will be gratefully appreciated by us, and its hearty co-operation will be invaluable in getting the public schools to use our book.

The Virginia State Board of Education has put "Echoes from Dixie" on the list of text-books for the public schools, and feeling assured that the devoted hearts of the Daughters of the Confederacy will respond to this patriotic action, we most respectfully petition your honorable body to appoint a music committee with power to act with us in devising an aggressive campaign for Southern songs in the schools of the South.

We propose that all the profits in the sale of our "Echoes from Dixie" shall be faithfully disbursed for the patriotic purposes of our federation, especially in aiding needy ex-Confederates, and we shall be glad to let your chapters have books on such terms as will give opportunity of profit for the needs of veterans under their observation.

Thanking you in advance for your consideration, we are most cordially and respectfully yours,

THE UNITED CONFEDERATE CHOIRS OF AMERICA,
By MRS. J. GRIFF EDWARDS,
Commander-in-Chief.

Little Rock, Ark., Nov. 12, 1910.

To the United Daughters of the Confederacy, in Convention Assembled:

I have been delegated by the Committee on Publicity of the Confederate Veterans Reunion, to be held in Little Rock, Ark., on May 16, 17 and 18, 1911, to appoint each of the delegates to your Convention an Active and Honorary Member of the Arkansas Committee on Publicity, to the end that on your return to your respective homes each of you may urge the old Confederate Veterans and their wives and sons and daughters to attend the Reunion in Little Rock next year.

We are going to make it pleasant for every visitor and keep them here as long as they will stay. There will not even be a "latch-string" to pull, as all our doors will be taken off the hinges on that occasion, and every hand stretched forth in most hospitable welcome.

Come with them, as we shall be glad to have you with us again, and help us to make it the most memorable event in the history of our beloved State.

With the kindest greetings to each of you, on behalf of the Committee on Publicity, I am, yours truly,

O. C. LUDWIG.

Little Rock, Ark., Nov. 10, 1910.

United Daughters of the Confederacy in Convention Assembled, Little Rock, Ark.:

Ladies—This committee presents to you its sincere congratulations on the large attendance and success of your Convention, and congratulating you also on the intelligence and beauty of your delegates. We hope that your visit to Little Rock will be most enjoyable, and that you will take with you nothing but pleasant recollections of the Capital City of the prosperous State of Arkansas. We shall always be glad to have you visit us.

We want to impress upon you that the General Convention of the United Confederate Veterans will be held here on the 16th, 17th and 18th of May, 1911, and that each and every one of you is expected and invited to be present. On your presence largely depends the success of the Reunion.

In preparing for the entertainment of the heroes who wore the gray we will be glad to have any suggestions from you that you may honor us with. We shall expect you to be with us in May, and your failure to accept our invitation we shall regard as most unfortunate for us.

Yours truly,

W. M. KAVANAUGH, Chairman.

Attest: GEO. R. BROWN, Sec'y.

SOUTHERN CROSS OF HONOR

The idea of the Southern Cross of Honor to be given by the United Daughters of the Confederacy to the veterans and descendants of deceased Confederate soldiers and sailors originated with Mrs. Mary Ann Cobb Erwin, Athens, Ga.

The design offered by Mrs. S. E. Gabbett, Atlanta, Ga., Chairman of the committee appointed by Mrs. Katie Cabell Currie, President U. D. C., at Hot Springs, Ark., November, 1898, to procure designs, was accepted at Richmond, Va., November, 1899. The members of the committee were: Mrs. S. E. Gabbett, Chairman, Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. C. Helen Plane, Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. Mary Ann Cobb Erwin, Athens, Ga. Upon the resignation of Mrs. Erwin, Miss Mildred Lewis Rutherford, Athens, Ga., was appointed in her place.

The rules formulated by this committee were found insufficient to meet the many questions that arose regarding the bestowal of the Cross, so at the request of Mrs. Gabbett, who had been appointed Custodian of the Cross at Richmond, 1899, Mrs. Edwin G. Weed, President of U. D. C., enlarged the committee at Montgomery, Ala., November, 1900.

The members of this committee are: Mrs. John W. Tench, Florida, Chairman; Mrs. Orlando Halleburton, Arkansas; Mrs. S. E. Gabbett, Georgia; Mrs. Virginia A. Beede, California; Mrs. A. J. Emerson, Colorado.

Mrs. Frank G. Odenheimer, Maryland; Mrs. T. J. Latham, Tennessee.

RULES FOR BESTOWAL CROSS OF HONOR.

Rule I.

Section 1. Each State and Territorial Division shall elect or appoint a Recorder of Cross of Honor, to whom chapters shall apply for blank certificates of eligibility to be filled out by the veterans, and blank forms for alphabetical lists, to be filled out with data from the certificates, by the President of the chapter ordering Crosses. When so filled out, these shall be sent to the Recorder of said Division for approval or correction, and forwarded by her to the Custodian of the Cross, who will forward the Crosses to the chapter, provided the rules have been complied with, and the decision of the Custodian shall be final.

The Recorders shall apply to the Custodian of Cross of Honor, U. D. C., for the blank forms of certificates, and blank forms of alphabetical lists, supplying these, on demand, to the chapters, accompanied by an order to the Custodian, signed by the President-General and Recording Secretary-General, U. D. C.

Sec. 2. The veterans and the oldest lineal descendants of veterans can receive the Cross of Honor on the same date of bestowal.

If there is no lineal descendant of a veteran, or, in case that the oldest lineal descendant does not desire the Cross, the widow of a veteran may receive the Cross, by presenting, with her application, written a vowal of such descendant, that he or she waives the right to the Cross, provided said widow be a Confederate woman, who has endured the hardships and privations of the period from "sixty-one to sixty-five."

No descendant or widow can receive a second Cross, such privilege being granted to veterans alone, nor can such descendant or widow wear the Cross.

The Custodian will supply to the Recorder of Cross of Honor of such States and Territorial divisions special blank forms of certificates for descendants and widows, which must be filled with data of eligibility; such blank forms in use should conform with the headings used in the Record Book of the Custodian.

Sec. 3. After waiting one month, chapters shall send to the Division Recorder and Custodian names of veterans for whom Crosses have been received and not claimed, and these Crosses, if not engraved, may be used at the next bestowal, provided other certificates in due form have been sent to the Custodian.

Rule II.

Section 1. No Crosses will be furnished by the Custodian unless the order is accompanied by certificates of eligibility, properly filled out, by the veterans, and certified to by two or more members of a camp of United Confederate Veterans, and alphabetical list from chapter president.

Sec. 2. Presidents of chapters shall fill out blank alphabetical lists from the certificates with all data contained therein to forward with certificates to their State Recorder of Cross of Honor, with money order for the number of Crosses desired.

The Custodian of the Cross of Honor shall keep a book or books, in which shall be kept, alphabetically arranged, the names and data of all veterans, descendants of veterans, and widows to whom Crosses have been issued.

Sec. 3. The certificates shall be returned by the Custodian to the presidents of chapters who have ordered Crosses, and the same be placed on file by the said chapter, that data may be furnished when needed for historical or other purposes.

Sec. 4. Each chapter shall keep a book, alphabetically arranged, in which is recorded the name and service of every veteran and ancestor of descendant and widow of a veteran who receives a Cross. Each State or Territorial Recorder shall keep a similar record book of all Crosses issued.

Rule III.

Section 1. Crosses may be granted by the muster roll of the nearest camp, U. C. V., and to Confederate veterans who are not members of a camp, who can give the required proof of eligibility, attested by two veterans who are members of a camp.

Sec. 2. The oldest living lineal descendant may secure the Cross by giving the same proof of eligibility as that required of his veteran ancestor—and Confederate widows of veterans, applying for a Cross, must fill blank form of certificate, giving service of veteran, whose widow she is—such widows must have endured the hardships of the war period from 1861 to 1865.

Sec. 3. Upon the certificate of a reputable physician that a veteran is dying, if desired, he may receive the Cross immediately.

Rule IV.

The Crosses may be bestowed on Memorial Day, selected by each State or Territorial Division, U. D. C.; the birthdays of President Jefferson Davis and General Robert E. Lee—June 3 and January 19; and one commemorative day, between June 1 and January 19, to be selected by each State or Territorial Division, in convention assembled. The presentation shall be accompanied with such ceremonies as will give proper dignity to the occasion.

Rule V.

Section 1. A veteran, in good standing, having lost his Cross, may have it replaced once only by applying to the President of the chapter from which he received the Cross, and he must furnish copy of the certificate upon which the Cross was first bestowed. If a second Cross is lost, a certificate may be given, in testimony that such veteran has been awarded a Cross. No descendant or widow of a veteran can have a second Cross.

Sec. 2. Chapter presidents are urged to advise veterans to have their names engraved on the bar of Cross for the purpose of identification if lost.

Sec. 3. A veteran having been awarded a Cross, and dying before it is received, the President of the chapter bestowing it may give it to the oldest lineal descendant, or widow, under provisions of Rule 1, Section 2. A veteran having received a Cross may bequeath it to any lineal descendant that he may select.

Sec. 4. On and after November 1, 1912, no more Crosses shall be issued.

Rule VI.

The Cross cannot be worn, in any case, or on any occasion, except by the veteran upon whom it was bestowed—no descendant or widow can wear it.

Rule VII.

Section 1. Where counties have no local organization of U. D. C., a veteran may receive the Cross through the President of the nearest local chapter, or the President of chapter in the county from which he entered the Confederate service, if so desired.

Sec. 2. Where chapters are not able to bear the expense of purchasing Crosses for other counties than their own, these may be furnished at the expense of the General Association, upon the authority of the President-General, U. D. C.

Rule VIII.

All orders for Crosses shall be filed in the Custodian's office three weeks before the day intended for bestowal.

Rule IX.

Any chapter departing from these rules will not be entitled to Crosses for presentation.

Preceding the presentation of the Crosses, Rules V., VI., VII., VIII., and IX. shall be read upon every occasion of the bestowal.

The President of each chapter shall see that the camps of Confederate Veterans and Sons of Confederate Veterans in her county shall receive a copy of these rules for continual reference.

NOTE.—Cost of Crosses, 12½ cents each, for an order of more than one. For an order of only one, the cost is 13 cents.

CONSTITUTION AND BY-LAWS
OF THE
United Daughters of the Confederacy

CONSTITUTION

ARTICLE I.

Name.

Section 1. The name or title of this Association shall be "The United Daughters of the Confederacy," and its business office shall be the place of residence of the Recording Secretary-General.

Sec. 2. Each State or Territorial organization shall be known as a division, and shall be designated by the name of the State or Territory in which it is located. Each local organization in any State or Territory shall be known as a chapter of such division, said chapters to be numbered consecutively, and to be designated by such names as they may select.

ARTICLE II.

Objects.

The objects of this Association are memorial, historical, benevolent, educational, and social; namely, to honor the memory of those who served and those who fell in the service of the Confederate States; to record the part taken by the Southern women in patient endurance of hardship and patriotic devotion during the struggle, as well as untiring effort after the war in the reconstruction of the South; to collect and preserve the material for a true history of the War between the States; to protect and preserve historical places of the Confederacy; to fulfill the sacred duty of charity to the survivors of that war and those dependent upon them; to help educate the needy descendants of worthy Confederates; and to cherish the ties of friendship among the members of the Society.

ARTICLE III.

Organization of Chapters.

Section 1. Those women entitled to membership are the women who are the widows, wives, mothers, sisters, nieces and lineal descendants of such men as served honorably in the Confederate army, navy, or civil service; or of those men, unfit for active duty, who loyally gave aid to the Cause. Also Southern women who can give proof of personal service or loyal aid to the Southern Cause during the war; and the lineal descendants or nieces of such women, wherever living. Northern women having no male relative who served the Confederate States of America in the War Between the States, 1861-1865, and having themselves performed no special service to same, but having married a Confederate soldier since 1865, and through this means becoming a member of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, shall have the words "by adoption" placed upon their certificates of membership, and upon the Registrar's books, and in all rosters shall be designated as members "by adoption". Said member being entitled to all the honors and privileges of this Association except that of holding any office in the General Association, divisions or chapters; except that of transmitting this honor to members of her family, only her children of a Confederate father; the honor dies with her if she has no children.

Sec. 2. Seven or more eligible women in any State or Territory, in which no division exists, may organize a chapter, and be chartered, on application to the Recording Secretary-General. No chapter shall be chartered in any city or town in which a chapter already exists, except by and with the consent of a majority of the officers, or the Advisory Council of that division.

Sec. 3. A fee of $3.00 shall be paid to the General Association for each charter; such fee to accompany the application therefor. Any application for a charter of a chapter must be accompanied by the properly filled out and signed applications of each one applying, and shall be sent to the president of the division of which the chapter will become a part, for her approval and endorsement; and no application for a charter shall be signed by the president of the division, unless accompanied by these applications for membership.

Sec. 4. Any chapter desiring to change its name or to receive a duplicate charter may apply to the Recording Secretary-General for a new charter, paying the regular charter fee of $3.00; such charter to be issued under the original number of the chapter. If other changes are made in the original charter that will necessitate its being cancelled, and the chapter must then reorganize and be chartered in the regular order of numbers as a new chapter, provided that all applications for such changes be accompanied by official record, showing that there were not seven votes against such a change.

Sec. 5. No chapter may be organized in a State or Territory unless at least seven of the persons applying for a charter are residents thereof. Members of a chapter may reside in other States or Territories, but its active officers must be residents of the same section as the chapter. No person shall be a voting member of more than one chapter at the same time.

Sec. 6. Auxiliary or junior chapters may be organized by any chapter, under such restrictions and limitations as may be prescribed by each division. The members of such junior chapters shall not be entitled to representation in, nor be required to pay any fees to the General Association. Each division shall embrace in its annual report a statement of the number of such junior chapters, with all necessary particulars concerning them. Chapters shall have the right, at discretion, to dissolve their auxiliary or junior chapters.

ARTICLE IV.

Organization of State Divisions.

Section 1. When three or more chapters shall be organized in any State or Territory, it shall be the duty of the first or charter chapter to call a convention for the purpose of organizing a State or Territorial Division. Such convention shall be held at a time and place to be designated by the charter chapter; and at such organizing convention each chapter shall be entitled to one vote for every fifteen members or fraction thereof, if such fraction be not less than seven. Each division may settle for itself what the ratio of representation shall be in its subsequent conventions. No State or Territory shall have more than one division.

Sec. 2. In case a charter chapter shall allow six months to elapse after the receipt of a request from two or more chapters of the same State or Territory to call a convention for the purpose of organizing a division, each succeeding chapter in order of organization shall be empowered to call such convention, until a division shall have been formed.

Sec. 3. A division shall be organized by the adoption of a Constitution and By-Laws, none of which shall be inconsistent with any of the provisions of the Constitution and By-Laws of the General Association and by the election of a President and other proper officers. Any one or more representatives from any chapter in any convention may be authorized to cast the full vote to which such chapter is entitled.

Sec. 4. From and after the organization of a division, all chapters which may desire to be organized in that State or Territory must apply to the General Association through that division for their charters; and must pay to the division such additional fee as it may require. Each division must notify the President-General without delay of the withdrawal, suspension or extinction of any of its chapters. It shall be the duty of the President-General, upon receiving written notice from a division that any chapter has withdrawn therefrom, to have the charter of such chapter cancelled by the Recording Secretary-General. Notice of this cancellation shall be sent to the Custodian of the Cross of Honor, and shall be included in the next annual report of the Recording-Secretary General.

Sec. 5. When a division shall have been formed by the required numbers of chapters, should a chapter thereafter withdraw, the division shall continue to exist, with the same rights and privileges as other divisions of our Association. The chapter that has withdrawn shall not be recognized by this Association until it comes back through the division from which it withdrew.

Sec. 6. Each division shall furnish to the chapters within its limits blank applications for membership, to be used throughout that division. These blanks may differ in form, but must not conflict with the qualifications for membership as prescribed by the Constitution and By-Laws of the United Daughters of the Confederacy. Each chapter must forward to the division in which it is located filled out applications of all its members, for record; and no one can be counted as a member unless her eligibility is shown by the proper evidence. The mode of electing and admitting members may vary in each division; provided, it is not in violation of the Constitution and By-Laws of the Association.

Sec. 7. Any division or chapter may become legally incorporated under the laws of the State or Territory in which it is located.

Sec. 8. Divisions and chapters of the United Daughters of the Confederacy are prohibited from federating with other organizations.

ARTICLE V.

Conventions of the U. D. C.

Section 1. Conventions of the General Association of the United Daughters of the Confederacy shall be held annually, on the second Wednesday of November, at the place designated by the preceding convention. The power is hereby vested in the President-General, at her discretion, to change the date or place of meeting, in case of unavoidable or unsurmountable obstacles.

Sec. 2. Each chapter which numbers twenty-five members or fraction thereof not less than seven, shall be entitled to one vote, in all conventions of the General Association; and for each additional twenty-five members or fraction thereof not less than seven, shall be entitled to another vote; provided it has paid the per capita tax for the number of members upon which the vote is estimated; and it shall be the duty of the Committee on Credentials to compare its report with that of the Treasurer-General, and to see that this rule is strictly enforced.

Sec. 3. Any one or more representatives from any chapter shall be authorized to cast the full vote to which such chapter may be entitled: The President of a Division, or in her absence the Chairman of the State Delegation, may represent any chapter in her Division if duly chosen by said chapter and when so chosen shall be considered a delegate and not a proxy from the chapter. A delegate must vote according to the instructions of the chapter which she represents; but when she is uninstructed, she is at liberty to vote as she sees fit.

Sec. 4. The general active officers of this Association, the presidents of divisions and the chairmen of standing committees shall each be entitled to one vote in all conventions of the General Association, but none of these individual votes can be cast by proxy.

Sec. 5. No officer of the General Association shall be at the same time president of a division.

Sec. 6. No member of the Executive Committee shall act as delegate except for her own State or Territory when it has no other representative present.

ARTICLE VI.

Officers.

Section 1. The officers of the General Association of the United Daughters of the Confederacy shall be:

- A President-General.
- A First Vice-President-General.
- A Second Vice-President-General.
- A Third Vice-President-General.
- A Recording Secretary-General.
- A Corresponding Secretary-General.
- A Treasurer-General.
- A Historian-General.
- A Registrar-General.
- A Custodian of Cross of Honor.
- A Custodian of Flags and Pennants.

All these officers shall be elected to serve one year and until their successors shall be duly elected and qualified. The terms of all new officers shall begin with the closing of the convention at which they are elected. All nominations shall be made from the floor. A majority is required to elect.

Sec. 2. The number of Honorary Presidents, United Daughters of the Confederacy, exclusive of the Honorary President-General, shall be limited to fourteen at any one time, all of whom shall be elected for life. The office of Honorary President-General shall remain vacant as a memorial to Mrs. Jefferson Davis, wife of the only President of the Southern Confederacy.

No woman shall be eligible to the office of Honorary President who is not the wife, widow, mother, sister or daughter of one distinguished in the Military, Naval, or Civil Service of the Confederate States of America; or a woman who has rendered especially noted service in the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

Sec. 3. No person holding office in this Association shall be paid a salary for her services, but a sum of forty-five dollars shall be set aside monthly for the office of the Recording Secretary-General to be used as she deems necessary for clerical work. The President-General, Recording Secretary-General, Corresponding Secretary-General, Treasurer-General, Historian-General, Registrar-General and Custodian of Cross of Honor may have their expenses to and from the convention paid from the treasury as well as the expenses of their offices, upon presentation of proper vouchers. Necessary expenses of committees, also, must be paid by the General Association. The Treasurer-General shall be required to give bond.

ARTICLE VII.

Committees.

Section 1. The Executive Committee shall be composed of the President-General, (who shall be chairman of the Committee), the three Vice-Presidents General the Recording Secretary-General, the Corresponding Secretary-General, the Treasurer-General, the Registrar-General, the Historian-General and the Custodian of the Cross of Honor and Custodian of Flags and Pennants.

It shall be vested with power to conduct the general affairs of the Association in the interim between the annual conventions, and to meet whenever business demands. It shall have supervision and control of all the property and affairs of the Association. Special meetings of the Committee, for the transaction of particular or urgent business, may be called by the the President at any time she may think proper, and shall be called by her upon the written request of a majority of members. The Executive Committee shall make a yearly report at each Annual Convention.

Sec. 2. There shall be seven standing committees, as follows:

1. Rules for Bestowal of Cross of Honor.
2. Awarding Prizes at Columbia University.
3. Education.
4. Emblems, Mottoes and Historical Souvenirs.

5. Stationery.
 6. Finance.
 7. A Committee of Division Historians and of Chapter Historians Where no Division exists, with Historian-General as Chairman, to be known as Committee on History.
- There shall be four special convention committees, as follows:
1. Jurisprudence.
 2. Transportation.
 3. Credentials.
 4. Committee on Condensing Minutes.

ARTICLE VIII.

Dues, Fees and Appropriations.

Section 1. Each chapter shall, on or before the first day of each succeeding March, pay into the treasury of the General Association the sum of ten cents for each and every member who may at that date be in good standing in such chapter. Each chapter fixes the amount of annual dues of its members; but it must pay all per capita taxes, charter fees, certificates and other necessary expenses imposed by the General Association.

Sec. 2. Any chapter which is in arrears for dues shall not be entitled to representation in the conventions of the General Association, and shall stand suspended. Any suspended chapter may be restored to good standing and be entitled to representation by the payment of all delinquent dues, not later than ten days before the assembling of the Annual Convention.

Sec. 3. No chapter shall be allowed representation in the conventions of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, if reported not in good standing by the division through which it was chartered.

Sec. 4. No debt or liability, except the ordinary current expenses of the General Association, shall be incurred, nor any project or undertaking requiring the expenditure of money, excepting it is specifically provided for in the Constitution and By-Laws, for which the General Association shall be responsible, shall be entered into except by a vote of two-thirds of the members voting in the Annual Convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

ARTICLE IX.

Certificates of Membership and Demits.

Section 1. Chapter Presidents must issue certificates of membership at the time they are admitted to full membership. Such certificates shall be supplied with seal attached, by the Recording Secretary-General, at the cost of fifteen cents each. These certificates must be signed by the President and Secretary of the General Association, the president of the division in which the chapter is located, and the president and secretary of the chapter to which the member belongs.

Sec. 2. A member of any chapter who desires to change her membership shall be entitled, if she is in good standing, to receive from her chapter a demit or transfer certifying to the fact. Such demit or transfer, if presented within one year, shall make good her membership in any chapter to which she may be acceptable. A chapter cannot be required to give a demit or transfer to any one who leaves it, unless she is in good standing and has paid all her dues.

Sec. 3. A member of a disbanded or extinct chapter may obtain membership in another chapter by presenting her certificate of membership and proof that her original application had been filed for record with the Registrar or Secretary of the Division to which her former chapter had belonged; and by giving proof that she was in good standing up to the time that the first chapter ceased to hold its charter.

ARTICLE X.

Insignia, Badges, Seals.

Section 1. The insignia or badge to be worn by the United Daughters of the Confederacy shall consist of a representation of the Confederate flag (stars and bars), in white, blue and scarlet enamel, surrounded by a laurel wreath, with the monogram "U. D. C." under the flag, and the dates "61-65" on the loops of the bow that ties the wreath. Divisions and chapters may use, in addition, a badge of their own.

Sec. 2. The seal of the United Daughters of the Confederacy shall be a reproduction of the great seal of the Confederate States of America, with the addition of the inscription "United Daughters of the Confederacy" on the outer rim.

Sec. 3. The seals of all divisions shall be of the same design, with the addition of the name of the State or Territory upon the outer rim; but any division which may so prefer shall have the right to use the seal of its own State or Territory, with the addition of the names of the division and society upon the outer rim.

Sec. 4. All charters or other official documents issued by the General Association shall bear the impress of the great seal of the Association, and shall be signed by the President-General and the Recording Secretary-General.

Sec. 5. The use of the name; seal or insignia; of the United Daughters of the Confederacy for business purposes, other than the business of this Association, or upon hat pins or other ornaments, is especially prohibited.

Sec. 6. The insignia or badge, or the seal of the United Daughters of the Confederacy shall be printed only upon such books and pamphlets as are for the use or intended to be sold for the benefit of this Association; and in all such cases; permission for such use shall first be obtained from the Executive Committee.

ARTICLE XI.

Days of Observance.

The birthday of Jefferson Davis, President of the Confederate States (June 3), and that of Robert E. Lee, Commander-in-Chief of the Confederate Army (January 19) shall have annual observance by all bodies of this Association.

ARTICLE XII.

Manual.

Roberts' Rules of Order shall be the authority on parliamentary procedure of this Association in all its conventions and meetings, whether of the General Association or of the State divisions and chapters.

ARTICLE XIII.

Amendments.

This Constitution may be amended by a two-thirds vote at any Annual Convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy: Provided, That notice of such intention to amend, together with a copy of the proposed amendment, shall be filed with the Recording Secretary-General at least forty-five days before the day fixed for the convention. As soon as possible after the receipt of said notice the Recording Secretary shall have printed all such amendments, and shall send a copy of the same to each general officer of the Association to the president of each State or Territorial Division, and to the president and secretary of each regular chapter.

BY-LAWS

ARTICLE I.

Duties of Officers.

Section 1. The President-General, or in her absence the Vice-Presidents-General, in order, shall preside at all regular or called meetings of the General Association. The President shall be the chief executive officer of the Association and shall have general charge of its affairs and supervision of all the other officers. She shall be the chairman of the executive committee, shall have the right to attend the meetings of all committees of the General Association, and shall discharge all such duties and exercise all such rights and privileges as usually pertain to the office of President-General.

Sec. 2. The Vice-Presidents-General shall assist the President in the discharge of her duties, and in her absence, the ranking Vice-President who is present shall assume all the duties and responsibilities appertaining to the office of President-General.

Sec. 3. The Recording Secretary-General shall be the custodian of the great seal and of all historical and official papers of the General Association. All matters for record shall be turned over to her and shall be kept by her in her office. It shall also be her duty to issue charters and certificates of membership and to have all official printing done; and she shall forward all printed matter pertaining to the Cross of Honor exclusively to the Custodian for distribution. She shall keep a minute book, in which shall be entered an accurate record of the proceedings of all meetings of the General Association, either regular or called. All votes of the convention taken by her shall be by roll call of States. Under her supervision there shall be prepared and published in pamphlet form, the minutes of the Annual Convention, after the same shall have been examined and approved by a committee appointed for that purpose by the President-General. She shall secure correct rosters of division and chapter officers for publication in the Annual Minutes; and shall publish in the official organ of the Association a list of the General Officers, U. D. C., in the first issue after they are elected, and also list of the newly elected officers of each division, as soon as possible after receiving them; and shall discharge all other duties that may pertain to her office.

Sec. 4. The Corresponding Secretary-General shall conduct all correspondence between the General Association and the divisions, as well as other associations and persons. She shall notify all members of committees of their appointments, and forward the names of members of committees to the chairman thereof. She shall conduct all correspondence under the direction of the President-General, and shall discharge such other duties as may pertain to her office.

Sec. 5. The Treasurer-General shall be the financial agent of the Association. She shall receive all moneys of the General Association, and receipt for the same. She shall keep (1) a cash book, and (2) a ledger, in which shall be entered all accounts of the General Association. Her books, papers, etc., shall be subject to the inspection of the Finance Committee and the General-Officers. She shall make a report of the condition of her department at each Annual Convention, or oftener, when called upon by the President, showing the receipts and expenditures, with the balance remaining on hand; and at the close of her term of office, shall furnish a full statement, together with all vouchers and papers relating thereto, to the Association. She shall deposit the money of the General Association in the name of "The United Daughters of the Confederacy," in some National Bank, to be designated by the Executive Committee, per the Treasurer-General, to be paid only upon her check, when accounts have been endorsed by the President-General, or in the absence of the President, by the Vice-Presidents-General in their order. Such money shall be paid out as ordered by the General Association or by the Executive Committee. She shall send out annually to division presidents the blank forms of returns to be made by the chapters, such returns to be forwarded to her. She shall, sixty days before the meeting of each General Convention, send notices to the president of each division of the names and location of all delinquent chapters to the effect that if the dues of such chapter or chapters are not paid within ten days before the Annual Convention, those chapters will be debarred representation in the Convention. She shall send an alphabetical list, drawn up according to the official roster of all paid-up charters, to the chairman of the Credential Committee five days before the Convention assembles.

Sec. 6. The Registrar-General shall receive from the State president copies of all individual membership blanks, recorded by the State Registrar, and keep them on file according to States. She shall make a report at each convention of the number of names filed for each State. She shall communicate with chapters only through State presidents, except in those States where no divisions exist, in which case the chapter presidents shall be the medium of communication until a division is formed.

Sec. 7. It shall be the duty of the Historian-General, with the assistance of the Committee on History, to have charge of an historical and literary evening at each Annual Convention, and to perform such other duties as appertain to her office.

Sec. 8. The duties of Custodian of Cross of Honor shall be arranged by the Committee on Rules for Bestowal of Cross of Honor.

Sec. 9. "The General Association shall deal with Divisions and Chapters in the Divisions through the State President..

All communications and printed matter sent out from any department of the General Association, except that concerning the Cross of Honor, shall be sent to the State Presidents, who shall, as soon as possible after receipt of such letters or printed matter, communicate or transmit same to the Chapters of their respective Divisions.

ARTICLE II.

Duties of Committees.

Section 1. The Committee on Cross of Honor shall formulate all rules regulating the purchase and bestowal of Crosses of Honor, and define the duties of the Custodian of the Cross of Honor. To this committee shall be submitted any proposed amendments to said rules thirty days before the Annual Convention, to which this Committee must present all rules for final ratification.

Sec. 2. It shall be the duty of the Committee on History, of which the Historian-General shall be chairman, to do all in its power to forward the interests of accurate and impartial history. The historians of the several divisions will make annual report of the work accomplished in their respective divisions to the Historian-General.

Sec. 3. It shall be the duty of the Committee on Award of Prize at Columbia University to arrange all details for the awarding of this prize, and to report at the Annual Convention.

Sec. 4. It shall be the duty of the Committee on Education to foster the educational interests of this Association.

Sec. 5. It shall be the duty of the Committee on Emblems, Mottoes, and Souvenirs to suggest to the organization for consideration such emblems and souvenirs as it may deem desirable.

Sec. 6. It shall be the duty of the Committee on Stationery, with due regard to necessary economy, to provide such writing paper as may be needed for the use of the working officers of this Association, and to supply, at reasonable prices, to those divisions, chapters, or members who may desire it, writing paper marked with the insignia of the Association.

Sec. 7. It shall be the duty of the Committee on Finance to audit annually the books of the Treasurer-General, Recording Secretary-General, and the Custodian of Cross of Honor, and at such other times as may be ordered by the President-General. To this Committee shall be referred all resolutions donating money from the general treasury.

Sec. 8. A committee on Jurisprudence to be appointed by the President at the opening of each Annual Convention, to which shall be referred questions which have arisen during the past year, and such as may arise during such convention, as to the interpretation of the Constitution and By-Laws of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, this committee to report before the close of the convention at which it is appointed, and to be thereupon discharged.

Sec. 9. It shall be the duty of the Committee on Transportation to arrange rates of transportation to and from all General Conventions.

Sec. 10. It shall be the duty of the Committee on Credentials to meet two working days previous to the Annual Convention, to examine, approve and arrange the credentials of the delegates. It shall not recognize any delegate except one duly authorized in writing. It shall not recognize any credentials not received by it before 10 o'clock the night before the convention, or by the Recording Secretary-General five days before the convention.

Sec. 11. It shall be the duty of the Committee on Condensing the Minutes to meet immediately after the adjournment of the Annual Convention, and together with the presiding officer of that convention, and the Recording Secretary to revise, condense and correct the verbatim report of the minutes. Thus corrected, the minutes shall then be left in the hands of the Recording Secretary, who shall put them into shape, and at once send them to the presiding officer of the last convention, who shall sign them.

Sec. 12. It shall be the duty of each State Historian, and of the chapter historian in a State where no division exists, to send a special report not exceeding 400 words, to the Historian-General not later than September 1st, of each and every year. The Historian-General shall have said reports printed in pamphlet, and she shall distribute them to the next regular general convention, said printing to be at the expense of the U. D. C., and of the plainest most economical form consistent with good size type.

ARTICLE III.

Custodian of the Flags.

Each Annual Convention shall also elect Custodian of the Flags, whose duty it shall be to have charge of the flags and pennants, or send them to some responsible person at the place where such convention is to be held; the expense of such transportation to be charged to the General Association.

ARTICLE IV.

Honorary Associate Members.

Section 1. The title of "Honorary Associate Member" may be conferred on those who have rendered distinguished service in the preservation of the true history of the Confederate States, this honor to be conferred on such persons only as are not eligible to active membership in this Association.

Sec. 2. The number of "Honorary Associate Members" shall be limited to three at one time, who shall hold that position for life, or for so long a time as they may continue to be acceptable to the General Association. No nominations for these positions shall be made until after application has been made to the Executive Committee, and has received its approval.

ARTICLE V.

Reports of States and Committees.

Section 1. No division, nor any chapter in a State or Territory having no division, shall be allowed more than ten minutes in making its report at the Annual Convention of the Association. This rule must be strictly enforced.

Sec. 2. The State reports shall be called in reverse order alphabetically on alternate years.

Sec. 3. All committees must present typewritten reports in condensed form to the Annual Conventions of this Association.

ARTICLE VI.

Consideration of Questions.

Section 1. No subject other than those specified in the Constitution and By-Laws of this Association, may be considered in its Annual Conventions, except by a two-thirds vote of those present and voting.

Sec. 2. No resolution offered at any convention of this Association may be considered or voted upon, unless it has been put in writing and immediately handed to the Recording Secretary.

ARTICLE VII.

Pamphlet Minutes.

Section 1. Bids for publication of the minutes must be submitted from at least six responsible printing houses, together with samples of the paper to be used in printing; and the most advantageous bid shall be selected by the President and Recording Secretary; the right, however, being reserved by them to reject any and all bids.

Sec. 2. The rosters of division chapters shall be printed alphabetically, according to division and town, with the U. D. C. charter number of each chapter. Reports of General officers, State Divisions, Standing and Special Committees, shall be arranged by classification, alphabetically.

Sec. 3. Manuscript for the minutes must be delivered to the selected publisher on or before January 1, and such publisher must contract to complete the publication of said minutes within four weeks after the receipt of the manuscript.

Sec. 4. No reports from standing or select committees; no reports from General or State officers; no State or chapter rosters which are not in the hands of the Recording Secretary-General before December 20 shall appear in the published minutes of that year.

Sec. 5. One copy of the Annual Minutes of the General Convention, U. D. C., shall be sent free to the State President for each chapter president or secretary and the state historian; to the active and honorary General Officers; to the chairmen of committees of the General Association; to the Solid South Room of the Confederate Museum, Richmond; to the Confederate Museum, New Orleans; to the Confederate Memorial Association and the Congressional Library, Washington, D. C.; to the department of Archives and History of the Southern States and to the Sons of Veterans Hall, Memphis, Tenn. Those chapters and individual members desiring additional copies can secure them by accompanying their orders with postage at the rate of 10 cents per copy.

ARTICLE VIII.

Credential Blanks.

For all General Conventions of this Association three Credential blanks shall be issued to Division Presidents for each chapter in her division, to be filled out properly by the chapters in triplicate. One copy shall be sent to the Recording Secretary-General; a second to the chairman of the Credential Committee; a third to be taken to the convention by the delegates of each chapter.

These Credential blanks shall have on their face, immediately following the space for the names of the delegates, the following: In case the delegates given in this credential are not present, the State President or Chairman of the State delegation is authorized to cast the full vote to which this chapter is entitled.

ARTICLE IX.

Election of Officers.

The election of officers shall be the first order of business at the morning meeting of the fourth day of the Convention, followed by all amendments to Constitution and By-Laws.

ARTICLE X.Amendments.

Amendments may be made to these By-Laws at any Annual Convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy by a two-thirds vote of the representatives in the Convention, which may be ascertained by a roll call of the States, provided, that the viva voce vote does not show a two-thirds majority. Notice of proposed amendment, together with a copy of the same, shall be filed with the Recording Secretary-General at the opening of the Annual Convention, wherein a vote is to be taken upon it, and shall be communicated by her to the convention at the earliest possible moment.

ORDER OF BUSINESS.

In the transaction of business, this Association shall be governed by the usual rules of procedure and debate that are observed by all deliberative assemblies; but must have special rules also to transact it properly.

The following shall be the order of business:

1. Calling the Convention to Order.
2. Prayer.
3. Roll Call of Officers.
4. Reading of the Minutes.
5. Report of the Committee on Credentials.
6. President's Address.
7. Report of the Recording Secretary.
8. Report of the Treasurer.
9. Report of the Corresponding Secretary.
10. Report of the Custodian of the Cross of Honor.
11. Report of the Registrar.
12. Report of the Historian.
13. Reports of State and Territorial Divisions and of Chapters in States and Territories having no Divisions.
14. Report of the Executive Committee and action thereon.
15. Report of the Finance Committee and action thereon.
16. Reports of Standing Committees in the order mentioned in the Constitution.
17. Reports of Special Committees in the order mentioned in the Constitution.
18. Election officers, morning meeting fourth day.
19. Unfinished business.
20. New business.
21. Reading communications.
22. Reading and approval of minutes of current meeting.
23. Adjournment.

DECISIONS OF PRESIDENTS-GENERAL OF THE UNITED DAUGHTERS OF THE CONFEDERACY.

Revised to the close of the Seventeenth Annual Convention, November, 1910, according to the action of the Jurisprudence Committees and General Conventions, severally and collectively, and omitting all which are at the present time clearly provided for in the Constitution, By-Laws or Rules for Bestowal of Cross of Honor, and a few which were of special application only, and to subjects that are closed. Wherever a number belonging to a decision is omitted, the omission is because the subject matter of the decision is covered by one of the above mentioned reasons for omission.

Eleventh Annual Convention, 1904, St. Louis, Mo., President-General, Mrs. Augustine T. Smythe:

Decision 1. That the President has no power to interfere in disputes between divisions and chapters on points on which the Constitution of the United Daughters of the Confederacy is silent. The Association has no authority to compel a division to reinstate a chapter which has withdrawn from the State Division, and has by such action become undesirable to the Division. Such authority rests entirely with the division of which such chapter has been a member, or else the fundamental principles upon which we are organized are violated. On the request of a State Division acting as a whole in convention assembled, the surrender of the charter of such a chapter may be required by this Association.

Decision 2. That certificates of membership in the United Daughters of the Confederacy and badges cannot be taken back from members resigning from the Association.

Decision 4. That titles cannot be applied to persons or places at the discretion of presidents or other officers, unless conferred by the vote of the Association in convention assembled.

Decision 5. That a State Division wishing for reasons sufficient to itself to number its chapters within the Division in any particular way may do so, provided that chapters shall in printed rosters have also plainly attached the number of the charter issued to them by the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

Decision 6. That the authoritative decision of a body can only be obtained from such body when legally assembled and acting as a whole; the action of the component parts acting separately and individually is not the action of the body.

Twelfth Annual Convention, 1905, San Francisco, Cal., President-General, Mrs. Augustine T. Smythe:

Decision 5. The United Daughters of the Confederacy have no jurisdiction over the fees and dues of members to their respective chapters and divisions; these must be regulated by individual chapters and divisions.

Decision 6. Section 3 of Article III. of Constitution of U. D. C. has no application whatever to chapters which have withdrawn from connection with the Association.

(The reference given above is to the Constitution as it then was; the same clause is now Section 7 of Article IV. of Constitution.)

Thirteenth Annual Convention, 1906, Gulfport, Miss., President-General, Mrs. Lizzie George Henderson:

Decision 1. Chapters inactive for several years cannot come back into the Association with same charters, unless they pay up all back dues.

Decision 6. All differences between members or factions of a chapter should be settled by the officers of that chapter.

Differences between two or more chapters in a division should be settled by the officers of that division.

Differences between two or more divisions should be settled by the General Officers. This is the principle of States' rights, which the U. D. C. certainly stands for.

Decision 7. Unless the Constitution states to the contrary, it would take a two-thirds vote to change the Constitution of any Association (or any part of it), and since surrendering a charter with a view to changing the name of a chapter would be virtually the same thing as changing the Constitution, it requires a two-thirds vote for a chapter to surrender its charter.

Decision 10. The majority of a chapter always controls its action. A dissenting minority cannot constitute a chapter. They can organize themselves into a new chapter according to Article III., Section 2, of the Constitution. In such an event any property belonging to the chapter is retained by the majority of the chapter in whose name the property is, and who hold a charter from the U. D. C.; they only are members of the U. D. C. under that charter.

Decision 11. In cases where there are two sets of claimants to the offices of the chapter, the division in which the chapter is domiciled should recognize only those elected by the majority of the chapter, when the Constitution is not violated in the election. If it be violated, the offices are to be held by the old officers until the chapter can meet and hold another election.

Decision 12. Disaffected members may resign from a chapter and join another chapter, filling out applications for membership as if they had never been members. It remains with chapters to whom they apply as to whether it is wise to receive a member who was not in good standing with another chapter. The only thing stated in the Constitution as necessary to good standing in a chapter is that all dues shall be paid. A member owing any amount of money to the chapter cannot be in good standing until she has paid or been excused from the debt. The purpose of the whole order is that a member shall meet all requirements imposed by her chapter, unless that chapter excuses her. Therefore she should be loyal to her chapter, do her part of the work, in order to require her chapter to give her a transfer or demit to another chapter. When these requirements are met the chapter must give her the transfer or demit.

Decision 13. The Constitution is silent on the subject, but it is the opinion of the Chair, and parliamentary law bears her out, that to expel a member from a chapter requires a two-thirds vote after due notice has been given at a previous meeting. Between the two meetings the member against whom such action is contemplated should be cited to appear before the Executive Committee (officers) of the chapter, and the charges preferred against her read to her, thus giving her an opportunity to get proof with which to refute the charges if she wishes to do so. This, of course, in case the Division Constitution is, as the General Constitution, silent on the subject.

Decision 14. Charters already issued cannot be changed by the erasure or insertion of names of charter members. The only way for a chapter to change the face of its charter is to surrender to the Secretary, U. D. C., the original charter, and reorganize, sending $3.00 to the Secretary, U. D. C., for a new charter. They may retain the former name, but the number of the charter will necessarily be changed; and since all this would result in confusion, it is better that no change be made, unless a chapter should wish to report itself as dead and reorganize under a new name.

Decision 15. The Robert Patton Association not having been readmitted to the Ohio Division, but having continued the use of the U. D. C. name, it would be unfair to the U. D. C. for its chapters or divisions to contribute as chapters or divisions to their work. Individuals are, of course, free to do as they see fit.

Decision 16. Adopted children of members of the U. D. C., when it is not known that they have the blood of Confederate men or women in their veins, are not eligible to full membership in the U. D. C., as it is the evident purpose of the eligibility clause to confine the membership to those having in their veins the blood of Confederate men or women; the only exception being the wives or widows of men who served or women who served themselves.

Decision 17. Article III., Section 2, By-Laws, means that if a division reports one of its chapters not in good standing in the division, it cannot be represented in the General Convention.

(The clause referred to above is now Section 3, Article VIII., Constitution.)

Decision 18. An assessment is the same as any other tax, and members of chapters or divisions failing to pay an assessment imposed by a higher authority are not in good standing until such assessment is paid.

Decision 19. A chapter may be organized in a town where another chapter has been organized and died. The rules governing the organization of such chapters are the same as for any other new chapter.

(Remainder of this is covered by Section 3, Article IX., Constitution.)

Decision 20. Chapters which for two consecutive years show no signs of life (pay no dues, etc.), should be declared dead by the President of the division in which they are, and the President of the U. D. C. notified of this action.

Decision 21. A chapter shall forward to the division filled out applications for all of its members.

Decision 22. (Condensed.) The withdrawal or transfer of members from a chapter does not invalidate its charter, even if the number remaining be reduced to fewer than the charter number of seven.

All chapters should notify registrars of divisions of withdrawal or transfer of members, giving names and dates of withdrawal or transfers.

Chapters receiving members on transfers should file the transfers with the Registrar.

Decision 23. Upon receipt of an application which fails to show the eligibility of the applicant for membership, the Registrar of the Division so receiving shall return it with the statement that the applicant has failed to show that she is eligible to membership in the U. D. C. and cannot be a member until she does show this.

Decision 24. There cannot be two divisions of the U. D. C. in the same State or Territory.

Decision 26. The fact that a legal date for the bestowal of Crosses of Honor falls on Sunday does not give the right to the President, U. D. C., the Custodian, chapter presidents or anybody else to bestow them on some other date than the legal date. Chapters doing this are liable to be deprived of the privilege of presenting Crosses. See Rule IX.

Fourteenth Annual Convention, 1907, Norfolk, Va., President-General, Mrs. Lizzie George Henderson:

Decision 2. The Stonewall Jackson Chapter of Cincinnati, Ohio, having taken the place of the former Robert Patton Chapter (which is not now a member of the U. D. C., and therefore not eligible to replace a lost Cross) can present a second Cross to those veterans who received their first Cross from Robert Patton Chapter.

Decision 9. The General Constitution and By-Laws make no provision for getting rid of a member found to be not of good moral character. Divisions and chapters should make provision for this in their laws.

Divisions and chapters can make provision for having honorary and associate members, if they care to have them. There is nothing in the General Constitution and By-Laws to prevent; but they cannot elect such associate members without such provision. No election to a place which has never been created can stand.

Decision 11. "Lineal descendants" can only mean the children and grandchildren to whatever generation they may extend.

(The remainder of this is now covered by Section 1, Article III., Constitution.)

Decision 13. Names of those not living in the town or city in which the chapter is located may be on the charter, provided there are also the names of seven women who do live in the city or town in which the chapter is located.

Decision 14. Committees are always subservient to the bodies which create them.

Decision 15. If an Association has put any work in the hands of a committee neither the officers nor anybody else has any right to attend to those duties, unless the instructions of the Association provide for such action on their part. Committees and officers are servants of the Association, and have no rights in the business of the Association not given them by the Association.

Decision 16. If a chapter has no law naming the quorum, it would take a majority of the members to make a quorum; but it can by adopting a law make the quorum any number it sees fit to make.

Decision 17. A niece of a man who served in the Confederate army, navy or civil service is just as eligible as a granddaughter or daughter, and no chapter has a right to refuse to accept her because she is only a niece; but chapters are not compelled to accept members who are personally objectionable to them, no matter how eligible they are.

Decision 18. A duplicate of a charter which has been lost or defaced can be issued for the regular charter fee of $3.00. This duplicate being merely a certified copy of the original charter, the Secretary-General has a perfect right to sign the names of the President and Secretary-General who issued the original; but she must add this note at the bottom of the duplicate:

"I hereby certify that this is a duplicate of the charter issued by the U. D. C. in (give year in which the original was issued).

(Signed)

"Secretary-General, U. D. C."

A new charter would not be necessary if after the charter is issued a charter member is found to be not eligible for any reason.

Decision 19. The General Constitution and By-Laws do not state how the proof of eligibility of a member is to be shown. The laws of divisions or charter chapters where there are no divisions should provide for that, and they should do so very carefully, that frauds may not creep into our midst.

Decision 20. Parliamentary law not recognizing proxies, they cannot be used except where provided for by the Constitution, By-Laws or Standing Rules of an Association.

Decision 22. No chapter domiciled in any State or Territory where a division exists can be a member of the U. D. C. and not of that division.

Decision 23. So far as the General Constitution and By-Laws are concerned, a chapter can elect whom it pleases as an honorary member.

Decision 24. Certificates of membership must be signed by the officers holding office when they are issued. The Constitution plainly says: "These certificates must be signed by the President and Secretary of the U. D. C., the President of the State or Territorial Division and the President and Secretary of the local chapter," and this, of course, means that they are to be signed by those holding office when the certificates are issued. It would be an offense against the law of the land for an ex-officer to sign her name to any official document.

Decision 25. The U. D. C. cannot issue certificates to individual members. Article VII., Section 1 (now Article IX., Section 1), requires each chapter to give one to each of its members in good standing.

Decision 26. It is the duty of the Secretary-General who serves during a convention to get the minutes of that convention ready for the printer.

Decision 27. Members in good standing in a chapter may resign from that chapter, and if their resignation is accepted they have a right at any time to refer any chapter with which they wish to connect themselves to the chapter from which they resigned. Members may withdraw from a chapter when it pleases them, and this takes no action on the part of the chapter except to drop their names from the roll; but a member having withdrawn has no right to call on the chapter for recommendations; therefore the chapter cannot be called on for such. Chapters cannot give transfers to those who have been members and have withdrawn or resigned; but in the latter case a copy of the application for membership should be sent to the member, that she may furnish it to the chapter she wishes to join.

Decision 28. The Constitution provides no way for regular members to be taken into chapters except by a regularly filled out application and by demit or transfer from another chapter in good standing, when this transfer is presented in six months after it is given by the chapter.

(Section 2, Article IX, Constitution, now makes the limit of a demit one year instead of six months, and Section 3 of same makes provision for admission on presentation of certificate of membership under certain conditions.)

Fifteenth Annual Convention, 1908, Atlanta, Ga., President-General, Mrs. Cornelia Branch Stone:

Decision 1. That as the Central or Executive Committee of the Arlington Confederate Monument Association is composed of men and women, either may be elected to the offices of the Monument Association, as the committee may desire.

Decision 2. That a State Division officer must reside and be registered in the State in which she holds office, and if she is registered in another State she must place copy of her membership application papers with the Registrar of the State in which she holds office.

Decision 4. Grand nieces who have been admitted into the membership of the U. D. C. under a misinterpretation of the Constitution, and who have faithfully served therein, are now bona-fide members of this Association, for in such cases no retroactive legislation can be had; and it is quite certain that members admitted on the services of a great uncle are also eligible under the clause of material aid having been given by lineal ancestry.

Decision 5. That a member of a chapter who assists in the organization of another chapter has no authority thereby to sign membership certificates for members of that chapter, or in any manner to interfere with the action of such chapter, as each chapter is governed by the will of the majority of its own membership, provided none of its acts are in conflict with the State or General Constitutions.

Decision 6. That it is not in line with the objects of the United Daughters of the Confederacy for chapters to take active part in political contests.

Sixteenth Annual Convention, 1909, Houston, Texas, President-General, Mrs. Cornelia Branch Stone:

Decision 1. That there is no provision in the General Constitution, U. D. C., prohibiting chapters of this Association from having associate members.

Decision 2. That such associate members cannot vote and cannot be counted in the ratio of representation of the chapter in which they are associated in any State or General Convention, U. D. C.

Decision 3. That there is no conflict with the General Constitution,

422 MINUTES OF SEVENTEENTH ANNUAL CONVENTION,

U. D. C., in Article III., Section 7, of the Tennessee Division Constitution, which provides: "That any chapter may elect as associate members those who, not entitled to membership in any organization, are in sympathy with and desire to aid in this work."

Decision 4. That Article I., Sections 1 and 2 of the General By-Laws, refer only to the conferring of the title of "Honorary Associate Member" by the General Association, U. D. C., and does not provide for such honorary title to be conferred by divisions or chapters.

Decision 5. That the President, or, in her absence, the Vice-President, conducts the business proceedings of conventions from the opening to the close, and the duties of the President-elect do not begin until the adjournment of the convention at which she is elected.

Seventeenth Annual Convention, 1910, Little Rock Ark., President-General, Mrs. Virginia Faulkner McSherry:

Decision 1. Article IV., Section 8, of the Constitution reads as follows: "Divisions and chapters of the U. D. C. are prohibited from federating with other organizations." Your President construes "federation" to mean "united by agreement or compact, transacting business together as one body," and that the fact that Oregon Chapter proposed to join two other organizations in erecting a building containing separate halls for each was simply a business transaction and not a federation within the meaning of our Constitution.

Decision 2. Was of special application to a particular case, and was more of the nature of arbitration than a decision proper, and by request of the President-General (made in convention) is omitted here.

Decision 3. When a chapter desires to change its name, a new charter must be issued at the regular charge.

Decision 4. Under the term "woman," as used in the Constitution, Article III., Section 1, children are evidently not included, and children who have been admitted to chapters of the United Daughters of the Confederacy cannot be counted in estimating the chapter's vote in conventions.

Decision 5. Any child adopted by law has every legal right of inheritance which the law can give, but the United Daughters of the Confederacy, like all other voluntary and self-governing associations, makes its own regulations of admission, and can admit or debar as it pleases; the legal point does not decide the question. The whole membership is based on Confederate blood, the one exception being a Northern woman who marries a Confederate veteran. This exception is specifically provided for in the Constitution, and is based on the principle: "They twain shall be one flesh."

By order of the President-General:

The foregoing decisions have been carefully compiled from the ~~past~~ minutes of General Conventions, beginning with the first, in which decisions were rendered and preserved, and contain all which bear upon points not otherwise clear.

(Signed)

SISTER ESTHER CARLOTTA, S. R.

Chairman Jurisprudence Committee, November, 1910, 17th Annual Convention, U. D. C., Little Rock, Ark.

Countersigned: VIRGINIA FAULKNER McSHERRY,
President-General, U. D. C.
